Starlette Acclaimed For Outstanding Performance

The N.A.A.C.P. has honored Marie O'Henry for her work in "Deliver Us From Evil". Her newest movie is "Dr. Black and Mr. Hyde." "...It is in the ending that one fully realizes the potential of Miss O'Henry. Her switch in characterization is so complete that it forces a whole new look at what she has done up to that point." This quote from the Hollywood Reporter tells us succinctly of Miss O'Henry's talent.

On March 24, 1975, she made her co-starring TV debut in crime-drama "Caribe," starring male lead Stacy Keach; some of her other appearances include such films as "Deliver Us From Evil", "Uptown Saturday Night", "Three The Hard Way" and "Rape Squad." In between movies and TV assignments, this multi-talented performer spends time modeling, a profession she has been actively involved in since she was 13 months old. During Miss O'Henry's college years she worked in the casting department of an agency that booked models.

Marie O'Henry, formerly Marie O. Carter, was born in New York City where she obtained her elementary education; she also attended schools in New Jersey and Connecticut. With the constant support and encouragement of her family, Marie was a devoted student of the arts, including dancing, singing, painting, writing and musical instruments.

Liberty Bank Selected For National Catholic Conf. Bishops to Deposit Funds From Campaign for Human Development

Through the efforts of Archbishop Raymond G. Hunthausen, the Seattle Black Catholic Lay Caucus and the Campaign for Human Development, a program sponsored by the National Catholic Conference of Bishops of the United States, Liberty Bank of Seattle was one of five minority banks selected to begin a program which will provide economic aid and opportunities in these urban cities.

On Wednesday of last week Archbishop Hunthausen presented a check for $50,000 to be deposited in Liberty Bank to James C. Purnell, President of the financial institution.

Walter Hubbard, President of the National Office for Black Catholics and also President of the Seattle Black Catholic Lay Caucus expressed the gratitude of each organization to the NCCB's Campaign For Human Development and particularly to Bishop James S. Rausch, General Secretary, for their leadership.

Hubbard said, "Such actions give hope to us who live in the urban centers as we in 1976 commemorate the Bicentennial and respond to the call to action of the church theme of 'Liberty and Justice For All'. The visible development of action relating to economic resources is a vital step toward the future of our community, and Archbishop Hunthausen brings a concerned witness to the people of the central city and the Seattle archdiocese."

Dr. James E. Jackson, a member of St. Marys Parish, is Chairman of the Board of Liberty Bank.

Central Area Mental Health Center Celebrates Tenth Anniversary

Central Area Mental Health Center, located at 3601 So. McClellan, is celebrating its tenth year of continuous community service. Services provided by the agency include counseling for youth and adults and family and marital counseling. There is no set fee for service, rather each person's individual financial situation determines the cost.

The public is invited to two upcoming events. The annual meeting will honor the Board of Directors, past presidents. Mrs. Louis Wilcox was the first president, followed by the Hon. Donald Horowitz, Mr. Barney Hilliard, Mr. Larry Sanford, Mrs. Edna Johnson and Mr. Chauncey Hazen. This meeting will be held on Sunday, April 11th at 3:00 p.m. at the Mt. Baker Community Club, 2811 Mt. Rainier Dr. So.

On May 1st the agency is sponsoring a dance, with the proceeds to benefit the agency. The dance will be held at Campion Towers, 914 E. Jefferson, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music will be provided by the Franklin High School Jazz Combo. For ticket information call 723-7770.

In January of 1956, John H. Johnson of the Johnson Publication Company thought it would be a worthwhile idea to have a touring fashion show.

He witnessed the fact that there was not a show of this nature that featured predominantly Black models. Johnson also viewed the Negro in 1956 as being "short of self pride." Would a well-organized show of fashions help in molding a positive self concept for the Afro-American? Yes, it could be done! Johnson Publications would play its role in revealing the true picture of Blackness.

Johnson believed that a three-month tour of major cities would be sufficient enough economically to give the show a sound base. But over a period of five years, the popularity of the show grew beyond expectations. He had done something for my people. A sense of pride had been instilled. The continued support from mainly "Black folks" had begun to show a profit for the fashion fair. Johnson was to return a certain percentage of the net to his people! He would do this through Black organizations. He would grant to such organizations the right to sponsor the fashion fair and make a profit. In return, these organizations would donate a certain portion of the profits to support the Black economic struggle.

Since 1956, over $4.5 million has been donated to the United Negro College Fund, Urban League Guilds and other charities that help minority members.

Much thanks has to be given to the Johnson Publication Company and its founder, John H. Johnson. In January of 1956 he proposed an idea to help build Black pride. He has done just that through the Ebony Fashion Show. RIGHT ON!

Ebony Fashion Fair Arrives April 10th

Sarli, of Rome, designed this beautifully elegant three piece evening ensemble in peach-colored silk-satin. The cardigan styled jacket denotes simplistic elegance as does the long bias cut skirt. For dramatic contrast a lurex halter top adorned with peach, silver and jet beading is added, and the piece de resistance: two matching fox skins wrapped languorously around the neck.

Frederick and Nelson is sponsoring the attendance at the Fashion Fair of young ladies from the Purdy Treatment Center. This is the second time the store has done this. Publicity chairperson for the Fashion Fair is Lichey Crews. Annie M. Hall is Chairperson.

Job Hunting

By Chuck Hatten

Unemployment in minority communities has always been at a very high percentage compared to other communities. In better times, when the national unemployment rate has been in the 3 to 5 percent range, in Black communities it would be about 10%. Now that the national figures are more like 9 to 10% unemployed, we are faced with a 25 to 40% rate. We ask ourselves, why?

We know in many cases that discrimination plays a major part and I am sure that all of us have heard, far too many times, employers who claim to be looking for a minority employee with certain qualifications that they can't find anyone. We know that there are people somewhere with all qualifications that they are looking for.

The real issue is not whether there is any minority with the qualifications, but really the length of experience and even more important, if there people are available. For example: If every company in the nation that hires and uses engineers decided to employ at least two minority engineers, there would not be enough engineering graduates available. This concept holds true for doctors, lawyers, accountants, computer programmers and analysts and many other business oriented professions.

The fact of the matter is that there are not enough Black college students pursuing these careers. In talking to many students in college, I have found that far too many freshmen, sophomores and even some juniors and seniors have no idea of what type of career they would like to pursue. The reason given to me as to why, was that they didn't know what was available. I personally feel that this is very sad that they have not been advised as to the careers available and the educational tools necessary in order to achieve their goals.

Again, we ask, why not? I would dare to say that it is because those who are supposed to advise, don't know. Because of this lack of advice, college students have been flocking towards careers that they can identify with, careers of those whom they come in the most contact with, teaching, social work and public administration.

Teachers, counselors, students and parents need to be advised as to the facts in private industries and how to become a part of that management team.

Deborah Lane Bearden Mourned

DEBORAH LANE BEARDEN

DEBORAH LANE BEARDEN was born December 18, 1957 to Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Bearden of Tacoma, Washington. Deborah graduated from Wilson High School of Tacoma with a 4.0 grade point average, and continued her education at the University of Washington. Having mastered the violin, she joined the Tacoma Youth Symphony, and later joined the Seattle Youth Symphony. Deborah performed with the International Festival Youth Orchestra in Aberdeen, Scotland, and toured Africa, and England with them. On July 31, 1975, she was awarded the State of Washington Ambassador of Goodwill Certificate for being the sole representative of the United States.

Reflecting high spirituality, Deborah was adept at composing religious messages. She spoke of faith as the "...essence of all things with works." Her faith in the betterment of human life is represented in the following statement: "...it is certain that we've reached this destination and continually believing we'll move on." Deborah has moved on; leaving a legacy of successful determination for those of us she left behind. Her presence and confidence are reflected in her accomplishments and her never ending ability to pursue. Our job is to continue her pursuits so that Deborah may not have died in vain.

The Wall Street West Report

by Abe Moore

The Federal government cut the maximum interest rate allowed on government backed loans for single-family homes to 8 3/4% from 8 3/4%, effective March 30, as reported in the Wall Street Journal. It was the second reduction this year in the ceiling rate on home loans insured by the Department of Housing and Urban Development's FHA or VA program.

Barron's reported that the stock market climbed through the 1000 level last Wednesday and stayed there. Fueling the powerful advance were: a strong rally in all sectors of the bond market, brokerage house optimism on capital outlays, the prospect of favorable first quarter earnings and portfolio window dressing by institutions. Along the way, investors ignored potentially disturbing international news, including the outbreak of heavy fighting in Lebanon and a military coup in Argentina. Dow Industrials rose 23.61, to close the week at 1003.46. Transports gained 3.27, while Utilities tacked on 0.45. Big Board volume averaged 23.1 million shares a day.

The folks at the University of Michigan who measure consumer confidence found, in their latest survey, "especially strong gains" in attitudes toward buying houses and cars. Overall, the Survey Research Center's Index of Consumer Sentiment rose to 84.5 in February, from 75.4 last November (February 1966 = 100). That's good news for auto makers, who already are in high gear. Specifically, U.S. new car sales in the March 11-20 period climbed 39% from depressed year-earlier levels (based on daily sales rates), and manufacturers plan to boost April output about 33%.

In a report on the housing outlook last week, Argus Research projected 1.61 million starts this year and 1.85 - 1.90 million in 1977. However, the advisory service cautioned that "those interested in the building industry and its securities must be careful to break down national projections into local ones. Accordingly, we anticipate strong conditions in the West and North Central regions, while the outlook for the South is gloomy for an extended period."

Washington State Association Black Social Workers of Awards Scholarships

The W.S.A.B.S.W. awards their first scholarship on April 9th at 7:30 p.m. at the East Cherry Branch YWCA.

Edith Chavers, first year student, School of Social Work, University of Washington, has been selected as the recipient of the scholarship.

The W.S.A.B.S.W., Bill Richardson, President, is a local organization that provides a structure and forum through which black social workers and black workers in related fields of social services, can exchange ideas, offer services, and develop programs in the interest of the black community, especially, and the community at large generally.

The W.S.A.B.C.W. is to soon become affiliated as a chapter of the National Association of Black Social Workers, which was founded in 1968 in San Francisco. There are now 80 chapters that have been established successfully across the nation.

Offering scholarships is one of many of the services of the organization.

On April 9th, in addition to the awarding of the scholarship, the new W.S.A.B.S.W. officers will be installed; plus a sip of wine and taste of cheese offered to new applicants to the School of Social Work, first and second year students, and any new social workers who may wish to become members.

A Message to Parents

By N.J. Crosby

I would like to comment on the many expensive programs designed to cure the ills in our public schools. The more money that is spent, the more problems we seem to have.

The presence of parents in the classrooms would help solve some of the problems for the teachers. Observing the educational performance of one's children (K-12) can be as rewarding as to observe children performing in sports or any other activity. If parents are to be held responsible for their children's education, they must be thoroughly informed as to what their children are learning and how they are performing.

With parents in the classrooms, parents would be in a better position to help their children with any problems they may have; parent pressure would counteract peer pressure; and children would learn how to relate to one another by observing how adults relate to one another.

If parents want their children to reflect the values they teach them, they cannot afford "to trust" the schools or anyone else. Parents who "trust" the schools are labelled by the schools, other parents, and other citizens as being "apathetic."

I encourage all parents to visit their children's classrooms at least once a month, attend School Board Meetings, and become well-informed about what is being taught to their children.

ABC of Beauty

by Charlene Williams Roberts

"LOVE CAME"

Lord, make me the instrument of Thy peace, where there is hatred, help me plant the seed to grow Thy love. If there is a danger, Oh Lord, please release me from Thy punishment. Where there is doubt, please give me Thy faith. If it is a loss of hope, please give me Thy strength to see the most gracious sun stroke ever shown. If I am to bear sorrow, most gracious Lord, please lead me to Thy feet, of my most favorite jubilant.

The End

Can you dig it? (smile) Now put your platter up. Knock the eating off. (smile) That's what I tell myself, daily. I know it is so hard to do.

Well, tell me, how many pounds have you lost? (smile) In a period of two months I have lost 12 pounds, which I am so proud of. But I still have a bit to go. I feel much better, plus my negative attitude on life's outlook has vanished, my mind frames up great. And I am on the way to get my life straightened out, (smile) as well as the fat that has swallowed up my body.

Stick to your diet and push up from the table, you jive turkey.

TOPIC - THE FACTS OF PROBLEM HAIR.

I have found that everyone needs to know about hair problems and damages. So I will discuss these facts today. Have you ever heard the word "cortex"? Well, it is an important factor of the hair. The cortex is responsible for the size and shape, the strength, plus the structure. If the cortex is healthy and totally intact each strand will attain its fullest possible diameter. And it will show a smoother, regular shaping from root to end.

The bulk of the cortex is made up of a fiber called keratin protein, which is a highly complex structure. I will hold up here for a moment to let you think about cortex. - The only thing that I have said is that the cortex is the middle layer of the hair (plain English) which must be treated as well as the hair itself.

Did you know that when you shampoo the hair you affect this layer, breaking down the KYDROGEN BONDS. As the hair dries either on rollers or with a blower brush or whatever, the hydrogen bonds are reformed into a new temporary shape. The stretched bonds begin slowly returning to their natural position, which breaks the temporary hydrogen bonds and causes the set to fall out.

When hair is permed or straightened the disulfide bonds as well as the hydrogen bonds are fixed into their new position. This is a permanent rearrangement.

This is the reason why any permanent hair color tints, bleaches, toner, permanents plus permanent wave treatment will react with the pigmentation cells and other substructures in the cortex. So you can see why hair must be treated because almost every gal today has a perm, wears color or just simply has damaged hair for some reason or another.

I think I will hold up here and go into detail more in my next article. For a better understanding about the cortex, go back over what I have written. Thank you. See you next week. Take care. Hold off the food but find you a better way to know love.

Bicentennial Comment

by Billy Baylor

I would like to thank all of my wonderful friends and supporters for their response to last week's article. For your popular demand has inspired me to continue. This week let's look at attitude and the way we think about ourselves. In life everything evolves around positive goals or negative entities, because attitude is one of the basic keys to success. Keep in mind that success is being happy doing your thing, no matter if you're a painter, lawyer, secretary, doctor or whatever.

The only reason that a man or woman is successful is because of the way we are thinking about ourselves and being right within ourselves. But we have to associate with those who are successful, those who think success and those who think that they are more successful than they are. We generally become what we think about if we stick to our plan. Keep in mind that our environment has a lot to do with our development. If we think dirt, we will lose ground, because what goes up comes down and around.

The only difference between a man making $1,000 a year and a man making $100,000 a year is a $100,000 attitude about yourself. He is no smarter than you - he just thinks he is. I can think of no greater gift for this country's 200th birthday than changing the way we think about ourselves. Let's think about what we have learned.

LES McCANN - CAN

That's right, folks, Les McCann can play jazz music and he showed everybody the other night at the Greenwood Inn how bad he really is. The brother got down, flat down and everybody at the club just loved it. I personally have never heard Mr. McCann play better. The man came to play and that's what he did. The show at the Greenwood Inn was out of sight and Mr. Les McCann was responsible for it.

Another place we had a good time in the past Sunday was the newest club on Soul Street, The Brothers, where Joe Brazil and Equinox got down. My man Joe Brazil let everybody know the master that he is. The set was mellow, everybody enjoyed it. I know we at this corner had a ball visiting the newest club in Kenmore, The Brothers. It was fun. The Bill Withers Crusaders Show was billed as one of the swingiest of the year to visit the Northwest. Well, baby they billed it right. The show was just that, swinging!

LOOK WHO'S COMING

Coming to our town April 7th at the show place in the Northwest, the Paramount, The Roberta Flack Show. What a beautiful lady this sister is. Her show is always out of sight. Make plans now - don't miss it. Also coming to the most beautiful city in the world, when the sun is shining, the Smokey Robinson and Esther Phillips Show, on April 16th. I'll let you know where. SarahScope

Fashion Editor

The sports arena is steadily becoming a fashion showcase. Today with many athletes, of all sports so fashion conscious, fans who follow their actions cannot escape such overt fashion images made by their athletic heroes. The fan who attends various sporting events also becomes very fashion conscious.

This can be seen in the new trends of dress at sports activities. At football games people combine dressing for warmth with dressing in style. At basketball games people combine what is comfortable with what is vogue. At past boxing matches, magazines devoted whole pages to the fashions people were wearing. Even at tennis matches, people are conscious of their appearance.

Understanding the importance of fashion in sports, how you dress at sporting events is equally important. Seattleites in particular now have special reason to get into sports, with the Sonics paving their way to the play-offs, the Seahawks drafting exciting football players, the Sounders making soccer another supersport, the Kingdome ready for action, and if that's not enough to excite you then there's baseball, tennis and track.

Being an avid sports fan (basketball in particular, my younger brother's a superstar), I've been to a lot of games. Therefore I've had a chance to check out the general mode of dress and make a few rules as to what's appropriate and what isn't.

I have seen people at games unnecessarily overdressed. I mean to the point of not being able to enjoy the event because furs, finery and feathers are in the way. They are distracted and more concerned about their appearance than the action on the court or the field. This defeats the purpose of attending a game. You can save your expensive, luxurious clothing for concerts, cocktail parties and other evening happenings.

If you're going out after a night game that's over at say 10 o'clock, you can wear basic clothing that can be dressed up by adding accessories for the evening out. At a sports event, long dresses, maxi coats, large hats and ostrich feathers are out. They interfere with the enjoyment of the game or event. A three piece suit may be worn accessorized to go out in later. A simple black or solid colored dress may be worn with a bright scarf and changed into an evening outfit by changing to silver or gold jewelry.

Before selecting your garment for a sports affair ask yourself these important questions.

1. Will I be comfortable in it throughout the happening? Think about climbing steps, squeezing through people to get to your seat and jumping up and down for the home team in the outfit.
2. Will it interfere with those around me? For instance a big brim hat will partially obscure the view of those around you and limit your movement.
3. Will I be able to enjoy the game thoroughly without worrying about my garment? Make sure you won't be overconcerned about an enthusiastic fan jumping up and spilling popcorn, beer or pop on your garment. Accidents do happen, but better it be your $15.00 cotton blouse or shirt than your $1500.00 mink coat or jacket.
4. Will I be confident and proud of my appearance in this selection? Just because it's a sporting event doesn't mean come tacky. Sloppy T-shirts and old raggedy jeans aren't getting it either. It should be something comfortable yet chic.

You can't go wrong in jumpsuits or gauchos. Materialwise patchwork denim (like that found at the Alex and Fakhri Custom Boutique), gauze, cotton knits and synthetics are excellent. For the head, wrapped scarfs, berets and cloche hats are good. Shoes should be easy to walk in. I don't recommend platforms, but I've seen younger people maneuver perfectly well in them. Boots and espadrilles are ideal. Blouses that tie at the waist over T-shirt tops look nice and so do blouses which tie at the neckline in big bows.

The possibilities are endless as long as you follow the above guidelines you'll be safe. Remember the first rule of fashion, "Understatement is better than overstatement." Mix and match for comfort and style. Put your look together for the next home game and give a yell for the home team.

FASHION TIP OF THE WEEK - Jumpsuits are among the hottest new looks on the scene. Some of us however don't quite have the figure for jumpsuits. Vasarette has a new line of undergarments called "The Skin." These garments are like having on a second skin. There is an all-in-one, panty, long-line and bra. It looks as though there is nothing there, but gives you the support you need. Try it on for re-shaping the figure. The Skin runs from $9.00 and may be purchased in the lingerie department of your leading department stores.

FASHION SCOOP OF THE WEEK - Sports and fashion are getting close in more ways than one. It seems Billie Blair's (high fashion model) name is being linked with a professional basketball player more and more frequently much in the same way as top model Bey Johnson and tennis star Arthur Ashe.

SARASCOPE ON CLEVELAND EAGLES - I can't resist congratulating the Cleveland Eagles on winning their 2nd state championship. With AA and AAA conquered the Eagles have reached the pinnacle of success. I am really proud of the Eagles and rarely missed any of their games the past three years. I have watched Jawann Oldham reach his towering 7 feet. And James Woods fill out from a string bean into a fine and I mean 'FINE' young man. As well as Robert "Swisher" Keller the talented guard with natural playing ability and a fantastic swisher shot. And of course "Cool" Carl Ervin the Eagle captain who made the winning basket with 9 seconds left on the clock. I could go on and on about him, but let it suffice to say he's my younger brother and you get an idea of how proud I am of him.

Gotta go now. Style awhile 'cause the SarahScope might just TeleScope on you!!!

Attention all fashion conscious people. Do not miss the EBONY FASHION FAIR. I haven't missed one in seven years and have enjoyed every one I've seen. I have traveled to Oakland, Los Angeles and Sacramento on the years Ebony has missed Seattle. They're here on Saturday, April 10, 1976 at 8:00 in the Seattle Center Arena. Keep an eye on Von Gretchen Shepard, former Ms. Black America and a friend of mine. She's ultra sophisticated with a touch of soul. The EBONY FASHION FAIR is the most exciting fashion event you'll have a chance to see, don't miss it. I repeat, do not miss the EBONY FASHION FAIR.

Classic Hairstyles In 2-Day Workshop

By Sarah J.E. Dean

The stylist at Classic Hairstyles have been participating in a workshop the past two Sundays. The all-day workshops were conducted by Maxine Zimmer, and gave the stylist an education on current trends in styling and cutting.

Ms. Zimmer is a graduate of three academies in Europe, has studied in San Francisco under Vidal Sassoon, in New York and has completed extensive courses in advanced hairstyling. She is originally from Washington State.

"I try to help by teaching basic haircutting technique and informing stylist throughout the state of upcoming directions in hair fashion," said Ms. Zimmer. "This particular workshop instructs the beauticians in Custom Design Haircut Styling."

Classic Hairstyles Inc. paid for the expenses incurred during the workshop. Juanita Dodson, owner of Classic Hairstyles on Rainier emphasized the importance of stylist keeping one step ahead in the beauty business. "Each of my stylist as well as myself are tested on what we have learned during this workshop. This assures us that we are doing it correctly and will continue to have satisfied customers," said Ms. Dodson.

Juanita Carter, a customer for the past six years was one of the models for the workshop. Her hair was cut in a becoming style called the 'Breeze'. It is curled all over with a wedge cut at the ear. "It is easy to care for" said Ms. Carter, "in fact I was so pleased with my haircut I brought my two daughters in for haircuts too."

When asked about the difference between black hair and white hair Ms. Zimmer who is a petite white lady with a crop of red hair, honestly replied, "yes there is a difference, but only to the extent of being trained in Caucasian hair. There is a difference also in texture. The stylist here at Classic help tell what can and can't be done to black hair. The essential thing is knowing basic haircutting and being able to apply it to ones individual needs."

The stylist learned the three basic cuts, design line, graduation and layered. Each stylist was assigned a model to demonstrate each cut. The models had their hair washed, set, cut and styled for free. There will be pictures of the exciting cuts on display at the Classic Hairstyles on Rainier.

Their are four Classic Hairstyles in the area, Pat Hamasaki was representing the shop on Military Road S. Ms. Zimmer owns her own shop, Maxine's Pacesetters located in the Richmond Beach area. If you want a little advice, go in there and see the newest styles in hair, and like the models in the workshop, you might just come out cut, curled and cute!

MR. AND MRS. JOHNNIE ALLEN SURPRISED ON 35TH ANNIVERSARY

Ms. Joan Allen with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Allen.

On Sunday, March 21, 1976 Ms. Joan Allen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Allen, surprised her parents with a celebration of their 35th wedding anniversary, which was held at the Edgewater Inn. Joan put in many hours of preparation and calling friends to prove that children can fool their parents. She notified all her invited guests to be at the Edgewater Inn before she arrived with her parents, who thought that she was taking them out for brunch.

The Allens did not realize what was happening until the group stood and began singing "Happy Anniversary to You". When the great shock was over Mr. and Mrs. Allen began opening gifts and receiving best wishes from all that were present. After the brunch Joan asked all the guests to follow her parents home where the anniversary cake was cut and champagne was served.

The beautiful, huge, 18 inch cake was made by Mrs. Janie Bennett.

Would you believe that all this could be done without the knowledge of her parents? Well, it really happened because I was there. The invited guests were: Janie and Henry Bennett, Jewel and Frank Foy, Loena and Melvin Kidd, Mary Harbour, Joe and Mona Lake, Robert Jeffrey, William Hawkins, John and Maria Pryor, Joseph and Darrylyn Smith, Mary and Elnore Vinson, and of course, Johnny, Edith and Joan Allen.

JAMES EARL JONES ON "DINAH!"

GINO VANNELLI, A & M recording artist, chatted with Dinah Shore and James Earl Jones, star of "The River Niger," at a recent taping of "Dinah!" Gino also performed a tune from his current A&M album, "Storm at Sunup," and discussed his post as Representative to the Arts and Culture Program, 1976 Summer Olympic Games in Montreal.

Boxing Match Slated

Residents of the Washington State Reformatory at Monroe, Washington will sponsor an amateur boxing card on Saturday, April 10th, at 7:30 p.m., that will be open to the general public. Proceeds from the event's $1.25 donation for adults, 16 years and under free admission, will go to the Inmate Welfare Fund to help reformatory residents sponsor little league teams in baseball, track, soccer and football this year.

Because the benefit fight card will take place inside reformatory walls, all inmates not appearing as scheduled boxers will voluntarily remain in their cells. Members of the reformatory's Representative Reform Council explained that policy came about because of the inmate's desire to alleviate public concern for safety during the boxing matches and ensure a successful event for benefit of the Monroe sports program.

Highlight of the night will be a heavyweight match between Seattle's Lee Black who took top honors in Tacoma's '76 Golden Gloves, and WSR's Heavyweight Champ, Daryl Jones. These two sluggers have had one explosive match here at the Reformatory -- Black winning by a split vote.

The amateur card will feature as many as ten matches between boxers representing the reformatory along with those from the Eagles and Imperial gyms in Seattle. Ring officials will be A.A.U. members, including Referee Lorin Marshall who heads the local A.A.U. organization.

The United Way
Thanks to You it Works

PICK UP AN EXTRA SKILL WHILE YOU PICK UP AN EXTRA INCOME.

There are a lot of extras in today's Army Reserve. But the best one may be the skill that's yours to keep. Depending upon our local openings, we can teach you to be a computer programmer, or dental technician, or radio technician, or one of over 400 skills. Call your local Army Reserve unit to find out what else you can learn.

THE ARMY RESERVE.
PART OF WHAT YOU EARN IS PRIDE.

Some people believe that if a honeybee zips around your head, you will soon be rich!

Spotlight on United Way

SuperSonic Slick Watts is shown in a scene from a special television announcement produced by United Way of America for use by the National Basketball Association as a public service during the 1976 season. Featured with Watts are a nurse from the Visiting Nurse Association and a recipient of this valuable United Way-supported service. Watts is one of 18 NBA stars who participated in the national effort to show how United Way contributions work throughout each year to help people in the community.

Parent Effectiveness Training

As a parent are you a winner or loser, or both... sometimes giving in and sometimes controlling? If you are frustrated with your children, more than you enjoy them, you may want to learn more about the skill and art of parenting.

Family and Child Service of Metropolitan Seattle (formerly Family Counseling Service), an agency who has been working for a long time to meet the needs of parents and children, will be offering an educational class in Dr. Thomas Gordon's Parent Effectiveness Training.

The course will be taught by Dawn Simon, trained and licensed in P.E.T. Some of the focus of the class will be to learn how parents can have legitimate control; rather than control through power or fear tactics. The identification of children's and parents' needs; communication skills and problem solving are all areas which will be explored.

The eight-week course will begin April 22nd and is open to anyone interested in improving their parenting skills. Call now for more detailed information at 447-3883.

Notice to Pet Owners

Pet License renewal forms have been mailed to holders of current Seattle dog and cat licenses, according to Virginia Galle, Director of Seattle's Department of Licenses and Consumer Affairs.

Pet owners may renew their licenses now, and throughout the month of April, without a penalty fee. The pet license penalty fee for late licenses was increased this year as a result of City Council action. The penalty fee was increased from $2.50 to $5.00 per pet.

The mailed renewal form is a pre-printed license with a return envelope enclosed for convenient handling of the transaction by mail. Licenses may also be purchased in person at the following locations:

Animal Shelter - 601 Elliott Avenue West
