FOREWORD

At the first Stroud meeting in September, 1951, a theme depicting the alterations of Stroud Hall was suggested. Then, we decided that Stroud Hall wasn't the only landmark that had received, over the years, a new "hair-do."

Wayne Gymnasium, an athlete's haven in its day, had given way to the new monumental Physical Education Building.

Shawnee Dormoritory, used as a training school in yesteryear, bowed to the more practical and newer Training School.

Oakes Hall, our ancient class room building, was renovated from "stem to stern," thus giving the campus a building equipped with all the modern laboratories and class rooms.

Housing, a problem formerly solved by Shawnee Dormitory for the male enrollment, was eased tremendously by the erection of Monroe Hall. Another change, to the "laddies'" advantage, was the construction this year of the beautiful, spacious, new dormitory overlooking the soccer field.

All these changes were realized through the untiring efforts of our friend and fellow-educator, Dr. Joseph Noonan. It was through his diligent work that we at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College have benefited by such innovations.

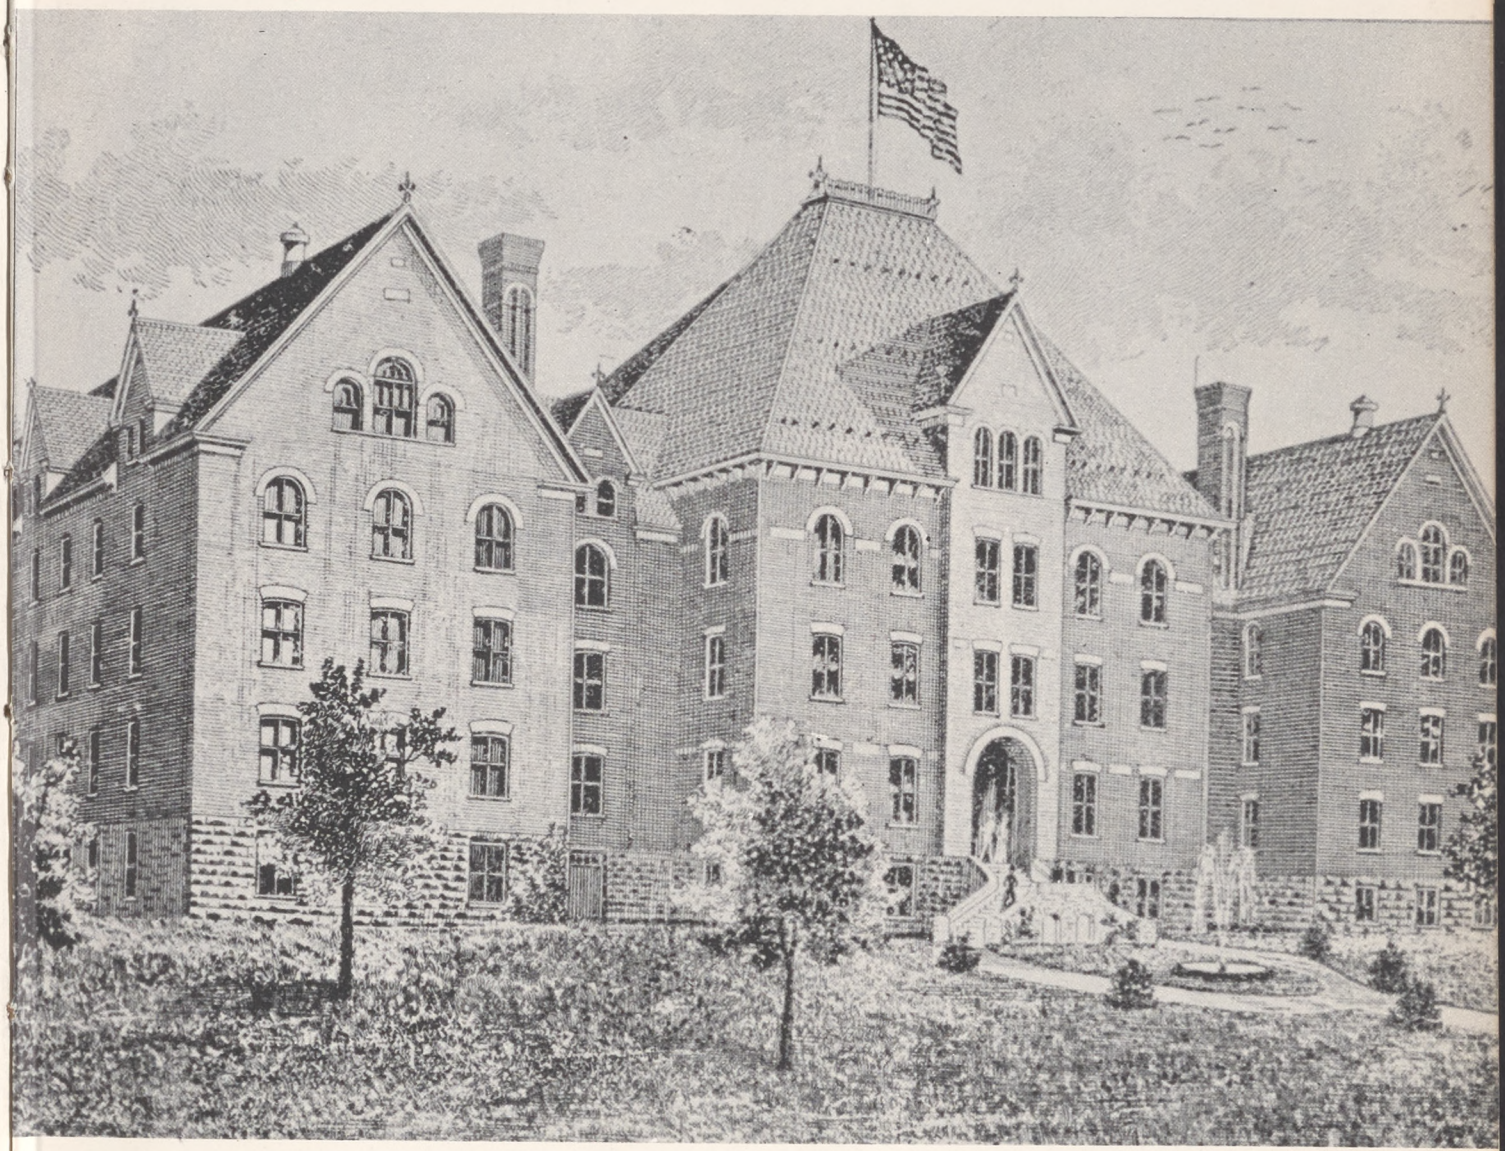

There have also been changes in the faculty as new faces have blended with the older and more familiar ones. There have been changes in our lives, too, as our scope of knowledge increased hand in hand with our maturity and as we developed from humble freshmen to learned graduates.

All these changes, since the birth of the Normal School in 1893 to the present, have been part of a steady growth . . . from mere seeds to saplings . . . from saplings to sturdy maples . . . of a continuing development . . . of a progressive EVOLUTION!

In the 1952 Stroud we have attempted to portray some of the steps in this progressive EVOLUTION.

Senior Class Officers

No group can progress without forceful leaders; no class can realize its potentialities without compenent direction by responsible officers. The class of 1952 owes much of its success to the tireless efforts and capable leadership of its senior class officers.

William Schmidt, dynamic president, ably governed the class, assisted by Lewis Nichols, vice-president. Miss Helen Zito, our zealous secretary, faithfully recorded our class history and data. The responsibility of collecting, distributing, and guarding class funds fell to Edward Bishop, conscientious senior treasurer, assisted by Miss Marcie Ann Kennedy, women's assistant treasurer, and Donald Delp, men's assistant treasurer.

To them, then, the senior class officers of 1952, we give our proudest admiration and most sincere thanks for a difficult task well accomplished.

STUDENT SENATE

The task of selecting and fixing college policies lies in the hands of the Student Senate. Directing this group of selected student representatives is the senate president, Mr. Allen R. Smith, one of the most diligent, hard-working, responsible members of the senior class.

The senate and college are indeed fortunate in having at the helm a person of Mr. Smith's superior calibre.

Evolution of Editors

Ernest Dunn, first editor.

Whoever thinks a faultless piece to see,
Thinks what ne'er was, nor is, nor e'er shall be.
Pope—Essay on Criticism

I am the 1952 Stroud!

I am pretty proud of myself! I feel that I am a worthy successor to my ancestors —the Stroud of years gone by. My very existence today is an astonishing feat—almost a miraculous one. So many hardships and obstacles presented themselves along the way that at times I thought I would never reach maturity. Let me tell you my story.

I was conceived in the Spring of 1951 when the Class of 1952 elected Ernest C. Dunn as my Editor. In addition, Helen Zito and Rachel Prather were elected as assistant editor and business manager, respectively, to aid Mr. Dunn.

My whole infancy was to be skillfully planned by my editorial parents so that the complete details of my mature life would be carefully organized prior to the commencement of the September term.

The first of a long list of calamities appeared at this time when Mr. Dunn enlisted in the U. S. Army. What would I do now without anyone to guide by embryonic development? Rising to meet the situation, the Stroud staff advanced Miss Zito to the editorship, and Joe Bertucci was appointed as assistant editor.

Now, for the first time, work was begun on my appearance and content. Under the competent direction of Sal DiFede and Jim Frawley, photographic editors, my physical characteristics began to take shape.

Suddenly, another dark cloud reared her ugly head when it was discovered that there were not sufficient funds to continue my development. Once again the Stroud Staff proved its mettle by presenting an extensive advertising campaign, under the direction of Miss Prather and her staff, which netted enough money to alleviate the situation.

Just as things looked as if they were progressing smoothly still another disaster struck. Miss Zito was graduated in January, and Miss Prather left school because of illness. I was a parentless child.

My faculty adviser, Dr. Ruth B. Kistler, stepped in at this juncture and suggested that Mr. DiFede and Mr. Frawley be appointed co-editors in order to complete the final and most important touches for my premiere. Once again, my develpment began to take form.

Working feverishly to meet the impending deadline, Mr. DiFede and Mr. Frawley reorganized their staff, completed assignments, and performed the herculean task of succeeding to mold my personality. Now—here I am, fully matured. I may not be perfect but I am yours—your 1952 Stroud.
