Eddie Rye Jr. of the Citizens For A Community — Based City Council Has Challenged Opposition Leader Seattle Mayor Norman B. Rice To A Debate on Sunday at 3:00PM at Mount Zion Baptist Church.

Seattle Proposed Charter Amendment No. 1

(Election of Councilmembers)

Shall the Charter of the City of seattle be amended to require that the City Council create nine council districts, to require that candidates for the City Council reside in the district which corresponds to the Council position sought, and to require that each councilmember be elected by the voters in that district; replacing the current at-large system?

Summary of proposed Amendment to Seattle City Charter- charter amendment No. 1 would change the method of electing members of the Seattle City Council from the present "at large" system to a "district" system.

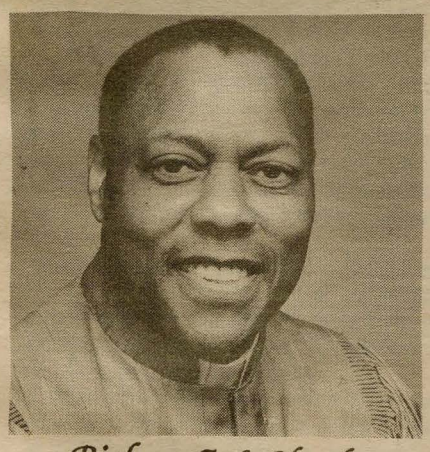

The Law as it Now Exists-The nine members of the Seattle City Council are currently elected on an "at large" basis. This means that qualified residents of any area within the city are equally eligible for election to any position on the Council and that all registered voters in the city may vote for a candidate for any or all positions up for election.

The Effect of the Charter Amendment if Approved- If the proposed charter amendment were to be adopted, the City Council would establish by ordinance nine council districts. Each council district would be represented by one elected councilmember, who must be a resident of that council district at the time of filling his or her declaration of candidacy. A voter would be allowed to vote only for the council position representing the council district in which the voter resides.

OFFER IN COMPROMISE... WHAT AN ACCEPTANCE LOOKS LIKE

By Lorna M. Walker

You know since I've been processing Offer In Compromises, I've often wondered what you, the people think when these go through to help you out of your tax problems and what you think they look like when they do. It gave me pause to think and think and think again that I should show you one that has actually gone through, so that you know what to expect when I get one through for you.

Now, it usually takes me three days to think about your offer. The first thing I have to do is go over all the information you've given me through my mind, then I go into the actual physical work-up on the forms. I then digest the contents of it and go through a thorough evaluation of it to get your final product. But, like I tell all my clients, don't expect me to perform a miracle overnight, even though I have done so for some. Your offer might be of a different origin and differ somewhat from their normal conformity.

BUT THAT DOES NOT MEAN THAT THEY WON'T ACCEPT YOUR OFFER!

The other day walking by the lake, I thought to myself what could I do to instill into the communities mind the importance of what an Offer In Compromise really can do for you and how it looks when it does. So I decided I would show you what a real Acceptance of an Offer In Compromise actually looked liked...

This couple I saved $87,500. SEE BELOW their acceptance letter. They agreed to let me show their letter although, I did not print their actual names.

See Below!...What to expect when YOUR Offer goes through...

Youth and Police Discuss Community Concerns

Writer: Caroline McNeal

The Youth Forum that was held at the Columbia Branch Library on October 12th, 1995 proved to be a success. There were 20 youth or more in attendance to discuss there concerns over police harassment and policy. Some adults were in attendance. Questions were directed from majority youth. The roundtable discussion began at 7:00pm and ended at 8:30pm. Youth representative Portia Robertson introduced the speaker of the evening, Detective John F. Hayes.

Other officers in attendance were: Renee Witt, Lt. Emett Keisie and J.L. Jackson from the South Precinct. Detective J. Hays addressed the group with questions from participants on, "what to do if a policeman decides to stop someone walking for questioning." Detective Hayes suggested: It is always a good idea to relax and answer questions asked.

Often an officer is concerned about the individual's safety, and is trying to determine if the person questioned lives in the vicinity. There may be a robbery or complaint that has been reported, that has occurred within the surrounding community, and it is important to provide safety for everyone; and determine if an individual is a legitimate resident in that community. There are times when individuals seen walking or running are contributors to the incident that has just occurred. Officers are concerned about your safety. However, there is a protocol: Officers should state why they are addressing the person, to keep tension down and make it possible to proceed peacefully with the inquiry. Detective Hayes urged students to address the officer in a polite manner, first showing the officer school I.D. or a Wash. St. Drivers license, or a legitimate form of i.d.; inform the officer where their residence is located; and ask the officer if you can be of help. It is essential to always carry identification. When it is evident that you want to cooperate and you are in control, the situation is less tense. Also, when officers stop a car and question a citizen, the individual driving and the officer are the only two person's that are conducting business. Passengers do not have anything to do with the situation. Officers usually will ask the driver to step outside of the car so that the two can talk rather than get a passenger involved. The questioning is only between the officer and the driver.

Peer pressure is not good. It can cause the situation to grow out of control. A citizen has the right to call in complaints to the police station. MIND IS THE DIVINE PROGRAMME

It is the mind, consciously or sub-consciously, that determines most of the physical defects or improvements in circumstances as requisite conditions for the acquisition of certain experiences by the soul.

Some of this experience could be deliberate modifications in destiny designed to enable the soul cope with such changing conditions like the effects of mishaps which result from causes like floods, quakes etc., afflictions from sources external to the body and outside the influence of the victims mind like accidents, wars and injustices.

People often blame these changing conditions on destiny. This is wrong. It is like dropping a bomb on a school laboratory and blaming it on the student's science syllabus. When such unexpected conditions develop, an efficient mind should be capable of rising to the entailed challenges, and it is the means to this end that is regarded as modifications in destiny.

It is the barren mind that enslaves both the body and soul to destiny. Like the student who may decide not to study under a leaky roof, the soul is not under any compulsion to remain in any body whose condition militates Against its progress. It follows, therefore, that it is not predestined to share in all the experiences of the body which being a product of circumstances, environment and earth, is prone to all forms of infections from exposure and inherent impurities.

There are people who spend what is left of their short life arguing what a good man should be or not be instead of striving to be one. There are others who pass sleepless nights planning the harm they intend to cause others. And there is yet another group who, finding themselves in a position of authority believe that they alone hold the key to fulfillment of the destiny of those serving under them. The truth is that nobody has the power to change another's destiny without the subject's approval and co-operation.

It is like in hypnotism where the subject's willingness to co-operate is the determining factor. What some people do not realize is that wickedness is the offspring of the inability of the perpetrator's mind to cope with the provision in his destiny. Goodness, on the other hand, is the work of the noble mind that has risen above the bestial state.

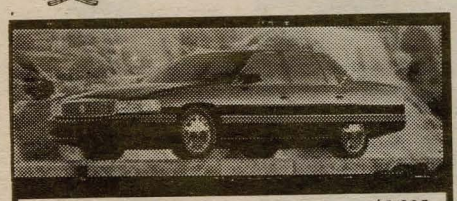

In other words, the mind of the doer of evil still functions at the elemental level. It should be remembered that it is not every student in the school that is able to cope with the syllabus for his discipline. Likewise, not every incarnated soul is able to go through with his destiny principally due to the very poor state of his mind that could be attributed to bad upbringing and wrong environment.

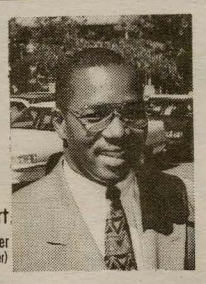

It follows, therefore, that every wicked man or woman is a dropout in the natural scheme of things. It is these set of entities that indulge in all known forms of villainy exactly in the same manner as the frustrated college student who, finding failure staring him in the face, resorts to expo and other like vices.

The main aim of this article is to encourage people to seek the upliftment of the full potentials of the mind. It is the mind that is responsible for all our achievements and failures, our misfortunes, joy and our pains. It is the weak and ignorant mind that makes the soul the slave and, the body a veritale nuisance.

R-48 AND THE HIDDEN AGENDA

Do you remember the song, "The Bluest skies you've ever seen are in Seattle." Do you remember why you came to King County? Was it for the scenic grandeur? Was it to have the option of hiking in a mist of scented fir, digging clams on pristine beaches, for fishing for steelhead?

Well, folks, keep on humming that tune and look around. Does the Everett to Olympia corridor need another 1.4 million people.? If you vote "Yes" to Referendum 48 you are paving the way for this to happen. The Port Commission, Real Estate Associations, and others have a hidden agenda to increase the population of this area by 1.4 million more within 25 years. That is why the passage of R-48 is very crucial to them. If you vote "Yes", the 1st division of Tonka robots will be ready to bulldoze, drain, level, or exterminate the remaining greenbelts and wetlands into 2x4's and slums of asphalt.

Give your politician, port commissioner, and developer the Rorschach test. If all of the ink blots look like dollar bills to them, see if they are on the R-48 sponsor list. While short term accelerated growth will put a Mercedes or a Lear jet in the garage of these people, what will be in your garage when the wetlands, salmon, and greenbelts are eliminated? After the passage of R-48 bankrupts local government with litigation and compensation costs in billions, it ain't gonna be a Mercedes. You might as well throw out the fishing pole, boat, and duck gun from the garage also, because the nursery for these activites will be paved over. The kids might not have the wetlands and green belts to explore, but on the bright side, rows upon rows of condos will be a trick or treating utopia.

So when you are gridlocked on I-5, ask yourself this question: Did you really move here to help build and pay for another Los Angeles? And remember, the monied voices behind R-48 have an ace in the hole. If urban blight arrives, they can jet out of here to fish the Great Barrier Reef or hike the Alps. If you are anchored here with a limited cash flow, my friend, vote "No" to R-48.

CARDS BEAT HAWKS WITH OVERTIME INTERCEPTION

Lorenzo Lynch made Arizona a winner just when it looked like the Cardinals were about to lose.

Lynch intercepted a tipped pass and returned it 72 yards for a touchdown with 3:46 to go in overtime, lifting the Cardinals to a 20-14 victory yesterday over the reeling Seattle Seahawks.

It was a sudden finish to the sloppily played game, which saw Seattle's Sam Adams block a 28-yeard field goal attempt earlier in overtime.

The two teams combined for 11 turnovers, seven by Seattle, and amassed 22 penalties, 13 by Seattle. There were to blocked field goals. There was a total of 11 fumbles, five of them resulting in turnovers.

The Seahawks (2-6) lost three of eight fumbles, while the Cardinals (3-5) lost two of three fumbles and Dave Krieg was intercepted twice.

On the winning play, John Friesz was passing to Mack Strong, who earlier had TD receptions of 17 and 2 yeards, but the ball bounced off the reserve fullback's hands and Lynch reached up, grabbed it and outraced the Seahawks to the end zone.

Make home improvements - with a loan you can afford.

Seafirst BASIC home equity loans are specially designed to make borrowing easier for lower income borrowers who want to make home repairs and improvements. A homeowner would have a monthly payment of just $83.01* for a $5,000 BASIC home equity loan. And these loans have more flexible terms, so borrowers are more likely to qualify for a BASIC loan. BASIC Home Equity loans can also be used for other "basic" needs for you and your family - like furniture and appliances, an education, or medical expenses. Call 1-800-24-FIRST, in Seattle 24-FIRST, or stop by your branch for more information about BASIC loans.

Intersound Announces New Release By Donnie Harper & The New Jersey Mass Choir

Two Grammy nominations, two number one Billboard albums and a featured performance on Foreigner's smash hit "I Want To Know What Love Is" made the New Jersey Mass Choir the most prestigious Gospel ensemble for the past ten years. The latest release for the Intersound label, titles Send Your Rain, upholds their reputation and will be available in stores on October 24. The listener in a celebration of praise through Jesus and the Holy Spirit.

With Send Your Rain, the eight album in the choir's illustrious fifteen year career, the New Jersey Mass Choir remains true to their continuous vision of musical growth and constant anointing. Donnie states, "We use state-of-art technology and range the symphonic spectrum to worship God. We incorporate everything into our music in an attempt to transcend genres and allow God to lead us in his direction.

Donnie's brilliant production lends itself to this brand of record-making. Send Your Rain experiments with everything from rap to traditional Gospel. All in an attempt to remind listeners that God's hands are strong and loving. Songs of inspiration flow from the choir's eloquent voices, allowing it's message to shine in compositions like, "He Shall Feed His Flock," a reaffirmation of trust in the Lord. The approach varies on songs like "A Love That Never Ends," which instructs the vulnerable to prevent judgemental words from impeding the life they deserve according to God's word. With such insightful lyrics, Donnie and the New Jersey Mass Choir use the joy of Gospel to deal with the problems of the '90s.

"I want to get involved with video and marketing in order to spread the word of the choir.," harper says. "I have a concept for Send Your Rain. Each song seeks to anoint the individual with the Holy Spirit."

Beauty Talk —Verna Beaver— —Trick Or Treat—

Happy Halloween. This is the launch of the holiday season. Much to our regret; especially if you're trying to keep that figure. Each one of us eat an average of about a pound of sugar every week plus a pound and a half of high fruciose corn sweeteners.

You just dressed up your little goblin in his or her favorite costume, and away they go. Stay close to them as they go from house to house asking for more sweets and goodies than any mortal should eat in a year. When they come to my house I can't help but look into those shopping bags to see what they have collected. Of course, I'm pretty cool about it. I always wait until they say, "Trick or Treat", and they have enough goodies to last quite awhile we thought. Buts it gone in a couple of days, maybe, for some it might last a week.

Do you wonder what health problems we are creating on the innocent children to perpetuate a holiday? Halloween is only the beginning of the fattening season. Some scientists predict: After the "sugar rush" and hyper activity in small children; to "sugar blues" in teenagers and later in adults who continue to eat large amounts of sugar could become diabetic. And, of course the dentist have been hammering all along, at sugar being the source of tooth decay. The odd thing is that not one of these health concerns has panned out. The centers for disease control have found no evidence that sugar or artificial sweeteners could cause any adverse health consequence.

So we suggest you use self control and enjoy the coming holiday season.

ATLANTA WINS WORLD SERIES

Five years of frustration ended Saturday night when Tom Glavine pitched one-hit ball for eight innings and David Justice homered, as the Braves brought the city of Atlanta its first major sports title with a 1-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians in Games 6 of the World Series.

Glavine and Mark Wohlers combined on the fifth one-hitter in Series history and first since Jim Lonborg for Boston in 1967.

OFFICIAL NOTICE TO VOTERS

The following proposed Constitutional amendment will be submitted to voters on the November 7, 1995, state General Election ballot. The following ballot title and explanatory statement was prepared by the Office of the Attorney General. This notice is provided by the Office of the Secretary of State.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 8210

Votes cast by the 1995 Legislature:
Senate: 40 Yeas, 6 Nays, 3 Excused.
House: 68 Yeas, 23 Nays, 2 Absent, 4 Excused.

Official Ballot Title:

Shall the selection process for chief justice be changed, and a constitutional process for reducing the supreme court be adopted?

The Law As It Presently Exists:

The state constitution currently provides that the supreme court judge having the shortest term to serve will be the chief justice. If two judges have the same short term to serve, the other judges determine which of the two will be chief justice. In case of the absence of the chief justice, the judge having the next shortest term presides. Under these provisions, the position of chief justice rotates every two years.

The constitution sets the minimum number of supreme court judges at five, but provides the legislature may increase the number of supreme court judges. Under current law there are nine supreme court judges. Some questions may exist regarding whether the legislature may also decrease the number of supreme court judges and how any reduction would be accomplished. The constitution provides that if a vacancy occurs on the supreme court, the governor shall fill the vacancy by appointment.

The Effect of the Proposed Measure if Enacted:

The proposed constitutional amendment would make three changes. First, it would change the method of selection of the chief justice. It would provide for the election of the chief justice by majority vote of the judges of the supreme court from among their own membership. In the absence of the chief justice, the remaining judges would select one of their members to serve as acting chief justice. Second, it would provide for selection of a chief justice every four years. Third, it would provide that the governor will make an appointment to a vacancy on the supreme court only if necessary to maintain the number of judges specified by the legislature. Under this change, if the legislature reduced the number of supreme court judges, the reduction would be implemented as vacancies occur. The governor would not fill vacancies on the supreme court unless the membership of the court was below the number of judges specified by the legislature. The constitutional provision requiring a minimum of five supreme court judges would not be changed.

MANN BITS & PIECES By Dave Mann

Well here we go again. It's very hard to report on the sad affair of the Seattle Seahawks. That game they lost in overtime last Sunday in Arizona was by far the worst played Football game that I have ever witnessed. It really came down to which team would make the turning mistake at the right time. Its really hard to imagine a gifted full-back like Chris Warren running toward the goal line uncontested and drop the ball on the five yard line. It's also hard to imagine that a three year quarterback from Notre Dame can look as bad as Mirer did in his five minutes of playing time...

Then there's the Montlake Dawgs. for the life of me I can't figure out how they lost that game last weekend against the USC Trojans. With the Rose Bowl on the line the Huskies allowed the Trojans to come from 2 touch downs back to rally for a tie with less than 7 minutes on the clock. USC Coach John robinson settled for the tie knowing that that's all it may take for his Trojans to make it to the Rose bowl---But alas!! The basketball season opens this weekend. The Sonics open on the road but will unveil their 1995-96 squad to the New Key Arena and a sell-out crowd Saturday evening. Don't look for Nate McMillian to be available until the second week of the season. The talented guard and captain is still bothered by a post-season operation.

How few there are who have courage enough to admit their faults or resolution enough to mend them!

OFF THE CORNER
By Leon Conley

Writing a newspaper column is fun. It gives me the opportunity to mess with folks and they can't get back at me.

On this particular day I was up early looking for a story.

The word had gone out on me.

"Be careful what you say. He'll put you in the paper."

One of my favorite people was doing her laundry. She was kind of cute if you liked them on the skinny side.

"Hello, Boney."

She threw a pair of dirty socks at me.

This was going to be a good day.

On the bench out near the sidewalk Beulah sat sunning herself. She looked up and grinned as I approached.

"Beulah, baby."

"I aint your baby."

I took her hand.

"Let me take you to breakfast. Buy you a roll and a small pop."

She pushed my hand away.

"When?"

"Tomorrow."

Tomorrow I would duck her. You know, play like I forgot.

Across the way Skeeter was busy talking on the phone. It was all game. He probably wasn't talking to anybody. What he didn't know was everybody in the building had peeped his hole card.

Halfway to the bus stop I realized I didn't have my pass.

Back in the building Meme exited the elevator, saw me and rolled her eyes.

"I don't appreciate you writing about me."

"Did I use your name?"

She didn't answer. And walking away up the hall her steps were quick and angry.

Near the Stock Market Jug put the beg on me. Coming out the door, two policemen escorted a young shoplifter.

"Aint that Willie?" I asked handing him some change.

"Yeh. That boy couldn't steal his way out of a paper sack."

On the bus headed back home I dropped down on the seat next to Nita. Immediately she rose and moved to the back of the bus.

The word was out. I was a marked man.

TIM BOND TO LEAVE THE GROUP THEATRE

Tim Bond, Artistic Director of The Group Theatre, announced his decision today to resign at the end of the 1995-1996 season, his fifth season in that position. In his letter to the Board of Trustees, Bond said, "I have reached the point in my career as an artist, administrator and father where I yearn for a new challenge. After spending nearly my entire professional career at The Group, it is time for me to leave my artistic home."
