What we know:

A little bit what we do know is that Seattle's other two sport teams aim to be competitive in their respective sports. The Seattle Mariners have played a total of twelve games and have a 7-5 record, that finds them second place in the American League West. Just a game and a half behind Division leaders Oakland (9-4). The other big news coming out of Mariner land has been the pitching of Felix Hernandez. Hernandez is off to a 3-0 start, the first time he has won all three of his starts. "Our guys feel good when he is out there, and they should," said recently acquired second baseman Robinson Cano. "I feel good when he's out there. You don't like facing him. You like having him out there for you." "You should feel good about having your ace on the mound, Mariners Manager Lolyd McClellon said, It's the same feeling the Tigers get when [Justin] Verlander and [Max] Scherzer pitch," McClellon said of the anticipation in Seattle when Hernandez goes to the mound.

Another player who is bringing excitement and anticipation is the Seattle Sounders FC's Clint Dempsey. Dempsey was named MLS player of the week for the second week in a row. Dempsey has scored five goals in two games and is leading Major League Soccer with six goals. The Seattle Sounders FC (6-3-2-1) are in a three way tie for second place in the Western Conference with Colorado (5-3-1-1), and Real Salt Lake (6-2-0-4). The Sounders have an impressive 2-0-1 road record. "The most important thing for us is that we are scoring goals and getting results", Dempsey said of his team's early season success.

So what we know for the moment the Seattle Sounders and Seattle Mariners have intentions of being relevant in the battle to win their respective Divisions and further.
