UBW Protest The Economic Disenfranchisement of Black People In The Seattle Area!

Unemployed Black workers (UBW) is an organization consisting of over fifty Black members, the majority of whom are unemployed veterans under 35.

UBW has decided to protest the economic disenfranchisement of Black people in the Seattle area.

We, as Black men, have been trained to fight for our country, to fight an enemy that never harmed us as a people. Upon our discharge from our country's service, there are few or no jobs and no opportunities for us or for most of our people. Therefore, we feel compelled to take the knowledge from every facet of our training to protest the intolerable unemployment situation that exists in our community.

We demand that all businesses that exist in our community either employ a sufficient number of Blacks or relocate outside our community.

We have the support of the Urban League, The NAACP and the Black Contractors, and we call upon our elected officials and the citizens of the total community, including especially the religious leaders and the leaders of the business community, to support us in our endeavors.

Pacific Drugs -- Our Neighborhood's Pride

Nazir Rehmat and wife, Nasreen, are the owners of the beautiful Pacific Drugs in the Promenade 23 Shopping Center.

The Rehmat's are originally from East Africa. Nazir moved to Chicago, where he attended the University of Illinois, and graduated as a pharmacist. He worked full time to put himself through school. He states his experience in Chicago was invaluable. He managed a very high volume drug store on the South side of Chicago. Thirteen years at the same location taught him all aspects of pharmacy, including sundries, cosmetics and surgical supplies.

Nasreen is a registered nurse - trained in England, and she is also licensed to practice in Canada, Illinois and Washington. Four months ago, she gave up nursing after 12 years, and decided to join her husband in the drugstore. She states she has no regrets.

Finding an ideal location, was the hardest, the Rehmat's stated. Nazir scouted all over Seattle for two months, till the present location was found. It was perfect!! Thus Pacific Drugs came into being.

Pacific Drugs today, provides an excellent location, with convenient ample parking, reasonable prices with a wide variety of quality goods.

Nazir, the pharmacist not only receives prescriptions and dispenses them, he is always available, friendly and helpful. You can see him guiding customers in selection of the over the counter products, vitamins and health aids. Counsels them in choosing surgical appliances, detailed medication profile records are maintained for all patrons.

When asked what he thought the key to success was, he promptly replied, "hard work and service!!"

He states, "customers appreciate prompt service, senior citizen discounts and a clean store." For the convenience of patrons, Pacific Drugs is open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. (Mon. - Sat.) 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. (Sun. and All Holidays).

Nasreen feels a good cosmetic department is a natural extension of a community pharmacy's goal: To serve the health needs of the public. She feels well groomed hair, soft hands and a fresh attractive face can be as important to a person's health and general well being, as vitamins and other drug products.

The hair care and cosmetic dept, at Pacific Drugs, is very extensive. At the fragrance Bar, for men and women, famous brand names from Gucci, Yves St. Laurent, Halston, Dior, Channel, Ralph Lauren, Cacharel and many, many more are available.

Do Teacher's Really Care?

ACADEMIA GONE MAD

The Seattle Public School System will open its doors this week to students and teachers. We hope! That is -- if teacher's do not go on strike for a better and more improve everything under the sun. How much can a school system tolerate while languishing on a budget which has been cut as if it were little slices of meat?

Teachers must compromise. It is the students who will suffer if a strike is effective. Seattle Public School Teachers receive a salary which is on par and economically plausible. The act of teachers striking for higher wages and more fringe benefits is a direct insult to students and parents. The example established is to legitimize a state of rebellion among students. If teachers can rebel -- why not students? Is it unfair for a student to demand qualified teachers? Should students and parents set up a panel and hire teachers based on their past performance on the job? Is the Seattle Teacher's Association (STA) really sincere about educating students or are they trying to pull a Murphy? Think about it!

In recent years teachers nation wide have become high in the head and exemplify nothing but belligerent neglect, insincerity, indifference and ruthless bargaining gusto for more bennies. Many school districts have had to lengthen the duration of the school year because of striking teachers.

Horace Mann, the founder and father of the Public Education System in the United States would simply be appalled at the condition academia has allowed itself to become a victim. Academia has gone mad. It seems teachers are caught in the midst of apogeeotropism. They are not down-to-earth and are not in orbit with the state of the economy.

The Rehmat's are always there to give all their customers personal service, whether they are buying greeting cards, aspirin, school supplies or cosmetics.

Both Nazir and Nasreen reflect a professionalism, which is coupled with compassion - Via voice and mannerisms. This creates a very relaxed atmosphere for the customers, thus making Pacific Drugs an ideal place to shop.

Coalition For Respect Picketers Attacked---Seattle Police Respond "Slowly"!

At the Coalition for Respect's third week of picketing Saturday, Sept. 4th, at least 60 multi-racial members participated, including representatives of several unions.

Violence broke out around noon as some patrons and the female owner of the Empire Way Tavern began harrassing picketers. The tavern owner shouted racist insults, made other threatening and argumentative remarks, and pushed one black woman. She then punched a white male picketer on the face, knocking off his glasses, and called him a "White nigger."

A female member of the Tavern's bowling team, who openly admitted to all concerned that she was drunk, started her acts of harrasment about 10:45 a.m. by arguing and cursing at picketers in front of Chuck's Exxon station, one of the businesses being boycotted by the Coalition members. She returned to the bar several times, only to come out again and walk back to the picketers to continue arguing and cursing.

Police were called on the emergency number as several white male Tavern patrons crossed the street to join their female counterparts. The police did not arrive for 25 minutes, thereby allowing two more assaults to occur.

The Coalition for Respect members are very dissatisfied with the way police mishandled the incidents. One white officer had no name tag. While 4 policemen were standing in front of the tavern talking at length with the intoxicated patrons out on the street, the female bowling team member took a swing at one of the picketers in full view of everyone. She then lost her balance and would have fallen to the sidewalk but for a white policeman who grabbed her arm and shoved her back into the tavern. No action was taken by the police on this assault. Neither would the police press charges against the female tavern owner, despite witnesses forcing their testimony on them (the policemen did not talk to any of the picketers for more than a few minutes at the beginning.)

Various members of the picketers will be pressing a variety of charges this week. Complaints have been filed with the State Liquor Board, the Mayor's office and with Chief of Police Fitzsimon's acting replacement.

The picketers will return to the site of boycotting/picketing next Saturday and urges community residents to join them.

PRAYER IS ONE REVENUE, THROUGH WHICH SPIRITUAL STRENGTH CAN BE OBTAINED. By praying we can expect a closer walk with God.

"but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God (Phil. 4:6)"

Everyday at twelve noon, Sister Alford conducts a prayer service. Those who can not attend, call 271-2879 or 723-2480 for prayer for your illness and/or counseling. All of those who can attend are cordially invited to Faith Deliverance Pentecostal Church, 4872 Rainier Avenue South.

Thank you,
Secretary -- Stephanie Alford

It is an illusion to think that more comfort means more happiness. Happiness comes of the capacity to feel deeply, to enjoy simply, to think freely, to risk life, to be needed.
