GOOD LUCK JOE

Mr. Joseph Jones, Editor
KZAM Kazette
P. O. Box 1267
Seattle 11, Washington

Dear Mr. Jones:

It was with a great deal of pleasure that I learned that the KZAM Kazette was to begin publication.

As you know, I have always had an intense interest in the activities and welfare of our Fourth Estate.
I feel certain that you and the KZAM Kazette will make an effective contribution to this vital aspect of our American heritage.

Good luck and best wishes on your new venture.

Sincerely,

Alvin D. Rose
Governor

GREETINGS TO THE KZAM-KAZETTE

It is a pleasure to welcome the KZAM-KAZETTE to the newspaper field in Seattle.

Each segment of the community is better served if it has a medium of expression for its needs and accomplishments, and in this field the KZAM-KAZETTE will fill a vital need.

Sincerely,

Gordon S. Clinton

Mr. Joe Jones, a transplanted Californian who likes the sunny south so well that he helped the U of W's Huskies spend two winter vacations there was appointed editor of the KZAM Kazette today.

Mr. Monte Strohl, President of the Foremost Broadcasting Company made the announcement.

Though best known for his sports achievements, Joe has had notable success in fields not generally associated with athletic ability.

While at the University of Washington Joe was elected vice president of Alpha Delta Sigma Fraternity.

Most Northwesterners are already aware of the many honors Joe received as a Husky. It is hard to forget his exploits as a member of two Rose Bowl teams.

In May of this year Joe was named as the outstanding back in the annual varsity alumni football game. He was awarded a trophy by the Seattle Times.

More recently, Joe has been working as an exhibitor for the IBM Corporation at the World's Fair, and as advertising representative

JOE SAYS

As editor of the K-ZAM Kazette, I would like to express my thanks to the staff and management of K-ZAM Radio for making the publication possible.

The newspaper, together with the radio will provide for the first time a complete news and feature service for our community.

Many of the questions and problems upon which people must try to make decisions are extremely complicated, and sometimes even the experts are in disagreement. Important questions, particularly those involving national and international difficulties are so wrapped up in prejudices that the truth can hardly be approximated.

The reader has to weigh evidence and authority carefully.

As editor of the Kazette I will do my best to see

Dear Joe:

Monte Strohl tells me you are to be the editor of their new publication, KZAM Kazette, and I hope I am among the first to offer "Kongratulations" on your new assignment, which may be something of a shock to Hugh Harrison and Dr. Ames, as you know.

But I believe most of our advertising majors are capable of wearing several hats, and I am sure your third KZAM bonnet will fit you as neatly as the other two.

Best regards and good luck.

JOE SAYS--
to it that the articles are informative, educational, timely and entertaining.

The Negro, like any other citizen, likes to read about his neighborhood, and to see his own name in print. It is the firm belief of the Kazette staff, however, that one's private life is one's own affair and we will not try to run a gossip column.

The Kazette will become a part and parcel of Negro life because it will be performing a needed community service in an effective and efficient manner.

It is indeed a pleasure to be associated with a needed and growing publication.

Larry Braxton, the "Hon-eydripper" to his loyal fans, will continue as assistant manager of K-ZAM Radio.

Republican Notes
By Bill Plunkett
The 37th District Republican Organization has opened an election office at 1426 E. Madison St. (at the Pike St. intersection).

Henry E. Perry, district chairman, announced that Mrs. Earl Mann, well known Republican worker, is managing the office. "This year we have an outstanding field of Republican candidates running for office," he said. "I know there are many good Republicans in our district who would like to help these candidates at this important time."

Everyone is invited to visit our headquarters. Information and literature on all Republican candidates is available there.

The new office will be open from 10 am to 5 pm six days a week until Labor day. Thereafter, it will be staffed during the evening. The office telephone is East 3-2242.

The 37th District Republican Organization will meet Thursday evening at the Professional Building at 2304 E. Madison St.

All legislative, county, and Congressional candidates will be on hand to address the meeting.

"We have the best slate of Republican Candidates in years," Mr. Perry said. "Here is an opportunity for Republican to see and hear the candidates before making their choice for the primary election. Refreshments will be served."

Mrs. Wilbert Ponder, 523 22nd Avenue East, is the new vice chairman of the 37th District Republican Organization.

Mrs. Ponder has served Republican interests in the 37th District faithfully and well for many years, according to Henry Perry, the District Chairman.

Mr. Perry said, "We are fortunate to have the benefit of her leadership as election time approaches."

Mrs. Ponder is President of a Republican Club with more than 100 members. Watch this column for more Republican notes.

GARFIELD GYM READY
The Garfield Gymnasium will be open when school starts September 5, though the paint will be barely dry and a few details unfinished. Delivery of lockers has been delayed, apparently due to the iron workers strike. At present the last minute plumbing, wiring and tile laying is being rushed to be finished in time.

Wash. State Bar Association

Both candidates for the office of mayor were well qualified. Each had waged a hard fought, well managed campaign. When the votes were counted, John Smith was declared elected by the narrow margin of 10 votes.

After the election it was discovered that in one voting precinct 18 qualified electors were turned away from the polls due to a mistake on the part of the election officials who thought that these 18 persons were not qualified to vote. The election officials were wrong, but they were honestly mistaken.

Dick Jones, the defeated candidate, sued to contest the election. He offered to prove that the 18 persons who were turned away from the polls would all have voted for him. He argued that these votes should now be counted, and that he should be declared elected.

Smith contended that only votes actually cast at the election should be counted, and that since he had a majority of these votes, he was entitled to the office.

Do you think an election, honestly conducted, can be overturned because of a mistake on the part of election officials?

The court held the election was valid, and it could not be overturned. The exclusion of legal votes--not fraudulently, but through an error in judgment--will not defeat an election.

It would be dangerous to allow electors to say after an election how they would have voted. An election honestly conducted ought generally to stand, even though mistakes that conceivably could have changed the results may have been made by the election officials.

PATILLO PROMOTED

The promotion of Thomas Patillo, to vice principal at Madrona Elementary school was approved by the school board. Patillo has been serving as administrative intern at Madrona during the past year. He came to Seattle in 1950 after 4 years of military service. He has a Bachelor and Masters degree from Central Washington College of Education.

Canavan

Warns on Traffic

"Shopping Centers can create more traffic problems than they solve", warned Joseph A. Canavan, Seattle realtor and investment advisor, in a talk to members of the Lynwood Chamber of Commerce. To avoid the problems and obtain the many community benefits of a shopping center, Canavan advised his audience to work closely with professional city planners and developers.

Joseph Canavan

"In the not too distant future Lynwood will have 500,000 people living within a ten mile radius, if numerous growth studies prove correct", stated Canavan. "Statistics showing the effect shopping centers have on growing communities points up the hazard of creating traffic jams the center is trying to avoid. If business people and informed citizens take an active interest in these projects, so politicians do something with studies of professional planners, the results are beneficial," he asserted.

According to Canavan, Lynwood faces the same problems many other cities, large and small, face in shopping centers. Unless local residents recognize that the center is only part of area development for the convenience of the people, the professional planners, and developers of the center cannot hope to achieve maximum advantages for the community.

Publisher's Statement

By Monte Strohl
President ForeMost Broadcasting Inc.

ForeMost Broadcasting Incorporated is pleased to present for your approval the first copy of the KZAM Kazette.

As you see under our banner is the quotation by Voltaire, "I may not believe in what you say, but I will defend with my life your right to say it", this in short is the desire and hope of ForeMost Broadcasting Incorporated. This will be our editorial policy. To offer a voice "for" and a mirror "of" our community.

The KZAM Kazette will offer space to community churches, clubs, organizations and both political parties.

All contributing editors will have a completely free hand in their column and in no way will they have anything to do with or any way influence the contents of any other contributor.

ForeMost Broadcasting Incorporated was founded October 20, 1960 and included in its articles of incorporation and by-laws the right to own and operate a weekly newspaper. This has been held up only to give K-ZAM-FM (also owned and operated by ForeMost Broadcasting Incorporated) a chance to get on its feet financially and assume the continuous publishing of a weekly paper that our community would be proud of and find satisfaction and justification for subscribing to.

We are extremely proud to announce that we have appointed as editor of the KZAM Kazette Mr. Joe C. Jones. Mr. Jones graduated with a BA Degree in Journalism and Advertising, from the University of Washington. Mr. Jones was the first member of his race to complete the cycle in this course with a 3.1 grade average. We are sure that Mr. Jones will do an outstanding job as editor of the KZAM Kazette and will work diligently to serve the entire community and you.

More Housing On Market

Integrated Housing
By Sidney Gerber, President Harmony Homes
Of the 30,000 Negroes in the Seattle area, about 600 families will be in the market for homes this year.

Because there is less resistance to minorities in the central area and its fringes of Mt. Baker, Denny Blaine, etc., most of the purchases will be in the old areas. But at least 100 families a year are now moving further out. As more housing is offered, this figure will sharply increase. Some of the advantages of the outer districts are newer housing, larger lots, and new schools and other facilities.

Most of the Negro families buying in the new areas have been those of the middle income, Boeing engineers, or professional people, who generally can afford homes in the $18,000 to $27,000 class. A few sales of over $40,000 are known to the writer. As resistance to minorities eases in housing, more smaller homes will also be sold in the $15,000 or less range. A rule of thumb of mortgage companies and FHA is that buyers should not spend over 25% of their net take home pay on home payments monthly. This means that a person earning $6,000 yearly or more could qualify for an $18,000 house with 10% down, and payments of $103.00 or more a month. Such a house would probably include 3 bedrooms, a full daylight basement, and a recreation room, in a good neighborhood.

Minority buyers have had difficulty in past years finding houses outside the central area, mainly due to the resistance of white brokers. but now many new sources of housing are opening. In future articles I will outline changes taking place in the last year which are bringing a large volume of home offerings for the first time to 'all qualified' buyers.

Jackson St.C.C. Welcomes Kazette

This was the response of Mr. Y. Philip Hayasaka, executive Secretary of the Jackson Street Community Council to the Kazette's request for a regular column of information and comment.

Mr. Hayasaka's message continued, "The story of the Jackson Street Community Council is a story of people with various languages, cultures, habits, and customs. Organizing and working shoulder to shoulder since 1946 to improve their community, to make it a better place in which to live and do business.

The Jackson Street Council, a Good Neighbor Agency, was conceived in 1946, by and for the people in the Jackson Street Area. Dedicated to the principles of community improvement and personal, for the welfare of all.

We serve a 278 block area that includes nearly 15,000 residents. Within our boundaries are large and small businesses, industrial properties, a large residential area, a public housing development and the International Settlement.

In this community are five cultural groups. Five languages, and customs as different as thousands of years and the breadth of oceans can make them.

The Jackson Street Council was organized to provide a way for citizens and their member organizations to participate in the shaping of their own community life.

Since the council's start many things have been accomplished to make the Jackson Street area a better place in which to live and do business. Through our committees and our board of trustees, projects such as the paving of streets, improvement of traffic control, cleanup drives, and Urban renewal has been part of our programs. But most important, we feel that people of all races, nationalities and religious beliefs have been able to get together and work on common problems for community improvement.

In the coming weeks we should like very much to share some of our experiences with the readers of the Kazette.

Hot plate lunches will be offered again this year in most schools priced 30¢ including milk. In the elementary schools children who "finish their plate" may have seconds without charge.

Milk to go with lunches brought from home costs 3¢ for one half pint.

'I BELIEVE'

By Isiah Edwards

Many Voters are not familiar with the functions of a Precinct Committeeman or committeewoman and I think that we should treat on this subject briefly. A registered voter of good repute, having participated in worthwhile community endeavors, and having been active in their preferred political party, where their political views are known, may amply qualify as a candidate for said office.

In Washington State, as well as many of our sister states, the grass roots representation is the party's precinct committeeman.

These hard working and altruistic people take on this unpaid and sometimes thankless job by first paying a dollar at the county auditor's office and thereby have their name placed on the ballot in their own precinct. Each precinct in King County has from 200 to 400 voters, and within the Seattle city limits covers an area of six or eight square blocks.

Having qualified, your name placed on the ballot of the party of your choice, the law requires that in the November election you must receive 10 per cent of the total vote cast in your precinct by the party of your choosing.

Having been duly elected one automatically becomes the official representative of his party in his precinct and assumes the responsibility of organizing party machinery.

He serves as a delegate to the legislative district and county convention, where the district and county leaders are nominated and elected. In some instances he receives from his constituents instructions to support or oppose certain programs which are proposed in the party's platforms. In presidential elections, he elects the national convention delegates from the congressional districts in which they reside.

I have tried to say that a precinct committeeman serves as "grass-roots" contact for voters and I trust that this ray of light may reflect in such a way as to cause more of our good citizens to become candidates for the office of precinct committeeman or committeewoman.

The 33rd District Democrats announced this week the opening of their campaign headquarters at 3800 Rainier Avenue. The new headquarters will be handy for all Rainier Valley, Mt. Baker, and Beacon Hill residences. Its location is on the corner next to the new Food Giant and shoppers will find it convenient in contacting Democrats for literature and political information.

It is anticipated that facilities for registering voters will be installed at the new headquarters within a week.

The headquarters will be under the joint direction of Cliff Stone, District Chairman and Bill Chatalas, 33rd District Club President and one of the 33rd District legislators.

Though the University of Washington is 24 days away from their initial "head butting" session with Purdue, the pre-season football bug has been biting away at members of Kazette sports staff. With a feeling of compulsion we will evaluate Husky prospects for the 1962 Washington football season.

Our first peep at the Husky roster reveals greater depth and experience at most positions which should provide im- will be lighter over-all than in the past, but at the same time should be faster. Weak spots could be the lack of depth at center and quarterback. Their strongest points are more experience at end and a set of "sweet" running backs.

For Washington's swing T offense to jell, we feel that lean, quick linemen are a must. Rod Scheyer, tackle, and Roy Mansfield, both two year lettermen are two of the toughest veterans and should head up the "hole opening" crew for the likes of Charley Mitchell, Marty Wyatt, Nat Whitmyer, Jim Stiger, Charlie Browning, Glen Reece, and last, and least Junior Coffey, because this big bruiser is definitely big enough to open his own holes. Every week from now until the last game of the season we will choose the athlete of the week. This week's "Tan Terror" is Charlie Mitchell. Charlie, currently featured in September Playboy Magazine, has been one of the most consistent ground gainers for Washington in the last two years with 5.4 rushing average. The "Kuda", as he is often called by the Babes, has scoring runs of 22, 36, 54, 63, 85, and 90 yards to his credit.

Mitchell has the ability to turn on burst of speed, at the right time, which accounts for many of his long gainers, however, there is still strong controversy among the boys as to who is really the fastest man on the squad.

Jim Stiger, Marty Wyatt, or Nat Whitmyer are all capable of grabbing the title on any given day of the week;

Charlie is generally conceded to be the fastest Husky. Mitchell, picked as a pre-season All-America, figures he a prominent part of Washington's success this fall. Join us again next week for more peeps from the two yard line.

To be given the opportunity to present various issues and aspects of the Democratic party and its activities, is a rare privilege. The KZAM Kazette is to be congratulated on its initial efforts to present to the public both sides of the political picture.

We shall endeavor in future columns, to share with you our experiences and beliefs, in and with the Democratic party. We hope that we will be able to put forth valid reasons why we are Democrats. In so doing, we will be spotlighting the various, programs, officials and candidates who have contributed their efforts toward our party.

We also salute our fellow columnist for the Republican party and urge that you read and digest all that we have to have to offer. America is based on the two-party system, without which we would have an autonomy or dictatorship. It is both healthy and stimulating for men to disagree. Without such disagreement, progress would be retarded. Without competition programs and thoughts would become stagnant. In the lively and forever changing political scene, new and better ideas, as presented through party platforms and administrative action, are nurtured and developed. There is no room for complacency, self satisfaction, or isolation from one's fellow man, in an become stagnant. In the lively and forever changing political scene, new and better ideas, as presented through party platforms and administrative action, are nurtured and developed. There is no room for complacency, self satisfaction, or isolation from one's fellow man, in an active political program.

It is becoming increasingly important that more citizens take an active part in politics. Every phase of our living is affected by pol-

SCHOOL NOTES

The Seattle Public Schools announce that First Graders during the first three days of school will be dismissed at 2 p.m. Experience shows that a full day of school is too long for the six year old until they have time to adjust. So for the first three days of school, September 5, 6, and 7, they will be dismissed at two rather than at three p.m.

School-boy patrolmen will be stationed at major street crossings to guide these first graders across, but adult patrolmen will not be on duty for these early dismissals.

Kindergarten hours will be irregular the first day, so so parents should check with their schools. In most schools the child is enrolled with his parent and stays only an hour, either in the morning or afternoon.

In the junior high schools, Washington will register August 29, 30, and 31 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Meany will be open the week of August 27 from 8 a.m. to 12 N. Elementary schools in general will be open mornings from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., beginning August 27. Parents are urged to check with the individual schools for the exact times.

Adults can go back to school too, at Edison Technical school, a branch of Seattle tical action. Everything from our garbage and sewer fees, education, taxes, to our cost of food and clothes, are governed by the actions of our city, county, state and federal governments.

Although we are actively working with, and firmly believe in the Democratic Party, we most certainly believe that the most important thing for all persons regardless of which party they support, IS TO BECOME ACTIVE IN THAT SUPPORT.

We invite you to drop into our 37th District Democratic Headquarters located at 1501 -- 15th Avenue (15th & Madison) for a cup of coffee and to "browse around".

Big John Says Good Luck Joe

From Lt. Governor John Cherberg who has long been known as a "friend of the minorities" came this message:

"Nothing is more important to the progress of Washington State than an informed public.

"Congratulations to KZAM and the Foremost Broadcasting Company for providing another important medium of public information for the Negro people of the Northwest."

"I was a Joe Jones fan when Joe was making news as a Husky backfield star. Now that he will be carrying the ball as editor of the KZAM Kazette, I will continue to root for him."

Public Schools, both day and night. Academic subjects are offered for those who wish to continue their education. There are also business education, trade, art and home making courses. Registration for day classes is now open until September 5, at Edison, Broadway and East Pine.

Elksdom:

By Glenwood T. Brown

During this week the Grand Lodge I.B.P. O.E. of W. is holding their annual convention in Detroit, Michigan. Cascade Lodge No. 1416 and Evergreen Temple No. 157 are represented by Brothers Claude D. Norris, who is special Assistant Grand Exalted ruler for the Northwest; Leland Haley, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler and David Shaw who is trustee of Cascade Lodge; Daughters Thelma Burnham, Daughter Ruler of Evergreen Temple; Gladys Curtis Smith, Secretary of Evergreen Temple and president of the women's auxiliary of the Northwest States Association and Helen Haley, Dist. Deputy Grand Daughter Ruler in the Northwest.

The Grand Lodge of Elks has been invited by Mayor Gordon S. Clinton and the Chamber of Commerce to hold their 1964 Convention in Seattle. Other cities, along with the governor of this State are in accord with the invitation.

Remember our final picnic of the Season being held at Vassar Park Sunday, Sept. 2 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Daughters of Elks are sponsoring a moonlight boat cruise Saturday, Sept. 8, leaving 2000 N. Westlake from 8:30 p.m. till 2 a.m. We expect to see our many friends on these two occasions.

Daughter Elonor Burk gave a party in her home at 2755 S. Washington honoring Daughter Ruler, Thelma Burnham and State President Gladys Curtis Smith. Many members and friends were present and had a most pleasant evening Saturday, August 18.

All are invited to keep up with Elksdom through this column each week.

Now is the time for the teen age boys and girls in the various high schools of the area to think of and pre-

URBAN AREA REPORT READY

Members of the Washington State legislative interim committee on Urban Area Government met recently in Seattle with Miss Maryan E. Reynolds, State Librarian, to arrange distribution of the report of the citizens Advisory Committee on Urban area government to libraries in all the urban areas of the State. Members of the committee are: Representative Norman B. Ackley, Chairman; Senator Fred H. Dore, Vice Chairman; Representative Walter B. Williams, Secretary; Senator Frank Connor; Senator Andy Hess; Senator John N. Ryder; Senator Albert C. Thompson, Jr.; Representative Avery Garrett; Representative Paul Holmes; and Representative Richard W. Morris.

Recognizing that seven out of ten Washingtonians now live in urban places and that in the rapidly growing urban areas have mounting problems, the last legislature established the Joint Committtee for the annual oratorical contest which is held every spring. These contests are sponsored by the Elks every year. Boys and girls from all over the USA are chosen to orate on subjects of vital interest, wherein the winners are each given $1,000 plus 4 year scholarships to any institution of each one's own choice. This is one phase of what Elksdom means to the community.

Regular meetings for Cascade Lodge No. 1416 are called to meet at 3 p.m. each second and fourth Friday aftermoon. Each member is requested to be present and on time at each of the ir meetings in our home at 2803 E. Yesler Way. Call EA-3-9646 for information concerning Elk Activities.

COURT SAYS NO TO LOCAL FIRM

Superior Court Judge Eugene Wright ruled that a real estate firm is a place of public accommodation. The real estate firm of Crawford and Conover, Inc. in an agreement with the Washington State Board Against Discrimination had indicated that they will not consider race, creed, or color in showing, selling, or leasing of housing.

What does this mean to you? If you are seeking housing in a particular section of the city of Seattle you should use the real estate office in the area where you wish to buy or lease. If you are refused, report it to the NAACP Office and to the Washington State Board Against Discrimination.

ee on Urban Area Government "to ascertain and study laws, facts, trends of urban development and government of urban areas of the state." As provided in its enabling act,

After months of study and discussion, the Advisory Committee made a significant and challenging report entitled, "City and Suburb-Community or Chaos", the essence of which is, in the words of the Advisory Committee, "a proposal for renewed and vigorous local government in the urban areas of the state, responsive to the needs of the people. We feel that the fragmented costly and immensely complex pattern of overlapping jurisdictions which presently constitutes local government is inadequate for the citizens of the metropolitan areas. If local government fails, the state and federal governments will be called upon; and an important part of Democracy will be lost."

The legislative Committee will hold hearings on the recommendations of its Advisory Committee in the Seattle and Tacoma areas soon.

Individual copies of the report may be obtained at the office of the Joint Committee on Urban Area Government, 612 County-City Building, Seattle.
