In Loving Memory of Mother Rose Mary Lollie

Rose Mary Lollie

Mother Rose Mary Lollie
May 19, 1930 – February 16, 2014
Loving Mother, Sister, Aunt, Friend and Most of all Sister in Christ

No one knew the pain she bore,
Beneath the smile she always wore,
A loving memory dearer than gold, of a Mother whose worth can never be told.

You can shed tears that she is gone or you can smile because she has lived

You can close your eyes and pray that she'll come back, or you can open your eyes and see all she's left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see her or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember her and only that she's gone or you can cherish her memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back or you can do what she'd want smile, open your eyes, love, and go on.

Better Luck Next Year Seahawks! Great Effort Sports by Mazvita

Agony: Mad, Sad and Angry! One could go on and on regarding the emotions that Seahawk Nation felt at the end of the Super Bowl. For many, dynasty, invincibility and mortality where one play away. It came down to "The Call". The call to pass instead of pass. Just that simple! Truth be told, it was not that easy. A Super Bowl game is like no other, sporting event, maybe a world cup soccer match.

I digress we can debate that topic some other time, back to the complexity of "The Call". In his post game press conference, Peter Carroll, said the Patriots were in there run defense so they countered with a pass offensive set that included three receivers.

With the clock winding down at about 26 second to be exact and a time out in hand, Seattle rational was to pass, come back with two runs. As we all know, Seahawks Offensive Coordinator Darrell Bevell called for a slant pass at the 1-yard line.

A slant pass is where the receiver takes four or five steps and slants (turns inside left shoulder and take another four or five steps), in this case we are talking one yard forward then one yard to the left. "The Call" was not a bad one, it's just that the Patriots where ready for the play, it was one they had been waiting for, listen to Cornerback Malcolm Butler who had the game winning interception,

"They called goal-line three receivers; goal-line usually has two receivers," he said. "You still could pass either way, but three receivers? That's kind of letting you know something. I'm a pass defender first, and I just jumped the route.

"I don't even remember who I was on. 83? I just knew it was stack and I jumped the route and that was the ball game."

And ball game it was. Much will be said about whose fault it was and why they just did not run the ball. Every NFL game is a chess game at 100 miles an hour making moves, according to the game plan that was devised during the week after watching video of the opponent. Now imagine having two weeks of preparation and how intense the chess piece movements where during Sunday's game.

For Seattle fans Sunday's game is a loss of innocence, welcome to the real word of elite franchises Cinderella. Along the way Seattle fans, there will be wins and losses. Heartbreaking losses at that. See Tom Brady, he has won four Superbowls but lost two. There is going to be some peaks and valleys. Big Picture. Look at the Big picture
