TO THOSE

WHO SERVE

We, the members of the Class of 1944, deeply appreciative of the opportunities that have been ours, dedicate our yearbook to "those who serve." In this book we have meant to picture college life, not as it was when we came to the campus as green freshmen —not as it was when we were sophisticated sophomores—nor as it was when the war broke out in our junior year, but rather as we lived it in our final year at E. S. S. T. C. We have attempted, in a limited amount of space, to portray the changes which the war has wrought in college life and at the same time to show our appreciation of those who are serving our democracy. We cannot stress too much the importance of the service rendered by each individual. Now that our four years of preparation are over, we of the Class of '44 are grateful to those who have aided us to assume our place among those who serve. We, through our service, hope to play a part in winning and preserving the peace —as great and important a task as winning the war—so that others may obtain the full benefits and pleasures which college life in normal times affords. We, the Stroud Staff, will have been successful with the publication of this book if those who read it can catch the spirit which reigned in our Alma Mater during the wartime year of 1944 as E. S. S. T. C. kept pace with America on its way to victory.

Administration

Dr. Joseph F. Noonan

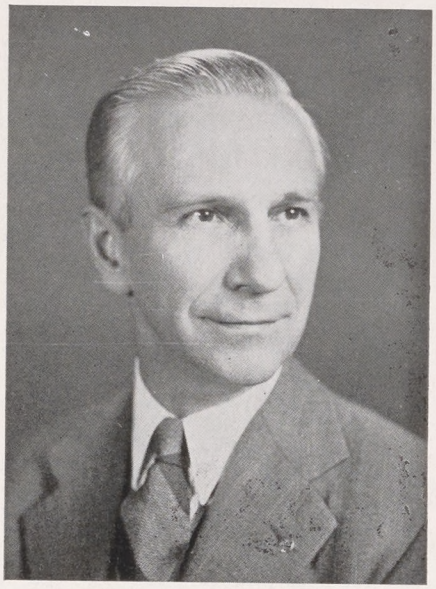

PRESIDENT

Less than five years ago, Dr. Noonan became president of this college. Shortly after his arrival as head of the institution, the class of 1944 entered upon the campus threshold. With infinite patience, understanding, and practical advice, Dr. Noonan assisted our class in its period of adjustment.

Through his outstanding administrative ability, he has striven toward a harmonious spirit between the administration and the student body. Unceasing progress has resulted toward the attainment of this goal.

During the past two years, all activities of the college have been greatly affected by the present world conflict. Dr. Noonan responded to these impromptu emergencies to the best of his ability and to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The members of the class of 1944 are deeply appreciative of the interest and co-operation demonstrated by Dr. Noonan throughout their entire college career. Not even the highest words of respect, admiration, and sincere thanks will fully describe their feelings toward him.

We, the class of 1944, having endured the dull routine of four consecutive fall registrations, all too soon find ourselves with many memories—yes, pleasant memories of four years of diligent work and unforgettable pleasures.

We'll always remember our frosh year—confusion of registration—President's Reception—Kiddie Party—Men's Smoker—holiday celebrations. These were the affairs which set the stage for a successful college career.

Both the football and basketball seasons proved that our class would go down in history—star athletes—undefeated seasons—enthusiastic cheerleaders—co-operative spectators. We were already proud of our Alma Mater.

Then came our first benefit—a "Round-Up" Dance, March 29, 1941, in the Wayne Gymnasium. Shortly afterward our first prom—May 17, at Pocono Manor.

September, 1941—we were sophisticated sophomores. We had our benefit early—the "Pigskin Parade"—to celebrate a successful football season. Next, Homecoming Day—Christmas festivities—Parent's Day. Again, another unsurpassed basketball team. Our crowning event was our prom at Buckhill Falls Inn, April 25, 1942.

In the fall of 1942 we returned as full-fledged juniors—prepared to cope with the chaotic times. First Aid classes—defense councils—Army, Navy, Marine Reserves. Everyone had some important role. On February 16, 1943, the Army reservists left to join Uncle Sam's forces. Many of our classmates were in that group. Even with these major changes we had a well-attended prom on April 10.

We're seniors! Never realized before that four years could pass so swiftly! Our last fall reception—great fun at the first Hallowe'en Party—no Homecoming Day—a gala Christmas dance. For us, student teaching and classes both semesters—busy with work on The Stroud—numerous club assignments—posing for pictures—our last exams. The senior class affair, May 13, 1944, our last get-together, tying up our bundle of cherished memories.

NINETEEN FORTY-FOUR

IN 1940 . . .

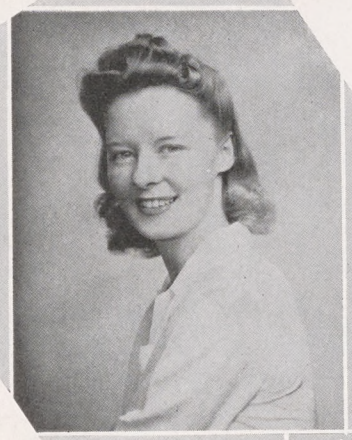

One hundred forty-five strong—carefree, anxious frosh with many anticipations. Officers—three men and a girl. Basketball stars, football heroes, hikes, doggie roasts, dances, Hen's and Rosie's. Always something doing—educational tours, movie every Friday, formals, dates, Homecoming Day, Guest Dance, Parent's Day, prom in Poconos. Much fun. Home for the summer . . .

IN 1944 . . .

Small but mighty—serious, experienced, older, war-minded. Rushed—added duties, assumed leadership, women officers, more meetings, student teaching both semesters, night classes, much-needed vacations. Less leisure—striving for fun, many letters written, more serious talks, greater interest in world affairs, hopes for brighter future. "This is the end" —commencement, farewells, memories . . .

Dear Air Cadet "Keep 'Em Flyin' " Davis,

It is high time we juniors let you in on the latest doings of our progressive group. Just imagine—the school year is almost over and we are well on our way to "seniority."

It seems like a long time since we were frosh, but it's fun to reminisce—so shall we? We can still recall how difficult it was to "wipe that smile off." There are of course trials and tribulations that can't be forgotten. When we became sophomores, we were granted an opportunity to do the "ribbing," and it was quite obvious that we were taking advantage of our position as upper-classmen.

Even more vivid than the memories of our freshman days are the recollections of the outstanding events of last year. The traditional soccer game, which determined the length of the frosh regulations, was not played this year. Aren't we glad that this tradition terminated with the victory for us as sophs? When you men return, perhaps the custom will be resumed. Even though our victory meant a continuation of freshman "regs" 'till Christmas, we were much too busy with preparations for the class prom to heckle bewildered under-classmen. We worked with diligence, and on the evening of December 5 were dancing in a "Winter Wonderland." We hadn't realized that our theme would prove so effective. The colored lights, soft music, white picket-fence and even a snow man transformed the gym into a scene of wintry splendor. That was our last class affair before the Reservists were called on February 16.

We all participated whole-heartedly in the Yuletide activities, enjoyed the vacation which followed, and returned with hopes of mastering our exams. Before we realized it, we were ready to venture into the second semester of our sophomore year. Around this time our idea for a class snowball battle resulted in a "free for all." We girls challenged you men—remember? Our class commanded the major front. When there was a cry for a second front, the other classes joined in. The territory opposite the south side of Stroud Hall was our battle field, and we certainly wrecked the beautiful mounds of snow.

Guess we don't have to mention February 16. We will never forget the train pulling out from the station carrying away sixty-one of E. S. S. T. C.'s best. We had to realize that you had been called to support a noble cause.

Spring and the summer vacation quickly passed, and we found ourselves back on campus to register as juniors. The place was just as delightful in appearance, but we sure missed you fellows. Your absence has meant no men's varsity teams—and how we miss those thrilling contests! The girls deserve credit for maintaining a fine record, however.

In spite of trying conditions, we have had some very enjoyable activities which shall bring pleasant memories in the future. The Fall Reception, Kiddie Party, Hallowe'en Party, class functions, Christmas Dance, and Freshman Prom all helped to keep us socially contented. We really hadn't dared to dream that there would be any formals this year, but the Christmas Dance and Freshman Prom afforded us girls an occasion to don our best gowns and promenade with our escorts. The gala events hastened the arrival of the time for our class function. Far in advance, we planned for the big event which we entitled "Easter Cotillion." Clever and appropriate decorations emphasized the approach of spring and the Easter season.

Another change of note during the last semester of this year was a reduction in the number of assembly programs. Thursday became "assembly day" and we began to anticipate excellent programs. Of the entertainers, a hypnotist presented one of the most enjoyable programs. We were privileged to hear some fine educational speakers, too.

Since Uncle Sam has called so many of our classmates, we have been on the look-out for someone to return "home" to see us. Our class is well represented in most branches of the service; so many an insignia is familiar to us.

Though our number be small, we are not afraid to face our senior year. We hope that you shall be able to return very soon and get the full enjoyment from college activities. If this letter lets you know how much we miss you and how we are carrying on in spite of all the major changes, it serves its purposes.

We remain,

Your classmates,

THE JUNIORS.

Dear Ensign "Get Back Soon" Evans,

There certainly have been a lot of changes since you left last winter. We, the class of '46, who entered 88 strong, have dwindled to 39—but still strong!

Though only one year has elapsed, and we are but one year older, we feel that our experiences to date have made us much wiser. One of our first great realizations was that there is a vast difference between the life of a freshman and that of a sophomore. Remember last year how we "toed the mark" for the amusement of our superiors? We thought it was really unconstitutional, didn't we? Well, the freshmen of this year have just reasons to feel the same way, for we hesitated not a minute to take advantage of our advanced positions. We even added some new tactics to prove that we really did have originality. The expression "Air Raid, Frosh" was heard almost everywhere, but the frosh fully realized that such procedures were only in fun and were one means of welcoming them into our midst.

The usual Annual Fall Reception, featuring a formal dance, was of necessity replaced by an entertainment in the auditorium and open house at Dr. Noonan's home. Seemed strange not to have our "getting acquainted" dance in the gym.

We had fun at the Kiddie Party and at the Hallowe'en Party, both of which were held in the fall. The Hallowe'en Party replaced the Homecoming Day—gas rationing and pleasure driving banns, you know.

We didn't have a prom this year. Instead, we sophs decided to sponsor a benefit. Wasn't such a bad idea, either, because some of our clever classmates developed the idea of organizing a carnival—and presto: there was a gala occasion on November 20 in the Wayne Gym. Have you ever been to Mars? We have—that's right—you should have been here so you could have gone with us. Imagine! It cost only a nickel. We had a fortune-teller, "A Hall of Fame," and a show "For Men Only." There was dancing, both round and square, and plenty of hot-dogs for all. Nearly everyone came to help add color to the affair and to make our carnival such a great success. Quite different from our prom last February 9, wasn't it? We'll never forget how that dance was our means of saying farewell to the boys from college who were called by Uncle Sam to help preserve the rights and privileges of this great nation. The theme, which you probably haven't forgotten, was twofold: it stressed the traditional idea of Valentine's Day and the spirit of patriotism.

Soon after the carnival, we struggled through the usual quarterly exams and relaxed during the Thanksgiving vacation. We returned fully prepared to enjoy the customary round of activities of the Yuletide season. The annual Christmas Dance, Saturday, December 18, was the first formal affair of the year and was really worth waiting for. This year it was held in the gym instead of the dining hall, because the Christmas dinner didn't precede the dance this season. Despite the fact that escorts were rather difficult to find, the attendance was fairly normal, and both the service men and civilians seemed glad to be present. The Social Council certainly deserved a great deal of credit for all the work they did. The Christmas dinner was held the following Thursday evening as an informal event, followed by group carol singing.

The swift approach of mid-year exams made us all realize that we had completed another semester's work, successfully, we hoped. We were really anxious to start our second semester classes; you know the thrill of venturing into something new.

Did you know that Hen's has closed for the duration? All the fun we had last year drinking cokes and putting nickels in the juke box! Seems so unnatural not to drop in at Hen's before or after classes and assemblies. Rosie's is the only "gathering place" now, and even Rosie deserted us for a spell.

Also, the number of movies we have is greatly reduced. So we have had to find other events for Friday night diversion. No more Wednesday night dances, either, honest! To think of how much fun we had practicing all those new dance steps you introduced to us! Well, it just shows how many changes can be brought about in one year.

As usual, our class supported the intramural activities with enthusiasm and was rewarded with many victories. Since basketball and field hockey were the only two varsity sports, the interest and participation in intramurals were increased. Thus, we kept physically fit and mentally alert.

So, Tommy, we hope this passing year has brought us closer to victory and that soon you'll be back to resume the joys of college life. To one that has been with us we say good-bye for now, and may you think of us and of your college ties often. Till we see you again, the best of luck from all of us.

Faithfully yours,

THE SOPHOMORES.

Dear Pvt. Johnnie "Miss You Much" Jones,

Remember last year just about this time we were making plans to attend E. S. S. T. C.? But Uncle Sam had need of you. We, the members of the freshman class, wish that more young people could come to college. Those of us who know someone who had planned to come are sorry for him, but more deeply appreciative of our own opportunities. So far, we have had a lot of fun, too.

We have meant to write to you ever since registration day last September 13. Even though there were fewer students than usual, it certainly was a hectic day—getting confused with pink cards, blue cards, yellow cards, every thing but purple cards, it seemed to us then; desperately trying to ward off our shyness; refraining from asking questions which might make us appear "green." We had wondered how we would act. Well, even though we made some stupid mistakes, the upper classmen were really obliging and helped us avoid many difficulties. The "Get-together" Party that same night in the new gym aided us in becoming acquainted with our fellow classmates and relieved us of some of our undesirable shyness.

Even though men were in the minority, the upper-classmen lost no time in putting us through the regular initiation procedure which characterizes "Frosh Week." In keeping with the times, the command, "Air Raid," was frequently directed to us; it tended to push us in the background of the usual gatherings for shoe polishing and public speaking. Ask any of our superiors—we girls could really take it! There weren't many men to give orders; so the few frosh boys "got off easy." Of course, they ran a few errands and wore the usual "dink caps" to designate their positions.

The Annual Fall Reception, designed to bring the students and faculty together socially, was replaced this year by a program of entertainment in the auditorium, followed by open house at the home of the college president.

As we were all busily engaged with classes and extra-curricular activities, time seemed to pass very swiftly. Regulations for initiation became a thing of the past when we all successfully completed the Green Band Test in November. The removal of the band at our first class tea really gave us cause to heave a sigh of relief. Remembering always to wear that important insignia had taxed our busy minds. We now dared to remind other students that we had actually earned our first ratings and were officially FRESHMEN!

We find it difficult to decide which of the fall socials, the Hallowe'en Party or the Sophomore Function, provided the more fun. Both events afforded excellent topics for conversation during the Thanksgiving recess. The first quarter period had already been completed; the grade sheets indicated "which way the wind was blowing." It was good to get home. Many of us had been a wee bit homesick, and at least a few of us had some alibis for those "below C level" grades.

It seemed we got back to school just in time to prepare for the next vacation. Christmas activities on campus are very impressive. Carol singing and the tree-lighting ceremony heightened our spirits. The main event was the Christmas dance, which made us all realize just how much the season can mean to us even in these chaotic times.

We returned to college, prepared to "start the new year right." Struggling through the semester exams was far from pleasure, but the monotony was broken by the Chocolate Fest. Sounds good, doesn't it? It certainly was.

Our class has been well represented in varsity sports. As you have probably guessed, there was no football nor men's basketball. The women, however, did an excellent job in keeping the reputation of the college high. Five members of our class were on the varsity hockey team, and three made the women's varsity basketball squad. Of course, our class held the majority of positions on both the hockey and basketball junior varsity teams. The men organized a team and seemed to derive a great deal of enjoyment from competition with nearby groups.

The Stroud Courier—that's the campus newspaper—brought to light the journalistic ability in our class. Doubtless, some of the present writers will be promoted to high positions on the staff before long.

Neither have we been neglecting our part in the war effort. Although participation was not of our own choosing, we accepted First Aid classes as a vital part of our training. The solving of practical problems was especially interesting and valuable.

Finally came the time for our biggest event of the year—the class prom. Men in uniform, girls in beautiful gowns, heavenly music—this combination meant a very enjoyable social affair on the evening of February 5, 1944.

Even though we have been small in number from the start, we've been mighty in spirit. Now we feel that even if our return in the fall finds us fewer in number we shall be prepared to continue, with a renewed endeavor to make the very most of the opportunities which college is affording us. Those of us who, for some unfortunate reason, cannot return in the fall will long remember this wonderful year at E. S. S. T. C.!

We'll be seeing you here some day in the not too distant future. Until then, you have our very best wishes for the best of luck!

Sincerely yours,
THE FRESHMEN.

Because of the scarcity of men in our college, the precedent of having a male student as president of the Student Senate was disrupted this year. Therefore, after a minor political campaign, Jane Cotton was deservedly elected to that enviable office. Miss Cotton's excellent qualities as a leader enabled her to fill the responsibilities of this high position with distinction, thus bringing honor to the women of our campus.

The Student Senate is composed of a president elected by the Student Congress and of two men and two women elected by each of the four classes. Three faculty members are appointed by the president of the college to serve as advisers. This governing body of students has the power to make the necessary laws, to decide questions of policy, and to administer the constitution, thereby regulating all student activities.

Through various sub-committees the Senate aims to perform the duties which are under its control. One of the first committees to act is the Budget Committee. The money received through the Student Activity Fund is allocated by this committee to the various councils so that they may conduct their programs. Each council submits a tentative budget which is examined by the Budget Committee and then submitted to the Senate for approval. After the budgets are accepted, the money is deposited with the Business Manager of the college for the respective councils.

Another busy committee is the one dealing with the arranging of the schedules for all extra-curricular clubs. At the end of each semester this committee audits all books and checks the lists of students to receive credit for participation in each club.

The Student Senate is active not only on our own campus, but also in conferences composed of student government representatives from different colleges. Such conferences feature panel discussions, in which participation is encouraged for the purpose of deriving benefits for our entire student body.

Each year the Senate sponsors the Fellowship Banquet, especially honoring the members of the various councils. For the past two years the entire college family has been invited to the banquet, which is now held in the college dining room. Here the various councils attempt to answer questions presented by the Student Congress.

Probably the greatest accomplishment for this year was the completion of the revision of "The Constitution of the Congress of the State Teachers College of East Stroudsburg," with special emphasis placed upon the Student Activity Code. After due consideration, the Committee on Revision, composed of selected members from various councils, made changes in the Code which were approved by the Student Congress.

WOMEN'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Standing, left to right: G. Reed, M. Altemose, J. Kellerman, A. Salamone, S. Hoffman, E. Snarski, E. Breeden, M. Groff, J. Harrigan, C. Wolff, G. Kunkle, H. Klein, J. Cotton, M. Monahan, M. McInroy, M. Bowers, E. Weiss, K. Steiner, C. DiGiacomo.

To help each woman student make the necessary adjustments for a happy campus life is the responsibility of the Women's Executive Council. The membership of this council consists of three counsellors from each hall and five women day-students who work in co-operation with the Dean of Women in planning the social program of the year.

A plan has been arranged whereby an opportunity is provided for each girl to share in the responsibility of maintaining desirable dormitory and campus conditions. This is known as the College Co-operative Plan.

To better the life of the women day-students, improvements are made each year in their facilities here on campus. Arrangements are also made for holiday dinners which they attend throughout the year.

Among the items included in the social program for all women students are the four class teas, the "Kiddie Party," the Chocolate Fest, and the Spring Frolic. Besides these events the Council sponsors the Gay-M Room, the Kitchenette, the Quiet Lounge, and the Rose Garden. Another event occurring yearly under the direction of the Executive Council is the selection of the most attractive dormitory rooms.

Through the various above-mentioned and other activities, the W. E. C. endeavors to make the college life of our women students more pleasant and worthwhile.

MEN'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Men's Executive Council is a purely co-operative group consisting of the seven representatives elected by the Men's Student Government Association—which included all the men of the college—and of the Dean of Men, who acts as adviser. The Council is entirely responsible for all entertainment for the men students.

The "Fall Smoker" is the principal activity for our male population. This occasion provides one of the first opportunities for creating a pleasant and congenial atomsphere, the primary objective of the group. Throughout the remainder of the year various get-togethers, including the "Spring Frolic" and the "Hobo Party," are held.

One of the most notable changes in campus activities since the beginning of the war is the elimination of the Regulation Period of the freshman men. Because of the small number of entering students, the Council felt that it was impossible to continue these customary initiations and still maintain the same good spirit which prevailed formerly.

This year the Men's Executive Council extended hospitality to the women students by sponsoring informal activities, such as ping-pong, cards, and dancing, on those Saturday nights when planned activities were not scheduled. These took place in the game room and lounge of the Men's Dormitory. Through this generosity the women students were able to spend many leisure moments enjoying the facilities offered them by the Men's Executive Council.

ENTERTAINMENT COUNCIL

One of the most important councils on campus is the Entertainment Council. Its main purpose, as its name implies, is to provide interesting and varied entertainment throughout the college year. In the selection of programs, both instructional and entertaining aspects are considered. Included in the program presented under the direction of the council are the Friday night movies, dramatic and musical programs, holiday celebrations, and assembly speakers.

This organization, which is composed of five class representatives and two faculty advisers, plans the entertainment for the year at the beginning of the term. This year the group found it necessary to eliminate some of its regularly planned entertainment in order to comply with existing war conditions.

Members of the student body may present to the council members suggestions for the type of entertainment they prefer. In this way, an all-around program is presented.

The council oversees the appointment of committees to receive performers, manage the sale and collection of tickets, and supply ushers and programs for any activities that might require them.

SOCIAL COUNCIL

The Social Council is charged with the significant role of providing an interesting, well-rounded social program throughout the college year.

Almost immediately upon the completion of registration in the fall, the council begins its round of activities by planning the Annual Fall Reception. This affair gives the freshmen an opportunity to meet formally all faculty and upperclassmen. This year, the reception was changed from that of the usual formal reception and dance to an informal open house at the home of Dr. Noonan and a program of entertainment in the college auditorium.

At the Christmas Season the Social Council arranges a program of interesting and impressive festivities. The holiday season is introduced by the tree-lighting ceremony on front campus and climaxed by a bountiful banquet in the college dining room, usually followed by carol singing and formal dancing.

During the past year, the council, because of war conditions and necessary restrictions, found it necessary to modify the usual social calendar. Although it was not possible to observe our traditional Homecoming Day, a very novel and enjoyable Hallowe'en Party was held.

The Social Council also arranges for informal social activities throughout the year.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The outstanding task of the Athletic Council is the careful arranging of the athletic schedules. Details for all games must be carefully checked; officials must be engaged, tickets provided, transportation and lodging assured.

This year, because of war-time exigencies, it was necessary to cancel all the men's inter-collegiate athletics and to put girls' sports in the "lime-light." Thus, both Varsity and Junior Varsity teams were organized in women's hockey and basketball.

All equipment necessary for the various college teams is purchased by competitive bids under the direction of this council.

The Athletic Council also sets up standards of achievement for letters and attends to all details relating to athletic awards. The coach of each varsity team submits recommendations for varsity awards to the council for approval.

It has been an annual duty of the council to sponsor a banquet to which all varsity letter winners are invited. For the past two years, the council has opened this function to all members of the faculty and student body.

PUBLICATIONS COUNCIL

Few of us know the exact work of the Publications Council and its important role on the campus. The Student Handbook, The Stroud, the college yearbook, and The Stroud Courier, the college newspaper, all owe their existence to this council.

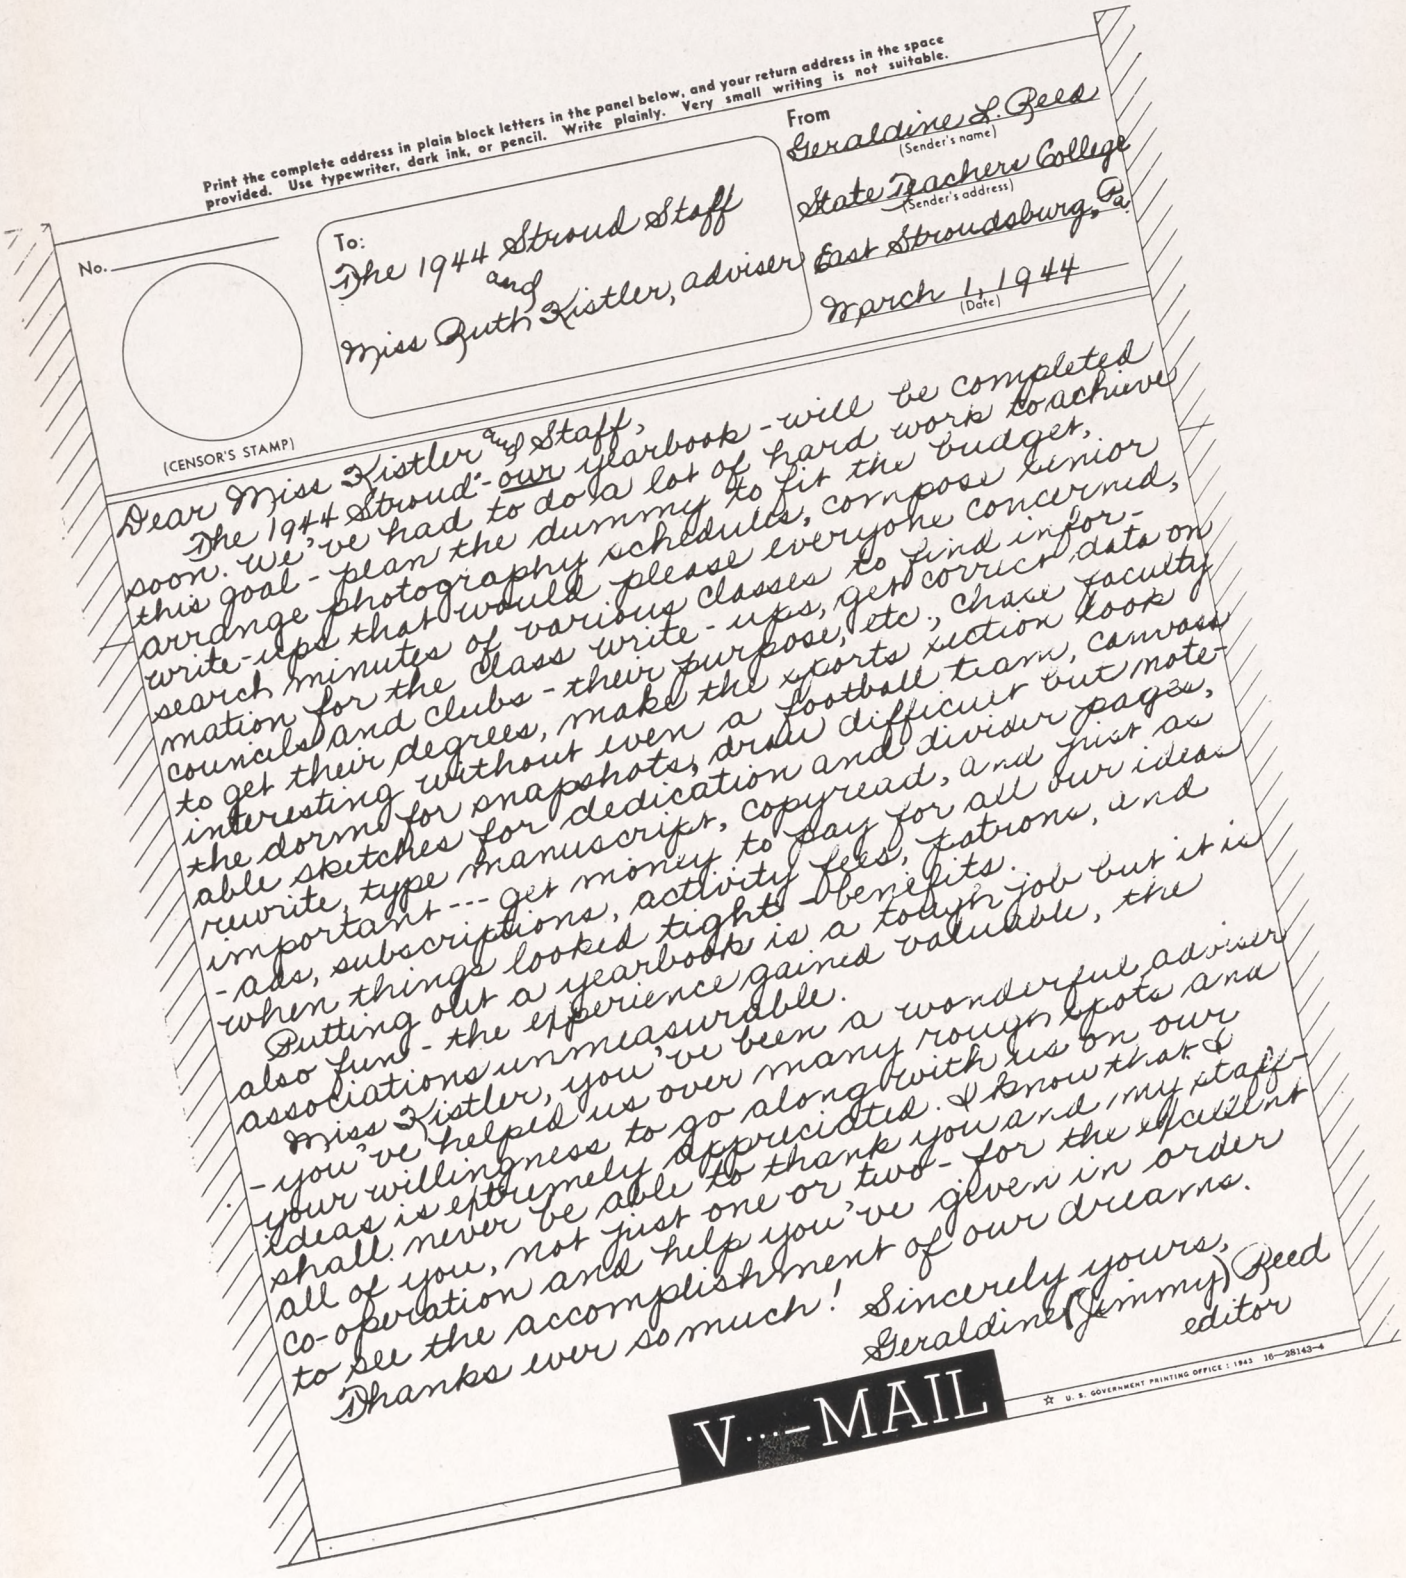

The handbook, a guide for all freshmen, is edited by the council members, who last year made noticeable improvements in its form and content.

The Stroud Courier, which has its own staff, is supervised by this council. However, the Publications Council provides for the publication of the newspaper by obtaining bids and approving all contracts.

The council must approve the editor-in-chief and the business manager of the yearbook staff, who are elected by the senior class. It also must approve the other staff members, named by the editor and business manager.

It has been customary for the Publications Council to arrange for representatives from The Stroud Courier and The Stroud staffs to attend the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention in New York City.

Dear Miss Kistler and Staff,

The 1944 Stroud - our yearbook - will be completed soon. We've had to do a lot of hard work to achieve this goal - plan the dummy to fit the budget, arrange photography schedules, compose senior write-ups that would please everyone concerned, search minutes of various classes to find information for the Class write-ups, get correct data on councils and clubs - their purpose, etc., chase faculty to get their degrees, make the sports section look interesting without even a football team, canvass the dorms for snapshots, draw difficult but notable sketches for dedication and divider pages, important --- get money to pay for all our ideas rewrite, type manuscript, copyread, and just as when things looked tight! Benefits, patrons, and -ads, subscriptions, activity fees, Putting out a yearbook is a tough job but it is also fun - the experience gained valuable, the associations unmeasurable.

Miss Kistler, you've been a wonderful adviser - you've helped us over many rough spots and your willingness to go along with us on our ideas is extremely appreciated. I know that I shall never be able to thank you and my staff all of you, not just one or two - for the excellent co-operation and help you've given in order to see the accomplishment of our dreams.

Thanks ever so much!

Sincerely yours,
Geraldine (Jimmy) Reed

Standing, left to right: G. Kettell, M. Marhefka, I. Roberts, B. Hartung, M. Major, G. Cautilli, M. Verwey, G. Egli, Mr. Paul M. Crawn, adviser; I. Teman, V. Miller, V. Illuzzi, G. Kunkle, L. Brown, P. Trainer, H. Perry.

The Stroud Courier, official college newspaper, ranks high in the field of college journalism. This publication holds the unique distinction of having received many notable awards in national collegiate competition. The Stroud Courier appears bi-monthly and is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Alberta London is editor-in-chief. Mr. Paul Crawn is adviser.

The purpose of this publication is to present a cross-section of student activities and opinion. One of the foremost features of the newspaper is, undoubtedly, the fine photography and art work so interestingly employed.

Staff membership is by try-out. Work on the newspaper provides an opportunity for practical training in original composition and also affords excellent preparation for the advisership of a school newspaper.

In the course of the year, the Stroud Courier sponsors a number of outstanding social functions. Notable during the past year were the fall supper-hike at Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, with maestro Fred Waring as guest, winter sports activities, and the annual spring banquet featuring notable speakers from the field of professional journalism.

Kappa Delta Pi is an international honor society in education. Our local chapter, Gamma Xi, was established in 1931.

Only students of the junior and senior classes who possess commendable personal qualities, worthy educational ideals, and sound scholarship are invited to join.

The purpose of the society is to encourage high intellectual and scholastic standards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education.

An impressive candle-light ceremony is held at the beginning of the year for the initiation of new members. This year the club was honored by the presence of Dean Hunter Guthrie of Georgetown University at a supper meeting held directly after the installation of initiates.

Bi-monthly meetings are devoted to debates on current subjects, inspiring speakers, and educational topics. Members are also assigned reports which open discussions on various subjects.

A constitution and by-laws direct the functioning of the society. Standing committees are appointed to arrange the program of the year.

VARSITY S CLUB

The Varsity S Club is an honor organizatoin for our college men and women who have met certain requirements in varsity sports. Its purpose is to encourage a high standard of personal conduct on the part of those on varsity teams, as well as to give recognition to athletic achievement.

The most formal and memorable function of the Varsity S Club is the initiation ceremony conducted by candle light. The following day the new members must wear varsity sweaters and the letter "S" "branded" on their foreheads.

In the spring the annual varsity banquet is held in the college dining room. After the dinner the coach of each team speaks briefly about the results of the past season and the work of his team and then presents varsity letters to its worthy members.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB

The Health and Physical Education Club is composed of those students specializing in the Health and Physical Education field. It was organized in 1940 and has proved to be a worthwhile addition to the college extra-curricular program.

The club aims to keep its members informed on matters that pertain to their field and to develop a professional attitude. To achieve its objectives, the organization sponsors numerous activities of an informative and entertaining nature. Outstanding this year was the physical fitness demonstration given in the auditorium in which the health and physical education students participated.

The executive board of this club is made up of two representatives from each class, elected by their respective classes. The officers of the club are elected from this executive board. It is the responsibility of the board to plan the programs for the year.

ART CLUB

The Art Club members find their work most fascinating. This club does not work on a scheduled program, but has adopted a system whereby each member may work on any type of art which appeals to him. This method of giving opportunity for individual initiative and expression has proved its merit by the degree of accomplishment.

Miss Marion Satterwhite, the capable adviser, directs the activities and suggests progressive techniques of working in color, poster layouts, mask making, plaster modeling, finger painting, and weaving. All these projects help to keep interest within the club and to attract new members.

The group also joins the art appreciation classes in their visits to the famous New York City art collections.

MASK AND ZANY CLUB

Mask and Zany holds an important place as the dramatic organization of the campus. Since outlets for their talent are provided, the members gain experience in acting and directing and at the same time learn the fundamentals of play production.

Membership is obtained by successfully performing some duty either on the acting or producing staff of a play sponsored by the club.

Customarily, four one-act plays furnishing the variety of experience desired are given in the college assembly during the year. Each performance, always differing in mood, is an all-student activity under the direction of a faculty adviser.

Though Mask and Zany seeks to entertain its audience, it stresses the educational rather than the recreational value of the dramatic program. Therefore, emphasis is placed upon the planning, organizing, and completing of a production.

BLUE PENCIL CLUB

The Blue Pencil Club, our oldest organized club, is the campus literary organization. Members read and discuss current fiction and non-fiction. Guest speakers appear from time to time to offer their views on contemporary literature.

Each year the club purchases a few selected books of the season for the use of club members. These books, which occupy a special shelf in our college library, are available to the public upon the payment of a small fee. A committee of the organization arranges the "browsing" collection.

The one qualification for membership is an interest in books and the desire to read them. The club itself offers the opportunity to increase interest in worthwhile literature and to keep informed on the latest and best reading.

ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

The A.C.E. was organized in January, 1940, as the local chapter of the state and national association. The purpose is to draw together those students and faculty interested in elementary education. All persons interested in doing this are eligible for membership.

The programs, consisting largely of discussions of modern trends in education, include problems and ideas presented by individual members. Elementary games are learned and discussd.

Every means is used to acquaint the members with the latest methods and techniques of teaching. Furthering this idea, the club this year was interested in story telling, an important but neglected phase of elementary education. Members visited schools of the vicinity and told stories in actual classroom situations. This proved a gainful experience

SPANISH CLUB

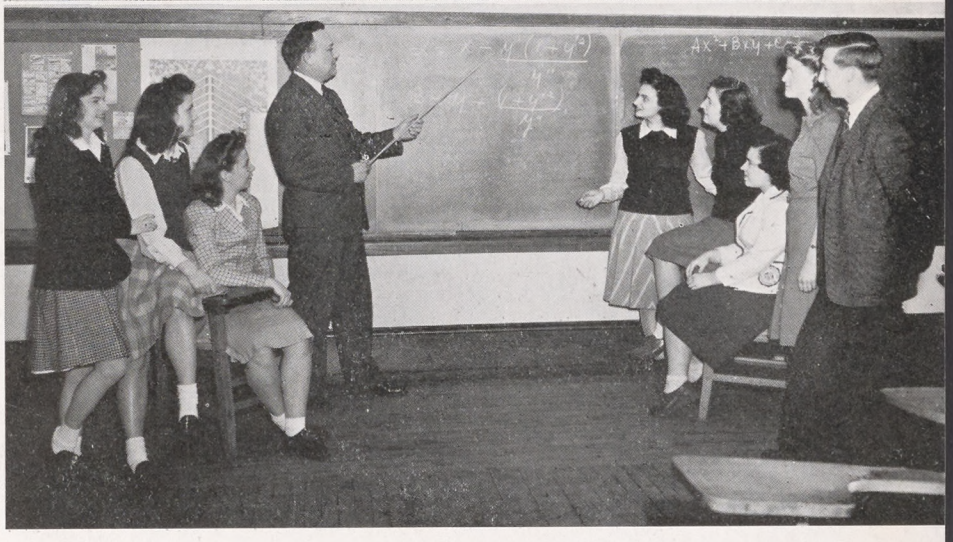

In its second year of existence, the Spanish Club already shows every indication of becoming an important part of the extra-curricular program of the college. Open to those who have some knowledge of Spanish, "El Circulo Espanol" provides an opportunity for the expression of interest in Spain and in the Spanish-speaking countries of South America. Its special aim is that of fostering greater inter-American unity and of furnishing students additional opportunities to hear and use the Spanish language.

Unusual programs, including reports, discussions, Spanish games, songs and plays, lectures by persons with first-hand information relative to United States-Latin American relations do much to enrich the bi-monthly meetings.

Through the cooperation of the entire student body the novel idea of selling Mexican book-markers has met with marked success both years.

EUCLIDIAN CLUB

The Euclidean Club gives the mathematically inclined student an opportunity to delve into various phases of higher mathematics. Being both a practical and technical organization, it creates greater interest in this field and promotes to a higher degree the appreciation of the importance of mathematics in civilization. It also brings together, socially, students interested in the usefulness, progress, and future of the science of Euclid.

Outstanding activities of the club's program include lectures by guest speakers, visitations, and student presentations revealing the history and use of mathematics. Club members contribute mathematical problems and puzzles. In their talks, speakers apply mathematics to the work with which they are acquainted. As a climax to the program, a strictly social gathering is held at the home of the group's adviser, Mr. Jonas May, in the spring of the year.

GLEE CLUB

This year the college vocal department is composed of only the Girls' Glee Club, since the Choral Club and A Capella Choir have been discontinued. The organization is a select group which meets once a week for rehearsals.

The first project undertaken by the club is the preparation for the Christmas Vesper Service, an event on the college calendar to which everyone looks forward. The second project is the spring concert. Mr. Allen Nern, director of the group, selects the music for this program, and the work is begun immediately after Christmas.

The Girls' Glee Club not only sings for the enjoyment of the college but also makes numerous public appearances before various local clubs and organizations. The girls were invited to sing on the Wyckoff Christmas Program this year, which was broadcast over stations WEST and WSAN.

This organization needs no introduction. Our chapter of the International Student Christian Organization is almost as old as our campus. The Y's affiliation with the I.S.C.O. affords its members all the privileges of the Y.W.C.A. throughout the world, as well as an opportunity to meet representatives from foreign countries.

The Y.W.C.A. is primarily a service club. Its activities start the first Sunday of the school year, when members escort the freshmen to church. In the evening a supper party is held so that the freshmen may become acquainted with both the upper classmen and each other.

At Thanksgiving and Christmas time the club prepares baskets of food to distribute to the poor.

The Y.W.C.A. invites guest speakers for assembly programs, assists the Red Cross, and lends a helping hand wherever the need arises.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

NATURE CLUB

Open to all those interested in the beauties and oddities of nature, in addition to future teachers of biology, the Nature Club offers an opportunity for investigating our ever-changing environment.

Through both direct and indirect means, the Nature Club brings to its members the phenomena of nature. Field trips are taken and specimens are collected and studied during regular meetings. Lectures on various topics are also given by persons qualified. Both indoor and outdoor meetings are held, according to the results desired. Dr. William Moore is adviser to the club.

The club holds several social functions throughout the year. An outstanding one this year was a trip to New York City, where numerous museums of natural science were visited. The trip re-emphasized the usefulness of observation in gaining a knowledge of nature.

The Women's Athletic Association is planned to provide social and physical activity for all women students. This popular organization has for its adviser Dr. Edna Rosenkrans, whose enthusiasm for outdoor life is well known on our campus.

The outdoor activities enjoyed by the members include scavenger hunts, hiking, skating parties, and relays. Indoors, there are fashion shows, quizzes, games, swimming parties, and bowling.

Activities are arranged in advance by the executive board, which emphasizes 100 per cent participation.

At an installation banquet in the spring new members and officers are welcomed into the association.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

THE COLLEGE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

The College Council of Defense was organized on our campus to insure security and safety and to aid in the war effort. Each group has a specific duty to perform and each council carries out its work very diligently. The council is composed of an Executive Committee and of several sub-committees which work in co-operation with each other in carrying out the purpose of the council. The Executive Board is composed of the following people: Mr. William G. Moorhead, chairman; Mr. Eugene H. Martin, Miss Ruth L. Jones, Mr. Howard R. DeNike, Miss Ida M. Bennett, Miss Mary C. Shafer, faculty; Eleanor Wright, Jane Cotton, Jacqueline Feeley, Betty Collins, and Milton Fried, students.

THE COMMITTEE FOR AMERICAN UNITY

The aim of the Committee for American Unity is to keep students informed about the course of the war and to achieve pride in American unity. To accomplish this aim, the committee performs the following duties: promotes friendly interest in the United Nations, stimulates interest in the problem of a just peace, increases sympathetic understanding of racial and religious groups of which America is composed, promulgates American ideals, and suggests constructive action as to the best expression of patriotism and means of building morale. The committee members are:

Miss Mary C. Shafer, adviser
Milton Fried, chairman
Virginia Miller
Edward Mink
Henrietta Kline
Ollie Smith
Betty Logan
Marjorie Verway

THE FIRE PROTECTION COMMITTEE

The Fire Protection Committee was organized by the College Council of Defense for the purpose of locating fire hazards, preventing fires, purchasing and maintaining fire-fighting apparatus, and maintaining an adequate student personnel for carrying out monthly fire drills. The committee consists of the following members:

Miss Ruth L. Jones, adviser
Jane Cotton, chairman
Elizabeth Breeden
Jean Deobold
Marise Kenderdine
Amelia Morgan
Edward Mink
William Barrison

THE WAR SAVINGS COMMITTEE

The college has a Faculty Committee and a Student Committee whose purpose is to encourage the sale of War Saving Stamps and Bonds. The Student Committee has established a booth, opened at certain specific times in the hall near the post office, where students and faculty may make purchases.

The Faculty Committee:
Dr. Thomas J. Breitwieser, chairman
Dr. Joseph F. Noonan
Dr. Charles J. Naegle
The Student Committee:
Dr. Thomas J. Breitwieser
Annabelle Smith, chairman
June Wolfe
Jean Fehnel
Margaret Kauffman
Richard Linn

THE MEN-IN-SERVICE COMMITTEE

The Men-in-Service Committee is a bond between us here at E. S. S. T. C. and our boys in uniform. Two evident accomplishments of this committee are the lists of the names and addresses of the former students and the service flag for which everyone contributed. The group also sends the Stroud Courier, special-day greetings, and friendly letters to our men-in-service. Members of the committee are:

Miss Ida M. Bennett, adviser
Elizabeth Hart, chairman
Doris Henning
Kathryn Predmore
Marie Bowers
George Mermon
William Ratchford
Miriam Ritter

THE AIR RAID WARNINGS COMMITTEE

In co-operation with the State Council of Defense, an Air Raid Committee was selected to insure the safety of individuals on the college campus in case of an emergency. This committee established policies, formed rules and regulations, and selected personnel for specific duties during an air raid. An alarm system was established, and the signals were given by means of a siren which was purchased for this purpose. The committee members are:

Mr. Eugene H. Martin, adviser
Eleanor Wright, chairman
Sarah Hoffman
Virginia Loop
Dorothy Loos
Thomas Matalavage
Robert Reese
June Wolfe

THE COLLEGE FIRST AID CASUALTY STATION

The College First Aid Casualty Station has been functioning regularly throughout this year, as in former years. The staff has reported faithfully for all air raid drills, black-outs, and also at the time of the serious fire at the County Home. In each case, all facilities have been put in readiness. Upon a few tests, "casualties" have been treated. The staff is composed of the following members:

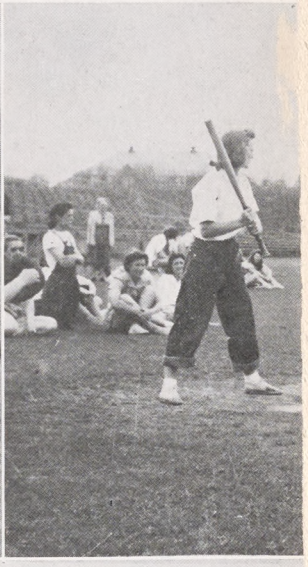

Mr. Howard R. DeNike, captain
Jacqueline Feeley, chairman
Miss Kathryn Pontius
Nancy Hollywood
Frances Heaney
Ollie Smith
Mr. A. L. Helmes
Mr. Francis B. McGarry
Dr. Nathan Myers
Mrs. Mary M. Ozenbough, college nurse
Dr. Harold Flagler, college physician

Sports

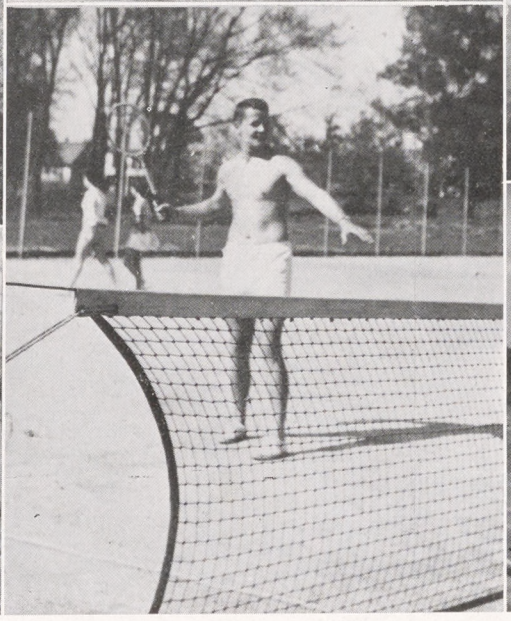

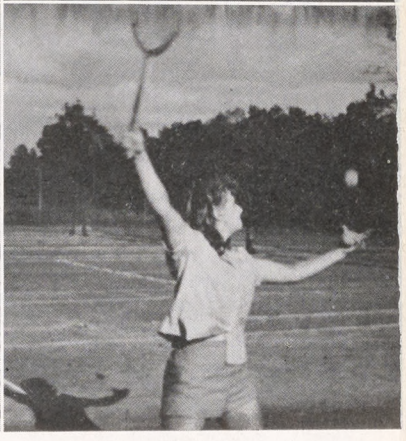

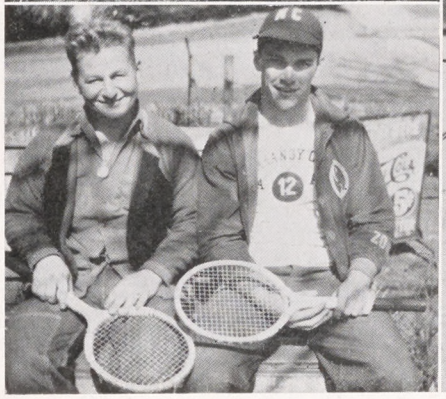

SOFTBALL

Congratulations to the junior girls, class of '44—Champions of the Women's Intramural Softball League for the 1943 season!

It was a season of thrills, excitement, and superior play on the part of all classes. Enthusiasm ran high this year among players and spectators. Games were well-played, and the audiences marveled at the pitching, hitting, fielding, and sportsmanship.

Rain or shine, win or lose, the games went on from April to the latter part of May.

Members of the Championship Team were: B. Collins, N. Hollywood, G. Reed, I. Teman, L. Leonard, F. Anders, E. Wright, D. Witherich, H. Suitch, H. Klein, N. Reed, G. Ullrich, B. Smith, and A. Kyler.

ARCHERY

Intramural archery, in the spring of 1943, was added to the sports program of the college. Although a new activity, it proved to be an interesting one.

Archery meets were scheduled every week under the direction of Mrs. Elva Peterson, a member of the Health and Physical Education Department. Archery is a challenge to skill and technique and involves individual competitors. Several representatives were selected to shoot for their group, and the points were compiled for a class total.

Limited time did not allow for completion of the schedule in order to determine the official class champion, but the records show the highest individual scorer of the various rounds shot was a member of the sophomore class.

TENNIS

Court battles, and with no judge presiding! Helen Wills? Budge? Jacobs? No, just amateur tennis enthusiasts out to make the intramural program a success. New personalities were discovered this year, since the game became the sport of many instead of a chosen few.

A full spring schedule was planned, with intramural class leaders co-operating fully with the administration. These elected students were: Maryellen Barry, senior; Audrey Kyler, junior; Sara Hoffman, sophomore; Ruth Gingrich, freshman. The original program included four leagues, which were to play-off among themselves, the winners of each entering the finals. However, poor weather conditions prevented the completion of the schedule, much to the chagrin of the ambitious members. It is hoped that the future will bring completed tournaments, either for intramural players or a selected varsity.

TRACK

Full of vigor of spring and desiring to run and run, to leap the highest hurdles, to surpass all previous feats of daring—these are the true lovers of track! These are the people who with gravel in their shoes, their knees bruised, and their legs tired still attempt to build better and better records of speed, strength, and endurance on the well-used campus track.

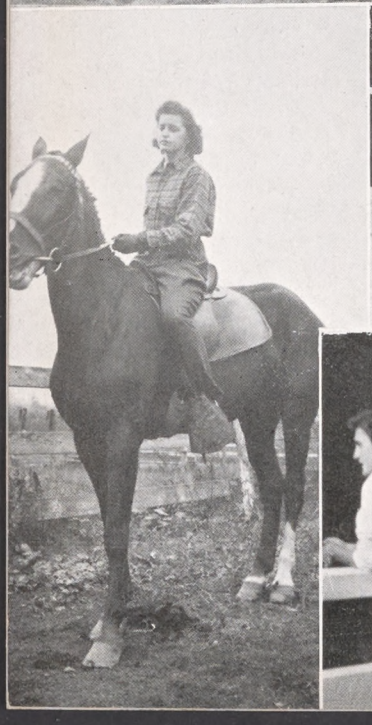

BICYCLING

Another thrilling and gay pastime, enjoyed on many weekends, is found in jumping on those "two-wheelers" and going over hill and dale. Sitting down to run! But worthwhile reward comes in coasting down the hills and knolls, when the wind brushes back your hair and stings your face refreshingly. Then, too, this method of traveling makes errands to Stroudsburg and vicinity much easier and more enjoyable to the fortunate owners of the such envied vehicles.

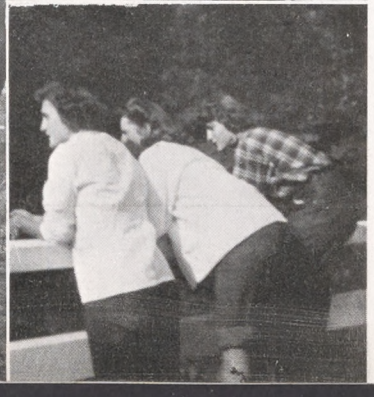

HORSEBACK RIDING

Back to the "Pony Express" days of our grandma's and grandpa's era, when automobiles were dreams and saddling "Old Nell" for a ride was second nature. Quite a number of our outdoor-loving lassies find pleasure in galloping down the old trails and bridle paths in the woods surrounding the college. When the Baron's horses are available, many a brisk, sunny day finds these youthful equestriennes vying for their favorite filly and riding off into the hills.

HIKING

"Over hill, over dale, as we hit the dusty trail" is the theme song of our enthusiastic college hikers. This activity tends to be the major sport of weekends, when the fall days stir the gypsy blood, or balmy spring breezes gently persuade studious lads and lassies to leave musty books and to hie to the wide open spaces for a day. The Pocono beauty fulfills all the hopes and dreams for the nature lovers.

DANCING

Co-eds travel back over the years and bring back memories of bygone days with the old and beautiful dances they learned and practice in the Wayne gymnasium. The dancers can re-live the olden days when the Irish Lilt, the Virginia Reel, and the Sailors' Horn Pipe were as popular as the Rumba and Jitterbug of today. These people have found pleasure and enjoyment in the rhythm of the tap-tap of dancing feet.

BADMINTON

The game so many people laugh about as they say, "How silly to let a few feathers get on your nerves!" How silly, indeed, but how true! Badminton is a game of skill, and often that little bird does make us feel foolish. It can be so tricky and elusive! With practice, however, you can develop a technique which will outwit the bird.

HOCKEY

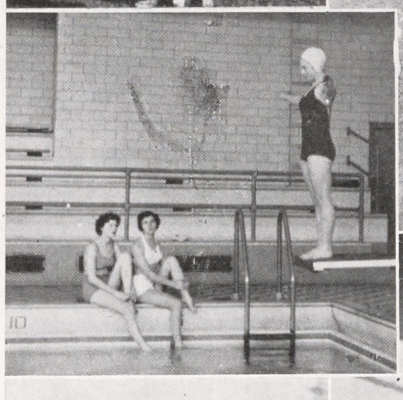

The rush of wind in their faces, the feel of firm ground underfoot, and a hockey stick in their hands are all the lovers of this game need to be at ease. Games were played between classes in hockey, and rivalry ran high. The freshman class, attempting to make a showing in the sports field at East Stroudsburg, fought hard to be finally acclaimed inter-class champions.

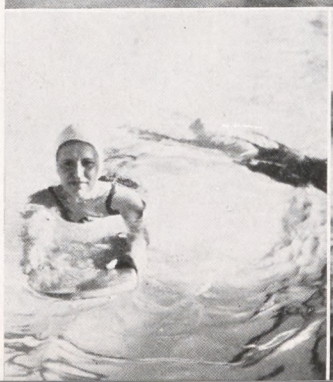

SWIMMING

On week-days after four o'clock and Saturday afternoons, many of the college family relax—swim, dive, and enjoy themselves in the cool, refreshing atmosphere of our modern, well-cared-for swimming pool. Quite a number of our students consider swimming their best-performed and most enjoyable activity, and to these "relatives" of the amphibians, the doors of the college pool are always open.

WOMEN'S VARSITY HOCKEY

September, 1943, saw the field hockey enthusiasts respond to the call of Coach Genevieve Zimbar. After several weeks of grueling practice, a varsity squad of fifteen was chosen to meet the homecoming alumnae.

The first tussle with former E. S. S .T. C. athletes was a hard fight which ended with the following score: ALUMNAE, 1; E. S. S. T. C., 5. Captain Gerda Ullrich was high scorer with three goals to her credit.

Again on home territory, the Warriorettes battled a mighty Temple squad but fell before their hard-fighting opponents with a score of 9-0.

The next two games took the Stroudsburg lassies to New York. A fast, hard game was played against Brooklyn College, and, by clever maneuvering, the winning goal was scored by "Brownie" Reed. The Red and Black girls won, 1-0.

New York University proved fast and furious, with a penalty bully adding to the excitement; goalie Strieby prevented a possible goal by her quick thinking. The contest ended in a 2-2 tie.

The last tilt of the season was with Ursinus College on home ground. The local ladies put up a hard battle but succumbed to the speedy visiting team with a 4-0 score.

MEMBERS OF THE VARSITY HOCKEY TEAM

G. Ullrich (c), C.F.; D. Witherich, R.H.; F. Heaney, L.H.; M. Jenkins, L.F., A. Salomone, L.W.; N. Reed, C.H.; B. Collins, L.I.; E. Breeden, R.W.; R. Reinheimer, R.I.; L. Evans, L.F.; A. Burkhart, R.F.; H. Strieby, G.; L. Toews, R.I.; P. Hunsberger, F.; R. Mooney, L.F.

Co-ed students with a love for hockey did not give in when the varsity was named and they were not included in the line-up. Instead, with a promise that for the first time at East Stroudsburg there might be a junior varsity, they reported faithfully for practices. Without the aid of these people it is certain that the varsity would not have been able to maintain the record it did. As a reward for their loyalty, the group was organized into the junior varsity team under the direction of Coach Zimbar. The hockey schedule, though a small one, was a start for the years to come.

In the two games of the season, under the guidance of Captain Doris (Chick) Henning, the girls displayed fine sportsmanship. The black and red lassies were too swift and deft with the hockey sticks for the gold and blue of the Keystone girls.

On November 11, in their first tilt on our home field, the girls proved that they will be varsity material. Petronella Karaveckas, a junior, led the scoring attack with 2 goals. Inez Roberts and Virginia Loop, freshman roommates, in the second half, accounted for 2 more goals. The final score was 4-0.

The return game at Scranton was played November 18. This proved to be a fast battle. Virginia Loop took scoring honors by driving the ball through the goal posts for 3 counters. All eleven of the E. S. S. T. C. girls helped to make this a decisive victory.

The women's basketball season opened with fifty ambitious candidates reporting for action. After several weeks of grueling practice, Coach Genevieve C. Zimbar selected thirteen members to represent the varsity team, which appeared at all home games. When scheduled trips were made, a squad of nine was chosen from the group, as transportation facilities were limited. All members made one or all of the trips. With Captain "Dotty" Witherich efficiently leading the willing group, a highly successful season was completed.

This season opened with the Warriorettes traveling to Rider College and defeating them, 44-14.

A determined Alumnae invaded the campus, bringing many previous stars and outstanding players to E. S. S. T. C. This team defeated the local five, 28-23.

The third game of the season, played at home, was a successful demonstration of speedy basketball, in both offensive and defensive play. The final score found Panzer "down under," 39-21.

Traveling to Hunter College, the "White Ghosts" from Pennsylvania emerged victorious over New York, 39-28.

Temple University, one of the most anticipated tilts of the season, came next. Though determined and fighting to the end, the Zimbarettes lost to the visitors, 20-15.

On the road once more, the varsity squad met and succumbed to New York University in one of the worst defeats of the season. The "Ghosts" faded to a defeat of 30-18.

The next tilt, on foreign wood, found a scrappy quintet retaliating and topping Elizabethtown, 32-23.

Terminating the season was a home game with Rider College in which a senior line-up played a farewell game and came through with a successful win of 39-10.

WOMEN'S VARSITY BASKETBALL

WOMEN'S JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The East Stroudsburg Junior Varsity Team, a group numbering nearly thirty and coached by Mr. Eugene Martin, provided thrills and excitement in their games preliminary to the varsity contests.

The first game of the season found Portland High School as guests of the college. As a fast, scrappy sextette, the Portland lassies won, 25-23.

In a return game with Portland the Jay Vees fought back and defeated the high school, 25-18.

The first game away from home and the Black and Red went on a scoring spree to leave Keystone Jr. College on the short end of a 52-25 score.

The Reading Recreational Team, coached by a former basketball star from E. S. S. T. C., came to the campus and in a well played contest gave the college girls their worst defeat of the season, 25-18.

An undefeated Lehman High School Team challenged the Martinettes and on our home floor both teams battled to the final score of 22-22.

The final game to date was an endeavor to break up the deadlock between Portland High School and the college, each team having one victory to its credit. The East Stroudsburg team traveled to Portland and in one of their best games of the season, came out on top, 38-16.

SNAPS OF INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES

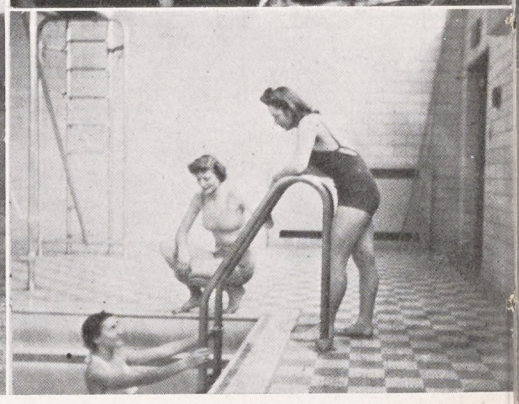

AND FREE PLAY

ICE SKATING

Sparkling eyes, rosy cheeks, merry laughter ringing out on the brisk winter air! The wearers of the "Silver Skates" glide to and fro on the frosty pond —some entering hilarious games, some contentedly scratching out figures on the hard surface, and still others just learning to stand on the shining blades. One and all enjoy this exciting sport, taking time when chilly to join the groups gathered by the fires on the banks, and then wending their homeward way as hunger calls and dusk descends.

SKIING

Wax skies, tasty lunches, layers of clothes, the beautiful snow-covered Poconos. Off to a day of skills and thrills, zooming down hill after hill. Up and down all day long until the sun sets and day is almost done. As darkness descends, our skiers think of the dormitories and return to their nice warm beds, tired, hungry but happy.

SNOWBALL FIGHT

When the first snow flurries turn the campus into a glittering winterland of delight, the snow frolickers dash forth in all their gala costumes to participate in what we generally know as—snow battles! Icy forts and men spring suddenly from the white carpet, sides are chosen, and battlefields located—then, to the fray! When again, all is calm and serene, the "snow enemies" creep out and, with shouts of laughter, shake dripping hands and reluctantly leave for dorm reality.

ROLLER SKATING

Catch a bus, or use "Shank's Matches," and go with us to Carmen to see the wheels spin 'round! Among our student body you'll find a number of followers of the rink, and quite a few fancy skaters. "The Skaters' Waltz" calls forth many a lover of the ball bearings, and off they trip to the light fantastic of intricate steps, and, an occasional spill or skid across the wood boards, but all is included in the whirling tune of fun!

SLEDDING

Borrow a sled, get a few friends and then you have a jolly good time coasting on our nearby hills. It's nice to go flying over the hard crust of snow and feeling the rush of wind in your face. But oh! When you have to walk up that big hill, well, that's a different story. But then you can always go down again!

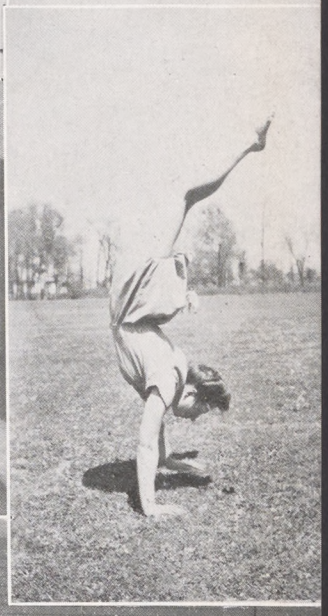

TUMBLING

Entrants to the "upside-down" world of gymnastics may be seen on any of the free-play days in the gym, working diligently. Forward rolls, cartwheels, handstands, backbends are just a few of the possible skills one learns when attempting to defy the Law of Gravity. Determination and spirit are all that one needs to start in this intriguing field. After that—maybe a "balanced" career. Who knows?

CHEERLEADERS

The girls behind the teams—co-eds who work four years to earn the coveted Varsity S letter! Four years of leading the enthusiastic sport fans in cheers and of encouraging the teams to victories. The individuals with high spirits and peppy personalities who vitalize and add color to all athletic contests.

The cheerleaders are selected from the freshman class to replace vacancies left by outgoing students. Each of the four classes is represented on the cheering squad. Under the direction of Mr. Oscar J. Liljenstein, they endeavor to perfect their performances.

INTRAMURAL CLASS LEADERS

"Come out for intramurals and relax!"—a war-time slogan used by the chosen class leaders to stimulate interest and development in "after-school" activities. These class representatives attempted to arouse the enthusiasm of the students and to persuade them to participate in a period of enjoyment and fun. By walking into the gym on these days, you could see the successful results of their efforts. Some of the fall and winter activities included: hockey, archery, tennis, badminton, basketball, volleyball, and tumbling. The class representatives were: B. J. Smith, O. Smith, A. Kyler, seniors; H. Chikotas, M. Groff, F. Heaney, J. Miller, M. Kauffman, juniors; D. Henning, L. Evans, R. Gingrich, B. Wood, J. Harrigan, sophomores; V. Loop, D. Zieger, M. J. Marhefka, R. Mooney, M. Fairchild, and P. Hunsberger, freshmen.
