THE INTERNATIONAL LITTLE LEAGUE AND THE PADRES NEED YOUR HELP...

It has been over twenty-plus years that the International Little League and the International Padres have been in existence. During the sequence many neighborhood children have received their first opportunity at para-pro baseball. The coaches and assistants, many from diverse social-economical backgrounds, are doing an outstanding job of helping young people to keep busy while participating in organized sports.

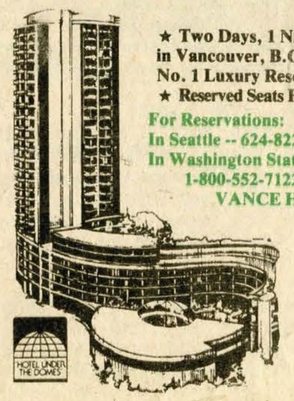

The two organizations have provided young people with scholarships, leadership training, and a strong sense of community living. Help from the local citizenry is always a blessing in disguise. Contributions, big and small, are needed by the two organizations. The International Little League caters to boys 7 to 14 years of age. The Padres composes players from 15 and up.

If you can make a contribution, please forward all monies to The International Little League or International Padres c/o THE NORTHWEST FACTS Newspaper, P.O. Box 22015, Seattle, WA. 98122. All contributions are tax deductible.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

THE FRUIT OF THE SPIRIT

I Apologize to the readers of this article for typographical errors and mispelled words that appear from time to time...but they are not mine. I hope that the errors will not distract anyone from the truth of God's eternal word.

Getting back to our observation of John, chapter three (3), I hope that we can all realize that we can discuss baptism, the new birth, the Church, the members of the Church, the operation of the Holy Spirit, or whatever that is correct according to God's word and all of these things will eventually connect, because the Bible is one continuous story of God's love toward humanity expressed or manifested in Christ Jesus (John 10:9-10; 1:14) False doctrine (teachers of it) run into problems with certain aspects of the Christian faith because they try to fit human reasoning and desires into God's eternal plan. A misunderstanding about the new birth will lead to many other misunderstandings.

In teaching about the new birth, Jesus linked two elements, water and the Spirit, with a coordinate conjunction, "and," making them of equal value and importance. In other words a person who really want to understand the operation of the Holy Spirit or the new birth, must understand the importance of the water in the plan as well as the Spirit. That is God's word. In order to understand the fruit of the Spirit, a person must understand the operation as well as the baptism of the Spirit, which is the same baptism described in John, chapter three (3). One baptism (Eph.4:5; I Cor.11:4; Gal.3:26-27); not two. The two elements in the one baptism are the same two elements in the new birth—water and Spirit. The seed of the Kingdom of God is the word of God (Luke 8:11); those who obey the word of God are born into the Kingdom of God (I Pet.21—23; 25), added to the church (Acts 2:47), and the "new birth" begins where God preforms spiritual surgery upon the person (Col.2:11-13) removing sin, adding them to the church, translated them into the Kingdom of His dear son (Acts 2:47; Col.1:13); and it all happens when one completes his/her obedience to God upon being baptized for the forgiveness of sins (Acts 2:38). It must all connect—one continuing true revelation from beginning to end. If you have problems getting it all together or trying to tie together the loose ends...something is either wrong with your ability to understand or you might need to examine yourself and see.....

MANN'S Bits and Pieces

Shame - shame - shame Five State Golfers.

Last Sunday morning golfers of Five State Club ventured to Auburn to participate in an afternoon of tranquil golf. The entire day was beautiful, but the behavior of most of the members was downright embarrassing. Pity John Valley and R. Silas. Those two were stuck with the impossible job of trying to satisfy nearly 70 golfers personal whims. The Auburn golf course owners run a no nonsense operation. So most of the illegal acts prevalent on other courses were not allowed in Auburn, and the result may be felt the next time the club requests starting times. There were foursomes that had no times, foursomes who had not signed up, foursomes of course walked on the course and didn't pay, foursomes who muscled themselves into early starting times, foursomes who were late for starting times and foursomes who didn't even know who they were playing with.

Through all of this mayhem, John Valley and Robert Silas tried to make meaning. Thank God for their Collective mild mannerism.

The only three people who showed a degree of intelligence were John, Robert and the owner. Seemingly the Fiv State Club is witnessing growing pains. Their membership has doubled in the last three years. A Sunday outing three years ago would consist of four or five foursomes, but now the sign-in sheet at Jefferson resembles a potential tournament. With growth comes the problems of arrangement, construction and above all order. The club needs order. It needs it in its elected supervisors, but nostly in its members. Those of you that participated badly at Auburn last Sunday may now be excused because John Valley and R. Silas apologized for you...The annual golfing extravaganza to VanCouver B.C. is only two weeks away...Aaron Jones is in a slump. Jump on him now while the jumping is fun...I was leaving Jefferson Park parking lot last night and someone was there in the dark hitting balls over the fence on to the par 3 (just practicing, I hope) was that Stan Valley?...Preachers always wear two pair of pants at Jefferson. One for working and one for playing golf.

Want to see something beautiful? Stop by Jefferson Park on Saturday mornings early and watch the many kids Ryan Jackson and Wilbert Ponder are Schooling in the art of golf. The Five Staters can be proud of this endeavor.

C.A.Y.A. SPONSORS SUMMER TUTORING PROGRAM

The Central Area Youth Association is in the process of developing a Summer Tutoring Program to run in conjunction with the Seattle Public Schools regular summer school session. The summer program will begin June 21, 1984 and run through July 31, 1984.

A total of eight (8) elementary school sites, and two (2) high school sites will be utilized, however, tutoring can occur after school and at selected evening sites.

We are soliciting your support to provide volunteer tutoring services to students who have been identified as needing additional help. Three (3) hours per week is a small commitment to make toward the academic development of a student. A mind is a terrible thing to waste.

For further information, questions or comments, please contact Martha A. Washington, Program Director, CAYA's Tutoring Program, 322-6640, or stop by our office at 115 23rd Avenue, Seattle, Washington 98122.

Fir State Golf News by R. Silas, Jr.

Auburn will never be the same - mainly, because our "CLUB" was ragged around the edges as far as "getting off the Tee" was involved; and secondly, my game was the worst I've seen it in years. It started bad and got progressively worse, that's another story.

What is needed now is some talk about our procedure for "starting times" - again! Lucious Dean was ill and could not be with us Sunday, but he is well and will be back soon. Dean would have been ashamed of the operation that went down at Auburn. The starters desk is not the place to arrange a time to play golf nor is it the place to arrange a group to play with — . Now long will it takes for our members to realize that simple fact. Every body wants to be first but only one group can go first! We will all be better served if we act as a group and follow some NECESSARY rules! Our club would certainly look better to be "PROS" at the various courses we play - we have looked terrible at the last three club plays and it will not be forgotten by these "PROS" next year when FIR STATE comes back again for "starting" times. (please read this again - and understand) One of the biggest problems we have is, trying to make more out of the list of players written at Jefferson Park. That list does not quarantee anyone, anymore than you have indicated you will play in the competition announced. It is not a group listing because some people don't come to the golf course, others come late with no calls to the course; the list does not guarantee you a starting time for the same reasons - . BOTTOMLINE, the list made at Jefferson Park must be changed out of necessity (we have to move people around in order to keep tee times moving). The position you sign-up on the list at Jefferson Park may not be the position you tee off at the golf course.

If you want to be first off on the tee, then be at the golf course a half an hour early - with your group - signed up at the CLUB'S competition table to "check-In" so that you can be scheduled out by the starter (your green fees are paid when the starter calls you out) John Doe on the Tee, Charlie Pride on deck and Sneaky Pete in the hole! We hear this all the time and no one knows that the group in the "HOLE" is the group that should be paying their greens fees!

Let's re-cap that once again; step one arrive at the golf course one half hour early - immediately go to the CLUB'S competition table (usually Mrs. J. Patterson) to have your name added to the list. If you have a foursome get every body to sign-up. Third step, pay your greens fee at the starters desk as you are notified in-the-"HOLE". I don't make many promises, because promises should be kept - but I promise you if everyone follows this procedure, we will get off earlier and our club will be improved as a member of the GOLFING community. We don't have our golf course yet, until we get our own remember somebody from the club will have to go back to the same courses we are playing this year!

"One of the tragedies of "Life" is, that once a deed is done, the consequences are beyond our control." ....Dr. Benjamin E. Mays.

THIRTY YEARS OF FAITHFUL SERVICE... New Orleans Love

by Harold Murphy

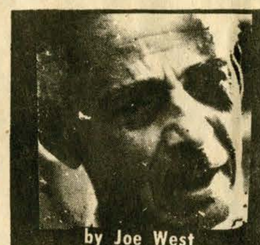

Seawellow Holland, secretary to the Director of Investigations Branch of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration retired from government services, April 27, 1984, after thirty years of service.

Seawellow began her career in government in 1950 at the Port of Embarkation. From there she was employed at Fort Lawton, U.S. Internal Revenue Service, and U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

To show their appreciation for her dedication and thoughtfulness, 77 of her co-workers and friends attended a luncheon in her honor April 25, 1984 at Benihana of Tokyo Restaurant and a going away coffee break in her honor April 27, 1984.

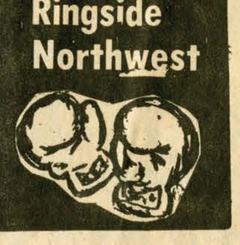

She ended her career on a high note by receiving the Commendable Service Award from the Commissioner of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration during 1983.

Seawellow will now have plenty of time to spend during some of her favorite things, such as, volunteering her services with the elderly, day care and food banks.

Ringside Northwest

Hi Boxing Fan!

We have a little problem with the news this week. It seems that the week's boxing news comes out on Tuesday; this is two days after I write this little letter to you. I can give you one or two big fights that are coming up like this week's return of Ray Leonard, boxing Kevin Howard. The big bout between Larry Holmes and Gerrie Cotzee is coming up soon so they say; the reason I put it like that is the fact that the promoters of the event doesn't know if it's going thru or not. This show is supposed to happen in April. They say, it's for Larry Holmes IBA title, the WBA title that Cotzee has, is not supposed to be at stake. One thing we all know, that if they fight, and Larry Holmes wins, how is the WBA going to say that he is not their champion? If I'm not mistaken, the rules state that all title fights shall be of 15 rounds, that is what Holmes and Cotzee are boxing, so in my opinion Cotzee is defending his WBA title at the same time. What do you think about that? There was a big fight last Saturday in San Juan, Puerto Rico, between Osvaldo Ocasio of Puerto Rico (the WBA Junior Heavyweight champion) vs. Johnny Odhiambo of Uganda. The victory came at 2:24 of the 15th round with Ocasio winning with the TKO. It was a very good fight, but once again it proved the European way of boxing is just not good enough for the Western style of boxing. This win put Ocasio's record at, 20-3-1), and put Odhiambo's record at, 18-1. Once again, the undefeated boxer from the third world was just not good enough.

Don't forget if you can get to a TV set with Homebox, you will get to seee Leonard vs Howard Friday night. I wish Leonard well in his comeback, but in fighting Howard, I really don't think he needs any luck. That's it for now. More next time. — CI BON.

Remember now: ASHLEY BOONE is Columbia's President of Marketing & Distribution. And Columbia proudly points out that it's got that $41-million dollar deal with RICHARD PRYOR's INDIGO PRODUCTIONS: a deal with SIDNEY POITIER'S VERDON PRODUCTIONS (for the upcoming "Shootout" film...of which more later), and a recent multi-picture deal with CHARLIE BARNETT, the New York City street comic who made his film debut in "D.C. COB"....Not bad. Not bad at all!

SPEAKING OF DEALS: There's word that KRIS KEISER, long and associate with POITIER'S Verdon Productions, has "something going" with WALT DISNEY Studios, where traditionally conservate executives are apparently "born again" as a result of N.A.A.C.P. negotiations....

AND talented DORIAN HAREWOOD is set to star as both the legendary athlete JESSE OWENS and smooth-voiced entertainer NAT COLE in upcoming movies, doing his own running and singing. According to Variety, the industry bible, re-creation of OWENS' triumphs in the 1936 Berlin Olympics will be filmed in Dallas...and when DORIAN sang an impromptu sample for him famed Hollywood columnist ARMY ARCHERD labeled the KING COLE minicry "perfect"...

The Black Network's Trade show to be held at the Madison Hotel, May 13 & 14, is a prime example of Blacks' helping Blacks. Manufacturers will be promoting Black Hair Care Products during the two days of festivities. However, the event cannot be a success without the support of the entire community. Many other Fashion and Beauty affairs will take place to inform the Black Community, if the community illustrates some kind of appreciation for the effort that has been put forth.

Washington Middle School Participates In National Math Olympiads

For the first time Washington Middle School participated in the National Mathematical Olympiads for 5th and 6th grades during this school year, 1983-84.

Thirty-five fifth and sixth graders were chosen to take part in a series of five written tests, originating from Math Olympiad Headquarters in Valley Stream, New York.

As the final results were compiled all 35 of our students were awarded with a Math Olympiad patch for scoring between 8 and 25 points. Eleven of our students were awarded a silver pin for achieving scores of 14 to 18 points and four of our students were awarded gold pins for achieving scores of 19 to 25 points.

Washington Middle School had a team score of 185 points, based on the scores of a total of the top ten achievers, which should give us a good solid place ranked nationally. We should get this final piece of news within three weeks.

Our individual high scorer was Colin West with a total of 23 points. For his efforts Colin will receive a trophy.

Rounding out the other gold pin winners were Jeff Tomlinson - 21 points. Thomas Yang - 20 points, and David Hall - 19 points.

Two other students who scored in that area as an average, but could not be counted in the final standings because they each missed a test were Jason Merrill and Thien Nguyen.

Eddie Mae (Delegate) Tucker has just enough mischievousness in her smile to make one wonder just what it is that a Delegate does?

Edmonia (Narrator/Coffee Bean) jarrettglide's from one character to another with ease of seasoned performer (I wonder if she had help at home?)

SOMETHING SPECIAL

Earlier this week, I had the pleasure of meeting a charming, classy and beautiful woman. Candita Rickman Caban (Candy), the daughter of William Rickman of Seattle, is a model, an antique dealer and co-owner of Candy's World of Glamour, in Bellevue. Candy is promoting a series of Beauty Pagents that will be fun and exciting for everyone. I was so fascinated with promotional concept, I just has to tell you about it.

If you have ever dreamed of being a beauty queen, you now have the opportunity of becoming one. Yes, ladies, this pageant was designed with you in mind. The contest works this way. Anyone over the age of 21st may enter. A contestant can be married, single, short, tall, heavy, thin, middle aged, or a senior citizen.

On May 20th, one of you will be crowned the "Beauty of the Year." The winner will be showered with prizes amounting to over $1,000; and diamonds are a girl's best friend (hint, hint). Now fellas, by no means are you excluded from these exciting events. Next month a pageant to find Mr. Elegance will be held. If you are looking to try your hand at modeling, talk to Candy about the adult classes at Candy's World of Glamour. These classes place special emphasies on self-awareness of one's own beauty. The school offers classes for ages 4-19, also. Call Candy at 462-0072.

Leslie Milton

MUSIC PROFILE

By Jack Williams

Leslie ("Star Drums") Milton

Born in New Orleans, Leslie began his career as a musician and entertainer at a very early age. He started playing in school plays and band at age seven. He played and studied with the "All City Band and Choir" throughout his entire elementary school days.

Upon entering high school he became a member of the school's Marching band. Les feels that playing in the high school band was a very important and exciting period in his career.

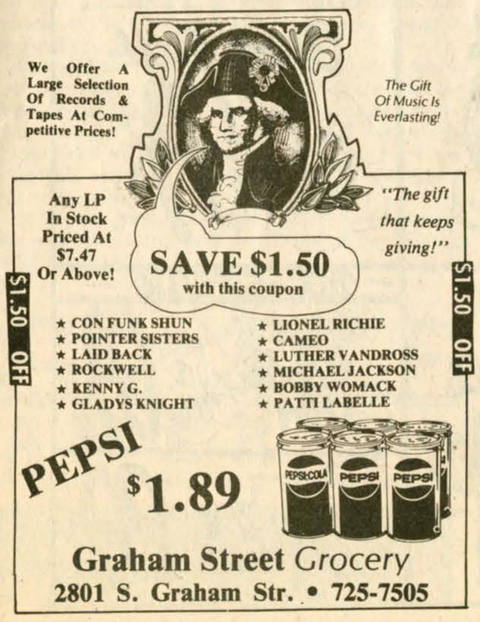

While attending school Leslie began working in the French Quarters of New Orleans, where he made enough money to help with his education.

After completion of high school Leslie began playing more and more with musicians that were considered better than most. Living in a city as musical as New Orleans gave Les the chance to learn and play all kinds of music. He enjoyed the pleasure of playing with such Dixieland greats as Papa Cellestine's Band, Kid Ore and many more. Leslie said that these were the musicians that gave him the incentive to become a Show Drummer.

In the 50's Leslie began working with some of the best Show Bands and acts in the world. He backed up Arthur Prysock, Jerry Butler and the Impressions, Dee Clark, Shirley and Lee and more.

In 1957 Leslie went to New York where he experienced working the Appolo, one of

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

By Mr. Johnson

The following is part two of an interview with Eulysses Lewis, the man behind the Paramount Theatre, Music Hall and Third World.

Part one ended with Eulysses telling us about a new business venture centered on the development of local talent.

E.N. - What will this new venture do?

E.Lewis - The new company, The Paramount Performing Workshop, is geared toward developing local talent. We're starting our own record company and force major along with a group called Isis are our first acts. We will be getting involved in local theatrical productions, video production and artist development. We are going to get real active!

E.N. - That's beautiful. The record companies have abolished their artist developmnt departments for one reason or another.

E.Lewis - You're right. The whole nature of the business has changed. At one point they were really involved in producing records and stuff like that, but now it's up to the artist to bring in an almost finished product which is very hard unless there is a company willing to invest those dollars for you. That's basically why we opened up the Music Hall because it's a building that lends itself better toward local talent.

E.N. - How are you going to find this talent?

E.Lewis - We are going to hold a city-wide audition right after school is out in June. Singers, musicians, actors, comedians and dancers will be looked at for work at the Music Hall and to develop them for future projects, particularly Black talent because they have no where to go and I think the time has come. Black music, dance music is happening all over the country and the clubs will start to book them. Our job is to get them ready.

E.N. - How do you see the entertainment scene opening up in this city for Black performers?

E. Lewis - Most of the professional promoters are becoming more aware of the fact that Black music is happening, it's a major force in the industry. R & B hits are topping the charts. We've seen the reaction from radio stations whereas the used to be known as segregated radio with stations playing all rock, country or teeny-bopper music. Now they're playing the hits which means Michael Jackson, Jeffery Osborne and Lionel Richie. That should filter down to the club owners because everyone has to recognize where their bread is buttered.

E.N. - When and how did you hook up with Third World?

E. Lewis - In May 1977, I went to Jamaica on another project and the group was paying an outdoor concert. Man, they were a wicked band. I started talking to them and one thing lead to another. They need some help to get outide of Jamaica. They wanted to become an international touring band. What really inspired mewas the message of unity for Black people.

E.. - Was the group signed to a lable?

E. Lewis - They were on a label called, Island at the time but they were on what they called supension, meaning the record company wouldn't release them or record them. I didn't think that was cool so we meet with the record company worked out some money and promotional deals, one think lead to another we went into the studio in Nassau and produced a record called, "Journey to Adus" which was one of their biggest hits. Then we toured all over the world Africa, Europe, Japan and everywhere.

E.N. - What are some of the problems that you run into with record companies and radio stations working with Third World?

E. Lewis - Basically, it's the understanding that the major force of Third World is their message whereas most groups just what to sell product and Third World, although they want to sell product, they want to sell quality music consistent with their message. I guess one of the hardest things in America is to get radio station to play postive music. If it's too heavy, they' stay off of it and that's our biggest problem with Third World. They are definitely going to sing about "JAN" the most high. Definitely going to sing about "Brotherly Love." This feeling that Black people must recognize that we have a very, very ancient, ancient history and by recogning generally we can go back and get our past together and step on.

E.N. - I know to promote an artist here you need a radio station to be on the record. What are some of the problem incurred in the promotion of concerts here?

E. Lewis - The biggest problem is to get the radio station to play the record. In order to promote a show successfully you need them on the tune. Here in Seattle they have a tendency to choose and log their own titles and sometimes totally disregard what's happening on the national level. We run into the problem where a group may have a top record out and want to come up to Seattle and when we search for a promotional vehicle and nobody is even on the record yet! That's our biggest problem. Another think is local stations playing local product. I feel the stations should go out of their way for local artist, if it's good.

E.N. - In closing, what advice would you give to aspiring promoters?

E. Lewis - I think our basic key has been sticking to what we do best and being adamant about where we're heading. Anyone who has an idea that they belive in all they have to do is just stick to it and you will eventually win!

the world's most famous theatres. He worked with a popular Blues Singer by the name of Roy "Good Rockin" Brown. After completing a series of National Tours with different acts, Les moved to Los Angeles in 1961. The move added another dimension to Leslies career. The door began to unfold when he met a man by the name of Robert "Bumps" Blackwell, who at that time was manager for Sam Cook and Little Richard. Bumps hired Leslie to back up Bessie Griffin and the Gospel Pearls on the Ed Sullivan show. From that Leslie went on to record with such great acts as Jackie DeShannon, The Rivingtons, Connie Stevens, Bill Cosby, Jimmy Holiday, Lola Falana and Sonny and Cher.

Lou Rawls Hosts Budweiser Showdown Finals

Entertainer Lou Rawls will again host the national finals of the Budweiser Showdown musical talent contest which takes place Thursday, May 10 at The Palace in Hollywood, Calif.

The Budweiser Showdown is the nation's premiere contemporary urban music talent contest. The winner receives a recording contract with PolyGram Records, $10,000 in sound reinforcement equipment from Road by Rickenbacker and an opportunity to do a national Budweiser commercial.

The finalists appearing in the May 10 finals will be chosen from among the winners of 30 local Budweiser Showdown competitions in major cities across the country. Five finalists will compete in the national event.

Last year's winner was Sugahh, an all-female multi-ethnic group from Los Angeles.

"We are looking forward to another Budweiser Showdown spectacular," said Victor M. Julien, manager of national events for Anheuser-Busch, Inc., the brewer of Budweiser, Budweiser Light, Michelob, Michelob Light, Natural Light and Busch beers.

"Although the Budweiser Showdown is committed to the signing of only one group, we have found that each of the groups appearing in the national finals are on a one-way road to stardom. We at Anheuser-Busch are proud to join hands with PolyGram Records and Rickenbacker Inc., and the many radio stations across the country who are involved in the program, to provide a national showcase for these very talented aspiring recording artists."

Budweiser's involvement with the national talent search program is one of many such associations with the black music market: The King of Beers also sponsors the world's number one concert tour—the Budweiser Superfest; concert events for armed services personnel at military bases in the United States and abroad; and this year's Staples Singer's retirement tour for Pop Staples.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA FRATERNITY, INC. TO CONVENE IN CLEVELAND

Brother Alexander Vernon

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. founded in 1906 at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., the nation's oldest and largest predominately Black Greek-letter organization will hold its 78th Anniversary Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, August 3—8, 1984. The Stouffer's Inn on-the-Square will serve as the headquarter hotel for the Fraternity.

Mr. Ozell Sutton, the 26th General President of the Fraternity, will preside over the meeting - during which the results of nationwide balloting will determine the Fraternity's next president (to take office January 1, 1985). Professionally, Mr. Sutton is Southeast Regional Director of the Community Relation's Service of the U.S. Department of Justice (based in Atlanta, Georgia).

The Convention which is expected to draw some 4,000 delegates, members, and guest will assemble under the theme: "Toward Economic and Political Empowerment: The Struggle Continues." Alpha President Sutton notes that many of the convention's speakers, workshops and symposia will be aimed at stimulating Black voter participation in what he calls "the critical election of 1984."

In addition to Mr. Sutton, other key convention officials will include: William R. Bennett, Local Convention Chairman and Director of Financial Aid at Cleveland State University; James B. Blanton III, National Executive Director, Chicago, Ill.; Kermit J. Hall, Director of General Conventions, Yeadon, Pa.; Andrew Venable, President of the local Alumni Chapter and Director of East Cleveland Library; and Steve Boyd, a senior at Dyke College, who serves as the local college Chapter President.

Backers Urge Bill For Inmate Skills Training

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger joined more than 250 leaders in the corrections field and government at the recent national forum on correctional education recently in Washington.

Hosted by Congressman John Conyers Jr. and Senator Claiborne Pell, the conference was called to raise support for new legislation to provide inmates in federal, state, and local correctional institutions with instruction and training that would allow them to develop skills and win jobs upon their release.

"Their is a growing recognition of correctional education as a way to rehabilitate, rather than merely warehouse inmates", said Conyers. "The nation today spends billions of dollars on it's jails and prisons and only a tiny fraction goes toward the training and rehabilitation of inmates".

"Illiteracy, learning disabilities and educational deficiency broadly characterize inmate populations", Conyers pointed out. "Since 95 percent of all inmates return to society after their incarceration, common sense dictates that efforts be made to help inmates become productive citizens", he stressed.

Conyers' legislation to provide inmate education (H.R. 3684) the Federal Correctional Education Assistance Act, currently has 54 sponsors in the House.

Chief Justice Burger told the forum that "the time is ripe" to move ahead in improving conditions in the prisons and jails and to give inmates the training and skills they want and need to return to roles in society.

Also addressing the conference were Michigan Congressman Dale E. Kildee and the Undersecretary of Education, Dr. Gary L. Jones.

The conference was co-sponsored by the Correctional Education Assn. and the American Corrections Assn.

This is True:

The 15th Annual District, composed of District #6, Torri Lodge #46 Okinawa; District #7, Marianas; Travelers Lodge #49, Guam; and District #8, "The Purebreds", Mabuhay; Lodge #59 of the Republic of the Philippines, convened in the afternoon April 15, 1984 in Chapel I of the Clark Air Force Base, to observe their 15th District's Annual Thanksgiving Service. We assembled in the Chapel's preparation room with each, and everyone of us, properly regaled, Mr. Lacsina, a Filipino, was seated at the organ and the MC for the occasion; Bro. Avie R. Stokes, awaited our processional entry. "What a sight to behold!" Invocation and Scripture was given by Bro's. O. Sumlin and John Calahan of Mabuhay Lodge #59. The welcome was given by the Worshipful Master of Mabuhay Lodge #59. Bro. Willie C. Young, Jr.; introductions were made by worthy Matron Jackie Wiggins of Grace Chapter #31, O.E.S. of the Philippines, and Bro. John Coefield of Mabuhay Lodge #59, Philippines. The music was furnished by two groups - the Mabuhay Choir, and the Voices of Clark. Such singing I've never heard before, under the capable direction of Sister Jacqueline Garland, Asst. Matron of Grace Chapter #31, O.E.S. The Sermon was brought by a Rev. Harold Hannibal, whom I believed took a roving subject, and he didn't leave a toe untouched. A young, Rev. Claude Parham, set our souls on fire, with a touching solo, and comments was given by our Grand Worthy Matron, Sister Winifred Hopkins, followed by our most worshipful Grand Master, Charles D. Stubblefield. Benediction, and the Postlude followed. This to many has been very boring, I'm sure; but not, to us Masons for this is what were all about. Before setting forth upon a journey of great endeavor, we first seek favor of the Deity. This Service, not only cemented our hearts with Brotherly and Sisterly love, but united our souls for what ever challenges might arise within the various houses during the rest of the week.

During the remainder of the week, I observed the Sisters and Brothers performing their duties like Jephtbah's daughter and king Solomon himself with such proficiency I had not witnessed in the States. The highlight of the week's performance was when a two Stars General, flew his private airplane from Okinawa to Clark Air Base. The red carpet was rolled out for him, and Mort Worshipful Grand Master Chas. D. Stubblefield, Ill. Deputy James W. Davis, and Imperial Potentate, Roswell A. Taylor, gave him the full works. He was made a shriner.

Until then, This is True. Will see you next week.

SUPER DIETS: MIRACLE WORKERS?
OR JUST FAST MONEY MAKERS

Most advertisements for weight control are full page ads and guarantee immediate weight loss, however, there are various side effects to these so called wonder diets, which makes claims for those who have been trying everything to lose weight.

So just how far will people go for that slim look? How much money will they pay? Well, for openers diet pills and capsules are the hottest selling items on the open market and more new wonder diets are popping up from everywhere. It is most likely a power of suggestion atmosphere when an advertisement suggests that you do not have to exercise, or you can eat anything you want, which might lead someone to ask what about a control appetite? Many of the people who buy these diet pills are really not aware of the product they are purchasing the first thing that comes to mind is "if I take these pill it will work." Well, that is the wrong thought channel to be in, and you almost have to do research and homework to find out what you are going to be putting in your body.

It would be much wiser to consult your doctor before going on fad diets, and if that is too time consuming, grab a copy of consumer report. Exercise and a balance diet is very important. If you eat as much as you want and don't get exercise, do not expect to wear a 32 waist, and so it goes.

Facking With McCrackin

by Jody McCrackin

IS IT SILLY TO WISH THAT EVERYONE COULD READ?
BY JODY McCRACKIN

If it is, then go ahead and call me that silly old man who keeps entertaining those impossible wishes. Yet, I still have some difficulty recognizing the impracticality or the impossibility of such a wish. I sincerely believe that learning to read is a goal that is within the achievement of everyone, and I really would love knowing that everyone is at least making the attempt. When we get right down to the nitty gritty, maybe those who cannot read are not much worse off then some of us who can. One could look even further back to the days of Slavery and say that Slaves were not much worse off than some of us today. Even though individual Slaves were sometimes sold and bought the same as one might sell or buy an animal today, that may not have been the worst thing that could have happened to them. Often it wasn't, especially for some of those Slaves who dared to try to learn to read. Nobody is going to do anything drastic to anyone who cannot read today, other than feel a little sad for him or her who has not yet acquired that ability.

Lives for those without the ability to read would seem to be pretty empty. What can they do? Where can they go? One might even question if they should be permitted to marry and have families. If they marry and have families, what are those children and grandchildren resulting from those families likely to be like? Almost surely they too will not be able to read. Who will teach them in those first few years of life? Are they the families that never have learned to vote? Do they spend most of their time in prisons? I know it is their business if they cannot read. However, it is also my business and your business if they cannot read, because somewhere along the line their inability to read is going to have its impact on communities and the overall society.

Therefore, I just have some very plain and simple advice for those who have not permitted themselves to learn to read. Start picking up books, magazines and newspapers - all kinds - and get to work reading. It's never too late.

Stay with us.

NATIONAL BLACK UNITED FRONT

CHILDCARE AT YESLER TERRACE AND FURTHER YOUTH PROGRAMS

Although many of us consider that children are our most important resource and legacy, the children of the poor and economically disadvantaged have a much more difficult time in reaching and fulfilling their potential than any other children in this country. The children of Yesler Terrace are certainly no exception to this fact, for although the community maintains offices and a recreation center, the use of these facilities is not encouraged by those who yield the power at that Seattle Housing Authority site.

Most pressing is the need for a childcare center in the development. In conjunction with the African People's Socialist Party (APSP), we of the National Black United Fron (NBUF) are backing our extreme vocal concern about the childcare situation in Yesler Terrace with very positive and meaningful action—the organization and formation of an African People's Childcare Collective which will address the needs of Yesler Terrace residents. This Collective, which will be run by the residents of Yesler Terrace, will endeavor to provide that strong backup needed by the many single-parent families in the development, in addition to those households with both parents. We need to know from you as Yesler Terrace residents what kind of assitance you need — and from you, concerned citizens, we need to know what kind of assistance you can give in this effort.

Another area of concern to NBUF is the fact that the recreation center is not available to community residents during those periods of time when youth activity (or rather inactivity) is at the highest — evenings and weekends. These are the youth that have passed the point of "assimilation" into the public educational systems, and who instead need worthwhile and meaningful activities to fill up their "leisure" time, activities which are both educational and recreational. The youth of Yesler Terrace need help in developing educational skills through tutoring, and organized recreational activities.

It is in this spirit that we of NBUF appeal to both residents and aware neighbors and friends — WE NEED YOUR INPUT! In order to get a Junior Afrikan Movement (JAM) program to help our youth from oldest to youngest, we need to know in which areas you feel help is needed most. Please, CALL Pam at 323-0229, and let us know how you think we can help. YOUR IDEAS ARE IMPORTANT!!!

BUGS
By Sharon J. Collman
County Extension Agent

To the gardener, it must seem the world is overrun with insects. All are waiting in the weeds to descend on the first vegetable seed to poke its head through the soil. Slugs, asparagus and flea beetles, cutworms, cabbage maggots and carrot rust fly are notorious, for they compete for the same food the gardener wants to eat.

We have grown up with the idea that the only good bug is a dead bug and so we begin the battle by spraying and stepping on any bug in sight, except maybe lady beetles.

But there is some good news about insects: they are not all bad. Like any group only a small percent are pests, the majority are just there; and in a healthy garden, there are many insects working for the gardener.

Those fast running many legged red "trains" that run out from under rocks are centipedes. Together with the shiny black ground beetles, they feed on garden pests.

Before you get out the spray can, find out what kind of bug it is. Take the specimen to the Master Gardeners Central District Clinic at Promenade 23rd (near Thriftway), 23rd and Jackson between 9:00 a.m.—1:00 p.m. every Saturday. (You might even consider becoming a Master Gardener yourself one day; sign up begins in October so you've time to think about it.)

For a free bulletin on Beneficial Insects with pictures to help in recognizing them, call 344-4162. Let us know you read about it is THE FACTS. Also free are a DialExtension brochure - with over 200 tapes on garden topics - and the Master Gardener Clinic Schedule for the 20 clinics in King County.

Socialist Workers Voice Grievances: Sponsors Rally

On Sunday, May 13 at 6 p.m., a rally to protest racist violence in the city will be held at C.A.M.P. Firehouse, located 722 18th Avenue in Seattle. Speakers will include Wayne Williams, Director of Afro-American Studies at the University of Washington; Jose Cervantes, Chicano community activist; Cheryll Hidalgo, Socialist Workers Party candidate for governor; and others.

The rally, entitled 'Stop Racist Attacks, No to Nazi Violence' is a response to racist attacks taking place in Seattle and nationwide. On March 28 Robert Baldwin, a Black laborer was shot over thirty times in the back by Seattle police. On April 26 the headquarters of the Socialist Workers Party Campaign for Governor and Congress was firebombed after a week of vandalism by a Nazi group. The police have not investigated despite a letter signed by many local civil rights, women's movement and labor activists, urging that they do so. New Martin Luther King Way street signs have been defaced with paint. All of this comes directly in the wake of the acquittal of 6 Ku Klux Klan and Nazi members who murdered anti-Klan demonstrators in Greensboro, North Carolina in 1979. This acquittal three weeks ago gave a green light to Nazi and Klan groups across the country to strike out at defenders of Black rights. Police inaction in the Puget Sound area, most notably in regard to the three consecutive firebombings of the Everett Feminist Women's Health Clinic, has given further encouragement to the racists.

On Wednesday, May 2, a delegation visited the Mayor's office to demand action in investigating the firebombing at the Socialist Workers Campaign headquarters. The delegation included Oscar Hearde, well-known labor and civil rights activist in Seattle, and Mark Manning, SWP candidate for Congress in the 7th District and a member of International Association of Machinists District 751 at Boeing.

Mayor Royer or a representative from his office has been invited to speak on the platform at the May 13 rally to denounce the right-wing violence and explain what steps the city is taking to prevent further violence of this kind from taking place and whether the police inaction has ended. For more information call 725-5330.

HOME IMPROVEMENTS: CONTRACTING
By Pat Matthews

PART TWO OF THREE-PART SERIES

You have determined what your home improvement needs are. You have researched the options and had plans drawn up. Now you've come to the point where you must decide who will do the work.

First, consider what parts of the job you can do yourself. Be careful to estimate the time and skill level needed to complete the project. You may decide to do the entire job yourself, hiring a subcontractor for such jobs as plumbing or electrical work.

However, know your limitations. You're not going to save money if your work has to be redone because it didn't meet code specifications. Building permits and zoning variances may be required and should be obtained prior to the start of any work.

If a contractor is needed you should begin by asking friends and neighbors for referrals. Also look at advertisements in local papers. The local chapter of builders' and contractors' association and your architect or interior designer can suggest the most reputable contractor for your job.

Make out a list of questions you should ask a prospective contractor. Find out the range of services he offers. Contact four or five homeowners for whom the contractor has worked in the past year. Also ask for references from building suppliers, subcontractors, business associates and financial institutions.

Contacting individuals and groups about a prospective contractor can give you a better idea of his dependability and how well he knows his trade. You should also make sure the contractor is bonded and obtain a contractor's license number before you hire anyone. By contacting the Contractors Registration Division of the Washington Department of Labor and Industries (Tel: (206) 753-6807) you can find out if the contractor's license is current and if there are any claims against his bond.

Cost estimates for the project are usually given before any plans are drawn up. The contractor will want to meet with you and visit your home to determine the kind of work involved. Get a detailed estimate with a clear indication of the type and quality of materials to be used.

Once you've decided on the contractor that is best for your job, a home improvement contract should be drawn up. The contract can be a signed bid sheet, letter or standard form but it should be in writing. To avoid misunderstanding between you and your contractor, make sure the contract is complete and clearly worded.

Included in the contract should be the name, address and license number of the contractor and the approximate dates that work will begin and be completed. A description of work to be done and materials to be used should be added with a copy of blueprints and a specification list. Make sure the total job price and schedule of recommended payments is included.

If a contractor doesn't pay people involved in your project you can be held liable for the payment of bills. However, there are a number of ways you can protect yourself from the contractor's negligence.

To release you from any claims, a waiver of labor and material clause can be added to the contract. A performance bond can also be purchased by the contractor. This bond protects you in case your contractor doesn't perform the work as specified in the contract. The bond is bought for the full cost of the contract by the contractor. He then adds the bonding fee onto the price of the job.

Once a contract is signed you may have the right to cancel. If the contract was signed within your home or if the financing for your project involves a lien on your house you have the right to cancel your contract within three days of the signing. However, you should be notified of this when you sign the contract.

Your home improvement project is now well off the ground and your ideas are taking shape. Financing the job may still be a big piece of the puzzle that needs to be filled in but more on that is Part Three.

OEC EASTER CELEBRATION

The drawing was a highlight of a very busy Easter weekend at OEC. Almost 2,000 people passed through the line to receive Easter food baskets many containing turkeys and eggs. Northwest Second Harvest made a special donation and the eggs were provided by the Ladies of Zodiac. Eva Henderson---Ward of the King County Cooperative Extention was on hand to demonstrate easter eggs. Making and providing nutrition information.

Re-Opening of the Union Gospel Mission Bargain Center

The Union Gospel Mission Bargain Center, 96930 Martin Luther King Jr. Way which was gutted by fire on Sunday, September 12, 1983 will re-open on Saturday, May 12 at 10 a.m. it was announced today by Rev. Stephen E. Burger, Executive Director of the Union Gospel Mission. "It's been a long road back", stated Burger, "due to the fact that we had to rebuild everything in the store, and stock room area from the roof to the floor." "Everything was gone".

The renovation, directed by William McConachie, the mission's director of maintenance and construction included the addition of a sprinkler system, a new roof, new tile floor, new doors, windows, electrical, and new sheet rock. "It's like a brand new store", added Burger. The store which sells second hand merchandise collected by the mission's Recovery Program will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday following its grand re-opening on Saturday. Henry Nielsen, President of the board of trustees of the Union Gospel Mission will preside at the short dedication program, with refreshments being served, and doorprizes being given to those visiting the store on Saturday.

A new manager, Don Michel will be introduced on Saturday. Don, has been a contractor in Snohomish County, Washington. A new feature in the store according to Michel is the "Collectors Corner", which will feature antique and collectible items. Michel also noted the mission's need for items that are reusable or recyclable which can be dropped off at the center, or will be picked up at your house by calling 723-5700.

Rev. Burger also shared his appreciation to those who have volunteered, and donated during the fire loss period when the store was located near the Kingdome. "It is good to be back home", shares Burger,"and it will be good to see our friends, and customers again, and we sure need them now." The mission has been loosing approximately $5000 monthly during the past six months. Fire loss was pegged at $120,000 for the building, and $20,000 for equipment. The fire was caused by arson.

In the latest survey taken, THE FACTS was proven to have more readers than the combination of any other two weekly newspapers in Seattle.

Spring Is Time To Start Kindergarten Planning For Fall

The parents of five-six year olds are now invited to contact Martin Luther King Early Childhood Education Center, 3201 East Republican Street, to make preparations for the start of school in the Fall, according to Principal, Searetha Smith. Visits are scheduled at the school for parents wanting a good, predictable beginning for their child's earliest, organized education.

The word "Kindergarten" means happy garden of children, and spring is the time for "planting" (or planning) how the garden will grow. The beginning days of schooling determine how well the child does later. These first glimpses of learning are all-important.

Although all classrooms stress instruction in the basic skills, a variety of teaching styles and instructional alternatives allows flexibility in meeting pupil needs and parental desires. Both the structured, phonic distar approach and the multi-sensory non-distar instruction are offered.

In addition to the basic skills, there is an ever changing enrichment program. The program emphasizes the development of "gifted and talented" potential for all students.

In order to represent the multi-ethnic nature of our society and of this school, the Rainbow Curriculum, which joins all peoples, will be used to help children learn to recognize and respect the ethnic uniqueness of themselves and others.

Organized around the concept of continuous progress, kindergarten classrooms are cross-aged, while Primary classrooms are both cross-aged and ungraded, operating to develop a process of instruction which fits the individual child's rate and style of learning.

Parents at M.L. King Center have historically been very involved in the education process. School personnel work full-time at recruiting encouraging and training parents as "partners in education".

M.L. King Early Childhood Education Center is a complete program, fourteen years in the making. Each child in the program is a part of the whole. King Center is a place of demonstrated effective teaching and happy learning for children.

Students living in the King attendance area and in zone II of the Seattle Public School plan should participate early as space may be limited. The following information is required at the time of registration:

Verification of birthdate
immunization record
address verification

For questions or information about visitations, please call the school at: 587-6318.

Climaxing a joyous Easter week was the Easter Egg Party, hosted by P.G.D.R. Cathern L. Ragland, Tacoma, for their Grand Children, nephews and nieces. Later after the youngsters had equalled their delight at finding so many beautiful eggs and prizes, the adults sat down to a sumptuous meal as only the hostess can concoct. Kiddoos to Daughter Ragland for the finish of a glorious Easter.

Deadline... until next time.

"UP THE CREEK"

Outrageous antics and exciting whitewater rafting are combined to tell the story of four students involved in desperate and often unethical efforts to win a rafting race and bring glory to their less than glorious college in Orion's "Up the Creek."
Pictured: Some of the more unethical antics as the Military College takes the Aggie College out of action.

Who is Rockwell?

Rockwell is one of the hottest selling recording artists in the world today. His album and single, entitled "Somebody's Watching Me", are both destined for No. 1 on the music industries best selling charts.

Rockwell terms his music 'rhythm wave' which encompasses many current music formats including Pop, Rhythm and Blues, and Rock. His songs are a product of an artist whose personal life remains very private.

He is 20 years old, 5'9", and weights 159 lbs. USA TODAY refers to him as a "macho Michael Jackson and a sophisticated Prince!"

His world popularity is no surprise since his 'rhythm wave' music spans over at least three continents.

Because Rockwell is a multi-talented artist who writes, produces, directs and performs his own music, many people refer to him as "the little genius who knows exactly what he wants."

When asked to what he attributes his enormous success to, he shyly replies, "I guest I was just at the right place at the right time..."And of course, having wonderful buddies like Michael Jackson never hurts."

Some Summer Stuff

Summer it's close. It is time to do some serious thinking - "What am I going to do with those kids?" Here is a suggestion. Put those kids in a Camp - A Day Camp or maybe a Basketball Camp. Something close and not too expensive. Your neighborhood community center, the Miller Community Center, 20th E. and E. Republican, will offer both, a Day Camp for school age youngsters 6 years through 11 years, and a Basketball Camp for boys and girls 10 years to 13 years, July 9 - July 13. The second session July 23 - July 27 will be for girls 14 years through 18 years. Registration fee for the Basketball Camp is $60. There will be intensified basketball for one week 6 hours a day. Debbi Adams, Womens coach at the Univ. of Oregon, will b e directing the camp with the aid of other local high school coaches. The camp's program will stress basketball fundamentals, shooting, defense, conditioning, and fun. Registration forms for Basketball may be picked up at the Miller Community Center.

The Mayor's Office will hold a public workshop on the development of the City of Seattle's proposed 1985 Affirmative Action Work Plan. The workshop will be held on Wednesday, May 30th, 7:30 p.m. at the Langston Hughes Cultural Arts Center (1st floor conference area). The Center is located at 104 - 17th Avenue South, Seattle.

It is the intent and purpose of this workshop to provide interested persons the opportunity to give testimony and to participate in a full exchange of information on the City's annual work plan process.

For additional information, please call Barbara Laigo-Smith at the Affirmative Action Unit at 625-2643.
