Excellence. For each employee at Sundstrand Data Control, it means maintaining a personal standard of quality. And the quality shows — in our products and especially in our people. Their pride has made Sundstrand Data Control a leading aerospace company.

We are a market leader in the design, manufacture and sale of a variety of high technology components and systems for aerospace and industrial markets. This precise equipment requires skilled people to design, manufacture and maintain it. Our people, we believe, are the best at what they do. The result is the production of advanced technological equipment for aircraft, space vehicles, missiles, ships, submarines and off-shore platforms.

We are dedicated to producing high quality flight equipment for our customers. Everything from small, temperature activated switches to complex pilot warning and recording systems are designed, manufactured and tested at our Redmond facilities. These products are sold and serviced worldwide by our experts in the electronic and aerospace fields.

Our people are the finest asset we have — they are what makes us a leader in the aerospace industry.

An opportunity equal to the challenge

Ron Shaw

*Manager,
Bellevue Business Systems Center*

Ron Shaw's career with Sears, Roebuck and Co. began twelve years ago in Tacoma, Washington. A 1971 graduate of Idaho State University, Shaw started out in Sears management training program at the downtown Tacoma store.

After several mid-management assignments, he transferred to the Everett Sears store in 1979 as customer service manager. In 1982, Shaw was named store manager of Sears Business Systems Center in Bellevue. The Business Systems Center is a new concept of Sears. It is designed to provide computer systems, software, copiers, word processors and other electronic communications equipment to small businesses and business professionals.

Shaw sees computers as a rapidly growing industry with an ample number of career opportunities available. Sears presently operates 45 Business Systems Centers nationally.

Originally from East St. Louis, Illinois, Shaw currently resides in Edmonds, Washington. Among his hobbies is a 5:30 am run.

Turelane Jackson

*Assistant Manager,
First Ave. Hardware Dept.*

A native of Seattle, Washington, Turelane Jackson has been with Sears, Roebuck and Co. for over four years. She joined the company's management training program which usually requires four years to complete. Sears management training program requires a college degree and the successful completion of an aptitude test. According to Jackson, it is not necessary to have prior retail experience, although that background does prove advantageous. Sears presently is recruiting blacks and minorities for management training in the company's credit department.

Starting as an assistant manager in the First Avenue retail store's catalog department, Jackson then became the store's assistant personnel manager. She has been assigned to the children's department as well as assistant manager of the hardware department. Presently, Turelane serves as assistant manager in the First Avenue Store's automotive department where she ensures the efficient operation of automotive sales.

A graduate of Seattle University, Jackson is married and enjoys swimming, biking and attending church.

Sears is the largest retailer in the world with almost 3,000 locations throughout the country. That means you as an employee will have lots of resources to work with and a lot of room to show what you can do.

You'll have the opportunity to prove yourself. As a Sears employee, you'll have responsibilities. And you can be sure that the challenges and opportunities will last throughout your career because Sears develops its talents from within.

Why don't you look into the career opportunities at Sears? You just might be equal to the challenge. For more information about opportunities at Sears, contact your nearest Sears store.

THE SEATTLE ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

The Engineering Department offers many excellent opportunities in its major Divisions: Operations and Roadway Maintenance, Engineering Services, Solid Waste and Sewer Utilities, Citizen Participation, and Office of Planning and Management Support.

Potential jobs include:

- Civil Engineer
- Accountant
- Laborer
- Truck Driver
- Engineering Aide
- Administrative Specialist
- Cement Finisher
- Electrician

For employment information, contact James LaCour, Director, Administrative Services for the Engineering Department, Room 903, Municipal Building, Seattle 98104, 625-2353.

The City of Seattle Department of Licenses and Consumer Affairs

... which collects over $92 million annually in revenue and enforces 58 regulatory licenses and 5 revenue ordinances, invites you to take a look and consider some of our unique and interesting careers.

Animal Control Officer Rosario Garcia cares for a litter of kittens which await adoption. In her position, Officer Garcia works not only with dogs and cats, but with their owners and other people who seek to match a pet to their families.

Other Officers travel throughout the City in the course of their day's work. With their Special Police Commissions, these Officers must enforce the City's Animal Control Ordinances. With the approximately 50,000 licenses pets in the City, not to mention those which remain unlicensed, this Division stays busy.

Positions in this field will be opening soon; for more information check with Larry Alcantara of City Personnel, 625-2879.

Tax Auditors Ellis Ricks and Adrienne Chu discuss an audit of one of the approximately 30,000 registered businesses in the City of Seattle. Based on their training and a strong knowledge of City tax laws, they are able to help not only the large firms and corporations in the City, but also small business owners and individuals concerning their tax liability and individual questions.

License and Standards Inspector Ralph Garlington checks one of the City's many gasoline pumps for volume accuracy, so consumers can be assured of receiving the full amount of gas for which they pay. Inspector Garlington also deals with other types of retail and wholesale establishments, checking the accuracy of scales and measuring devices in order to protect the consumer.

In 1983, 1,029,850 commodities were checked by the four Inspectors working in the Weights and Measures Section. The Section also inspects taxis for safety and accurate trip indicators. City towing activities are monitored by License and Standards Inspectors. Other Inspectors enforce business and regulatory licensing ordinances, and work with businesses and individuals throughout the City.

"Consider government as a viable career option. Remember, all doors are open but you must be willing to prepare yourself to penetrate the invisible walls that stand behind these doors and infiltrate the halls of opportunity that lie ahead."

Department Director, Regina L. Glenn.

The Department of Licenses and Consumer Affairs is committed to increased employment opportunities, career enrichment, job enhancement, and upward mobility for all its employees, with special concern for minorities, women and members of the designated protected groups.

The Department employs 31.4% minorities and 52.3% women out of a total of 86 people. 18.5% of these minorities are employed in the Department as Officials, Administrators or Professionals; 8.9% of the women work in these same categories. We are an equal opportunity affirmative action employer.

"PROVIDENCE REALLY HELPS EMPLOYEES DEVELOP THEIR CAREERS."

Angela Burns, Food Specialist
1980 Franklin H.S. graduate

"A friend told me that Providence was hiring people to work in its new deli. I had experience as a cashier and hostess, so I submitted an application. I was not very hopeful; 164 other people applied, too. But they called me for an interview, and then they hired me!

"I never thought that I would begin a restaurant career in a hospital, but I am learning a lot about how to run a deli. Someday I'd like to open my own.

"I feel lucky to be working at Providence. Not only is my job close to home, but Providence provides convenient child care for my little boy. Providence really helps employees develop their careers. I plan to take advantage of the tuition reimbursement program to further my education."

DON'T JUST WATCH US GROW. GROW WITH US.

Throughout the State of Washington one subject is sparking a great deal of interest....Rainier Bank. A close look will explain why we're regarded as a leader among the region's financial institutions. Rainier's reputation as a regional, national and international financial services organization is firmly established with over 135 branches throughout the state, fourteen international offices and our National Banking Department.

For over half a century, Rainier Bank has grown steadily as a strong fiscally responsible bank, dedicated to the people and industries we serve. Today, we are operating in a climate of change: new laws and regulations, increased competition and the never ending need for sophisticated banking services helps us grow. It's an environment demanding new ideas, new options and new services.

Rainier Bank is also meeting the challenges of today and the future through its innovative people--a product of foresight, in-depth planning, and leadership.

Your Seattle Public Library

People Serving
People

It takes many kinds of people with many different skills to make a library work. Librarians, clerks, bookshelvers, managers, drivers, maintenance workers, accountants, and computer operators... just to name a few. All are working to provide quality service so that the citizens of Seattle receive the information they need and want.

The Seattle Public Library is committed to employing a workforce which represents the people we serve. We invite minorities and women to consider a career in the challenging world of library services.

For more information on employment opportunities, call the Seattle Public Library Jobline: 625-4850.

We look forward to hearing from you.

GIVE THIS AD TO A KID YOU CARE ABOUT

...to a youngster who's not real sure of what to do with his life. Or her life. This is better than well-meaning adult advice. Here's information that can lead to a good choice.

A varied choice of careers, with something no corporation can offer: Planned promotions. The Coast Guard promotes skilled, qualified persons with initiative. The tests are fair and advancement can be swift with a guaranteed raise.

Yet no one feels lost here—we're not a large service devoted entirely to military efforts. In the Coast Guard, we're all part of an intimate family of "Coasties", all committed to protecting American lives. And building our own. The Coast Guard includes benefits few civilian jobs can touch.

Like 30 vacation days right from the start. Medical and dental care for service members plus travel, practically worldwide. Education, often fully paid. Experience, unlimited. Everything that adds up to living well—at a lower cost of living.

You couldn't ask for more for the youngster you care about. Have them ask us more questions—that's the next step toward making a decision.

Let's hope your kids find a good way of making a living. And a good place to live a meaningful life. The Coast Guard.

Renton Vocational Technical Institute

Alice Coleman, Vocational Counselor at Renton Vocational Technical Institute.

If you are unemployed and seeking a marketable job skill or if you are currently working and are looking for ways to upgrade your skills, make an appointment to see Alice Coleman, the new counselor for Renton Vocational Technical Institute.

Alice recently accepted a position as a counselor and occupational information specialist for Renton Vocational Technical Institute (Renton VTI), and can provide you with information on over 50 training programs available at Renton VTI. In addition to counseling, Alice can also make special arrangements for tours of the campus, group presentations, and assist you with testing and financial aid.

Alice worked 14 years for the Seattle Public Schools before joining the staff at Renton VTI. She has worked as a Human Relations Coordinator, a Family Child Counselor, and most recently as a Work Training Counselor at Cleveland and Rainier Beach High School, and Sharples Alternative School. "I want all of my high school friends to know that I am now with Renton VTI and I want them to know about all of the valuable training opportunities available here," said Coleman.

Renton VTI provides effective job training in the shortest time possible and because we are state-funded, training is affordable. The usual semester fee for a full-time student of six hours per day is $270. Financial aid is available for these fees in the form of grants, loans and employment programs. Renton VTI also participated in State and Federally funded programs such as JTPA, WIN, and DVR.

Our full-time training programs range from, 12 weeks, such as Data Entry and Cashier Checker/Retail Clerk, to two-year programs, such as Computer Programmer, Electronics Technician, and Auto Body Repair.

Renton VTI is fully accredited by the Commission of Colleges of the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges.

To find out about all of the training programs at Renton VTI, contact Alice Coleman at 235-2480.

Why Choose Metro?

Bus Driver

Systems Analyst

Water Quality Technician

Since 1958, Metro has successfully protected the region's waters from pollution and provided a growing network of public transportation service to the community.

The agency continues to grow to serve the needs of an expanding metropolitan population.

To meet tomorrow's challenges, Metro needs talented, innovative and dynamic people—people like you.

If you're looking for your first job, consider Metro. The agency hires biologists, lab technicians, bus drivers, transit planners, employment analysts, accountants, environmental planners, secretaries, administrators and maintenance staff.

Metro is committed to affirmative action, promotions from within and professional growth.

If you're seeking a career with a future, consider Metro.

Group Health Cooperative Of Puget Sound

Committed to the Individual

Group Health Cooperation of Puget Sound is a unique organization dedicated to the health of its consumers. Our Cooperative provides an opportunity for consumers to affect the delivery of their health care. Consumers address many decisions which impact the cost and the types of the services they receive.

People, not profit is our motivation. We are in the good health business. And since we provide both coverage and health care there is no incentive for us to perform unnecessary surgery or tests. With this emphasis on maintaining good health, we elect to cover "well baby" and "well adult" exams to catch disease before it becomes serious.

Committed Employees

An organization such as ours calls for special employees. We're a strong affirmative action employer, as committed to the health and well being of our 5,000 employees as we are to our consumers. Employees are given the opportunity to contribute to the policies and decisions that affect their job.

And we encourage participation in programs designed specifically to promote healthier, happier lifestyles. Our work-site smoking policy, for example, has gained public recognition. And we are embarking on employee work-site health promotion programs, offering our people everything from stress reduction seminars to aerobics classes.

Group Health, dedicated to people and looking for individuals who will bring their best efforts to a very progressive organization. If you are one of those people, please join us. Call one of our regional personnel offices:

A CAREER IS MORE THAN A JOB

In the Seattle Department of Parks and Recreation, we know that. Our 700 employees are dedicated to a tradition of excellence that began in 1884. Our community recreation centers—fieldhouses—were the first on the West Coast.

Seattle is and has been a leader in parks and public recreation for generations. Our employees know their jobs well and have access to in-service training and promotional opportunities.

As we celebrate our 100th birthday this year, we invite you to take part in the many ongoing and special events brought to you by the Park Board and the Mayor's Centennial Park Commission.
