ABOUT BOOKS
 by DeDe Godwin *

Although I have read many books about the turbulent Tudor period in England, I have found none to touch "A CROWN FOR ELIZABETH" by Mary Luke (Coward McCann $10.00).

This is not a social or political treatise, nor the careful facts of an historian. It is the tender and moving story of the three legitimate children of Henry VIII, each of whom was to rule England. There is only one thing wrong with the book: the title, which leads the reader to believe that this is a book about Elizabeth, whereas it is primarily the story of the three children, Mary Tudor, Elizabeth and Edward, and encompasses careful and compassionate accounts of Henry, his wives, and the events of the time, as well as the 30-year quarrel with Rome and the establishment of the Church of England.

Henry VIII at the beginning of the book, in his youth was strong, handsome, domineering, often ruthless, but well able to control England. Of his wives, beginning with Catherine of Aragon, wife of twenty years, and her banishment in order that Henry might marry Ann Boleyn—and the denunciation of the Catholic Church in order that Henry might divorce Catherine, we have a series of portraits of vastly different women, none of whom fared very well except Ann of Cleves.

Then the children: First Mary, daughter of Catherine of Aragon, humiliated after Henry's rejection of her mother and his effort to establish her illegitimacy, becomes withdrawn, arid, but stubborn and unyielding in her loyalty to her mother and her religion. She loves and protects her young brother and sister always, and finally, in her marriage to Phillip of Spain falls hopelessly and pathetically in love with her husband.

Next is Elizabeth, gay and outgoing as a child, until she is involved in a scandal with Thomas Seymour (now married to Katherine Parr, one of Henry's wives). After this Elizabeth becomes lonely and vulnerable. Hardened by adversity, she learned one lesson that she would never forget: that no man was worth the risk of losing her opportunity to rule England.

Then Edward, a child of great beauty, well loved and the hope of England. But at Henry's death, Edward became king when he was only nine years old, and while he showed amazing dignity and authority for so young a child, he was helpless before the ambition of Edward Somerset, the Protector, and his greedy brother, Thomas.

This book is a spellbinder. Mrs. Luke writes with superb empathy and understanding. Marvelous reading!

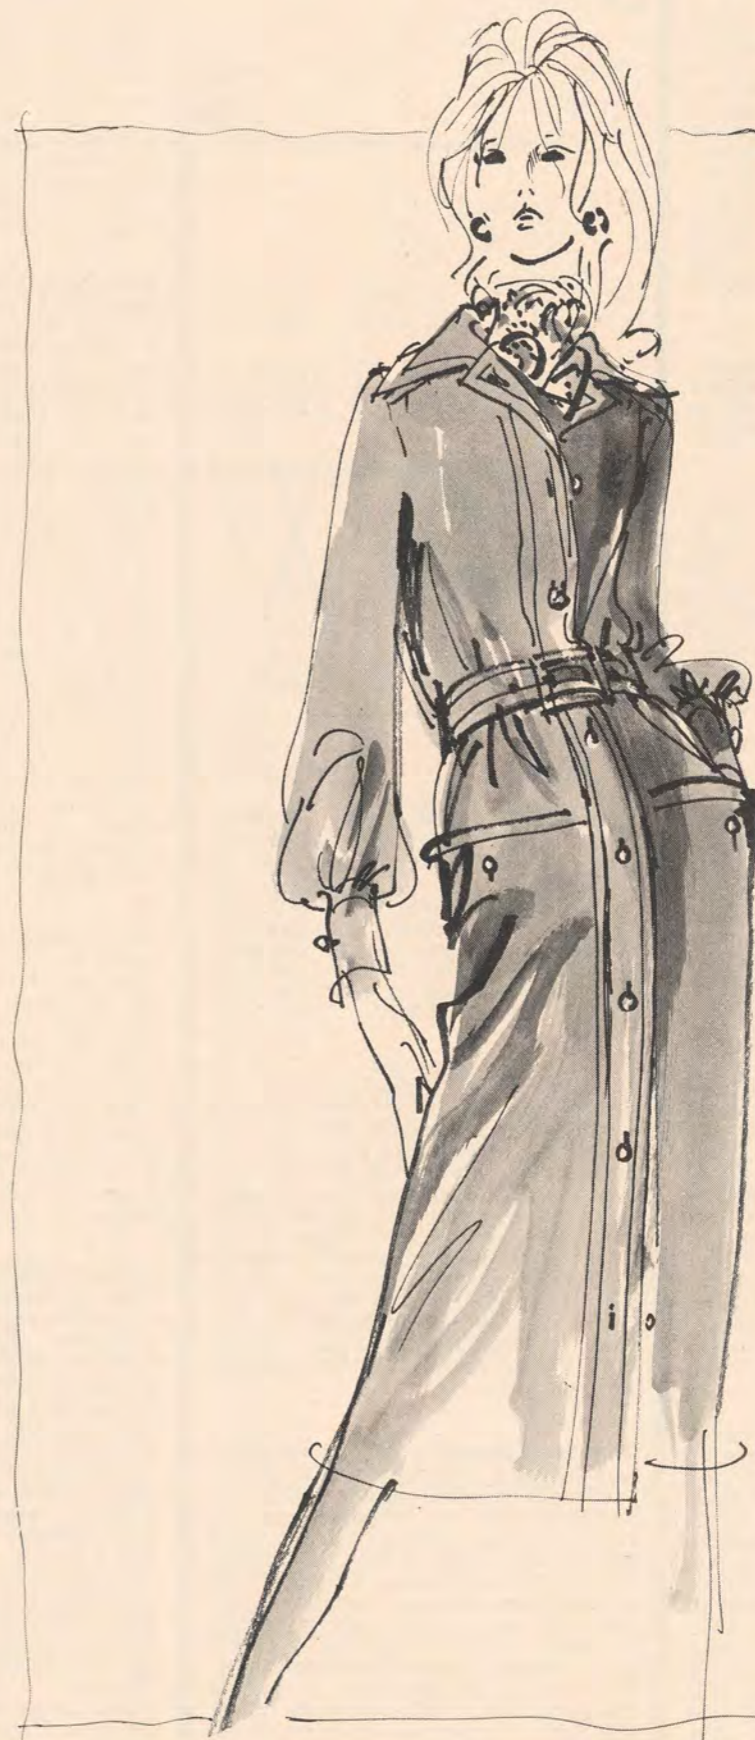

SUSPENSE SECTION

DO NOT FOLD, SPINDLE OR MUTILATE By Doris Miles Disney (Doubleday $4.50), is concerned with the Computer Date racket. This seems to me to offer a vast scope for a suspense novel, but Miss Disney has treated it with a sort of once-over-lightly touch. It is easy reading, and doesn't leave much doubt about the outcome, but pleasant. Very simple fare.

Emma Lathen, whose excellently plotted intriguingly set novels have rated most favorable comment in the Wall Street Journal and other austere financial periodicals, has taken her urbane detective, John Putnam Thatcher away from his natural habitat as senior vice president of the Sloan Guaranty Trust and put him in the Maine woods. And so lost in the transition, Thatcher, hiking the Appalachian Trail, becomes involved in murder, a vacation home promotion, and the past and present wives of the victim. While Miss Lathen uses her usual considerable skill and dry humor, we somehow wish that next time the elegant Mr. Thatcher will return to the Sloan. Very, very good reading, nevertheless.

The name of the book is "PICK UP STICKS" (Simon & Schuster $4.95). Look for it.

"WAKE ALL THE DEAD" by Sarah Kilpatrick (Doubleday $4.50) is a capable suspense item centered around an old cemetery and its secrets, both historical and costly. Sarah Kilpatrick is a comparatively new name in suspense fiction, but she does some nice tricky plotting and good characterization in a thoroughly entertaining way.

HOW I BECAME PRESIDENT OF THE PRECISION GROMMET CORP.

At the annual directors meeting of the Precision Grommet Corp. the former President rose and said:

"Gentlemen of the Board, before I make an important announcement, I invite your comment."

That was my cue to slide into view my secret invention, the Flexible Fuzzword Fabricator. As beautifully simple as the paper clip, the FFF consisted of three columns of words:

- | | | |
|------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| 1. Dynamic | 1. Project | 1. Concepts |
| 2. On-going | 2. Motivation | 2. Options |
| 3. Synchronized | 3. Policy | 3. Frameworks |
| 4. Balanced | 4. Media | 4. Capacities |
| 5. Mobile | 5. Management | 5. Projections |
| 6. Autonomous | 6. Interagency | 6. Functions |
| 7. Multi-faceted | 7. Consumer | 7. Interfaces |
| 8. Computerized | 8. Resource | 8. Units |
| 9. Reciprocal | 9. Authority | 9. Duplications |
| 10. Programmed | 10. Increment | 10. Evaluations |

"Well, sir," I volunteered, "We should keep in mind our dynamic project concepts." This was straight-line utilization of the FFF: a 1-1-1 parlay, yet the president's response was as usual, enthusiastic.

"Brilliant!" he said. "Gentlemen, there is the kind of thinking that brought this young man from stock boy to purchasing agent in three months!"

From the FFF I drew a more complex combination, "In the near term, I would give highest priority to (this, a sliding graph, 3 - 4 - 5) synchronized media projections."

The President beamed. "This lad in the space of a year was promoted to sales manager, to comptroller and to his present position, executive vice president."

The time had come for the most sophisticated output of my FFF: an uncorrelated, uncollated combo, a 5 - 9 - 6. "Moreover, "I said, "we could improve competition with mobile authority functions."

Throwing an arm around my shoulder, the old President said, "Gentlemen, such incisive thinking cannot be denied. As owner of 51 per cent of the stock of Precision Grommet, I have decided that this young man will be our new President!"

And I, for the first time since joining the company, slid my Flexible Fuzzword Fabricator back under the profit-and-loss statement, and made an extemporaneous speech.

I said, "Gee, thanks, Dad."

Pancho Segura, famed tennis professional, has been appointed Director and Professional for the La Costa Racquet Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sommer, new residents at La Costa, entertain his mother, Mrs. Elsie Sommer, of New Jersey, at the La Costa New Year's Eve Gala.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sloan of La Costa, are shown enjoying the New Year's Eve festivities.

Ann Richards, former singer with the Stan Kenton Band, is appearing at La Costa with the Paul Gormley Trio.

LA COSTA

Merv Adelson and Allard Roen of La Costa Resort Hotel and Spa, have announced the appointment of Pancho Segura as Tennis Professional and Director of the La Costa Racquet Club. Pancho, in 1950 and 1952, was the World Tennis Champion . . . and who, in 1958, in a single round robin tournament defeated Gonzales, Hod, Rosewall, Trabert and Cooper, comes to La Costa after 9 years as Pro at the Beverly Hills Tennis Club. While there he taught many entertainment celebrities including Dean Martin, Charlton Heston and George Peppard. He has also been a coach of rising tennis stars. He coached Stan Smith, currently the number one ranked player in the United States, since Smith was 14 years old. Today, Pancho is coaching 18-year-old Jim Connors, number one rated junior and member of UCLA's tennis varsity.

One really knows there is a 'tennis renaissance' when you see Roxie Turpin, La Costa Tennis Directress, putting together tennis matches on the constantly-filled 13 courts. The demand for playing is so great among La Costa guests that the resort hotel is adding 5 more courts and building a tennis clubhouse. The arrival of Pancho, the additional courts and clubhouse, is happy news to Rick Lynch, La Costa Professional, and Roxie . . . both who have worked hard to build tennis at La Costa to its present peak.

After a two-week holiday crowd of 500 to 600 guests per day, La Costa is enjoying a momentary respite before another capacity crowd arrives for the Andy Williams Golf Tournament. ABC Broadcasting is moving into the Hotel in force and reservations have been made by such celebrities as: the Buddy Grecos, Clint Eastwoods, Bob Stacks, Robert Goulets, Mickey Manners and Richard Longs.

An exciting arrival at La Costa on January 25th will be the appearance of Ann Richards, remembered for her excellent singing style when she was with ex-husband Stan Kenton's band. Ann, backed by the Paul Gormley Trio, will begin an indefinite engagement in the Dining Room . . . and, later in the evening, alternating with everybody's favorite . . . Keith Smith, at the Piano Bar in the La Costa Lounge.

SANTA FE HUNT . . .
 OFF AND RUNNING
 IN 1971

The new season opened with a field of 32 at Rancho Rondo. Fine weather and excellent footing offered some good gallops and interest was high with the viewing of a pair of coyotes and several speedy jackrabbits. The coyotes were lost in the brush before reaching the area where they have given us runs before. A punchbowl was set up at about 11:30 and members with picnic lunches sat in the cement bleachers to eat.

The Inaugural Meet at Rancho California gave further acquaintance with the fabulous ranch and was remarkable for the superior footing with good galloping areas. Rancho California hosted the stirrup cup, the punchbowl after the meet and a catered hunt breakfast which we won't forget for quite a while. The West Hills Hunt had its Inaugural Meet at Rancho California in the Santa Rosa area, west of 395. We who attended can promise you even more exciting territory — in fact, to our experience, this is the most suitable territory ever! You'll have to see it to believe it!

RANCHO SANTA FE
 GOLF CLUB . . . bits of news from Richard Newhafer, capable editor of the DIVOT

As the new year starts we want to welcome aboard two new members of the Board of Governors, Dixon Chubbuck and Guy McCorison. At the same time we express our gratitude to Barr Palmer and Bob Loomis for their efforts and dedication over the past years. Apropos of effort and dedication, Ray Ptak, at the last Governor's meeting brought up an interesting subject. Since the Governors sit without stipend Ptak suggested that overall a far better job would be done if each Governor received a small salary — say fifty thousand dollars a year per Governor. This editor hysterically agreed with Ptak but also doesn't think the motion will be carried.

The new President of the Men's Club, Paul Ward, has already placed firm hands on the reins of command. Paul, as most of you probably don't know, gained a measure of international notoriety in 1921 when he became the first man to chin himself.

Since welcomings are in order, we welcome the following new members of the Men's Club — Richard Thorpe, Hatfield Smith, Joe Warren, Stanley Shuford, Douglas Brien, William Hard and Frank Murphy.

Calm waterways and attractive caribbean-styled homes characterize San Diego County's only luxury residential marina at Coronado Cays. The private beach club, seen in the background, with its striped roof is a favorite meeting place for residents and their guests.

CRUISING AT THE CAYS

Coronado Cays, the civic-minded luxury residential marina on the Silver Strand, will host the employees of the Hotel del Coronado at the multi-million dollar community as part of a "get acquainted" program.

The gala event, being called DEL DAY. Activities will include a complete tour of the luxury marina community with refreshments to be served in the Jamaica Village Beach Club.

The guest list will include all of the employees at the hotel. Approximately 400 persons have been invited to attend the event.

The DEL DAY activities have been scheduled in order to better acquaint the hotel's personnel with all facets of Coronado Cays. The residential marina is located 4 miles south of the historic old hotel.

Personalized tours of each of the eight caribbean-styled models, at Jamaica Village will be given. These patio homes and townhouses on display are built on sandy isles in an atmosphere of privacy and elegant living.

After a delightful tour of the residential marina the guests will be escorted to the Jamaica Village Beach Club where refreshments will be served.

The Beach Club is a very popular meeting place for residents of Jamaica Village and their guests. Facilities at the club include an attractive heated swimming pool, sunning area, a private beach, an indoor game room, lounge and entertainment area, and a fully equipped kitchen and serving bar.

Across the waterway from the beach club is Green Turtle Cay, a new and very successful development at the Cays. The homes here are custom-built on landscaped waterfront lots, many of which include private docking facilities.

Many other civic activities are planned for the luxury residential marina throughout the year, including the opening of a new fire station being built in a caribbean theme to compliment the architecture of the homes at the Cays.

Residents of the North County are invited to visit the Cays and explore the secluded waterfront community located within the county.

Datsun isn't the only car that sells for less than $2,000. But, some of those other "under $2,000" cars are bare-bones specials you wouldn't want unless you were desperate for transportation. By the time you add all the extras it takes to make them the kind of car you'd like to own, they can cost more...lots more!

Datsun is different. When we tell you our 510 2-Door Sedan sells for $1,990, we mean the only extras you have to pay for are tax, license, dealer preparation and local freight.

You don't have to pay extra for our all-vinyl, foam padded bucket seats with adjustable headrests. You don't have to pay extra for white-wall tires. You don't have to pay extra for nylon carpeting, safety front disc brakes, independent rear suspension, tinted glass or two-speed electric windshield wipers. They're standard equipment on a Datsun, along with a lot of other niceties. They're all part of the deal at $1,990.

So go ahead. Take a look at the other "under $2,000" cars. But do yourself a favor while you're at it.

Drive a Datsun...then decide.

Country Club Villas at Lomas Santa Fe undergo finishing touches for anticipated mid-March grand opening.

LOMAS SANTA FE COUNTRY CLUB CONDOMINIUM MODELS OPEN IN MARCH

Framing is nearing completion and an opening date of mid-March has been set here for the first four model homes in the Country Club Villas garden condominium complex.

Ted Gildred, president of the Lomas Santa Fe Development Company, said 157 ground-level condominiums are planned along the fairway of Lomas Santa Fe Country Club. Entrance will be off a landscaped parkway paralleling Lomas Santa Fe Drive.

The Villas, in three architectural styles, will be built around landscaped courts in units of 4 to 6. Each court is in a green belt area elevated above the other courts.

The Villas will be built and sold over an 18-month period according to Bob Wilkinson, executive vice president of Lomas Santa Fe Realty.

Wilkinson said prices will range from $39,950 to $49,450 with 90 percent financing available. Both two and three bedroom designs will be offered.

Architectural designs will include Mexican Colonial, Contemporary Spanish and Ranch. Roofs will be either red tile or shake.

Each unit will have a courtyard entrance, patio, terrace and access to the surrounding landscaped green belt. Golf cart trails lead from the Villas to the Lomas Santa Fe Country Club and the Plaza of the Four Flags Shopping Center.

An open-space concept of individual homes, rather than high-rise or overly clustered condominiums guide the concept, Wilkinson said. Courts will have landscaped driveway areas and guest parking. Each Villa will either have a two-car or three-car garage.

Custom features in each Villa will include a fireplace, wet bar, dining room, kitchens with built-ins and carpets.

A management association will provide homebuyers with basic condominium care including, for example, landscape maintenance, exterior paint and repair, insurance and cable television service and lease management.

The Villas will range in size from 1,361 square feet to 1,680 square feet.

Wilkinson said the models will be open daily for inspection about March 10.

Architect for the Country Club Villas is Tucker, Sadler and Bennett, AIA, of San Diego. Builder is Lomas Santa Fe Development Co.

Lomas Santa Fe is a planned prestige community of 1,200 acres overlooking the Pacific Ocean 20 miles north of downtown San Diego, on Interstate 5. North of Del Mar, it touches Rancho Santa Fe on the East and Solana Beach on the West.

The heavily landscaped hillside community has all utilities underground. The country club and shopping center buildings are designed in authentic 18th century Mexican Colonial Architecture.

Country Club Villas will complement the $70,000 to $90,000 custom homes being built across the fairway here in the Isla Verde area.

Wilkinson anticipates the first Country Club Villa move-ins June 15.

the BEAT GOES ON at Lomas

Santa fe

Country Club Villas are condominiums. They are also houses.

Country Club Villas at Lomas Santa Fe are for people who like the idea of a condominium, but who can't find a condominium they like.

For people who want to own a house that doesn't own them, that doesn't demand all sorts of time and money to maintain. For people who don't want a high-rise, who feel "town house" is a fancy name for row house, who want a view of something more than dozens of buildings just like theirs.

Country Club Villas are two and three bedroom individual homes built around courtyard gardens. They're arranged in groups of four to six homes, and designed without a common wall.

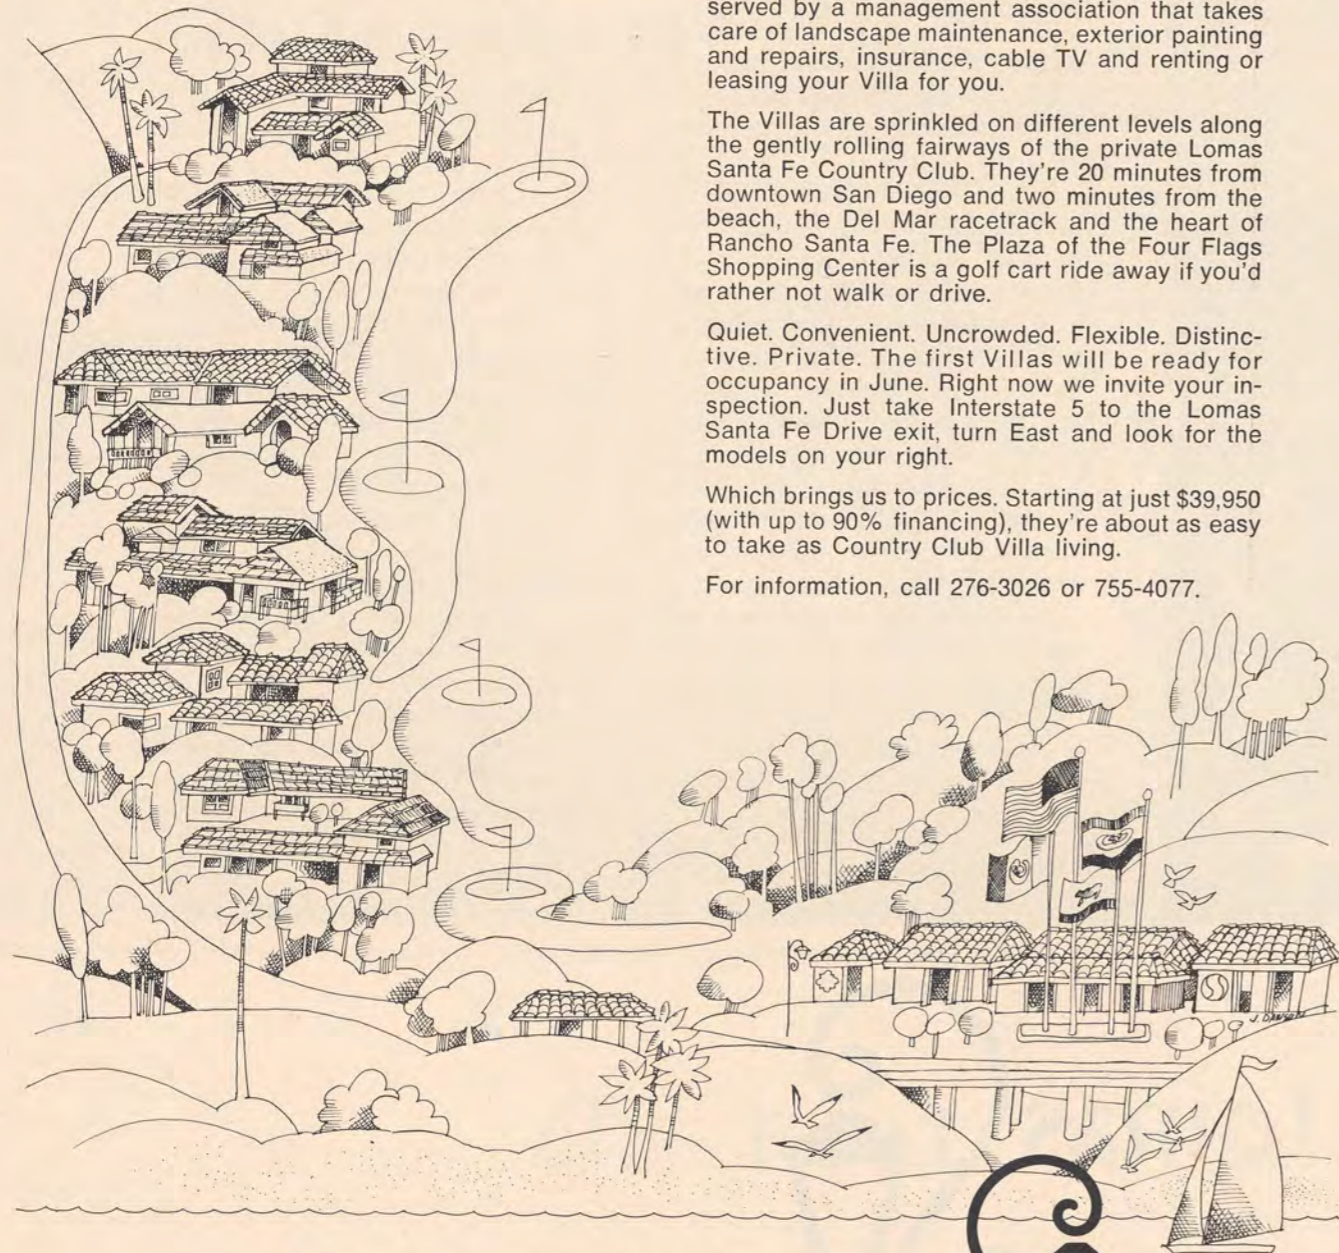

Individual as they are with different interiors and exteriors, all the Villas have things like a private patio, a large fireplace, a dining room, your own laundry area, a wet bar, and a two car garage (except for some with three car garages). All utilities are underground. And Villa owners are served by a management association that takes care of landscape maintenance, exterior painting and repairs, insurance, cable TV and renting or leasing your Villa for you.

The Villas are sprinkled on different levels along the gently rolling fairways of the private Lomas Santa Fe Country Club. They're 20 minutes from downtown San Diego and two minutes from the beach, the Del Mar racetrack and the heart of Rancho Santa Fe. The Plaza of the Four Flags Shopping Center is a golf cart ride away if you'd rather not walk or drive.

Quiet. Convenient. Uncrowded. Flexible. Distinctive. Private. The first Villas will be ready for occupancy in June. Right now we invite your inspection. Just take Interstate 5 to the Lomas Santa Fe Drive exit, turn East and look for the models on your right.

Which brings us to prices. Starting at just $39,950 (with up to 90% financing), they're about as easy to take as Country Club Villa living.

For information, call 276-3026 or 755-4077.

FROM THE OFFICE OF ASSEMBLYMAN JOHN STULL, REPUBLICAN CAUCUS LEADER

This year when the California legislature convened, almost immediately, the halls of the Capitol were full of "flatbeds" and dollies. The great move had begun. Shifting offices is the name of the game when there is a power change and last November's election gave the Democrats the privilege of saying who gets what. In this year when few Republicans are moving to more desirable offices, I was fortunate enough to be elected G.O.P. Caucus Chairman and a suite of offices goes with the job.

An Assembly control shift not only means changes of offices, but desks on the Floor are reassigned by the party in control. As Caucus Chairman, I moved to the front of the Assembly Chamber to sit with the Minority Leader. Strangely enough it seems to take some acclimating, for by choice for two terms, I used to sit on the last seat of the last row. From there all the movement is seen and now the sounds are heard from a different perspective.

So, the history of this significant year of reapportionment has begun to be written in the shifting of offices and the moving of desks. We are in the challenging position of having the Chief Executive of the state from one party and both houses of the legislature controlled by the other. However, as Governor Reagan said in his Inaugural address, "To conclude pessimistically—as some have—that little progress can come from such a situation is to deny the value of the two-party system which has served us so well." Whatever the personal feelings of the legislators, the people of California have thrown bi-partisan, cooperative management of this state squarely into our hands. It's up to us to make the best of it.

NEWCOMERS CLUB

By Ruby Clawson

TURQUOISE, ONCE USED or (MIS-USED) AS A TEST OF FIDELITY was told to the Welcome Wagons Newcomer Club when they met recently at the Bridge Motor Inn, at Ocean-side.

Mrs. Paul R. Geddes of Toledo, Ohio is a poet, author, painter and mother of Mrs. Richard Thomas who lives in Solana Beach, has spent much time researching Gems and Minerals of Biblical Times. Her interest started when she found herself extremely curious about gems and rocks mentioned in the Scriptures and wondered where all the characters of ancient history obtained the jewels and metals they wrote of and how they prepared them for decorations and use.

First, we learn that rocks and minerals were used as tools and soon after minerals were used as pigments for paint. Neanderthal man used them as covering for his body and Cro-Magnon man, 20,000 years ago, painted his cave with these pigments which were first ground, then mixed with water or animal fats.

Turquoise is among the most interesting jewels of the Bible Mrs. Geddes said, because it was considered a rare gem even up until it was found in our Southwest. Traditionally, turquoise was a talisman of love and brought good luck and honor to the possessor but if the owner were in danger or were an unfaithful wife, the color would pale. Many wives were executed whose husbands had bought them cheap turquoise. It is known now, that exposure to strong light will cause turquoise to fade.

Of special interest to Mrs. Geddes is Aarons Breastplate, described in Exodus. An elaborate description of this piece is to be found in the 28th chapter of Exodus. Difficulty in translations have caused confusion, but one thing we are certain of the constancy of the colors of the stones in Aarons Breastplate. These 12 gems have endured as birth stones throughout history.

Gold was first heard of as a valuable commodity in the story of Jason and the golden fleece, but the Egyptians and the Assyrians used this valuable metal to make common tools and utensils. Even in ancient history, however, gold is most often used for decoration or for money. It was most highly prized by the time of Genesis, although it was not coined until the time of King David.

Copper has always been used for tools and was the earliest metal extracted, but its development from crude, pounded copper to cast tools took 2,000 years.

THE MEDICAL FORUM

THE COMMUNICATION GAP . . .

Editorial Board of the San Diego Physicians San Diego County Medical Society

It is with a great deal of pleasure that the Editorial Board of the San Diego Physician, which is the official publication of the San Diego County Medical Society, accepts this request to contribute a series of articles related to medicine for this excellent North County Publication. We would like to thank the editorial staff of your magazine for giving us this opportunity to try and promote a better understanding between the public and the physician. Recent polls continue to demonstrate that the individual physician and his patients have continued to have an excellent inter-personal relationship, but grouped as a profession and on a national level, organized medicine has become the victim held responsible for most of the social and health problems which beset this nation. The professional writer has performed well in supplying this nation with information about the scientific and technical progress made in medicine today. However, the national news and television media have been quick to capitalize and extol our inadequacies, the behavior of the irresponsible few physicians, our monetary gains, etc., which presents a false image for the profession of medicine and might be catalogued as sensational news which sells and makes headlines. Because of this hostile environment, you, the reader, will be able to understand why we appreciate and are eager to have this opportunity to communicate directly with you.

This series of articles will not be the usual format related to the practice of medicine with descriptions of illness and its treatments. We intend to present short, factual articles concerning today's problems facing medicine and the public which accounts for the continued rise in the cost of health care or inadequate health care. Future articles will discuss the medicare-medical program and some of the reasons why they do not fulfill the promises made by the politician. We will discuss malpractice, peer-review concepts, and many other critical problems which the public must understand if we are to avoid continued government and political encroachment into the field of medicine which will invite financial disaster through uncontrolled taxation.

Comprehensive Health Planning will be reviewed and how the entire community is now involved as a partner with organized medicine to develop solutions for many of these problems on state and community levels. We will endeavor to write honest and factual information which should be informative without trying to propagandize medicine's position on these subjects. If we can establish better communications between us, we physicians can help to create the type of medical programs that are in the best interest of all. Through informative communications we, (the reader & the physician) must influence our elected political representatives with suggestions of effective, productive medical programs which will not be such a burden on the taxpayers. We must all share this responsibility of continued increased taxation.

Again we would like to thank the publishers for providing us with such a challenging opportunity to communicate directly with the public. Through this feature we the physicians hope to achieve a better understanding and public relations with you our patients.

MEDICAL FORUM to appear monthly . . .

It has been a privilege to work with the San Diego County Medical Society and Dr. Gordon R. Freeman, Editor of the "San Diego Physician Magazine" to arrange for a monthly presentation in the North County LIVING Magazine. The series will be informative and reflect the interest of the Medical Society in "you" the reader . . . your letters of comment, criticism or request for articles of special interest will be most welcome by the Society. Our fine Doctors did not enter this noble Profession to see what they could "get," but how much they can give to humanity . . . through these articles we will have the opportunity to learn the "give and take" that should be present in a good Doctor-Patient relationship as well as Community and Country teamwork, striving as one for harmony the continued high standards of Medicine America is blessed with today.

Terry Esposito, Medical Forum-Assistant Editor S. D. County Medical Society, Editor

Here and Over Yonder

by T. Nooncaster

Monomania, an excessive concern with or enthusiasm for some one thing, craze, so says Webster in describing a "Monomaniac." Today we simply call them "Collectors."

There have been many notable Monomaniacs throughout history. Catherine the Great of Russia felt an urgent need to give her Empire one of the finest museums in the world. The Czarina was the first to admit that she knew nothing of either painting or music yet bought up collection after collection always paying top prices. In order to achieve her ambition, Catherine was fortunate in being able to count on intelligent and skillful intermediaries wholly devoted to her service.

Knowledgeable collector or just a beginner, there is something for everyone in the Country Friend's Shops in the Village of Rancho Santa Fe.

Forty three pieces of Canton China—it came to America as ballast in a Clipper Ship.

A Chinese chair—made of beautiful rosewood and pegged, circa 1700.

Many fine pieces of Needle Point.

A Chinese Mandarin coat, made with the forbidden stitch.

An Antique Knife Chest, which could be used as a handsome container for yarn.

A beautiful Italian Chest with two chairs, done in a soft shade of blue.

A real find—a collection of snuff bottles.

The shops are open for your pleasure six days a week from 10 to 4.

FISHING AND CASTING CLUB

In spite of the rain and cold, 28 loyal members turned out for the January 12th meeting.

Ray Wofford, past president, gave a summary of activities and accomplishments for the year '70, after which our 1971 president, Dan Galvin, took over the meeting.

Ray was then presented with a fine spinning rod which pleased him very much, as it matched one he already had. Bet Edith will fish more, now. Two new members, Lloyd Butsch and Red Johnson were welcomed.

Door prizes were won by Alex and Harvey Holmes, Mildred Webber, Ethel Cooper, Ottis Walker and Bill Bode.

Thora Boone won the rod and reel, but since she had won one once before, she graciously turned it back for another drawing. It was then won by Elmer Behnke.

Picnics, fish fries, etc., at the picnic grounds are scheduled for April 3rd, May 1st, June 5th, July 13th, Aug. 7th, and Sept. 4th. There will probably be one or two "white elephant" sales, so be sure to save your "white elephants" for those sales.

The rain and cold weather has slowed fishing considerably. Come down every Tuesday. With the warming weather, fishing should be great.

LAKE SAN MARCOS WOMEN'S GOLF

The Lake San Marcos Women's Golf Club launched 1971 at a meeting on January 5 conducted by President Tensie Wyatt.

Second Vice-President (Tournament Chairman) Fritz Rydgren presented the proposed tournament schedule for the year. The President's Cup will be played in June and the Club Championship will be held in October. Once a month there will be a lowputts event. The annual Marie Ross Tournament will be held in February. The Queen's Tournament in October will be followed by a Coronation Dinner Dance. There are four Guest Days scheduled for the year — May 18, July 20, September 14 and November 9.

The Ringer Tournament will start the first Tuesday in February and will run through June.

Membership Chairman Beth Browne introduced the new members.

Pat Vanderbeck and Eddie Ram are in the process of setting up team schedules. Pat is team major for San Diego County and Eddie is team captain for Lake San Marcos. Do you suppose Purple Hearts are available under Women's Lib?

Our Early (Times) Steven played in the La Quinta Women's Invitational and won third low gross. She seldom comes home empty-handed. Early also played in the Pro-Am at Indian Wells with Patty Long, professional at Tucson Country Club and with Jackie Pung, who has left her home course at Mauna Kea. Jackie played with the Santa Margarita group at Fallbrook.

Irene Marcy is touring also — played in the Can-Can Tournament at Canyon Country Club. We are proud to have two such fine players represent our club.

Nothing much to report from our golfing sector this month, what with Holidays, visits to families, plus a general feeling of soporific lassitude that always is present and attendant with recovery. The generous Scotch mists that invaded our general areas did naught to spur our members to assault the somnolent giant (our course) or to attempt to tame it. There it lay, its moist green fairways lying in wait for the unwary, to those who took it in stride there was comfort and solace in its being there, even though your score catapulted you could enjoy it. But easy boy, easy more balmy days are around the corner and once again your game can get hot. This is not to say that there were no winners, to wit; There is always a hardy talented group at every club who can chip away at Par and come up like the proverbial rose.

And so we bid you fond adieu until next printing with promise of more events to tell of, meantime keep swinging, keep changing that grip, smooth that hip turn. Adios till then.

The San Marcos Republican Women's Club held their first meeting of the year on January 4th, 1971 at the Lake San Marcos Recreation Clubhouse. Mrs. Edwin Bulen will again be President and has selected "Dedication to Education" as her project for an off-election year.

Mrs. Volney Bell, Legislative Chairman, gave an informative talk on pollution in regard to detergents used, more information will be given at a later date.

Our January meeting was held at the Lake San Marcos Recreation Lodge on January 18th at 1:30 p.m.

A highlight of that meeting was the lecture by Dr. Dolan, whose subject was "The San Pasqual Zoo." He gave an up to date resume of the interesting things that are taking place in making this zoo ready for its opening.

An interesting part of his speaking, was devoted to the obtaining of animals, and the caring for them after they arrive at the zoo. The zoo will open some time in 1972, and the exact time will be announced later.

Tea and delicious delicacies were served when the meeting was over. Our hostess for the day was Mrs. Lin Colby.

New members since January the 1st are as follows: Mrs. Ernest Wheeler, Mrs. Arthur E. Taylor, Mrs. Frank A. Brown, Mrs. Hugh C. Cordick and Miss Louise Dalrymple. They were welcomed by our membership chairman, Mrs. Niels Webber.

Our monthly board meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Albert L. Varenhorst. Our president, Mrs. Ben Johnson, presided. Events for the next months were discussed, as well as the luncheon and card party. The date for the party is February the 26th at 12 noon. Mrs. Edward Grossman will be chairman for this luncheon-card party. She will be assisted by her committee.

INTRODUCING
Master Colin Duff Crosby

The handsome young man above is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Crosby of Hollywood, and the grandson of our own John and Jean Crosby who operate the popular VILLAGE PANTRY in Rancho Santa Fe. Master Crosby's dad is a theatrical agent — his mom is the talented "Kathy Gail," well-known for her dancing and singing on many TV spectacles.

"Hawaii is the loveliest fleet of islands that lies anchored in any ocean. No alien land in all the world has any deep strong charm for me but that one; no other land could so longingly and beseechingly haunt me sleeping and walking through half a lifetime as that one has done. Other things leave me, but it abides. For me its balmy airs are always blowing, its summer seas flashing in the sun; the pulsing of its surf-beat is in my ear; I can see its garlanded crags; its leaping cascades, its plummy drowsing by the shore; its remote summits floating above the cloud rack; I can feel the spirit of its woodland solitude; I can hear the splash of its brooks, in my nostrils still lives the breath of flowers that perished twenty years ago."

Mark Twain

HAPPINESS IS HAWAII

HAPPINESS IS HAWAII

Hawaii has been called, and with reason, the melting pot of the world. Other cities or countries may number as many racial strains among their inhabitants, but nowhere have these strains been so interwoven and so fused as in Hawaii. People of all nations, races and creeds inhabit its centers and its bypaths. Persons born in Hawaii are citizens of the United States of America; next to being a Hawaiian, the Hawaiian would rather be an American than any other nationality in the world. But he remains first, and proudly, a Hawaiian.

The Hawaiian is believed by anthropologists to have emigrated from the Caucasus to the Society Islands and the Marquesas, and from thence, some eight or nine hundred years ago, to Hawaii. Guided by the stars and his knowledge of the winds and ocean currents, he made the journey from Tahiti to Hawaii over 2000 miles of open sea in canoes hollowed out of tree trunks—a feat of navigation that would give pause even to the saltiest modern sailor equipped with gyroscope and compass. But the Hawaiian was, and remains, a hardy race, at his best always when dealing with the elements—earth, air, fire, and especially water—which his ancient gods gave him.

At the end of his wanderings, the Hawaiian came upon a chain of islands that, eons before, had, from a crack in the earth's surface boiled up out of the sea in a series of volcanic eruptions which, on the southernmost and geologically youngest of the islands—Hawaii—continue even today. This chain of islands, a paradise for those who live there, is also an oasis of tranquility and beauty for those who visit there. Shall we visit? Via Western Airlines, your favorite island is a mere few hours away!

As told to Ruth Giffin by Florence Eerebout, coordinator of THE INVESTOR CLUB, Home Federal Savings & Loan, San Diego.

our beautiful hostess in her minn-muu has greeted us with a smile as bright as the sun gleaming on the wings of our plane . . . we are gliding down the runway . . . we are gathering speed . . . we are airborne!

Our plane lands at Honolulu, on the island of Oahu. There's lots of activity here, but not quite what we are looking for this trip. Our goal, instead is more off-the-beaten track, to old Hawaiiiana, so we take the shuttleplane to Kauai. This beautiful island is only 102 miles away . . . a mere 17 minutes via the smooth DC-9 jets of Hawaiian Airlines.

Fern Grotto visitors to the island of Kauai in the Hawaiian Islands arrive at this lovely Fern Grotto after a short boat trip up the Wailua River. Here, tour drivers sing Hawaiian songs, including the haunting Ke Kali Nei Au. The music echoes off the fern-hung cave.

THE ISLAND OF KAUAI, often called the Garden Island, is considered by many the most beautiful of all. Legendary home of the men-ehumes, Hawaii's "Little Men," Kauai's mystical cloak of things-that-were adds enchantment to its very modern things-that-are. Popular scenic spots on Kauai are spectacularly colorful Waimea Canyon; the lovely Fern Grotto on Wailua River; exquisite Hanalei Valley on the northern shore, and beaches so beautiful that movie producers regularly film them for "South Sea" settings. Excellent resort hotels and sporty golf add to Kauai's attractions.

Kauai has much to offer. If your island days are limited plan to stay at the Kauai Surf Hotel. Snuggled in a protected harbor, it is surrounded by picturesque mountains. Enjoy the delicate beauty of their Oriental Gardens; play golf on the manicured green; swim, surf or sail in the ocean with a magnificent beach for sunning. When sunset flames the sky each evening, the conch shell will summon you to watch the ancient Polynesian torch-lighting ceremony as the Hawaiian men sail into the bay in their outrigger canoes. Since this is cocktail time, most guests plan to board the large Kauai Surf Hotel outrigger in the harbor to watch the ceremony, and to linger as the sky turns from flame to golden hues which darken as the stars appear. When you are ready, there are three restaurants to tempt your appetite, and outstanding Polynesian entertainment to fill your late evening hours . . .

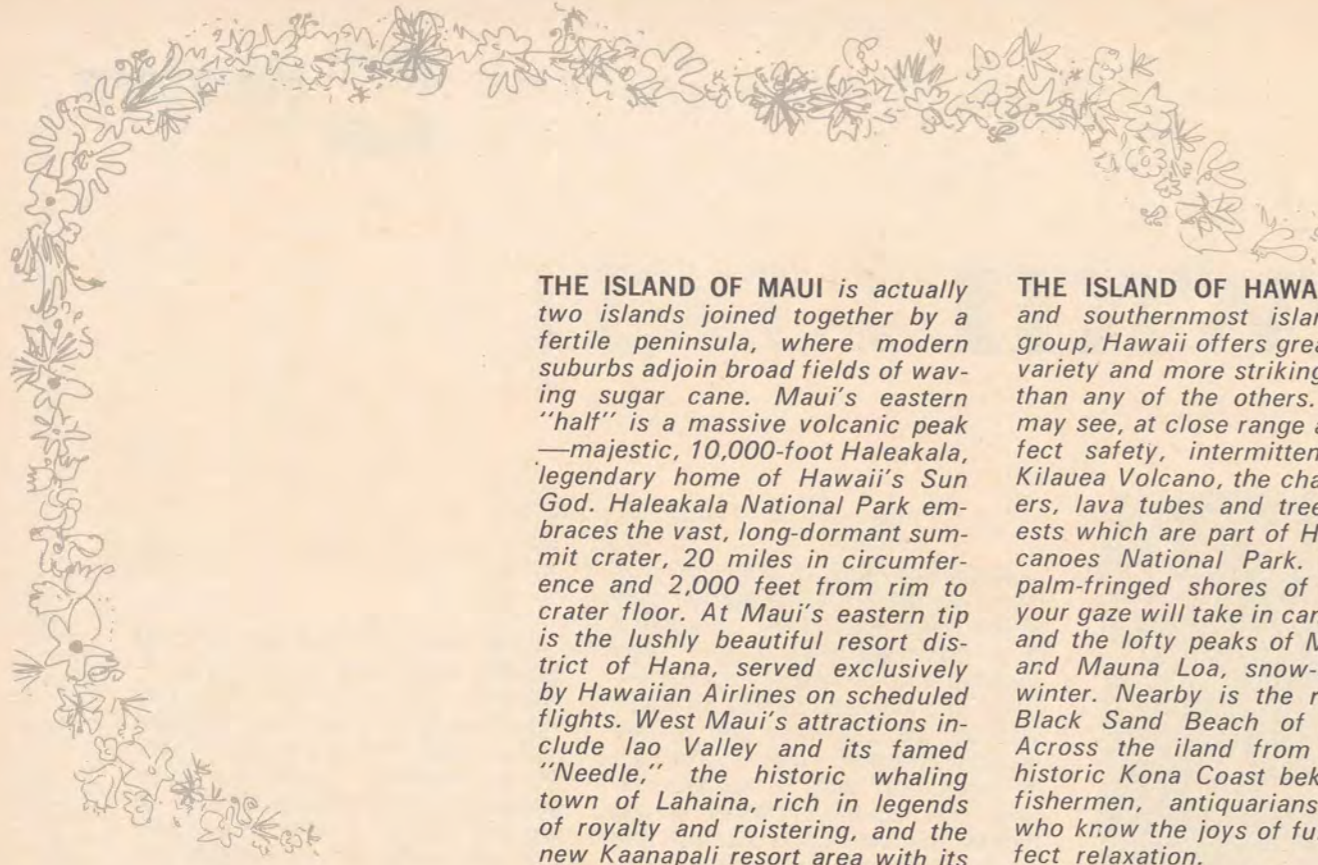

You would rather discover old Hawaiiiana? Then set your course for the windward side of Kauai. You may take a bus, but it's more fun to rent a car, and drive leisurely up the thirty miles of good roads where pineapples grow in abundance, cattle graze in lush fields, sugar cane sways in the light breeze. You pass taro fields aplenty—with rice, papaya, and mango growing abundantly in the beautiful Hanalei valley. Truly this ride to the windward side is glorious! When you approach the narrow bridge you will know that your adventure is nearing its climax. Since the busses are wider than the bridges, only the traveler in his car will be able to cross into the magic of the Hanalei Colony resort on the far side of Hanalei bay. Here is tranquility—peace for your soul! Fifty-five units of rustic charm are very comfortable. There are no phones. There is no television. Just the overwhelming breathtaking beauty of sea and sky . . . with air so clear that you really can almost see forever! Want to dine outside of your cabin? Try (for contrast) the luxurious Hanalei Plantation . . . the Taro Patch . . . the Rice Hill (where the native swing!)—or stay close to your cabin and dine delightfully at the Anchorage Restaurant/Bar right on the beach—just steps away. Feel like a walk? Let's go to the little village of Hanalei, where there are three major points of interest. The fascinating emporium of Ching Young the Grocery Merchant; the post office, and the Bank of Hawaii. Who needs more?

If you are so inclined, you might enjoy exploring the leeward side of Kauai. It is here, at Port Alan, that Captain Cook discovered the islands. Here, also, is the "Grand Canyon of the Islands" . . . the beautiful Waimea Canyon.

Well-known and well-liked is the Cocoa Palms Resort near Opeaha Falls. Also, from the leeward side of Kauai you will be able to see—but not visit—Niihau. This island is privately owned by the Robinson family, and only Hawaiians—no tourists—are allowed to debark.

Today is the day we say a reluctant goodbye to Kauai, overflying Oahu to the Valley Isle of Maui.

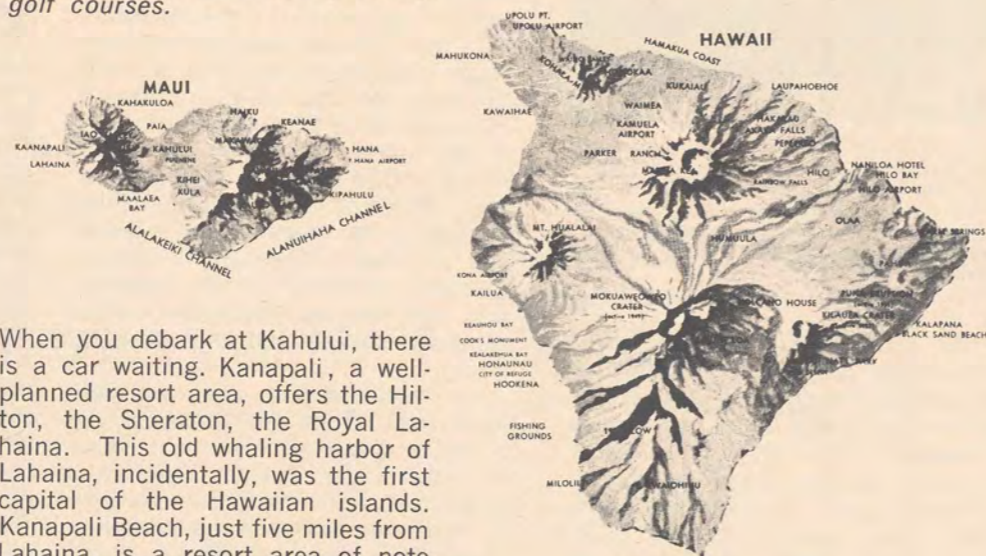

THE ISLAND OF MAUI is actually two islands joined together by a fertile peninsula, where modern suburbs adjoin broad fields of waving sugar cane. Maui's eastern "half" is a massive volcanic peak—majestic, 10,000-foot Haleakala, legendary home of Hawaii's Sun God. Haleakala National Park embraces the vast, long-dormant summit crater, 20 miles in circumference and 2,000 feet from rim to crater floor. At Maui's eastern tip is the lushly beautiful resort district of Hana, served exclusively by Hawaiian Airlines on scheduled flights. West Maui's attractions include Iao Valley and its famed "Needle," the historic whaling town of Lahaina, rich in legends of royalty and roistering, and the new Kaanapali resort area with its superb beaches and championship golf courses.

Haleakala Crater on Maui Island, Hawaii, stands the largest dormant volcano in the world, Haleakala. It is 19 square miles in area, 21 miles in circumference and its rim, more than 10,000 feet above sea level.

When you debark at Kahului, there is a car waiting. Kanapali, a well-planned resort area, offers the Hilton, the Sheraton, the Royal Lahaina. This old whaling harbor of Lahaina, incidentally, was the first capital of the Hawaiian islands. Kanapali Beach, just five miles from Lahaina, is a resort area of note with outstanding golf, beautiful beaches, good restaurants and bars. Of special note is the beautiful Maui Eldorado, an apartment-hotel, Hawaiian style, and a golfer's paradise! And, from here, it's an adventure to drive to Hana where again you will move back in time to the pace of old Hawaiiana. Waterfalls spilling from the mountainside are commonplace. Beauty is everywhere! The Hani Ranch hotel, old Hawaiiana notwithstanding, is posh in elegant simplicity all the same. Interestingly enough, no social dancing is permitted here . . . just the hula. And, yes, they will teach you! And, no, it's really not very hard!

THE ISLAND OF HAWAII. Largest and southernmost island in the group, Hawaii offers greater scenic variety and more striking contrasts than any of the others. Here you may see, at close range and in perfect safety, intermittently active Kilauea Volcano, the chain of craters, lava tubes and tree fern forests which are part of Hawaii Volcanoes National Park. From the palm-fringed shores of Hilo Bay, your gaze will take in cane fields—and the lofty peaks of Mauna Kea and Mauna Loa, snow-capped in winter. Nearby is the remarkable Black Sand Beach of Kalapana. Across the island from Hilo, the historic Kona Coast beckons game fishermen, antiquarians and all who know the joys of full and perfect relaxation.

The big island of Hawaii. The Kona Coast, famous for its coffee; is equally famous for the fact that Captain Cook was boiled on this same historic spot! The Parker Cattle Ranch, stretching farther than the eye can see, is larger than the famous King Ranch in Texas. An agricultural island in the main, this is the only one in the chain with an active volcano. Men enjoy Hilo for the fishing, in particular. Perhaps the most famous hotel is the Mauna Kea mountain and beach resort (a Rockefeller property) which boasts an outstanding display of Hawaiian artifacts.

Always a favorite New Year's Eve spot, this year proved no exception. Ranchoites Mr. and Mrs. Don Spring welcomed New Year's at the Coco Palms Resort Hotel on the island of Kauai in Hawaii. Incidentally, Coco Palms was used as the locale for several Hollywood produced movies including "Blue Hawaii," "Bird of Paradise," "Pagan Love Song," and several more.

Two finger poi, these happy luau feasters are finding out how the proper poi is with one or two fingers, depending on consistency.

The recent Home Federal Savings & Loan week-long celebration entitled "Aloha Week" was an outstanding success! Genial Charles K. Fletcher, Sr., Chairman of the Board, Emeritus; personally flew to Hawaii to purchase bright new muu-muus as gifts for Home Federal employees in the main office and the nine branch offices! Each employee wore her attractive muu-muu to work during Aloha Week, adding a bright spot of color everywhere you looked in every Home Federal Savings and Loan. The Polynesian entertainers, pictured above, performed daily at all branches. To the left of Mr. Fletcher (above) is Vicki Courage, Home Federal staff member, and to the right, Ruth Hunt, assistant secretary of the Savings Department, downtown office.

THE ISLANDS OF MOLOKAI AND LANAI are the smallest of the group and least known to visitors. Goat and deer hunting, in season, are good in the rugged mountains of Molokai's eastern end. Lanai, privately owned and devoted almost exclusively to pineapple culture, displays a model agricultural community in an exotic setting. Both islands are served daily by Hawaiian Airlines, either flight taking just over 20 minutes from Honolulu Airport.

OAHU, the capital island offers cosmopolitan living, superb surfing, historical sites and bright lights in this tropical center of Pacific commerce.

Oahu will hold you spellbound! If you are fortunate enough to visit Oahu in January, Honolulu should be your destination on the day of the opening of the State Legislature. Here you will see one of the most fascinating, unusual and beautiful ceremonies in the world . . . pomp and ceremony at its best. Flowers and leis are everywhere as each island sends a "Princess" to this auspicious occasion, and boys from the King Kamehameha school pay homage to the new government. The King Kamehameha school only enrolls students with a certain percentage of pure Hawaiian blood, and to be chosen to be present at the opening of the State of Hawaii legislature is a high and much coveted honor. The Mormons also have a college on Oahu (The College of the Pacific) and a Polynesian Cultural Center. This is a "must" experience, especially on a first trip to the islands. Actually it's a one-day tour of Polynesia as Islanders from Samoa, Tahiti, Fiji, Tonga, Old Hawaii, and New Zealand demonstrate their unique skills, lively songs and dances — and when evening comes, the entertainment features a spectacular musical revue.

Waikiki Beach is world-famous . . . and if you pass this way, give a thought to an overnight at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, one of the original Island hotels which, although part of the renowned Sheraton chain now, is still operated as close to the old traditional way as it is possible to do today.

Our Western plane

soars into the sky, this time heading eastward. We touch the beautifully fragrant lei which encircles our neck, placed there by a beautiful Hawaiian girl as she murmured "Aloha." We settle back into our seat, fasten our seat belts, ask for a San Diego "Union." We begin to read. Our vacation is over.

Waikiki Beach, thousands of visitors come annually to Waikiki Beach, pictured here from the yacht harbor to Diamond Head. Approximately 150 resort hotels and apartment-hotels are pictured in this area.

Winter Gold in Rancho Santa Fe By Faith Byers

Yellow, yellow, yellow, —
Color of the sun!
Oh, winter-gold Acacia,
What sweet awareness
you've begun!

EDITORS NOTE: With the coming of the acacia blossoms, come the artists! They patiently set up shop on the Village Green, sketching the riot of golden color each with her own interpretation of beauty. To us who live here, the blossoming of the acacias means that winter is over. Spring is close at hand.

38/FEBRUARY 1971

In Memoriam

William Andrew Kraft, resident of Rancho Santa Fe for the past twelve years, passed away on December 26th. He had resided on El Camino Real with his wife, Elizabeth Ruth, since coming to the Rancho from Rochester, New York in 1959.

During these past years Mr. Kraft had been a booster of Rancho Santa Fe never neglecting an opportunity to hail the praises of his community which he loved so much. He and his wife had been land-owners in Rancho Santa Fe for several years before coming to reside in California.

A native of Rochester, New York, William Kraft had been associated with Eastman Kodak Company for thirty-nine years in the development and design engineering of the camera and projector division. He had obtained patents as inventor of basic design for modern development of camera and projector design. In recent years before retirement in 1959, he was Chief Engineer of the Experimental Engineering Department of the Apparatus Division of Eastman Kodak Company. He was a native of Rochester, New York and had attended Rochester Institute of Technology and the University of Rochester in that city. During this over a decade of living, Mr. Kraft with his wife had dedicated his services in assisting his son, the Reverend William A. Kraft, in working with him in the establishment and development of Saint Therese of the Child Jesus Parish in the San Carlos, Del Cerro and Allied Gardens area of San Diego. Mr. Kraft was overjoyed to have seen his son complete the parish plant consisting of church, sixteen-room school, convent, rectory and hall with a debt of over one million dollars completely paid when Father Kraft resigned his pastorate in December of 1969. Mr. Kraft was enthusiastic in assisting his son, Father Kraft, to found a new parish, the Church of the Good Shepherd, to serve the new communities of Los Penasquitos, Mira Mesa and Scripps Miramar Ranch in San Diego. Besides being a benefactor of Saint Therese and Good Shepherd parishes, Mr. Kraft and his wife donated the Saint William Chapel and a transept window at the Immaculata at the University of San Diego where Mr. Kraft's solemn obsequies were conducted by his son on December 29th with entombment at the Kraft Family Chapel at Holy Cross Mausoleum in San Diego.

Besides his wife, Elizabeth Ruth and his son, Father Kraft, Mr. Kraft is survived by his daughter, Elizabeth Ruth Earl and her son William of Arcadia, California and three sisters, Mae Kraft Turner and Louise and Anne Kraft of Rochester, New York. Mrs. Elizabeth Kraft intends to maintain the family home on Camino Real in Rancho Santa Fe.

Murrieta

HOT SPRINGS

BUILDS WILDLIFE AREA

A two acre wildlife preserve, adjacent to the new Lake Murrieta, has been established at Murrieta Hot Springs Health and Beauty Spa, according to Merle Watson, vice president in charge of development.

The wildlife preserve will contain rabbits, ducks, geese and other waterfowl as they appear on regular migratory routes.

Wildlife experts feel that within a short time, other birds — red wing blackbirds, Brewer's blackbirds, yellow wing blackbirds and the various warblers and flycatchers — will find a home at Murrieta.

Small game animals including cottontail and jack rabbits are likely to move into the wooded area.

"We have designated this two acre wildlife area as our small contribution to ecology in the hope that other developers follow suit," said Irvin J. Kahn, president of the massive Murrieta Spa development.

The Murrieta staff utilized the talents of wildlife expert Melville Leven, formerly of Disney Studios, in designing the game sanctuary.

Murrieta's wildlife area will be open to residents of the condominiums or mobile home park for game viewing, bird watching or as a quiet spot to spend time with a loved child.

IS THIS ANY WAY TO RUN A TOUR?

TOUR PARTICIPANTS
 PUSHING THEIR BRAND NEW
 DELUXE AIR CONDITIONED BUS.

Agricultural Study Missions is just what the name implies!

The firm operates tours for growers and their families. This in itself is not unique . . . but the fact that this is a people to people program . . . with all the wonderful ramifications of sightseeing combined with learning . . . has made it a most successful concept.

Don Gustafson, San Diego County Farm Advisor, led the second annual Avocado Grower's Mission. The group attracted not only growers, but packers, ranchers, etc. Larry Freeman, agricultural writer for the San Diego Union was sent along.

After departing San Diego for Mexico City, the group was met by their privately chartered bus. Washroom facilities and a stewardess on the bus . . . was almost a necessity, as the group travelled into roads that the average tourist never gets to see.

After a briefing at the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City by the Agricultural Attache there was a short Orientation Seminar about Mexican Avocado agricultural practices.

The air conditioned bus was then off to Morelia, Patzcuaro, Uruapan, Puebla, Atlixco, Tehuacan, Fortin de las Flores, Jalapa, and Vera Cruz.

The group was hosted by other growers in Mexico and the hospitality shown by the Mexican people in their magnificent haciendas . . . could not be matched.

It is with great anticipation that the study mission awaits the return trip by Mexican Growers. Plans are being made in California to duplicate the program in reverse.

During 1971, growers of Avocados, Citrus, Flowers, etc., will be making these study missions to Australia, Japan, Israel, and Spain. Aside from the learning, good fun and comradery . . . it is a wonderful feeling to know that these tours are a step in the direction of common understanding and appreciation.

WUNDERLICH CONCERT AT ARMY NAVY ACADEMY

Heinz Wunderlich, the distinguished German organist, will appear in concert at the Chapel of Army and Navy Academy in Carlsbad on Wednesday evening, February 17, at 8:00 p.m.

Wunderlich holds one of the most distinguished church music posts in Germany. He is the organist and choir director of St. Jacobi Church in Hamburg, a church that possesses one of Europe's historic organs, the great Arp Schnitger organ of 1693. Organist Wunderlich is custodian of this ancient instrument, and it is fitting that he have such a responsibility.

Heinz Wunderlich was born in Leipzig, the city of Johann Sebastian Bach. His organ teacher was Karl Straube, famous in his day as organist, organ scholar, and director of the Thomaner Choir in Leipzig. As a young artist, Wunderlich lived and worked in George Friederich Handel's native town: Halle, East Germany. It is no wonder that the great tradition of German music has inspired his career from his student days to his present maturity as a widely recognized recitalist, church organist, and professor of organ at the Hamburg State Academy of Music.

For fifteen years East German authorities refused Wunderlich permission to play outside the country. It was not until 1958 and his Hamburg appointment that he was able finally to embark on a completely free artistic career. Since then he has become well-known both at home and abroad as a recitalist on the organ and on the harpsichord as well. He has visited most of the European countries and the United States on a number of occasions for recitals and master classes.

For his concert in Carlsbad, Wunderlich will open with the Prelude and Fugue in F sharp minor by Dietrich Buxtehude, followed by John James' Voluntary. J. S. Bach will be represented in a performance of his Toccata, Adagio, and Fugue in C Major. "Ein Feste Burg" by Max Reger will follow, and Mr. Wunderlich will conclude the concert with his own Organ Symphonie.

This concert, under the sponsorship of Army and Navy Academy and the Palomar Chapter, American Guild of Organists, is open to the public. Tickets are available by mail at the Academy and at the door the evening of the concert.

SWEET ADELINES

by Aileen Millett

Torrey-Pines Chapter, Sweet Adelines, Inc., will be presenting their second annual show on Saturday, March 6th, at 8:00 p.m. in the San Dieguito High School, Encinitas. The chorus will be under the direction of Mrs. Max Pugh and assistant director, Mrs. Don McGowan. The show will feature not only the chorus (who won the small chorus award at regional competition last spring . . . the third time the chorus had entered competition) but will also have chapter quartets and a men's barbershop quartet, "The R.S.V.P.'s" from Los Angeles. Ernie Myers (popular KOGO radio announcer) will be M.C. for the show. "By The Sea" is the show title. Tickets are $2.00 and will be available at the door.

Sweet Adelines is an international, non-profit, independent corporation . . . a barbershop harmony organization for women. Its general purpose is to educate its members in the art of singing four-part harmony, barbershop style without instrumental accompaniment.

The local "Torrey-Pines Chapter" was co-founded by the Late Doris Lynn of Del Mar, and Adeline Waltz (formerly of Encinitas, and now residing in San Jose, Calif.), and became officially chartered on August 17, 1965. The members meet each Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the auditorium of the Earl Warren, Jr. High School, Solana Beach and invite women from the San Dieguito area, who enjoy singing, to attend these meetings and join with the chorus in song and good fellowship.

The romantic era of the proud square-rigged sailing ship is realistically brought back to life at Tom Ham's new $1.5 million Lighthouse Restaurant on Harbor Island in San Diego.

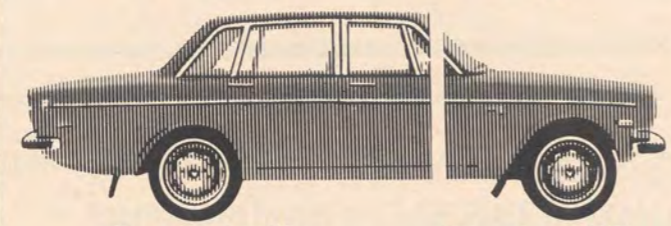

This fabulous showplace, two-thirds of which juts out over the water, was the brainchild of owner, Tom Ham, who also owns the Bali Hai Restaurant located just across the channel on Shelter Island.

Topping the unusual waterfront restaurant is its eye-catching 55-foot high lighthouse, which makes the restaurant's presence readily known from land or sea. The constantly operating navigational aid is a Coast Guard approved beacon.

Being situated on the western end of picturesque Harbor Island, the restaurant offers diners an impressive view of the San Diego skyline and scenic San Diego Bay entrance.

Artist's rendering of the townhomes in Village Park, ultimately a 900-acre, planned community development in north San Diego County near Rancho Santa Fe. Townhomes are near private parks and recreation areas, several of which are planned throughout the development.

country club living at Village Park

You are cordially invited to view the very newest in family homes and townhomes at the recently opened VILLAGE PARK on Encinitas Boulevard, just four miles from Rancho Santa Fe.

Development of the first 109 acres of the community's ultimate 900 acres includes individual neighborhood clusters planned around spacious pedestrian walkways, or paseos, and recreation areas, according to Jack Dimond, Village Park general manager.

Dimond said, "The total proposed community is scheduled to be completed by 1980 with a population of around 11,000 and approximately 3,700 homes and condominiums."

Five townhome plans are offered: from two bedrooms, one bath to three bedrooms, two baths. Townhouses start at about $18,000.

The four model homes offer three, four, and five or six bedrooms, all plans with two baths. Prices for the homes range from about $24,892 to $30,640.

The first community recreation area has a swimming pool, a playground, family picnic facilities, and other park-like areas. The proposed plan for the entire community includes six more similar recreation areas.

"The Village Park concept is that of a price-conscious community located in a country, rural, non-crowded atmosphere," Dimond said.

"Our homes are very attractive to young families and first-time homeowners. Our intention is to provide a quality living environment while offering moderately-priced housing."

Village Park is a development of San Diego-based Avco Community Developers, Inc., and represents a total cost of over $100 million.

Village Park's largest townhome model offers three bedrooms and two baths, has a large, open stairway, and separate dining area. Four other townhome models are offered. The $100-million, planned community is in north San Diego County on Encinitas Blvd., two miles inland from Interstate 5. Sandy Blake of Blake Design, Inc., in Encino decorated the model interiors.

Village Park, in northwestern San Diego County, offers four model homes in addition to five townhome plans. This is the largest home model, a four-bedroom home convertible into six bedrooms. The open staircase and iron railings keep the living area with an open feeling. Village Park's 900 acres are planned around several private parks and open spaces.

The new community is situated inland about two miles from Interstate 5 along Encinitas Boulevard in northwestern San Diego County.

Avco Community Developers is a major builder of master-planned residential communities, moderately-priced housing, and recreational developments. ACDI is a publicly held company listed on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange.

Village Park

GRAND OPENING

Now, country living you can afford!

It needn't cost a fortune to raise your family where green space is abundant, where the neighbors are friendly and where the air is ocean-fresh.

At Village Park it doesn't. We planned it that way.

We began with a picturesque area near Rancho Santa Fe, just three minutes from the ocean, with beautiful rolling hills, fragrant fruit orchards, intriguing country roads and 100-year-old farms.

We added a fine selection of family homes and townhomes with family prices from just $17,495 to $30,640.

The combination is Village Park, a new community we're proud to introduce.

Our exciting variety of houses and townhomes are combined in individual neighborhood clusters, much like the friendly villages of yesterday. The one-story and two-story townhomes, with up to 3 bedrooms, are maintenance-free and as private as you could ever want.

The homes include styles with 3, 4 and 5 bedrooms... perfect for growing families. When you tour our 9 beautifully-decorated models, you'll see all kinds of extras you wouldn't expect in homes so attractively priced.

Village Park streets are like country lanes, many of them ending in residential cul-de-sacs. Parks, a recreation area with playground, pools, and clubhouse, shaded pathways... these all play an important part here, too. They bring back the fellowship of the village green, safe neighborhood walkways removed from noisy traffic and the serene beauty of open space for playing and strolling. In this lovely environment, you'll even forget you're just 25 minutes from downtown San Diego and conveniently close to schools, shopping and major freeways.

Take Encinitas Blvd. off Highway 5, then go east two country miles.

V.A. • F.H.A. • Conventional Terms

We think Village Park is the kind of beautiful place your family deserves. Bring them out this weekend... we think they'll agree.

MINUTES OF REGULAR MEETING OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF RANCHO SANTA FE ASSOCIATION HELD ON JANUARY 7, 1971 AT 9:00 A.M., IN THE BOARD ROOM.

Present: President Lee, Vice President Maas, Directors Bellman, Coberly, Nix, Truesdale, and Wheelock.

Also Present: Secretary Van Evera, Legal Counsel Donnelley, Recording Secretary Butts; Association Members Mrs. Gwendolyn P. Whitehead, Mrs. Florence Day, Mr. & Mrs. John A. Strother, Messrs. F. R. Dallye, Jack Matzinger, Kevin Sweeney, Joe Skibinski, R. C. Bolstad, Realtor George A. Baldry, Art Jury Members Horace Blackman and Hubert G. Larson; Messrs. F. Hammack and F. Jordan.

PUBLIC HEARING

President Lee declared the Public Hearing open at 9:00 a.m. to consider a petition for modification made by Richard, James and Frank Titelman to modify the restriction on the number of building sites in Lot 5, Block 29, from a maximum of not to exceed 10 to a maximum of not to exceed 21 building sites.

The Secretary stated that the requirement for written approval of the owners of record of $\frac{2}{3}$ in area of all of said property held in private ownership within 500' in any direction from the property concerning which a change or modification is sought to be made had been satisfied at one time, but that, since the notice of public hearing had been published and mailed, some of the signatories had withdrawn their signatures of consent to the modification.

Realtor Baldry, representing the applicants, spoke in behalf of the modification and gave reasons for its being granted. He stated his clients would not insist upon 21 sites if the Board felt that 21 was undesirable, but that they would be willing to abide by the judgment of the Board and be quite satisfied with a fewer number of building sites, although it would be inequitable to deny some additional building sites.

THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF THE ASSOCIATION BULLETIN and News

Mr. J. Skibinski stated he had not signed the petition, but that he did not object to a Covenant Modification. Mr. F. Hammack and Mr. J. Strother both stated that they did not object to a Covenant Modification, but that they did object to an increase of such a number of lots. Mr. F. Jordan stated that he objected to any change being made in the Covenant.

The President asked if anyone else wished to speak either in favor of or in opposition to the amendment.

After discussion, Judge Nix made a motion that the petition be denied without prejudice, which was seconded by Director Coberly, and passed unanimously.

The President declared the Public Hearing closed at 9:28 a.m.

PUBLIC HEARING

President Lee declared the Public Hearing open at 9:30 a.m. to consider a petition made by Roswell C. & Mercedes Bolstad for appeal of an Art Jury recommendation for denial of subdivision of Parcel $\frac{1}{4}$, Block 33, consisting of $7.0 \pm$ acres into sites of 1.5 and $5.5 \pm$ acres.

Mr. Horace Blackman, Vice President of the Art Jury, read the recommendation of the Art Jury which is being appealed, and he stated that reasons for making the recommendation.

President Lee asked Mr. Bolstad if he wished to speak in favor of his petition. Mr. Bolstad read a manuscript which he had prepared in order to present all facets of his petition to the Board.

In the course of his reading, he answered questions given to him by various members of the Board.

After discussion, a motion was made by Director Nix that Mr. Bolstad's letter and brief be made a part of the record of this meeting; the motion was seconded by Director Bellman and passed unanimously. It was directed that copies of the brief and letters be furnished all Board members. President Lee asked if anyone else wished to comment on the matter. There was no other interested party present who wished to speak either in favor of or in opposition to the petition.

The Public Hearing was continued at 10:20 a.m. until Thursday, January 21, 1971 at 9:00 a.m. for the Directors to give due consideration to the aforesaid brief and letter.

MINUTES OF PRECEDING MEETING

The minutes of the December 17, 1970 meeting, on motion of Mr. Wheelock, seconded by Mr. Maas, were unanimously approved.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Golf Activities Committee Chairman Wheelock reported total membership at 392; Regular members, 293; Associate, 99.

He reported a Committee recommendation for approval of the Board to accept the bid of Automatic Sprinkler Company to complete the satellite sprinkler system on the Golf Course. After discussion, a motion was made by Director Coberly, seconded by Director Truesdale, to authorize an expenditure not to exceed $15,000 for installation of the satellite system, which was passed unanimously.

Mr. Wheelock stated the Committee felt that maintenance employees may have the privilege, not the right, to use Association equipment to repair their own property, with the Superintendent to be responsible to see that the privilege is not abused. The Board concurred.

Mr. Wheelock stated Association member Mrs. Frauline Macconel had expended $78 for Christmas decorations in the Clubhouse Restaurant. He recommended she be reimbursed by the Association, the Men's Golf Club, and the Women's Golf Club, with each pay 1/3 of the cost. Mr. Maas made the motion, seconded by Mr. Bellman, that the Association pay Mrs. Macconel $26 for Christmas decorations which may be stored and used in the future; approval was unanimous.

House Committee Chairman Bellman reported on the December 14th meeting.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Building Commissioner's Report. November results showed 4 homes completed; 2 permits issued; 21 residences and 1 apartment (12 units) under construction.

The Secretary stated that efforts at mediation in connection with R. C. Bolstad proposed subdivision of Parcel 1/4, Block 33, had failed; hence, a public hearing on the matter would be set for January 7, 1971.

The Secretary read a letter from Mattie Wattis Harris Foundation addressed to Rancho Santa Fe City, enclosing a $200 contribution to be used for the Fire Department. It was the consensus of the Board to forward the check and letter to Chief Fox, sending a letter of acknowledgment to the Foundation.

NEW BUSINESS

Art Jury Appointments. President Lee stated the terms of Art Jury President Kelsey and Alternates Frobes, Larson, and Teetzel would end this month. He proposed that Lowell F. Wingert be appointed a Member for a three year term ending December 31, 1973, and Alternates Frobes, Larson, and Teetzel be reappointed for one year terms ending December 31, 1971. Board approval was unanimous.

CORRESPONDENCE RECEIVED

Correspondence from K. A. Stixrud concerning undesirable conditions of a nearby area was read and discussed. It was determined that the writer be asked to discuss the matter with the Association Manager. On motion of Director Nix, seconded by Director Coberly, the Manager was authorized to take such action as he would deem necessary to alleviate the situation, which was passed unanimously.

FARRELL'S ICE CREAM
PARLOURS JOIN
ECOLOGY PARADE

Even ice cream parlors have joined the crusade for a cleaner environment, with the Farrell's Ice Cream Parlours throughout San Diego County announcing an offer of free ice cream for anybody who brings in aluminum cans.

John Ortman, president of San Diego Farrell's ice cream chain, announced today that Farrell's will make the exchange at 10 cents worth of ice cream for every pound of aluminum cans, which will then be recycled into new aluminum cans by Alcoa.

In addition to the anti-litter program, Ortman announced that the money Alcoa pays Farrell's for collecting the aluminum cans will be used to create a Farrell's Forest, from which free trees will be donated to areas throughout San Diego County. "This Alcoa money will represent a forest of trees, and we'll give them away free to organizations, campsites, and other areas where trees will help beautify the environment. For instance, if a new YMCA is built, we'll provide the trees for landscaping around the buildings," Mr. Ortman explained.

"This will hopefully encourage the general public to keep our city clean and litter-free. I'm sure that many citizens will like the idea of getting free ice cream for their cans, and also knowing that their aluminum cans will be used to buy trees for the San Diego area," said Mr. Ortman.

A large collection bin will be located at the rear of each of the four Farrell's Ice Cream Parlours, where aluminum cans will be weighed and collected. Special credit checks for ice cream will entitle the can collectors to ice cream based on the equivalent 10 cents per pound rate paid to the public by Alcoa's "Yes We Can" aluminum can reclamation and recycling program in San Diego County.

"This is the first time that ice cream has been paid for aluminum cans," said Jack Easton, Alcoa's San Diego "Yes We Can" coordinator, adding, "And this is an excellent example of how businessmen can take an active part in helping to improve our environment. Farrell's costs for their efforts will be returned in customer goodwill and a cleaner neighborhood within which to do business."

"This is an excellent example of how private enterprise can utilize its own business facilities to help us solve the litter problem," said Allen H. Seed, Jr., executive director of Keep America Beautiful, in a statement praising the Alcoa-Farrell's cooperative effort to reduce litter in San Diego County. Also commenting on the new anti-litter approach, Harry LaDou, executive director of the San Diego City and County War Against Litter Committee, said:

"This is the kind of cooperation which exemplifies the spirit of San Diego citizens and businessmen. We commend Farrell's and Alcoa for demonstrating how the free enterprise system can work to improve our city and county."

Farrell's locations are at: 5304 Jackson Drive, La Mesa; 136 Fashion Valley Road, San Diego; 4230 West Point Loma Boulevard, Point Loma; and 481 Fifth Avenue, Chula Vista. Parking is free and hours of operation are 11 a.m. - 11 p.m. on weekdays, and 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

The "Yes We Can" program was started by Alcoa three months ago as a campaign to reduce litter and has collected more than six million cans from citizens throughout the county. Numerous organizations, including the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, YMCA's, Boys Clubs, churches and other civic organizations have begun aluminum can drives to raise funds and clean up litter.

"YES WE CAN," says San Diego Rockets' center Elvin Hayes as he prepares to shoot for the basket, using a bag of aluminum cans. The Rockets are participating in Alcoa's "Yes We Can" project to help solve the litter problem. Anyone turning in a bag full of aluminum cans (10 lbs.) will receive a free ticket to one of 15 selected Rocket home games. Aiding Hayes are, clockwise, forwards Toby Kimball, John Block, John Q. Trapp and Don Adams.

Mary Lou Loomis Wed to Edwin Johnson

The sanctuary of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in historic Sonoma, California, in the Valley of the Moon, once the carriage house for the Spreckles estate, was decorated with orchids and green holiday garlands for the recent wedding of Miss Mary Lou Loomis of Rancho Santa Fe and Hermosa Beach, and Edwin Johnson of Manhattan Beach.

Joined in marriage by the Rev. Hugh Goss, the newlyweds were later honored at a champagne reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Snyder of Mission Highlands, Sonoma, aunt and uncle of the bride. The Snyder's T-shaped supper table displayed ferns on Oriental handmade lace tablecloths, as guests enjoyed a catered supper by candlelight and three-tiered wedding cake.

A stewardess for TWA international and domestic flights, the bride appeared for her wedding in a silk crepe deep pink short dress with overcoat of lace in matching color. Her full five-tiered short veil was made by her mother, Mrs. Robert C. Loomis, and she was given in marriage by her father. Mr. and Mrs. Loomis are residents of Rancho Santa Fe. The bride carried a mother of pearl-covered Bible from Jerusalem, a possession of her late grandmother. Covering the Bible was a spray of white butterfly orchids.

Attending the bride was her younger sister, Miss Cynthia Lee Loomis, who attends Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. Cynthia was attired in a short empire style deep purple velvet gown.

Leland Judd Loomis of Mission Viejo was best man for his brother-in-law.

Mrs. E. Helen Pendleton of Sonoma played selected organ music, while vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. John Mehalich, also of Sonoma.

Newlyweds to reside in Rancho Santa Fe

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Netherton have recently taken up residence in the former Creutz home on Paseo Delicias. This young couple were married on January 10th at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Encinitas, and are well known locally. Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Netherton, genial manager of Grant's Mobil Service in the Village. Penny is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Knapp of Encinitas. The bridegroom is associated with the construction business, and the bride is employed as a cosmetologist at Mr. Rick's coiffures.

Yuletide Nuptials

Poinsettias, white chrysanthemums, and pine boughs set the yuletide mood for the December 18th wedding of Mary Ann Briggs and Timothy Doyle Coker.

Over 350 guests filled the United Presbyterian Church in Solana Beach, and gathered later for the gala reception at the lovely Rancho Santa Fe home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Briggs.

Mary Ann was radiant in a full length lace over taffeta sheath with high bodice, long train and a cathedral length veil. She carried a bouquet of tiny white baby roses and ivy.

The Christmas theme was elegantly carried out in the emerald green velvet gowns of the brides attendants: Maid of Honor, Daphne Anderson of Del Mar; the bridesmaids Cynthia Briggs and Melody Coker, sisters to the bride and groom and Patricia Carlino, a cousin of the bride. The girls' gowns were trimmed in red and they carried beautiful bouquets of Poinsettias. Wendy Flynn of San Diego was adorable as the flower girl dressed in red velvet and carrying a basket of white chrysanthemums.

Timothy Coker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Coker of Chula Vista and he is presently employed by San Diego Gas and Electric. The groom chose as his best man, W. Stuart Alderdyce of Pacific Beach. Bruce Anderson, Robert O. Briggs, Jr. and Wayne Roberts acted as ushers.

A beautiful three tiered wedding cake was a gift to the bride by Mrs. Dick Wiess who baked it herself. Mrs. Wiess was for many years the secretary for the Rancho Santa Fe School.

People, Places and Things

MR. SAHM STOCKS HIS POND ?

No, its not really a whale in the new trout pool at the corner of Del Dios Highway and El Camino del Norte. However, it certainly made Norman Richard Kraus do a double-take one foggy morning on the way to his design office in the village at Rancho Santa Fe. Actually, it was a load of Sycamore trees to be planted on the beautiful new ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Sahn now under construction in Rancho Santa Fe. It seems that the air brakes failed on the huge trailer rig while the driver was trying to determine where to deposit his load. He simply waded out to his truck and drove it out of the pond with no damage done.

IT'S A BOY!

Good news for all the friends of the Tony Meyers of Cardiff (Ranee Rodriguez) was the arrival of a 7 lb, 15 oz. son on January 15th at Scripps Hospital. Mother and son are doing fine. Tony Meyer, one of Rancho Santa Fe's most popular young men, lost his life in an unfortunate automobile accident last summer, and his wife, Ranee, was seriously injured. Everyone who knew and admired this young family are grateful and happy that the baby has arrived — and is thriving and healthy. Ranee and her son now make their home with Ranee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rodriguez, 1636 Debann Rd. in Cardiff. Tony's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meyer of Rancho Santa Fe.

BRUCE-TERMINIX COMPANY

BUG OF THE MONTH
SUBTERRANEAN
TERMITES

Once again the Subterranean Termite swarming season is with us and the termite control companies can expect to receive frantic calls from homeowners whose houses have suddenly become full of flying termites.

Normally, the Subterranean Termite stays out of sight; their nest is deep underground and the workers of the colony come to the surface to feed on any available wood they can find. If there is no wood touching the soil, they will build a mud tunnel across concrete foundations until they reach the wood above. They then work along the grain of the wood being careful not to penetrate the outer layer, until they have reduced the wood to a thin-walled, hollow shell. In houses with concrete slab floors, they will obtain access to the wood above by using the holes where the plumbing drains go through the slab or via cracks in the slab itself, or the joints where two sections of concrete meet. Once above the concrete, they will range extensively through the wood framing of the walls and through the floor and substructure, and it is not uncommon to find them working in the attic area, even in two-story buildings.

At certain times of the year, the colony will produce hundreds of winged males and females, known as "SWARMERS," "REPRODUCTIVES" or "ALATES." These will pack into tunnels or tubes, close to the surface and when conditions are right, that is, on a warm sunny day after some rain, they will swarm out into the air, fly a short distance and then land. They then discard their wings, pair off, burrow into the soil and each pair will start a new colony. Sometimes this swarming place will bring them inside the building and this is when the homeowner starts calling for help. Control of these destructive pests, requires a barrier between the house and the soil, either by physical (concrete), or chemical means, or a combination of both. This is an expert's job, as a partial barrier is about as good as no barrier at all.

For further information, call or write me, TOM WALSALL, c/o BRUCE-TERMINIX, 3645 India Street, San Diego, Calif. 92103. Phone 291-7117.

As the new year quickly turns the corner into the second month, the Old Globe Theatre will offer a variety of entertainment in two theatres. Currently on stage through February 7 in the Old Globe Theatre is the popular comedy hit "Mary, Mary." Flora Richards is featured in the title role of a wife nearing a final divorce, attempting to re-kindle an interest from her husband. As her conventional publisher husband, Bob Kuhne fails to appreciate his wife's bright humor. The couple are brought together by their sharp-tongued tax lawyer, played by Norval B. Rader. To comply with a query from the Internal Revenue Service over past tax returns, the young New Yorkers must verify certain expenses. The husband plans to hastily marry a wealthy jet-setter, played by Jenifer Henn. The romantic trio becomes a quartet upon the arrival of a famed, but fading film idol, played by Chuck Shields of Del Mar. He has written his Hollywood recollections and hopes to have his manuscript published. The handsome screen hero discovers Mary's charms, causing jealousy in her former spouse. All the comic situations were created by author Jean Kerr. Famed as a humorous writer, her popular books include "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," "The Sheep Have All The Lines" and the recent "Penny Candy."

February will continue to be 'frolic' month at the Old Globe Theatre when Noel Coward's "Hay Fever" opens February 28. One of Coward's most popular plays since it was first written in 1925, the Old Globe Theatre production will re-create the period with settings, costumes and acting set in the tone of the brittle farce. Guest Director William Roesch will stage "Hay Fever," scheduled for a five week engagement.

A fun-loving, free-swinging family is the core of Coward's wit in "Hay Fever." A retired actress, her novelist husband and two children have each invited a friend to the country estate for the weekend, without informing anyone else in the colorful, bizarre artistic family. Each of the guests become romantically involved with another family member than the one intended, creating a variety of hilarious situations. All the guests are perplexed by the unpredictable behavior of the hosts. "Hay Fever" will continue nightly except Monday from February 23 through March 28.

A change of mood and style will provide contrast in the Old Globe's production of "The Face of Violence." The American premiere of this probing drama is currently being presented at the Cassius Carter Centre Stage, adacent to the Old Globe Theatre. Philosopher J. Bronowski, a Fellow at the Salk Institute for Biological Studies wrote "The Face of Violence" eleven years ago, though its relevance is universal.

Obsessed with a desire for justice, a young man probes his mind to focus on events from his past which prompt his search. Alone in his quest, he encounters a series of unique characters and bizarre episodes in a montage depicting the many faces of violence.

Dr. Bronowski was born in Poland in 1908 and brought to England at the age of twelve. He was a mathematical scholar at Cambridge University in 1927, though he helped to found and edit a literary magazine. As a scientist he was assigned by the Chiefs of Staff to Japan to write his report on "The Effects of the Atomic Bombs at Hiroshima and Nagasaki." "I have never forgotten the ruins of Nagasaki—this is why I also write about human motives, for example in 'The Face of Violence.'"

PRINCESS CRUISES MANAGEMENT TEAM

Princess Cruises, which was purchased from the Boise Cascade Corporation last month (Dec. 11, 1970) by Stanley B. McDonald, a Seattle industrials, today announced new management appointments.

McDonald, president and general manager of the Los Angeles-based cruise line, said that Raymond E.
 Kusler, active in other McDonald business interests, will serve as vice president. Previously, Kusler had been vice president of administration and finance for Westours in Seattle. Ross V. Waggoner, who has been associated with McDonald for several years, was named treasurer.

Nathan K. Cockett was named assistant general manager by McDonald.
 Formerly field sales manager for Princess, Cockett will report directly to Kusler.

A. Robert Dean, who has been national sales director for the company since 1968, will continue in that post and will be in charge of the overall sales force.

Charles D. Joy, who joined the line last year, will continue as director of advertising and public relations. Pietro Corsi, who had been with Princess since its founding in 1965 and has held various operational positions, was named operations manager.

Arthur Rodney, formerly of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. of Los Angeles, was named controller. Richard McClaren, who came to Princess from Continental Airlines in Chicago late last year as reservations manager, will continue in that post.

Dean announced that Stephen Ma-roney, formerly regional sales manager in Los Angeles, will be western sales manager.

Herb Medrow will continue as midwestern regional sales manager, based in Chicago. John Marino will remain as regional sales manager, based in San Francisco, and Susan Pozzi will continue as district sales manager, based in Seattle.

Princess has general sales agents in other key markets through the representational services of Transportation
 Consultants Inc. of Los Angeles and
 E. H. Mundy & Co. of Miami, Florida.
 McDonald reported that overall business was good. Princess operates the $20 million 420-passenger Princess Italia on year-round cruises to Mexico out of Los Angeles, and on summer sailings to Alaska/Canada out of San Francisco.

THE TOBACCO ROOT GUEST
RANCH IS SURROUNDED BY HISTORY

by Jean Holladay

Turning left onto Mill Street in Sheridan, Montana, you go out of town and wind along dusty Mill Creek Road, the ground rising so gently you hardly realize you are climbing, chokecherries hugging the sides of the road—until you swing down across a little bridge and suddenly you are at the Tobacco Root Guest Ranch nestled at the foot of the Tobacco Root Range, tall and rugged, cradling its secrets of game and of hidden lakes abounding in fish, and everywhere scenes of indescribable beauty, and of history written in its peaks and valleys and gulches.

History surrounds the Tobacco Root Ranch. Roads north, east, south and west lead to exciting adventure reliving the past—of the early days of our country—days when men like Lewis and Clark set out into unknown territory at the instigation of President Jefferson to find the source of the Missouri River. In 1805 they discovered the confluence of the Jefferson, Madison and Gallatin Rivers which became the Missouri and this now marks one of the most important of the west's historical sites, the Missouri River Headwaters Monument. The Lewis and Clark Cavern, underground wonderland shaped by nature is also a few miles away.

In 1862 John White made Montana's first pay discovery at Grasshopper Creek and Bannack came into being, now a ghost town. It brought to fame such men as Henry Plummer, its Jekyll-Hyde bandit sheriff. Robbers Roost, headquarters for the Plummer gang is on the way to Virginia City, just a few miles from the ranch.

Gold was discovered at Alder Gulch and Virginia City was born. Today you can relive the past here where buildings have been restored and presented in interesting ways; the opera house where an evening of melodrama is presented, the blacksmith shop, the saloon, the general merchandise store stocked just as it was in the 1850s, and the assay office, all show dramatically what life was like when the west was won.

Today also, Bob Holladay, great great nephew of Ben Holladay, who owned the Overland Express, owns and runs a gold mine just three miles from Tobacco Root Ranch. Here you can see the ore put on the feeder belt and dumped in the hopper, carried to the ball mill where it is mixed with water and ground to a specific size to become slush, then on its way to the classifier and finally wending its way over the tables where the precious metals are caught in the gold cloth and in the riffles of the separator table, the tailings spilling on to the tailing pond.

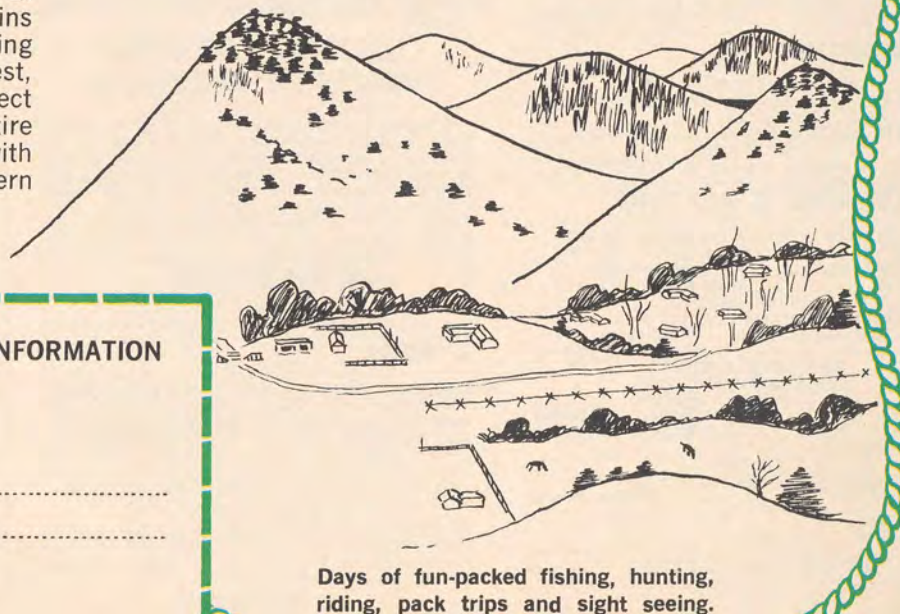

Butte, the largest open pit mining operation and richest hill in the world is just an hour away, and also the Anaconda smelter, the largest mineralogical laboratory in the world which has the world famous largest stack.

History truly comes alive at the Tobacco Root Guest Ranch! You can while away the hours watching for mountain goats on the rocky crags above; take to the trails on horseback for cookouts and fishing and hunting; absorb the incredible beauty of the unspoiled mountain world; or you can go back in history and see what life was like in the exciting early days of our wonderful country.

A vacation this summer you'll never forget, at

TOBACCO ROOT GUEST RANCH

Surrounded by the beauty of the Tobacco Root mountains and close to many exciting scenes of the historical west, you will find this a perfect vacation spot for the entire family. A working ranch with all the conveniences of modern living.

Days of fun-packed fishing, hunting, riding, pack trips and sight seeing.
