EAST STROUDSBURG, PA.

The Story of '55

FOREWORD

During the four eventful years that we, the members of the Class of 1955, have studied here, we have seen and experienced the growth and development of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

As freshmen in September, 1951, we were a vital part of this progress. Along our ascending college journey we witnessed the erection of a new men's dormitory, the renovations of major buildings, the installation of the latest in educational equipment, the ever increasing enrollment of students, and the graduation of better trained men and women.

Such advancement contains all the elements of a news story. Consequently, we have chosen a reporter's record of East Stroudsburg STC as the theme for our class annual.

This reporter is theoretically assigned to write an eyewitness account of the students and happenings at a typical teachers college. His venture is shown as he enters ESSTC and meets with familiar faculty members and students, noting the various organizations and sports activities, viewing the toil and grind of classroom work, and, finally, tasting the glamorous excitement of parties and dances.

Quenched with the reality of college life, the reporter writes his story of this growing college and its role in the preparation of men and women ideally trained to take their place in the field of education.

Miss Katharine Pontius

In June, 1954, Miss Katharine Pontius announced her resignation from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College after twenty-nine years of devoted service.

Miss Pontius came to the Normal School at East Stroudsburg in the summer of 1925 to teach health and physical education. This was intended to be only a summer appointment. However, her work was very satisfactory, and she was asked to remain as a full-time instructor in the department. An outstanding worker, she captured the friendship and praise of students and faculty alike with her pleasant personality and tremendous ability and energy.

She was selected physical education director in both the elementary and secondary fields at ESSTC in 1933. Miss Pontius held this position for many years until a director was appointed to the secondary department. During the time that she was supervisor of health education at the college, she wrote two books dealing with the subject in the elementary and secondary systems.

Miss Pontius received her B.A. degree from Hood College in Maryland, where she majored in mathematics and minored in English and art. She later received her master's degree in health and physical education at Columbia University.

Though retired, Miss Ponitus is still very active in community affairs. Her future plans include an extended tour of the United States and eventually a trip to Europe.

Miss Pontinus' superb example has stimulated and inspired thousands of East Stroudsburg STC graduates, and her impressive record may well serve as a model for us as prospective teachers to follow.

Publications . . .

THEY MOULDED OPINIONS

The purpose of the Publications Council is to manage details relative to the various publications on campus. With the council lies the responsibility of approving editors and staffs of both the STROUD COURIER and STROUD yearbook. The financial affairs of the STROUD COURIER are also managed by the Council, while the STROUD yearbook is self-supporting.

In addition to these functions, the Publications Council itself edits the annual STROUD WAY, which is a handbook for students. Contained in the STROUD WAY is information essential to each student. A few items vital to students are the college calendar for each year, administrative information, student government constitution, executive council bylaws, and dormitory regulations.

STROUD COURIER

The STROUD COURIER is the college newspaper published five times each semester by a staff selected from voluntary applicants. A file of the paper for any year will provide the reader with a comprehensive history of the college for that period of time. Membership to the COURIER affords the opportunity to gain practical experience in the field of journalism, and will also prepare students for the advisership of a high school paper. The STROUD COURIER is a member of the Columbia Press Association and has received a first place award for the past seventeen years. In the spring of each year a staff banquet is held at which time some person who is outstanding in the field of journalism or public welfare is honored.

It has been the aim of the STROUD Staff to portray college life here at ESSTC in the light, informal, and friendly manner which it is. We have poured something of ourselves into these pages . . . a record of events and traditions in pictures. While long hours of work have been put forth by us, no measure could possibly determine the amount of satisfaction which has been gained in producing this story. We sincerely hope that this account of your life here at the college, as recorded in the 1955 STROUD, will be one of your most treasured souvenirs.

FOOTBALL

Kenny Cox

Carmen Martucci

Warren Hoeffner and Denny Roth

Not since the unbeaten season of 1942 had East Stroudsburg STC fielded a football team as powerful as the one this past season which captured championship honors. Under the capable guidance of head coach Eugene Martin and assistants George Ockershausen and Frank Grimm, the Warriors scalped five league opponents to deadlock with West Chester and Shippensburg for the State Teachers College Conference title.

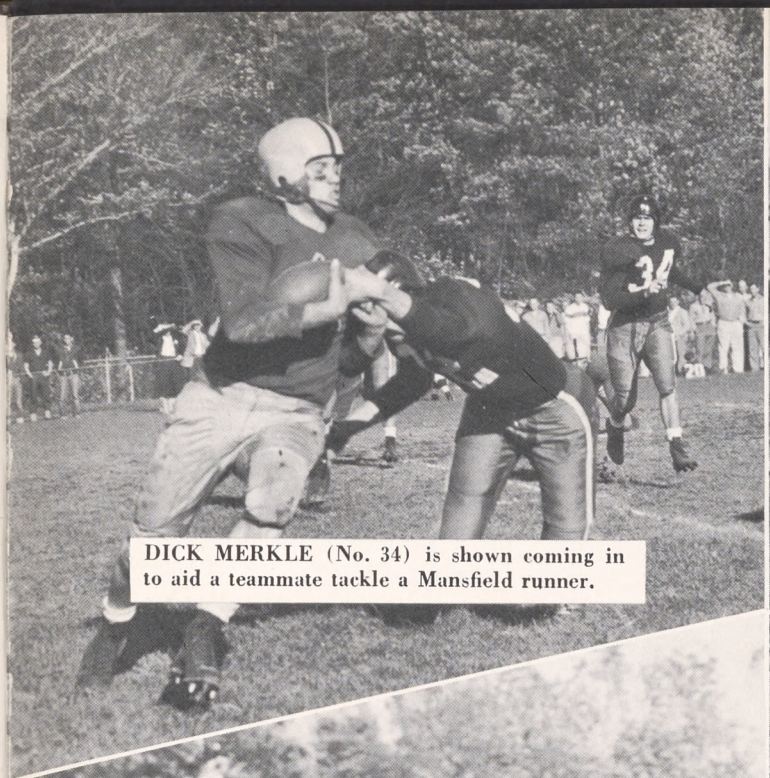

The "Big Red" opened conference play by blanking Millersville, 19-0. After trampling Ithaca, 25-13, in an independent tilt, the Warriors were edged, 17-13, by Shippensburg in a bitterly fought contest that wasn't decided until the final gun sounded. The Warriors warmed up for West Chester by thumping Mansfield, 28-0, on Homecoming Day. On October 24 the high spirited "Big Red" put on its best war paint and ended a 12-year famish by shading the West Chester Rams, 14-13. Two electrifying runs of 80-yards each by Warren Hoeffner and Charlie Shaw and the conversions of Denny Roth provided the winning margin.

Kenny Cox, Wilmont Smith and co-captains Jim Revello and Carmen Martucci were outstanding in leading the Warriors to a fine season record of 6-2.

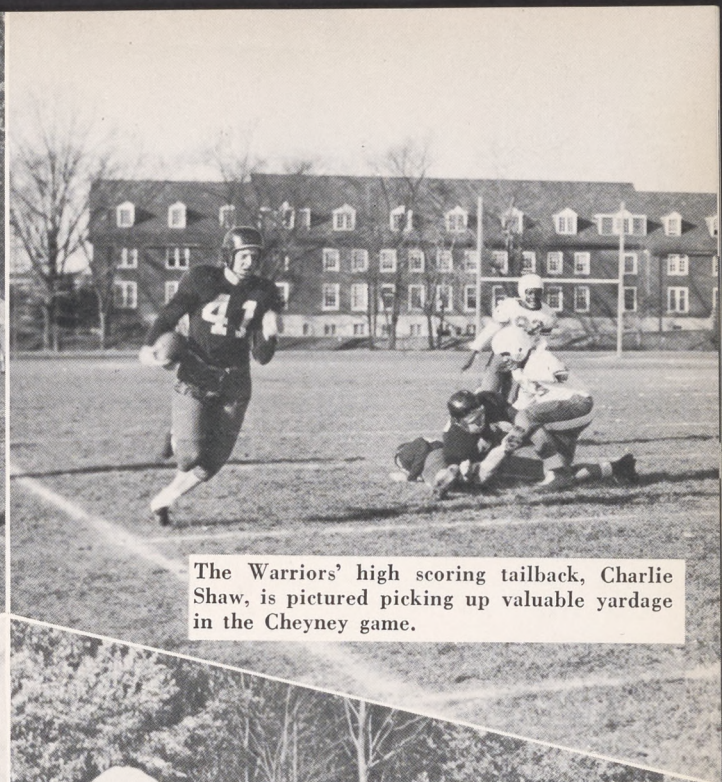

Special honors went to Martucci who was named to a tackle slot on the first team of the All-State Teachers Conference squad, and to halfback Shaw who was chosen to the second All-STC eleven and cited honorable mention on the All-State team.

SOCCER

Capt. Bob Hartman demonstrates his educated kick.

The East Stroudsburg STC soccer team, for the first time in many years, dropped below the .500 mark last season. Hurt considerably by the loss of several graduating seniors, including All-American Fred Gahres, Coach Howard DeNike was presented with a serious task of reconstruction. The stubborn Warriors ended play with a 2-4-1 slate, but showed consistent signs of improvement as the campaign progressed.

Bob Hartman, captain, was outstanding as he constantly sparked his teammates with his booming downfield drives and agile "heading." Lee Hill, Frank Meehan, Jack Blair, and freshman Howie Staeger were other standouts on an otherwise mediocre squad.

"Rebuild" will be the password next year as Coach DeNike sets out to again mold one of his undefeated elevens.

HOCKEY

For the third consecutive year the ESSTC field hockey team achieved an undefeated season in regularly scheduled games. With early victories over Drexel and Lock Haven and a tie with Ursinus, the Warriorettes, under the guidance of Miss Katherine Griffith, had little trouble in disposing with the University of Pennsylvania.

Co-captains Margie Morell and Virginia Eisenbrey as well as Nancy Noll, Doris Zerbey and Margaret Rothermel will be sorely missed next season due to graduation. But the fine play of promising freshmen, such as Nancy Almond and Joan Chamberlain, are expected to fill the vacancies.

Morell and Noll were honored when they participated in inter-district competition for All-American positions at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The ESSTC basketball machine opened the campaign in sputtering style, dropping three in a row before capturing a win over Trenton. This triumph appeared to ignite the fuse as the Warriors gained strength as the season progressed.

Coach Jerry Palaia, in his first year at ESSTC, molded together a tough nucleus by mid-season with the result that the Warriors were soon one of the most feared teams in the teachers college conference.

The outlook is extremely bright for Coach Palaia next year as only Ray Kaseman, Nick Gatto and George Heidenreich will be lost through graduation in June. The performance of freshmen Charlie German and Denny Sullivan further bolsters ESSTC's hopes for a conference championship next year.

Doris Zerbey

The Warriorettes launched their 1955 campaign by whipping a highly spirited Cheyney team on the ESSTC court. The lassies continued their pace and made it two consecutive victories as they humbled Misericordia.

After dropping a narrow decision to Panzer, the Warriorettes again found the range and soon were on their way to another sucessful season.

Coach Genevieve Zimbar will have a wealth of material on hand next year as only Doris Zerbey, Leah Cutler, and Janet Dicks will be lost by graduation.

East Stroudsburg Teachers' junior varsity basketball team started the 1954-55 campaign off on the right foot when it defeated the Palmerton Redwings in a nip and tuck struggle. The junior Warriors, comprised mainly of freshmen and sophomores, were forced to come from behind in the second half to hang up the win.

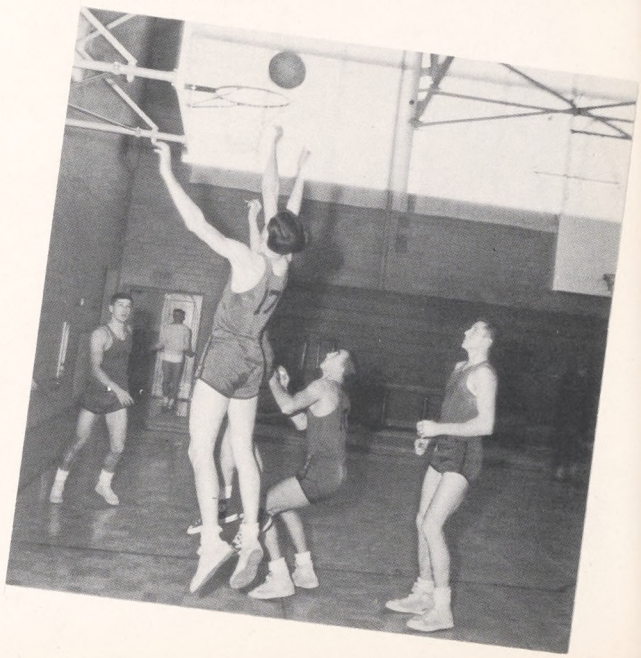

Mr. Eugene Martin is again coaching the yearlings and has several promising freshmen to mold for future varsity duty.

Among some of the stronger junior varsity opponents the squad met this year were Scranton University, Trenton, Palmerton Redwings, and Panzer.

CHEERLEADERS

To the Cheerleaders of the college has been given the responsibility of directing the spirit of an enthusiastic student body to its best advantage—that of boosting the moral of the fighting Warriors. ESSTC Cheerleaders are usually elected in their freshman year. After serving four years on the squad the graduating cheerleader is awarded a varsity letter. Rarely does an athletic event pass at which they are not present. It is only fitting therefore that credit be given to this group that gives all its energy to the task of making the Red and Black cheer resound on the campus at Normal Hill.

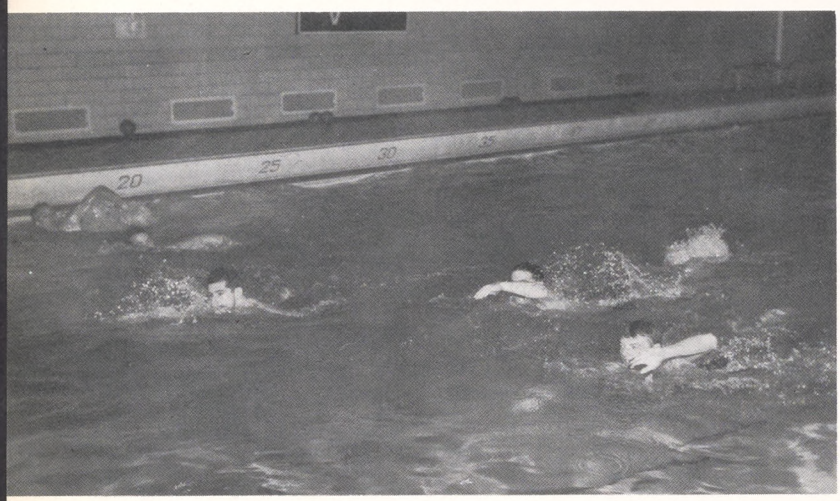

Good luck for the boys.

SWIMMING

Competing against such top-notch teams such as Long Island U., Cortland, Villanova, Adelphia, and Brooklyn Poly, the young but strong Warrior swimming squad completed a highly successful season. Consistent winners throughout the campaign were Dick Folmer, dash and distance man; John Saylor, dash and back-stroker, and Roy Snyder, breast-stroker and individual medley performer.

Their brilliant work was aided considerably by Frank Krystyniak, Bill Ormiston, Toby Nagel, John Blachek, Karl Mahle, Barron Conrad, Dick Merkle, and Bill Neal.

Coach Frank Grimm can optimistically look forward to another banner season next year as only two mermen—Blachek and Conrad—will be lost through graduation.

WRESTLING

Charlie Shaw is shown applying a reverse half nelson on teammate Kenny Cox as the two paired off in a practice session.

Faced with one of the toughest schedules in state teachers college ranks, the Warrior wrestling squad chewed into the win column in its opening meet when it crushed Elizabethtown College, 37-2. The Warriors demonstrated plenty of power as all but two of Coach George Ockershausen's men pinned their opponents.

The remainder of the ESSTC schedule listed such respected teams as Millersville, Lock Haven, West Chester, Wilkes and Ithaca.

Several wrestle-wise veterans such as Kenny Cox, Charlie Shaw, Jerry Rushin, Roy Evarts, and Harry Hess were on hand, giving Coach Ockershausen a fine nucleus to work with. The Elizabethtown match revealed three promising freshmen in Charlie Dentith, Bruce Haynes and Dominic Petrino.

In the center photo, John Gibbons does a straddle vault over four teammates on the long-horse.

Captain Fran Meehan is shown in mid air in the picture on the right as he demonstrates a backward somersault on the mats.

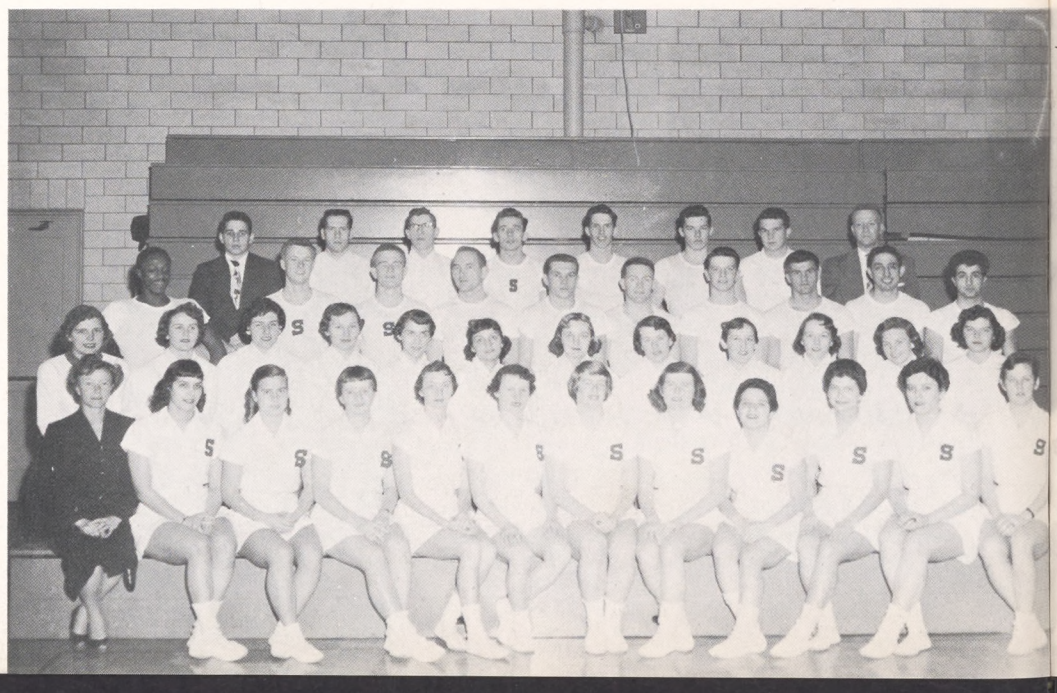

GYMNASTICS

Under the superb direction of Miss Mary Whitenight and Mr. Ed Shay, who has replaced Mr. Liljenstein as head coach, the 1955 gymnastic team smoothly performed in twenty-seven exhibitions, touring Eastern Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

In addition to tumbling, parallel bars, long and side-horse, wands, Indian clubs, and various dances, the team executed precision movements on flying rings, high horizontal bar and trampoline, the newest attraction.

Sid Morrison added spice to this program by hilariously performing as a clown on the "tramp". For the second straight year, Phil Jones and Fran Meehan captured the audience with their humorous antics on the mats.

The season ended with a successful weekend trip to Deep River, Conneticut.

ARCHERY

The most recent addition to the ESSTC varsity sports program is the girls' archery team. Heretofore, the squad had been sponsored by the Health Education Club and not regarded as a varsity sport. Its growing interest, however, made it necessary that the team be given varsity status.

Coached by Miss Katharine Griffith, the Warriorette sharpshooters compete with such formidable crews as Temple, University of Pennsylvania, and Swarthmore.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

For the second consecutive year, Coach Mary Whitenight's Warriorettes have compiled a perfect 5-0 record. Ursinus, Drexel and Swarthmore proved to be stubborn opponents but eventually bowed to the East Stroudsburg racquet wielders. Moravian and Temple also fell as victims. Jean Hecht and Nancy Noll spearheaded the Warriorettes' attack throughout the unbeaten campaign.

In the top picture, southpaw Nancy Noll is about to drive a forearm shot.

MEN'S TENNIS

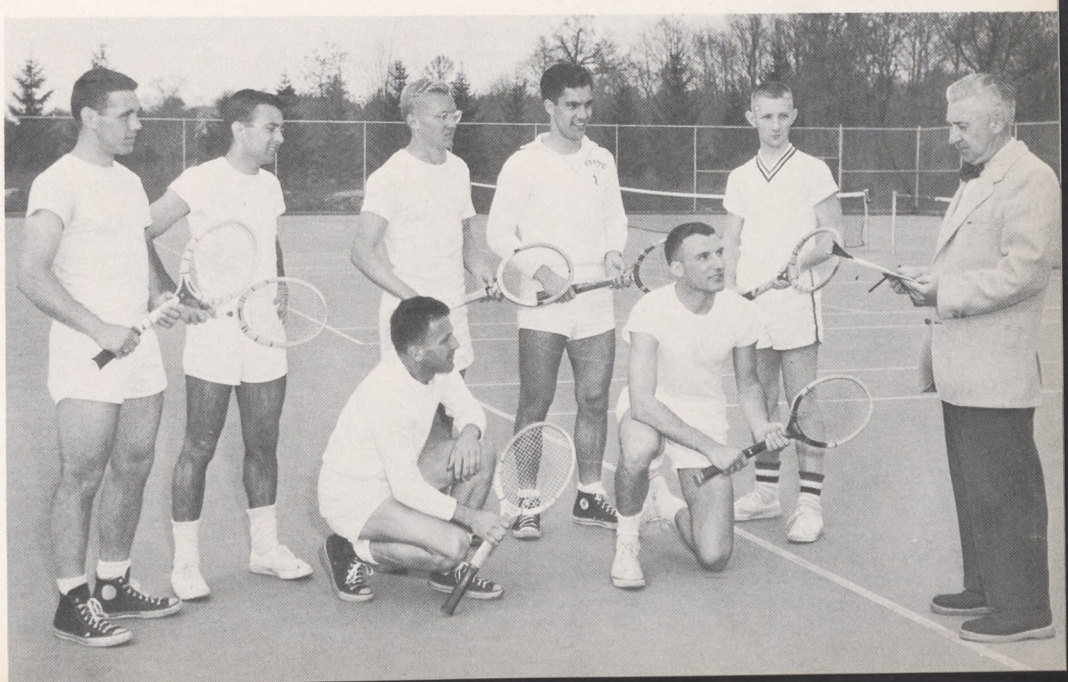

After a shaky start, the ESSTC tennis team began to find the range and improved steadily, ending its campaign with a 5-4 verdict over Kutztown.

Graduation took its share of seasoned veterans with the result that Coach Frank Grimm was compelled to rebuild his squad. However, by mid-season he came up with a tough nucleus that included Don Toth, captain; Lee Hill, Mike Soltys, Bill Booth, and John Wood. Rider College proved to be the only big obstacle for the Warriors this season as they romped over most of the opposition.

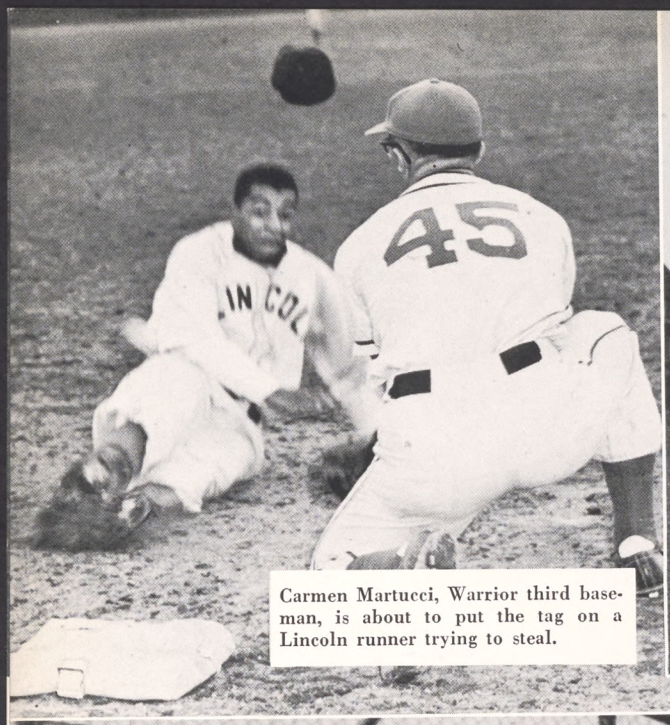

The outlook is even brighter for next year as only Soltys and Booth are seniors and will graduate in May.

BASEBALL

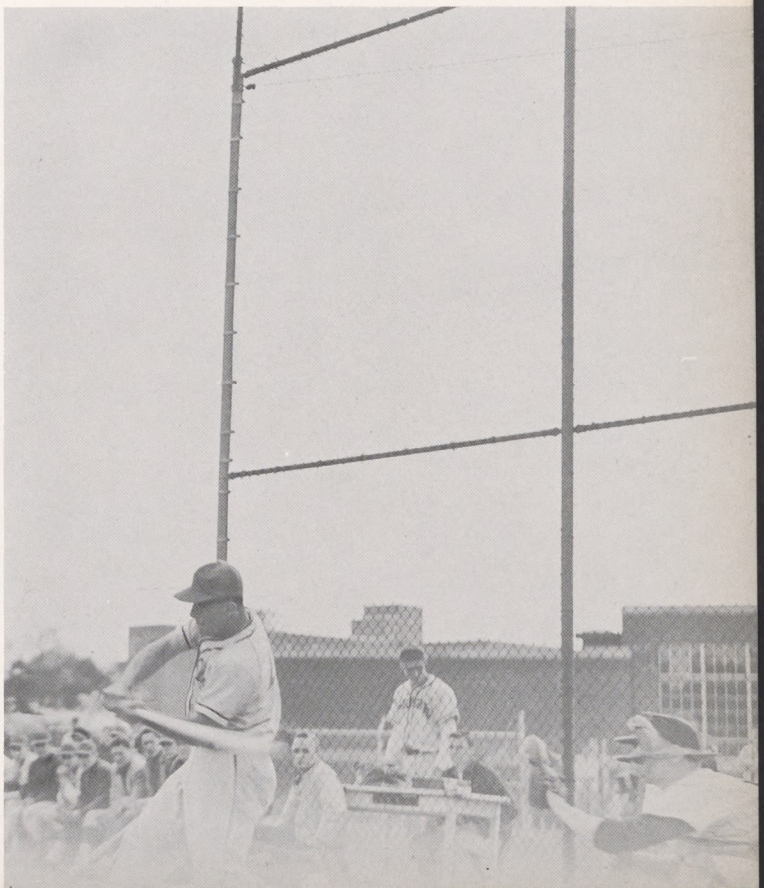

Opening its season with a 6-5 triumph over Trenton State Teachers, the ESSTC baseball team went on to compile a fine 7-5 record under the coaching of George Ockershausen.

Several of the Warrior wins were pounded out in convincing fashion. Wilkes bowed, 14-3; Farleigh Dickinson, 15-4, and Kutztown, 22-11. Slugging honors usually went to infielders Bobby Hartman, Lyle Krall or Charlie Shaw. Larry Thomas was the club's pinch-hitting specialist and frequently came through with timely hits.

Tom Foley and Jim Passaro bore the brunt of the pitching chores and proved to be tough customers in the clutches.

Many of the first nine are seniors and next season Coach Ockershausen will be faced with the major task of knitting together another formidable squad.

TRACK AND FIELD

Recapturing the luster of previous years, the 1954 edition of the track team sported one of the best squads in recent years. Coach Howard DeNike again had his proteges in excellent condition for some rugged opposition.

A strong West Chester contingent dumped the Warriors, 74-52, but shortly afterwards the ESSTC cindermen began to feel their stride. On April 23 in the Penn Relays at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, the DeNikemen annexed third place in the STC one-mile relay event. Less than a week later the University of Scranton felt the Warriors' tomahawk by a 74-72 score.

This victory appeared to ignite the fuse as the rampaging Red and Black got stronger as the season progressed, hanging up successive triumphs over Farleigh Dickinson, Montclair and Trenton.

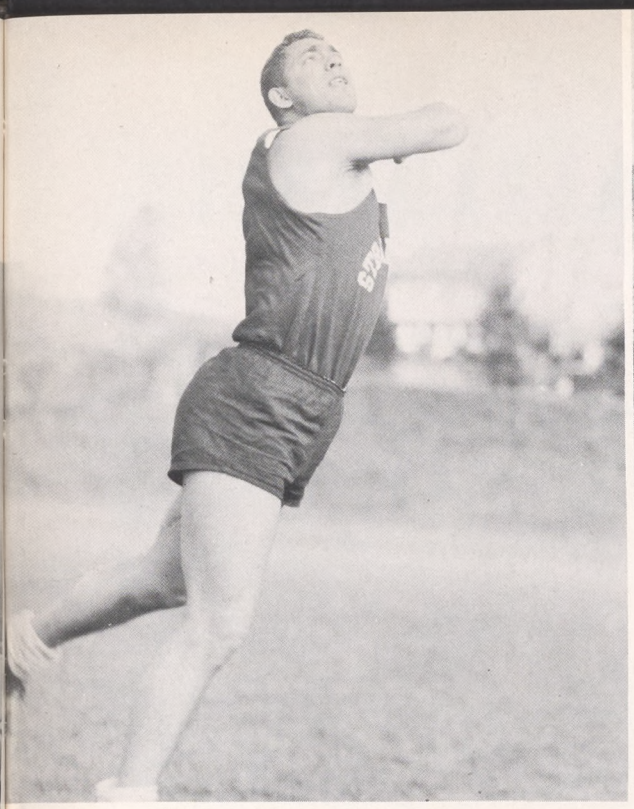

Veterans John Parks, Bob Brown, Ken Cox, and Dick Ashner, and bright newcomers, Frank Warren and Gary Panovec consistently spearheaded the ESSTC assault.

John Parks, the Warriors' ace hurdler, is shown above leaping in front of the others to go on and win this event in the Scranton meet.

Karl Mahle on the foul line. But Warren Hoeffner doesn't like the call.

The Intramural Program at East Stroudsburg STC is organized and directed by instructors in the Health and Physical Education Department and is accepted with great enthusiasm by its participants. Including major and minor sports, the program reaches many students not engaged in varsity athletics who otherwise might not enjoy the spirit of athletic competition.

Among the more recent additions to its expanding activities are men's and women's tennis and women's field hockey. But the perennial favorite, from the spectator's standpoint, is the men's spring softball league. Interest runs high as the various teams pair off in their after dinner slugfests. One of the strongest rivalries on campus is also unveiled at this time when Monroe and Shawnee Dormitories oppose each other in their annual series.

Carrying on with its purpose of developing competitive spirit, the program bestows some sort of recognition to the champion of each league.

The girls' softball league had its' share of sluggers, too.

SPEAKERS LAUD CLASS OF '55

Jr. Class Presents "April in Paris"; Coronation to Highlight Dance

The music and enchantment of old Paris, with all its traditional landmarks, will mark the theme of the most eagerly awaited social event of the year—the junior class prom. The affair, which this year will be known as "April in Paris", will be held Saturday night beginning at 9 o'clock in the college gymnasium.

An Arch of Triumph will deck the entrance while a typical Paris street scene will flank one side of the gymnasium and a river site the other. To complete the setting of gay Paree, French waiters and waitresses will serve the guests.

Popular Matt Gillespie and his orchestra from Allentown will furnish the music.

Highlight of the semi-formal function will be the annual selection and coronation of the queen. Choice is to be made on the basis of beauty, character and poise. The crowning of "Her Majesty" will be done by Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of the college, while Robert Hartman, president of the junior class, will present the queen with an inscribed scroll.

William Sibley is general chairman of the affair, and Louise Dunkelberger is assistant general chairman. Richard Smith has been selected to serve as Master of Ceremonies. Miss Charlotte Ayers is junior class adviser.

A list of the committees is as follows: program, Robert Edwards, chairman; Richard Smith, Fred Browne, Terry Wash, Elinor Edwards, Peggy Errico and Elvira Deliman; decorations, Mary Catino, chairman, Patricia Cottrell, Kathleen Lucious, Laura Scargle, Ann Breden, Helen Hellmers, Stanley Gross, Robert Perry, John Blacheck and Richard Ashner.

Wesley Jorden is chairman of the ticket committee. His committee is as follows: Sue Finnegan, Janet Dicks, Paul Ruane, Robert Shields, Larry Kiick, Jerry Fritz, Robert Fable and Pauline Bakl-

Stroud Yearbook Being Prepared By Staff Members

ESSTC's 1955 yearbook, The Stroud is in the process of preparation by senior class members for its unveiling early in May.

The Stroud staff, under the advisership of Dr. Ruth B. Kistler, held its opening meeting in Oakes Hall recently to decide several important issues confronting the group in the production of the annual.

Michael P. Soltys, editor-in-chief, announced that seniors are now having their formal portraits taken and most of the preliminary features for the book have already been completed.

Will Have New Features

Soltys also stated that when the yearbook is released it is expected to contain many new features not presented in any previous Stroud. Since students in each class will be expected to have their pictures taken with their respective class and various club organizations, Soltys urges each student to cooperate fully when called upon for scheduled photographs.

Richard Smith, The Stroud's business manager, stated that the yearbook is now being offered for purchase. Any student who desires to buy a 1955 Stroud should leave a two dollar deposit with any member of the yearbook sales staff. Students are urged to place orders as soon as possible.

Student Senate Approves Budget

Members of the Senate budget committee, headed by Janet Dicks have approved the following budget for the eight councils for the next college year.
