

The Seattle Medium Wants To Know...

Text & Photos
By John Gladney

From Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s life was there something that influenced your life?

Paul Rogers: "Dr. King brought reality to not only Blacks but all people, that everyone had concerns and special needs. Secondly, he brought to us equality. Dr. King showed us that when Blacks and Whites got together they could bring out understanding. During Dr. King's life was the first time in my life that all races were brought together for a common cause. I'm not saying that it is still happening today but through him we got it started."

James Taylor: "Influences in my life...good can triumph no matter what the obstacles. You build character when you are able to turn the other cheek and learn to love your enemy. Dr. King to me was the ultimate in Black role models."

Donald U. Carter: "The whole way he lived his life. What I remember most was 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.'"

Michael Clark: "I do believe the dream is living on. Dr. King reached out to all people but today some people forget what his dream was all about. We as Black people need to try and understand what our ancestors, especially Dr. King, died for. They died for a purpose and it was to better our lives and condition, for all races."
