a delight to housewives

It's safe, easy to use. Upside-down or sideways, it holds in food . . . lets out steam and hot water. Valuable food is never accidentally spilled, and there's no chance of a painful scald. The words "Open . . . Cook . . . Drain" appear on the cover to indicate position of strainer holes. A slight twist of the cover gets the holes into proper position.

The Regal Locklid has the silvery gleam of extra heavy, high-gloss aluminum . . . sleek streamlining that makes it welcome in the most modern kitchen . . . "no-burn, no-turn" bakelite handle and knob that shines like polished ebony. Appearance, safety and utility give the new Locklid a place in the Regal line, famous as the world's finest cooking ware.
