In Memoriam

JANE DOUGLAS WHEELER

Jane Douglas Wheeler, a longtime resident of Rancho Santa Fe, passed on quietly in her home June 15th.

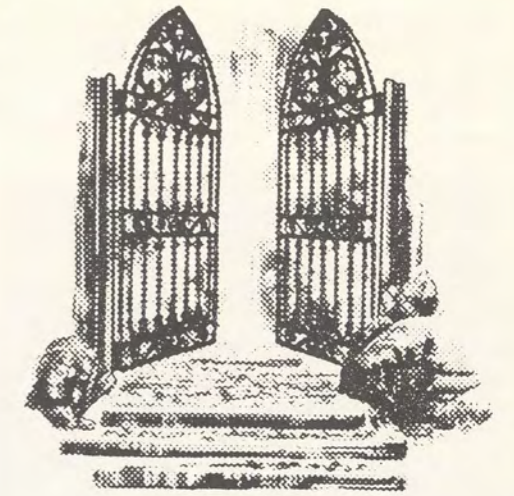

She had spent her early years in Tennessee, and moved to North Carolina after her marriage.

Together with her husband, Elliot, and two children, Tony and Brenda Holzhauer, she came to The Ranch twenty-two years ago.

Her talents in flower arranging were legendary and many Garden Club and Library Guild activities were made more beautiful because of her gift. More recently, she had been supplying the flowers for the library building.

Through her gentle and loving nature, many were blessed in knowing her and will continue to be blessed in recalling these qualities.

In addition to her son and daughter, she is survived by her daughter-in-law, Sue, and three granddaughters. The family has requested that, if desired, memorial donations may be sent to the Rancho Santa Fe Library Guild.

The 1968 Del Mar Derby provided one of the most thrilling finishes of the season, with four horses winding up within a half-length of each other at the end of the mile and one-eighth classic. Prince Hemp and Glory Hallelujah deadheaded for the victory, with Fiddle Isle third and Skookum fourth. The race will be presented August 24 this season.

The 30th season of Thoroughbred racing at Del Mar will "break from the gate" Thursday, July 24 with nine races presented daily, Monday through Saturday, until Sept. 11. Post-time is 2 p.m.

One of the many reasons Del Mar is so popular with horses and horsemen alike is the convenient access to the cool waters of the nearby Pacific. Here, veteran trainer Farrell Jones takes one of the many stars of his powerful stable for a dip in the ocean.

Thirtieth Annual Season

BY EDDIE READ,
ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC RELATIONS,
DEL MAR RACE TRACK

THOROUGHbred RACING in the Del Mar manner comes back to the seaside for the 30th annual summer season, opening July 24 and continuing to a grand climax on Sept. 11. The forthcoming 42-day whirl is again expected to draw its usual complement of top class runners and leading riders shooting for the more than $1,600,000 in stakes purses.

Since its inception in 1937, Del Mar has held a unique posture in the "sport of kings." It's a place to relax and combine the vacation atmosphere with an afternoon of the most exciting of all sports competitions.

Nineteen stakes carrying a record $340,000 in value will highlight the Del Mar program. All of the traditional features will be renewed and the former Inaugural Handicap on opening day has been given stakes status this summer. It will be named the San Diego 200th Anniversary Handicap, in honor of San Diego's year-long celebration. Fillies and mares with a penchant for speed will be asked to go six furlongs in the San Diego 200th and a top class lineup of distaff stars is expected to answer the starter's call.

The anticipated $100,000 gross Del Mar Futurity, richest event of the Del Mar season, will be the closing day headliner and decide the 2-year-old championship of the Far West. It will be remembered Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Kanowsky's Fleet Allied sped to a new stakes record of 1:08 1/5 in annexing the 1968 Futurity. Some 198 now 2-year-olds are among the eligibles for this year's renewal, presaging another contest of championship caliber.

Leading up to the Futurity will be five other stakes for the 2-year-old division—the Junior Miss, Graduation, California Thoroughbred Breeders Association Sales Stakes, the Futurity Trial and the Del Mar Debutante. The latter affair, for fillies, will reach the $60,000 plus figure when it is presented on Aug. 30.

Labor Day, which falls on Monday, Sept. 1, will be Del Mar's biggest day from an attendance standpoint and it features the 30th renewal of the $30,000 Del Mar Handicap for stakes stars at a mile and one furlong. This is the oldest and usually the most competitive of all the stakes races at the seaside course. And it annually attracts a stellar field. For example, last season Louis Rowan and Wheelock Whitney's fine California-bred gelding, Quicken Tree, was the winner over one of the best fields in the history of the holiday classic. The son of Royal Orbit blazed the nine furlongs in 1:46 2/5 to set a new track record and equal the world mark for this distance. He defeated such fine performers as Fiddle Isle, Rivet, Glory Hallelujah, Dizzy Babe, Pretense and Vale of Tears in his remarkable effort. A few weeks later, Quicken shipped to New York and quickly captured two of the great distance classics on the American Turf—the Manhattan Handicap at a mile and a half and the Jockey Club Gold Cup at two miles. The rider, on all occasions, was controversial Bill Hartack (of Majestic Prince fame), who, incidentally, will be back at Del Mar this summer for the fourth straight year.

Racing on Del Mar's famed infield turf course continues to grow in popularity with upwards of three events a day on the sod throughout the meeting. Four of the 1969 stakes are on the grass, including the Del Mar Oaks, for 3-year-old fillies; the Cabrillo, for 3-year-olds and upward and a prep for the Del Mar Handicap; the Osunitas, for fillies and mares, and the nine furlong Escondido Handicap, for older horses.

Midway of the season, the famed Del Mar yearling sales, sponsored by the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association, will draw the spotlight of turf interest from all over the nation. Some 200 yearlings—100 colts and 100 fillies—are slated for the auction block on three nights—Sun., Mon. and Tues., Aug. 17-18-19. The class of stock to be offered will be the greatest in the sixteen year history of this vendue, which first came to Del Mar in 1954. It will offer brothers and sisters to such famed stakes performers as Don B., Title Game, Kings Favor, *Pardao, Y Flash, Chiclero, No Host, Leisurely Kin and a host of others.

And as a social highlight just before the sales, the second annual Thoroughbred Ball, sponsored by the San Diego Society for Retarded Children, will be held at La Costa Country Club on Friday evening, Aug. 15. Judging from the success of the inaugural of this affair last summer, the repeat performance will be a smash hit in every regard. Many of the regular Del Mar turf clubbers, as well as distinguished horsemen from all over Southern California and other areas, will be in attendance at the ball not only for a great evening of fun and frivolity, but to aid a most worthy cause.

Quicken Tree placed his name in the Del Mar record books in 1968 when he won the prestigious Del Mar Handicap in world's record time of 1:46 2/5 for a mile and one-eighth under jockey Bill Hartack.

The 1969 meeting begins Thursday, July 24.

Consumers
Santa Fe Irrigation District

Dear Consumer:

EIGHT MONTHS TO GO! In early 1970 the filtration plant will be complete and we will be able to perform another requirement of an ideal water supply. We will be able to remove all the silt and deliver a clear, colorless water.

The most important requirement of a drinking water is that it be free of bacteria and harmful minerals. This is now being done in accordance with the requirements of the California Department of Public Health. Constantly, water samples are collected throughout the system and are tested to insure that the water is healthful at all times.

The water now has a cloudy appearance due to silts which are insoluble minerals that have no harmful effect. At present we are operating a settling process which removes 90% to 93% of the silt. However, the remainder can still be seen and detracts from the appearance. The filtration plant will remove the balance of the silt.

The facilities necessary to filter the water will be jointly owned and operated by the Santa Fe and San Dieguito Irrigation Districts. The cost of these facilities is $5,000,000.

In early 1970 you will be able to enjoy a water that is not only healthful but one that is pleasing in appearance.

Yours very truly,

SANTA FE IRRIGATION DISTRICT

James S. Tolley

EDITOR'S NOTE.

The unusually heavy Spring rains have put more water in Lake Hodges than it has had since 1951 which was the last time that water overflowed the dam. Santa Fe Irrigation District and San Dieguito Irrigation District, who both draw water from this source, estimate that at the present rate of our consumption we have about a one and one half years supply even when considering evaporation loss and no further rain. However, some consumers have expressed concern over the very cloudy appearance of the water in the lake and at the faucets in their homes. We asked the Managing Engineer, James S. Tolley about it and suggested that he share his reply with our readers which we reproduce here.

Golf Playing Privileges for Corporate or Trust Ownerships

The Secretary reported that the Association Legal Counsel had given the opinion that a corporation or trust may designate by letter to the Association the person who shall be entitled to golf playing privileges as an Association member, and further, the person so designated need not be the same person as the individual who is authorized to vote. After discussion, it was moved, seconded and unanimously passed that the Secretary be authorized to accord annual golf playing privileges at the Association member rate to Messrs. Herbert Hall and John Ochiltree for the properties for which they have been properly designated to exercise the voting privilege. Further, the Board directed that each corporate or trust designation would be treated on an individual basis.

SELLERS — GET MAXIMUM EXPOSURE!

If you have property for sale in Rancho Santa Fe, do not be misled by your own misunderstanding, or inuendo, into signing any "EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO SELL" contract. You should fully learn and understand what you are signing, and the practical effect.

You may be told that all brokers can "cooperate" and sell your property in spite of an "exclusive" contract, —but will they?

There is no "MULTIPLE LISTING" service here. Many brokers feel that, in lieu of such a service, any seller will get better action with maximum exposure, by listing with all brokers on an "OPEN" listing basis, with each office selling with full responsibility and reward.

Time and experience have proven that Real Estate professionals can do a better sales job than most sellers can do on their own. This is especially true here.

It is only natural that you will get more and faster action with the greatest possible exposure. So before you tie your property up with any "EXCLUSIVE" listing, learn the facts from any local broker. We will be glad to explain the "OPEN" listing service to you, compared to "EXCLUSIVE" and "MULTIPLE" agreements.

Don't let the sales parade pass you by—competition is the name of the game!

SAN MARCOS ART LEAGUE

Graceful Art by Grace Minot

The San Marcos Art League continues its meetings through the Summer, on the third Monday of each month, 7:30 at the Lodge.

We are hoping to have an all around artist, Maxine Beatriz McCulley, from Palm Springs give the demonstration for August. Mrs. McCulley is famous for her portraits in oils. She has painted portraits of Art Linkletter, Linda Darnell, Jean Hayes and two daughters and wife of Jackie Gleason. She also gives lectures on Art at different Art Galleries.

There will be a social time, and refreshments will be served.

LAKE SAN MARCOS GOLF CLUB

Green Fees by Junius Oldham

It's high time our Men's Club shows some compassion toward the guest golfer who plays LSM for the first time. It took us six months to learn how to play the course, so why not give the poor guy a break.

Our typical guest has a 15 handicap, a fast back-swing and a lot of vacation money. We invite him to play our little old course by the Lake. He stands on the first tee and looks at the wide fairway, with the adjoining 9th fairway and no out-of-bounds between. This is his dish because he's inclined to be a little wild. He declines to take the usual adjustment of one stroke a nine for local knowledge, and, in addition to the Nassau, he wants individuals, greenies and birdies. All is set and he is concentrating on the article he read last night by Eric Monti on "Trim the fat shot off your game."

We should be ashamed of ourselves. This is pure larceny.

To show that the Men's Club has some of the milk of human kindness in their veins, we are publishing the following tips for first time guests:

On the courses you play, you can run approach shots on to the greens. Our greens are elevated with soft perimeters. Swallow your pride and take enough club to go all the way. Remember all holes are not dog leg left.

Hole No. 3. Play it all the way in the flat part of the fairway as a routine par 6. A 15 handicapper will usually end with an 8 if he tries to cut the dog leg.

Hole No. 4. Use an old ball.

Hole No. 5. Use a driver. You're not going to get to the trap. Note: If you should hook behind the rock, you can move the rock aside as "loose impediment," without penalty.

Hole No. 6. That walnut tree is the most beautiful tree in California. Avoid it like the plague.

Hole No. 9. Don't stop for refreshments or you will have some 9 hole ladies in front of you, and they don't give.

Hole No. 13. Use your own ingenuity. No one here has solved it yet.

Hole No. 16. An easy par 5. Incidentally, there's a small lake at the olive tree.

Hole No. 19. We're sorry about your bursitis. Tell us more about the 87 you had at Pebble Beach.

SUN SPOTS

by Dorothy L. Ohde

Members of Sun Park and their guests enjoyed a Fourth of July picnic dinner on July 3rd with Mrs. Fritzie Rydgren as hostess and her committee consisted of Mrs. Louise Riley, Mrs. Mickey Hopkins, Mrs. Dorothea Grauch and Mrs. Dorothy Seagrigh. Before dinner outdoor games were played.

After dinner Bernice McCandless, Social Chairman, introduced the guests and also Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sampel and their daughter who are now residing here.

The Casa Grande Mobile Homes shuffleboard team from Escondido and our team enjoyed a game together on July 1st and on July 7th all of the "Friendly Shufflers" are having a picnic at Oceanside and will have play-off games.

Mrs. Bernice McCandless has invited all Sun Park women to a coffee hour on July 14 at the clubhouse to discuss plans for the balance of the year.

The canasta and bridge players have enjoyed four and five tables of cards each week with a different hostess serving each time.

The Archie Sallees have just returned from a very enjoyable trip up to Fairbanks, Alaska. They were gone for six weeks, had wonderful weather and saw a lot of beautiful scenery.

WOMENS' FELLOWSHIP

by Josephine Polvick

The hot dog, and bake sale, of the Friendly Service group of Lake San Marcos held on the Fourth of July at the resident picnic was a huge success. This group meet each Tuesday in the clubhouse at 10 a.m., it is open to all ladies at Lake San Marcos, and there is something for everyone to do to help in this worthwhile work. At present beautiful scrap books are being assembled from Christmas cards, these are presented to shut-ins, also dresses for the Indian children, and we need workers with ideas to help with our boutique to be held in November. We need jewelry, so do come and visit us some Tuesday at 10 a.m.

LAKE SAN MARCOS WOMEN'S GOLF CLUB

Putt Putt by Marcie Chace

The Lake San Marcos Women's Golf Club held their general meeting June 3rd at which time one of our newer golfers, Lucy Burns, captured the silver award for the lowest net score during May—total 215.

56 women entered a "Best Front or Back Nine" event—23 won. Class "A" was won by Eddie Ream, Ruth Sharp second and Vee Skaff third. Other winners were Early Steven, Irene Garnjobst and Fran Brindle.

Eve Lortie was first in Class "B"; Alice Werner second. Jeanne Crandall tied Liz Thompson for third and fourth place and Lucille Anderson won fifth.

June Kassebaum placed first in "C" Class. Tied for second and third were Dorothy Newcom and Fran Christian, Myra Nielsen fourth and Al Prosser was fifth.

A 35 placed Agnes Brence first in Class "D." Other winners, with ties, were Jean Olson, Helen Renn, Vernon Brockett, Penny Penegor, Helen Burr and Marcella Nickerson.

The Santa Margarita Women's Golf Association held a field day June 5th—which was a shot-gun start—at La Costa. Winners from our Club included Early Steven, Vi Morse, Irene Marcy, Vee Skaff, Vi Hughes, Verle Barger, Eddie Ream, Lucille Anderson, Jennie Ashworth, Minnie Harn, Alice Werner, Mary O'Conner, Thea Wilson, Ruth Sternberg, Marie Carter, June Kassebaum and Grace McCann.

June 10th was our qualifying day for all women golfers eligible to compete in the Club Championship tournament. Match play, in flites of eight, was held the 17th and continued the 19th and 20th. (The 18th was MENS day . . .) Championship flite was played at scratch while the others were at handicap levels.

Medalist winners over the field were Early Steven, low gross, and Ruth Sharp low net.

Scheduled for the same day was a "Selective Nine" event which was won by Eddie Ream in the first division. Tied for second and third were Pauline Pifer and Fran Brindle—Tensie Wyatt was fourth—Vee Skaff fifth.

First, second and third place in the second division was shared by Grace Saylor, Vivian Frazar and Millie Grisamer while Minnie Harn was fourth.

Third division winner was June Kassebaum — Al Prosser was second — Nadine Pferdner third and Fran Christian fourth.

Jean Olson won in the fourth division while a three-way tie was divided between Vernon Brockett, Agnes Brence and Waldon Staudé; Mary Givins was fifth.

June 20th will be a day long remembered. Everyone—golfers and non-golfers—were so interested in "who will be our next Champ" that they gathered all the carts available to follow two gracious and fine golfers, Early Steven and Irene Marcy. An exuberant gallery followed the duo (Early was our Club Champion last year and Irene the year before). A fantastic turn of events happened when Early had Irene 6 down at the end of 10 holes. Irene came back to tie her on the 18th green—they tied the 19th and Irene, our new Champ won on the 20th green . . . what beautiful golf (and concentration) was executed by these lovely ladies.

John Jurus, our Pro, presented the winners and runners-up their prizes at an awards luncheon after play. Winner of the first flite was our president, Vee Skaff, second Fran Brindle, third Grace Saylor, fourth Olive Taylor, fifth June Kassebaum, sixth Dorothy Lee and Vernon Brockett was seventh.

Runners-up, in order, were Geri Enochson, Eddie Ream, Vivian Frazar, Marcie Chace, Nadine Pferdner, Dorothy Newcom and Mary Givins.

Defeated flite winners were Verle Barger, Minnie Harn, Addie Allen, Fritzie Rydgren, Millie Gordon and Agnes Brence. Runners-up in order were Hazelle Smith, Jennie Ashworth, Jeanne Crandall, Fran Christian, Corinne Beveridge and Marcella Nickerson.

Tables for this festive affair were beautifully decorated by hand-made flowers by our own inimitable Midge Wieman, who does everything to perfection, and were given as door prizes to the lucky ticket holders.

June 24th was a "Par and Better" event which was shared in a tie by Del Sanford and Eddie Ream—1st division. Third place winner was Irene Garnjobst while a tie for fourth and fifth was allotted to Mickey Schutz and Verle Barger.

Olive Taylor was the winner in the 2nd division—Minnie Harn was second. A four-way tie was split between Lucille Anderson, Eve Lortie, Marcie Chace and Jeanne Crandall.

Capturing 3rd division was Fran Christian. Second, third, fourth and fifth place was distributed between Al Prosser, Dorothy Lee, June Kassebaum and Dorothy Lee.

Winners of the 4th division included Vernon Brockett, Jean Olson, Mary Givins and Penny Penegor.

Guest day winners in class "A" were Geri Spencer, Navy North and Millie Wright from Fallbrook; Adrian White, Shorecliffs; M. L. Hartley, El Camino; "B" class was won by Corrinne Franklin, Ervine; Marge Crow, El Nieguel; a tie was shared by Ginny Peden, El Nieguel and Dorothy Swanson, San Clemente; Ey Gardner from Rancho Santa Fe was third.

Hostess flite was won by Irene Marcy—low gross; Mickey Schutz, low net. Other winners were Vee Skaff, Irene Garnjobst, Vi Hughes and Eddie Ream.

"LAKE SAN MARCOS YACHT CLUB"

Sailing Along with Ronald T. Strong

The third picnic-meeting of the Yacht Club was held June 21st at the picnic grounds on the Lake. Fleet Captain Wendell Campbell and wife Betty served barbecued hot dogs with all the appropriate "fixings." They were assisted by members Lem and Wyladine Bailey.

At the next meeting, as usual on the third Saturday of the month, charter members Ed and Hilda Perks will officiate for the pleasure of members and their guests.

LAKE SAN MARCOS FISHING and CASTING CLUB

by Ray Wofford

A total of 26 members and guests attended the July 8th meeting at the Recreation Club Room. Meeting was opened by retiring President Paul Cheney who presented Niels Webber as the newly elected President. Other new officers introduced were Ray Thorn, Vice-Pres., Henry Moorehead, Sec'y-Treas., Chet Shaw, Activities (holdover) and Ray Wofford, Publicity.

Frank Whitmer and Mrs. Niels (Mildred) Webber were introduced as new members, increasing membership to 52.

Fred Schmidt of Citizens Development Corporation spoke briefly on the problems of ridding the Lake of bluegills and other unwanted fish and the re-stocking with 6,000 channel catfish and 5,000 bass. These fish are only 5 to 8 inches long and will not be large enough for good fishing until next year. Fish caught at this time should be taken on barbless hooks (obtainable at the office) and returned to the water unharmed. To help control recent increase in poaching by non-residents, club members are requested to wear name plates and report unauthorized fishing by telephoning Office (744-1300).

Guest speaker was Lloyd Wicks who outlined procedures used to re-stock nearby Lake Wohlford where he has spent some 25 years as Biologist for Escondido Mutual Water Company. Question and answer period indicated water in our Lake is not suitable for stocking with trout and a lively discussion about prospects for good fishing in Lake San Marcos was led by Les Frech.

Among those winning door prizes were Paul Cheney, Harvey Holmes, Niels Webber, Lea Glaze, Elton Wilson, Otis Walker and Frank Whitmer with the main prize going to Lance Stanford.

Next meeting will be a picnic for members and wives at the Picnic Grounds at 2 p.m., Saturday, August 2nd.

*The man who waits for things to turn up has his eyes fixed on his toes!

Pictured is the beautiful and sparkling Mrs. Ronald L. Blickenstaff, formerly of Rancho Santa Fe. She was married in an impressive afternoon service on June 14th to Mr. Ronald L. Blickenstaff of Encinitas. The ceremony took place in St. James By The Sea Church in La Jolla, and the reception was held at the Atlantis restaurant in San Diego. Home for the festive occasion was the bride's mother, Mrs. Royce Dalzell, formerly of Rancho Santa Fe, and now an executive with the Army Ordinance in Giessen, Germany. Another very special guest at the lovely ceremony was the bride's eighty-six year old maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bonnie Royce of Vista, whose charm and beauty on this happy occasion matched that of the scintillating bride!

All those (and there were many) who had the good fortune to attend PLAY-BILL a concoction planned by the ingenious team of Ranchoites DeBakscy and Blesso last month certainly had themselves a time. These two gals dreamed up a fun-filled afternoon killing all sorts of birds with all sorts of stones. To begin with, each has purchased condominiums at Whispering Palms (Score 1 for Blesso, 2 for DeBakscy). All three were interior decorated by the talented minds and nimble fingers of Ranchoites Dale and Fred Gardner who did all sorts of interesting things with color and furniture and placement, and sundry other details which make all the difference in the world in the ultimate result. The homes were just lovely—enhanced by the good company who went through each one all afternoon, and aided and abetted by the free flowing bar at every location. It was a great promotion, and stage bands Al DeBakscy and Jim Blesso were most congenial hosts. "Come and bring your fronds" said one date-palm to the other on the invitation (an Al DeBakscy original, we're told). And everybody certainly did!

THE BEAT GOES ON AT LOMAS SANTA FE

You might say figures tell the story at Lomas Santa Fe these days—and though figures are only the shorthand hooks and squiggles in the LSF story, let's start there this time . . . The Plaza of the Four Flags Shopping Center, first phase of which was originally planned to occupy not more than 70,000 square feet under cover, is now expanded to 106,000 square feet . . . Lomas Santa Fe Country Club, which would have been well ahead of projections and very happy to have had 200 members by this time, is already at 265 members with additional applications awaiting committee and directors' action . . . Of the 61 deluxe homesites in the first phase of Isla Verde (the "green island" group of half-acre lots surrounded by fairways and greens of the first nine at LSFCC), 54 are sold . . . As of the time this sees print, certainly no less and probably several more than 10 families will have moved into their new Isla Verde custom homes . . . Some 30 homes in this initial section of development are either completed, near completion or under way, with most of the rest scheduled for early undertaking. The beat quickens! . . . But the real story is in people—and happenings . . .

THE FUN-FILLED FOURTH

Lomas Santa Fe Country Club members (and that is spelled "families!") and their guests had the busiest, happiest Fourth of July in memory—and the gay impetus of the holiday carried right on through Saturday and Sunday! On Friday (the 4th), everybody played golf, or tennis, or swam, all day—and some actually managed to help themselves to all three. New tennis pro Erick Baer played an exhibition match in mixed doubles with Anna Chabondy, Mrs. Dick (Pat Canning) Todd and Dr. Robert Bobbitt—and, emulating the experts, men and women and juniors, all day long. At 1 p.m., there was a diving exhibition at the 25-meter pool. Golf events were open to men and women all day, members and guests, par versus full handicap . . . At 7 p.m. the great American buffet of hot dogs, potato salad, deviled eggs, relishes and fruit punch, was served to adults and children alike—and after that they watched the fireworks at the Fairgrounds from the Lomas Santa Fe Pool Clubhouse decks and lawn. A day to remember! . . . Next day, the golf and tennis programs, as well as a group of swimming races for the children, held sway—complete with an adult buffet at noon for participants in the mixed doubles tennis tournament, and another for the young swimmers. Golf was of the low net, men only variety, with excellent participation. Members and their guests played in draw-for-partner, low net mixed foursomes on Sunday—and tennis and swimming continued at their busy, informal, clip. What a weekend!

OLD SETTLERS

A week before the Fourth, an historic event took place at the LSFCC Pool Clubhouse: the first-ever "Get Acquainted Party" for new residents and their families, also homesite purchasers whose homes were not completed—and their families. Cocktails and a cold buffet for the adults inside, and cokes and eats for the youngsters on the clubhouse patio—with lots of mingling both ways and really spontaneous fun for all. What a fine, attractive, vital LSF family is in the process of growing! . . . It was almost like Graduation Day when Ted Gildred, Lomas Santa Fe president, presented those who have already moved in with their personal copies of the Chain of Title that has deeded the "rolling hills" of LSF down through Spain and Mexico and the United States government to a series of individuals, and finally to each of the homesite buyers at Isla Verde. Recipients-in-residence: Mr. and Mrs. John H. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Harrower, Mr. and Mrs. Will B. Johnstone, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Magner, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac M. Scheaffer, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. George Tuxbury. Including parents and children, nearly 80 attended the Get Acquainted Party. . . . The James H. Cartwrights from Denver, the Louis A. Bentons of Rancho Santa Fe, and the Ralph J. Valles of Dallas will have moved into their new homes by the time this is published.

Director of swimming Ken Leone, retired Master Sergeant of Marines and holder of numerous personal championships in addition to having coached several national and regional swimming champions, instructs Mrs. Joseph Stribling of Solona Beach in Lomas Santa Fe CC's 25-meter AAU-approved pool.

ACCENT ON GOLF

Looking back to the Fourth weekend with its variety of events and exciting play in really wonderful weather, it is evident that more and more members are playing with more and more regularity. Individual instruction for adults continues to increase, while a group of 32 juniors is being instructed weekly . . . Speaking of juniors, on July 14 there were 31 of them playing the championship Lomas Santa Fe course for three qualifying berths in the Southern California section of the USGA Junior competition; the national tournament is in Spokane this year . . . Also, the San Diego chapter of the Professional Golfers Association played its tournament on the LSFCC course on July 14th, with the winner slated for the 1970 Andy Williams San Diego Open. Everyone reports the course in superb shape—and for those whose games are off, it's still a great day in some gorgeous country! . . . Women's golf at LSFCC continues active and varied in events following the women's championship in May, which returned the following winners and runners-up: first woman champion at LSFCC, Mrs. Rodney Streed (Solana Beach); runner-up in the Championship Flight was Mrs. James Mitchell of La Jolla. Low net winner was Mrs. Robert Eckstrom (La Jolla). Earlier the First Flight was won by Mrs. Rodney Phillips of Del Mar; runner-up in this flight was Mrs. Al Dubruiel (also Del Mar). In the Second Flight, Mrs. Graham Harrower (she and her husband are among the first movers-in at Lomas Santa Fe) was the winner, followed by Mrs.

Get Acquainted was the accent as LSF president Ted Gildred presented the George P. Tuxburys, newly moved in at Lomas Santa Fe from Alexandria, Va., with their Chain of Title at a recent party for LSF residents and site-owners. 80 adults and children attended the affair.

Erick Baer, new LSFCC tennis pro, has a full schedule of instruction as he joins the club staff following three years of top-flight collegiate tennis at Brigham Young University.

Warren Stanley (La Jolla) as runner-up. Women's golf events, characterized by imagination and enthusiastic participation, continue throughout the year.

SPLASH BASH

One look at that gorgeous LSFCC pool these days, and every member, adult and teen and tot, looks for the nearest activity-to-fit. They are on tap in plenty: junior "learn to swim" classes, junior and senior lifesaving classes (starting July 29), scheduled swim meets and casual swimming seven days a week for everyone. With the advent of real summer weather, the 25-meter AAU pool is front-and-center as an LSFCC attraction.

NEW PERSONNEL

In accordance with a developing organizational plan, Lomas Santa Fe president Ted Gildred has announced the appointment of John H. (Jack) Boyce, formerly assistant to the president of Singer General Precision, Inc., as LSF vice president for administration and a director of Lomas Santa Fe Country Club. Jack and Marguerite Boyce and their family of seven children live in Solana Del Mar . . . New tennis professional is Erick Baer, 23-year-old San Diegan who graduated in June from Brigham Young University, where he played three years of varsity tennis on the nation's seventh-ranking collegiate team on a tennis scholarship, and toured Europe last summer with his BYU squad.

UNDER THE WHISPERING PALMS WP

Ever go to a party in a building that wasn't finished? Whispering Palms Golf and Country Club members did on the Fourth of July and had the celebration of their lives.

Members of the Golf Club decided in June that, although there'd be no windows, no walls and only cement for a floor, there'd be a party in the new clubhouse anyway—to celebrate the Fourth and to herald the early August opening. So the minute the plasterers left on July 3rd, the members' decorating committee moved in with red, white and blue crepe paper to twine around unpainted posts, American flags to hang by wires from fiberglass insulation in the open ceilings. Next night there were no lights and no plumbing and the dance floor was portable—but more than one hundred members and guests ate and celebrated 'til midnight, starting with a cocktail hour and buffet following a members-and-guests golf tournament. "The Four Sharps," long at the Hotel del Coronado, played all evening.

The elaborate buffet was a miracle in itself, prepared in the Whispering Palms snack bar kitchen which normally serves only sandwiches. But Don Rose, Whispering Palms' new clubhouse restaurant manager, contrived a turkey centerpiece with an American Indian face (made of yams), intricate fish, meat and salad plates; in fact, a thirty-foot long table of delicacies.

The crepe paper garlands and the red, white and blue carnation arrangements were the work of members Frieda Buckbee, Eileen Worthington, Helen Dorn and Loretta Cincotta and Helen Petridge. H. A. "Buck" Buckbee and Harry Petridge had teetered from the tops of ladders to hang the flags in the dark, with only flashlights. It was all festive fun and as one member said, "there's never been a party like this and we'll never be able to have one like it again." The quietly elegant new clubhouse will serve as a beautiful backdrop for many, many more parties but all more traditional and none more fun.

The management at Whispering Palms has announced that the clubhouse will be open seven days a week for member events and private and public use beginning in early August. Luncheon, dinner and cocktails will be served, with music every night during the summer.

Before the now-famous Fourth of July party, Whispering Palms Golf and Country Club members staged a shotgun tournament. Chuck Jones, head professional, and his assistants, Fred Crockett and Danny Pell, announced the following winners: in the men's division — Hugh Shaw won with a 77, the first time he has broken 80. Tied for second place were Aubrey Potter, Hap Moland and Jim Smith. Tied for third were Clarence Wolf, Stan Cable and Haydn Bodenhamer. In the women's division, Cleo Moland won, with Florence Kendall second, and a tie for third among Billie Ramsey, Virginia Potter and Jane Hart, Opal Bodenhamer and Zada Eckhart tied for fourth. Adding to the Fourth celebration were two birthdays, heralded with cakes and song — those of Mrs. Clarence Wolf and Mrs. Hugh Shaw.

Among members and guests glimpsed dancing, buffet-ing and celebrating the Fourth were: Men's Club President Fred Young and Mrs. Young who had just returned from a fishing trip. Fred is the winner of the recent President's Cup tournament for Whispering Palms' Men's Club members. Also on hand and sharing in Fourth of July tournament wins were Ladies' Club President and women's champion Opal Bodenhamer with her husband, Haydn. From Rancho Santa Fe came Mr. and Mrs. Tracy McIntosh; he is a member of Whispering Palms' executive staff. Also on hand were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin McChesney, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stubbs, the Cincottas, Buckbees and Petridges who were being complimented for their ingenious decorating. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eckhart who will move soon to Whispering Palms from Encinitas, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Harris, the Hugh Shaws, the Frank Archers, the Robert Hicksons, Mr. and Mrs. William Cunningham who are in the process of moving to Whispering Palms from Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. John Mutz, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sunkel and a host of others.

LADIES' DAY, JULY 8th INSTALLATION LUNCHEON HELD AT WHISPERING PALMS

Another fun event at Whispering Palms recently was the Ladies' Day installation luncheon on Tuesday, July 8, with a fashion show from the Import Hut in Coronado.

Installed as new members of the board were Mrs. Haydn Bodenhamer (Opal), Mrs. J. Francis LaCroix (Jane), Mrs. Richard Smiley (Evelyn) and Mrs. Anthony Cincotta (Loretta).

Cocktail, patio and daytime fashions especially chosen for North County living in Whispering Palms' condominiums and fairway homes were shown by professional models. Import Hut's owner, Mrs. James Cahill, did the commentary.

This was the last general meeting which the women members of Whispering Palms will have in the patio. Beginning in August, they will use the clubhouse terrace and private dining rooms.

Winners of the annual pro trophy shotgun tournament preceding the luncheon were: Cleo Moland, Joyce Cathcart, runner-up. Low net foursome: Zada Eckhart, Cleo Moland, Julie Lisher, Florence Stout and Helen Petridge, Helen Sunkel, Lys Romandy and Opal Bodenhamer (on draw).

PAW PRINTS

(translated by Jan Cantwell)

I'm a baby ground squirrel, and, being the first born son of my family, I was formally named Sigmund F. Squirrel (in honor of a long line of intelligent and respected squirrels). However, my nickname is "Squeak" because when I'm excited—I do! I have two brothers and one sister: Squirmy, Squiggles, and Squinch. Squiggles is my sister—she talks a lot. Squirmy never sits still, and Squinch is a terrible tease.

We were born into a splendid underground world: Our Mother's house had many mansions. At first we only knew about one—The Nursery, and not much about that until our soft hair grew a bit and our bright shoe-button eyes opened wide. It was a lovely room, clean and sweet smelling (Mommy is an excellent housekeeper), and lined with beautiful leaves and soft grasses. This was where we had our many good Mommy meals. As we grew larger, and stronger, we explored, one by one, other different rooms. There was a modern kitchen and adjoining storage room, which Mommy kept filled with goodies for grown-up squirrels: seeds of all kinds, roots, fruits, nuts, and a few plump insects for a bit of protein. A spacious dining room with an alcove for nuts was just next door—we called it the Chow Chamber. Mommy said our manners were not yet good enough for the elegant living room, and we were only allowed to poke our nose-tips into its entrance. Further down a winding passage was a large room called the multi-purpose room, which was used for all sorts of squirrely activities. Close to the nursery was our playroom, where we loved to play games and turn somersaults. It was also our classroom when Mommy gave us lessons in squirrelsman-ship. Then there were many other tiny rooms — napping chambers — just large enough for a squirrel to curl up comfortably tail-over-nose. These were always just the right temperature, never drafty—never too warm.

A long time passed before we learned of three special rooms in our home. One was the flood room. It was located at the top of a long steep passageway. Mommy explained that sometimes the big world outside got much too wet, but that even if all the other rooms in our house filled with water, this one would stay cozy dry. A small section off of the flood room contained emergency food supplies. The other two rooms we'd never have discovered by ourselves and didn't learn about them until Mommy gave us the snake lesson. She explained that these dread enemies were the terror of all squirrels, for, unlike the horrible hawk, owl, fox, or coyote (as fearsome as they were), the snake could follow a squirrel right into his own home. However, smart squirrels like our Mommy, always dug two special rooms for snake protection. The first was nearly impossible to find, most snakes would get lost in the maze of tunnels leading to and from this room. But if it were, by chance, located, there was a carefully hidden emergency exit, loosely filled with dirt and rocks. This could be opened quickly by vigorous digging, and led into a second chamber which contained more dirt and rocks. Once safely inside, the opening could be tightly closed in a few seconds. Such a clever security system was certain to fool the smartest snake. Mommy showed us exactly where the concealed exit was, quickly dug it open with her strong forepaws, and took us into the hidden second chamber and then showed us how swiftly the hole could again be sealed. We were proud of our smart Mommy.

It was many days before Mother allowed us to leave the protection of our underground mansion to visit the world above. First we had to learn all our exits and entrances. The Main Entrance was centrally located just a few squirrel hops from a large rock, which we called "Lookout Rock." Mother frequently sat on its slightly flattened top—straight and tall, sharp eyes peering in all directions for possible dangers. We tried to imitate her down in the playroom, but the ceiling was too low. There was also a morning entrance which Mother explained was the closest to a people-garden and much good food, but quite dangerous to use unless a careful study-watch had been first made from Lookout Rock. In the evening, when late flying hawks or early owls were airborne terror, we used the Sunset Door because it was sheltered by a large prickly bush. There were others, one mostly for trash removal and another quite close to the kitchen for speedy food delivery. At least six more were actually fake entrances. They went underground for a short distance, and then came up under a bush, overhanging rock, or stump, to give temporary protection while we popped down a real entrance.

There was SO much to learn. After one particularly difficult lesson, Mother went foraging while we were supposed to nap. Instead, I decided to see if I could retrace the complicated pattern of exit-to-entrance to exit-to-entrance, that we'd been practicing. Everything went fine until I came to the part where after fooling a pretend hawk (this involved using a fake entrance that exited under a thick bush), I then headed for the Main Entrance but was surprised by an imaginary fox and had to use fancy footwork to outwit him. I guess my imagination was too good, and instead of remembering to make two hops (the second one sharply to the left) and then a long leap just past Lookout Rock to safety at the Main Entrance, I made two long straight leaps followed by a very short hop to the right! Immediately I felt lost, and because I really had frightened myself, I did the one thing that Mother had cautioned us never to do—the Straightaway Scamper! I ran until I actually was lost, and oh-h-h so tired. Suddenly I was in a frightening world of huge roaring monsters. They were the People-Cars! Mommy had told us how dangerous they were. Before I could think what to do, one of them stopped next to me, a man stepped out, came over and picked me up. He said:

"Poor little fellow, you must be lost. Don't you know the highway is no place for small squirrels?"

I was so frightened I couldn't even squeak. But the man was gentle, and I began to feel better. Maybe he would find my Mommy. He put me into the car, wrapped some soft cloth around me and drove me here to the Rancho Coastal Humane Society which has been my home ever since.

I was given a burrow of my own, above ground, with a cuddly warm heating pad for snuggling up to. Of course it's not as comfy as the furry warmth of my own family, but it does keep me from getting chilly. As you can see from the picture above, I'm well fed, but I do wish the people here had Mommy's recipe. She's a much better cook than they are. However, I shouldn't complain—everybody has been kind, and I know they do their best. People can't help that they're not real squirrels.

When I'm big and strong enough, I'll be taken to a good wild home. I hope I can find my family and tell them all about people and their many mansions. I don't think people are nearly as smart as squirrels. They don't know much about concealed emergency exits or entrances to their mansions. They have no Flood Rooms . . . and I have no idea how they'd ever manage a snake!

OUR PET TURTLES

We thought it was pretty funny when our big sister (Ann) gave us twin turtles for Christmas.

Ours are red-eared turtles. They are called that because they have red markings on the sides of their heads. They are in the reptile family and they come from Louisiana. Also some turtles have webs between their toes to help them to swim better. The top shell is really called a carapace. The soft part of the bottom shell is called the plastron.

Susan and Linda Bowles

We couldn't put our turtles in with our goldfish because the man at the pet store said turtles sometimes eat goldfish. Our turtles live in a fifteen-gallon tank with a water filter. Aren't they lucky? In one part of the tank is a tower of rocks so they can climb up to dry. We found the rocks and scrubbed them clean. The bottom of the tank has white and yellow gravel and a green plastic plant. We also dechlorinate the water. We put in a pill to keep algae from growing.

Turtles like lots of sun so we take ours outside to play. They enjoy sticking their feet up in the air to dry. We try not to handle them too much because it is not good for them.

Our turtles didn't like the dried turtle food we bought at the store, but they like raw hamburger meat. We tried lettuce but they didn't seem to like that either. Our turtles will only eat their food in the water. Susan's turtle is timid and jumps off the rock when you come to feed him, but Linda's turtle just sits there looking at us.

Pet books say turtles don't really have voices but sometimes they hiss or grunt. We have never heard our turtles make any noises.

Our turtles are wonderful pets. We have enjoyed taking care of them and they're less work than cats.

A PRE-NEED PLAN FOR FAMILY PETS?

Yes, indeed, wise pet owners do plan ahead for the eventual, final care of their beloved family pets . . .

Those who thoughtfully make pre-need arrangements are spared a great deal of added emotional stress when the actual "time of parting" with the pet does occur, for they have assured themselves of the dignity, respect and understanding which will be extended to them by

La Galeria de California, with the cooperation of the Kennedy Gallery of New York, is now showing a special exhibit of Western Bronzes by the internationally acclaimed American sculptor and painter, Harry Jackson.

Jackson, already established as an internationally known artist for his western paintings and sculpture, is a composite of many diverse and exciting influences. He is also one of the most controversial figures in American art.

He was born in Chicago and began painting and sketching in childhood. He displayed an early fondness for the West. When he was 14 his love for the western scene prompted him to run away from home and go to Wyoming where he became a cowboy. Recalling those years Jackson says, "I saddled horses for dudes, slopped hogs, and generally didn't do anything exciting." When he wasn't riding fence, herding cattle, and digging postholes, he studied Remington's works and developed a skill already demonstrated at sketching horses and cowboys.

In World War II he was a marine combat artist doing reconnaissance sketches, being wounded both at Tarawa and Saipan. While still in service exhibitions and recognition by national magazines heralded him as an artist of great promise.

After the war he lived for one year in Mexico, then moved to New York where he studied under Tamayo and Hofman. In New York he became a close friend of an older emigré from Wyoming, Jackson Pollock, and was recognized as a highly successful abstractionist exhibiting at the galleries of Martha Jackson and Tibor de Nagy.

In 1954 Jackson suddenly stopped painting abstractions and set off for Europe "because something was lacking." Abstract expressionism had taught him a lot, but he had found that he had an interest in people and living things that abstraction could not satisfy, and so he started off on his own trail, searching among the museums of Europe and among his own feelings about life for the techniques that would let him say what he had to say. There is also a western note in Abstract Expressionism itself. Jackson Pollock came from Wyoming and was to a surprising extent the successful fulfillment of a program outlined years earlier by his teacher, Thomas Hart Benton.

Harry Jackson became controversial. He had succeeded as an abstractionist. But he had quit it. He dropped a highly successful abstract career to become a realist specializing in Western Americana.

For seven years he studied in the great museums of Europe, sketching and making notes on the old masters.

Back in the States he began to paint people. He painted old barroom patriarchs and young gang-leaders from the Italian neighborhood around his studio on the Lower East Side in New York. He painted dancers. And he painted figures and scenes from the Wyoming rural background that had been the most solid and satisfying part of his world ever since . . . like Frederick Remington, he had headed West where the horses were.

Jackson's subjects are the spectrum of the West, its cowboys, horses, cattle, excitement and tragedy. Two of his works, "The Stampede" and "The Range Burial," both executed in oil and bronze, are recognized as classic renderings of the American West. In the stasis and pathos of the "Burial" and in the bronze violence of the thundering longhorns in "Stampede" the imagination of Harry Jackson reaches close to greatness.

"In the 'Range Burial,' installed in May, 1964 at the Whitney Museum, Cody, Wyoming, Jackson has produced a monumental canvas of which Thomas Hart Benton said, 'The 'Range Burial' may be one of our great American paintings.' The painting's simple austere tragedy is clearly told in the reality of faces, figures, landscape and trap-pings. The 10 x 21 foot canvas is the result of six years work during which Jackson learned to sculpt in order to study the general composition and the effects of light and shade on three-dimensional forms.

Jackson's works are executed in both oil and bronze and take shape in either his New York studio or his studio in Carmaiore, Lucca, Italy. His bronzes are cast in a little north-Italian bronze foundry, Fonderia Vignalli, Pietrasante, Italy. He has the distinction of being one of the few Americans to sculpt a monument for a plaza in Rome, Italy. In July, 1963 his life-size bronze of a blind street musician was dedicated in the Piazza de Mercanti, Rome.

Peter Hurd says of Jackson, "He is a man with a mission. Both as a painter and sculptor he is equipped with the driving force and self-discipline so necessary to an artist. His mission is to communicate. To know how completely he communicates consider the wide range of emotions in his work from the wild tumult of 'Stampede' with the palpable terror of an animal cataclysm to the deeply affecting pathos of the heroic 'Range Burial'."

Time magazine says, "Jackson's cowboys battle a thundering stampede, sing their long ballads, rope their steers, and, in solemn ritual, bury a friend under a big sky. They manage to combine power and tenderness."

Jackson now works incommunicado for months or even a year in his little north-Italian bronze foundry town. He has been shaping forth in figures of ruddy metal his vision of things, mainly in concrete terms of the legendary American West. In the pouring violence of a stampede, in honest work-well-done fatigue of an ancient foreman slouching astride his tired horse, in the stoic epic sadness of a trail-side burial, in other pieces with other moods, he has been saying not only, "This is how they were," but also, "This is how we are, in part: this is what we came from."

"WE'VE GIVEN THEM EVERYTHING . . . HAVEN'T WE?"

The best schooling, good clothes, a comfortable home . . . all these are important.

But don't they need answers to the big questions — such as Who is God? What is God? Where is God? What does He have to do with me?

Your children's sense of security and lasting happiness may well depend on being given good and useful answers to these important questions.

In the Christian Science Sunday School, children learn to know God, to feel a closeness to Him, and to turn to Him for the spiritual resources they need to strengthen and enrich their lives.

Isn't this something you would like to give your children? Why not bring them next Sunday morning at 10 a.m. to the Sunday School, First Church of Christ, Scientist, La Flecha Dr., Rancho Santa Fe

THE INN
AT Rancho Santa Fe
THE INN KEEPER'S JOTTINGS

You haven't heard from us in a long time, but now we have come out of retirement just so you would know that this summer it will be dancing both Friday and Saturday nights at THE INN on the VINTAGE ROOM PATIO, beginning July 25th with a Sunday slipped in on the last week-end in August.

The many friends and admirers of HARPER MacKAY will be interested to learn we have been very fortunate to engage his services and his Trio for these dates, in view of his great popularity in Hollywood and movie commitments.

Of course, reservations are suggested, so why not plan a small party to enjoy the dancing with a choice of a gourmet dinner . . . the kind which requires a little more time and attention to prepare. Relaxation with your friends in this intimate atmosphere from 8 p.m. to Midnight should be very pleasant.

Benny and Gus, as usual, will be behind the bar and will mix and prepare your favorite drink and Ricky, our summer Major-domo will be on hand again to welcome you. Your old friends Iris, Evelyn, Virginia and Betty will be at your beck and call to offer good service and let's not forget Chef Ross and his crew in the kitchen.

For those, who wish to spend a quiet evening, our GARDEN ROOM is always open until 8 p.m. offering many delicious entrees on a table d'hote menu. Mrs. Muir, who retired a few years ago, is back with us and in charge of this room and she and her capable girls will gladly serve you. What could be nicer that a small get together in the GARDEN ROOM overlooking the pool.

Miss Rodgers, who is the calendar and date keeper of THE INN will always gladly arrange the big parties, plan menus, give suggestions and take care of the details for their success. Of course, I am always around too for bookings, consultations and suggestions.

From advance bookings it looks like a very busy and happy summer at THE INN and we look forward to welcoming you during this season.

CO-ED TEENAGE TRIP TO YOSEMITE OPEN TO ALL

High School Teenagers in the Tri-City and San Dieguito communities can sleep, hike, cook and swim in beautiful Yosemite National Park, August 18 to 24 as the North Coast Family Y.M.C.A. is in the midst of planning its 5th annual trip.

"We can only take 35 teenagers," stated Rollie Ayers, local Y.M.C.A. Director who is also going to direct this trip, "already we have 27 fellows and gals signed up. The word seems to be out that this is a great deal."

Signed up so far are: Bruce Scyphers, David Cunningham, Les McFadden, Robert Fleischaker, John Baldwin, Dennis Karounos, Gary Bronson, Richard Cullip, Jim Karounos, and Tom McKelvey, of Vista; Sally Lawson, Sigrid Emswiler and Lee Emswiler of Encinitas; Cathy Paulin and Cindy Loomis of Rancho Santa Fe; Sharon Hutchings of Solana Beach; Fred Brick and Kathy Anderson of Cardiff; Dave Kopet, Laura Rounsfull, Robin Rounsfull, Valerie Stewart, Chris Brown, Steve Worthing and Tom Reedy of Carlsbad and Pam Russell of Oceanside.

Ayers pointed out that this trip is planned toward the end of the vacation period so that those who went to summer school or held jobs could attend.

The cost is only $40 for members and $45 for non-members. The fee includes all meals, transportation, leadership and insurance.

The campers will toss their sleeping bags right on the ground next to a cool stream in Yosemite Valley.

Besides sleeping under the stars, Ayers stated that the fellows and gals also will share in the cooking responsibilities and all decisions which effect the trip.

There will be a special two day hike to the top of famous Half Dome and Vernal Falls for those guys and gals who really want to get away and explore the beauty of Yosemite National Park.

Another traditional hike is the midnight hike down from Glacier Point after viewing the valley from where the historic fireball used to be pushed off from the point.

The teenagers will have plenty of free time to explore the area, attend Ranger talks, swim, ride horses and visit Camp Curry during the evening.

Sign ups for this trip can be taken care of at the Y.M.C.A. office in Encinitas, McEwen Hardware in Carlsbad, Johnsons Sporting Goods in Oceanside, and Sports and Photo in Vista.

Information by phone can be obtained by calling 753-6536.

NEW PENTHOUSE OPENS AT THE DEL CHARRO IN LA JOLLA!

The Hotel Del Charro is no stranger to Ranchoites. They have been dining there for many years—enjoying the poolside dining as well as the interior setting. The menu has always given pleasure—and so has the intimate bar where "friend meets friend." And now, there is something new added—the Del Charro PENTHOUSE! As the name implies, this is a separate dining spot, reached by a short flight of brightly carpeted stairs. (Incidentally, the entire Penthouse was decorated by talented Mrs. Arthur Forbes, wife of your Del Charro host.) Once in the Penthouse, the fun begins! Music provided by the "Penthouse Two" is played for your dancing pleasure every evening except Sunday from 5:30 p.m. From 5:30 to 7:30 the "Happy Hour" in the Penthouse Bar features DOUBLE portions. And the food, it goes without saying, is the same gourmet selection as in the Hotel Del Charro "downstairs." So plan to make this a "must" during the upcoming racing season . . . a visit to the Del Charro PENTHOUSE in nearby La Jolla!

TROOP 766 — ACTIVITIES

by Jim Van Evera

Our troop, which normally meets every Tuesday, 7:00 p.m. at the Village Church, Paseo Delicias, Rancho Santa Fe, has started its summer schedule. From June 29, 1969 to July 5, 1969, ten boys attended Boy Scout Camp at Mataguay, and several merit badges were passed by almost every boy. The next troop meeting was Tuesday, July 15. Final plans were made for our day trip to Mt. Palomar on Saturday, July 19. Final plans were also made for our climb of Baden — Powell Mountain from the 22nd to the 24th in August.

Shawn Conner, our Eagle Scout attending the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Idaho this July, gave a report on his trip.

On June 10, the presentation of a plaque in recognition of three and one half years as scoutmaster of Troop 766 was given to Dr. Robert Hughes. Dr. Hughes reviewed some of the highlights of the troop activities during this period, including the canoe trip down part of the Colorado River last fall. Dr. Hughes will continue to assist our troop as an Assistant Scoutmaster, as also will Mr. Norm Greene and Mr. Kent Gordon.

Our new Scoutmaster is Mr. Don Kornreich. The Senior Patrol Leader is Jim Van Evera, and his assistants are Bill Buchans and Wayne Kornreich. Our Patrol Leaders are James Peery and Dorian Greene and Bob Briggs.

We would be happy to have any prospective members come to any of our meetings.

Wilhelmy's Picture Framing Shop Holds Many Surprises! It's Just A Short Ride To Their Leucadia Location

Harold and Dee Wilhelmy, formerly of Newport Beach and Corona del Mar, have always had a love for this area. They lived here 20 years ago for a short time and decided one day to return. They have been at work in painting and picture framing as an avocation then Mr. Wilhelmy joined his brother in Granada Hills where they owned and operated Wilhelmy's Picture Framing. Just recently the Wilhelmy's purchased the property where formerly Vadna's Mugs of Leucadia had been. The building was ideally suited for the custom frame work shop plus large display rooms for ready made frames, decorative easels and display of original European and local artist's oil paintings. They have a large stock of molding which can be made up in any size and style for your home or office. They invite you to stop in and get acquainted and discover the delights in decorating with paintings, prints and colors.

By Edith Havens

The excitement of a cruise! Boarding the big, white liner, the fun of finding your stateroom, the bon voyage parties, everyone rushing hither and thither, the sailing, the last good-byes to those left behind, the passengers lining the rails, everything including the ship and all on board as well as the dock wreathed in bright colored serpentine streamers, the festive, bountiful-laden buffet table—it is an unduplicated thrill and one which is repeated with each sailing, no matter how often. The convenience of a west coast sailing from Wilmington is also much appreciated.

On this particular cruise, the first week is one of delightful lethargy, or of active participation as one wishes. Awaiting you if you so desire are deck sports, sunning, swimming, nightly shows, dancing, bridge, travel lectures, films, lessons in dancing or language of the countries to be visited as well as that of the crew. Soon you are greeting your friends and the crew with "Buen giorno" or "Buenos dias." The excellent service and wonderful food gives one a most delightful pampered feeling.

CARIBBEAN BOUND!

A pleasant interruption in the first week's sailing is a stop at the famous Mexico resort of Acapulco with the comfort of the ship as your hotel. A day tour gives breathtaking views of Acapulco Bay and then on out to the Pacific Ocean with views of many delightful homes and famous hotels, or if you prefer sunning and swimming at one or more of the several famous beaches. Two spectacular sights await you on the Night Club Tour. The hilltop setting featuring a replica of an Aztec Temple is a fitting setting for the ancient sacrificial ritual ceremony in which The Flying Indians of Papantla offer up a maiden in sacrifice, dance to the top of an 114-foot pole after which they descend in sweeping spirals while suspended head-first by ropes. The next spectacle is the death-defying dives by specially trained divers from the cliffs of La Quebrada into the roaring surf of a narrow canyon 135 feet below. After these two spectacles one is glad to return to the ship for a few days rest before spending a day viewing the engineering masterpiece of the Panama Canal.

The history of the Panama Canal goes back more than four centuries during which many plans were made and possible canal routes surveyed from Mexico to Colombia. In 1904 the U.S. Government entered the story when they purchased for 40 million the rights and properties from the French Canal Company under Count Ferdinand de Lesseps, builder of the Suez Canal. The purchase was made possible through the negotiation of a Treaty with the Republic of Panama which in 1903 declared its independence from Colombia. The Panama Canal was opened to commercial ship traffic, August 15, 1914 following its successful completion which was marked with three main problems—engineering, sanitation and organization. It was necessary to dig a ditch through a mountain range wide and deep enough to float the largest ships, to build the largest earth-dam ever built to that time, to design and build the biggest gates ever swung, to invent electrical and mechanical devices, and to conquer huge landslides, as well as to find a way to go through or over the Continental Divide. The problem of supplying the large amount of water required during the dry season was solved by raising the level of Gatun Lake by 87 feet so that during the rainy season Madden Lake is filled. Each transit requires 52 million gallons of water, enough to supply a city of 500,000 for one day which is then spilled out to sea. This is one government operation which is of no cost to the U.S. Taxpayer. The Panama Canal Co. covers all costs of operations, pays interest charges on the U.S. investment and repays to the U.S. Treasury the net cost of civil government including public health and medical services in the Canal Zone. The area in which the Canal is located once was one of the pestilential spots of the world. Under Col. Wm. Crawford Gorgas, American medical and sanitation experts demonstrated that yellow fever can be eradicated and scourges such as malaria and intestinal disorders can be controlled. The engineering genius and administrative skill of such men as John F. Wallace, John F. Stevens, Theodore P. Shonts and Col. George W. Goethals are of great importance in one of the richest sagas of the U.S. history.

Our first stop after reaching the Caribbean Sea was the quaint city of Curacao in the Netherland Antilles. We entered the city of Willemstad through a canal via the Queen Emma gates which is bordered by gabled houses reminiscent of Holland. Aruba and Bonaire are the other two islands in this group. Curacao and Aruba as well as being oil refining centers are excellent shopping centers due to their low import duty. Beautiful beaches are to be found on these islands which are only 40 miles off the Coast of South America and thus a major gateway to our Latin American neighbors.

The pronunciation of the word, Caribbean, is sometimes Caribbbean, which seems to negate the word's origin which comes from the indigenous Red Indians; the Caribs, Caribs. However, Webster gives Caribbbean, the first place. The geographical tag West Indies is a misnomer based on the delusion of Columbus that he had reached India by sailing West. Some British Islanders in the area maintain as a part of their postal address the initials, BWI, for British West Indies.

Trinidad is an independent member of the British Commonwealth of Nations. It is the most southern island of the West Indies, only 10 miles away from the Paria Peninsula of Venezuela. It was discovered by Columbus in 1498 for the Crown of Spain and was ceded to Great Britain in 1802. A Spanish Royal Proclamation in 1793 offered great advantages to foreigners of all nations to settle there. Today one can see East Indians, Hindus, Moslems as well as Negroes, Portuguese, Spaniards and Chinese. It has magnificent scenery with mountains rising to 3,000 feet, as well as banana and citrus plantations, and delightful beaches. Port of Spain is the main city and is the home of calypso and the famous Trinidad Steel Bands which originated when the American Seabees were there. Here is the place to see the calypso in the night clubs.

Barbados is a crown colony of Britain. It is fanned by trade winds and has excellent beaches, due to the barrier reef that surrounds the island. Bridgetown, the main city, is excellent for shopping, especially for native handicrafts. "Limbo" dancers and calypso singers are there too.

St. Thomas is second in size of the three U.S. Virgin Islands and Charlotte Amalie is the main city. These islands were purchased by U.S. from Denmark in 1917 for 25 million dollars. They have an even temperature and constant trade winds keep down the humidity. The other two islands are St. John, where the famous resort, Caneel Bay Plantation, is located, and St. Croix. Shopping in St. Thomas is exciting due to the duty-free shops as well as the many exquisite ones as there are branches of many of the shops we are accustomed to see in Europe. Many night clubs, and restaurants including Bluebeard's Castle, the Virgin Island Hilton, and others are excellent. Liquor at very low prices as well as an increased allotment is available here as is true also of the customs free allotment.

Kingston, Jamaica is the debarkation port for this portion of the Sea/Air Cruise of the Princess Carla. Passengers who debark here may return non-stop to Los Angeles via Standard Airways which has brought other passengers who will board here to take the return portion of the Air/Sea Cruise, which will include other islands in the Caribbean.

The Princess Carla is based in the Port of Los Angeles, is of Italian registry having been built in Genoa, Italy and meets all safety standards. Its gross tonnage is 20,500 tons, it is 603 feet in length and 80 feet in width. Its cruise speed is 21 knots, it is powered by twin screw steam turbines, and carries approximately 750 passengers while cruising, with a maximum of 956. It carries a cruise staff of 350. It has eight decks and an exceptionally good stabilizer, the Flume Water Tank System. It desalinizes 350 tons of ocean water per day into delicious, sparkling fresh water and carries 1850 tons of water, of which 250 tons per day per 500 passengers are consumed. It uses 180 tons per day of Crude Oil and 10 tons of Diesel Fuel. Cruising on the Princess Carla is a most enjoyable experience. Its food, service, entertainment, staterooms and cruising comfort are superb.
