A Success Story Of A Home Town Girl, Raised from the Welfare System To A Dr. Of Literature, English, Communication and Specializing in African American Literature

Mrs. A. Yemisi Jimoh Story

Don't let anybody tell you that because of the status of your birth, the name of your parents, the job your parents hold, the place were you live, the action of your parents or family, or the environment which you live have any bearing on what you will become in life. Your actions along will determine what you will become in this life. You determine a good life to be proud of or you determine a bad life to be ashamed of. In any stage of your life you can make your own life good or bad it's your choice.

Look at the life of A. Yemisi Jimoh, her parents Ida Mae Smith and Lawless Morgan were never married. Her mother was on welfare when she was born and stayed on during her young life. he also was an unwed mother on and off welfare just for that assistance she needed to feed cloth and educate herself and her children. her son was born our of wedlock but she choose to continue her education. She entered into a school stared by the Model City Educational Task Force for unwed mothers. The Continuation School for unwed mothers was housed in the Washington Jr. High School in Seattle.

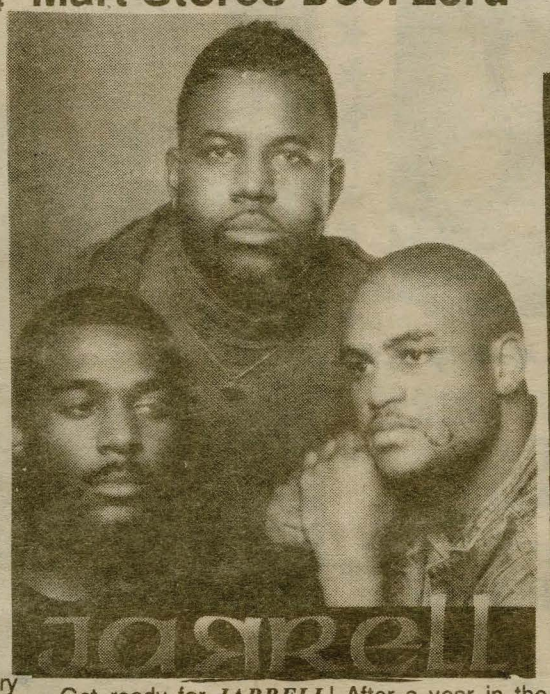

After having her son she moved into her own place. She transferred back into the regular school system, graduated from Garfield High School. She worked and went to school and cared for them.

She married her first husband and continued going to school. She enrolled in the University of Washington on grants and loans and got her Bachelor of Arts degree. During that period she got pregnant, worked and got a divorce and cared for her two young children. She stopped going to school for a while to earn money to get her Master Degree. Later she got married to her second husband having her third child. She entered the University of Washington the second time and received her Masters Degree. Her husband could not find adequate work moved to Houston, Texas. This again leaving her with three children, working, and going to school. When she received her Master Degree, she and the children joined her husband in Texas were they live today.

When arriving in Texas she taught at a couple of community colleges and the University of Houston. While teaching she decided to go back to school and get her PHD in Literature, English and Specializing in African american Literature and Communication.

JARRELL Debut Maxi Single in Little Record Mart Stores Dec. 23rd

Get ready for JARRELL! After a year in the recording studio and a host of live performances Robert Kidd, president of Seattle-based IBNET Records proudly announces the release of the debut maxi single from the sensational three-man self-contained recording artist JARRELL. The JARRELL maxi single consisting of four songs on CD and cassette, will be available at all Little Record Mart locations in Columbia City, MLK Way and East Madison on Friday, December 23, 1994.

JARRELL is comprised of uniquely talented, diversified and spiritually motivated young musicians from the Seattle area. Djasarri Ibn Kidd is keyboardist, drummer, synth programmer and background vocalist. Duane D'Arby is lead vocalist, bass player and co-producer. His younger brother Michael D'Arby rounds out the group as lyricist, vocalist and co-producer.

The four songs to be released on the JARRELL maxi single are the funky R&B groove "Good Love", old school jam "I Need To Know", the strong and soulful ballad "Singing In The Rain" and the spiritual interlude "Prayze". Robert Kidd stated, "the many fans of JARRELL literally demanded that we get their music to the public ASAP, so we thought the maxi single would be the perfect vehicle to fulfill the initial requests ".

The full album CD and cassette is scheduled for an early spring 1995 release. A formal release party is planned for mid January and JARRELL is also preparing a series of live promotional performances in support of the release. Get ready for JARRELL!

Golfers

ATTENNTION! ATTENTION! Attention all golfers, would be golfers, want to be golfers, thinking about being a golfer and those persons interested in the game of golf. FSGC will host its Annual Membership Drive Social this Saturday, December 17th at the new and exciting Garfield Community Center. Join us for refreshments and lots of information about FSGC; its history, why you and your family should join FSGC, new direction information and if nothing else come see who we are. We have a non-golfers membership for those who want to volunteer and a reduced fee for seniors.

FSGC is unique in that we will teach all new golfers both adults and juniors how to play. Juniors must be between the ages of 7 and 17 and their parents do not have to be members of the club. In addition, the junior program provides clubs and frequently balls that are donated by the adult members. All they need is shoes and from the beginning athletic shoes will do! So after all that information, there is no reason why you and your entire family should miss this great opportunity to join us at Garfield Community Center next Saturday from 6 PM to 10 PM. See you then!!! The winter months are the best time to shop for golf equipment and clubs made an excellent holiday gift for those who have expressed an interest in the game of golf. Also, for the avid golfer they can always use the basic things such as balls, caps, towels and gloves. So be nice, make a happy golfer happier this holiday season. And remember, Golf is a game of honesty and integrity so....."If you can't be a good sport and occasionally lose, try bobsledding!"

Mann Bits & Pieces

By Dave Mann

It's shoot out time down in the Tacoma Dome. This week starting tonight Wednesday, the hot playing Sonics are living up with Portland and Orlando. This match-up represents three of the best clubs in the NBA. The Blazers from down south on I-5 brings guest to the party named Buck Williams, Rod Strickland and Clyde Drexler. The other quest come in the shape of a 7'2" 270 pound giant named Shaquille O'Neil.

By the time you read this article, I'm afraid all tickets to these games will be sold. Of course there are always scalpers outside the Dome trying to make room rent, so give them a play.

Look who's in town this Sunday. The hated or loved Los Angeles Raiders. The 8-6 Raiders will take on the 6-8 Seahawks in the Kingdome. The Seahawks will line-up against the favored red hot Raiders without the services of defensive back Eugene Robinson and Offensive Lineman Ray Roberts.

Also applied to the Seahawks list of injured warriors were Terrance Warren with a knee sprain tackle Mike Keim with a strained hamstring; and ; and wide receiver Michael Bates, who the team feared might have suffered his third concussion of the season.

How about the running of Chris Warren last Sunday, not only did Seattle run a whopping 50 times for 266 yards - Warren had his best daycare carring the ball, 30 times for 185 yards - after this Sunday's encounter with the Raiders, the Seahawks will fill out their 16 games slate on the road against a powerful Cleveland team - just wondering are we going to have major league baseball in 95 or not?

Ken Easley Jr, of Seahawks Donates to The Fir State Golf Club

Ken Easley Jr, former football great co-owner of Makena Sports and Alderwood-Pontiac, Olsmobile and Cadillac Dealership for the second year makes as $,500 and secured a $500 dollars donation from the Sahalee Country Club of Redmond, Washington. Makena Sports also donated fifteen golf bags for the junior program.

Ken indicated that the Fir State Junior program is one of the finest in the Northwest and he will continue to support the club and help those individuals who otherwise could not afford this sport to get involved. Ken indicated that the community has supported him in many ways while playing for the the SEAHAWKS and just wanted to say thanks by getting involved.

The checks were presented to Bob Duckworth the President of Fir State Golf Club.

Drop Off Donations For Toys For Tots At Any Seattle Public Library

The Seattle Public Library is once again serving as a collection site for donated toys for the U.S. Marine Corps' annual Toys for Tots drive.

The staff at the Downtown Library, located at 1000 4th Ave., and all 22 branch libraries, are collecting new, unwrapped toys through Friday, December. 23. The last day of the drive.

At the Downtown Library, donations may be given to staff at the checkout desks on the first and third floors. "The Downtown Library provides a convenient location for people who are already shopping downtown, to visit the library and drop off a toy," Megan Sterns, cordinator for the Downtown Library's Borrower Service Department.

Last year, approximately 34,000 children from low income families in King and Snohomish counties received toys through Toys for Tots. Rob Huffman, master sergent for the U.S. Marine Corps, and Toys for Tots coordinator, said he anticipates the need to be even greater than last year.

For more information about Toys for Tots, call 526-3537. For information about Seattle Public Library locations and hours, call 386-4636.

That is "Emmanuel?"

"Emmanuel" is an original, two-act drama that features a cast or more than 30 youth and adults and the exciting music of the First AME Church Chancel Choir under the direction of Juan Huey-Ray. "Emmanuel" presents an urban scene for the question: Had Jesus been born in Seattle, in a humble setting, would we have accepted Him? "emmanuel: is the agony of a confused husband-to-be, the faith of Mary, and the ultimate joy of Christ's Birth. "Emmanuel" is guaranteed to challenge and to inspire the entire family. There is no admission charge.

For further information on this delightful and sacred performance, please contact Julie Burrell or Juan Huey-Ray, First AME Church, 324-3664.

Washington Post Offices Urge Customers To Mail Early: Holiday Mails Tops Mt. Rainier This Year

Seattle, WA (Dec. 13, 1994)-With the biggest mailing day of the year-Monday, Dec. 19th-still ahead, postal employees are processing and delivering a record amount of mail this holiday season. So the Seattle Postal District-with post offices stretching from Port Angeles to Moses Lake, WA, and from Blaine to Olympia-is encouraging customers to mail early.

Mail volume is hitting record levels at the Seattle Bulk Mail Center - The Postal service's major processing center for parcels in the Northwest U.S. "We've processed over 3 million parcels already since Thanksgiving," says Harold Matz, Manager of the Seattle Bulk Mail Center in Federal Way. "That's 9.3 percent over time last year at the highest ever. And we're now in the busiest mailing period of the year."

Holiday mail volume has also been high at the Post Office's major mail processing center on Third Avenue South in Seattle. Postal employees there have been working around the clock handling more that 20.6 million holiday cards and letters since Thanksgiving.

"We expect our peak day to be next Monday, Dec. 19th, says Tal Middleton, manager of the Seattle Mail Processing Center. "The Monday of the week before Christmas is traditionally the biggest mailing day of the year. We expect to process more than 3.1 million cards and letters that day, more than three times what we do on an averaged day the rest of the year."

Both Matz and Middleton said postal employees are working hard getting everyone's holiday mail delivered on-time and in good shape. They also offered these helpful mailing tips.

"Mail your cards, letters and packages as early as possible. Mailing early ensures against writer storms in other parts of the country, which can really slow down transportation. "The sooner we get your holiday mailings," says Matz, "the better the chance they will arrive on time."

Print the complete and accurate name and address, and most importantly the correct ZIP Code on all your mailings. A wrong ZIP Code delays delivery. Also include your return address in the upper-left hand corner of the envelope or package.

For parcels, use a study plain box or carton. Make sure they are properly cushioned inside with newspapers, styrofoam or other good cushioning material. Include a piece of paper on the inside of the package with your return address.

Seal the packaged properly with strong, nylon-reinforced packing tape. Do not use paper or cord on the outside. They can get tangled in mail processing equipment.

Take your mailings to the post office early in the day. Your holiday mail will get out sooner and you can avoid the heavy customer mail later in the day.

The Postal Service offers mailing options: Priority Mail and Express Mail. Priority mail is normally delivered in three days and offers a good rate. Mailing letters and packages by Priority costs only $2.90 for up to two pounds; three pounds $4.10; four pounds $4.65. For parcels over five pounds the rate varies with the destination zone.

Helen Baylor's "Experience"

Excitement...expectancy...electricity. An evening with Helen Baylor in concert can leave a person straining for words adequate to describe the moment. Perhaps the title of her new album and video, "The Live Experience, says all that need be said. Recorded live in Los Angeles before 6500 of her hometown faithful, with the cream of L.A.'s session musicians in accompaniment, "The Live Experience" is 11 of Helen's best-loved songs taken to new heights.

"I never know what God is going to do through me from night to night," says Helen, "but this night was truly extraordinary. The band, in addition to being tremendous players, are all wonderful Christians. We'd prayed beforehand and went on stage all of one accord. We weren't just playing and singing. We were praising god with instruments and voices. You could feel the Spirit moving through everyone on that stage and in that church."

"The Live Experience" culminates with "Victory," an exuberant, uptempo song of celebration. "Everyone just loves 'Victory,'" says Helen. "We all need to be encouraged and reminded that we have victory in Him. My concerts are like a church service set to music. I don't look at myself as an entertainer anymore. I did that for many years, and I understand it. But now I take the professionalism I got from that and couple it with ministry. And the Lord seems to be able to use that."

Mothers Against Police Harassment Mark First Anniversary of Antonio Jackson Homicide

Mothers Against Police Harassment will join with other supporters of justice for Antonio Jackson to protest King County Prosecutor Norm Maleng's handling of Jackson's murder. During the protest, M.A.P.H. will present Mr. Maleng with a pack of cigarrettes, representing what he apparently believes the life of a young Black man is worth in King County. The protestors will then go to the office of King County Sherriff James Montgomery, who will be presented with a guide to first-aid, symbolizing M.A.P.H.'s belief that King County police officers should have performed potentially life-saving C.P.R. on Antonio Jackson.

"We are gathering to protest Norm Maleng's ongoing efforts to prevent a full airing of the facts regarding police responsibility for Antonio's death," said Harriett Walden, founder of M.A.P.H. "The Prosecutor's office has ignored this young Black victim in order to protect Safeway and the King County police."

Antonio Jackson died in police custody outside the Twin Lakes Safeway in Federal Way last December 14, after being attacked and choked by two Safeway employees who believed he had stolen a pack of cigarettes.

A video tape of the incident confirms witnesses statements that the police failed to give Jackson potentially life-saving first-aid and prevented bystanders from doing so. Jackson's death was ruled a homicide by King County Medical Examiner Donald Reay.

Maleng has failed to file criminal charges against any of the suspects. The King County police department has not conducted M.A.P.H., Jackson family members, and the Puget Sound Coalition for Police Accountability have engaged in a year-long series of pickets, vigils and speakouts to keep public attention focused on the case.

An inquest into Jackson's death is scheduled to begin in early January. The Jackson family is going to be shut out of that process because the King County Prosecutor's office convinced the inquest judge to prohibit Jackson family attorneys from calling and questioning witnesses. At the request of the Prosecutor's office the inquest will not examine whether the police officers' conducted themselves according to Department procedure or if Safeway policies may have contributed to Jackson's death.

"We are going to build a movement for justice for Antonio Jackson, a movement big enough to overcome this effort at a cover-up," pledged Walden.

The Protest will be held Wednesday, December 14, 1994 at 11 AM at the King County Courhouse (516 Third Avenue), 5th Floor.

Letter to the Community

If the current law was in place in 1983, the writer would still be in prison (at a cost of about $30,000 per year taxpayer money. Today I'm an MSW, with a Chemical Dependency Speciality and currently treat Dual Diagnosis. I've expressed myself in the following letter and if there is some activity around this issue, I'd like to be involved. If not, then maybe we could get together and discuss some of the what, hows and with what/who stuff. Please give me a call at 721-3450 with information or ideas, ask for Eddwynn.

The Dec. 1, 1994 article "STRIKE 3: THEY'RE OUT" (Seattle Times) compelled me to finally sit down and express my anger and confusion at this unjust law. This law appears to be a mistake which will not only cost taxpayers a bundle but do nothing to stop or deter crime.

I vaguely remember the three stikes law being enacted for violent criminals who repeatedly committed horrendous crimes. I don't recall much discussion about the specifics of the proposal and figured the individuals whose stories led off the daily evening news and covered the front page of newspapers deserved what they got. I needed to stay focused in a tough economy. You see I was charged with the Habitual Criminal Statute in King county in 1983.

My first hint of a problem was when I heard the law covered a host of crimes too numerous to list.

Today I wonder if these are the people who deserve life in prison and the violent criminals our society can not tolerate forever? I agonize over the silence and wonder why nobody in leadership is speaking up or discussing the justice of this law? Why are the people with platforms not critically discussing the issue!

Morgan (example in article) like most three strike victims is a petty criminal who has drug problems, undiagnosed depression and other mental disorders, and lacks living skills. It is ludicrous to sentence offenders without considering the degree of violence or the amount of money taken in the crime. Dave LaCourse described as "a mover behind the initiative" said "It's the victims fear and offenders unwillingness or inability to reform that matters." Unwillingness? Inability to reform? What does this mean? What is being offered to offenders in prison or upon release? He goes on to say "Why should we wait until they kill until we take them seriously? It's their criminality being punished." Criminality, what does he mean? Is there a criminal personality or criminal mind? Does he really think the people receiving the 3 strike life sentence are choosing such a lifestyle. No doubt they are out of control and helpless! But could it be the addiction, mental disorder or lack of living skills? Are these the petty street crimes of the poor and disenfranchised crying out for help? It appears that a new definition of violent repeat offenders has been implemented. I wonder if we failed to ask enough questions and get definitions before passing this law?

Norm Maleng says "race plays no role in charging" though all five sentenced offenders from King County are Black. In fact 10 of the 15 cases in King County are young Black Males. Maleng explains this phenomena by stating "early numbers are driven by nothing other than the combination of demographics and chance. Disproportionate does not mean discriminatory." So what is he saying? It appears to be jargon which means business as usual, keep giving life without parole to Young Afro-American Males.

Beauty Beyond Seasons

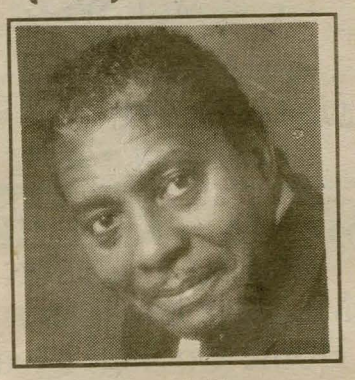

Big Night Out? Just because you plan to paint the town, doesn't mean you have to paint your face with expensive wrinkle, hiding creams. A couple of egg whites whipped up into a meringue and put all over your face for 30 minutes before your party help tighten the skin and shrink enlarged pores. Rinse off with cool water.

Having darker skin can be a blessing, you have a natural cover-up for blemishes. Some of the innovations in products for problem skin include a special spot stick containing a anti bacterial lotion that purifies the skin and prevents the formation of spots. A very effective soap found on our grocers shelf is dial.

If you are using an abrasive substance to remove some of the dead cells on the skin surface, such as oatmeal or salt, you'll need an anti bacterial soap to prevent minor infections that show up as dark spots, which are small bruises. Then you need more makeup as a cover up, which could enlarge the pores and cause another problem.

Water is the perfect purifier. skin needs moisturizing water provides the epidermis with an adequate amount of moisture to prevent wrinkles, bags and swollen lids. rinsing the skin for an extra three minutes, morning and night can relieve stress and tired skin. the extra rinsing helps to moisturize the skin from wrinkles, and leaves the skin with a healthy glow.

Mrs. A. Yemisi Jimoh Story

Mrs. A. Yemisi Jimoh is the proud mother of one handsome son, the last she heard from him was on may 5, 1992 in Seattle, Washington missing every since. And three loving and beautiful daughters. A loving husband who cares dearly for his and her whole family.

A. Yemisi got her PHD on May 9, 1994 from the University Of Houston. Her Dicitation Director felt she should publish her dicitation into a book for the world to use in school and in their homes for cultures enrichment for all people and especially for the African American, and other races with dark skin. She feels it will be good for other races to read her book to understand that our children must look to our own race for the application of their heritage, their positive life style and their culture values.

Dr. Jimoh life is a true and fine pattern that a person life is what they themselves make of it. We can say the Dr. Jimoh as she mostly called Yemishi by her friends, Annette left the A. intact on her legal name change for her mother. She has come from the system of welfare of wife, mother; teacher, having articles published, author of short stories and poems. Soon she will be the author of her own book titled Living in Paradox. a Theory of interpretation of Music in the making of African American Fiction. She is hoping for it to be published in the later part of 1995.

Dr. Jimoh wants African American boys, girls, men and women with dark brown, black, and mixed skin to know that we inhabited every country in world including our native birth land.

TAX TIME IS COMING!!!
ARE TAXES ON YOUR MIND... OR WILL THEY BE OUT OF POCKET?
BY LORNA M. WALKER
FINANCIAL TAX ACCOUNTANT
(Former IRS Tax Examiner)
of INTERCONNECTIONS

"Reshaping Your Financial Future"

As you know April 15th is fast approaching... it cannot be delayed. But right now your concerns are with just making it through the holidays, right? Bills need to be paid, presents need to be bought and hidden. Kids are asking for money for special clothes for special events, all while you're struggling just to find change for gas to get to work.

Knowing that, and hearing about tax time is probably the last thing expenses, you have time to figure out just what money is going where.

During this time, while you are relaxing, the IRS is preparing to review your tax returns. With new tax laws in effect they will be scrutinizing every nuance of your tax returns, so it behooves you to have all your receipts and records straight and most of all, choose the right accountant.

I would advise you not to go to the company with the letters in their name. Professional ethics prevents me from saying which one, but you know who I'm talking about. I've been doing tax accounting for over 15 years while most of their employees have only gone through a 12 week course in tax preparation. I'be corrected quite a few returns that have been messed up by those blockheads. First, they herd you in like cattle and then sometimes they don't even give you your entire tax deductions.

So, if you've got anything more complicated than a 1040-EZ PLEASE GO TO A PROFESSIONAL. Someone that cares about you and your money. Remember, It's your money, so don';t let just anybody handle it.

I'm Lorna Walker reminding you to be money wise and money smart and look forward to my upcoming seminar on TAX MANAGEMENT, January 7, 1995 at 2pm at the YMCA located at 1700 23rd Ave. Till next time, learn how to keep the man out of your pocket!

For awhile I thought that this form of entertainment would have been "out the door" by now, but Darnell continues to "Shut Tha Doe" six times a week in the Seattle area and we eat it up like banana puddin'. Well here's the answer. Darnell is.... GOOD ! Big deal that he's an excellent "sanger" with style and finesse and makes every song he sings his own. So what. But what makes this performer special is that he treats his "guest performers" like stars and makes them feel comfortable as they do something they usually reserved for the shower. He's a great guy ! Both the very talented and the talent "impaired" are able to come out of their incubatory shells and "sang" as if they were at the Apollo thanks to the support Darnell curries from the audience and audiences can sometimes be brutal .. but never at the Darnell Show ..The boys' a Showman!! Face-to-Face

Local surgeons, Dr. Wayne F. Larrabee, Jr., Dr. Craig S. Murakami of Seattle, and Dr. John R. Hilger of Tacoma, Washington have just returned from a week-long humanitarian mission in Croatia. As members of the American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery (AAFPRS), these doctors were part of a five surgeon team that operated on dozens of children in the former Yugoslavia. The patients, most of them victims of the ongoing conflict, suffer from post-traumatic disfigurement including blast wounds from grenades or injuries from high velocity bullets. Among the many procedures performed were eyelid and upperfacial skin replacements, nasal reconstructions, cranio facial anomalies and maxillary defects. The American delegation of AAFPRS surgeons operated alongside their Croatian counterparts in a Zagreb hospital exchanging information and operating techniques.

This trip to Croatia is part of an ongoing program, Face-to-Face. Under the auspices of the Educational and Research Foundation of the AAFPRS, Face-to-Face is a humanitarian and educational surgical exchange. Other initiatives have included trips to Mexico and Russia. Participating surgeons travel at their own expense and are not compensated for their efforts.

Hi All,
Just Call Me The "Blooming Flower Lady"!

Only 2 weeks until Christmas! The poplar seasonal plants we have discussed previously...the: Poinsettia, Amaryllis and Holly. They are poisonous ... remember this....when decorating around small children! Also if you have chosen to use a live tree this year, Check tree stand and fill with water; as needed. You will safegaurd your tree from the danger of dry-out!

Remember the solid Waste Utility Collection Program for after the holiday Christmas Tree Recycling, as well my understanding is that: Trees under 6-ft. tall and less that 4-ft. wide should be set out on your regular/scheduled curb service collection days. large trees should be bundled and trimmed accordingly. (neatly please, Thank You, I'm sure!) Until next week, enjoy your last minute Christmas shopping!

By the way, So EZ for You has a great selection of last minute gift ideas, an inexpensive stocking stuffers! 454 12th Ave. Happy Holidays!

Washington Post Offices Urge Customers To Mail Early: Holiday Mails Tops Mt. Rainier This Year

Seattle, WA (Dec. 13, 1994)-With the biggest mailing day of the year-Monday, Dec. 19th-still ahead, postal employees are processing and delivering a record amount of mail this holiday season. So the Seattle Postal District-with post offices stretching from Port Angeles to Moses Lake, WA, and from Blaine to Olympia-is encouraging customers to mail early.

Mail volume is hitting record levels at the Seattle Bulk Mail Center - The Postal service's major processing center for parcels in the Northwest U.S. "We've processed over 3 million parcels already since Thanksgiving," says Harold Matz, Manager of the Seattle Bulk Mail Center in Federal Way. "That's 9.3 percent over time last year at the highest ever. And we're now in the busiest mailing period of the year."

Holiday mail volume has also been high at the Post Office's major mail processing center on Third Avenue South in Seattle. Postal employees there have been working around the clock handling more that 20.6 million holiday cards and letters since Thanksgiving.

"We expect our peak day to be next Monday, Dec. 19th, says Tal Middleton, manager of the Seattle Mail Processing Center. "The Monday of the week before Christmas is traditionally the biggest mailing day of the year. We expect to process more than 3.1 million cards and letters that day, more than three times what we do on an averaged day the rest of the year."

Both Matz and Middleton said postal employees are working hard getting everyone's holiday mail delivered on-time and in good shape. They also offered these helpful mailing tips.

*Mail your cards, letters and packages as early as possible. Mailing early ensures against writer storms in other parts of the country, which can really slow down transportation. "The sooner we get your holiday mailings," says Matz, "the better the chance they will arrive on time."

Print the complete and accurate name and address, and most importantly the correct ZIP Code on all your mailings. A wrong ZIP Code delays delivery. Also include your return address in the upper-left hand corner of the envelope or package.

For parcels, use a study plain box or carton. Make sure they are properly cushioned inside with newspapers, styrofoam or other good cushioning material. Include a piece of paper on the inside of the package with your return address.

Seal the packaged properly with strong, nylon-reinforced packing tape. Do not use paper or cord on the outside. They can get tangled in mail processing equipment.

Take your mailings to the post office early in the day. Your holiday mail will get out sooner and you can avoid the heavy customer mail later in the day.

The Postal Service offers mailing options: Priority Mail and Express Mail. Priority mail is normally delivered in three days and offers a good rate. Mailing letters and packages by Priority costs only $2.90 for up to two pounds; three pounds $4.10; four pounds $4.65. For parcels over five pounds the rate varies with the destination zone.
