OUR DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1940, do dedicate this Stroud to Dr. Daniel W. LaRue.

As an eminent psychologist, author and educator, he shall be long remembered and endeared to us for his brilliant contributions to our educational pursuits.

As a humanitarian, he shall be recognized with pride as part of the institution he helped to build.

As a friend, he shall be held in high esteem by the Class of '40.

With these thoughts in mind, and as an expression of appreciation for his valuable and unceasing efforts, we wished to show our recognition by way of our yearbook.

The Class of '40

IN MEMORIAM

Mary Elizabeth Clemens

Those who were most closely associated with Miss Clemens are best able to appreciate the quality of the contribution she made to the college. She strove to pass on to those students who came under her direction her own desire for perfection and her ability to see the good and beautiful in life. To all, the memory of her unselfish service should continue to be an inspiration to higher standards of workmanship.

For life is the mirror of king and slave,
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

—Madeleine Bridges

PRESENTING

THE SEVEN CARDINAL

"The Foundation of Every State is the Education of Its Youth."—Diogenes

Democracy, to survive, must be a true democracy. It is the ideal of democracy that the individual and society may find fulfillment each in the other. It is the purpose of democracy to organize society so that each member may develop his personality primarily through activities designed for the well-being of his fellow members and of society as a whole.

For the achievement of these ends, democracy must place reliance upon education, consequently education in a democracy should develop in each individual the knowledge, interests, ideals, habits and powers whereby he will find his place and use that place to shape both himself and society toward ever nobler ends.

Bearing in mind this primary function of education in democracy, the Seven Cardinal Principles of Education have been determined as the main objectives that should guide education in any democracy.

With this book, we are endeavoring to show how we of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College are doing our part in striving toward a true Democracy.

BOOK ONE

COMMAND OF FUNDAMENTAL PROCESSES AND VOCATIONAL INTERESTS

"Blessed is he who has found his work;
Let him seek no more blessedness."
—Carlyle.

How better could we exemplify these two principles than by this composite picture of our Faculty and our Students: Our faculty with their definite command of the fundamental processes; and our students who but for their vocational interests would not be our students.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS . . .

Customs and traditions, once cherished and revered, gently touch the venturesome spirit of vibrant youth with a kindly breath of caution. That passive world of the past, quiet and sober except as its living power of submission still persists, holds the wisdom of all time in its dreamy embrace. The twilight of antiquity is merely the gateway to present and future living.

Yesterday is but a shady memory. Today and tomorrow constitute reality.

To the extent that the mind has come in contact with the real meaning of knowledge, each and every individual has acquired the fundamentals of a liberal education. Understanding, tolerance, sympathy, kindliness and intelligence are indispensable. Their acquisition is the symbol of prospective growth and development.

Based upon endless lessons of human experiences and permeated with the ideals of a constantly changing social and economic order, the cardinal principles of education constitute a ringing challenge to all youth who are concerned with playing a part on the making of a better and finer world.

May all whose spiritual selves long for self expression find solace in the goals for a full life! May their hopes, aspirations, and ideals be fully realized! May they serve the society of modern times so well that their cultural legacy will prove a boon to new generations still unborn!

No other world in any former period of time has ever offered youth such a thrilling range of indescribable and unpredictable possibility.

THE DEANS AT EAST STROUDSBURG

Dear Friends of the Class of 1940:

You are nearing the end of a really significant period in your lives. For four years you have been developing a philosophy to serve as a background for living. It matters little what formal set of educative principles you may elect, since these principles will be effective only according to their motivating philosophy.

If I were able to impress upon you, as prospective school and community leaders, the indispensability of a single principle of education, it would be the one pertaining to character building. All others are desirable but this one is the sine qua non. The dedication of your talents to the service of youth will be fruitful according to the standards of ethical conduct you generate in youth.

Today we see a world being shattered because too many national leaders are without ethical principles. Until we have leaders unselfishly devoted to the common good, there can be little hope for progress. Instilling ideals of high character is the role of the true teacher in striving to achieve such progress.

C. J. NAEGLE
Dean of Instruction

To the Class of 1940:

Citizenship is an adjustment to one's environment, accepting it as it is, or changing it in order to better meet one's needs.

A college student has an unusual opportunity for developing good citizenship by taking part in the activities of college life. This brings him in contact with teachers, students, administration, student activities, society, club and athletic life.

A college citizen obeys laws, follows customs and is responsible for his conduct in any circumstance. By accepting social obligations he can acquire personal charm and poise that will be satisfying to self-esteem. An intimate acquaintance with art, drama and music will cultivate taste and broaden his appreciation for the cultural aspects of life.

Increasingly the college citizen must assume the responsibility connected with the various organized forms of the college community in which he lives.

ROBERT ELLIOT,
Dean of Men.

To the Class of 1940:

The years ahead present unprecedented challenge to Youth and to the leaders and teachers of Youth. It is not going to be easy, under such circumstances as confront the world, for you to keep your heads level, your judgments wise, your emotions controlled, and your faith and courage firm. May your college years help you to face the tasks ahead with standards high, vision clear, determination firm, and spirit undaunted!

RUTH L. JONES,
Dean of Women.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Our play opens in the year of 1936, with a strange setting, and a great number of bewildered and frightened characters. The tale begins with the introduction of these characters to "Julia," then on to the maddening procedure of registration.

As freshmen, our characters felt exceedingly inexperienced with the ways of the college, and looked for help and understanding from those who knew—the upper classmen. We are just "Frosh" to them, and must learn the routine of registration and regulations as they had learned it during previous years. We braved the hectic days cheerfully, including the nine weeks of "regs." Finally, our day came. The Freshmen and Sophomore soccer teams met on the battlefield and the Freshmen were victorious. The time had come for us to remove our Freshman insignias and bury them in some forgotten land.

In the last half of the first act of our play, we chose our class officers. Daniel Rowan was elected President; William Keller, Vice-President; Alyson Kistler, Secretary, and Frances Purcell, Treasurer. Our faculty adviser was Stephen Roberts, who guided our activities from 1936-1940.

The high spot of our Freshman year was the Kiddie Kut-Up Party. All students and faculty were invited. Each one donned a kiddies' dress or suit and lapsed back into baby talk. We had entertainment, dancing, and all-day suckers. Since the party was a success, we were able to have the Freshman Prom, which was held in the grand ball room of the Penn-Stroud Hotel in Stroudsburg, with music for dancing by Ken Brown and his orchestra.

To lead the cast for the second year, we had Walter Olenick as President, James Lee as Vice-President, Dorothy Scheirer as Secretary, and Frances Purcell as Treasurer. They were well directed by our production manager, Mr. Stephen Roberts.

Since, as Freshmen, the Kiddie Party was hailed as a success, we again held a Kindergarten class in the Wayne Gymnasium.

Our Sophomore Prom was held at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls. After a delicious dinner in the annex dining room, dancing was enjoyed in the Lower Lounge.

As Juniors, our principal characters changed. Our President was Raymond Gough, Vice-President, Joseph Beha; Secretary, George Lewis, and Treasurer, Delroy Evans. The Junior Class raised money by contracting the athletic concessions, by having another Kiddie Kut-Up, and by sponsoring a Junior movie. As a result, our players were able to enjoy a dinner dance at Skytop Lodge, which was very successful.

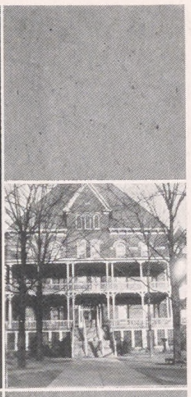

The officers of the class of 1940 included President Daniel Rowan, Vice-President Francis Purcell, Secretary Tom Weston, and Treasurer Walter Olenick. This is the biggest, best year of all. The scene is always full of action, senior pictures, year book staff meetings, student-teacher conferences, and applications.

The Senior play, "The Ghost Train," was the climax of this fourth and last act of our sketch. Our capable actors and actresses again displayed their talents as they had done in previous school productions. The class boasts of its musicians, athletes, writers, and orators, who have been outstanding in the past four years.

The end of our play has come, but not the end of our story. We hope the future will be as successful, as interesting and as exciting as our four years at E. S. S. T. C.

By an act of the State Council of Education, students who began their preparation after January 1, 1937, may become certified to teach after completing a required three years of professional training.

Although this group will not leave our campus with a degree, they will be given a State Standard Limited Certificate which will qualify them to teach in the elementary grades.

Their stay upon our campus has been a happy one, filled with a whole-hearted participation in the extra-curricular clubs, athletics, student government and social life. Many memories will be left behind with their classmates who must pursue their goal for another year.

The students on the following pages are candidates for certification.

PROCESSES AND VOCATIONAL INTERESTS

MEMORIES

FRESHMAN YEAR

September 10—Registration Day; or "The Mystery of the Colored Cards."
September 14—Thelma Box operated on for appendicitis.
October 3—Frosh Football team defeated by Blair, 24-0.
October 17—Homecoming Day, dancing in the evening to music of Ken Brown. (Coming events cast their shadows.)
December 17—Christmas Dance, Tommy Donlin's orchestra.
February 13—Valentine Dance in Armory; Ken Brown's orchestra.
March 6—Kiddie Kut-up. Ray Gough, master of ceremonies. (Remember those corny jokes? He's still telling them!)
March 20—Guest Dance—a chance to show off our home-town girls and boy friends that everyone's been hearing about all year.
April 17—Freshman Prom at the Penn-Stroud. Music by Ken Brown; back-to-nature decorations from La Bar's nursery.
May 1—Parents' Day.
May 22—Alumni Day—most of us were home.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

September 9—Registration Day—still can't figure out which card goes where.
September 20—Health education girls allowed to wear ankle sox for outside gym work.
September 24—Tony Scarcella resigns from Big-Nose Club; vacancy filled by Richard V. Bevilacqua.
September 29—Freshman Reception.
October 16—Homecoming Day.
October 29—Kiddie's Party for girls in S-2. (A forceful case against "Backward, Turn Backward, O Time!")
December 3—Bob Hontz met Miss Grace Caralan in a game of badminton in Wayne Gymnasium. P. S.: Bob lost!
December 4—Choral Club dance at Penn-Stroud. Music by Kampus Kapers; special numbers by girls' trio.
December 10—"Hinky" Haines dislocates shoulder in basketball.
December 12—Sophomore Tea, with Christmas decorations.
December 19—Louis Pagano chased Richard V. Bevilacqua around the kitchen with a butcher knife. No, he wasn't caught.
December 21—Christmas Dance; Ken Brader's orchestra.
February 14—Ground-breaking exercises for new buildings. Remember the American Legionnaires and the school bands?
March 4—Open Forum in assembly. (Simile: As unconvincing as Hoffner's athletic council statistics!)
March 12—Guest Dance in Armory; with Tommy Donlin's music. Tastefully decorated with gaudy balloons and pine branches—imagine!
April 30—Parents' Day.
May 21—Alumni Day.
May 22—Sophomore Prom at Buck Hill.

JUNIOR YEAR

September 15—Registration Day. Juniors and we still don't understand the intricacies of those cards!
October 10—Kampus Kapers gets new dance music from dink fund!
October 22—Alumni Day. Dedication of new athletic field—a day to be remembered by all of us.
October 29—One of those tests that try men's souls—the attack from Mars! Are these our classmates? (My brother's birthday.)
November 18—Thanksgiving Dance; music by Ken Brown.
December 3—Choral Club Dance at Penn-Stroud.
December 7—Gene Smith elected editor of 1940 Stroud; Gene Kauler, business manager. Wasn't that a smart move on our part?
December 9—"Adventures of Robin Hood"—movie.
December 16—Christmas play: Dickens' "Christmas Carol."
December 20—Christmas Dance. Tommy Donlin's orchestra.
January 14—Kiddie Kut-up—at least we're consistent!
February 11—Valentine Dance; hearts were worn on sleeves.
March 18—Guest Dance in Armory.
May 6—Parents' Day.
May 6—Junior Prom at Skytop—all this, and heaven too!
May 27—Alumni Day.

SENIOR YEAR

September 7—Registration Day; what's the use—a fellow either understands these cards or he doesn't. It's like playing the piano—if you haven't the talent, you just can't learn.
September 27—President's Reception Number One. A straight line is the distance between Bill Keller and the chaperone on the end.
October 14—Annual Fellowship Banquet at Skytop. I'll bet Mrs. Koehler never did see that elk and moose on the way home!
October 27—Homecoming Day.
December 22—Christmas Dance—we drank the punch because it was our last Christmas Dance.
January 24—Student teaching is all over—or just beginning!
January 27—President's Reception Number Two. We all met Dr. and Mrs. Noonan.
February 24—Dolly Arthur operated on for appendicitis.
March 15—"The Ghost Train"—Senior class play. A mystery thriller, with sound and gestures. Such suspense!
March 16—Guest Dance in New Gymnasium! One of the biggest thrills of our senior year.
April 4, 5, 6—Senate convention in New York. My, aren't the buildings tall?
April 27—Senior Prom. A dance we will all remember.
May ??—Class day. Fun on the farm.
May 27—Commencement.

PROCESSES AND VOCATIONAL INTERESTS

THE CLASS OF "41"

In September of 1937 a group of one hundred boys and girls assembled on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Campus with the determination of spending four years here. This has been a small group, but ever since it has been noted for its quality instead of quantity. It soon gained recognition among the faculty and older members of the student body through its cooperative spirit, scholastic aptitude, and athletic prowess.

Our class was well represented on the gridiron, with Jack Kist, Richard Lewis, Thomas Marselli taking regular positions. On the soccer field, Joseph Lapiana was the sole performer, but he gave a good account of himself. Prior to the Thanksgiving recess the "Frosh boys nosed out the fighting Sophomore" team in an extra period period by 3-2 and thus "regs" were discarded immediately.

After the beginning of the second semester, we elected the following leaders to guide the destiny of our small but mighty class: President, Clinton Roberts; Vice-President, Peter Ottone; Secretary, Betty Putt; and Treasurer, John Havel. At the same time we selected Miss Ruth Kistler as our class adviser. She has proved to be a popular, sincere, and capable guide under whom our class has been able to make great advances.

The Freshman basketball team continued to show superb quality, and under the tutelage of Mr. Stephen Roberts the boys played all their games without one set-back. This was accomplished without the services of Jack Kist, who was advanced to the varsity basketball team.

In the spring we held a delightful and successful dinner-dance at Buck Hill Falls. With this promising event every one looked forward to a bigger and better prom in the sophomore year, which later proved to be so.

Once again the class was represented in a varsity sport, Morris Peckerman alternating with Bill Keller at the receiving end of the battery.

In September, 1938, having thrown off the yoke of "freshmanhood," we were ready to achieve even higher aims and leave an indelible mark on the college roll. The officers elected were: President, Jack Kist; Vice-President, Peter Ottone; Secretary, Louise Townsend; Treasurer, John Havel.

The time for the annual Sophomore-Freshman battle arrived, and once again an inspired Freshman class heeded the call to war, but when the battle ended they retreated with defeat, hence their "regs" had to be lived up to until Christmas.

Our Sophomore Class sponsored an unusually successful benefit movie at the Grand Theatre. The benefits were used to reduce the expenses for the prom in the spring. This was held at the Pocono Manor, with Tommy Donlin and his Pennsylvanians providing the music. Every one present enjoyed the social affair.

In the athletic activities, more and more members began to represent our class. Football had Marselli, Kist, Lewis, Munowitz, Ritter and Funk; Soccer received Lapiana and Rehrig; Basketball had Ritter and Lapiana, and Kist; and Track had Ottone, McDonald, and Musselman.

September, 1939, approached and the junior class was again prepared to launch its scholastic ship of learning into the waters of higher education. At the fall election we chose the following stalwarts to steer our course and guide our crew: President, Clinton Roberts; Vice-President, Peter Ottone; Secretary, Willard Funk; Treasurer, John Havel. Scholastic honors were achieved by more than ten of our class. Kappa Delta Pi invited these into membership and a few of them also added distinction of optional attendance.

This year our class was especially proud of the performances of Thomas Kearns, who pulled the Stroudsburg Warriors through many football victories. At the end of the football season he was selected on the third squad of the all-state team.

THE CLASS OF "42"

We're halfway, yes, just halfway between the incoming class and those who leave thee regretfully, as it is so well phrased in our Alma Mater. From all walks of life we come to State Teachers College as freshmen. She took us, mothered us, and began shaping us into the class of "1942"; a class which we earnestly hope she will be proud to call her own.

We shall not forget our first year spent on her campus. Bedecked with green ties and green bands we wandered aimlessly about for a few weeks before we began to feel at home. The freshmen boys were given many opportunities to demonstrate their talents on the front steps of Stroud Hall and in various rooms in the dormitory. The girls, too, were subjected to such indignities as wearing green bands and tags.

The males lost their annual soccer game with the sophomores by just one point, and thus were forced to live restricted lives until Christmas. All the girls, however, passed their annual green band test and were feted at a Thanksgiving tea given in their honor.

In the early part of the second semester, we elected our officers. We chose Michael McNamara, President; Jeanne Feeley, Vice-President; Willard Grantz, Secretary; Robert Reed, Treasurer. Mr. Paul Crawn was elected our class adviser. At the same time we selected the persons whom we wanted to represent us on the various councils. Eleanor Whitenight, Claudia Cooke, Richard Schultz and Robert Izer did a fine job on the Senate. We were capably represented on the Athletic Council by Louis Zwirek; on the Entertainment Council by Betty Horne; on the Social Council by John McMahon, and on the Publications Council by Betty Wetherhold.

Under these leaders, we sponsored a movie in the Grand Theatre. This proved very popular with the students, and was so successful, financially, that many of our upper classmen followed our example.

The highlight of our freshman year was our "Prom," which was held at Buck Hill Falls Inn, and which was a big success.

Before we leave our Freshman year, we must pause to commend our fine athletes. No one can ever forget the Frosh team that helped our college win so many basketball games. We had members on every other varsity team, and thus several of our classmates took their places on the campus as wearers of the red and black varsity awards.

After a strenuous week spent on those immortal final exams, we came to the end of our first year.

The following September we registered as Sophomores. When we embarked on our second year, we were quite accustomed to college life and didn't take long to get into the swing of things.

We began this year with another capable group of leaders who had been elected the previous May. We had chosen the same class officers to again lead us. To the Senate we elected Eleanor Whitenight, Jeanne Feeley, and Frank Mignoni. We reelected Louis Zwirek to the Athletic Council. As our Entertainment Councillor we elected Harriet Wieland; our Social Councillor, Carmen Libertore; and our Publications Councillor, Charles Mintzer.

Always striving for originality and ingenuity, we started the year with something novel in the way of campus dances. We held a Sadie Hawkins' Dance, to which each female on the campus brought one of our blushing boys. The gym was skillfully decorated with cornstalks, pumpkins and crepe paper, to give the effect of a real barn dance. With all classes cooperating, we made it a highly enjoyable affair and another financial success.

Once again our class made many brilliant contributions to our athletic teams. In football we had Louis Zwirek, Robert Izer, James Leedy, Willard Grantz; to soccer we gave Ralph Durant, Elwood Sommers; to basketball, William McAndrew, Tony Dobra, Louis Randon, Al Searfoss, Eddie Yevak; and to the gym team went Betty Wetherhold, Mildred Wood, Eleanor Whitenight and Betty Horne.

Once again we climaxed the year with a successful Prom, and approached the end feeling that our two years thus far have been extremely profitable, and we look forward with eager anticipation to our two remaining years on this campus.

To East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, September 14, 1939, was just another Registration Day, but to 135 incoming freshmen, it marked the beginning of a new and different life. Each one of us awaited eagerly what the future held in store for us and determined to get the most out of what it offered. We visioned a life rich in friendships, carefree camaraderie, campus capers, social enjoyments, athletic contests, hard study and some good old examination cramming. An arduous but enjoyable freshman year was anticipated.

Thanksgiving saw the death of the "regs" period and the burial of all "regs" reminders. Our boys won the annual Freshman-Sophomore soccer game and our girls successfully sailed through their Green Band tests. These two victories ended the period of Freshman submission and servitude. Red dinks and green ties, black socks and green bands were tucked away in memory boxes and scrapbooks.

A formal tea was held in honor of the Freshman girls, initiating them into their new status as full-fledged college co-eds. The transition from lowly Frosh to able freshmen was shown by the boys by shedding their conservative cravats and hose and emerging red-plaid ties and red, yellow, and blue-striped socks.

The freshman class did its share in giving its services to the Alma Mater. Nowhere is this evidenced more than in the athletic field. Every varsity team has at least one freshman representative: football—Eddie Rushin; soccer—Richard Fredenburg and Ray Davies; basketball—Joseph Sager; women's varsity basketball—Charlotte Long. Men's and women's intramurals have their share of frosh athletes.

Class elections were held at the beginning of the second semester. Paul Proud and Joseph Sager were elected President and Vice-President, respectively; and Edward Kilcullen and Joseph Horan, Treasurer and Secretary.

ETHICAL CHARACTER AND CIVIC EDUCATION

"Character is the governing element of live, and is above genius."
—Frederick Saunders.

Is not our Student Government a working model of Democracy? Surely citizenship or civic education plays a vital part in a properly functioning government, and without ethical character, no democratic society could justly exist or function.

The School Teacher's Creed

I believe in boys and girls, the men and women of a great tomorrow; that whatsoever the boy soweth the man shall reap. I believe in the curse of ignorance, in the efficiency of schools, in the dignity of teaching and in the joy of serving others. I believe in wisdom as revealed in human lives as well as in the pages of a printed book, in lessons taught not so much by precept as by example, in the ability to work with the hand as well as to think with the head, in every thing that makes life large and lonely. I believe in beauty in the schoolroom, in the home, in daily life and out-of-doors. I believe in laughter, in love, in faith, in all ideals and distant hopes that lure us on. I believe that every hour of every day we receive a just reward for all we are and all we do. I believe in the present and its opportunities, in the future and its promises and in the divine joy of living. Amen.

THE STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate is made up of four representatives elected from each class, with the faculty represented by three members appointed by the President of the College.

The Senate, acting as the student legislative body, decides all questions of policy and constitutionality of its laws. It is the responsibility of the Senate to govern, regulate, and control all student activities and campus organizations. The members represent their classes by bringing all the problems up before the Senate.

This year the Senate has been more active than usual in cooperating with other student governments in an effort to find out what other schools and colleges are accomplishing. Delegates were sent to the Convention of Student Senates at Penn State College and also to the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers in New York City.

Active as it was, however, the Senate still found time to arrange for a Fellowship Banquet and Dance at Skytop Lodge, to which were invited all the members and advisers of the Social Council, Athletic Council, and Entertainment Council. This annual revel in the arts of Epicureus and Terpsichore further cemented the bonds of cooperation and amity between the councils.

Besides settling matters of policy for the student body as a whole, the Senate also collects the activity fee and allocates it accordingly to the various councils which, in turn, provide the student body with a program of activities.

PUBLICATIONS COUNCIL

This small group of students, representing each of the four classes of the college, acts for the student body on matters pertaining to the publications of the college; the Stroud Courier, biweekly student newspaper; the Stroud, annual yearbook; and the handbook, popular pocket-sized book which acquaints all newcomers with college rules and regulations, and is a convenient reference for all students. Probably no other group works more unobtrusively in performing its various duties.

Each year it contracts for the publication of the Stroud Courier, which duty requires that the council obtain a number of bids, approving that one which best suits the budget of the council. While it does not dictate, the council must approve all policies of the staff of the newspaper, and all changes in the make-up of the paper. Each year it is responsible for sending some outstanding members of the Courier Staff to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference in New York City.

In sponsoring the publication of an annual yearbook, the council's duties are not quite so extensive, for a business staff is selected for this publication. However, the council must approve the staff, and take care of problems which arise. The faculty adviser of the Stroud staff is also a member of the Publications Council. Mr. Stephen Roberts performed this duty during the past school year.

Then there is the college handbook, which the council must compile each year. A member of the council is chosen editor, while the entire group acts as the staff.

The members of the Publications Council are elected at the spring elections, one member being elected from each of the three lower classes, and two from the senior class. In order that the council may better understand the problems of the Courier Staff, the editor or editors automatically become members of the council.

The council's adviser is Dr. Edna L. Rosenkrans, head of the college English department.

ENTERTAINMENT COUNCIL

The Entertainment Council was organized in September, 1933, for the purpose of supervising and selecting various forms of entertainment for the students of the College. This entertainment includes the moving pictures shown on Friday evenings in the auditorium, morning assembly programs, stage presentations by professional and widely known artists, special holiday programs, and it partially sponsors dramatic and musical presentations by the students.

Representatives are elected to the council from the four classes; one member being elected from each except the senior class, which elects two. The members serve a term of one year on the council.

This year the council purchased a new Vitaphone, making the movies much more enjoyable.

During the year the following morning and evening entertainments were given in addition to the Friday night movies:

SOCIAL COUNCIL

To plan the social calendar for the college year is the purpose of the Social Council. Its duties lie in executing the numerous details involved in sponsoring social functions—engaging the orchestra, obtaining the chaperones, planning the decorations, deciding upon refreshments, and getting waitresses and doormen.

The principal social events of the year are planned and arranged for by the Social Council proper. A major event is planned for each month. The affairs this year have been as follows:

Annual Fall Reception and Dance
Homecoming Dance
Christmas Week and Dance
Student Reception to the New President
Guest Dance
Parents' Day
Alumni Day and Dance

The weekly dances held on Wednesday nights are sponsored and under the direct control of this council.

The activities planned for the men and women students separately, are made possible by the Social Council through allocations made to the Women's and Men's Executive Councils respectively. The activities for the women are planned for by the Women's Executive Council and those for the men, by the Men's Executive Council.

Class teas, spring and fall parties for the women students, and a fall smoker, winter parties, and a Spring Frolic for the men students are among the festivities enjoyed.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Athletics, the most extensive student activities, are sponsored by the Athletic Council, an organization elected from the student body. It is composed of two faculty advisers and five class representatives, two from the Senior Class and one from each other class.

The duties of the council are to promote and conduct all sports, both varsity and intra-mural. This includes: the arrangement of all athletic schedules, transportation of teams, lodging and meals for various athletic groups, the selection of officials for the contests, the purchase and care of equipment, and the maintenance of a program of varied activity for those students not competing in varsity competition.

The students are represented in intercollegiate athletics by sixteen different teams participating in nine different sports for men and women. These sports include: football, soccer, basketball, wrestling, gymnastics, track, tennis and baseball.

The council also arranges for the High School Gymnastics Championships held in the spring, to which the college invites high schools in this region to compete. It also sponsors the annual Athletic Banquet held in the college dining room to fete all the school's lettermen. Each year it schedules several assembly programs, at which time it presents letters and certificates to the lettermen of the various sports, introduces the coaches to the student body, and acquaints the students with their varsity teams.

MEN'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The members of the Men's Executive Council, elected from the student body, aim to foster friendly relations among the men students, to encourage individual and group responsibility, to establish and maintain high traditions of student citizenship, and to enact necessary by-laws and regulations for the betterment of the students' life in general. For the Men's Club, the council supplies several daily newspapers and weekly magazines, and provides for some recreational activities.

Throughout the school year, the Council provides several social activities for the men students. Preceding the initial home football game is the "Fall Smoker." In part, the "Smoker" is a football and soccer rally at which time coaches and captains anticipate the oncoming season. Upper classmen disregard regulations and the freshmen become better acquainted with other men students and the men faculty members. To add to the spirit of the occasion, entertainment and refreshments are provided. Other highlights provided by the Council are: Hall parties, held during the winter months; and a Spring Frolic, where entertainments and refreshments help to provide for wholesome fellowship.

By supervising Freshmen regulations and appointing a vigilance committee which acts with the council, a cooperative feeling is brought about by the council between the upperclassmen and the new students.

WOMEN'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Arriving at the college several days before opening day, the members of the Women's Executive Council are here to welcome Freshman women, to help them to overcome that "homesick" feeling, and to aid them in adjusting themselves to life on the campus of E.S.S.T.C. In this way they get off to an early start in fulfilling their main purpose—helping each and every woman student on the campus live her college life fully and desirably.

Councillors for this organization are elected in the spring of each year by the girls on the various halls in the dormitory and by the day students. Each group elects three representatives (the day students elect five), to be their leaders the following year. They are installed at a banquet held in May at a near-by inn.

In order to take care of all its duties and responsibilities efficiently and well, the council functions through numerous committees, each composed of small groups of girls taking various duties as their particular work and care. This work is wide and varied, as can be seen by a glimpse at the work of just a few of these.

The All Women's Social Committee plans and conducts various women's social functions throughout the year, such as the Kiddy Party and the Spring Party. The Class Teas Committee arranges for four class teas spaced throughout the year. The Social Rooms Committee checks and takes care of and makes the rules for the use of the Quiet Lounge, Gay-M Room, and Kitchenette, and provides newspapers and magazines for the women's use. The Dormitory Cooperative Plan Committee is responsible for the improvement of the living conditions in the dormitories.

Again this year, for the third time, the council will select the three most attractive rooms in the girls' dormitory next spring, and award prizes to the winners. It is also planning to add to the Model Room, continuing the fine work begun when this room was planned and made a reality last year.

STROUD COURIER STAFF

The Stroud Courier furnishes the student body with information about social events, clubs, assembly programs, sports, and other college interests. The paper presents all the school news and also much enjoyable reading material. Working according to the established principles of journalism, the Stroud Courier staff attempts to make each issue as fine as possible.

The staff is organized into small units, each responsible for a certain phase of work. The editors and their associates make certain that all the important events are "covered," supervise the putting together of the "dummy," arrange for copy and proofreading, and direct the distribution of the paper. Next in order are the editors of the various departments, who make the assignments to reporters and assume the responsibility for having the copy on hand before the deadline. In this manner sports, features, exchange, change and commuters' news are included in each issue. There are reporters whose duty it is to submit articles about all important college events. Completing the list of staff organization is the adviser, who gives advice and offers suggestions when needed.

Besides publishing a newspaper bi-weekly, the Stroud Courier staff plans to gain as much journalistic knowledge and experience as possible. The year's program is planned to include speakers who are familiar with certain phases of newspaper work. At such times, various points of journalism are brought up and their importance and usage made clear. This training enables the staff members to qualify as advisers of school publications upon graduation from college.

THE STROUD STAFF

Into the hands of this group was put the trust of the Senior class, to make and publish for them a book to be treasured both now and in the future years for its memories of happy days. Although the staff is but a small percentage of the student body, only the cooperation of every student pictured here, every faculty member, and especially the faculty adviser, Mr. Stephen Roberts, made possible the book here presented to you.

INTRA-MURAL COMMITTEE

The Intra-mural Committee was organized in order to interest the majority of students in some form of athletics.

The committee is composed of a man and a woman student representative from each class and the head of the Physical Education Department, who acts as chairman and adviser. This committee sets up the extra-curricular activity program for the school.

The Health Education students are not required to take physical activities other than that which is given in their curriculum, but the secondary and the elementary students, who do not take any physical activity courses, have to meet certain requirements. These requirements may be met in the following ways:

1. By attendance throughout the season as a member of an intercollegiate sport squad.
2. By participating in two intramural sports, one of which must be an individual sport.
3. By attendance at twenty instructional classes in the various sports played.

The committee sponsored the following games and tournaments during the last year: Men's tennis, volleyball, football, soccer, table tennis, wrestling, basketball, softball, horseshoes, and quoits. Women's hockey, soccer, basketball, table tennis, volleyball, foul shooting and long shots. During the instructional periods horseshoes, badminton, basketball and quoits were played.

PROMOTING HEALTH INTEREST

"Nor love, nor honour, wealth nor pow'r,

Fundamental to the proper functioning of any organization is the health of the individual. Promoting health interest, as an objective of education, involves the education of individuals with reference to the processes of life.

We can be justifiably proud of the extensive health program on our campus, for our athletic program, as displayed on the following pages, is but one phase of this program, the aim of which is for each individual to "Live best and serve most."

THE STROUD WARRIORS

Once again the members of the football squad returned early for pre-season conditioning, hoping for and predicting a successful season.

Inspired by the thought of a new coach, a wealth of material from the freshman class, and the returning of many veterans, the squad settled down to adapting themselves to Coach Snavely's system. Having very little difficulty in doing so, the squad opened the football season at home very confident of a victory over Panzer.

Despite the fact that they outplayed, outgained and outfought their opponents, the East Stroudsburg boys lost their first game by a 7 to 6 score.

Bouncing back from a burning defeat, the boys set out to redeem themselves by knocking off the highly touted West Chester team. The team entered the game a decided underdog, but determined to upset the "Friday Night prognosticators."

Although outplaying the famed Purple and Gold for fully a quarter and a half, the team's offense crumbled because of injuries. Finding these losses impossible to overcome, the team played a gallant but futile game, losing to West Chester by a 24 to 0 score.

The hopes of having a successful season seemed very slight. Here were the Warriors with two starts—two defeats, some valuable men laid up because of injuries, and the Shippensburg game coming up—a game we hadn't won in the last three years.

After a week of hard, strenuous work during which Coach Snavely stressed the offense and defense of Shippensburg, the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College grid team, playing an inspired game before a large home-coming crowd, finally broke into the win column by defeating the favored Shippensburg eleven, 26 to 7.

With the team shaping up nicely and a victory under their belts, it really looked like the Warriors had finally found themselves, but the team's success was short lived for the following week they received a crushing defeat at the hands of Cortland—27 to 0.

Fully realizing that the Cortland outfit, at this stage of the season, was still an undefeated and a well-coached team, our team did not feel despondent.

Midway in the season, the football record stood at one victory to three defeats—a .250 percentage.

The following week East Stroudsburg, a favorite for the first time this season, took to the field at Montclair, only to receive a very degrading defeat from a decidedly inferior team—8 to 0.

For the ensuing week the team practiced very conscientiously with one aim in view—to beat Mansfield.

Excitement was high. Mansfield was favored. In every corner, heads got together with dubious shakings. Vague forebodings were heard as to the probability or possibility of Stroudsburg scoring. The crowd filled the stands, hoping against hope, but determined to stick, win or lose. Something happened! Give the credit to the inspired playing of the team or to the backing of the bleacherites. Put it where you will. Stroudsburg won by a 13 to 8 score.

The Bloomsburg game arrived. According to tradition, beating Bloom presages a successful season. If we could count on the old adage, our season would be a brilliant success, for Bloomsburg fell to a 25 to 7 score. Stroudsburg completely overpowered the lighter squad.

With Mansfield and Bloomsburg both defeated, the team looked forward confidently to the next game with Lock Haven, certain that they could end the season with the third consecutive victory. Both Lock Haven and East Stroudsburg were tied for fourth place for the mythical title of the State Teachers Colleges.

Playing before one of the largest crowds of the season, Stroudsburg played one of the smartest games of the season, but because of the power and superior weight of the opponents, East Stroudsburg failed to score the greatly desired third consecutive victory, since they were defeated by a 21 to 12 score.

Giving a backward glance to the season as a whole, it could hardly be called unsuccessful. Although from the standpoint of victories, the record did not appear favorably, still scores do not tell the complete story. One important thing was evident from the beginning—the confidence the team placed in Coach Snavely. It was apparent in their every appearance on the field. They were wise in putting their trust in him, because as the season got underway it was apparent to all that the coach was well versed in the field of football.

From this backward glance, we predict that at the end of the 1940 season Stroudsburg, for the first time in many years, will find more victories than defeats to her credit.

Junior Varsity Football, after an absence of three years from our Campus, was once again inaugurated here at State Teachers College. The season, although not a successful one from the standpoint of wins and losses, was very important in many other ways. The boys furnished opposition for the Varsity and were a steady source of varsity material. Many boys, who spent this season with the Junior squad, are expected to be worthy members of the Big Team next season. The team was very ably coached by Mr. John Kowalski and aided by Mr. Elliott, who acted as their adviser on more than one occasion.

ESSTC 16—New York Military Academy 33—The lighter but gamer Stroudsburg outfit made a very good showing, but were no match for the York State Boys. The half time score of nine to seven shows that the lack of reserves and weight were the handicaps which could not be overcome.

ESSTC 0—Wyoming Seminary 28—A good line plus the presence of first class backfield proved too much for the scrappy Red and Black cubs to overcome; thus a glorious victory for Seminary and another game chalked up to experience for the Junior Varsity.

ESSTC 6—National Farm School 6—Reaching what was probably their prime for the year, the lighter juniors pushed the heavy farmers all over the field but were unable to score the extra point which would have given them the well deserved victory.

ESSTC 0—Phillipsburg Catholic 0—Playing with a listlessness, the baby warriors spent the afternoon defending their own goal line against a team that would never give them a rub on any other occasion. The only highlight of the entire game was the goal line stands of the visitors.

ESSTC 7—Scranton Keystone 19—Unable to cope with the line charges of Maholochik, the little warriors finished their season with another loss. Outweighed, but never outplayed, the team gave a good account of themselves and made up in gameness what they lost in points.

THE STROUD NETTERS

The Red and Black netmen were called for practice in the latter part of March, 1939. In order that they might benefit from the much needed practice for their rather stiff schedule, Coach Lorenz summoned all tennis candidates for this spring training. The outlook for the approaching season was bright, as all the veterans of former campaigns and many underclassmen responded to the coach's call.

In order that they might work out more intensively on the limited courts at their disposal, Coach Lorenz cut the large squad down to eight members as the first match drew near. The coach chose the following players to represent our school on the courts: Paul Dougher, Robert Dunn, Myron Hammes, Edward Praisner, George Roberts, Russell Scott, William Shannon, and Raymond Gough, who had been elected to head the group as Captain in 1939.

Facing their opponents in competition on the clay courts ten times during the season, East Stroudsburg compiled a praiseworthy record of six victories against four defeats.

THE STROUD GRAPPLERS

Immediately following the football season, Coach Edwin Snavely issued the call for the first wrestling practice of the season. The number of aspiring grapplers turning out greatly exceeded that of the past years. Promise of a highly successful season was evident because of the number of seasoned veterans on hand.

Coach Snavely, realizing the importance of having his men in perfect condition, began a gruelling period of pre-season training. Miles upon miles were run by each aspirant, and when the date for the first match rolled around, every man who had weathered the grind was in prime condition.

The season opened with the grapplers traveling to New York to engage Brooklyn College in their first test. Hope for a perfect season was short-lived, for the team returned home defeated in their first start. We might say that this set-back served as a tonic instead of demoralizing the team. The team, as a whole, was more than ever determined to win.

Mansfield, their next opponent, proved to be the opportunity for our boys to pull the biggest upset of the season. The boys returned home with the Mansfield scalp tucked securely away. A week later, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute came to our campus to test the steel of our wrestlers. A sorry aggregation of wrestlers departed several hours later, for our team had taken their measure by the lop-sided score of 33-3.

Misfortune struck the team in the following weeks when injuries to three regulars caused the boys to drop the four remaining matches on their schedule. Defeats at the hands of Montclair, City College of New York, Lock Haven and West Chester, followed in succession.

DelRoy Evans, veteran performer of three years, was elected captain at the close of the season.

Despite adverse weather conditions which hampered early season drills, the charges of Coach Vibberts well represented East Stroudsburg State Teachers College on the cinder paths in 1939.

With outstanding trackmen, such as Tulley, Bonner, Kauler, E. Smith and many others, the Warriors were a constant threat to opponents.

The opening meet saw a superior Bloomsburg squad emerge victorious. Following meets with Shippensburg and Montclair, the Warriors were ready for the annual Physical Education Meet, this year held at Ithaca. It was here that our lads showed their heels to their opponents from Trenton, Ithaca and Cortland.

John Tulley, ace sprinter, broke the meet record for the 440-yd. run when he was clocked at 51.3 seconds. Another standout was Bonner, who took top honors, winning both the mile and the two-mile events.

Further adding to their laurels, the Warriors' 880-yd. relay team—Lapiana, Wagner, E. Smith and Tulley—came home first, thus being the first team to win the event after its revival in the Physical Education meet.

Closing the season with a home meet against Trenton, our track team outdistanced and outscored the lads from Jersey. In this meet, Tulley, Bonner, Haines, Focht, and Ottone garnered first place laurels.

Outstanding throughout the campaign were Tulley, Bonner, Kauler, Haines, Focht, E. Smith, along with some fine assistance from Lapiana, Wagner, Durant and Earl Smith. All this went to make the track season a fine season.

At the close of the season the honorary Captain was elected. This position rightfully went to John Tulley, a veteran of three years running.

THE STROUD BASKETEERS

Starting out a very tough season under a new coach and lacking the necessary height to make them a great team, the 1939-40 edition of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College did well to win seven of their nineteen contests. The year, as a whole, was not a complete failure, as the tabulations might seem to indicate; for the teams that fell to the cunning of the Warriors were some of the better ball clubs on the schedule.

The season started very mediocrally with an inauspicious opening against Long Island U., and was immediately followed with losses to Paterson, Lock Haven and West Chester, before the home club was able to break into the win column with a cheap forty-one to forty win over a decidedly inferior Mansfield quintet. Following this short lease on life, the team again went into the doldrums, losing to Montclair, Lock Haven, Bloomsburg, Shippensburg, West Chester and Millersville.

On Friday, February 17, things looked exceedingly black as the Red and Black took the floor to do battle with their ancient foes from the fertile valley of Shippensburg. Then, the spark that had been extinct for so long burst into flame and the Robertsmen rained in baskets from all angles of the floor. Wally Olenick found his eye for the basket and flipped in a grand total of twenty-two points for the day's work. Every play was a success; nothing could go wrong, and the E. S. S. T. C. Warriors were on their way.

The next Monday saw the team snow under a fine Cortland team with a fine spurt in the last quarter of the ball game after trailing the New York State boys for three quarters. It was easy to see that a winning streak was in the making.

Trenton, fresh from a string of victories, was next to step in the way of the fast-traveling Warriors. They tried hard but all in vain; the Robertsmen were truly hot. When the smoke of the battle had cleared, the home club was declared victor by a sixty to thirty score.

With a two-day trip coming up, many were the rumors concerning a possible defeat and a break in the three-game winning streak. Mansfield, however, was not capable of stopping the rampaging Warriors, led by their diminutive forwards, Kist and Sager.

The next afternoon found the boys waiting to take the court against a highly-touted Ithaca cage team. Battling against towering odds in the form of two giants in the Ithaca lineup, it took the Redmen three quarters to wear down the big boys and gain a well-deserved fifty-nine-fifty-three victory. When the conquering heroes returned home on the following day, they were greeted with a round of applause by the students already gathered in the dining room.

Just as the ice cream cone is devoured and the beautiful dream is broken up by the alarm clock, so was the Stroudsburg winning streak doomed to go astray when the home guards met the undefeated five from Panzer College. The home team played hard and came very close to throwing a monkey wrench into the highly-geared machine of the Jerseyites, but it was just not to be, and the Warriors lost by four points.

The next night Stroudsburg came back with a bang, this time hammering the Bloomsburg "Huskies" in a free scoring game. It was in this contest that Wally Olenick broke the modern scoring record of the institution by garnering a grand total of twenty-seven points for one game. At this point, feeling ran high as to the prospects of the varsity defeating the State Champs from Millersville in the final game of the season, which was to take place on the following Saturday.

Full of hopes and prayers, the little fellows went out to do battle with the champions, but it was soon evident to the amassed crowd that the Millers were still to retain their title and that the Warriors would have to wait another year if they were to again break into the win column.

THE FROSH BASKETEERS

John Kowalski, new freshman basketball mentor, was greeted by a wealth of material in reply to his call for the first basketball practice of the season. His charges, all experienced basketeers but no two coming from the same high school, had some difficulty during the first two weeks in getting accustomed to his new system.

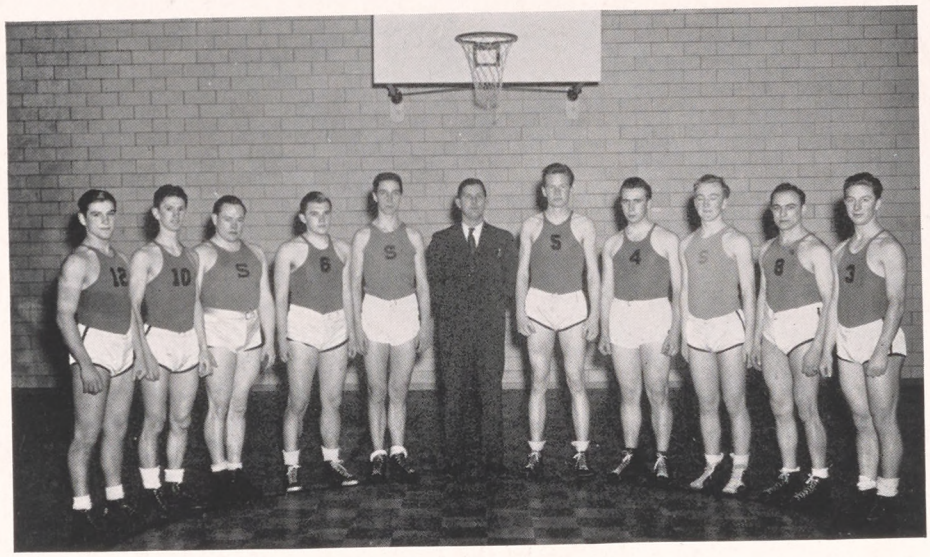

After this time, however, frequent scrimmages with Coach Roberts' Varsity had ironed out the rough spots in their offensive and defensive work, and the team began to click smoothly.

Opening their season against Allentown Central Catholic, the yearlings emerged victorious by the close score of 43-42. Their joy was short lived, however, for in their next encounter they were beaten by Pennington Prep.

Another blow was struck when Joey Sager, Hazleton High star, was removed from their ranks and promoted to the varsity. Undaunted, the team went on and won five of their last seven games, bringing their season to a close with a record of 6 wins and 3 defeats.

A lasting tribute to their likeable coach was given in the form of a victory over Pennington Prep in their last game of the season. Added to the desire to win their last game, was the desire to defeat the team that had handed them their first humiliation. The team, as a whole, went on a scoring spree during this game, and when the final gun went off, the score was 45 to 25.

The team was composed of eleven members, all of whom were instrumental in making the season a successful one. Vinci, Lynaugh, Lash, Liebensperger, Kilcullen, Rushin, Mykytyn, Weiner, Lahey, Kellogg and Fredenberg made up the squad, and all saw active service.

The girls' basketball team opened the 1939-40 season by winning an easy victory over the Long Island University team. This easy sailing seemed to prevent the team from getting a strong start for they lost their next game to Hofstra College. This, however, was no moral defeat to the team, since Hofstra College girls were undefeated this season and have never lost a game on their home floor. The next week a closely fought battle was lost to the Savage team, but this defeat gave the girls a spurt of action, for they were undefeated the remainder of the season.

After a battle through a severe snow blizzard the "White Ghosts," as the team is called, were able to tie the score in a game with the fast-passing Madison College team in Harrisonburg, Virgina. Playing Elizabethtown at home and away in close succession, the team had little trouble in defeating them in both games.

Probably the finest exhibition of skillful playing was given at New York University, the final score being 29-10.

The Rider College game was an easy victory after the N. Y. U. game, and being the last game for this year, brought the season to a successful close.

There are four senior members on the team who have shown fine playing on the Varsity team. They are: Captain Alice Hoffman, Kathryn Moyer, Emma Schlegel, and Eleanor Matchette.

THE STROUD SOCCERITES

The soccermen, under the tutelage of their new coach, Mr. DeNike, and sparked by the brilliant and consistent play of the co-captains, Gene Smith and Art Smith, completed the most successful season in five years. The record stands at: six wins, two defeats and one tie.

The team as a whole was extremely small, but the lack of size was more than made up for by the speed, splendid condition, and cleverness of our boys. It was a team that had no individual star, but rather was built upon excellent team work. The school can well be proud of the boys.

The two defeats of the season came at the hands of Rider and Cortland. Both opponents having teams which were outstanding, Rider barely nosed us out by a score of 2 to 1. Our boys scored early in the game for the first score and retained the lead fairly well into the third period, when Rider tied the score and then in the final period scored again to win.

Cortland came here with the intent of trouncing our soccermen as thoroughly as they had the football team. Outmanned decisively as far as size, our boys nevertheless fought so well that it wasn't until the latter part of the last period that Cortland scored their one and only goal of the game. It was big enough to win, but it was a victory hard earned.

The boys stepped up into the University ranks when they played Bucknell and came out of the fracas with a tie score of 1-1. Much credit must be given to the team in this contest, considering the fact that Bucknell University has one of the highest ranking teams of the country. Penn State, leading team of the country, beat Bucknell by the small score of 2 to 0

Transferring to the other side of the ledger, we find the wins greatly outweighing the defeats. The first victory of the season came to us at the expense of our ancient rival, Bloomsburg. The score of 2-1 does not really portray the actual picture of the game, for our boys continually outplayed and out-charged their opponents and had the ball in Bloomsburg territory fully three quarters of the game.

Continuing on down the page, we find the score of the West Chester game—a win for our boys, 2-0. Lapiana and Seese respectfully accounted for the goals that gave us the game. Further on down we come to another score of interest—Lock Haven 1, East Stroudsburg 2. Coming from behind with the score 1-0 against them, our team scored on a beautiful kick by Tulley to tie the score. The game remained deadlocked until the fourth quarter, when Ray Davies, freshman, scored the winning goal.

Going on, we discover three more victories which, although important, do not mean quite as much as the first three. Panzer bowed to the prowess of the college booters by the lop-sided score of 3-0. Ottone accounted for our first score. This was followed by an unusual score. Grossman headed a ball in his own net to give us another point. Lapiana scored the final goal on a free kick.

Seton Hall and Ithaca, both good teams, were victims of our "foot specialists"—Seton Hall bowing by a score of 2-1; Ithaca being routed by the score of 3 to 0.

THE STROUD NINE

Early in March Coach Roberts issued a call for all baseball candidates to report to the gym to start training for the ensuing season.

After two weeks of work indoors, because of adverse weather conditions, it became quite evident to Coach Roberts that his battery worries would be few, but that his biggest difficulties would be in finding some good hitters and infielders.

Although not a "polished ball club," the team opened the season against Massachusetts State, a most worthy foe. The game, for the second successive year, was played during snow squalls with Kearns and Peckerman playing midseason ball.

And so another baseball season was underway which did not prove to be too successful when one looks at the record—4 won, 7 lost, 2 tied.

During the season many exhibitions of good baseball were witnessed:

"Al" Searfoss, a Frosh, did excellent work on the mound. His most outstanding pitching was against Mansfield. Al had 19 strikeouts, but lost the game on a home run in the tenth inning.

Bob Kresge, another Frosh, pitched excellent baseball, using the "change the pace" to great advantage.

Tom Kearns, a Junior and former Lafayette student, pitched fine baseball, but the team failed to hit behind him.

Elwood Sommers, still another Frosh, did outstanding work at short-stop and at the plate, leading the batters with a .350 average.

For the ensuing season, Coach Roberts will have on the outfield Hontz, Smith, Kist, Lewis, Zwerick and VanHorn. In the infield he will have Ritter, McAndrew, Sommers, McNamara, and Barber from which to form a smooth-working combination. On the mound there will be Tommy Kearns, Al Searfoss, Elvin Cooney, with William Keller and Moe Peckerman to hold down the catching assignments.

THE STROUD GYMNASTS

The Varsity Gymnastic Team of 1940 was the thirteenth of its kind on our campus, which, however, did not have the ill luck that the season would indicate; it really had the type of season the admirers of the team have seen throughout its history, a thrilling, novel exhibition of grace and skill, capped by rollicking comedy. The performances never fail to attract new spectators, resulting in more requests for appearances every year. The team at this time is traveling throughout Pennsylvania and various other neighboring states, winning new friends to the school and spreading her fame farther afield.

Having a longer season than any other team on the campus, practice sessions are started early in November, long before the fall sports have been completed, thus giving a session of two and one-half months for hard, constant training. The practice sessions are almost like exhibitions in themselves for all the numbers are rehearsed over and over again. Interest in the team is shown by the number of students who eagerly line the gym watching every intricate move with rapt enthusiasm. Practices do not cease when exhibitions begin for only through constant repetition is any degree of perfection achieved. This explains the high degree of skill, grace, and rhythm with which both the young men and women perform.

The coach of the team, Mr. Liljenstein, who is also the head of the Physical Education Department, is largely responsible for the success of the team, for his efforts are unceasing, and his knowledge and experience stand him in good stead, and prove invaluable in providing a well-balanced program, and in the correction of all the details that are improperly executed. He not only assists the boys in their work on the apparatus and mats, but he also teaches the girls the various routines in dancing . The fact that both men and women are members of the team is distinctive, because it is the only one of its kind in the East.

The program is extensive and well balanced and includes a wide variety of gymnastics. Every exhibition opens with a silver wand drill, an imposing spectacle of timing and rhythm, performed by four boys and four girls dressed entirely in white. This is followed by a demonstration of work on the parallel bars by the men of the team. Outstanding performances were given by Charlie Hixson, Pat Ward, Bob Parton and Earl Smith. Humor was added by the antics of Pete Hommas and Earl Smith, who clowned on the bars. After the bar work comes a girls' tap dance, a rustic number with the girls attired in farmerette costumes.

The free hand drill follows, with five of the men balancing in various positions, forming gymnastic pyramids. This is a new number and has received much commendation throughout the season. Girls' tumbling follows the pyramids with the lassies going through difficult series of turns and springs. The boys follow up with springboard work. Earl Smith is especially outstanding in this work, performing a difficult forward somersault with a full turn.

Gertrude Ritter, Pat Ward, Tage Bossacco, and Pete Hommas, costumed in evening clothes, gracefully dance to the beautiful strains of a waltz, followed by a lighted club drill, skillfully swung by Charlie Hixson. In this number the gym is darkened and the clubs describe intricate circles of light against the darkness.

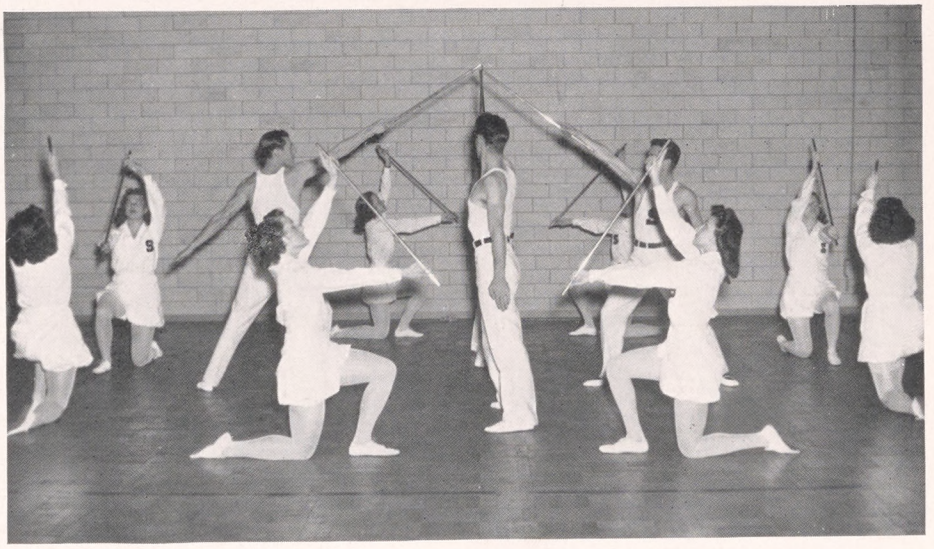

The horizontal bar is by far the most dangerous and awe-inspiring piece of apparatus that is used by the team. Bob Parton is the outstanding performer on this piece, and many a spectator has held his breath all during his exercise.

The last number on the program is an Indian club drill done by the entire team in time to a popular tune. The members of this team should certainly be highly commended for their fine work and also be given praise and sincere appreciation for their unceasing efforts.

INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

WOMEN'S INTRA-MURALS

Women's intra-mural sports are organized each year to give activity and recreation to those students who do not have scheduled athletic classes. A large percentage of the women have participated in all the sports.

The sports are divided into three seasons. In the fall, the women participated in team sports, namely: hockey, soccer and basketball. After the girls "sign up" for the activity in which they prefer to play, they are divided into teams. The tournaments are played on the round-robin basis in which every team plays every other team. The team winning the most games is champion.

The Bucknell team, captained by Louise Beatty, claimed the hockey championship by winning all its games with the exception of one, which ended in a tie. Soccer, another fall sport, is very popular with the girls. The Seniors were "tops" in the tournament, coming through with all winning games.

Basketball followed soccer and the championship was decided in a play-off game between the leading team of each league: Smith, from the College League, and Duke, of the University League. Edith Willans led Duke to the championship. Basketball is played out-of-season due to the full schedule of varsity sports during the winter months.

Table Tennis is the only individual sport during the winter. Teams are formed and games are played on the round-robin basis. The winner of each team is determined by semi-final and final play-offs. Louise Townsend is the table tennis champion. Other winter sports are badminton and quoits.

The spring sports are: volleyball, softball, badminton, archery, horseshoes and tennis.

MEN'S INTRA-MURALS

The recreational problem on our campus is solved by effective and efficient intramural programs. Many previous years of popular existence has proven its importance and value to our student body. A continuous seasonal program is maintained, and every activity offered is placed on an elective basis. Its organization and administration is governed by an intramural committee composed of college students with the head of our Physical Education Department acting as adviser. Rules, schedules, team personnel and other minor details are the functions of this committee. Over fifty per cent of our student body participated in intramural sports this past year.

The first men's activity sponsored was a tennis program. Fifty-four contestants participated. They were divided into six leagues, consisting of nine players each, with the league winners fighting for first honors in a scheduled elimination tournament. Vinci and Lacek finished in a tie for first place.

Volleyball followed with forty-two members participating. The league was divided into six teams competing in a round-robin tournament. The Navy team, captained by McAndrew, was the undisputed champ with no losses.

Basketball was received with a wave of enthusiasm by one hundred and twenty-six eager participants. Contestants were divided into two leagues, each league composed of seven teams with nine members each. This tournament was also arranged on a round-robin basis. League winners were then scheduled into a three-game series to decide the final championships.

Baseball was another highlight of our intramural parade. It received its share of interest and contestants, and was also conducted on the round-robin basis.

Other intramural activities which contributed their part in recreation and entertainment were ping-pong, horseshoes, handball, hockey, swimming and archery.

THE CHORAL CLUB

The Choral Club is one of the largest organizations on the campus, with well over one hundred members. This club was organized in 1931 by Miss Helen Morse and from year to year increases in popularity.

Each year the club presents the Christmas Vesper Service, and again this year, under the capable supervision of Miss Carpenter, presented the program on Sunday, December 17, 1939, in the college auditorium. Students of the college, faculty, parents, and friends were invited to attend this program.

Since the Choral Club is a one-semester club, its activities are confined chiefly to the first semester. The A Cappella choir is one of the smaller organizations closely connected with the Choral Club. This group added variety to the Christmas program and also sang at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The Choral Club held its annual activity in the form of a dance, which was given on the evening of Saturday, December 9, 1939, at the Penn Stroud Hotel. An invitation to this dance was extended to the members of the orchestra and also to the members of the newly-formed band. Each member was permitted to invite a guest. A record crowd attended.

THE DANCE BAND

The College Dance Band is under the sponsorship of the Social Council and under the supervision of Miss Florence Carpenter, the faculty adviser. The function of this group is to furnish music for the dances held each Wednesday evening in Wayne Gymnasium.

The great popularity of this organization of rhythmists is evidenced by the large turn-out of students at the weekly dances. Students who enjoy good music and dancing find these gatherings an excellent place in which to make friends and spend an enjoyable few hours in wholesome recreation. Playing for these affairs requires many hours spent in practice and in arranging music and programs. A great deal of credit is due these boys who faithfully perform this service for the students.

The majority of the band this year is composed of seniors who have been faithful members for four years. We pay special tribute to them: Eugene Smith, Harry Hoffner, Leo Treible, Pat Ward, Nicholas Dolas, Charles Knudson, Elwood Rehrig. With only a few members left to form the nucleus of next year's band, a big task lies ahead. But we feel confident that another fine group will be formed next year to carry on the good work of the Kollege Kampus Kapers.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Kappa Delta Pi is an international honor society in education. It is represented on the campus by the Gamma Xi Chapter, which was installed October 17, 1931. The purpose of this society is to encourage high scholastic standards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education.

Students who, during their junior or senior year, rate scholastically in the upper twenty per cent of their class, and show evidence of possessing desirable social characteristics, are invited to join.

Miss Vesta Watson has been elected counsellor to succeed Mr. Oscar Liljenstein, who has very capably served in that capacity for the past two years.

At its meetings, the organization discusses or presents a speaker to discuss some topic of interest to young people in the field of education. Kappa Delta Pi also sponsors a speaker in assembly each semester.

Its outstanding social event is the annual dinner dance held at a nearby hotel in the early spring. To this dance members, present and past, are invited. Each one is permitted to bring a guest.

This year the local chapter also sent its president to the National Convocation of Kappa Delta Pi, in St. Louis, Missouri.

THE NOMAD CLUB

One of the most active clubs on the campus is the Nomad Club, one that gives its members not only the chance to hear talks of experienced travelers but also of making field trips that afford actual contact with subjects for discussion.

Meetings are held on the second and fourth Thursdays after classes with special meetings on Saturdays when longer time is required. The members arrange their own programs with the valuable assistance of their adviser, Miss Della Wilson. Among the many fine programs sponsored by the group, the outstanding ones were: a talk on Gaspe, Canadian wonderland, by Miss Kistler; a trip to Warneke Cheese Factory in Stroudsburg; the Lime Material Company, which showed the equipment used in the telephone business; and a tour of the rock quarry and lime kiln of East Stroudsburg.

The club boasts of its large number of members that really take part in all of the club's affairs. Each Spring the club holds its annual outing at some natural spot selected by the members, and makes a real day of it.

THE EUCLIDEAN CLUB

The Euclidean Club is the extra-curricular organization for those students whose interests lie in the study of mathematics. The club aims to serve a three-fold purpose. It brings together socially the members of the club, creates an increase of interest in mathematics, and promotes a greater appreciation of the values of mathematics in civilization.

Varied types of programs are provided by the members of the club. They include material which is not adapted to formal classroom discussion. At times the students themselves present phases of the history and use of mathematics, recreations, and problems. Outside speakers, at other times, appear before the club and give their version of the applications of mathematics in work with which they are acquainted. Some of these represent banks, surveyors, building and loan associations, and insurance companies.

The members make visitation trips to the various industries in the immediate localities to obtain first-hand information about uses of mathematics in vocations. Once each semester a strictly social program is held.

The club welcomes any member of the student body interested in mathematics. It is not necessary that the members major in mathematics, but it is hoped that the nature of the program will instill a greater appreciation of the practicality, beauty and power of the subject.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

In order to bring together in friendly gatherings those students on the campus who have a special interest in the French language, in France, and in French customs, a French Club is organized each year. Under the capable supervision of Miss Kistler, our French instructor, who has traveled quite extensively in France, the club has become increasingly popular. Members do not have to major in French, but a knowledge of the language is necessary, for many of the meetings are conducted in that tongue.

Every second Monday at four o'clock, the group can be found convening spiritedly, conversing in French, playing French games, or interestedly listening to talks concerning France and great French personages. One of the most entertaining meetings this year was made by Miss Wilson, addressing the group upon her travels in that country.

Several social meetings are also held each year. This year one of the high spots was the annual Christmas party held in S-2.

Always wishing to share their activities with the entire student body, the club sponsored an assembly program, at which time they presented Dr. Alexandre Goulet, who spoke on "The Old and New France," and a group of French students singing French songs. The club also presented a French movie, "The Grande Illusion."

THE SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club consists of a group of students showing a common interest in all or various phases of science, who find that sharing their experiences, abilities and knowledge as fellow club members, makes the study of this field even more interesting. The club also affords the opportunity to gain experience in conducting a science club, to develop an interest in current achievements in the field, and to gain experience in the development and execution of scientific projects.

The club meets on alternate Thursday afternoons, and all programs are entirely planned and conducted by the members, under the capable guidance of Mr. McCullian. Outside speakers are brought in to speak to the members on topics of current scientific interest. One of the most interesting meetings this year consisted of an address by Mr. Walter Stem of the East Stroudsburg High School faculty, who spoke on the subject "Polarized Light." At other meetings, the members themselves prepare reports of lead discussions on topics chosen by the entire group. Some of the topics selected this year were: Diesel Engines, Glass and Glass Making, and Science at Rockefeller Center.

Each year the club enjoys a trip to New York City, where visits are made to the Zoological Park, Aquarium, Museum of Natural History, Hayden Planetarium, and Radio City.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association, a club organized to provide both physical and social activity for the women students on the campus, is one of the largest and most popular groups. This year sixty-seven members entered into the activities.

Regular meetings are held each second and fourth Wednesday, at which time programs are arranged and conducted. Aiding the officers in carrying on these activities is a board of executives, chosen from the club. This year's members were: Seniors, Nancy Bogert, Ruth Kintz; Juniors, Hannah Evans, Betty Putt; Sophomores, Marie Vrabbel, Ruth Baker; Freshmen, Peggy Myers, Janet Dailey.

The first event of the year was a "Get Acquainted Party," held in S-2, at which time new students were specially feted. There followed many enjoyable affairs, including a Christmas Party, Saturday hikes, a scavenger hunt, supper hikes into places of beauty in the near vicinity, and an Easter party. At several meetings members of the faculty and the community spoke on topics of interest.

The year ended very successfully with the annual banquet, with the seniors bidding the group farewell and the other members looking forward to many pleasant experiences in W. A. A.

THE VARSITY "S" CLUB

The Varsity "S" Club is an honor group for the athletes of the college, membership being limited to those having won their major "S" for participation in athletic or gymnastic activities.

Establishing a high standard of personal conduct and maintaining a friendly spirit are the objectives which the club strives to attain. Both of these are very important in all varsity competition.

The Varsity Show, another of the club's outstanding achievements, is a program written and presented by student talent and is one of the most interesting features of the year.

In order to reward the senior members of the club for their contributions to the athletic standing of our college, a gold key is awarded at the close of the semester.

This year the initiation was made more severe than in former years, for the club oath was impressively taken by candlelight. At the close of the meeting a red "S" was artistically painted on the forehead of each new member. This letter was to be left on until the following evening, in addition to wearing a Varsity sweater for the entire day. The purpose of this was to impress upon the newly initiated members the standards which the Varsity "S" Club represents.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Y. M. C. A. is one of the most progressive associations on the campus. Its purpose is to promote fellowship, provide and encourage opportunity for wholesome, practical discussions and lectures. This club bars none from its membership, regardless of color, creed, or nationality. Annually, the club elects members to represent this college at important inter-collegiate conferences. The Y. M. C. A. sponsors social affairs on the campus and collaborates in philanthropic practices with other organizations. The membership has constantly increased from a mere five at its inception as a campus organization, to fifty-two, this year's enrollment. The group is looking forward to even greater membership and service in the years to come.

During the course of each meeting a speaker of some note is present to give a lecture or informal discussion on some interesting world topic. Among the speakers present were: Edwin Snavely, head football coach; Judge Shull of Stroudsburg; Dr. Clarence Dupee, teacher in College Training School. These lectures and discussions were well received by the members of the organization.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Young Women's Christian Association is a chapter of the National and International Student Christian group. Membership in this chapter means membership in the National organization and entitles girls to all the privileges of Y. W. C. A. members throughout the country.

Regular meetings are held on alternate Monday afternoons in the "Y" room, which is kept attractively decorated by the girls. Although most of the work of the "Y" is carried on outside the regular meetings, they are well planned and interesting. Outside speakers are frequently brought in to lead discussions.

The extensive social program of the "Y" this past year included a Freshman Party, a Christmas Party, a dinner in the college dining room, and a Sweater Dance. The club also sent several delegates to the Pocono Conference held at Buck Hill Falls, and sponsored an assembly program in the college auditorium.

Always ready to cooperate with the community, the "Y" aided the local Red Cross at Christmas time, presented a play at Wooddale school, to which people of the community were invited, and helped to acquaint new students at the college with the various churches in the town.

THE CLIO SOCIETY

The Clio Society is, as the name indicates, connected with and sponsored by the social studies department. However, not all its members are history majors, or even history minors. Discussions at Clio meetings are confined to current affairs. Anyone interested, as most students are, in contemporary world events, their causes and effects, are invited to become members. The meetings, held on alternate Tuesdays, provide an excellent opportunity for friendly and educative debate and discussion upon events related in the newspapers and for practice in debate and in parliamentary procedure.

This year the European situation provided most of the material for consideration. Various members of the club acted as program chairman for each meeting, led the discussion and planned the meeting upon some topic previously selected. At one series of meetings the club confined itself to discussion of the background for war in each of the European countries involved at the present time. For those more interested in news at home, several meetings were devoted to questions on national news topics such as, the "third term," party platforms and nominees.

Clio also sponsored an assembly program, as is its annual custom.

THE BLUE PENCIL CLUB

Dramatics, music, science and sports all have their devotees on the campus who meet at regular intervals as a group of individuals with mutual interests. Literature also has such an organization on the campus—the Blue Pencil Club, which devotes most of its time to the reading and discussion of good literature. Outstanding and popular books are thoroughly reviewed at the meetings and, when possible, compared with their screen and stage versions.

Meetings are held on the first and third Wednesdays in every month, usually in the apartment of Dr. Rosenkrans, the club adviser. For the last several years the club has purchased four good books each semester and has placed them in the library at the disposal of its members and of the entire student body. Another idea that is carried out very successfully and proves entertaining and beneficial to every member, is the plan that once a month upon answering roll call, each person must give a brief account of some book he has read recently.

With the close of the school year, the club has its annual social affair, usually in the form of a banquet and dance in some local establishment.

AND WORTHY USE OF LEISURE TIME

THE COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

The music department sponsors one of the largest and most extensive extra-curricular programs on the campus. Instrumental and choral groups are its two major phases. These work in close harmony, which results in splendid recreation for the participants and well-balanced entertainment for the student body.

The orchestra is one of the instrumental groups giving their services to the various college activities. This organization must be distinguished from the college dance band. This unit confines its programs to the more classical types. Its greatest service is performed throughout the college year by playing at Wednesday morning assembly. Miss Carpenter, the capable director, quite aptly selects the music in accordance with the season and timely celebrations. The orchestra often accompanies programs sponsored by other departments, such as dramatic productions, varsity shows, the annual Christmas Vespers and the Extravaganza. Its members also stay on the campus to take part in graduation exercises at the end of the year.

In conjunction with the Choral Club, the orchestra sponsored a social affair in the form of a semi-formal dance held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel during the Christmas season.

THE DEBATING CLUB

Every Tuesday evening Mr. Koehler gathered about him a group of students who made it their business to argue over points of interest, national, international or otherwise. This organization comprised what is known on our campus as the Debating Club. Mr. Koehler, also the head of the social studies department, is the adviser.

The subject of debate for all twelve meets of the six-week season was, "Resolved: That the Government of the United States Should Adopt a Policy of Strict (Economic and Military) Isolation Toward All Nations Outside of the Western Hemisphere Engaged in Armed International or Civil Conflict." The schedule arranged by the business manager, Harry Freeland, was as follows: Jersey City, Kutztown, Paterson, Montclair and Glassboro State Teachers Colleges.

Members of the negative team were: Neil Ruddy, cross-examiner, and Joan Brimer, constructive speaker, both of whom have had previous college experience. Florence Case, a transfer from Trenton, and Irving Univer were the yearling members of the negative side.

On the affirmative side of the question we had: Clinton Roberts, veteran of several seasons, cross-examiner; Norman Grant, a good freshman prospect, first constructive speaker; Cliff Henry, first constructive speaker, and Frances Zacher, alternate, both of whom were with the team last year.

THE MASK AND ZANY CLUB

One of the largest extra-curricular organizations on the campus, Mask and Zany, attracts devotees of dramatics from all the classes in the college. This club offers opportunity for learning, practice, and direction in many of the phases of stagecraft and speech. Many are interested in acting or acquiring the ability to act, while others find work in scenery planning, make-up and lighting. Miss Barnett, the adviser, and various members of the club who have had more experience, act as directors of activities at meetings.

Regular meetings are held bi-monthly, at which time certain of the members have full charge of the meeting and the program. Many of these programs are quite original and show interest and ability in the work. These programs consist of short plays, dancing, vocal and instrumental selections, monologues and pantomime. At other meetings most of the evening is devoted to short talks and discussion on topics of interest, such as current Broadway plays, famed dramatic stars, critics and theatres. Several social meetings are also held.

The outstanding event of the year is the annual play. This year, on the evening of December 15, the club sponsored a three-act comedy, "The First Lady," a play characterizing the social life in Washington, D. C. political circles. The entire club helped in the production either as a member of the cast or as part of the large production staff.

H. M. S. PINAFORE

The extravaganza, "H. M. S. Pinafore," given by the talented musical group under the direction of Miss Florence Carpenter, was one of the most elaborately staged musical productions that the college has ever seen. The acting was splendid and the musical score was beautifully carried through. This dramatic operetta, written by Gilbert and Sullivan, was a new experiment, for the students have in previous years presented excerpts from a number of operettas, rather than a complete story.

"Pinafore" is a dramatic love story. Josephine, played by Emma Schlegel, was the beautiful daughter of Captain Corcoran, Michael Hannon. Josephine has fallen in love with the handsome Ralph Rackstraw, Anthony Dobra, who was just a common seaman. Josephine scorned the advances of Sir Joseph Porter, First Lord of the Admiralty, portrayed by Norman Arndt. Ralph and Josephine confess their love and plan to elope at midnight. The Ugly Dick Deadeye, Mario Grippi, overhears the conversation and reveals the secret arrangements. The Captain is overcome with anger, when Butter-cup, played by the talented Claire Strasberg, arrives and confesses that she at one time had been given two children to rear; one was of noble birth, while the other was of lowly birth. She had mixed the two children up, so that Ralph is in reality of noble lineage and Captain Corcoran is just the common sailor. Ralph becomes Josephine's suitor and Captain Corcoran takes Butter-cup for his wife. Sir Joseph Porter, not to be outdone, marries Hebe, Lillian Hamblin. The story ends happily for everyone.

The choruses of sailors, sisters, cousins and aunts climaxed the performance, with their graceful dancing and vigorous singing. The chorus was composed of Elvin Cooney, Ralph Custer, Willard Funk, Willard Hammerman, John Lacek, John Maksimski, Wallace Musselman, Arthur Smith, Ernestine Andrew, Georgianne Biggs, Loretta Buck, Laura Cawley, Barbara Cole, Elinor Dawson, Betty Deubler, Lorraine Deubler, Hermina Herman, Pauline Oswald, Gertrude Ritter, Esther Stewart, Janet Storm, Ann Streisel.

The cast wishes to acknowledge the services of the ushers, the production staff, Miss Satterwhite, Miss Coryell, the orchestra and accompanists.

THE DANCING CLUB

A relatively new club on the campus, the Dancing Club, confining itself to ballroom dancing, performs a valuable service in handling a matter vital to fostering better social relationships among the students. The club is designed to perform a two-fold function: to teach beginners the fundamental poise and steps of social dancing, and to afford practice for those not quite so new at the art. With our campus dances forming so great a part of our college social life, it becomes important that all of our students can find enjoyment in this activity. This year many of our students took advantage of the opportunity the club offers.

Miss Zimbar, a teacher in the health education department, is adviser and instructor. This year she gave the members instruction in the steps of the waltz and fox-trot, in turning, and in the chasse. Several meetings were devoted entirely to practice, music being provided by means of recordings. Members were urged to attend the Wednesday night dances, and many of them did take advantage of the dances as an opportunity to acquire experience on the floor.

COLLEGE TIES

College ties can ne'er be broken,
They can never die,
Far surpassing wealth unspoken
Sealed in friendship's tie.

When we from life shall part.

IT'S THE Little things THAT Count!

It's the little things that mark the difference between a "distinctive annual" and "just another yearbook." The Campus system of yearbook counsel and production is based on the little things that count—

PERSONAL ATTENTION

- Personalized attention of thoroughly trained servicemen, former editors of outstanding college annuals, who know the problems of yearbook production—and the answers!

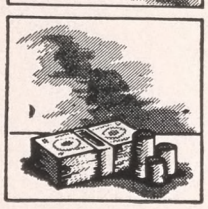

UNIFORM QUALITY

- Uniformity of quality and materials regardless of the size of book.

TYPE

- A wide range of type faces, and the advice of expert typographers regarding taste, suitability and harmony of types.

BUDGET

- An eye toward proper distribution of the budget. The Campus plan of handling books completely from layout to delivery allows a maximum of value at minimum cost.
