"PROVIDENCE REALLY HELPS EMPLOYEES DEVELOP THEIR CAREERS."

Angela Burns, Food Specialist
1980 Franklin H.S. graduate

"A friend told me that Providence was hiring people to work in its new deli. I had experience as a cashier and hostess, so I submitted an application. I was not very hopeful; 164 other people applied, too. But they called me for an interview, and then they hired me!

"I never thought that I would begin a restaurant career in a hospital, but I am learning a lot about how to run a deli. Someday I'd like to open my own.

"I feel lucky to be working at Providence. Not only is my job close to home, but Providence provides convenient child care for my little boy. Providence really helps employees develop their careers. I plan to take advantage of the tuition reimbursement program to further my education."
