Community News

Dear Community Members:

I want to take this opportunity to thank each of you for your unwavering support, assistance, and prayers as I worked to provide you with the best care and service possible in my capacity as the "South Seattle Community Coordinator" for Evergreen Washelli Cemeteries and Funeral Homes. With that being said, I must sadly inform you that I have resigned from my position at Evergreen Washelli.

I've shared with many of you about my unfortunate car accident in 2011 along with my diagnosis of Parkinson's disease, which has left me with some health challenges. Needless to say, these life changing events, as well as certain management changes and decisions, factored into my decision to resign from a position I held and enjoyed for eight years. In order to feel comfortable and secure in the continuation of these services promised to the community, I needed assurance that Evergreen Washelli's commitment to me and the community would not change. Unfortunately, I'm sad to say, it did change! For the better, maybe we will see down the road.

I got into this business after the untimely deaths of my two younger brothers, Jeffrey and Ted. I recognized while assisting my mother in their services and burials, that there were gaps in the process and that service being provided to minority communities could drastically improve. I felt with some training, I could possibly fill those gaps! As a result I became one of the leading producers in the company.

I take great pride in my accomplished sales awards for exceeding sales goals and hosting the first Pastoral Breakfast for African-American Pastors at Evergreen Washelli to introduce our educational workshops. Another milestone and one I'm very proud of is being the founder/creator of the "Annual Black History Remembrance Event" at Evergreen Washelli. This event grew from humble beginnings at its inception to overflowing crowds. I would like to thank the events honorary co-chairs, Reverend Dr. Samuel B. McKinney and Bishop A.L. Hardy for their assistance these past six years. In addition, thanks to all our great guest speakers and the wonderful performances provided by Mrs. Gladys Hardy, Pat Wright and the Total Experience Gospel Choir, and all of the other choirs and individuals who participated and made this such a great event.

Additionally, I would like to thank all of the local companies who provided catering and print coverage for the workshops and Black History Remembrance Event, in particular Catfish Corner, Jemil's Big Easy and the publishers of The FACTS newspaper. We could not have done it without you!! I'm honored to leave behind a legacy of service, dedication, and commitment to both Evergreen Washelli and its parent organization, Gibraltar Remembrance Services. As a result of the Seattle Black History Remembrance Event, remembrance services have now been implemented at Gibraltar's Crown Hill Cemetery location in Indianapolis, IA.

Thank you again for your business and support.

Sincerely and with love,
Linda R. Jones
