A multitude of stars come together to celebrate the power of the new generation at The 1999 Essence Awards. Hosted by Jada Pinkett Smith and Jamie Foxx, The 1999 Essence Awards will air on FOX June 2nd from 8 to 10pm (ET/PT).

This year's honorees include six outstanding individuals and one corporation who all epitomize the power of a new generation. 1999 Essence Awards recipients are Grammy Award-winning hip-hop and R&B star Lauryn Hill; Grammy Award-winning gospel recording artist Kirk Franklin; comedian Chris Rock; and the founders of the FUBU clothing collection. Grassroots honorees are Hydeia L. Broadbent, a 14-year-old living with AIDS who is an AIDS spokesperson; Jennifer Lindsay, a young woman who overcame brain damage at birth and later became a child prodigy, master violinist, soprano and college student; and her mother, Gloria Lindsay, who quit her teaching job to educate Jennifer at home.

With more than 7 million readers, ESSENCE is the preeminent magazine for Black women. Published by Essence Communications, Inc., it is the leading source of cutting-edge information relating to every area of African-American women's lives. For 29 years the magazine has celebrated personal achievement, chronicled social movements, documented struggles, showcased beauty, defined and set trends and illustrated the incredible journey of a resilient and splendid culture.
