Glenwood's Notable Interred

Glenwood is the final resting place of many persons important in Houston's history, as well as persons of national and international prominence. Some of them are listed below. The number following each name is keyed to the map on the opposite side.

Statesmen and Elected Officials

Anson Jones (1798-1858) – Last President of the Republic of Texas (#1)

Col. Edward Mandell House (1858-1938) – Chief Advisor to President Woodrow Wilson; negotiated acceptance of Wilson's Fourteen Points that led to establishment of the League of Nations (#2)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) – Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs following WWII; authored The Marshall Plan that averted global economic disaster in the post-war years (#3)

Oveta Culp Hobby (1905-1995) – Organized WAACs during WWII; served in Eisenhower cabinet as first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (#4)

Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., Chief Judge of Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals; United States Chairman of the 1945 Anglo-American commission on settlement of Jews in Palestine (#5)

Texas Governors including William P. Hobby (1878-1964) (#4), Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#5) and James W. Henderson (1817-1880) (#6), plus one Mississippi Governor, Hiram Runnels (1796-1857) (#7)

More than twenty Houston mayors, including John D. Andrews (1795-1882) (#8), T.H. Scanlan (1832-1906) (#12), W.R. Baker (1820-1890) (#16), and Roy M. Hofheinz (builder of the Astrodome) (1912-1982) (#18)

Business and Commerce

Howard R. Hughes, Jr. (1905-1976) – Billionaire and man of legendary accomplishments in business and aviation; also movie producer (#19)

Co-founders of Humble Oil (now part of Exxon/Mobil) including Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#5), W.S. Farish (1881-1942) (#20), Harry Wiess (1887-1948) (#21), and R.L. Blaffer (1876-1942) (#22)

J. S. Cullinan (1860-1937) – Founder of The Texas Company (now part of Chevron/Texaco) and developer of Shadyside (#23)

Glenn McCarthy (1907-1988) – Legendary King of the Wildcatters; built Houston's famed Shamrock Hotel (#24)

Below: Glenwood's distinctive belvedere was a generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Strange through the Heitman Foundation

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and Herman Brown (1892-1962) – Co-founders of Brown & Root, Inc. (#25)

Houston's earliest bankers, including B.A. Shepherd (1814-1891) (#26) and T.W. House (1814-1880) (#2)

The Professions and Educators

Capt. James A. Baker (1857-1941) – Personal attorney of William Marsh Rice; instrumental in bringing to justice those responsible for Rice's murder in 1900 and saving the fortune that endowed Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#27)

Edgar Odell Lovett (1871-1957) – First President of Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#28)

Some of Houston's finest architects including William Ward Watkin (1886-1952) (#29), John F. Staub (1892-1981) (#30), Kenneth Franzheim (1890-1959) (#31), Eugene Heiner (1852-1902) (#32), and Hugo V. Neuhaus, Jr. (1915-1987) (#33)

Margaret Hunter Kinkaid (1874-1951) – Founder of The Kinkaid School (#34)

Religious Leaders

Rev. William M. Tryon (1809-1847) – First resident pastor of First Baptist Church; erected first church building in 1847 (#35)

Caspar Braun (1822-1880) – Organized Houston's First German Evangelical Lutheran Church in 1851 (#36)

Civil War

Numerous veterans of the Civil War, the most notable being:

Col. B.F. Terry (1821-1861) (#37) and Col. T.S. Lubbock (1817-1862) (#38) - Commanders of the regiment known as Terry's Texas Rangers

Lt. Col. Edwin Fairfax Gray (1829-1884) – Graduate of Annapolis and veteran of Commodore Perry's 1853 expedition to Japan; served in 3rd Texas Infantry during Civil War (#39)

Sarah Emma Edmondson Seelye (1841-1898) - Disguised herself as a man and served in the Union Army during the Civil War (#40)

Pioneers

Charlotte Baldwin Allen (1805-1895) – Wife of Augustus C. Allen and regarded by many as Houston's third co-founder together with the Allen Brothers (#41)

Col. William Fairfax Gray (1787-1841) – Early Texas settler, lawyer and charter member of Christ; his diary, From Virginia to Texas, 1835, is a valuable record of the Convention of 1836 at Washington-on-the Brazos (#__)

Margaret Lea Houston Williams (1848-1906) – Daughter of Gen. Sam Houston (#42)

Philanthropists and Community Life

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and wife Alice Pratt Brown (1902-1984), and Herman Brown (1892-1962) and wife Margarett Brown (1895-1963) - Co-founders of the Brown Foundation (#25)

George Hermann (1846-1914) – Frugal millionaire who left his entire fortune for the benefit of all Houstonians in such institutions as Hermann Hospital, Hermann Park, and Hermann Square at City Hall (#43)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) and wife Susan Vaughan Clayton (1881-1960) – Giving of both time and money, major fundraisers for the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston, their legacy includes the Clayton Genealogy Library of the Houston Public Library System, and the Susan Vaughan Foundation which supports many programs that enhance quality of life for Houstonians (#3)

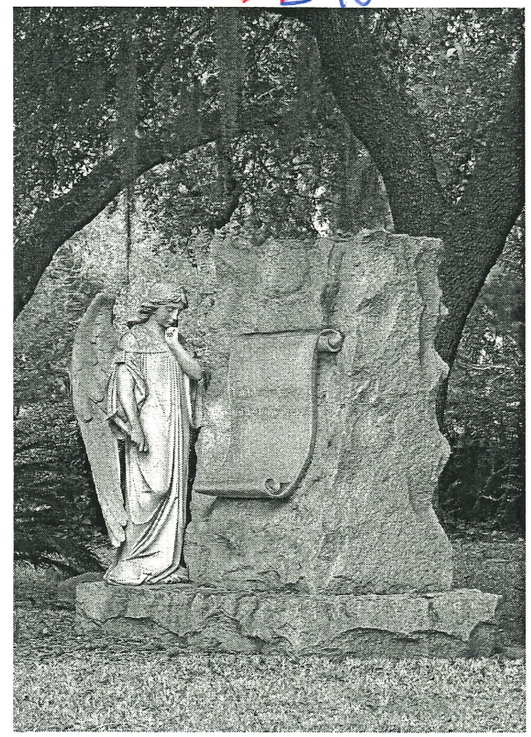

Caroline Wiess Law (1918-2003) – Renaming of the original building of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston in 1998 recognized her decades of generous support, culminating with her final bequest in 2003 of paintings valued at $60-85 million (#21)

Harris Masterson III (1914-1997) and wife Carroll Sterling Masterson (1913-1994) – Generous benefactors of the arts, their home, Rienzi, is now the European decorative arts wing of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston (#44)

Belle Sherman Kendall (1847-1919) (#45), Adele Briscoe Looscan (1848-1935) (#46), and Elizabeth L. Ring (1857-1941) (#47) – Instrumental in establishing a public library for Houston, each has a branch library named in her honor

Hollywood

Gene Tierney Lee (1920-1991) – Best known for the title role in the 1944 film classic Laura which also starred Dana Andrews and Clifton Webb (#24)

Above: One of the more poignant angels of Glenwood Cemetery, her anguish brings to mind B.H. Carroll's description of Glenwood in his 1912 book, History of Houston: "Wealth, moved by grief, has uttered its sorrow in many costly marbles and towering shafts, and many a marble angel with drooping wings broods over the resting places of the dead."

Glenwood's Notable Interred

Glenwood is the final resting place of many persons important in Houston's history, as well as persons of national and international prominence. Some of them are listed below. The number following each name is keyed to the map on the opposite side.

Statesmen and Elected Officials

Anson Jones (1798-1858) – Last President of the Republic of Texas (#1)

Col. Edward Mandell House (1858-1938) – Chief Advisor to President Woodrow Wilson; negotiated acceptance of Wilson's Fourteen Points that led to establishment of the League of Nations (#2)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) – Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs following WWII; authored The Marshall Plan that averted global economic disaster in the post-war years (#3)

Oveta Culp Hobby (1905-1995) – Organized WAACs during WWII; served in Eisenhower cabinet as first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (#4)

Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., Chief Judge of Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals; United States Chairman of the 1945 Anglo-American commission on settlement of Jews in Palestine (#5)

Texas Governors including William P. Hobby (1878-1964) (#4), Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#6) and James W. Henderson (1817-1880) (#7), plus one Mississippi Governor, Hiram Runnels (1796-1857) (#8)

More than twenty Houston mayors, including John D. Andrews (1795-1882) (#9), T.H. Scanlan (1832-1906) (#10), W.R. Baker (1820-1890) (#11), and Roy M. Hofheinz (later, builder of the Astrodome) (1912-1982) (#12)

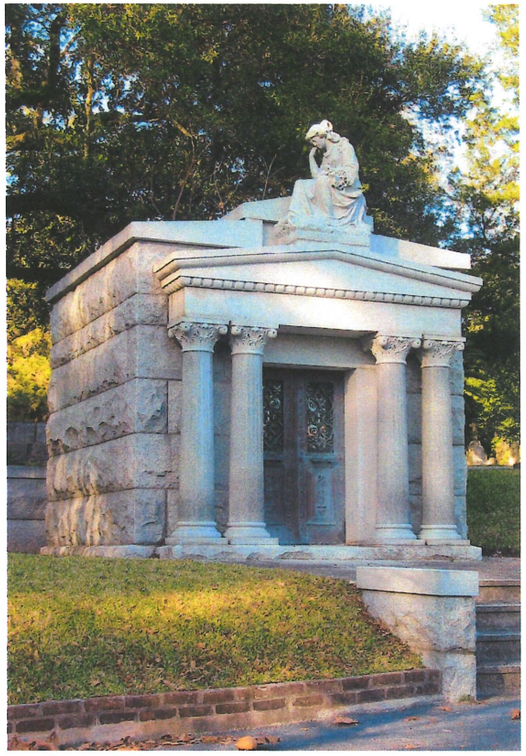

Business and Commerce

Howard R. Hughes, Jr. (1905-1976) – Billionaire and man of legendary accomplishments in business and aviation; also movie producer (#13)

Co-founders of Humble Oil (now part of Exxon/Mobil) including Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#6), W.S. Farish (1881-1942) (#14), Harry Wiess (1887-1948) (#15), and R.L. Blaffer (1876-1942) (#16)

J. S. Cullinan (1860-1937) – Founder of The Texas Company (now part of Chevron/Texaco) and developer of Shadyside (#17)

Glenn McCarthy (1907-1988) – Legendary King of the Wildcatters; built Houston's famed Shamrock Hotel (#18)

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and Herman Brown (1892-1962) – Co-founders of Brown & Root, Inc. (#19)

Houston's earliest bankers, including B.A. Shepherd (1814-1891) (#20) and T.W. House (1814-1880) (#2)

The Professions and Educators

Capt. James A. Baker (1857-1941) – Personal attorney of William Marsh Rice; instrumental in bringing to justice those responsible for Rice's murder in 1900 and saving the fortune that endowed Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#21)

Edgar Odell Lovett (1871-1957) – First President of Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#22)

Some of Houston's finest architects including William Ward Watkin (1886-1952) (#23), John F. Staub (1892-1981) (#24), Kenneth Franzheim (1890-1959) (#25), Eugene Heiner (1852-1902) (#26), and Hugo V. Neuhaus, Jr. (1915-1987) (#27)

Margaret Hunter Kinkaid (1874-1951) – Founder of The Kinkaid School (#28)

Religious Leaders

Rev. William M. Tryon (1809-1847) – First resident pastor of First Baptist Church; erected first church building in 1847 (#29)

Caspar Braun (1822-1880) – Organized Houston's First German Evangelical Lutheran Church in 1851 (#30)

Civil War

Numerous veterans of the Civil War, the most notable being:

Col. B.F. Terry (1821-1861) (#31) and Col. T.S. Lubbock (1817-1862) (#32) - Commanders of the regiment known as Terry's Texas Rangers

Lt. Col. Edwin Fairfax Gray (1829-1884) – Graduate of Annapolis and veteran of Commodore Perry's 1853 expedition to Japan; served in 3rd Texas Infantry during Civil War (#33)

Sarah Emma Edmondson Seelye (1841-1898) - Disguised herself as a man and served in the Union Army during the Civil War (#34)

Pioneers

Charlotte Baldwin Allen (1805-1895) – Wife of Augustus C. Allen and regarded by many as Houston's third co-founder together with the Allen Brothers (#35)

Col. William Fairfax Gray (1787-1841) – Early Texas settler, lawyer and charter member of Christ Church; his diary, From Virginia to Texas, 1835, is a valuable record of the Convention of 1836 at Washington-on-the Brazos (#33)

Margaret Lea Houston Williams (1848-1906) – Daughter of Gen. Sam Houston (#36)

Philanthropists and Community Life

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and wife Alice Pratt Brown (1902-1984), and Herman Brown (1892-1962) and wife Margarett Brown (1895-1963) - Co-founders of the Brown Foundation (#19)

George Hermann (1846-1914) – Frugal millionaire who left his entire fortune for the benefit of all Houstonians in such institutions as Hermann Hospital, Hermann Park, and Hermann Square at City Hall (#37)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) and wife Susan Vaughan Clayton (1881-1960) – Giving of both time and money, major fundraisers for the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston, their legacy includes the Clayton Genealogy Library of the Houston Public Library System, and the Susan Vaughan Foundation which supports many programs that enhance quality of life for Houstonians (#3)

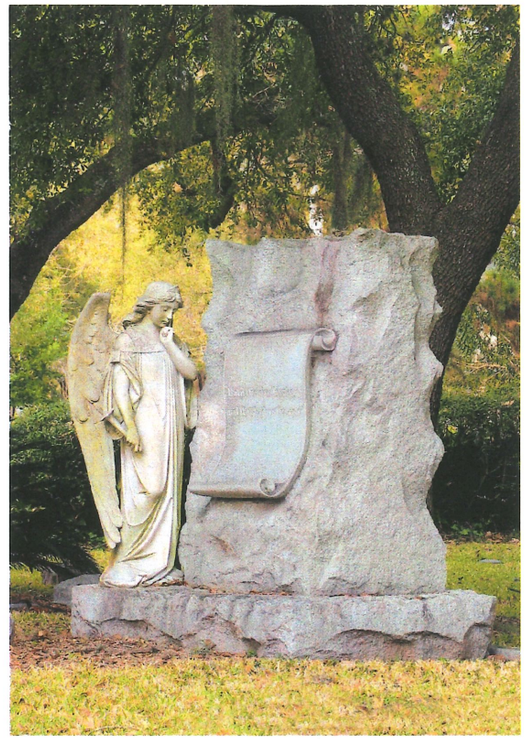

Caroline Wiess Law (1918-2003) – Renaming of the original building of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston in 1998 recognized her decades of generous support, culminating with her final bequest in 2003 of paintings valued at $60-85 million (#15)

Harris Masterson III (1914-1997) and wife Carroll Sterling Masterson (1913-1994) – Generous benefactors of the arts, their home, Rienzi, is now the European decorative arts wing of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston (#38)

Belle Sherman Kendall (1847-1919) (#39), Adele Briscoe Looscan (1848-1935) (#40), and Elizabeth L. Ring (1857-1941) (#41) – Instrumental in establishing a public library for Houston, each has a branch library named in her honor

Hollywood

Gene Tierney Lee (1920-1991) – Best known for the title role in the 1944 film classic Laura; also starred in Leave Her to Heaven, The Shanghai Gesture, and Heaven Can Wait (#18)

Above: One of the more poignant angels of Glenwood Cemetery, her anguish brings to mind B.H. Carroll, Jr.'s description of Glenwood in his 1912 book, Standard History of Houston Texas: "Wealth, moved by grief, has uttered its sorrow in many costly marbles and towering shafts, and many a marble angel with drooping wings broods over the resting places of the dead."

GLENWOOD CEMETERY HISTORIC PRESERVATION FOUNDATION

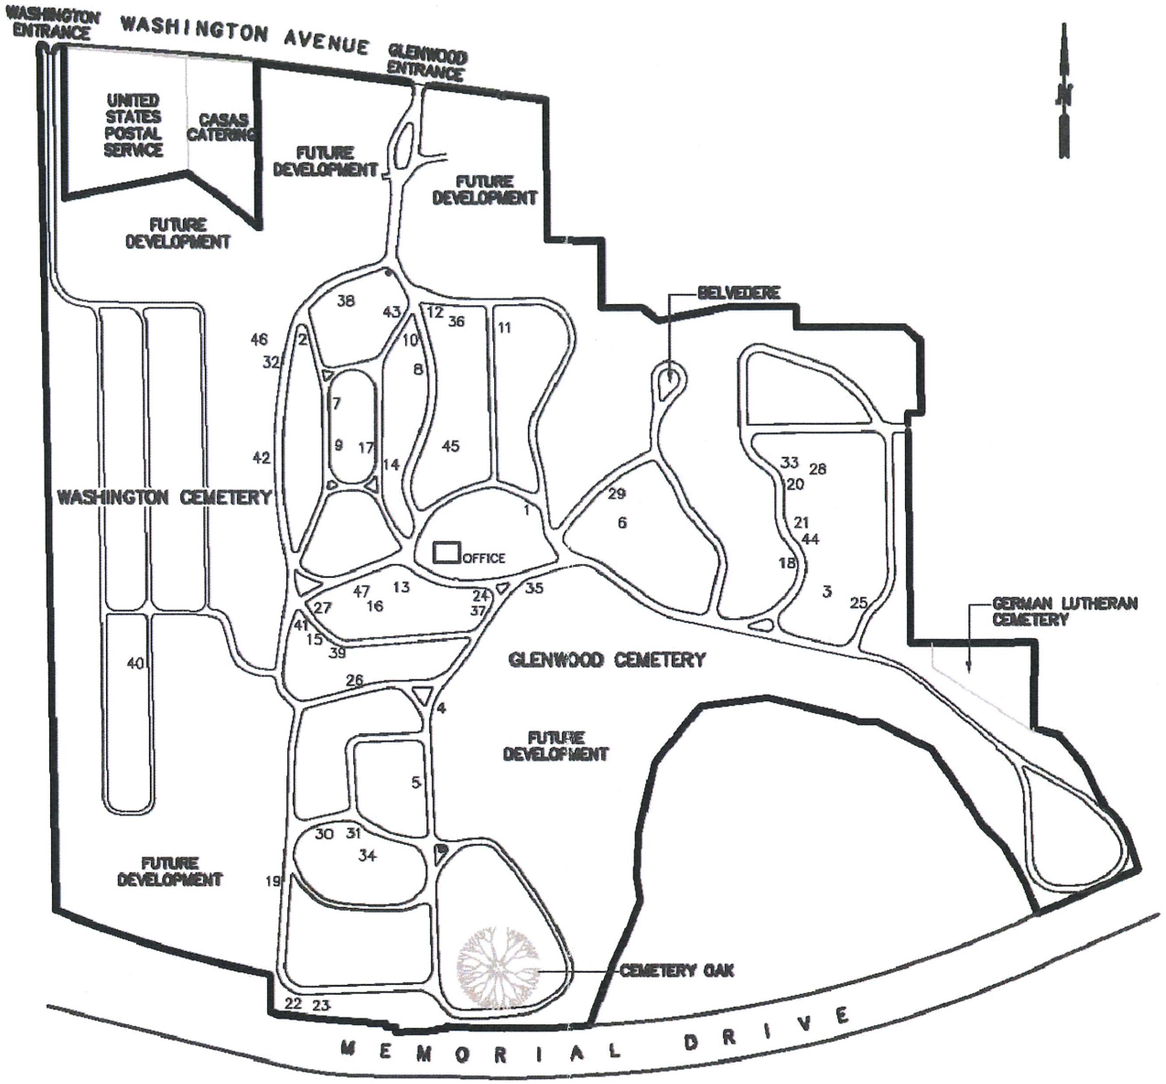

Glenwood Cemetery is a significant historic site. As the final resting place of men and women who have made important contributions to Houston, the nation, and even the world, Glenwood serves as a tangible reminder to modern Houstonians and visitors of the rich heritage of this city. It is imperative that Glenwood be preserved for future generations.

The Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation (GCHPF) was created in 1999 to raise funds for preservation of the cemetery outside the scope of normal operations. GCHPF is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, and gifts to the Foundation are tax deductible to the extent provided by law.

Your tax-exempt donations to GCHPF will :

- Restore and protect beautiful and historic statuary and monuments, many well over 100 years old;
- Provide for erosion control and reclamation to insure the survival of Glenwood as a historic resource;
- Protect and enhance Glenwood's extensive horticultural collection for the enjoyment of generations to come;
- Archive and preserve historic records;
- Document and publish the history associated with Glenwood;
- Build a columbarium/chapel (with name recognition available to the donor); and
- Fund the design and development of the "Bayou Park Section" of Glenwood.

Please consider a tax-deductible gift in support of these important endeavors. Checks payable to the Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation may be mailed to 2525 Washington Avenue, Houston, TX 77007. Credit card payments are accepted by fax (713-864-6429) or telephone (713-864-7886). All gifts are promptly acknowledged.

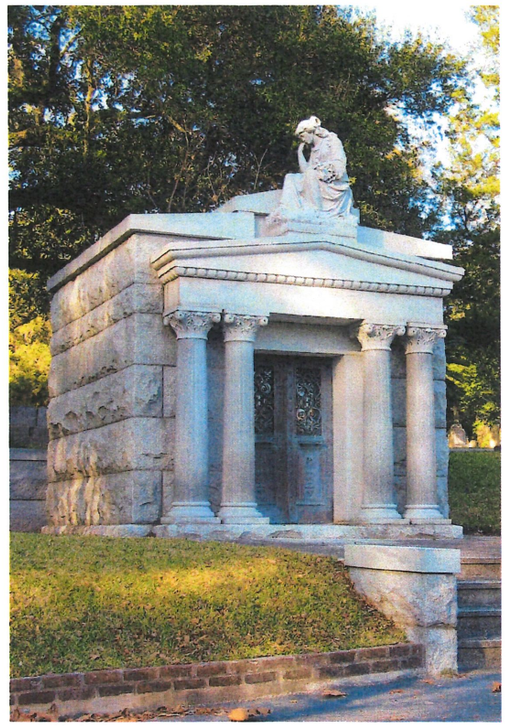

The numbers on the map correspond to the persons listed on the other side of this page.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and weekends by appointment. The cemetery gates are open 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. every day.

All photographs courtesy of Jim Parsons.

© Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation, October 1, 2004; may not be reproduced in whole or in part without written permission

Glenwood Cemetery

2525 Washington Avenue
Houston, Texas 77007
713-864-7886
713-864-6429 (fax)

Glenwood was established in 1871. The grounds were designed by the English-born horticulturist Alfred Whitaker, a prominent, late 19th-century Houston nurseryman. Newspaper accounts of the day compared Glenwood to other well-known romantic cemetery parks such as Laurel Hill in Philadelphia (1836) and Green-Wood in Brooklyn (1838).

The cemetery currently comprises 84 acres, including the adjacent Washington Cemetery (1887) which is now under the permanent care, custody and control of Glenwood Cemetery.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886.

Glenwood's Notable Interred

Glenwood is the final resting place of many persons important in Houston's history, as well as persons of national and international prominence. Some of them are listed below. The number following each name is keyed to the map on the opposite side.

Statesmen and Elected Officials

Anson Jones (1798-1858) – Last President of the Republic of Texas (#1)

Col. Edward Mandell House (1858-1938) – Chief Advisor to President Woodrow Wilson; negotiated acceptance of Wilson's Fourteen Points that led to establishment of the League of Nations (#2)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) – Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs following WWII; authored The Marshall Plan that averted global economic disaster in the post-war years (#3)

Oveta Culp Hobby (1905-1995) – Organized WAACs during WWII; served in Eisenhower cabinet as first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (#4)

Texas Governors including William P. Hobby (1878-1964) (#4), Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#5) and James W. Henderson (1817-1880) (#6), plus one Mississippi Governor, Hiram Runnels (1796-1857) (#7)

Over twenty Houston mayors, including John D. Andrews (1795-1882) (#8), Cornelius Ennis (1813-1899) (#9), W.J. Hutchins (1813-1885) (#10), T.W. House (1814-1880) (#2), Horace D. Taylor (1821-1890) (#11), T.H. Scanlan (1832-1906) (#12), Irvin C. Lord (1827-1914) (#13), J.T.D. Wilson (1820-1902) (#14), A.J. Burke (1813-1903) (#15), W.R. Baker (1820-1890) (#16), H. Baldwin Rice (1861-1929) (#17), and Roy M. Hofheinz (builder of the Astrodome) (1912-1982) (#18)

Business and Commerce

Howard R. Hughes, Jr. (1905-1976) – Billionaire and man of legendary accomplishments in business and aviation; also movie producer (#19)

Co-founders of Humble Oil (now part of Exxon/Mobil) including Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#5), W.S. Farish (1881-1942) (#20), Harry Wiess (1887-1948) (#21), and R.L. Blaffer (1876-1942) (#22)

J. S. Cullinan (1860-1937) – Founder of The Texas Company (now part of Chevron/Texaco) and developer of Shadyside (#23)

Glenn McCarthy (1907-1988) – Legendary King of the Wildcatters; built Houston's famed Shamrock Hotel (#24)

Below: Glenwood's distinctive belvedere was a generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Strange through the Heitman Foundation

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and Herman Brown (1892-1962) – Co-founders of Brown & Root, Inc. (#25)

Houston's earliest bankers, including B.A. Shepherd (1814-1891) (#26) and T.W. House (1814-1880) (#2)

The Professions and Educators

Capt. James A. Baker (1857-1941) – Personal attorney of William Marsh Rice; instrumental in bringing to justice those responsible for Rice's murder in 1900 and saving the fortune that endowed Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#27)

Edgar Odell Lovett (1871-1957) – First President of Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#28)

Some of Houston's finest architects including William Ward Watkin (1886-1952) (#29), John F. Staub (1892-1981) (#30), Kenneth Franzheim (1890-1959) (#31), Eugene Heiner (1852-1902) (#32), and Hugo V. Neuhaus, Jr. (1915-1987) (#33)

Margaret Hunter Kinkaid (1874-1951) – Founder of The Kinkaid School (#34)

Religious Leaders

Rev. William M. Tryon (1809-1847) – First resident pastor of First Baptist Church; erected first church building in 1847 (#35)

Caspar Braun (1822-1880) – Organized Houston's First German Evangelical Lutheran Church in 1851 (#36)

Civil War

Numerous veterans of the Civil War, the most notable being:

Col. B.F. Terry (1821-1861) (#37) and Col. T.S. Lubbock (1817-1862) (#38) - Commanders of the regiment known as Terry's Texas Rangers

Lt. Col. Edwin Fairfax Gray (1829-1884) – Graduate of Annapolis and veteran of Commodore Perry's 1853 expedition to Japan; served in 3rd Texas Infantry during Civil War (#39)

Sarah Emma Edmondson Seelye (1841-1898) - Disguised herself as a man and served in the Union Army during the Civil War (#40)

Pioneers

Charlotte Baldwin Allen (1805-1895) – Wife of Augustus C. Allen and regarded by many as Houston's third co-founder together with the Allen Brothers (#41)

Margaret Lea Houston Williams (1848-1906) – Daughter of Gen. Sam Houston (#42)

Philanthropists and Community Life

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and wife Alice Pratt Brown (1902-1984), and Herman Brown (1892-1962) and wife Margarett Brown (1895-1963) - Co-founders of the Brown Foundation (#25)

George Hermann (1846-1914) – Frugal millionaire with no wife or children who left his fortune for the benefit of all Houstonians in such institutions as Hermann Hospital, Hermann Park, and Hermann Square at City Hall (#43)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) and wife Susan Vaughan Clayton (1881-1960) – Giving of both time and money, major fundraisers for the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston, their legacy includes public housing (Susan V. Clayton Homes), the Clayton Genealogy Library of the Houston Public Library System, and the Susan Vaughan Foundation which supports many programs that enhance quality of life for Houstonians (#3)

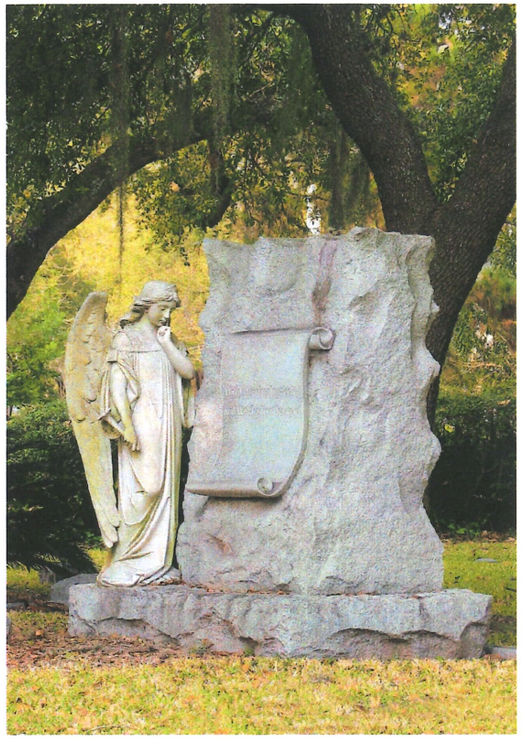

Caroline Wiess Law (1918-2003) – Renaming of the original building of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston in 1998 recognized her decades of generous support, culminating with her final bequest in 2003 of paintings valued at $60-85 million (#21)

Harris Masterson III (1914-1997) and wife Carroll Sterling Masterson (1913-1994) – Generous benefactors of the arts, their home, Rienzi, is now the European decorative arts wing of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston (#44)

Belle Sherman Kendall (1847-1919) (#45), Adele Briscoe Looscan (1848-1935) (#46), and Elizabeth L. Ring (1857-1941) (#47) – Instrumental in establishing a public library for Houston, each has a branch library named in her honor

Hollywood

Gene Tierney Lee (1920-1991) – Best known for the title role in the 1944 film classic Laura which also starred Dana Andrews and Clifton Webb (#24)

Above: One of the more poignant angels of Glenwood Cemetery, her anguish brings to mind B.H. Carroll, Jr.'s description of Glenwood in his 1912 book, Standard History of Houston Texas: "Wealth, moved by grief, has uttered its sorrow in many costly marbles and towering shafts, and many a marble angel with drooping wings broods over the resting places of the dead."

GLENWOOD CEMETERY HISTORIC PRESERVATION FOUNDATION

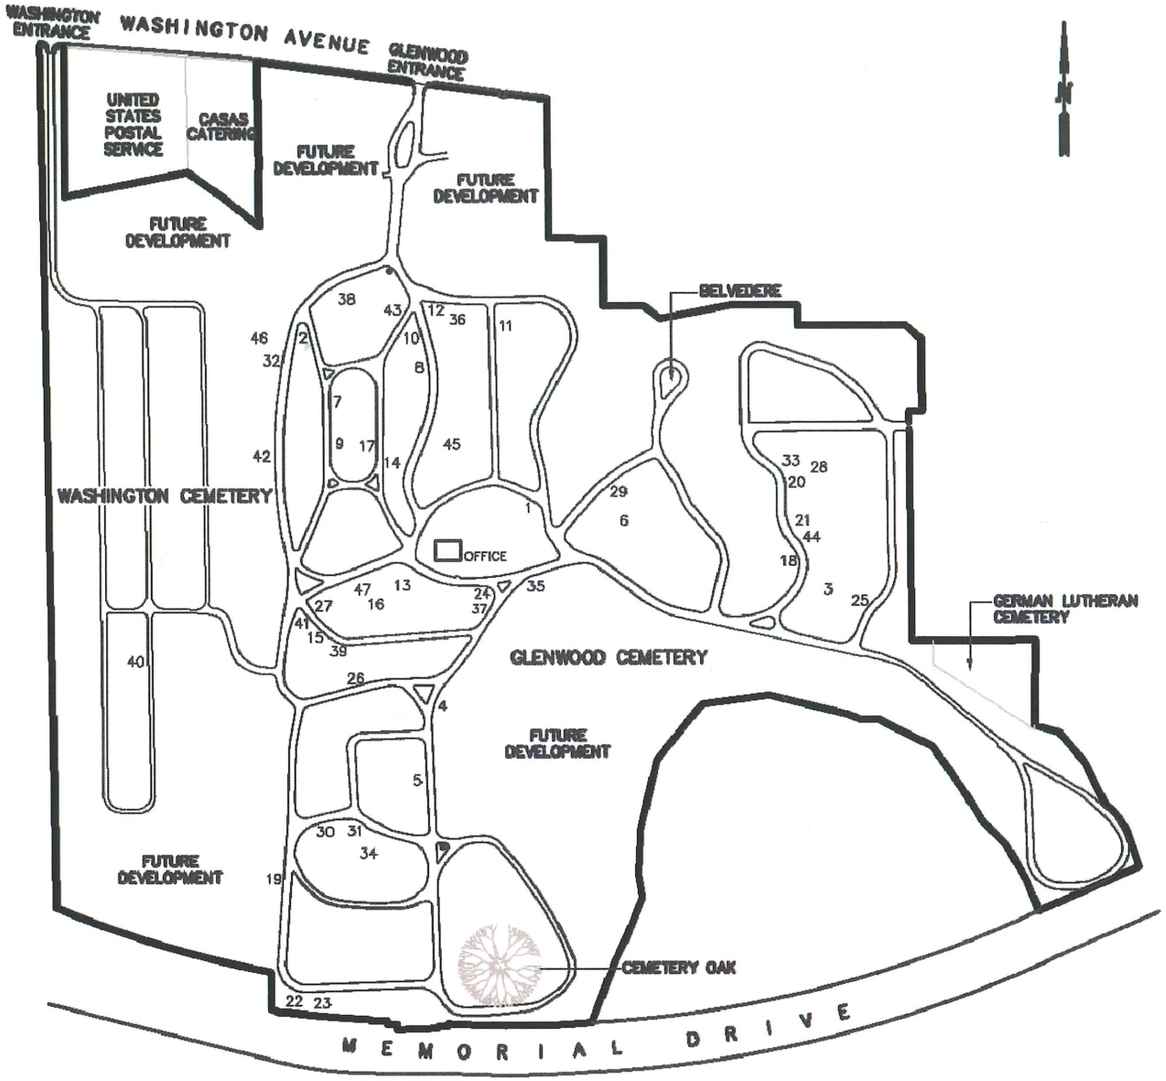

Glenwood Cemetery is a significant historic site. As the final resting place of men and women who have made important contributions to Houston, the nation, and even the world, Glenwood serves as a tangible reminder to modern Houstonians and visitors of the rich heritage of this city. It is imperative that Glenwood be preserved for future generations.

The Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation (GCHPF) was created in 1999 to raise funds for preservation of the cemetery outside the scope of normal operations. GCHPF is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, and gifts to the Foundation are tax deductible to the extent provided by law.

Your tax-exempt donations to GCHPF will :

- Restore and protect beautiful and historic statuary and monuments, many well over 100 years old;
- Provide for erosion control and reclamation to insure the survival of Glenwood as a historic resource;
- Protect and enhance Glenwood's extensive horticultural collection for the enjoyment of generations to come;
- Archive and preserve historic records;
- Document and publish the history associated with Glenwood;
- Build a columbarium/chapel (with name recognition available to the donor); and
- Fund the design and development of the "Bayou Park Section" of Glenwood.

Please consider a tax-deductible gift in support of these important endeavors. Checks payable to the Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation may be mailed to 2525 Washington Avenue, Houston, TX 77007. Credit card payments are accepted by fax (713-864-6429) or telephone (713-864-7886). All gifts are promptly acknowledged.

The numbers on the map correspond to the persons listed on the other side of this page.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and weekends by appointment. The cemetery gates are open 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. every day.

All photographs courtesy of Jim Parsons.

© Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation, October 1, 2004; may not be reproduced in whole or in part without written permission

Glenwood Cemetery

Glenwood's distinctive belvedere was a generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Strange through the Heitman Foundation

2525 Washington Avenue
Houston, Texas 77007
713-864-7886
713-864-6429 (fax)

Glenwood was established in 1871. The grounds were designed by the English-born horticulturist Alfred Whitaker, a prominent 19th-century Houston nurseryman. Newspaper accounts of the day compared Glenwood to well-known romantic cemetery parks such as Laurel Hill in Philadelphia (1836) and Green-Wood in Brooklyn (1838).

The cemetery currently comprises 84 acres, including the adjacent Washington Cemetery (1887) which is now under the permanent care, custody and control of Glenwood.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886.

GLENWOOD CEMETERY HISTORIC PRESERVATION FOUNDATION

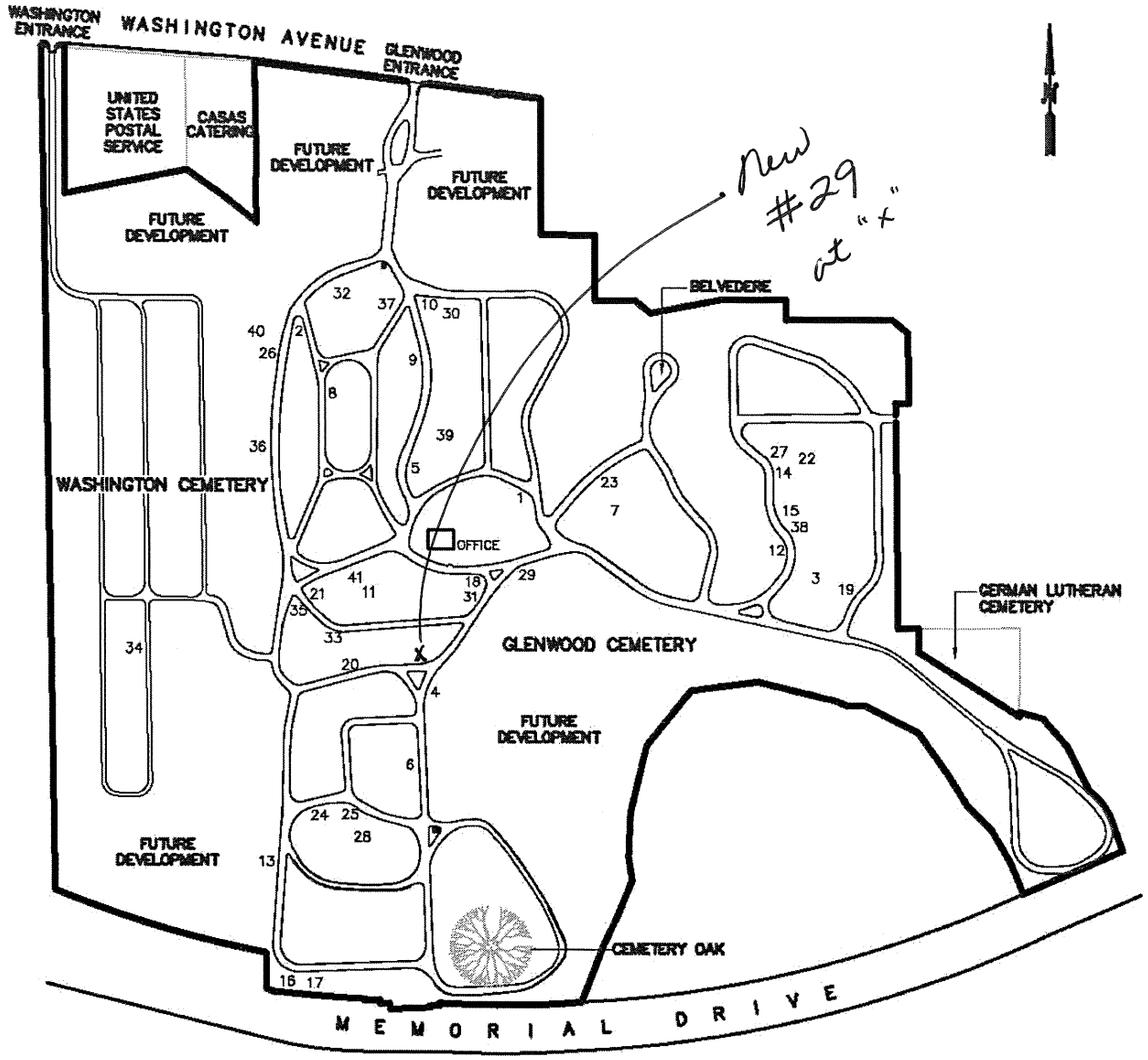

Glenwood Cemetery is a significant historic site. As the final resting place of men and women who have made important contributions to Houston, the nation, and even the world, Glenwood serves as a tangible reminder to modern Houstonians and visitors of the rich heritage of this city. It is imperative that Glenwood be preserved for future generations.

The Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation (GCHPF) was created in 1999 to raise funds for preservation of the cemetery outside the scope of normal operations. GCHPF is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, and gifts to the Foundation are tax deductible to the extent provided by law.

Your tax-exempt donations to GCHPF will :

- Restore and protect beautiful and historic statuary and monuments, many well over 100 years old;
- Provide for erosion control and reclamation to insure the survival of Glenwood as a historic resource;
- Protect and enhance Glenwood's extensive horticultural collection for the enjoyment of generations to come;
- Archive and preserve historic records;
- Document and publish the history associated with Glenwood;
- Build a columbarium/chapel (with name recognition available to the donor); and
- Fund the design and development of the "Bayou Park Section" of Glenwood.

Please consider a tax-deductible gift in support of these important endeavors. Checks payable to the Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation may be mailed to 2525 Washington Avenue, Houston, TX 77007. Credit card payments are accepted by fax (713-864-6429) or telephone (713-864-7886). All gifts are promptly acknowledged.

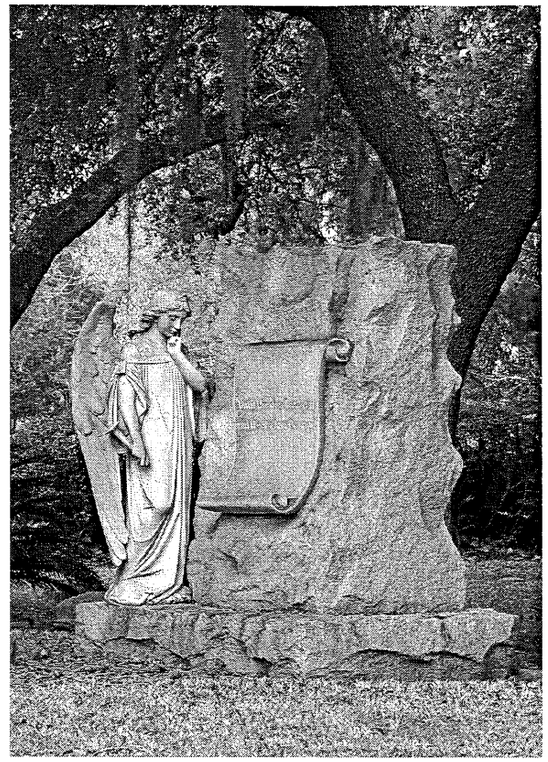

The numbers on the map correspond to the persons listed on the other side of this page.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and weekends by appointment. The cemetery gates are open 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. every day.

All photographs courtesy of Jim Parsons.

© Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation, October 1, 2004; may not be reproduced in whole or in part without written permission

Glenwood Cemetery

2525 Washington Avenue
Houston, Texas 77007
713-864-7886
713-864-6429 (fax)

Glenwood was established in 1871. The grounds were designed by the English-born horticulturist Alfred Whitaker, a prominent 19th-century Houston nurseryman. Newspaper accounts of the day compared Glenwood to well-known romantic cemetery parks such as Laurel Hill in Philadelphia (1836) and Green-Wood in Brooklyn (1838).

The cemetery currently comprises 84 acres, including the adjacent Washington Cemetery (1887) which is now under the permanent stewardship of Glenwood.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886.

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and wife Alice Pratt Brown (1902-1984), and Herman Brown (1892-1962) and wife Margarett Brown (1895-1963) - Co-founders of the Brown Foundation, a generous benefactor of many Houston institutions (#~~20~~) 17

Will Clayton (1880-1966) and wife Susan Vaughan Clayton (1881-1960) – Giving of both time and money, major fundraisers for the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston, their legacy includes the Clayton Genealogy Library of the Houston Public Library System, and the Susan Vaughan Foundation which supports many programs that enhance quality of life for Houstonians (#3)

Caroline Wiess Law (1918-2003) – Renaming of the original building of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston in 1998 recognized her decades of generous support, culminating with her final bequest in 2003 of paintings valued at $60-85 million (#~~16~~) 14

Harris Masterson III (1914-1997) and wife Carroll Sterling Masterson (1913-1994) – Generous benefactors of the arts, their home, Rienzi, is now the European decorative arts wing of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston (#~~50~~); the home was named for Masterson's grandfather, newspaper editor and publisher Rienzi Johnston (1849-1926) (#~~51~~) 52 53

Robert Alonzo Welch (1872-1952) – Oilman; his estate endowed the Robert A. Welch Foundation which has donated millions of dollars in support of chemical research and higher education (#~~52~~) 54

Daniel (1852-1921) and Edith Ripley (1857-1934) – Mr. Ripley, a banker, on his death left a trust fund "for the betterment of the community;" with it, his wife Edith established the Ripley Settlement House, which continues to serve Houston's East End (#~~53~~) 55

Belle Sherman Kendall (1847-1919) (#~~54~~), Adele Briscoe Looscan (1848-1935) (#~~55~~), and Elizabeth L. Ring (1857-1941) (#~~56~~) – Instrumental in establishing a public library for Houston, each has a branch library named in her honor 57 56 58

Hollywood and Sports

Gene Tierney Lee (1920-1991) – Best known for the title role in the 1944 film classic Laura; also starred in Leave Her to Heaven, The Shanghai Gesture, and Heaven Can Wait (#~~19~~) 12

Kern Tips (1904-1967) – For over 32 years, the radio "Voice of the Southwest Conference" (#~~57~~) 59

Cover Photo: One of the more poignant angels of Glenwood Cemetery, her anguish brings to mind the description of Glenwood in the 1912 book, Standard History of Houston Texas: "Wealth, moved by grief, has uttered its sorrow in many costly marbles and towering shafts, and many a marble angel with drooping wings broods over the resting places of the dead."

The numbers on the map correspond to the persons listed on the other side of this page.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and weekends by appointment. The cemetery gates are open from 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. every day.

All photographs courtesy of Jim Parsons.

© Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation, January 15, 2005; may not be reproduced in whole or in part without written permission

1-16-05

Glenwood Cemetery

2525 Washington Avenue
Houston, Texas 77007
713-864-7886
713-864-6429 (fax)

Glenwood was established in 1871. The grounds were designed by the English-born horticulturist Alfred Whitaker, a prominent 19th-century Houston nurseryman. Newspaper accounts of the day compared Glenwood to well-known romantic cemetery parks such as Laurel Hill in Philadelphia (1836) and Green-Wood in Brooklyn (1838).

The cemetery currently comprises approximately 84 acres, including the adjacent Washington Cemetery (1887) which is now under the permanent stewardship of Glenwood.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886.

Glenwood's Notable Interred

Glenwood is the final resting place of many persons important in the history of Houston and Texas, as well as persons of national and international prominence. Some, but not all, of them are listed below. The number following each name is keyed to the map on the opposite side.

Statesmen and Elected Officials

Anson Jones (1798-1858) – Last President of the Republic of Texas (#1)

Col. Edward Mandell House (1858-1938) – Chief Advisor to President Woodrow Wilson; negotiated acceptance of Wilson's Fourteen Points that led to establishment of the League of Nations (#2)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) – Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs following WWII; authored The Marshall Plan that averted global economic disaster in the post-war years (#3)

Oveta Culp Hobby (1905-1995) – Organized WAACs during WWII; served in Eisenhower cabinet as first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (#4)

Hon. Joseph C. Hutcheson, Sr. (1842-1924) – As State Representative, drafted bill that established the University of Texas; served in U.S. Congress 1893-1897 (#5)

Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr. (1879-1973) - Chief Judge of Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals; United States Chairman of the 1945 Anglo-American commission on settlement of Jews in Palestine (#5)

Dillon Anderson (1906-1974) – National security advisor to President Eisenhower; also award-winning author of short stories (#6)

Texas Governors including William P. Hobby (1878-1964) (#4), Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#7) and James W. Henderson (1817-1880) (#8); one Mississippi Governor, Hiram Runnels (1796-1857) (#9)

Over twenty Houston mayors, including Roy Hofheinz (who would later build the Astrodome) (1912-1982) (#10)

Business and Commerce

Howard R. Hughes, Jr. (1905-1976) – Billionaire and man of legendary accomplishments in business, aviation and film making (#11)

Glenn McCarthy (1907-1988) – Legendary King of the Wildcatters; built Houston's famed Shamrock Hotel (#12)

Co-founders of Humble Oil (now part of Exxon/Mobil) including Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#7), W.S. Farish (1881-1942) (#13), Harry Wiess (1887-1948) (#14), and R.L. Blaffer (1876-1942) (#15)

J. S. Cullinan (1860-1937) – Founder of The Texas Company (now part of Chevron/Texaco); developer of Shadyside (#16)

Glenwood's distinctive belvedere was a generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Strange through the Heitman Foundation

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and Herman Brown (1892-1962) – Co-founders of Brown & Root, Inc. (#17)

Houston's earliest bankers, including B.A. Shepherd (1814-1891) (#18) and T.W. House (1814-1880) (#2)

Paul Bremond (1810-1885) – Brought railroads to Houston in the 1850s (#19)

John L. Wortham (1862-1924) – Co-founder (with his son, Gus S. Wortham) of John L. Wortham and Son, one of the nation's largest retail insurance brokerage and risk services firms (#20)

The Professions and Educators

John H. Freeman, Sr. (___-1980) – As an original trustee of the M. D. Anderson Foundation, he is credited with co-founding the Texas Medical Center (#21)

Dr. Jack Castle (1922-2002) – Founder of HISD's Children's Dental Health Program, also the Castle Dental Centers (#22)

Dr. Ralph C. Cooley (____-1954) – Pioneer in restorative dentistry; considered one of the finest clinicians of his time (#23)

Founders of major Houston law firms, including Peter W. Gray (___-___) (#24),Col. Walter Browne Botts (___-___) (#25), and Frank Andrews (___-___) (#26),

Capt. James A. Baker (1857-1941) – Personal attorney of William Marsh Rice; brought to justice those responsible for Rice's murder in 1900 and saved the fortune that endowed Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#27)

Some of Houston's finest architects including William Ward Watkin (1886-1952) (#28), John F. Staub (1892-1981) (#29), Kenneth Franzheim (1890-1959) (#30), J.W. Northrop, Jr. (1886-1968) (#31), Eugene Heiner (1852-1902) (#32), Hugo V. Neuhaus, Jr. (1915-1987) (#33), and Burdette Keeland (1926-2000) (#34)

Edgar Odell Lovett (1871-1957) – First President of Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#35)

Margaret Hunter Kinkaid (1874-1951) – Founder of The Kinkaid School (#36)

Author and Journalists

B. H. Carroll, Jr. (1874-1922) – Journalist, author and editor of the 1912 Standard History of Houston (#37)

S. O. Young (1848-1926) – Physician, journalist and author of A Thumb-Nail History of the City of Houston, Texas (1912) and True Stories of Old Houston and Houstonians (1913) (#38)

E. H. Cushing (1829-1879) – Publisher from 1856-1865 of the Telegraph, Texas' early newspaper of record (#39)

Religious Leaders

Founding clergy and founding members of several Houston congregations:

Col. William Fairfax Gray (1787-1841) – Began efforts to organize Christ Church in 1839 (#24)

Rev. William M. Tryon (1809-1847) – First resident pastor of First Baptist Church; erected first church building in 1847 (#40)

Caspar Braun (1822-1880) – Organized Houston's First German Evangelical Lutheran Church in 1851 (#41)

Norman G. Kittrell, Sr. (1849-1927) and his wife Louisa Keyes Kittrell (1849-1929) – Began efforts to organize Trinity Episcopal Church in 1893 (#42)

Edwin L. Neville (1879-1937) and his wife Daphne Palmer Neville (1885-1948) – Endowed construction of Palmer Chapel and petitioned for establishment of the parish that became Palmer Memorial Episcopal Church, a memorial to her brother, Edward A. Palmer (1883-1908) (all at #18)

Rev'd. Peter Gray Sears (1866-1942) – Rector of Christ Church 1905-1926; called to be first Rector of Palmer Memorial Episcopal Church in 1929 (#43)

Civil War

Numerous veterans of the Civil War, among the most notable Col. B.F. Terry (1821-1861) (#44) and Col. T.S. Lubbock (1817-1862) (#45) – Commanders of the regiment known as Terry's Texas Rangers

Sarah Emma Edmondson Seelye (1841-1898) – Dressed as a man, she served in the Union Army during the Civil War (#46)

Pioneers

Charlotte Baldwin Allen (1805-1895) – Wife of Augustus C. Allen and regarded by many as Houston's third co-founder together with the Allen Brothers (#47)

Col. William Fairfax Gray (1787-1841) – Early Texas settler, lawyer; his diary is a valuable historical record of the Convention of 1836 at Washington-on-the Brazos (#24)

Col. John T. Brady (1830-1891) – Settled in Harrisburg in 1856; lawyer, legislator, newspaperman, railroad man; an advocate for the Houston Ship Channel; Brady's Island at the Ship Channel turning basin was part of his land (#48)

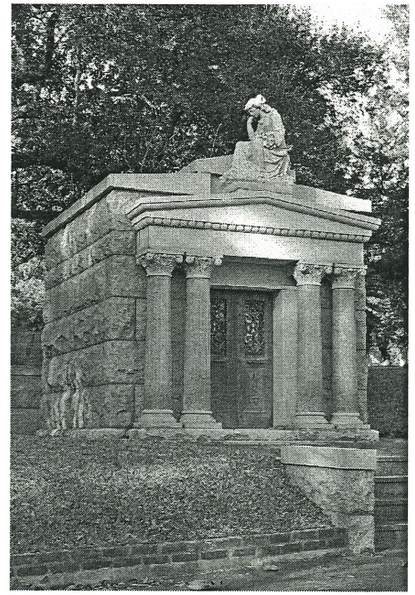

The Bering Family – German immigrants who settled in Houston in 1846 and went into the hardware business (several generations buried throughout Glenwood, the earliest at #49)

Margaret Lea Houston Williams (1848-1906) – Daughter of Gen. Sam Houston (#50)

Philanthropists and Community Life

George Hermann (1846-1914) – Frugal millionaire who left his entire fortune for the benefit of all Houstonians in such institutions as Hermann Hospital, Hermann Park, and Hermann Square at City Hall (#51)

Continued on other side . . .

Glenwood's Notable Interred

Glenwood is the final resting place of many persons important in the history of Houston and Texas, as well as persons of national and international prominence. Some of them are listed below. The number following each name is keyed to the map on the opposite side.

Statesmen and Elected Officials

Anson Jones (1798-1858) – Last President of the Republic of Texas (#1)

Col. Edward Mandell House (1858-1938) – Chief Advisor to President Woodrow Wilson; negotiated acceptance of Wilson's Fourteen Points that led to establishment of the League of Nations (#2)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) – Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs following WWII; authored The Marshall Plan that averted global economic disaster in the post-war years (#3)

Oveta Culp Hobby (1905-1995) – Organized WAACs during WWII; served in Eisenhower cabinet as first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (#4)

Hon. Joseph C. Hutcheson, Sr. (1842-1924) – As State Representative, drafted bill that established the University of Texas; served in U.S. Congress 1893-1897 (#5)

Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr. (1879-1973) - Chief Judge of Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals; United States Chairman of the 1945 Anglo-American commission on settlement of Jews in Palestine (#5)

Texas Governors including William P. Hobby (1878-1964) (#4), Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#6) and James W. Henderson (1817-1880) (#7), plus one Mississippi Governor, Hiram Runnels (1796-1857) (#8)

More than twenty Houston mayors, including John D. Andrews (1795-1882) (#9), T.H. Scanlan (1832-1906) (#10), W.R. Baker (1820-1890) (#11), and Roy M. Hofheinz (later, builder of the Astrodome) (1912-1982) (#12)

Business and Commerce

Howard R. Hughes, Jr. (1905-1976) – Billionaire and man of legendary accomplishments in business, aviation and film making (#13)

Co-founders of Humble Oil (now part of Exxon/Mobil) including Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#6), W.S. Farish (1881-1942) (#14), Harry Wiess (1887-1948) (#15), and R.L. Blaffer (1876-1942) (#16)

J. S. Cullinan (1860-1937) – Founder of The Texas Company (now part of Chevron/Texaco) and developer of Shadyside (#17)

Glenn McCarthy (1907-1988) – Legendary King of the Wildcatters; built Houston's famed Shamrock Hotel (#18)

Glenwood's distinctive belvedere was a generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Strange through the Heitman Foundation

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and Herman Brown (1892-1962) – Co-founders of Brown & Root, Inc. (#19)

Houston's earliest bankers, including B.A. Shepherd (1814-1891) (#20) and T.W. House (1814-1880) (#2)

The Professions and Educators

Capt. James A. Baker (1857-1941) – Personal attorney of William Marsh Rice; instrumental in bringing to justice those responsible for Rice's murder in 1900 and saving the fortune that endowed Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#21)

Edgar Odell Lovett (1871-1957) – First President of Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#22)

Some of Houston's finest architects including William Ward Watkin (1886-1952) (#23), John F. Staub (1892-1981) (#24), Kenneth Franzheim (1890-1959) (#25), Eugene Heiner (1852-1902) (#26), and Hugo V. Neuhaus, Jr. (1915-1987) (#27)

Margaret Hunter Kinkaid (1874-1951) – Founder of The Kinkaid School (#28)

Religious Leaders

Rev'd. Peter Gray Sears (1866-1942) – Descendant of early Texas settler; Rector of Christ Church from 1905-1926; called to be the first Rector of Palmer Memorial Episcopal Church in 1929 (#~~29~~ 27)

Rev. William M. Tryon (1809-1847) – First resident pastor of First Baptist Church; erected first church building in 1847 (#~~29~~ 30)

Caspar Braun (1822-1880) – Organized Houston's First German Evangelical Lutheran Church in 1851 (#~~30~~ 31)

Civil War

Numerous veterans of the Civil War, the most notable being:

Col. B.F. Terry (1821-1861) (#~~31~~ 32) and Col. T.S. Lubbock (1817-1862) (#~~32~~ 33) - Commanders of the regiment known as Terry's Texas Rangers

Lt. Col. Edwin Fairfax Gray (1829-1884) – Graduate of Annapolis and veteran of Commodore Perry's 1853 expedition to Japan; served in 3rd Texas Infantry during Civil War (#~~33~~ 34)

Sarah Emma Edmondson Seelye (1841-1898) - Disguised herself as a man and served in the Union Army during the Civil War (#~~34~~ 35)

Pioneers

Charlotte Baldwin Allen (1805-1895) – Wife of Augustus C. Allen and regarded by many as Houston's third co-founder together with the Allen Brothers (#~~35~~ 36)

Col. William Fairfax Gray (1787-1841) – Early Texas settler, lawyer and charter member of Christ Church; his diary, From Virginia to Texas, 1835, is a valuable record of the Convention of 1836 at Washington-on-the Brazos (#~~33~~ 34)

Margaret Lea Houston Williams (1848-1906) – Daughter of Gen. Sam Houston (#~~36~~ 37)

Philanthropists and Community Life

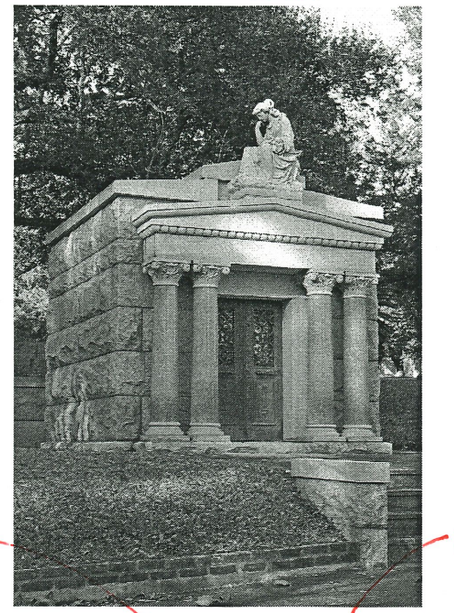

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and wife Alice Pratt Brown (1902-1984), and Herman Brown (1892-1962) and wife Margarett Brown (1895-1963) - Co-founders of the Brown Foundation (#19) ✓

George Hermann (1846-1914) – Frugal millionaire who left his entire fortune for the benefit of all Houstonians in such institutions as Hermann Hospital, Hermann Park, and Hermann Square at City Hall (#~~37~~ 38)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) and wife Susan Vaughan Clayton (1881-1960) – Giving of both time and money, major fundraisers for the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston, their legacy includes the Clayton Genealogy Library of the Houston Public Library System, and the Susan Vaughan Foundation which supports many programs that enhance quality of life for Houstonians (#3) ✓

Caroline Wiess Law (1918-2003) – Renaming of the original building of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston in 1998 recognized her decades of generous support, culminating with her final bequest in 2003 of paintings valued at $60-85 million (#15) ✓

Harris Masterson III (1914-1997) and wife Carroll Sterling Masterson (1913-1994) – Generous benefactors of the arts, their home, Rienzi, is now the European decorative arts wing of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston (#~~38~~ 39)

Belle Sherman Kendall (1847-1919) (#~~39~~ 41), Adele Briscoe Looscan (1848-1935) (#~~40~~ 40), and Elizabeth L. Ring (1857-1941) (#~~41~~ 42) – Instrumental in establishing a public library for Houston, each has a branch library named in her honor

Hollywood

Gene Tierney Lee (1920-1991) – Best known for the title role in the 1944 film classic Laura; also starred in Leave Her to Heaven, The Shanghai Gesture, and Heaven Can Wait (#18) ✓

Cover Photo: One of the more poignant angels of Glenwood Cemetery, her anguish brings to mind B.H. Carroll, Jr.'s description of Glenwood in his 1912 book, Standard History of Houston Texas: "Wealth, moved by grief, has uttered its sorrow in many costly marbles and towering shafts, and many a marble angel with drooping wings broods over the resting places of the dead."

GLENWOOD CEMETERY HISTORIC PRESERVATION FOUNDATION

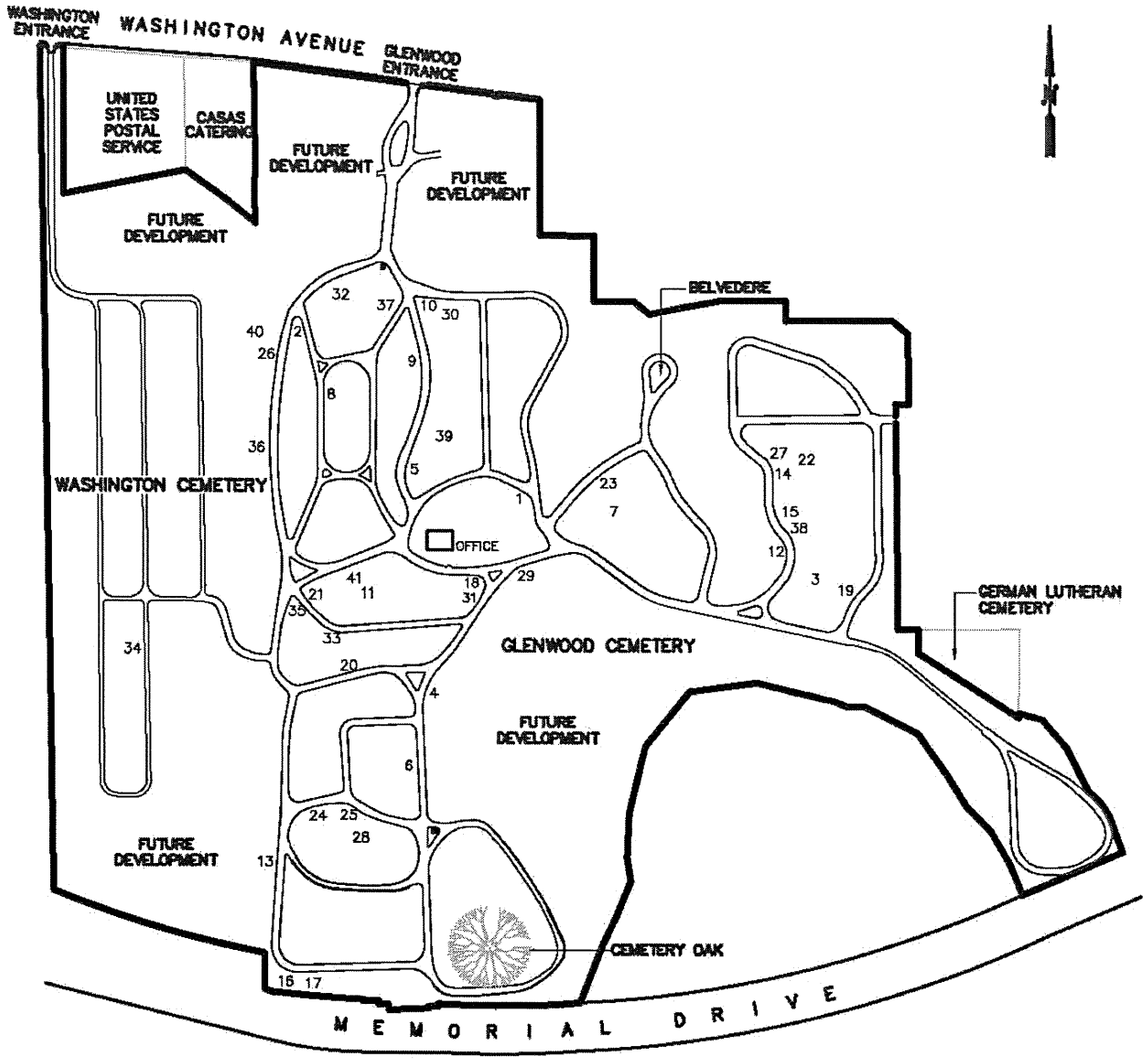

Glenwood Cemetery is a significant historic site. As the final resting place of men and women who have made important contributions to Houston, the nation, and even the world, Glenwood serves as a tangible reminder to modern Houstonians and visitors of the rich heritage of this city. It is imperative that Glenwood be preserved for future generations.

The Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation (GCHPF) was created in 1999 to raise funds for preservation of the cemetery outside the scope of normal operations. GCHPF is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, and gifts to the Foundation are tax deductible to the extent provided by law.

Your tax-exempt donations to GCHPF will :

- Restore and protect beautiful and historic statuary and monuments, many well over 100 years old;
- Provide for erosion control and reclamation to insure the survival of Glenwood as a historic resource;
- Protect and enhance Glenwood's extensive horticultural collection for the enjoyment of generations to come;
- Archive and preserve historic records;
- Document and publish the history associated with Glenwood;
- Build a columbarium/chapel (with name recognition available to the donor); and
- Fund the design and development of the "Bayou Park Section" of Glenwood.

Please consider a tax-deductible gift in support of these important endeavors. Checks payable to the Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation may be mailed to 2525 Washington Avenue, Houston, TX 77007. Credit card payments are accepted by fax (713-864-6429) or telephone (713-864-7886). All gifts are promptly acknowledged.

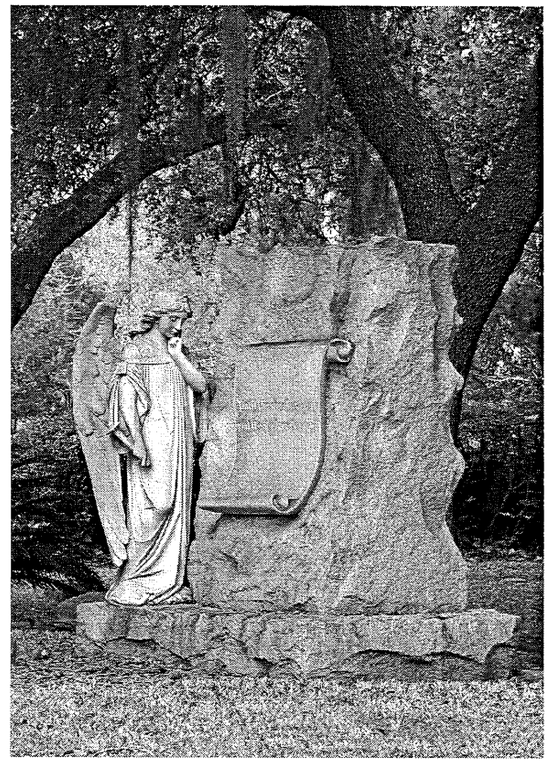

The numbers on the map correspond to the persons listed on the other side of this page.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and weekends by appointment. The cemetery gates are open 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. every day.

All photographs courtesy of Jim Parsons.

© Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation, October 1, 2004; may not be reproduced in whole or in part without written permission

Glenwood Cemetery

2525 Washington Avenue
Houston, Texas 77007
713-864-7886
713-864-6429 (fax)

Glenwood was established in 1871. The grounds were designed by the English-born horticulturist Alfred Whitaker, a prominent 19th-century Houston nurseryman. Newspaper accounts of the day compared Glenwood to well-known romantic cemetery parks such as Laurel Hill in Philadelphia (1836) and Green-Wood in Brooklyn (1838).

The cemetery currently comprises 84 acres, including the adjacent Washington Cemetery (1887) which is now under the permanent stewardship of Glenwood.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886.

Interment List - By SectionX & LotNumber

10/25/2004

Sort by: BurialDate & LastName

ID	Member	Section	Lot #	LotDescription	Burial Date	Sp#	Mrkr	Salutation	Last Name	First Name	Middle Name	Suffix	Remarks
4195	515	E	036	N/A			No		EVANS	H.	W.
7724	515	E	036	N/A	4/17/1880		No		LESTER	CHARLES
3026	515	E	036	N/A	2/7/1882		No	MRS.	COLESON				CULLERSON ?
7461	515	E	036	N/A	12/13/1898		No		LAKE	SAM			INFANT OF
14566	515	E	036	N/A	7/27/1909		Yes	MISS	TURVILLE	CLARICE
11674	515	E	036	N/A	11/4/1927		Yes	MRS.	SEARS	FANNY	ARCHER
6529	515	E	036	N/A	11/11/1937		Yes		HARWELL	R.	THAD
11679	515	E	036	N/A	1/27/1942		Yes	REV.	SEARS	PETER	GRAY
10628	515	E	036	N/A	5/28/1958		Yes	MISS	RAWLINGS	EMILY

Total Interments: 9

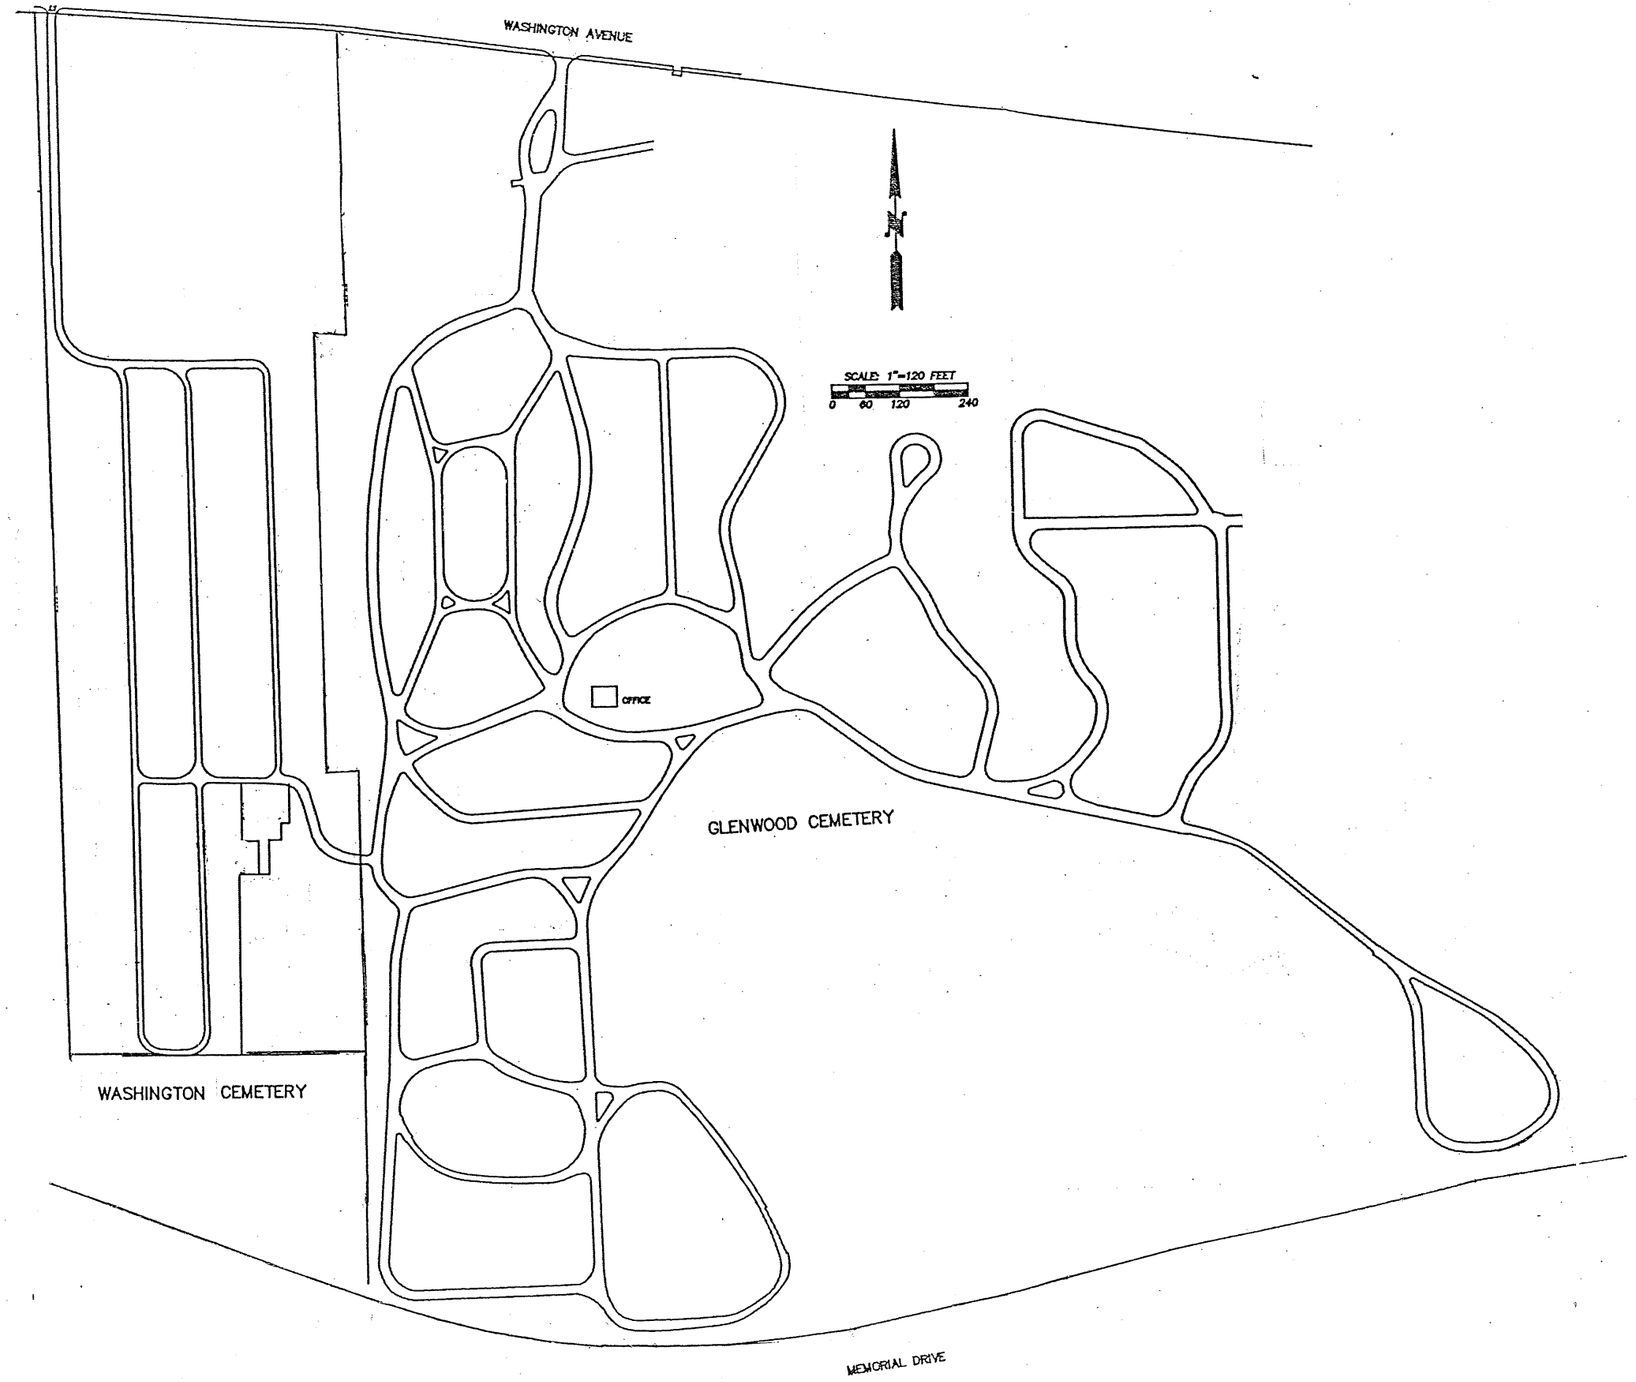

Interment List - By SectionX & LotNumber

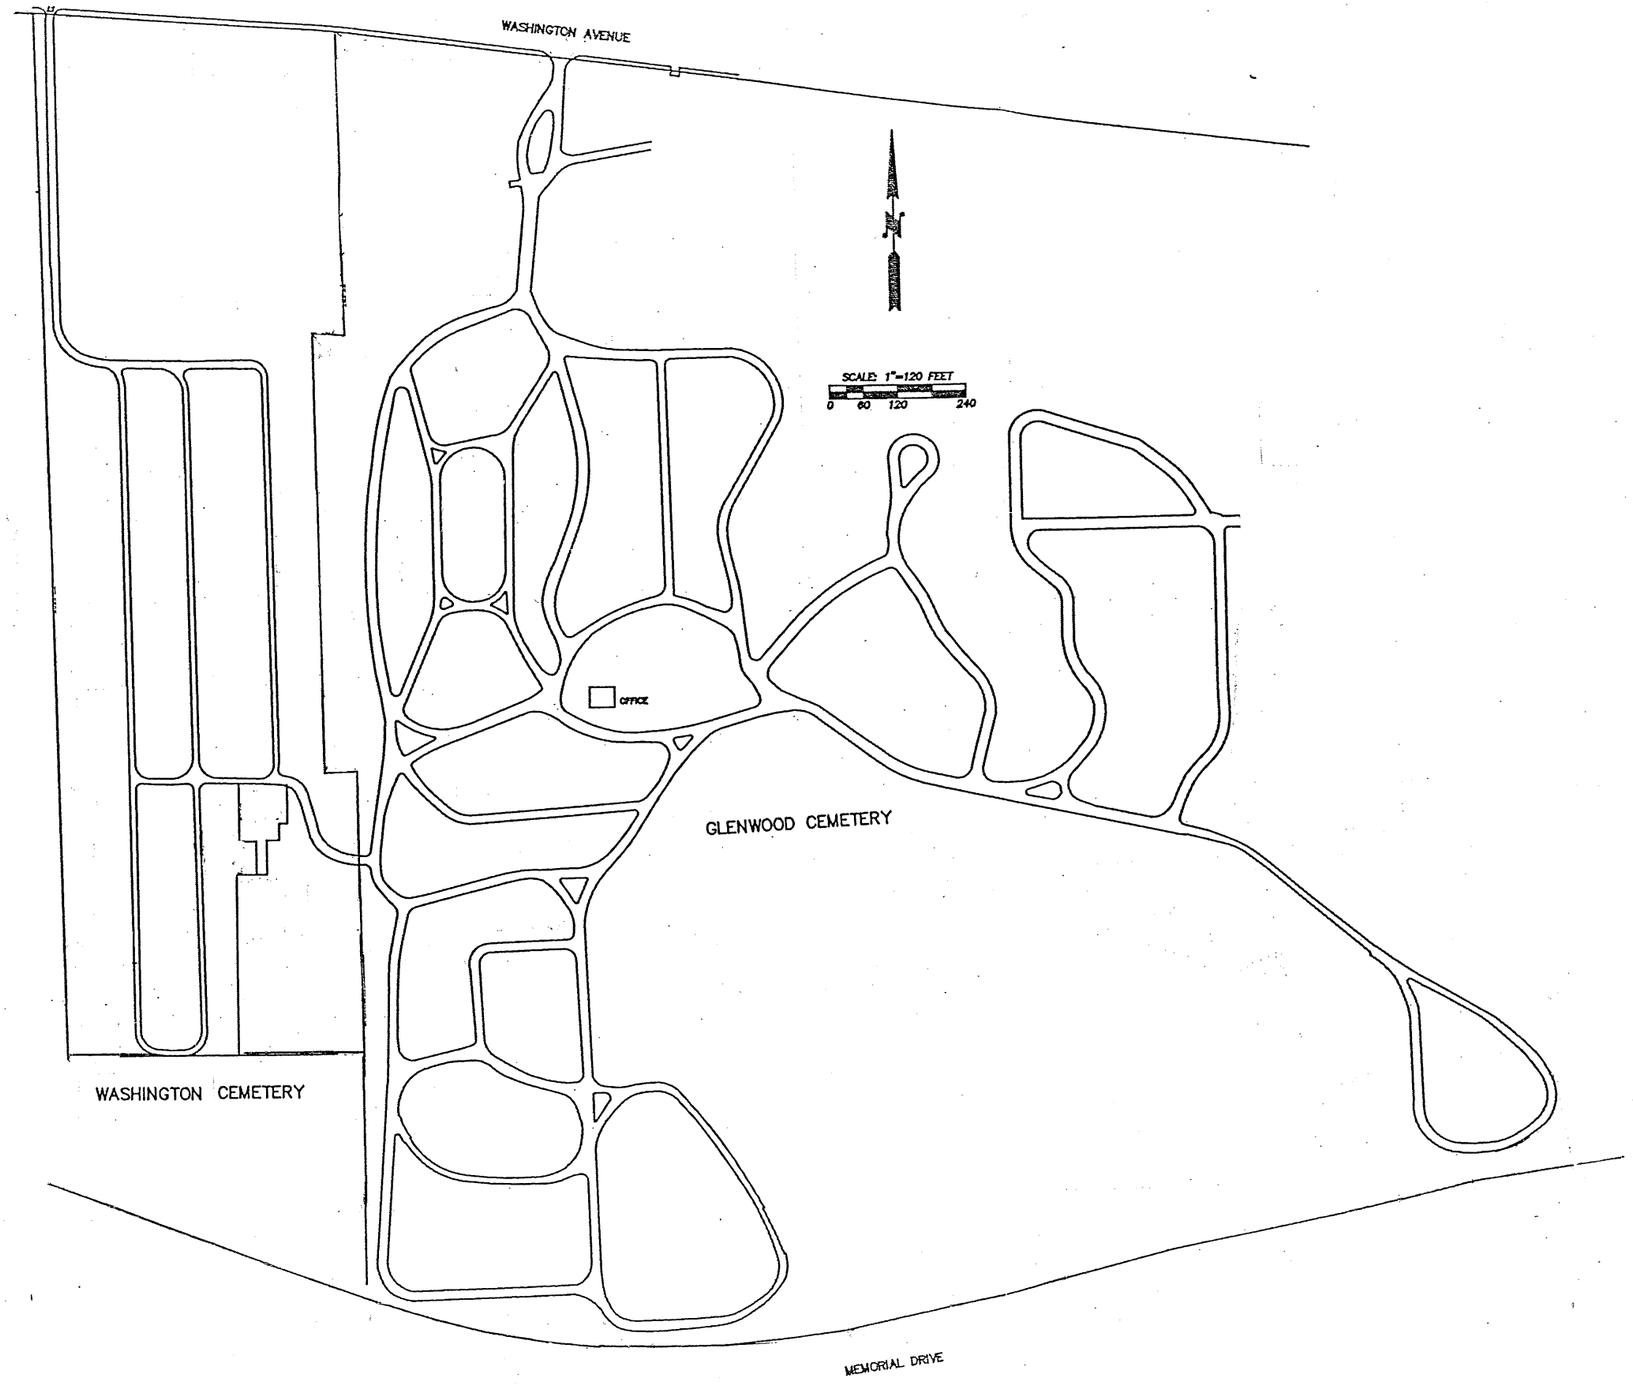

10/25/2004

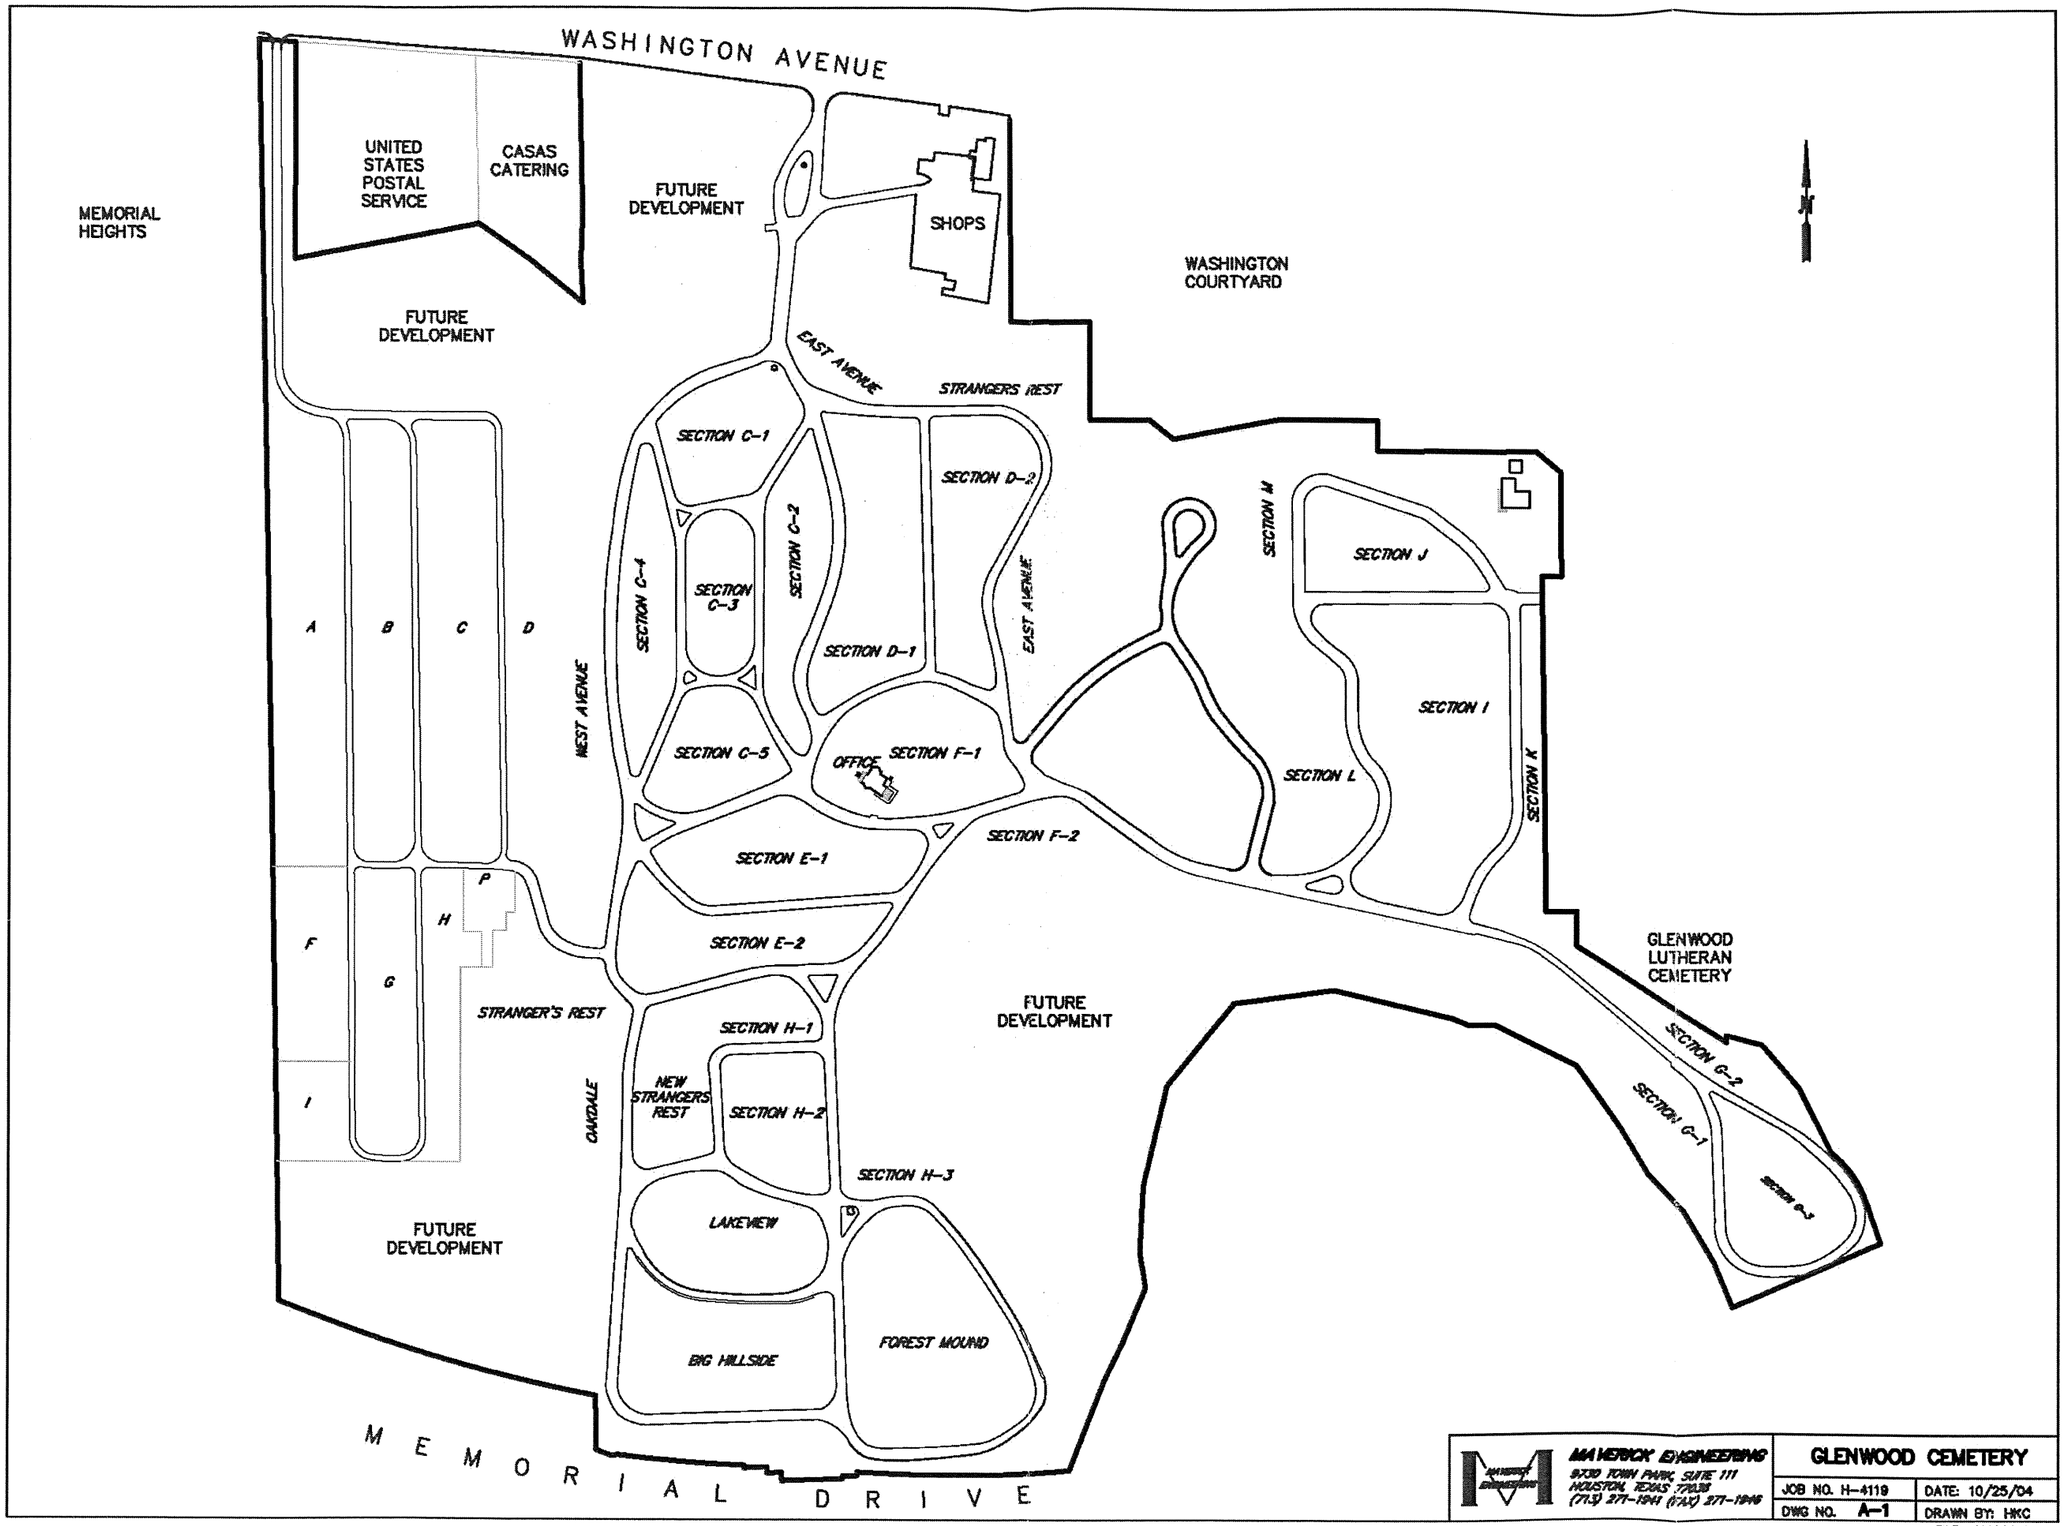

Sort by: BurialDate & LastName

ID	Member	Section	Lot #	LotDescription	Burial Date	Sp#	Mrkr	Salutation	Last Name	First Name	Middle Name	Suffix	Remarks
1714	3736	E	037	N/A			Yes		BRAY	J.	M.
719	3736	E	037	N/A	4/9/1879		No		BARRETT	CATHERINE			INFANT OF
717	3736	E	037	N/A	9/19/1879		Yes		BARRETT	CATHERINE	M.
720	3736	E	037	N/A	5/2/1881		No		BARRETT	CATHERINE			INFANT OF
2586	3736	E	037	N/A	2/10/1882		Yes		COLES	ELIZA
3292	3736	E	037	N/A	3/1/1886		Yes		DAWSON	BARBARA	NILES		INFANT OF REV.
5210	3736	E	037	N/A	10/22/1896		Yes		GRANTHAM	BESSIE		NO
1276	3736	E	037	N/A	5/3/1900		No		BONNEY	JOE
5703	3736	E	037	N/A	7/5/1901		No		HILL	GARNETT			INFANT
6322	3736	E	037	N/A	4/29/1909		Yes	MRS.	HALL	MARION
13967	3736	E	037	N/A	1/3/1913		No	MRS.	HOLMES	LENA

Total Interments: 11

WASHINGTON AVENUE
SCALE: 1"=120 FEET
0 60 120 240
OFFICE
GLENWOOD CEMETERY
WASHINGTON CEMETERY
MEMORIAL DRIVE

WASHINGTON AVENUE
SCALE: 1"=120 FEET
0 60 120 240
OFFICE
GLENWOOD CEMETERY
WASHINGTON CEMETERY
MEMORIAL DRIVE

MAVERICK ENGINEERING
9303 TOWN PARK, SUITE 111
HOUSTON, TEXAS 77036
(713) 271-1941 (FAX) 271-1946

GLENWOOD CEMETERY

JOB NO. H-4119	DATE: 10/25/04
DWG NO. A-1	DRAWN BY: HKC

FILE: 4119A1.dwg

GLENWOOD CEMETERY HISTORIC PRESERVATION FOUNDATION

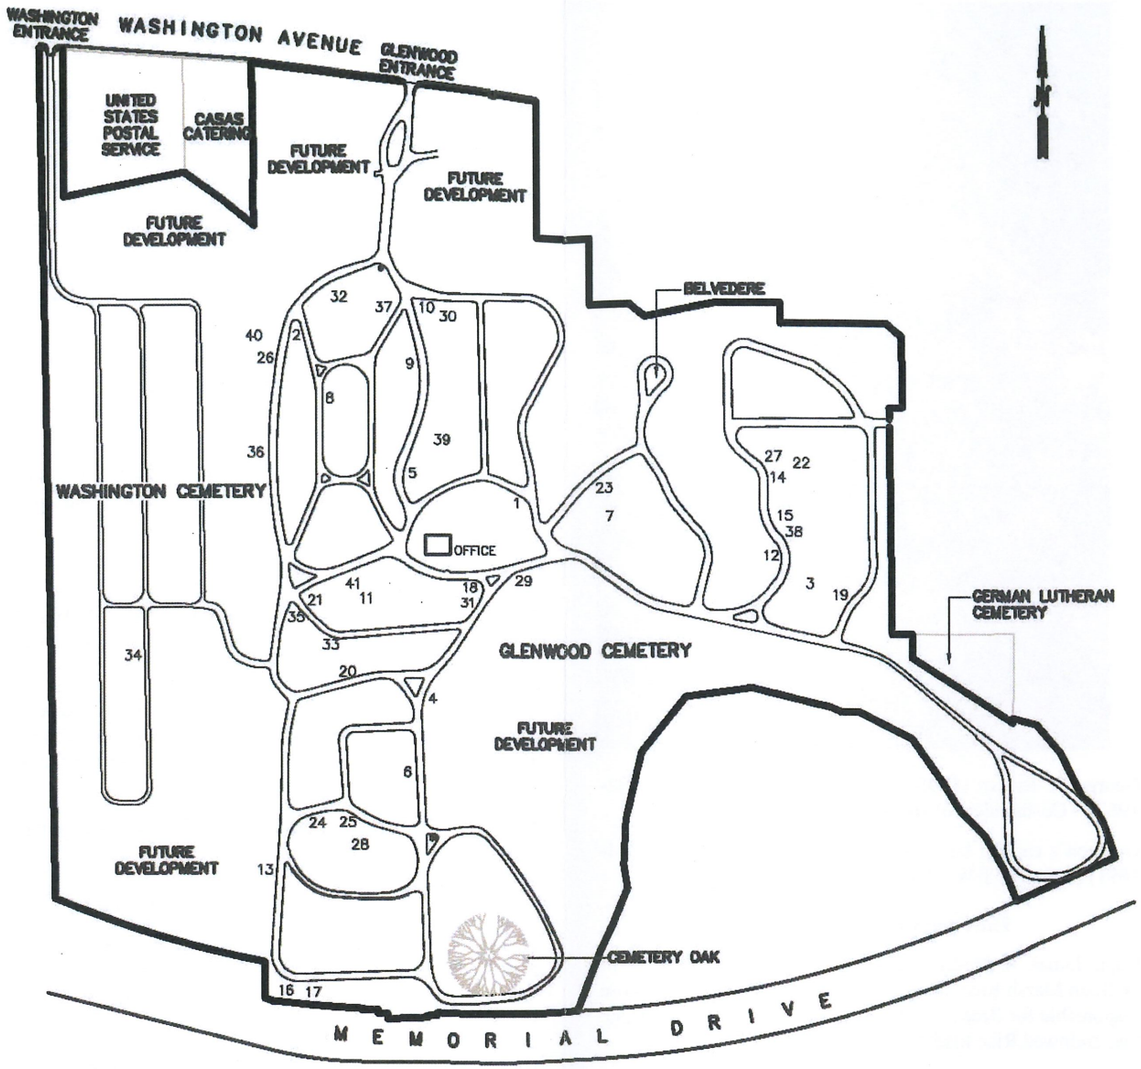

Glenwood Cemetery is a significant historic site. As the final resting place of men and women who have made important contributions to Houston, the nation, and even the world, Glenwood serves as a tangible reminder to modern Houstonians and visitors of the rich heritage of this city. It is imperative that Glenwood be preserved for future generations.

The Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation (GCHPF) was created in 1999 to raise funds for preservation of the cemetery outside the scope of normal operations. GCHPF is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, and gifts to the Foundation are tax deductible to the extent provided by law.

Your tax-exempt donations to GCHPF will :

- Restore and protect beautiful and historic statuary and monuments, many well over 100 years old;
- Provide for erosion control and reclamation to insure the survival of Glenwood as a historic resource;
- Protect and enhance Glenwood's extensive horticultural collection for the enjoyment of generations to come;
- Archive and preserve historic records;
- Document and publish the history associated with Glenwood;
- Build a columbarium/chapel (with name recognition available to the donor); and
- Fund the design and development of the "Bayou Park Section" of Glenwood.

Please consider a tax-deductible gift in support of these important endeavors. Checks payable to the Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation may be mailed to 2525 Washington Avenue, Houston, TX 77007. Credit card payments are accepted by fax (713-864-6429) or telephone (713-864-7886). All gifts are promptly acknowledged.

The numbers on the map correspond to the persons listed on the other side of this page.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and weekends by appointment. The cemetery gates are open 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. every day.

All photographs courtesy of Jim Parsons.

© Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation, October 1, 2004; may not be reproduced in whole or in part without written permission

Glenwood Cemetery

Glenwood's distinctive belvedere was a generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Strange through the Heitman Foundation

2525 Washington Avenue
Houston, Texas 77007
713-864-7886
713-864-6429 (fax)

Glenwood was established in 1871. The grounds were designed by the English-born horticulturist Alfred Whitaker, a prominent 19th-century Houston nurseryman. Newspaper accounts of the day compared Glenwood to well-known romantic cemetery parks such as Laurel Hill in Philadelphia (1836) and Green-Wood in Brooklyn (1838).

The cemetery currently comprises 84 acres, including the adjacent Washington Cemetery (1887) which is now under the permanent stewardship of Glenwood.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886.

Glenwood's Notable Interred

Glenwood is the final resting place of many persons important in the history of Houston and Texas, as well as persons of national and international prominence. Some of them are listed below. The number following each name is keyed to the map on the opposite side.

Statesmen and Elected Officials

Anson Jones (1798-1858) – Last President of the Republic of Texas (#1)

Col. Edward Mandell House (1858-1938) – Chief Advisor to President Woodrow Wilson; negotiated acceptance of Wilson's Fourteen Points that led to establishment of the League of Nations (#2)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) – Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs following WWII; authored The Marshall Plan that averted global economic disaster in the post-war years (#3)

Oveta Culp Hobby (1905-1995) – Organized WAACs during WWII; served in Eisenhower cabinet as first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (#4)

Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., Chief Judge of Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals; United States Chairman of the 1945 Anglo-American commission on settlement of Jews in Palestine (#5)

Texas Governors including William P. Hobby (1878-1964) (#4), Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#6) and James W. Henderson (1817-1880) (#7), plus one Mississippi Governor, Hiram Runnels (1796-1857) (#8)

More than twenty Houston mayors, including John D. Andrews (1795-1882) (#9), T.H. Scanlan (1832-1906) (#10), W.R. Baker (1820-1890) (#11), and Roy M. Hofheinz (later, builder of the Astrodome) (1912-1982) (#12)

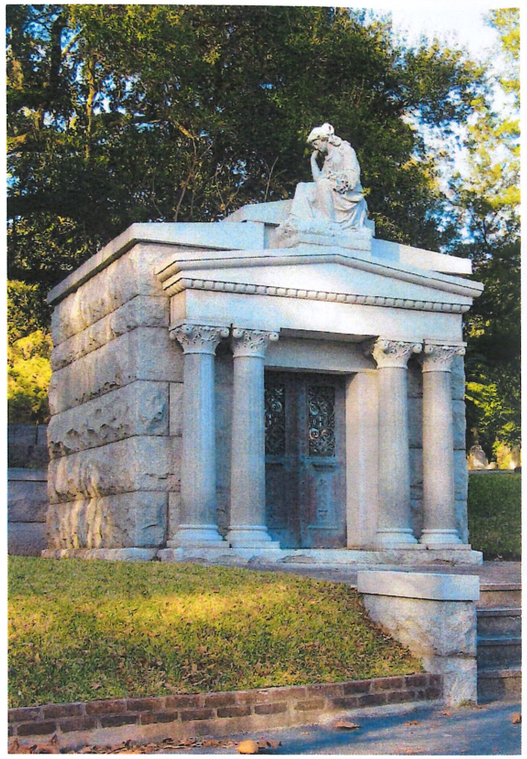

Business and Commerce

Howard R. Hughes, Jr. (1905-1976) – Billionaire and man of legendary accomplishments in business and aviation; also movie producer (#13)

Co-founders of Humble Oil (now part of Exxon/Mobil) including Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#6), W.S. Farish (1881-1942) (#14), Harry Wiess (1887-1948) (#15), and R.L. Blaffer (1876-1942) (#16)

J. S. Cullinan (1860-1937) – Founder of The Texas Company (now part of Chevron/Texaco) and developer of Shadyside (#17)

Glenn McCarthy (1907-1988) – Legendary King of the Wildcatters; built Houston's famed Shamrock Hotel (#18)

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and Herman Brown (1892-1962) – Co-founders of Brown & Root, Inc. (#19)

Houston's earliest bankers, including B.A. Shepherd (1814-1891) (#20) and T.W. House (1814-1880) (#2)

The Professions and Educators

Capt. James A. Baker (1857-1941) – Personal attorney of William Marsh Rice; instrumental in bringing to justice those responsible for Rice's murder in 1900 and saving the fortune that endowed Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#21)

Edgar Odell Lovett (1871-1957) – First President of Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#22)

Some of Houston's finest architects including William Ward Watkin (1886-1952) (#23), John F. Staub (1892-1981) (#24), Kenneth Franzheim (1890-1959) (#25), Eugene Heiner (1852-1902) (#26), and Hugo V. Neuhaus, Jr. (1915-1987) (#27)

Margaret Hunter Kinkaid (1874-1951) – Founder of The Kinkaid School (#28)

Religious Leaders

Rev. William M. Tryon (1809-1847) – First resident pastor of First Baptist Church; erected first church building in 1847 (#29)

Caspar Braun (1822-1880) – Organized Houston's First German Evangelical Lutheran Church in 1851 (#30)

Civil War

Numerous veterans of the Civil War, the most notable being:

Col. B.F. Terry (1821-1861) (#31) and Col. T.S. Lubbock (1817-1862) (#32) - Commanders of the regiment known as Terry's Texas Rangers

Lt. Col. Edwin Fairfax Gray (1829-1884) – Graduate of Annapolis and veteran of Commodore Perry's 1853 expedition to Japan; served in 3rd Texas Infantry during Civil War (#33)

Sarah Emma Edmondson Seelye (1841-1898) - Disguised herself as a man and served in the Union Army during the Civil War (#34)

Pioneers

Charlotte Baldwin Allen (1805-1895) – Wife of Augustus C. Allen and regarded by many as Houston's third co-founder together with the Allen Brothers (#35)

Col. William Fairfax Gray (1787-1841) – Early Texas settler, lawyer and charter member of Christ Church; his diary, From Virginia to Texas, 1835, is a valuable record of the Convention of 1836 at Washington-on-the Brazos (#33)

Margaret Lea Houston Williams (1848-1906) – Daughter of Gen. Sam Houston (#36)

Philanthropists and Community Life

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and wife Alice Pratt Brown (1902-1984), and Herman Brown (1892-1962) and wife Margarett Brown (1895-1963) - Co-founders of the Brown Foundation (#19)

George Hermann (1846-1914) – Frugal millionaire who left his entire fortune for the benefit of all Houstonians in such institutions as Hermann Hospital, Hermann Park, and Hermann Square at City Hall (#37)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) and wife Susan Vaughan Clayton (1881-1960) – Giving of both time and money, major fundraisers for the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston, their legacy includes the Clayton Genealogy Library of the Houston Public Library System, and the Susan Vaughan Foundation which supports many programs that enhance quality of life for Houstonians (#3)

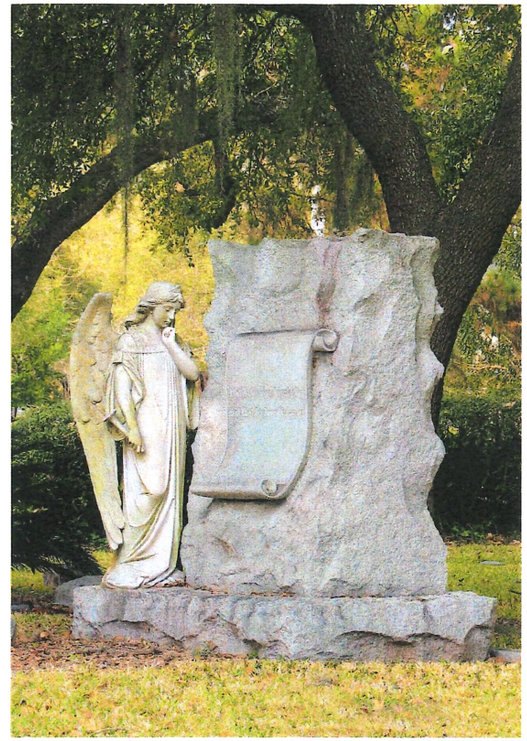

Caroline Wiess Law (1918-2003) – Renaming of the original building of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston in 1998 recognized her decades of generous support, culminating with her final bequest in 2003 of paintings valued at $60-85 million (#15)

Harris Masterson III (1914-1997) and wife Carroll Sterling Masterson (1913-1994) – Generous benefactors of the arts, their home, Rienzi, is now the European decorative arts wing of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston (#38)

Belle Sherman Kendall (1847-1919) (#39), Adele Briscoe Looscan (1848-1935) (#40), and Elizabeth L. Ring (1857-1941) (#41) – Instrumental in establishing a public library for Houston, each has a branch library named in her honor

Hollywood

Gene Tierney Lee (1920-1991) – Best known for the title role in the 1944 film classic Laura; also starred in Leave Her to Heaven, The Shanghai Gesture, and Heaven Can Wait (#18)

Above: One of the more poignant angels of Glenwood Cemetery, her anguish brings to mind B.H. Carroll, Jr.'s description of Glenwood in his 1912 book, Standard History of Houston Texas: "Wealth, moved by grief, has uttered its sorrow in many costly marbles and towering shafts, and many a marble angel with drooping wings broods over the resting places of the dead."

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and wife Alice Pratt Brown (1902-1984), and Herman Brown (1892-1962) and wife Margarett Root Brown (1895-1963) – Founders of the Brown Foundation, a generous benefactor of many Houston institutions (#17)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) and wife Susan Vaughan Clayton (1881-1960) – Giving of both time and money, major fundraisers for the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston, their legacy includes the Clayton Genealogy Library of the Houston Public Library System, and the Susan Vaughan Foundation which supports many programs that enhance quality of life for Houstonians (#3)

Caroline Wiess Law (1918-2003) – Renaming of the original building of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston in 1998 recognized her decades of generous support, culminating with her final bequest of paintings and assets valued in excess of $400 million (#14)

Harris Masterson III (1914-1997) and wife Carroll Sterling Masterson (1913-1994) – Generous benefactors of the arts, their home, Rienzi, is now the European decorative arts center of the Museum of Fine Arts-Houston (#52); the home was named for Masterson's grandfather, newspaper editor and publisher Rienzi Melville Johnston (1849-1926) (#53)

Robert Alonzo Welch (1872-1952) – Oilman; his estate endowed the Robert A. Welch Foundation which has donated millions of dollars in support of chemical research and higher education (#54)

Daniel (1852-1921) and Edith Ripley (1857-1934) – Mr. Ripley, a banker, on his death left a trust fund "for the betterment of the community;" with it, his wife Edith established the Ripley Settlement House, which continues to serve Houston's East End (#55)

Belle Sherman Kendall (1847-1919) (#56), Adele Briscoe Looscan (1848-1935) (#57), and Elizabeth L. Ring (1857-1941) (#58) – Instrumental in establishing a public library for Houston, each has a branch library named in her honor

Hollywood and Sports

Gene Tierney Lee (1920-1991) – Best known for the title role in the 1944 film classic Laura; also starred in The Ghost and Mrs. Muir, The Left Hand of God, Advise and Consent; Oscar nomination for Leave Her to Heaven (#12)

Kern Tips (1904-1967) – For over 32 years, the radio "Voice of the Southwest Conference" (#59)

Cover Photo: One of the more poignant angels of Glenwood Cemetery, her anguish brings to mind the description of Glenwood in the 1912 book, Standard History of Houston Texas: "Wealth, moved by grief, has uttered its sorrow in many costly marbles and towering shafts, and many a marble angel with drooping wings broods over the resting places of the dead."

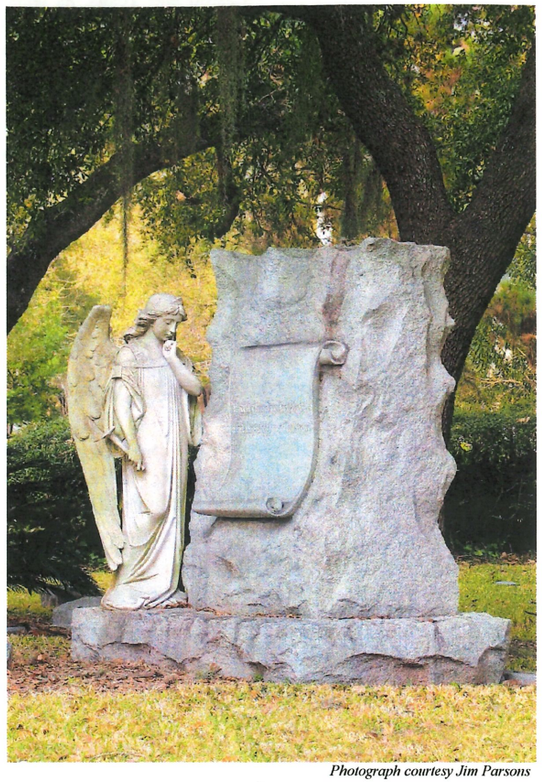

The numbers on the map above correspond to the persons listed in this brochure. The Cemetery Oak, shown near the center bottom of the map, is a live oak (Quercus virginiana). It is recorded in The Harris County Tree Registry, Third Edition as having a height of 64', a trunk 160" in circumference, and a leaf canopy with a spread of 110'. Evidence suggests the tree is approximately 100 years old, but its exact age is unknown.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and weekends by appointment. The cemetery gates are open from 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. every day.

© Glenwood Cemetery Historic Preservation Foundation, February 25, 2005; may not be reproduced in whole or in part without written permission

Glenwood Cemetery

Photograph courtesy Jim Parsons

2525 Washington Avenue
Houston, Texas 77007
713-864-7886
713-864-6429 (fax)

Glenwood was established in 1871. The grounds were designed by the English-born horticulturist Alfred Whitaker, a prominent 19th-century Houston nurseryman. Newspaper accounts of the day compared Glenwood to well-known romantic cemetery parks such as Laurel Hill in Philadelphia (1836) and Green-Wood in Brooklyn (1838).

The cemetery comprises approximately 84 acres, including the adjacent Washington Cemetery (1887) which is now under the permanent stewardship of Glenwood.

Lots are available for sale in both Glenwood and Washington Cemeteries. To inquire regarding a lot purchase, visit the Glenwood office or call 713-864-7886.

Glenwood's Notable Interred

Glenwood is the final resting place of many persons important in the history of Houston and Texas, as well as persons of national and international prominence. Some, but not all, of them are listed below. The number following each name is keyed to the map on the opposite side.

Statesmen and Elected Officials

Anson Jones (1798-1858) – Last President of the Republic of Texas (#1)

Col. Edward Mandell House (1858-1938) – Chief Advisor to President Woodrow Wilson; negotiated acceptance of Wilson's Fourteen Points that led to establishment of the League of Nations (#2)

Will Clayton (1880-1966) – Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs following WWII; authored The Marshall Plan that averted global economic disaster in the post-war years (#3)

Oveta Culp Hobby (1905-1995) – Organized WAACs during WWII; served in Eisenhower cabinet as first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (#4)

Hon. Joseph C. Hutcheson, Sr. (1842-1924) – As State Representative, drafted bill that established the University of Texas; served in U.S. Congress 1893-1897 (#5)

Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr. (1879-1973) - Chief Judge of Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals; United States Chairman of the 1945 Anglo-American commission on settlement of Jews in Palestine (#5)

Dillon Anderson (1906-1974) – National security advisor to President Eisenhower; also award-winning author of short stories (#6)

Texas Governors including William P. Hobby (1878-1964) (#4), Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#7) and James W. Henderson (1814-1880) (#8); one Mississippi Governor, Hiram Runnels (1796-1857) (#9)

Over twenty Houston mayors, including Roy Hofheinz (who would later build the Astrodome) (1912-1982) (#10)

Business and Commerce

Howard R. Hughes, Jr. (1905-1976) – Billionaire and man of legendary accomplishments in business, aviation and film making (#11)

Glenn McCarthy (1907-1988) – Legendary King of the Wildcatters; built Houston's famed Shamrock Hotel (#12)

Co-founders of Humble Oil (now part of Exxon/Mobil) including Ross Sterling (1875-1949) (#7), W.S. Farish (1881-1942) (#13), Harry Wiess (1887-1948) (#14), and R.L. Blaffer (1876-1942) (#15)

J. S. Cullinan (1860-1937) – Founder of The Texas Company (now part of Chevron/Texaco); developer of Shadyside (#16)

George R. Brown (1898-1983) and Herman Brown (1892-1962) – Founders of Brown & Root, Inc. (#17)

Houston's earliest bankers, including B.A. Shepherd (1814-1891) (#18) and T.W. House (1814-1880) (#2)

Paul Bremond (1810-1885) – Brought railroads to Houston in the 1850s (#19)

John L. Wortham (1862-1924) – Co-founder (with his son, Gus S. Wortham) of John L. Wortham and Son, one of the nation's largest retail insurance brokerage and risk services firms (#20)

The Professions and Educators

John H. Freeman, Sr. (1886-1980) – As an original trustee of the M. D. Anderson Foundation, he is credited with co-founding the Texas Medical Center (#21)

Dr. Jack Castle (1922-2002) – Founder of HISD's Children's Dental Health Program, also the Castle Dental Centers (#22)

Dr. Ralph C. Cooley (1889-1954) – Pioneer in restorative dentistry; considered one of the finest clinicians of his time (#23)

Founders of major Houston law firms, including Peter W. Gray (1819-1874) (#24), Col. Walter Browne Botts (1836-1894) (#25), and Frank Andrews (1864-1936) (#26).

Capt. James A. Baker (1857-1941) – Personal attorney of William Marsh Rice; brought to justice those responsible for Rice's murder in 1900 and saved the fortune that endowed Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#27)

Some of Houston's finest architects including William Ward Watkin (1886-1952) (#28), John F. Staub (1892-1981) (#29), Kenneth Franzheim (1890-1959) (#30), J.W. Northrop, Jr. (1886-1968) (#31), Eugene Heiner (1852-1901) (#32), Hugo V. Neuhaus, Jr. (1915-1987) (#33), and Burdette Keeland (1926-2000) (#34)

Edgar Odell Lovett (1871-1957) – First President of Rice Institute (now Rice University) (#35)

Margaret Hunter Kinkaid (1874-1951) – Founder of The Kinkaid School (#36)

Authors and Journalists

B. H. Carroll, Jr. (1874-1922) – Journalist, author, and editor of the Standard History of Houston Texas (1912) (#37)

S. O. Young (1848-1926) – Physician, journalist and author of A Thumb-Nail History of the City of Houston, Texas (1912) and True Stories of Old Houston and Houstonians (1913) (#38)

E. H. Cushing (1829-1879) – Publisher from 1856-1865 of the Telegraph, Texas' early newspaper of record (#39)

Religious Leaders

Founding clergy and founding members of several Houston congregations:

Col. William Fairfax Gray (1787-1841) – Began efforts to organize Christ Church in 1839 (#24)

Rev. William M. Tryon (1809-1847) – First resident pastor of First Baptist Church; erected first church building in 1847 (#40)

Caspar Braun (1822-1880) – Organized Houston's First German Evangelical Lutheran Church in 1851 (#41)

Norman G. Kittrell, Sr. (1849-1927) and his wife Louisa Keyes Kittrell (1849-1929) – Began efforts to organize Trinity Episcopal Church in 1893 (#42)

Edwin L. Neville (1879-1937) and his wife Daphne Palmer Neville (1885-1948) – Endowed construction of Palmer Chapel and petitioned for establishment of the parish that became Palmer Memorial Episcopal Church, a memorial to her brother, Edward A. Palmer (1883-1908) (all at #18)

Rev'd. Peter Gray Sears (1866-1942) – Rector of Christ Church 1905-1926; called to be first Rector of Palmer Memorial Episcopal Church in 1929 (#43)

Civil War

Numerous veterans of the Civil War, among the most notable Col. B. F. Terry (1821-1861) (#44) and Col. T. S. Lubbock (1817-1862) (#45) – Organizers and Commanders of the regiment known as Terry's Texas Rangers

Sarah Emma Edmondson Seelye (1841-1898) – Dressed as a man, she served in the Union Army during the Civil War as a soldier, nurse and spy (#46)

Pioneers

Charlotte Baldwin Allen (1805-1895) – Wife of Augustus C. Allen and regarded by many as Houston's third co-founder together with the Allen Brothers (#47)

Col. William Fairfax Gray (1787-1841) – Early Texas settler, lawyer; his diary is a valuable historical record of the Convention of 1836 at Washington-on-the Brazos (#24)

Col. John T. Brady (1830-1891) – Settled in Harrisburg in 1856; lawyer, legislator, newspaperman, railroad man; Brady's Island at the Ship Channel Turning Basin was part of his land (#48)

The Bering Family – German immigrants who settled in Houston in 1846 and went into the hardware business (several generations buried throughout Glenwood, the earliest at #49)

Margaret Lea Houston Williams (1848-1906) – Daughter of Gen. Sam Houston (#50)

Philanthropists and Community Life

George Hermann (1843-1914) – Frugal millionaire who left his entire fortune for the benefit of all Houstonians in such institutions as Hermann Hospital, Hermann Park, and Hermann Square at City Hall (#51)

Continued on other side . . .