THEY REPRESENT THE

DR. EDNA L. ROSENKRANS

FINE IDEALS OF OUR COLLEGE

IT IS VERY rare indeed that a group of neophyte teachers can boast of tutelage under such incomparable leadership as that which we enjoyed in our long and cherished association with Dr. Edna L. Rosenkrans and Miss Ida M. Bennett. Their retirement has not only left a gap in the forces of educational advancement but it has also deprived us of a friendship and sincere understanding which can never be wholly replaced.

With this lasting thought in mind, and as a tribute to the fine idealistic principles which they have always symbolized, we of The 1948 Stroud hereby honor Dr. Edna L. Rosenkrans and Miss Ida M. Bennett for their outstanding service. This and their invaluable contributions, we are confident, will remain perennial incentives to the future teachers of ESSTC.

IDA M. BENNETT

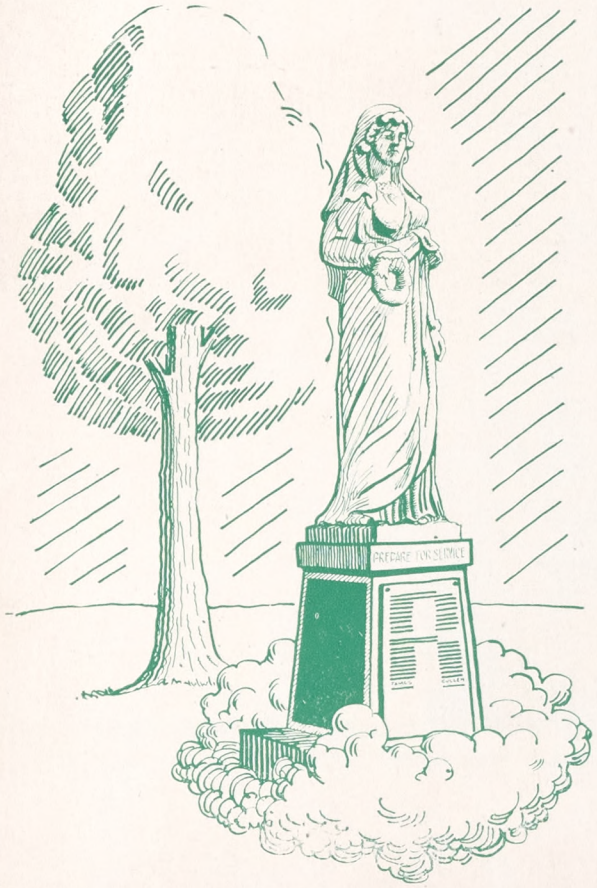

AND SERVE

DR. EDNA L. ROSENKRANS was graduated from ESSTC and certified to teach at the unprecedented age of fifteen, thereby establishing a record which has defied emulation to this date.

Following graduation from ESSTC she studied at Blair Academy before matriculating at Smith College for an A.B. degree. Later, while teaching at ESSTC, she received her Master's degree at Columbia and her Doctor of Philosophy at New York University.

Her ability to win degrees and honors in the fields of English and Literature is paralleled only by her innate faculty for winning the confidence and friendship of her countless students.

AS INSPIRATION TO US

MISS IDA M. BENNETT, a native-born daughter of Shawnee-On-The-Delaware, is one of six graduates of ESSTC who bore the fine, old family name of Bennett. Her training in the field of elementary education includes graduation from the City Training School, Lowell, Massachusetts, and B.S. and A.M. degrees from Columbia University.

Miss Bennett's experience and fame in the elementary field are almost national in scope. She taught in Lowell, Massachusetts, was on the staff of the elementary division at Columbia University, and served as supervisor of elementary education at the State Teachers Colleges of Warrensburg, Mississippi, Trenton, New Jersey and East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

AS FRESHMEN . . . WE

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
Office of the President
East Stroudsburg, Pa.

To The Class of 1948:

Again the close of another year has come. Once more, a class of young men and women is ready to begin the serious business of building careers.

Never before has the range of opportunity been more varied or extensive. Not only are all vocations and professions of the past in dire need of competent personnel, but new fields in all kinds of human endeavor are constantly opening. Well-trained college graduates are always in demand.

You have been a fine group of desirable students. Your attitude toward college life and one another has been wholesome and constructive. The faculty has learned to regard you with esteem and affection.

When you leave college for the practical world of reality, it is my own feeling that the institution will be ably represented and that you will acquit yourselves creditably under any conditions that may develop.

Our best and kindest wishes go with you upon graduation.

A warm welcome awaits you when you return periodically from time to time to tell us about your success in achieving the purposes you have in mind.

Very cordially,

Joseph F. Noonan

WHOSE WORDS OF WISDOM

DEAN RUTH L. JONES

Miss Jones' complaisant manner and gracious smile welcome women students to our college family. We gratefully acknowledge her genuine desire and her sincere willingness to help and please everyone. Each event on the Social Council's calendar proves an enjoyable and successful one because of her efficient, conscientious guidance. Maintaining high standards of dormitory life, Miss Jones has successfully built a happy and cooperative group of women students.

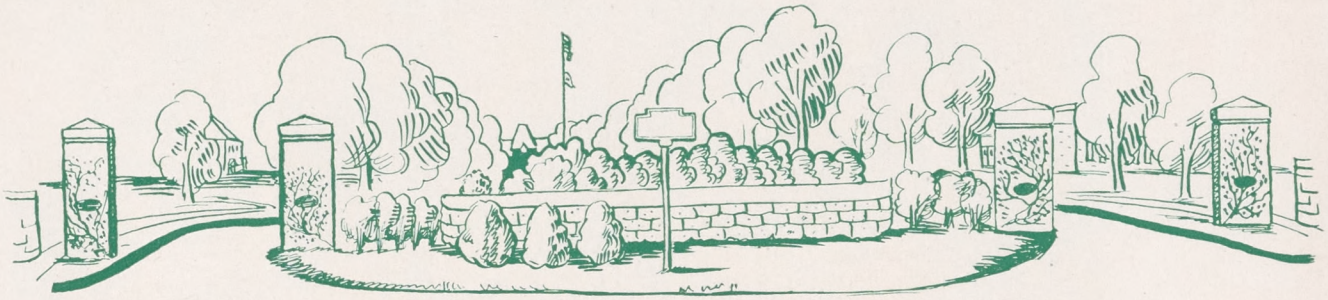

DR. CHARLES J. NAEGLE

An almost legendary smile, a warm hello, and an ever-present faculty for understanding characterize Dr. Naegle, our competent Dean of Instruction. Well known to each student is his patient and unlimited aid in adjusting our class schedules, filing our records, and authenticating absences. Dr. Naegle's accommodating manner, quiet humor, efficient business-like attitude and rare insight into human nature and values make him a valuable asset to our campus.

DEAN EUGENE H. MARTIN

Mr. Martin, as Dean of Men, is an integral part of college life, especially to all men students. Constantly confronted with diverse problems, he is always available to sympathize with the men he advises. In all that he does as mentor of the Freshman Class and as efficient coach of various athletic teams, we have found in Mr. Martin a genuine friend and a willing and capable adviser.

A NEW EXPERIENCE

"I am a lowly old freshman.
All freshmen are lowly and old,
But I am the lowliest, moldiest, and oldest of all freshmen.
Oh that I were a sophomore!
Honorable, distinguished, and brilliant, like all sophomores
Oh cruel, cruel fate that I was born a year too late!
Oh, cruel, cruel, cruel fate, that I am just a lowly freshman!!"

OAKES HALL

THE NEW DORM

. . . DORMITORY LIFE

Green arm bands, pajama parades, and "Julia's" annual bath: this was our introduction to ESSTC. Our first few weeks here were eventful and, at times, bewildering ones. Through various get-acquainted activities such as the annual Fall Reception, upper classmen, freshmen, and faculty became acquainted with each other.

It wasn't long before we knew which road led to "Rosie's" and what a Blitz number 8 was. We elected Tony Romano our class president, and, led by him, we soon found ourselves, amid the madness of campus activities. "Turkey Day" was here before we knew what happened, and soon we were swirling in a week of Christmas festivities, highlighted by the tree-lighting ceremony, the banquet, and the Christmas Dance. After a long vacation we had our first taste of "exam blues".

Second semester brought forth interest in dramatics as we witnessed "Brother Rat", which was cast largely from the freshman class. We were also strongly represented on the basketball team which was re-established after a year's lapse. Another chance to show our ingenuity came in February when we sponsored the "Valentine Dance."

Returning for our sophomore year, distinctive as always, we went right to work winning places for ourselves as members of the Senate, councils, and varsity teams. Freshman women had just become comfortably settled in Shawnee Lodge, when we learned that the men were returning at "semesters", and "en masse." It was quite a sight to see the women evacuate the building, literally overnight, and to see Stroud Hall fairly bulge with its newly-acquired inhabitants.

"Tom's" opened to help accommodate the crowd, and we soon began to make friends with the veterans, many of whom had, after all, known ESSTC when we were but high school teen-agers. The men made a change in the picture of campus life.

Came the fall of '46 and our population still increased, but now we were getting used to large numbers. The dining room, once only one quarter full, was now "humming" with activity, and every available class room was utilized as an outlet for our "crying masses".

SHAWNEE LODGE

THE BEST YEARS

A few episodes, such as the "sink tragedy" which flooded Stroud Hall, added humor to our junior year. By spring, sports, formals, in fact all activities were completely back to normal. The men, many of whom had known each other well at ESSTC, were beginning to take the lead in campus activities, which the girls, saddled with those responsibilities for three years, gratefully surrendered. Spring fever exerted her age-old grip but not enough to prevent the "Spring Carousel" from being a huge success.

Meanwhile life in the dormitories was as unpredictable as ever. There were fire-drills to rout us out of showers, warm beds, and other inopportune situations, and the telephone rang all day and all night. It seemed to us that our life revolved around bells and alarms, as we woke up to their tune and ran around all day trying to keep up with them.

There were people to serenade us with accordion music. Hagen took care of the male requests and Kramer and Albert satisfied the women's desires. Of course there were many "shower tenors and coloraturas". This was the ideal place to give oral vent to diverse moods. Times were when we thought some people were feeling "powerfully" low — by the morbid sounds they emitted.

The only nights the "10 of 10" Club failed to meet at the scheduled time were Saturdays, and then the sessions assembled at 11:20. With increased enrollment and with Cupid working overtime, the membership soared to rival that of any other organization on campus.

Of lesser importance, but still significant, were the "Breakfast Clubbers", who were fewer in number, but whose faith in attendance could not be surpassed and the "Supper Club" which met in two sections. The first section consisted of those who took advantage of being allowed to entertain in the Reception Room, and the second, of those who walked a flight to the Smoker where the air was always thick, but always filled with joy and contentment. This seemed to be the time of day when even the busiest person took off a few moments for relaxation.

Our thirsts were finally recognized as the drinking fountains were fixed in Shawnee, and the women wore a path to the newly acquired "coke" machine. The New Men's Dorm had to be satisfied with a coat of paint for its walls, while its gallant occupants still carried their collapsable cups with them at all times.

WAYNE GYM

OF OUR LIVES

Diligently at work, the newly-formed Women's Recreation Association planned scores of worthwhile activities, and in time they began to include benefits for men as well. These programs, Wednesday night dances, plays, basketball games, and wrestling matches were only a few of the activities which kept us running, not only to see them, but to keep up with our classes and homework as well, which, believe it or not, were our primary reason for coming here.

A great many veterans, eager to catch up, crowded summer sessions and spent their "would-be" vacations diligently at work. For the rest of us, summer vacation over, we began to wend our way back to school, many of us tanned from jobs at camps and shore resorts, hardly believing that this was our last year to undergo the confusion of registration. Still we thought we were fairly used to it by then and hardly expected any more changes to become acclimated to. . . . After all, we were seniors!!

What a shock to find ourselves seniors, who by this time know everyone, only a minority among the more than 900 students now enrolled. New faces predominated, and the great question seemed to be, "Where are they all rooming?" We found our answer in the private rooms all over the Stroudsburgs and in the Fenner Hotel. Many of the students were living in the "Belleview Inn" at the Delaware Water Gap. This group was transported to and from campus at appropriate times in a bus nicknamed the "Blue Beetle".

These new faces began making new contributions as we witnessed also the return of true school spirit. The "Funeral Cortege" and the parade for the Panzer Game were only a few examples of how our athletes were cheered on to victory.

Things began to shape up slowly. Faculty were added, a new infirmary built, library facilities enlarged, and new clubs formed while others were reorganized. Student teachers, scattered for many miles around, still managed to meet and try to discover the identity of "Harry the Horse". In both men and women's dorms, renovations took place, and the college featured in a radio broadcast over Stroudsburg's newly-acquired station WHAB.

AUDITORIUM

Yes, ESSTC was changing all right, and we Seniors were not to be outdone with our "bang-up" affair at a prominent Pocono Mountain resort. Several of our class members were elected to "Who's Who Among Students of American Colleges and Universities", and leads for jobs were flowing in fast. Commencement announcements were ordered as our grand finale approached.

Spring again, and now, as these four years flash before our minds, we are about to stroll the pathway of maples and be graduated. Each step toward that goal is marked by some memory which we all as classmates helped to build. Some of us have been together for four years. Many started out in other classes and returned to graduate in the class of '48. Ahead of us lies, we know not what, but wherever our lives may lead, whatever we may be doing in the future, ESSTC will remain a myriad of happy memories, great and small, important and insignificant, to return to us in unguarded moments and to remind us of the four happiest years of our lives.

STUDENT SENATE

Seated: B. Schneiderman, J. Levan, Mr. J. May, Dr. C. Naegle, J. Anthony, Mr. L. Koehler, R. Mendez, A. Reber. Standing: J. Hinchliffe, C. Musto, F. Rossi, R. Klenk, R. Eckhart, M. Horon, E. Naegle, C. Faulkner.

The Constitution of the Congress of the State Teachers College of East Stroudsburg states that the Congress shall consist of an assembly and a senate. The assembly consists of all members of the faculty and the student body. The senate consists of three members of the faculty, appointed by the President of the college, a president, and two women and two men from each of the four college classes.

The Student Senate is the most important organization on campus. On it rests the responsibility for assisting in the betterment of the student body and organizations. It allocates money to the councils; it supervises and conducts elections; it reviews the minutes and audits the books of all student organizations; it authorizes student and facutly representation at conferences; it regulates all college activities.

Not only is the Student Senate active on the ESSTC campus. It participates in conferences with other colleges. At the Millersville State Teachers College, a conference was held in which types of student governments of many colleges were presented and discussed. In March representatives attended the annual spring conference of the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers.

James T. Anthony was elected by the student body as president of the Student Senate. Mr. Anthony returned to ESSTC in January, 1946, after his discharge from the Army. His remarkable leadership and initiative were put to work when he was elected president of the junior class. Conscientious and hard-working, he fulfills his many obligations and duties diligently and industriously. A well-rounded individual, he is also president of the P. T. A. and a member of Sigma Zeta, National Science Fraternity.

EXECUTIVE COUNCILS

MEN'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL
Seated—R. Kosch, E. Vogelsong, E. Carazo, M. Kawalchik, R. Matthews. Standing—G. Snyder, Mr. E. Martin, P. Evans.

With an ever-increasing number of men students returning to the ESSTC campus, the Men's Executive Council is again taking a very active part in student government.

The main purpose of the council is to serve as a governing body. In keeping with this objective, the council enacts its own laws and regulations.

At present the council consists of representatives from each class and the president of the Men's Day-Student organization. The council has successfully cooperated with the administration in matters that affect the men, and under Mr. Martin's adviserships the Executive Council has been worthy of its name and purpose.

During the past year the council has, aside from its disciplinary functions, inaugurated many activities for student enjoyment. Among these are the Annual Christmas Dance and the fall pep rallies.

WOMEN'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Women's Executive Council, with members elected from both dormitory and day-student groups, attempts to maintain an orderly community life by increasing the sense of individual responsibility and by encouraging whole-hearted cooperation in the task of self-government. To accomplish this, a full year round program is planned to include every woman student in college.

Many varied get-togethers are presented each year. The annual Hallowe'en party, which always proves successful, is an ideal time for the students and faculty to become acquainted. Other social events under the council's supervision, which prove popular among the women students, include: the Chocolate Fest, the annual spring party, and the various class teas.

PUBLICATIONS COUNCIL

D. Herd, R. Fritz, Mr. P. Crawn, J. Sturzenegger, J. Smith, G. Ashner, Dr. W. Terrill, R. Thomas.

The Publications Council is one of the most important organizations on our campus. This council is responsible directly or indirectly for all material relating to publications on the campus.

The student handbook, an indispensable item for all students, especially the freshmen, is compiled and published directly by the members of the council. Every year changes are made to improve the quality of the book.

The yearly publication of the senior class yearbook is approved by the council. Their activities are chiefly of an advisory nature. The editor-in-chief and the business manager, who are elected by members of the senior class, must be approved by this council, as must the other members of the staff.

The Stroud Courier is also supervised by the Publications Council. Although the courier staff looks after all details concerning the preparation of copy and publication of the college paper, the council guides the policy of the Courier by obtaining bids and approving contracts.

Each year the Publication Council makes arrangements for our representation at the annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference held in New York City. Delegates are sent from the staffs of the Stroud Courier and the Stroud Yearbook. This conference provides an excellent opportunity to compare our publications and to enrich our own work through this enlightening experience.

The Council has greatly improved in recent years by strict publications selection and screening of staff executives and staffs.

It was through the persistence of the Publications Council that a camera was secured for campus publications. This camera should prove a definite asset to the Stroud Courier and the Stroud Year Book.

The council consists of two members from the senior class, the editor of the Stroud Courier, and of one member from each of the junior, sophomore and freshmen classes.

Dr. Edward T. Terrill and Mr. Paul M. Crawn are advisers of this council.

STROUD COURIER

Seated—J. Smith, J. Weiner, D. Herd, H. Reese, B. Tachovsky, A. De Sevo, R. Gantert. Standing—R. Stryzalka, M. Matoushek, V. Lauer, C. Nolan, C. Rogers, B. Mervine, J. Perna, F. Steiner, R. Held, E. Reed, J. Henchliffe, J. Cullen, A. Kintner. Row II— Mr. P. Crawn, A. Kolonauski, L. Popham C. Schell, W. Denton, M. Earnest. Row III—E. Woodling, A. Kropinicki, J. Foulkes, J. Moyer, R. Denchy, M. Sprague, M. Moore.

New talent looms on ESSTC journalistic horizon. STROUD COURIER promises to climb to even greater future successes as new writing abilities are uncovered. Addition of many new features highlight college paper such as Modes A La Femme. Propwash, Rhyme Corner, and Around the Campfire.

Cup reporters display enthusiasm in covering assignments, copyreading, and routine probation duties. Sporting events and scholastic activities receive embellishments. Addition to curriculum of a basic course in journalism arouses general student interest in the paper.

A newly formed pin and key committee lends professional atmosphere to Stroud Courier. Award of pin or key is restricted to those members of the staff having contributed outstanding work in the field of college publications. The organization of paper features latest trends in the development of journalism. Photography is of the highest grade with student activity the focal point of attention. Campus Comments provide the sounding board for broadcasting student opinion on all issues of campus life.

The Stroud Courier won first place award among college papers last year in Columbia Scholastic Press Association competition. Each year student representatives attend the annual Scholastic Press Conference at Columbia University. The Annual banquet held at Indian Queen Hotel culminates Stroud Courier activity for school year. Pulitzer Prize Winner, Stanley Olds, of the Scranton Tribune, has been voted honorary membership. Their editorial policy, under supervision of Mr. Paul M. Crawn, stresses efficiency and high standards of literary writing.

We of the 1948 Stroud Staff have endeavored to create a book that is somewhat different without defying good taste. In keeping with this purpose, we have attempted to make the Stroud more truly representative of life at college by featuring photography rather than the printed word.

Every year has seen a different group filling the various Staff positions, but in no one year has a crowd of such unusual stamina, such courage, such health, such—well, such eagerness for getting a job accomplished, been gathered together on one staff.

In the past, the Strouds have been good, but the present edition,—and modesty's out, literally exudes the fire and punch which have been necessary factors in the final presentation of this edition.

Whether the purpose and aims of this edition have been realized, it remains for the reader, the ultimate judge, to say, and it is to him, not to the literary critic or artist, that our 1948 Stroud has been directed.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Sitting—Dr. Mattson, X. Kuharsky, H. Buschmann, J. Anthony, E. Vogelsong, D. Mack, Mr. Foltz. Standing—R. Fritz, D. Dawe.

Future Teachers of America grew out of the Horace Mann Centennial in 1937 and is a project of local, state, and national education associations. Its field is the million or more young men and women in high schools and colleges who are considering teaching as a career. FTA chapters in colleges and universities are training schools in professional and civic relationships for the preparation of leaders. FTA chapter members are junior members of state and national associations. Future Teachers is a glorious name. It is composed of three ideas. The future belongs to the youth and is full of hope, opportunity, and promise for those who prepare themselves for it. Teachers are builders of civilization. Next to the mother who passes on the unending stream of life comes the teacher who preserves, enriches, and transmits the ideals and purposes of the race. America is peculiarly the home of the future and of the teacher. Last year a group of nine juniors (three representing each curriculum) was selected by Dr. Noonan and the faculty, for the purpose of organizing an FTA chapter here on the campus. The members of this committee were: Elementary: Doris Mack, Helen Buschmann, Dorothy Dawe. Secondary: James Anthony, Ellen O'Hare, Joseph Skellchock, and Rachel Fritz who replaced Skellchock. Health Education: Xenia Kuharsky, Edward Vogelsong, Joseph Wilson. The committee proceeded to set up a constitution for the chapter and arrange a tentative program for this years meetings. The committee then selected Thaddeus Stevens as the outstanding Pennsylvania educator after whom the chapter would be named. Officers elected by the committee were:

President ..... James Anthony
Vice President ..... Edward Vogelsong
Secretary ..... Helen Buschmann
Treasurer ..... Xenia Kuharsky
Parliamentarian ..... Ellen O'Hare
Historian ..... Dorothy Dawe
Publicity ..... Rachel Fritz
Librarian ..... Doris Mack
Membership ..... Joseph Wilson

The faculty sponsors last year were Mr. I. W. Foltz and Miss Ida Bennett. The vacancy left by Miss Bennett was filled by Dr. E. Matson.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Student Christian Association which is a member of the National Intercollegiate Christian Council, has about the largest membership of all campus organizations. It welcomes to membership all men and women students who desire to better the world through Christian living.

Its bi-monthly meetings are the only spiritual services held on campus. At these meetings students as well as invited guests take part. The group holds several annual events which are bright spots on the college calendar. It sponsors World Service Fund Day, a day devoted to collecting funds for needy foreign students. At Christmas time if conducts the impressive tree-lighting ceremony and the traditional Christmas caroling.

This year the organization has been privileged in having Dr. O. W. Warmingham, known also by his pen name of Kodaya, as a special adviser. His ideas have contributed much and his desire to see the SCA grow in importance has inspired the members in many constructive ways. The regular advisers, Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Warren, have again given stimulating leadership, which has been of the greatest importance to the organization.

The past year also saw the first constitution of the group into effect. Now that the entire world realizes the importance of peace and of understanding of Christian ideals, the SCA should continue along its well-marked trail of bringing Christian teachings onto our campus.

A new system has been instituted in the SCA. There are co-officers for each of the four major positions: J. Moll, R. Eckhart—Co-presidents; D. Quier, R. Gantert—Co-Vice-Presidents; A. Bloom, B. Tohkanen—Co-Secretaries; J. Armstrong, F. Smith—Co- Treasurers.

Row I—Longenecker, Miller, Torres, Quier, Morgantini, Soper, Featro, Smith. Row II—Schaffer, Florey, Springer, Siegfried, Moll, Forester, Greaser, Mendez, Tohkanen, Stitzer, Stark, Virgilio. Row III—Gebler, Veley, Berger, Kuharsky, Henry, Werner, Gernannt, Weber, Scapellati, James, May, Gearhart, Petty, Bloom. Row IV— Eckhart, Frankenfield, Miller, Stengel, Dziak, Hess, Rader, Spangler, Kropinicki. Row V—H. Goodwin, Etcho, Richards, Williams, Hoening, Prater, Jenkins, Bartlett. Row VI—Zelinsky, Besivitch, Wetherald, French, Marrington, Dr. Warren, Popham, Comunale, Gantert, Everett.

WE RAISE OUR SPIRITUAL SELVES

"And God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it . . ." Genisis 2:3.

When the Sabbath comes to ESSTC, one may find numerous students on the way to worship their God.

College members are invited to join various groups and classes within the church organizations. Many collegia have taken advantage of these offers to find the refuge they desire in the house of God.

"If the roots are holy, so also are branches and the leaves for the healing of nations." Such interest in a world which has lost the sense of sin shines as a beacon of hope to a God-needy and morally-shaken humanity.

QUEEN

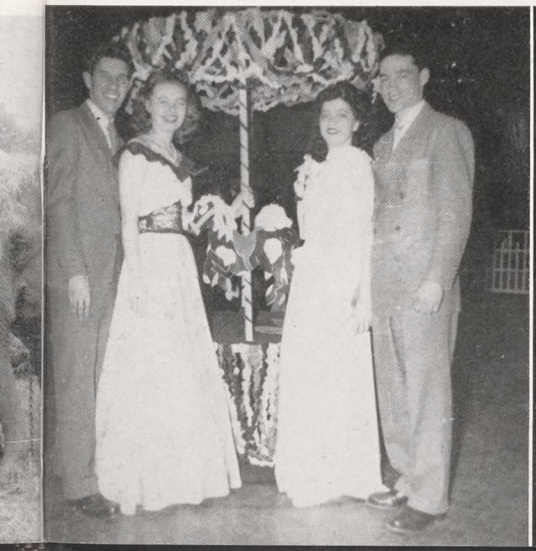

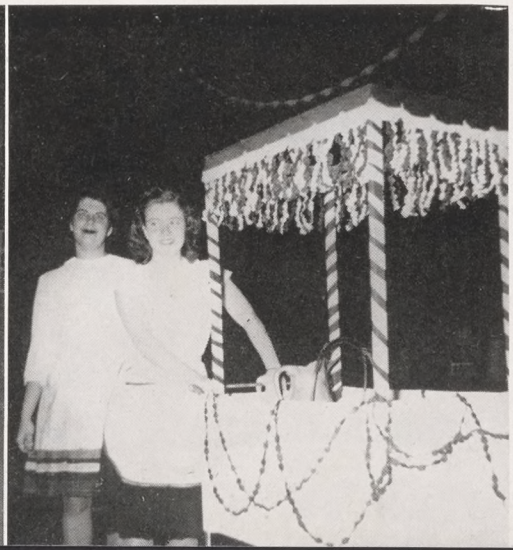

CAROUSEL

In spring an ESSTC girl's heart fondly turns to thoughts of——the Junior Prom, "Spring Carousel." Each year the prom queen and her court hold sway over the traditional revelry. Dr. Noonan conferred upon Eleanor Sulyk the coveted crown of flowers. Her attendants were Gene Egli, Janet Thompson, and Jean Perna —fitting complement indeed to the gay atmosphere of the Spring festivity. This Carousel court of honor was selected by a committee of faculty members.

PIGSKIN

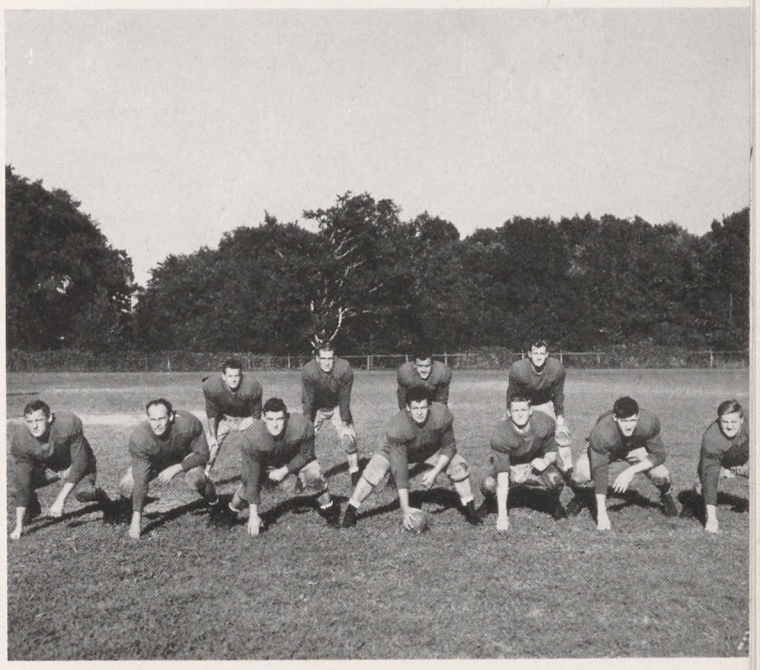

As Shakespeare might have put it, "T'aint what you do, it's the way you do it." Although the 1947 varsity football team could do no better than break even in its six-game schedule, a much less impressive record than those racked up by previous Martin teams, the Warrior gridders deserve a heap of credit for their up-hill fight against Old Man Injury, Jinx and the other tough breaks which they ran into last season.

When the squad reported for practice in September, everybody "in the know" was sure that it was headed for one of its most successful seasons in years. In addition to the returning lettermen, and a gang of reserves from last year's team, a group of promising Freshmen and Sophomores answered "present" on the first day of practice.

STROUDSBURG 19 — PANZER 0

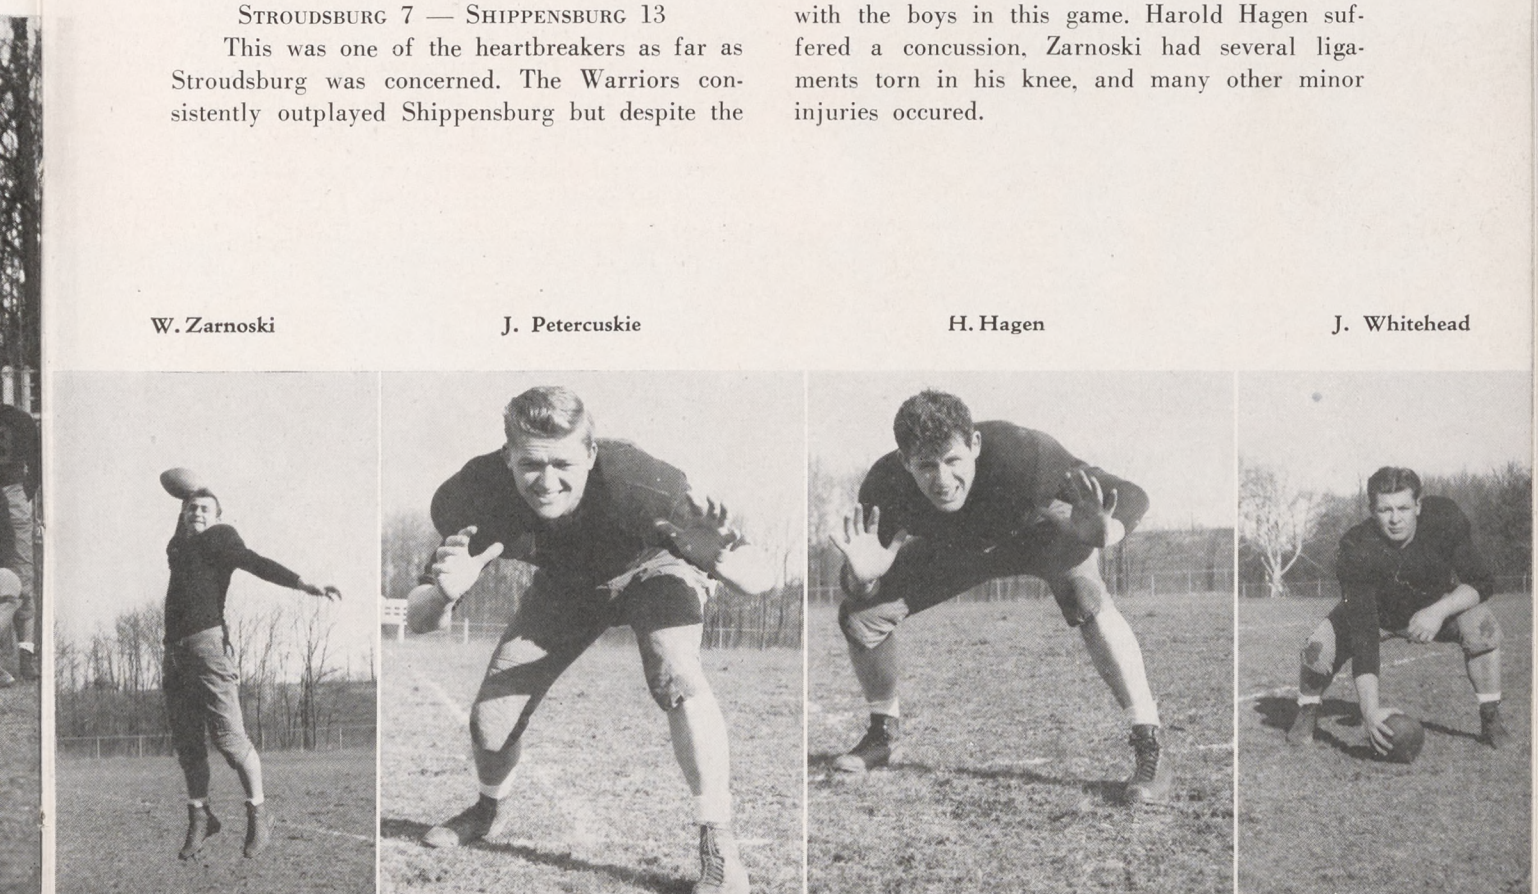

This game was played under the lights at Giffel's Field. In a manner which so indicated that Coach Eugene Martin's would be a threat to all opponents, the Warriors pushed up and down the field, scoring three touchdowns and one extra point, while Panzer tried desperately to halt the numerous advances.

The Warriors set up their first score early in the first quarter taking a Panzer punt on their own 28 yard line and marching downfield with three backs, with Rockovitch, Zarnoski, and Szela ripping off long gains. Zarnoski scored in the first period campaign and again in the second period. Szela carried the leather across the enemy goal in the fourth period. Rockovitch didn't score in the game but proved to be an important cog in the victory.

STROUDSBURG 7 — SHIPPENSBURG 13

This was one of the heartbreakers as far as Stroudsburg was concerned. The Warriors consistently outplayed Shippensburg but despite the fact that the Warriors were inside the "Ships" 20 yard line several times, they could manage to push the ball over but once. This time Zarnoski carried the ball to the 3 and Rockovitch skirted end for the score. Old Man Injury caught up with the boys in this game. Harold Hagen suffered a concussion, Zarnoski had several ligaments torn in his knee, and many other minor injuries occured.

WARRIORS

STROUDSBURG 21 — CORTLAND 0

Coupling an air tight pass defense with an unstoppable ground offensive, the Warriors grid machine ran over previously undefeated Cortland State Teachers. With the second stanza being only a couple of minutes old, Petercuskie jumped on a Cortland fumble on the New Yorkers' 39 yard stripe. From this point Swartz, Tomassetti, Drigan and Szela alternated carrying the pigskin, with Tomassetti going over from the one yard stripe, on a straight line buck. Again in the third quarter, Petercuskie tossed a Cortland halfback behind the line of scrimmage before he could get off a punt. Fetterman, who replaced the injured Zarnoski, plunged through the middle to score. The third score came in the fourth period when Ted Szela passed to Drigan in the end zone. The conversions after touchdowns were made by Jack Whitehead.

STROUDSBURG 0 — WEST CHESTER 6

Although the Warriors came out on the losing end, ESSTC gained a moral victory over West Chester. There was some discussion on the lone touchdown of the game, but the officials are right, not the players or spectators. Football coach Gene Martin and his gridders can now take a bow after what Glenn Killinger, West Chester STC mentor had to say concerning the Warrior eleven. Mr. Killinger said, "The East'burg games last season and this year which we won 13-7 and 6-0 were the toughest battles of our 14 game winning streak. We had more trouble at East Stroudsburg this year than in any other game in our streak."

STROUDSBURG 12 — BLOOMSBURG 13

Despite a 12-0 lead at the half, a valiantly fighting East Stroudsburg eleven succumbed to the superior strength of Bloomsburg State Teachers and went down to a 13-12 defeat. A powerful second-half drive and the breaks of the game enabled the Bloomsburg Huskies to add another victory to their 1947 season. All through the first half, play was dominated by the Warriors, but vice-versa in the second half. The Huskies held the Warriors from paydirt by a series of valiant goal line stands.

IN ACTION

A blocked punt by Petercuskie and a recovery in the end zone by Ritinski gave the Warriors the first score. Zarnoski plunged over for the second score.

STROUDSBURG 42 — CCNY 6

Duplicating last year's triumph over the New Yorkers, the Warriors rolled to an easy victory over CCNY. Stroudsburg was just too good; a gang of hard-driving and elusive backs virtually tore the CCNY line to shreds, and the visitors were scored upon almost at will. The home fans thrill came when Petercuskie called for Jackie Swartz to carry the mail. Came the kickoff on the 20 and off went Jackie for 80 yards to paydirt in one of the finest brokenfield runs ever turned in by an Eastburg gridder.

Coach Martin was ably assisted by J. Frank Grimm and George Ockerhausen. Next year, the Warriors have the return of Mansfield to the schedule and two new additions, Millersville and Rider.

NO HANDS

The Fall of '47 boosted a soccer season full of almosts, not quites, and might have beens. The record of one victory, one tie, and five setbacks, is, however, not a fair standard by which to judge the '47 squad, for those lost were by close margins. Despite bad breaks, the team was capable of playing excellent soccer when in the groove. Of course there were reasons for headaches. The "Freshman Rule" undoubtedly took its toll in condition and morale.

ESSTC 4 — Lafayette 2

The season's opener was an indication of things to come. A potential undefeated season was in the making again, with Henne, Farrell and Daniels scoring for the victors.

West Chester 2 — ESSTC 1

Came our natural rivals, and also the sudden enforcement of the "Freshman Rule" which forced Betze and Rowe out of the lineup. Eager to make it two successive wins, the Warriors scored early in the first quarter only to have the Rams score two goals in the final quarter.

ESSTC 2 — Lock Haven 2

In a very rough ball game, played away, the Red and Black showed an early offensive spurt. However, on defense our boys suffered from a sudden "lapse of memory", enabling the Bald Eagles to score twice.

Row 3: R. French, J. Strunk, M. Kowalchick, W. Roberts, J. Putt, R. McCullough, W. Heffner, R. Stephens, C. Hoffman.

RIDER 3 — ESSTC 0

With the Rider crew displaying a powerful passing attack, our booters again met defeat. In defeat Stroudsburg played one of its best ball games of the season.

PANZER 3 — ESSTC 0

The Panzer game saw our team gain one scoring chance after another, which somehow failed to materialize as the Jerseyites converted on almost all scoring opportunities.

CORTLAND 6 — ESSTC 3

Eager to get back into the win column, the Warriors journeyed to New York to meet a highly regarded foe. The team fought gallantly in the initial half only to succumb to the offensive play of the "Big Red" in the closing half.

BLOOMSBURG 4 — ESSTC 3

The season ended with a Bloomsburg victory by a four to three count. After a poor beginning the Stroud eleven unleashed an offensive in the second half but to no avail as time elapsed before we could avert defeat.

GROUND

Teamwork and aggresiveness were determining factors which enabled the girls' hockey team to complete the best season on record since this game was inaugurated as a varsity sport on the ESSTC campus.

Since there were sufficient aspirants for the respective positions, a twenty-two girl varsity and a junior varsity were selected.

The initial contest on the Ursinus home ground ended in a 9-0 victory for the Bears. This game allowed Coach Genevieve Zimbar to arrange a line-up which proved difficult for any rival to penetrate during the remainder of the season.

Homecoming weekend saw the local lassies make a grand come-back when they defeated the highly-favored Rosemont eleven 2-0.

In the contest which followed, half time found Temple holding a 2-0 margin. However, the Zimbarettes held a strong aggregation scoreless in the second half, the first time in college history that Temple University was held scoreless in a half by an East Stroudsburg team.

Row I—L. Obendorfer, R. Kramer, N. Dresher, J. Moll, A. Reber, J. Weiner, J. Maiorana.

STICKS

Traveling to Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, the local eleven met what proved to be a stumbling-block when they bowed to Beaver College 4-3. The score was tied until the last few minutes of play when the opposition carried the ball down the field for a goal.

The Annual Middle Atlantic Inter-Collegiate Hockey Tournament at Bryn Mawr College saw girls of all the leading college teams in the Philadelphia area vying for positions on the all-star team.

In the morning session the local girls met three opponents. ESSTC held Temple to a 2-1 score. Coming back with more determination than ever, the girls turned in a 5-0 victory over Immaculata. The final contest of this session saw a strong Penn team held to only two goals while an offsides play was called on the one goal made by the Zimbarettes.

Ann Carey, left half back, and Joan Cole, the team's goal-keeper, were chosen as tryouts for the all-collegiate team. Several playing periods in the afternoon session was held before winners were finally determined. Joan Cole was named as substitute goalie for the second all-star collegiate team.

After several postponements because of "ole-man weather," the team finally journeyed to Philadelphia where they held Drexel to a 2-2 tie.

The season was climaxed, in the midst of snow flurries, with a decisive 6-0 victory over New York University. Up until half-time, the East Stroudsburg girls had accounted for only one goal. With the whistle which started the last half, the local team broke forth in a scoring spree which kept the visiting goal keeper busy as they put five more goals through the opposing up-rights. This was the only team from the New York area that the Zimbarettes encountered.

Aside from the tournament results, Coach Zimbar's girls turned in two victories, three defeats, and one tie.

The senior members of the varsity group were: N. Dresher, R. Kramer, J. Moll, A. Reber.

Whatever is said of the 1947-48 basketball season, no one will ever deny it was one of the most thrilling ever seen around these parts. We may be thinking about the heart-breakers which the Warriors lost by a close margin.

The season opened December 6 with a loss to Rider College by a score of 57-44. New Britain went down in defeat to the score of 44-41. Lafayette defeated the locals 44-30. Trenton was easily defeated by 51-41. Scranton was sent back home with a defeat of 47-42. Kutztown handed the locals a 39-35 set-back.

Jackie Schwartz is the smallest of the team. What he lacks in size he compensates for in speed. Frank Pozda, a frosh newcomer, seems to possess the ability to gather in the rebounds. Cy Bernoski also adds to the punch with his cord swishers. Wiliam Thomas, an ever capable man when it comes to setting up plays, is also a very dependable guard. Other players on the varsity are: McGovern, Mosier, Bombe, Broadt, Young, Manning, Ritinski, and Daniels.

We want to welcome to our campus the new cage coach, Ray Welsh, a very capable man. Keep your eyes on the basketball teams in the future.

THE MATMEN

It was a highly spirited team which represented ESSTC in the grunt and groan league this winter and which accounted for a very creditable season. Although this year had a few disappointments, it was a satisfaction to Coach Ockerhausen to see the Warrior matmen walk off with some decisive margins.

A barrage of bad luck deprived the Red and Black from a victory over Brooklyn College in the opening match for the locals, as the respective mat forces battled to a 16-16 deadlock.

One form of bad luck was the default of the 121 pound match, due to an injury which prevented George Breedy from representing the Red and Black forces. Starting with the 128 division, ESSTC captured 16 straight points.

Bob Hopkins was the only Stroudsburg man to score by a fall, when he threw W. Weinstein with a half nelson and crotch hold in the 155 pound class.

Later in the same week the ESSTC mat squad nudged out Lafayette—East Stroudsburg went into the final contest trailing by three points; but Reeder put Lafayette's Jim Harner down after 22 seconds of the final round, and his five points gave the home aggregation the higher point total.

Previous highlight of the matches held in the College gymnasium was Charlie Nesbitt's defeat of his opponent in the 128 pound class. He pinned Bill Figley of Lafayette after one minute and twenty-five seconds of the first round.

The Red and Black grapplers suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the brilliant wrestling aggregation representing Lock Haven STC. In this contest the ESSTC Club failed to score.

All in all, it was a bright season. The squad of G. Breedy, C. Nesbitt, S. Schoenberger, R. Davage, B. Hopkins, J. Cerra, D. Fleugal, P. Reeder and P. Urda were at times really sensational.

THE MERMEN

Swimming practice got its beginning late in the year of 1947, but early for the season of 1948. Soon after the last football and soccer games were recorded, enthusiasts new and old joined in the competition for positions on the team. Some joined the intra-mural meets of class teams. This rugged miniature of the real competition proved to be an excellent preliminary for the winter activities, for when the first meet was due, a host of better trained aspirants appeared before Coach Grimm.

The swimming team is a relatively new activity in ESSTC's Health Education program in comparison to other athletic organizations. Starting four years ago, the swimming team has grown in size and strength, and promises in the future to become one of the major athletic teams. When the squad reported for early season practice in November, everybody "in the know" was sure that it was headed for one of its most successful seasons in the team's history. In addition to returning lettermen, and a gang of reserves from last year's team, a group of promising new-comers were on hand for the early seasons workout.

The team had a tough schedule planned, adding Lafayette and Lycoming to this year's new list of teams. Coach Grimm had been drilling this group intensively. The usual procedure for a typical night's practice was calisthenics, including all types of body bending and twisting drills. After that followed many laps of swimming with some intervals to massage muscles. The climax of a night's work came with brushing up on starts, runs and some trials.

The swimming team, which is sponsored by the Health and Physical Education Club had home and away meets scheduled with Lycoming, Scranton, Lafayette, and Brooklyn Polytechnic. The season was launched at Lycoming on January 30.

The Mermen, encountering stiff competition, compiled an outstanding record for the season.

HOOP SKIRTS

Row I—Miss G. Zimbar, A. Reber, C. Reed, G. Gable, D. Mattes, J. Le Van. Row II—E. Schaffer, J. Weiner, M. Seager, J. Rhodes, A. Corson. Row III—M. Crouse, A. Houser, R. Cousins.

It is appropriate that The 1948 Stroud should acknowledge the college's indebtedness to Miss Genevieve Zimbar for her tireless efforts and boundless enthusiasm in developing girls basketball on our campus. This year represents the Silver Anniversary of her valued instruction as coach of the basketball team at ESSTC.

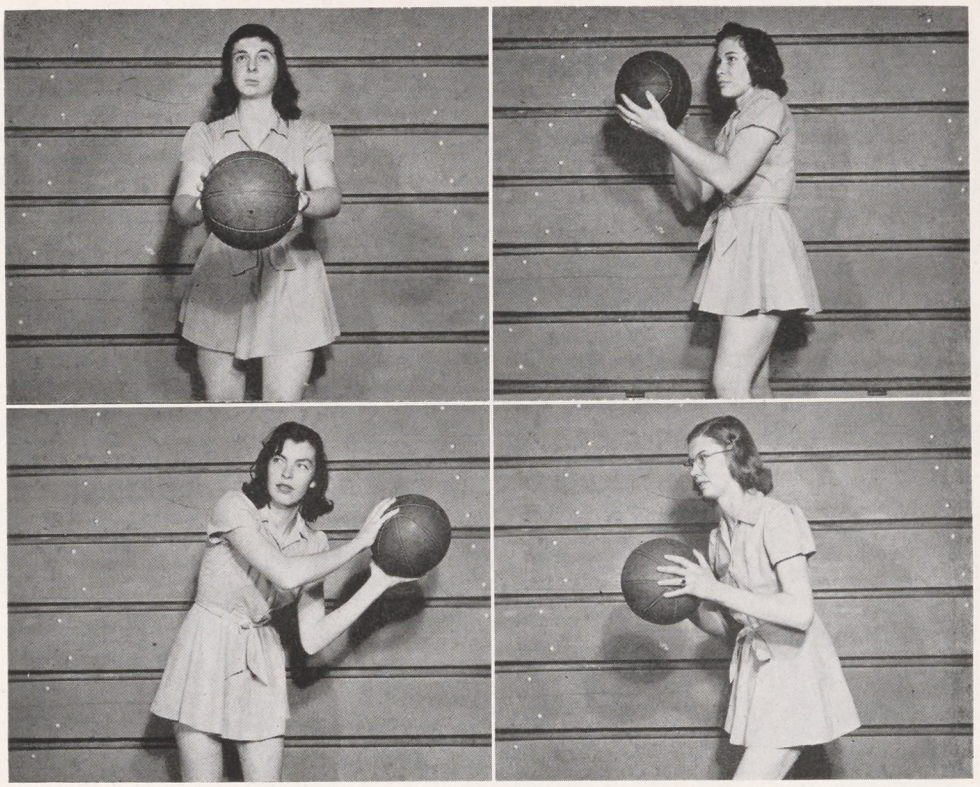

Miss Zimbar's career as a coach has been a distinguished one. In her twenty-five years of coaching, she has achieved a unique and enviable record in the field of women's athletics.

The Zimbarettes started the season with a bang when they gained a decided victory over the Rider College lassies 42-16. Crouse was high-scorer with 19 points. A return game with Rider brought forth another victory for the locals, 36-6. The forwards displayed speed and accuracy in passing and shooting, while the guards bottled up their opponents continuously.

The Zimbar machine suffered its first defeat when it fell victim to the Ursinus College lassies, 36-23. Ursinus held the advantage all the way, getting off to a 7-2 lead in the first quarter.

New York University was the next to suffer defeat at the hands of the ESSTC Belles, going down to a 50-31 setback. The Red and Black cage machine went out in front 7-2 at the completion of the first quarter and held a 19-12 advantage at the midway point. During the second half ESSTC did everything but sweep the floor with the opponents, gaining a 35-21 advantage at the three-quarter mark and in the final stanza outscoring the host, 15-10, gaining enough points to be declared the winner.

Immaculata, a strong opponent in all fields of competition this year, gave ESSTC its second loss of the season. Although we had the lead throughout most of the game, Immaculata came back strong in the final quarter and edged out the local basketeers by the close score of 42-39. Dot Mattes and Rita Cousins were the big guns for the losers, scoring 17 and 16 points respectively.

The team racked up its fourth win of the season, by downing Albright College, 53-24. Dorothy Mattes and Ardath Houser were high point producers for the winning sextet, with 16 and 11 markers respectively.

Hunter College proved to be a blocking force. The Hunter College cage aggregation, inspired for the contest, held the Red and Black cagers to a 42-42 deadlock. Hunter College, knew it was in for a whale of a battle when the Zimbar charges battled the New Yorkers to an 11-all deadlock, at the end of the initial period of action.

However, Hunter put on some pressure in the second quarter and held a four-point lead at half time. The third stanza was played on even terms, both finishing with 11 markers. ESSTC, seemingly saving its strength, broke out in a scoring rash in the final stanza with 12 markers to deadlock the final score.

Teamwork and finesse were the outstanding factors contributing to the success of the basketball team this season. In spite of a tough schedule, the team, coached by Miss G. Zimbar and captained by C. Reed and G. Gable, managed to complete an outstanding season.

GYMNASTICS

Annual Gym Exhibition

The third annual gymnastic exhibition was presented in the college gymnasium on March 26, 1947. Sponsored by the Health and Physical Education Club, and directed by Mr. Oscar J. Liljenstein, it was one of the most important events of the college year. Approximately four hundred students of the college physical education department took part in the program. A half-hour concert by the college band preceded the demonstration which featured members of the college varsity gymnastic team.

The following program was presented: free hand drill by the gym team; Irish lilt by the Junior class women; tumbling, gym team women; clown act on parallel bars, gym team; pyramid formations, Junior class men; "La Czarina", Junior class; group apparatus work by all college classes; games and relays, Freshman and Sophomore classes; Danish calesthenics, Junior class; Russian Dance, gym team; springboard and long horse drills, gym team; tap dance, gym team women; Marine Corps drill by college ex-Marines; Blue Danube Waltz, gym team and the Junior class; wand drill, gym team; and the Grand Finale including all participants.

The purpose of these exhibitions is to demonstrate to the public the little-known instructional phase of the physical education program.

The arrival of winter seemed to have a distinctly stimulating effect on the gym team, for the exponents of the mats, indian clubs, and horizontal bars enjoyed a creditable season on their tour of exhibitions during the year '48.

Communities in New York and New Jersey as well as those in Pennsylvania, have enjoyed the program of the gymnasts. An average of two exhibitions is presented each week for a period of eight weeks. Occassionally two exhibitions were presented in one day.

The graceful manipulation of wands, the art of indian club swinging, and the rhythm of tapping feet, never failed to thrill an entranced audience. Various folk dancing offered variety and color, and tumbling provided each gymnast an opportunity to demonstrate his control and coordination in the progressions "down the mat." A popular side attraction, the clowns, in various clumsy maneuvers on the mats and parallel bars, added humor to every exhibition. The clowns must actually be very precise under ordinary circumstances so that imperfection can be displayed with ease.

The team that always comes home with a victory, can also boast of the fact that it is the only co-educational athletic unit on campus. This team also differs from other varsity teams on campus, in that it is organized for exhibition purposes rather than for competition.

The team, and its director, Mr. O. Liljenstein deserve much credit for their grand performances. Due credit should also be given to the capable assistants, Mrs. E. Bachman and Miss M. Whitenight.

A brilliant year was climaxed by the annual home exhibition, which was a magnificent affair with the gym team playing the "star role" for the entire Physical Education Department.

DIAMOND REVIEW

Row 1: E. Solomon, P. Kempsey, H. Schaeffer, M. Kowalchik, J. Kenny, G. Dries, J. Brosious, H. Werkhieser, F. Kelly, N. Mastrodomenico, J. Strein. Row 2: D. Williams, J. Farrell, H. Franks, H. Bombe, P. Barndt, Coach Shay, D. Rhoads, J. Henne, R. Geissinger, R. Millard, E. Mariano.

A dramatic ending in ESSTC's diamond opener marked Ed Shay's coaching debut April 12, as the Warrior nine succumbed to Rider College of Trenton, N. J. in a 2-1 thriller.

ESSTC's elongated Harry Schaeffer was just one strike away from a brilliantly pitched 1-0 victory over Charley Gelbert's Lafayette College nine on April 16, but Lefty the Luckless never got past that third strike, and, as a result, Ed Shay's home coaching debut was a heart-breaking 3-1 setback.

ESSTC's Big Red diamond machine finally shifted its gears from reverse and hit on all cylinders on April 19 when it came from behind to bury Montclair STC under a 5 run avalanche in the fourth inning, 9-4. Solomon and Kenny were the hitting stars while Jack Farrow pitched fine relief ball for the win.

ESSTC's hopes of pulling another stirring upset over Seton Hall's sensational diamond squad were rudely shattered April 23 when the Warriors received a 4-0 dose of kalsomine by the undefeated Pirates.

A 19-hit attack featured by Johnny Strein's ringing triple with three on paved the way for the Warrior's second win of the campaign with Trenton STC the victim: 15-6. Harry Schaeffer turned in his usual fine pitching performance and chalked up his first win.

Big George Dries received plenty of support in his second outing on the mound for the Warriors as the locals pounded out 13 hits for an easy 11-3 victory over Bloomsburg STC.

A ringing single in the ninth inning by ESSTC's outstanding catcher, Harry Werkheiser, chased Johnny Strein across the platter to give Stroudsburg a 6-5 come-from-behind victory over Kutztown STC.

George Dries made it two straight in a return duel with Bloomsburg when he batted the Warriors to a 12-3 victory. Solomon also had a batting day, getting 5 for 6. Harry Werkheiser was high man too with 3 for 4.

Panzer College continued to hold the Indian sign over ESSTC's diamond nine as they halted a four game winning streak on May 17 with a 9-3 victory. Don Brosius clubbed out three hits in a losing game.

Paterson was the last victim of the Red Warriors when they succumbed 9-2 on May 24.

TRACK TEAM

Row 1: F. Carl, J. Moyer, P. Long, E. McInroy, C. Haap, C. Morgan, J. St. Ledger, P. Heckman, P. Urda, F. Adamavage, J. Colacichi, L. Katz. Row 2: J. Evans, Coach H. R. DeNike, J. Cerra, J. McCarthy, G. Harold, J. Smith. Row 3: R. Williams, W. Zimmerman, J. Siegendall, T. Waters, F. Wunderly, H. Hagen, J. Zurner, J. Goepfert, J. McCarthy, G. Berger.

ESSTC captured everything but the bus that brought Trenton STC to Stroudsburg on May 3 as they roared through the bewildered New Jerseyites like a wintry gale through the Pocono pines to register a record-breaking 112-1/3 — 13-2/3 victory.

Bloomsburg STC received some solace from their 77-49 track trouncing at the hands of the Warriors on May 6. They were the first to hold ESSTC below the 80 point mark.

In the meet with Montclair, the Warriors came through with a 75½-58½ margin. In this meet, Johnny Moyer was called for hitting the grass in the mile run, but even partisan Montclair rooters knew that "The Sinking Springs Star" was the victor.

Adamavage came through with a grand total of 55 points for the season, closely followed by Heckman and McCarthy with 53½ and 51 points, respectively. Other pointgetters were: McInroy, Goepfert, Hagen, Urda, Katz, Wunderly, Long, Williams, Morgan, Siegendall, Waters, Carl, Gruber, and Moyer.

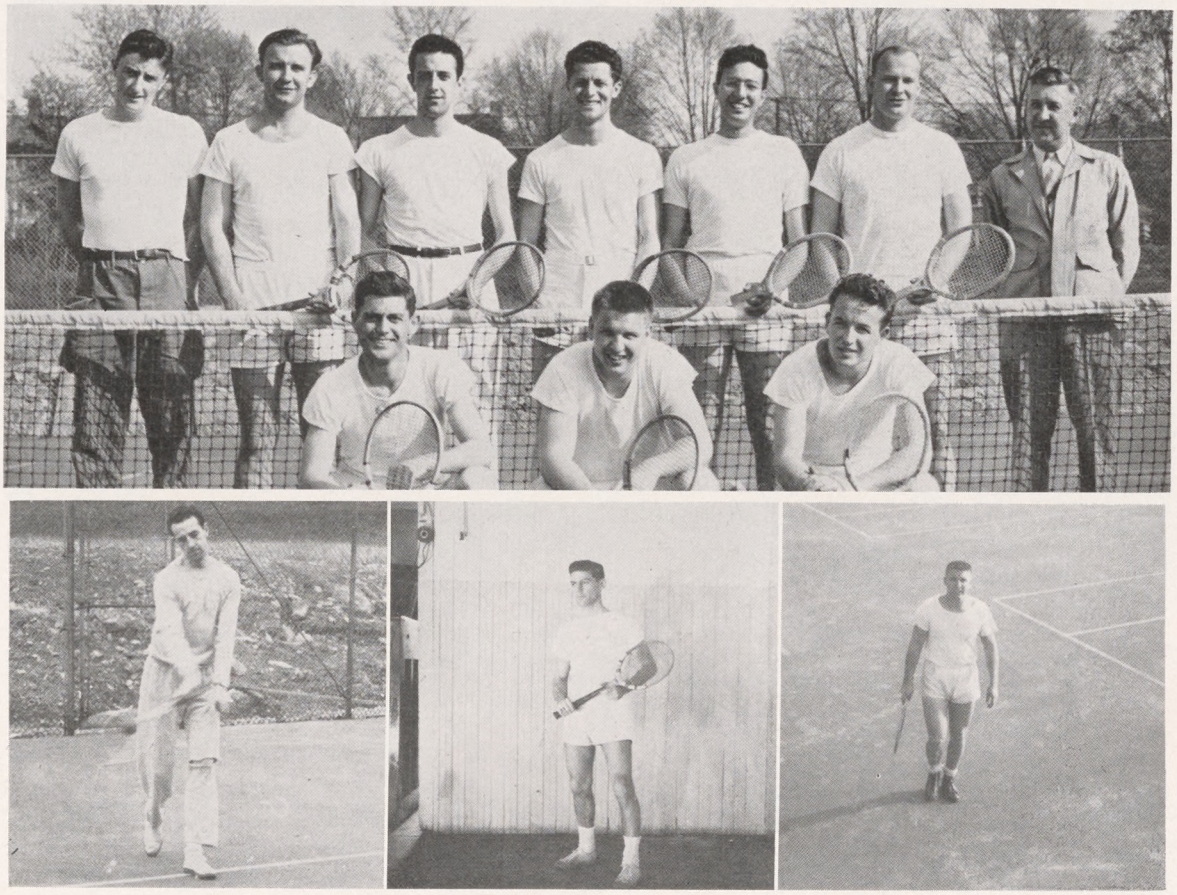

Coach Howard Denike's greatest track squad in years emerged from the Physical Education Triangular Meet held at Ithaca on May 17. The Warriors came through like true champions as they edged Cortland by three and one-third points and Ithaca by 25 to chalk up the first undefeated track season in the history of ESSTC.

Big guns in ESSTC's dramatic triumph were Phil Heckman of Reading and Frank Adamavage of Ashland. Phil took two firsts, scoring in the 220 yd. low hurdles and 100 yd. dash. His mark of 26.8 seconds erased the old mark of 27.0 established by Hal "War Horse" Luff in 1936. Adamavage snared first place in the 220 yd. dash and took second in the 100 yd. dash. Other vital pointgetters were John McCarthy, Jack Goepfert, Lester Katz and Walter Williams.

In the 1947 track opener, the Red and Black cindermen practically ran the soles off their shoes as they rolled up an 82½—43½ victory over Panzer College. The locals finished first ten times, in addition to placing in every event of the meet.

ESSTC's "Flying Junior", Frank Adamavage, raced to two triumphs in the 100 and 220 yd. dashes, while "The Needle", Pat McCarthy, took the low and high hurdles.

TENNIS

MYTHICAL CHAMPS

After a lapse of several years men's tennis again returned to East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Coach Grimm was greeted by fifteen aspiring candidates, all eager to win a position on the team. After a month of hard and gruelling practice the team journeyed to Lafayettee for its initial match. The outcome was a 9-0 victory for the Leopards. Undaunted by this defeat, the team practiced diligently for its coming matches. Match play on the new courts seemed to be just what the Warrior racqueteers needed as they avenged their initial defeat by winning over Shippensburg 8-1. The winning way was continued at home by defeating Trenton and Paterson 7-2 and 7-0, respectively. Journeying to Kutztown, the team was extended to the utmost but came through with flying colors, a 6-3 victor. The final two matches were played at Patterson and Shippensburg, where the fifth and sixth consecutive victories were recorded by the identical scores of 5-2.

This enviable record of six victories and one defeat is indeed a goal for future teams to attain. The team will definitely miss Co-Captains Altobilli and Hamor, who alternated in playing the number one position, and Simons and Stella, but, with the return of lettermen Garland, Stitzer and Vogelsong, Coach Grimm is looking forward to another successful season.

COURT SHORTS

The presence of four outstanding institutions — Pennsylvania, Temple, N. Y. U. and Ursinus—again featured the varsity tennis schedule of ESSTC's co-eds under the leadership of Genevieve C. Zimbar, coach.

The Zimbarettes proved that they can hold their own against this top-notch competition as the varsity squad of the University of Pennsylvania was the only team to score a convincing triumph, winning by a 5-0 margin. However the Junior Varsity racquet-wielders came through against the Penn seconds with a 3-2 victory in their only match of the season.

New York University and Temple squeezed by the local lassies with an identical score of 3-2, but the girls made up for these two tough defeats by avenging a 5-0 setback by Ursinus in '46 by edging out the Collegeville co-eds in a 3-2 thriller.

The team captain was Helen Louise Strieby with Catherine Yocum handling the managerial reins. The number 1, 2 and 3 singles players were Ardath Houser, Edith Shafer, and Virginia Burrey. Double teams players were H. L. Strieby and Jane LeVan, No. 1 doubles, and Marion Moore and Peg Anthony, No. 2.

The final tabulation for the season showed one victory and three losses for the varsity and an undefeated season for the junior varsity.

The coming year should offer bright hopes for the racqueteers with but one letter-winner, Captain Strieby, departed. Coach Zimbar hopes to be able to find a suitable replacement from among the numerous varsity aspirants on the squad.

Row 1: M. Moore, J. Maiorana, P. Anthony, K. Yocum, D. Zieger, V. Burry. Row 2: J. Moll, E. Shafer, H. Strieby, Miss G. Zimbar, A. Houser, A. Reber, J. LeVan.

CLASSES...

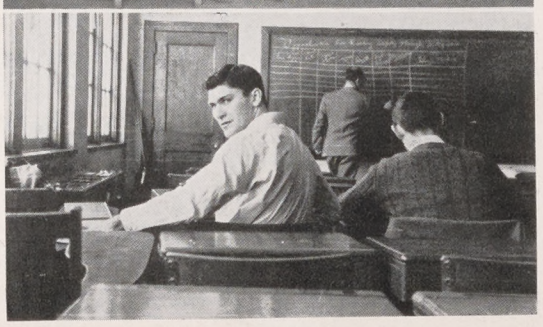

Our classmates have been our greatest pleasure and our greatest strength. Their personalities are recorded here as we have known them.

CLASS OF 1951

G. Brau, A. Corson, J. Douglas, R. Held, S. Betz.

With the fall of 1947, great changes were found in women's styles. Few of us were really aware of the changes until we returned to school and found the women students of the class of 1951 definitely sporting that "new look." Skirts were longer, and the Gibson girl blouses, decorated with large bows, took the place of the "old-fashioned" tailored blouse of 1946. A great number of men students enrolled both for the S. T. C. and the Penn State curricula. When initiation began, the boys turned out in pajamas for the pajama parade at the Panzer game, the first fellows in many classes to carry on the traditional parade. The fellows also drummed up spirit for the game by burying a manikin symbolizing Panzer.

When Thanksgiving arrived, the Freshman Tea was held, the Green Band test was given, and the women students joined the ranks as Freshman. Recently organized, the class has elected officers and is ready at last to function as a single unit. Perhaps we as upper classmen can give them some useful advice to help them on their way. You, as Freshmen, are just beginning your college career. This is your college, and what becomes of it in the next four years depends upon what you and those who follow you make it. In your hands lies the ability to build an organization for the benefit of the student body. In athletics, you will be able to form teams that cannot be defeated. You can instill sportsmanship and team spirit into every phase of athletics. From your class can come leaders of the Senate and of various other councils. You will be asked to elect these representatives from your class. It will be worth your while to elect those who can best benefit your class and the college. College life is what you make it. Your class functions can be beautiful affairs, complete with good orchestration, congenial atmosphere, and lots of fun for all if you work together to promote them. But, they cannot be successful unless you attend. Use your ingenuity to plan different kinds of activities, and you will find the students eager to respond. Your four years here at S. T. C. can be packed full of fun, and, when you have completed them, you will have many memories to look back on as alumni. Having fulfilled our requirements, we are ready to leave now. When you have reached your senior year, we hope you will be able to recall as many pleasant memories as we have. But, we also hope you will be able to look back on benefits you have bestowed on the administration, clubs, social activities, and sports. The stage is set, the light dim; from here on, yours is the major role.

THE FROSH

Freshman Reception

CLASS OF 1950

Kneeling—W. Thomas, R. Williams. Standing—E. Schaffer, L. Pfander.

What a wonderful day for the student body of S. T. C. when the class of 1950 arrived! With this enrollment came not only women but men, hundreds of them, or so it seemed to the upper classmen who, since they had entered college, had seen only a few of the male sex in their classes. New students registered in the various curricula of the college, but Penn State students also enrolled for the year. The S. T. C. men were quartered on campus, while the Penn State men students lived at the Fenner Hotel. The traditional green bands were donned, and the freshman girls began polishing shoes and making beds until the Freshman Tea was given and "regs" were over. The class of 1950, both men and women, took their places in the sports parade, working toward higher athletic standing by spreading their talents among all the athletic teams on campus. When basketball season arrived, we found that some of the freshman boys had been added to the team. They helped take the ball own the floor many times to add up the score for S. T. C. Many of the other students of the class who joined the glee club and dramatic club have helped entertain not only faculty and student body but townspeople as well. Turning to the social field, the class sponsored a Valentine dance entitled "Cupid's Capers," an occasion which aroused old sparks of love in the hearts of some and created new flames in the hearts of others, as cupid with the aid of soft music and appropriate decorations shot his tiny arrows into the air, hoping they'd fall on every pair, of gents and maidens who danced

in sight,
making them sweethearts if just for a night.

On November, 22, 1947, the class put on another successful dance called the "Stardust Ball." The decorations committee worked out a very effective setting using one large star to guide couples toward a happy evening and a wishing well to make their wishes come true. During these two years, as members of the student body, this class has added new talents and spirit to the campus and to their class functions. It has been a class of capabilities and of originality, with men as well as women students participating. It has been a very cooperative class. We feel sure they will be able to look back over a very successful college career and also to face the world as better teachers and citizens. By the time they are seniors, they will have learned the essentials of being able to get along with their fellow men, for as a class and as individuals, they have made a great start in that direction.

Stardust Ball

CLASS OF 1949

E. Layton, E. Bellis, F. Farrell, P. Heckman.

THE JUNIORS

The class of 1949 is completing its third year at S. T. C. They are new upper classmen upon whom are the added responsibilities and respect which they have looked forward to since they were Frosh. They have successfully crossed the deadline that decides their fate in this four-year game of college. They can now look backward with self-satisfaction and determine their future policies on according to their successes of the past.

As we look back over the past years, we are able to survey a very active class. At the end of the first semester all the green bands that the Freshmen girls had been wearing were eliminated and packed away as memories, as the Frosh took their places on the starting line as full-fledged Freshmen ready to shoulder responsibility.

In the beginning of the January term, the girls were moved from Shawnee to Stroud Hall to make room for the great influx of returning G. I.'s., who took their places as leaders in athletics, not only of their class but of college athletics as well.

The class has entered into the spirit of various organizations—musical dramatic and scientific, with many joining the ranks as honor students on Kappa Delta Pi. They have also been active in social events. On February 9, 1946, they held a Valentine dance. Girls were fortunate in having bids came from fellows on campus despite the war-shortage on males. The decorations were very appropriate, and those who attended deemed it most successful.

In November of the following year, as Sophomores, they held a Star Dust Ball and again proved their ingenuity and originality, as dim light and soft music combined with the colorful gowns, to bring stars into the eyes of the maidens matching those that glimmered overhead.

On October 25 of their Junior year the class turned from formal gowns to dungarees and plaid shirts. It was a real old-fashioned square dance. The new gym was turned into a barn complete with rail fences, pumpkins, cornstalks and a hay loft. The evening was happily spent by lads and lasses as they circled off left and right and promenaded to the "Turkey in the Straw," and other appropriate tunes.

This energetic class had entered this year with an optimistic and hopeful attitude, resolving to come back next year to carry out the overwhelming duties of Seniors. We feel sure that after their four-year records are complete, they will be able to look back with a feeling of satisfaction and with the realization that, although they may have made a few minor mistakes, these were far overbalanced by the successes and accomplishments that were made.

Every bit as green as "thy vine-covered walls," in September 1944 the class of '48 invaded the campus of ESSTC. Stroud Hall bulged when the frosh moved in, but crowded conditions did nothing to hinder the upperclassmen from administering "regs." Rainy skies and sober faces predominated during those first few days, although studies and social life soon cleared the horizon. This year marked the return of manpower to campus—forty strong. Air raids were by no means infrequent to the utter distress of us frosh lying about in strictly undignified, horizontal positions. Our first college dance brought out the sophisticate in us and, incidentally, just about transformed ESSTC into a boot camp.

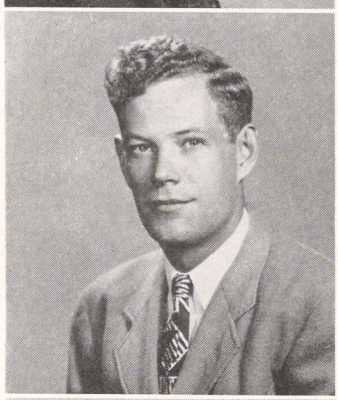

Full of hope and eager to wreak vengeance on the incoming frosh, we returned to campus in the fall of '46. Soon our attention was turned to the "After Victory Twirl," a super-sophomore dance! Then came the mass-migration of all women students from Shawnee to Stroud Hall to accomodate our returning vets. Wednesday night dances and college life was at its peak, once again well-attended romances blossomed. It was a memorable year in our annals.

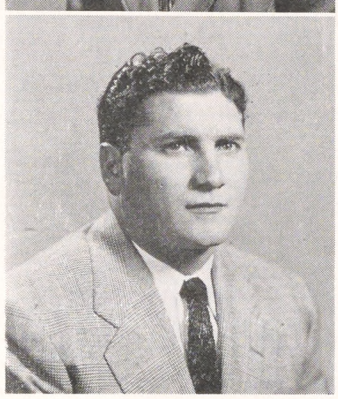

Armed with gallons of ink and tons of paper, we plunged enthusiastically into our difficult junior year. Class functions and especially our own "Carousel," kept us busy and busy. Hours of work mixed with plentiful clowning helped us produce our famous circus mural for the gala affair our "Carousel" turned out to be.

And so ultimately we gathered our most serious thoughts and contemplated rather breathlessly our last venture—student teaching. Though busy and bothered at times, we have found time to participate in college social life. Senior year has been a happy send-off. We view with misty eyes our departure from our beloved Alma Mater as we look to distant horizons in the hope of reflecting honor on her name.

JAMES T. ANTHONY

SECONDARY — Delaware Water Gap, Pa.

With the grinning enthusiasm and inexhaustible energy that he puts into everything he does, Jim constantly uses his excellent organizational ability to run more agencies than any other person in college. Jim has made an amazing contribution to ESSTC. He was class president in his junior year and now is a member of Who's Who, Sigma Zeta, and is president of the Senate and FTA.

MARGARET R. ANTHONY

HEALTH EDUCATION — West Pittston, Pa.

An effervescent bundle of activity, high-powered efficiency, and an intense concern for the maladies of the world, Peg is always buzzing into some new field of activity with much gusto and new ideas. She has left no form of college life untouched. Peg's mark in the sports world was quickly established by her tennis and varsity gym team accomplishments.

CARLTON G. ANTOINE

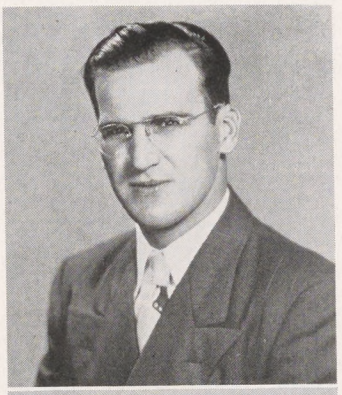

HEALTH EDUCATION — Clark Summit, Pa.

Although no member of "Kappi", Bumps leaves a brilliant scholastic record behind him. Like most Health Ed. students, he loves the outdoors and all types of sports. His favorite pastimes are playing pinochle and working crossword puzzles. Carl's spontaneous remarks are witty and timely. His college activities include Health Education Club, Men's Executive Council, Sigma Zeta, and basketball.

JOHN D. ARCHER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Scranton, Pa.

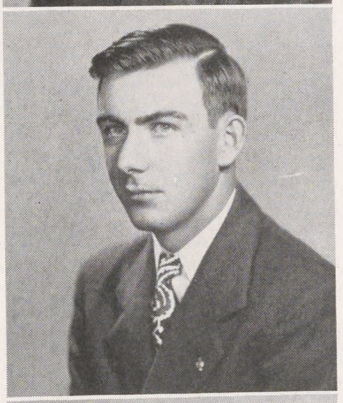

Jay is the proud father of a three year old daughter and also the "daddy" of the senior class. He is also an avid sportsman and photography expert. In his earlier years on campus he played varsity basketball and as an amateur was selected as an All-American on the A.A.U. team of 1936. Invariably Jay accomplishes things with infectious good humor.

ANTHONY A. BELL

HEALTH EDUCATION — Tamaqua, Pa.

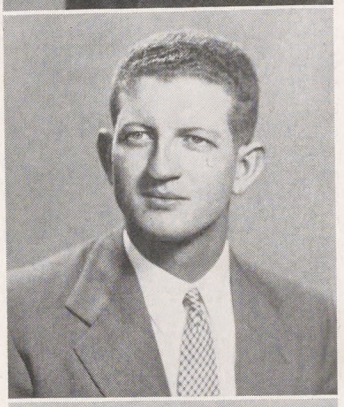

The one-and-only with a Kaiser-Frazer on campus, Tony has, in his own quiet, unassuming way, contributed much to college life. The saying that "still water runs deep" fits him to a "T". Tony was a member of the undefeated football team of 1942. An even disposition, the ability to stick, and a driving ambition to reach the top led Tony to choose an independent path from which he never swerves.

JAMES J. BREHONY

HEALTH EDUCATION — Gilbertown, Pa.

Though Jim's actions part of the time are as lackadaisical as his drawl, he's really energetic in intramural activities. A man of few words, he lets others do the talking while he quietly and competently carries on with his work. An even disposition, the ability to stick, and a driving ambition to reach the top lead "Breh" to choose big things for the future.

WILLIAM E. BRUBAKER

SECONDARY — Mechanicsburg, Pa.

A highly opinionated person, "Bru" is always a positive factor in any discussion, where his inexhaustible stock of knowledge about personalities stand his arguments in good stead. Bill's self-imposed schedule gives him little time for outside activity except his beloved tennis. After graduation he plans to work for his Master's Degree at the University of Illinois.

JANE A. BURKERT

HEALTH EDUCATION — Schuylkill Haven, Pa.

A miniature equestrienne with a flair for fun, that's Janie. A witty conversationalist, she is generally found at the core of some laughing group. This dainty miss with dancing feet made a hit on the gym team. Recognition of her academic ability came with membership in Kappa Delta Pi, Varsity "S", Health Education Club, SCA, WAA, and Women's Executive Council.

VIRGINIA L. BURREY

HEALTH EDUCATION — Vicksburg, Pa.

Athletically, Jinx was an outstanding member of the Varsity Gym and Tennis Teams. Her scholastic ability earned her membership in Kappa Delta Pi. She was a member of Varsity "S", SCA and the Stroud Courier. Jinx's good-humor, frankness, and sincerity contributed to our campus friendships. Talented musically, she makes the piano quiver with tantalizing rhythm of her "boogie beat".

THEDA A. BURRIS

SECONDARY — Stroudsburg, Pa.

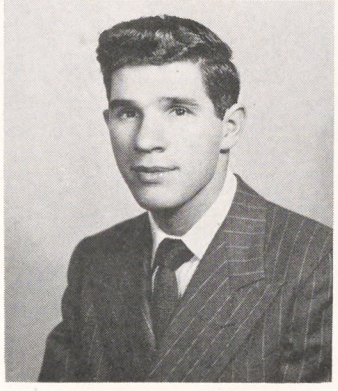

A blonde, good-natured personality bubbling over with life, Theda can always be seen with a mischievous sparkle in her eye. She has been a member of the Art Club, Nature Club, Women's Athletic Association, and the Social Council. Baseball and basketball are among her favorites in the sports line, both as a participant and as a spectator.

HELEN S. BUSCHMANN

ELEMENTARY — Westfield, N. J.

An ardent and very necessary member of FTA, Helen has the honor of being chosen the first secretary of the FTA council. She has been invaluable to many as a friend, and is an amazing example of constant good will to those about her. Helen's extra-curricular activities include Women's Executive Council, Mask and Zany, and SCA.

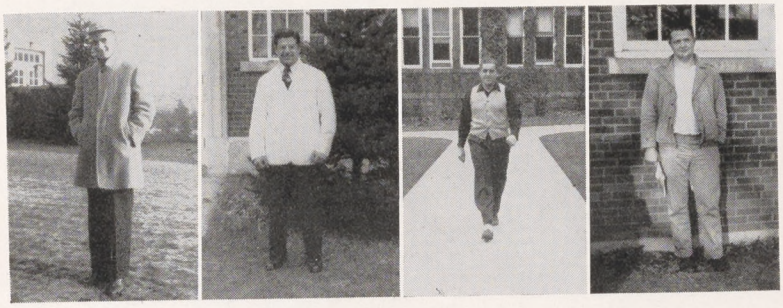

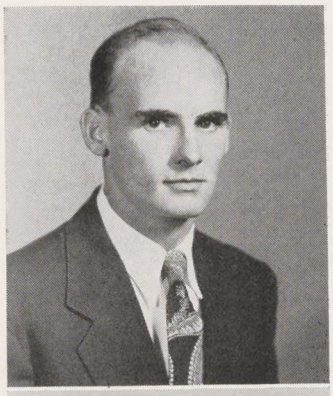

EMIL J. CARAZO

HEALTH EDUCATION — Palmerton, Pa.

An outstanding all-around athlete, "Deac" participated in football, baseball and track. Accordingly he was honored with membership in Varsity "S" Club, where he served as president during his senior year. "Deac's" good-will and earnest effort made him a valued member of The Stroud Staff and president of Men's Executive Council.

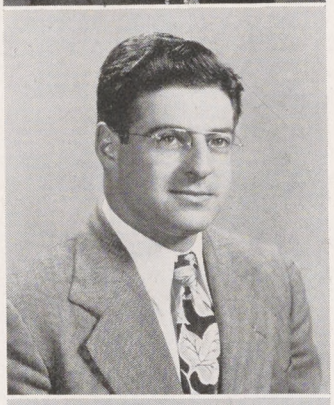

THOMAS F. CARR

HEALTH EDUCATION — Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

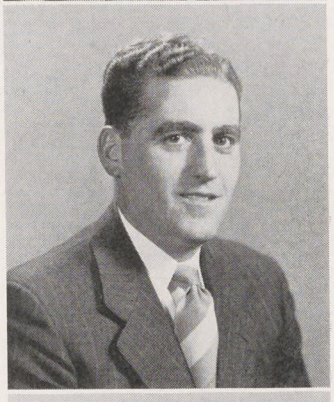

The straight-faced humorist of the class, Tom is one of the most industrious workers in our group. His conscientious application has made him circulating manager for the Stroud Courier. Tom's interest in health education has carried over into the Physical Therapy field in which he hopes to work after leaving ESSTC.

JOHN A. CERRA

HEALTH EDUCATION — Carbondale, Pa.

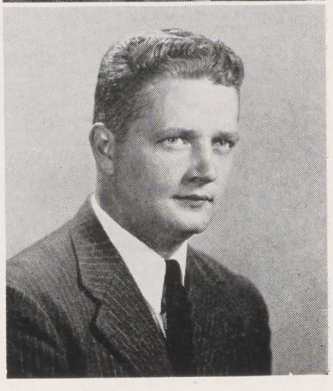

Literally a man of the world, John has traveled far and wide. The Senior Class presidency vouches for his popularity, the result of his solid dependability, his excellence as an organizer, his unfailing good humor and complete lack of artificiality. "Tiger's" campus activities are numerous for he excells in wrestling, track and football. John is also fond of horses.

EUGENE A. CHIAVACCI

HEALTH EDUCATION — Exeter, Pa.

During his four college years, the ambitious Eugene displayed a variety of interests. He has taken an active part in intra-mural sports as well as in the varsity football and basketball. A member of the Health Education Club and Choral Club. Gene's alert interest in class projects and willingness to accept responsibilities placed him on many important committees.

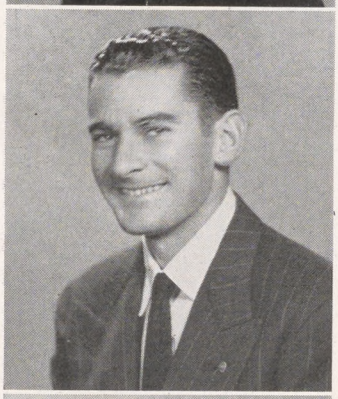

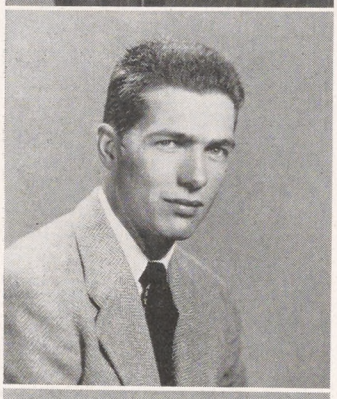

JAMES O. CLOUSER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Williamstown, Pa.

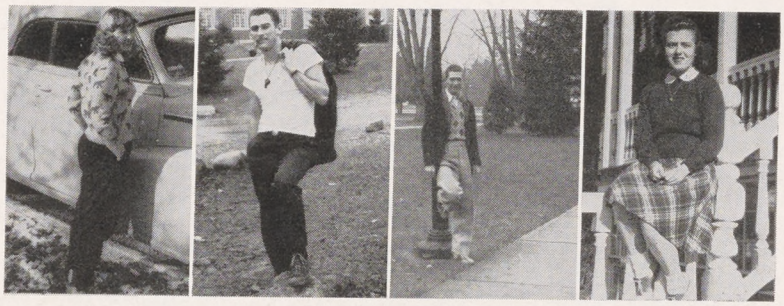

The out-of-doors claims the greater part of Jim's interest, for hunting, fishing and mountain-climbing are among his favorite pastimes. He tells stories eagerly and plays golf with a great deal of zest. One of the best and most enthusiastic athletes in ESSTC. He aided the college by his participation in baseball and football. Jim thinks married life is simply great.

JOANN L. CLAUSER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Allentown, Pa.

Here's the gal who hails from "Aullentan". Blonde and beautifully bronzed each school year after a vacation (?) as waterfront director, Joann returned to ESSTC. Joann's activities during her college career included membership in Varsity "S" Club, SCA, Health Education Club and a member of the gym team.

PATRICK F. CUSICK

HEALTH EDUCATION — Scranton, Pa.

"Pat" is the kind of fellow who makes this world a better place in which to live. His quick wit enlivens everyone. "Pat" is always ready for a good time; his interest in sports has been a deep one. In college he participated in swimming, intramural basketball, and softball. A very companionable guy, "Pat" appreciates other people, modern music, and good jokes.

NORMAN F. DANIELS

HEALTH EDUCATION — Dalton, Pa.

"Mick", a good man of unruffled calm, and imperturable good-nature, is Dalton High's contribution to ESSTC, to coach De Nike who has played "Mick" on the soccer team for three years, and to his team mates, who find his modesty an agreeable contrast to his performance on the field.. Ability and good judgement make "Mick" a man who can be depended on to do a thorough job.

VIRGINIA D. DAVIES

HEALTH EDUCATION — Portland, Pa.

"Reds", the poet laureate of the class is "Johnny on the Spot" when there's work to be done. "Reds" enjoys people and has a knack for making strangers feel at home. She was a member of Blue Pencil, WAA, Health Education Club, Stroud Courier and the Stroud Year Book Staff. "Reds" vivacious personality has won her a host of friends.

ANN M. DAVIS

ELEMENTARY — Stroudsburg, Pa.

Disproving the theory that beauty is only skin deep, Ann's charming personality and calm poise go hand in hand with her loveliness. Married and the mother of a handsome toddler, she still finds time to hold membership in Alpha Psi Omega, WAA, and the Choral Club. Anne's way of doing things for others is one of our most pleasant memories.

THOMAS C. DAVIS

SECONDARY — Pen Argyl, Pa.

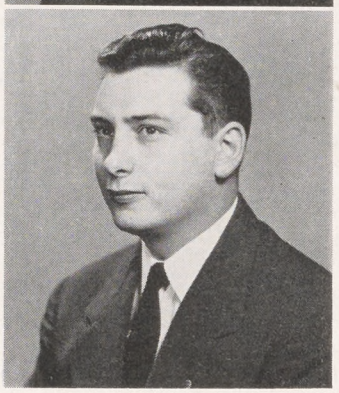

"Bud" is one of the quieter fellows of our class. When there was anything to be done, however, he was there to do it. He participated in football for two years and was a member of the Warrior's undefeated team during his freshman year. "Bud" faithfully served Varsity "S", World Outlook, and Health Education Club.

DOROTHY M. DAWE

ELEMENTARY — Pen Argyl, Pa.

"Dottie" has been a member of Choral Club for four years. She has contributed not only her fine singing but also a loyal spirit of co-operation to the Class of '48. "Dottie's" extra-curricular activities include membership in WAA, Student Senate, and FTA Council. Dot was initiated into Kappa Delta Pi because of her high scholastic and social achievements.

FRANK J. DE BIAS

SECONDARY — Easton, Pa.

Frank is well named. Marked by a sincerity and earnestness of conviction, he occasionally undergoes a complete metamorphosis, always emerging with an intense new philosophy. "Dibby" divides his spare time between ardent participation in the Science Club, College Publications, Student Christian Association and photography. Frank is also a devout bridge and pinochle player.

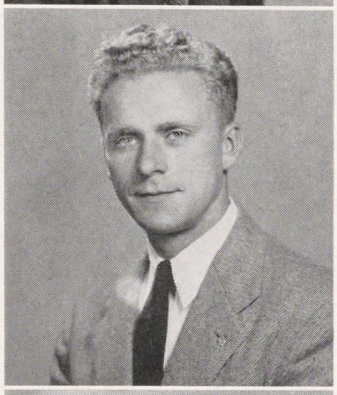

ROBERT G. DEIBERT

HEALTH EDUCATION — Catasauqua, Pa.

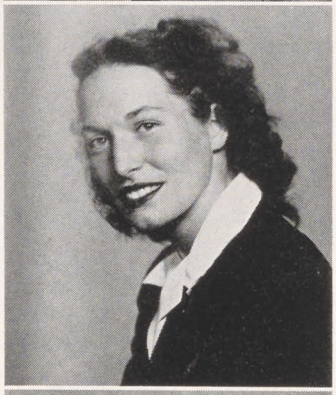

Ease and nonchalance are stock in trade for Bob; they are natural with him too, not the phoney kind. In sports he concentrates on the basketball court, where he plays with the same ease that characterizes his personality. Ever cheerful, "Pins" gets a kick out of watching the pin-ball players in Rosie's after dinner.

GEORGE W. DEITER, JR.

HEALTH EDUCATION — Benton, Pa.

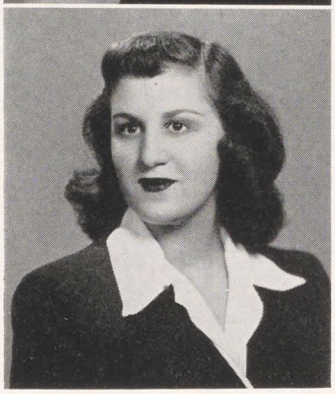

A very likable person who dislikes sarcastic people, George carries a full schedule of courses yet finds time for other activities. A member of Alpha Psi Omega and Mask and Zany, he has been a mainstay of the stage for many performances. His executive ability was manifested in his role as class president during his freshman and sophomore year.

HELEN MAY DEITER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Shamokin, Pa.

Helen is one of our most outstanding gymnasts and swimmers. An intense lover of sports, she has shown her enthusiasm as captain of the cheer-leaders. Although varsity sports and intramural activities occupy much of her time, she saves her special hours for her husband and son, Ray. Helen was an active member of the WAA, Mask and Zany, Health Education Club, Varsity "S".

DOROTHY C. DIOMEDO

ELEMENTARY — Easton, Pa.

Dynamic, dead-pan tactics make Dot's particular brand of humor terrific. Many a dull moment is brightened by her subtle humor and infectious giggle. Co-owner of doubledecker beds, Dot likes to while away her time "upstairs". However she finds time to pursue other interests and gets a "kick" out of everything she does. "Dot" is a member of WRA and SCA.

EUNICE R. DRAKE

ELEMENTARY — Waymart, Pa.

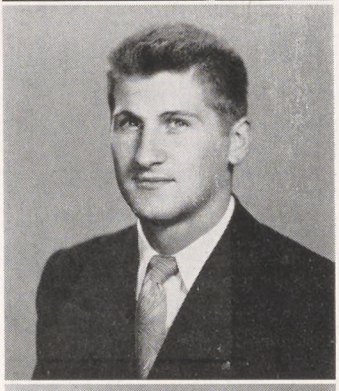

Fun-loving, friendly, and generous, this small miss is constantly on the move. The type who makes others feel that they can really talk to and confide in her, she supplements this enviable talent with a gay sense of humor and a very evident enjoyment of life. "Eun's" career at ESSTC was highlighted by participation in the Glee Club, SCA and Women's Executive Council.

NORMA E. DRESHER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Tamaqua, Pa.

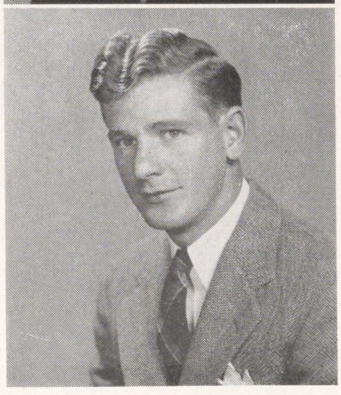

"Nonny", industrious and persevering has served as president of Kappa Delta Pi, has been a member of the Women's Executive Council, was on the Varsity Hockey team and Varsity Gymnastic team, and has the honor of optional attendance. Tirelessly working for what she believes right, Nonny "sticks to her guns", and her good-natured comments dare the rest of us to lag behind.

CHARLES W. DUBBS

HEALTH EDUCATION — Bethlehem, Pa.

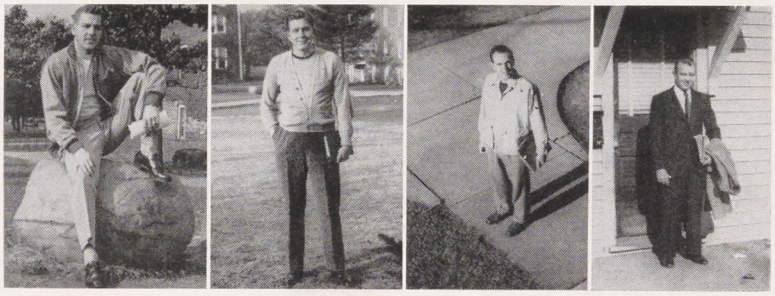

A generous and subtle personality is hidden under Charlie's exterior. His secret, and the reason for his universal popularity, is his happy faculty for never letting the immediate job obscure the important thing which, after all, is living. Active in Varsity "S", Health Education Club, and FTA. "Chuck" further indicates his athletic interest in his managerial role for the football team.

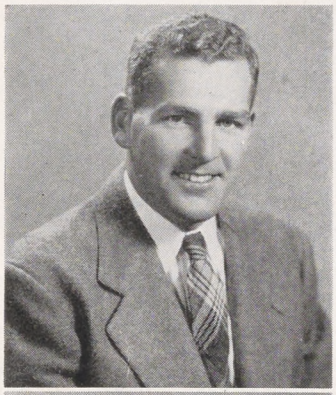

JOHN R. EDWARDS

HEALTH EDUCATION — Wycoff, N. J.

Aggressive, quick, and knowing where he is going, characterize Jack. Here is the boy who always has an answer. A versatile person, he participated in the Blue Pencil Club and the Health Education Club. A resident of old Shawnee, his years here have been well spent. We are betting that he will reap the profits of what he sowed here.

JAMES W. EGLI

HEALTH EDUCATION — Muncy, Pa.

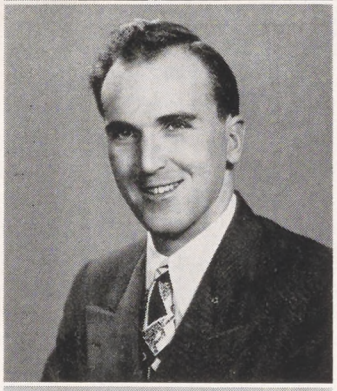

Jim's disposition is as versatile as his interests. A conscientious plugger, he's seriously intent on studies all week, but, once the burden of student teaching is lifted, his nature does an apparent about-face. With a generous and helpful hand, Jim contributes to the success of the entertainment council in his role as chairman. Football and basketball absorb his other efforts.

JOHN P. ETCHO

HEALTH EDUCATION — New Boston, Pa.

"Big Johnny" came to ESSTC immediately after his discharge from the Marines. His quiet and sympathetic attitude, together with his participation in varsity basketball have won him numerous friends. As a basketball player. the slow-talking giant "wowed" the fans with his one-handed throws from way out "yonder". He has been actively engaged in the Varsity "S" Club and SCA.

PAUL J. EVANS

HEALTH EDUCATION — Towanda, Pa.

Paul, better known as "Jud", is a good-natured, easy-going fellow. An ardent student during the week, he is equally ardent family man on weekends. He is a member of the Stroud Courier Staff and vice-president of the Men's Excutive Council, but his first love is sports. Three years as manager of the track team have earned him membership in the Varsity "S" Club.

ROBERT B. FINN

HEALTH EDUCATION — Towanda, Pa.

Quiet, good looking, and well-dressed, Bob comes to us as a transfer from Mansfield STC. In his short stay here he has been an active member in the Health and Physical Education Club and the Student Christian Association. An avid sports fan, Bob also plays a fast brand of basketball. Even-tempered and understanding, he is a friend to all.

RACHEL G. FRITZ

SECONDARY — Honesdale, Pa.

"Rach's" happy smile and infectious laugh have brightened many a dull moment. Candid in her opinions, she is one woman who makes up her mind—and lets everyone know it. "Rach" exercised her talents with the Stroud Staff, Mask and Zany, Euclidean Club, SCA, and was secretary for the Publications Council. The service she has given has been "par excellence."

GLORIA P. GABLE

HEALTH EDUCATION — Reading, Pa.

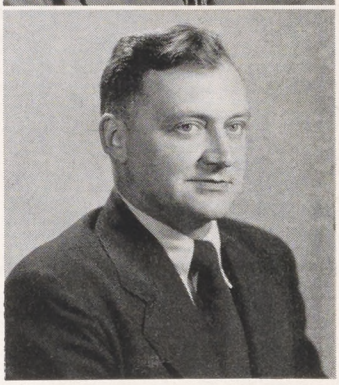

"Tootie" is known not only by her athletic prowess but also for her excellent cooperation in class activities. Ambitious and a willing worker, "Tootie" is a member of Varsity "S" Club, WRA, Health Education Club, and SCA. She played on the women's basketball team and took part in intra-mural sports. "Tootie" is also a terrific "rug cutter."

JOHN R. GALLAGHER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Freeland, Pa.

A happy-go-lucky extrovert, "Gal" has a slap on the back and a good word for everyone. A very companionable guy, "Gal" appreciates other people, good music, and dancing. His personal philosophy excludes over-concentration in any one activity; hence, he leads a versatile life. His fortes includes an instructor's rating in judo and a fast brand of basketball.

ROBERT L. GANTERT

SECONDARY — Reading, Pa.

Student par excellence, not only majoring in biology but taking English and journalism as well, and fairly sure of what he wants, Bob has ability plus a knowledge of how to apply it. Wonderful powers of concentration bring him membership in Kappa Delta Pi. In addition, Bob devotes a great deal of his time for Blue Pencil and The Stroud.

JEAN E. GASH

HEALTH EDUCATION — Roxbury, Mass.

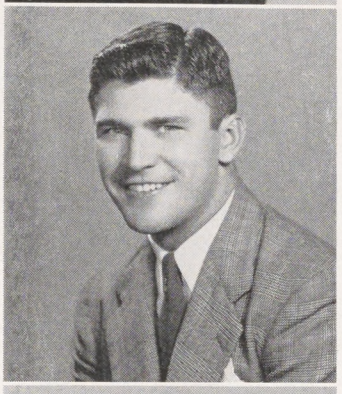

A transfer from Boston University, where she studied Physical Medicine, "Gash" has been with us only a short time. She made her first personal appearance in "I Remember Mama" as Christine. Jean is known best by her friends for her ability in archery and for her beautiful "winter tan". Her colorful conversation is delivered with a distinct Boston accent.

DORIS K. GEARHART

SECONDARY — Stroudsburg, Pa.

A sunny disposition, linked with seriousness, identifies her character; add sincerity and dependability and you have "Pete". A graduate of Pratt Institute and formerly Assistant Dietician at Vassar Hospital, she has come ESSTC for certification in the Secondary Field. An active member of the WRA, Doris has done much toward forming the bowling league for that organization.

JOHN L. GOEPFERT, JR.

HEALTH EDUCATION — Mahanoy City, Pa.

This sincere, quiet, capable person carries terrific power in his frame. Whether it be in studies or sports he strives to get the best results. His numerous activities include Kappa Delta Pi, football, and basketball. He is also listed in the "Who's Who". Jack hopes that some day he can live up to the standards of his coaching father.

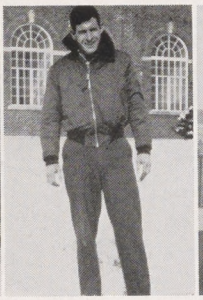

CARMELLA J. GRASSO

HEALTH EDUCATION — Kingston, Pa.

Determination and willingness have been the keynotes of Millie's successful campus associations. Excelling in dramatics, she served as president of Mask and Zany and held membership in Alpha Psi Omega. Millie's theatrical talents played a large part in making our college productions outstanding. Her willingness and ability to get things accomplished placed her on many important committees.

GWENDOLYN A. GRAY

ELEMENTARY — Reading, Pa.

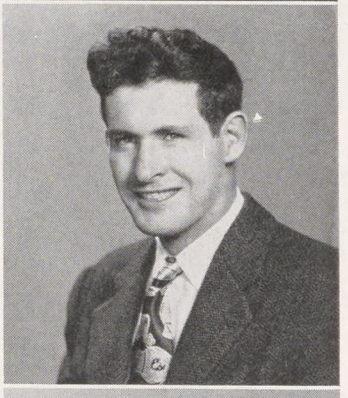

Intelligence, dependability, efficiency, and a jovial manner contribute to her well-rounded personality and make Gwen a good follower and a very capable leader. The versatility she possesses has been seen in her many scholastic and social activities such as the Social Council, Women's Executive Council, Mask and Zany, Art Club, Spanish Club and World Outlook.

JOHN R. GREANY

SECONDARY — Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

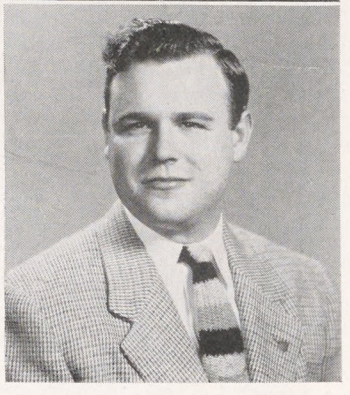

Jack's sincerity and frankness have been bright spots in campus associations. Working with determination and enthusiasm, he has done a marvelous job as president of the Blue Pencil Club. His other varied interests led to his membership in SCA and World Outlook. Jack's ever-cheerful disposition and good-natured wise cracks earned him the affectionate regard of all.

HAROLD H. HAGEN

HEALTH EDUCATION — Scranton, Pa.

You can't forget "Big Harold", especially his feats on the football field, the slap on the back that throws your bridgework out of adjustment, and his bone-crushing handshakes. Fundamentally serious, Bud has quite a time convincing anyone else that he is. Deeply interested in extra-curricular activities, Harold is president of Varsity "S" and also holds membership in the Health Education Club.

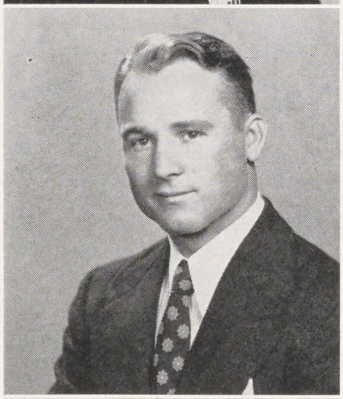

ROBERT E. HAMILL

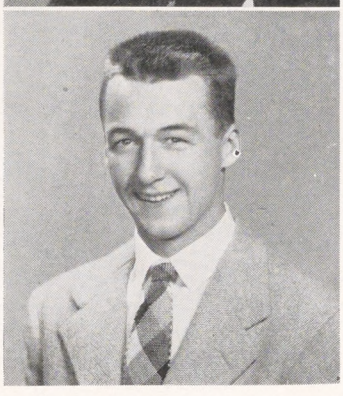

SECONDARY — East Stroudsburg, Pa.

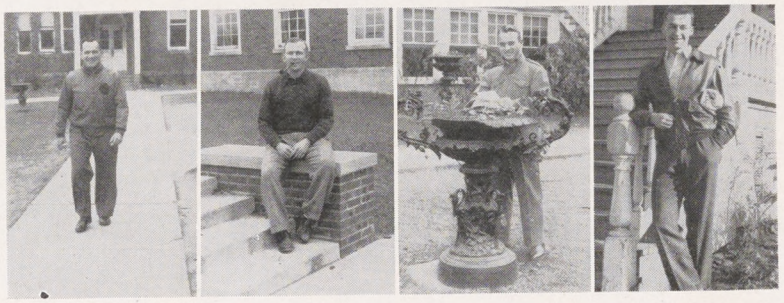

Mild, unassuming, but friendly, Bob has entrenched himself in the hearts of his fellow-classmates. By his loyalty and diligence, he has contributed his bit to the Class of '48. His extra-curricular activities have been expressed through the medium of the Euclidian Club and the Sigma Zeta Fraternity. Bob also showed strong interest and enthusiasm in intra-mural sports.

DERL J. HESS

HEALTH EDUCATION — Berwick, Pa.

Known about campus as "Rudy", this young man gained a reputation for dependability and good-fellowship. Mild-mannered and sociable, he is cooperative and willing to lend a hand when needed. Derl smilingly maintains that he has a great desire to remain a bachelor. He is a member of SCA and the Health Education Club and he is president of the choir.

WAYNE S. HORN

HEALTH EDUCATION — Ringtown, Pa.

His absent-minded air relieved by his own particular style of humor, Wayne is diligent and cheerful. Following science, his main interest, he has been an active member of the Science Club. SCA and the Nature Club also claimed his attention. Wayne took part in basketball, football, and soccer during his first two years at ESSTC.

MICHAEL HORON

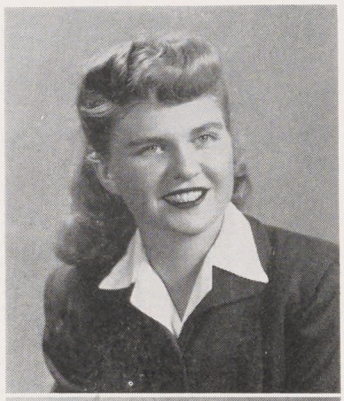

HEALTH EDUCATION — Easton, Pa.

Here is a fellow who in his own quiet, conscientious way will make his position in life. Mike never talks much, he thinks before making any comments or decisions. His interests outside of studies have a wide range. Mike has served on the Student Senate for three years and has devoted much time to Mask and Zany and Alpha Psi Omega.

HOBART P. HOSFELD

HEALTH EDUCATION — Clark Summit, Pa.

"Hoby's" alliterative name is just one of many interesting things we can credit to him. He has been an active member of the class, of SCA, and Nature Club. "Hoby's" athletic activities have included intra-mural softball and football and varsity basketball. His good sportsmanship on and off the athletic field make him the popular fellow he is.

ELIZABETH HUNCHAR

SECONDARY — Peely, Pa.

Dignity personified, brimming with energy, "Libby" contributed much to dramatics here at ESSTC. Not soon to be forgotten, her portrayal of mama in the production "I Remember Mama" merits much praise. Following her main interest, she served as president of Mask and Zany Club and Vice-president of Alpha Psi Omega. She also held membership in the Women's Executive Council.

MARILYN C. JUDIS

HEALTH EDUCATION — Newark, N. J.

"Judy" joined our class as a Sophomore. Her college career began at Panzer College, where she played varsity basketball, was a member of the Dramatic Club and representative on the Sports Council. Here at ESSTC she participated in intramural sports, was a member of the Nature Club and the Health and Physical Education Club. Judy is an unassuming, dependable gal.

DOUGLAS J. KELLY

SECONDARY — Bristol, Pa.

A combination of idealism, artistic inclinations, sympathetic understanding, and almost absolute "gentlemanliness," Doug is a real friend and the most genuine of persons. He previously spent time on the campuses of Virginia and Villanova. At Villanova he played varsity basketball. Always punctual, his love for the precise runs the gamut from calculus to the memorization of historical events.

HELEN M. KINSLEY

SECONDARY — Stroudsburg, Pa.

Kind, sympathetic, and always willing to lend a helping hand when needed, Helen Marie has won the hearts of her associates. Always interested in athletics, one finds her in the summer doing life guard duty at the town pool. At ESSTC she was a member of the Art Club, Nature Club, and WAA.

RUTH R. KRAMER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Reading, Pa.

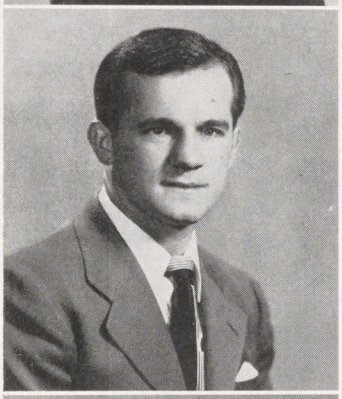

"Strike three—you're out". "Rocky" is the name that's short for Rocket which is just how those pitches come at you. This small blonde gal played varsity hockey, was the treasurer of the WAA, class treasurer in our junior and senior years, and an active member of the Student Christian Association and the Health Education Club.

XENIA S. KUHARSKY

HEALTH EDUCATION — St. Clair, Pa.

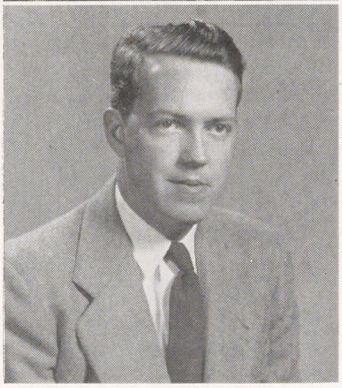

Xenia's alliterative name is just one of many things we can credit to her. Working with determination and enthusiasm, she has been president of SCA, cabinet member and treasurer of FTA, member of the Glee Club Octette, WRA, and the Health Education Club. Her characteristically friendly smile and delight in friendship are keynotes to "X's" good times.

JOSEPH W. KUPSKY

HEALTH EDUCATION — Berwick, Pa.

To Joe go the honors for being one of the best-natured fellows on campus. Quiet to the casual observer, Joe nevertheless has a lively sense of humor and is a good companion. Ambitious and a willing worker, Joe was a member of the Health Education Club, FTA and SCA. He was a member of the wrestling team and took part in intramural sports.

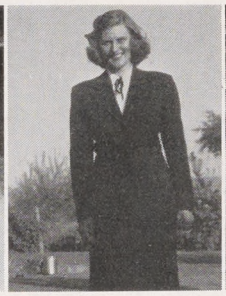

JOHN W. LANNON

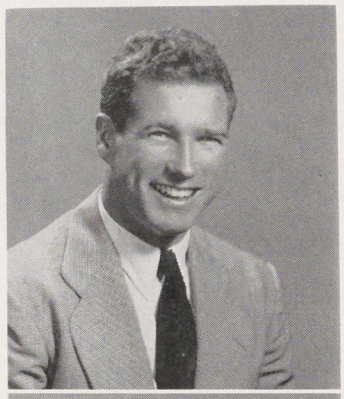

SECONDARY — Lansford, Pa.

A friendly air and a casual smile characterize John. Although he is interested in several sports, golf is his favorite. His one great ambition is to hit a low 70 on the golf course. He has been an active member of Mask and Zany and the Choral Club. John handled the managerial role for the wrestling team during his earlier years at ESSTC.

ROBERT P. McCULLOUGH

HEALTH EDUCATION — Reading, Pa

"Mac", one of our better athletes, is a very aggressive person. Whether it be studies or sports, he works diligently to get the best results possible. Bob has been invaluable to the football teams. His other varied interests led to his position as secretary of Men's Executive Council and vice-president of the Junior Class. Upon graduation Bob, expects to join his family in Oregon.

JAMES J. McELHENNY

HEALTH EDUCATION — Morea, Pa.

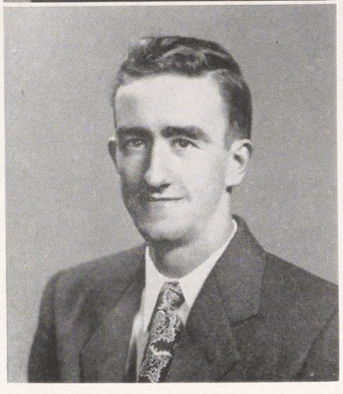

A man of many enthusiasms, Jim is fast in every sense of the word, he runs circles around his opponents on the basketball floor or on the gridiron. Jim is one of the best natured bulwarks of ESSTC. His enthusiasm and capacity for hard work in his field will stand in good stead as a Physical Educator.

DORIS A. MACK

ELEMENTARY — Mt. Bethel, Pa.

Striking in looks, poised to the "Nth" degree, "Dos" possesses ingenuity in designing, making her own clothes, working in a kitchen, or decorating a room. "Dos" transferred from Ursinus College in her sophomore year. Her wide range of interests are acknowledged by membership in Kappa Delta Pi, World Outlook, Art Club, and as an FTA council member.

PAUL J. MAGUIRE

SECONDARY — Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"Mac" is the fellow who is always on his way to, or just getting back from, a mysterious somewhere. Although carrying a full schedule of courses, he finds time for other activities. As president of the Men's Chorus, his musical ability was manifested vocally in the Glee Club, while his initiative and industry gained him the Vice-Presidency of SCA.

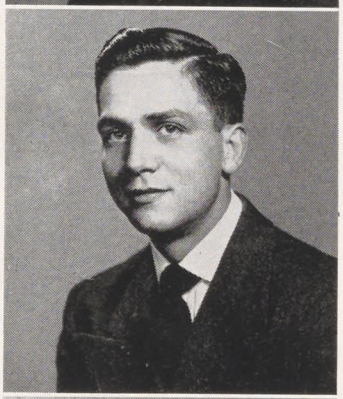

JOHN F. MAHAR

HEALTH EDUCATION — Rensselaer, N. Y.

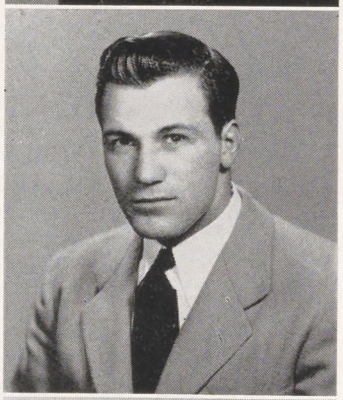

Quiet and unassuming, John has a reservoir of original ideas and opinions. Extreme individuality and independence give zest to his pursuit of the arts and finer things in life. Cooperative and tolerant, John refuses to be conspicuous in his achievements or to force his opinions on others. A meticulous dresser, he prefers tinkering with alarm clocks to rug-cutting.

FRANK L. MARHEFKA

HEALTH EDUCATION — Shamokin, Pa.

Besides slithering precariously around corners in his "Plymouth", "Pepper" travels right along in his various courses. Usually smiling, he's always ready for a friendly jawing match. He's efficient too—that's probably why he helps the various teams as manager. While he takes student teaching seriously, Frank has never eliminated activities and sociability from his schedule. He likes football, basketball, and Glee Club.

NICHOLAS A. MASTRODOMENICO

HEALTH EDUCATION — East Orange, N. J.

"Nick" tells the tallest tales with the straightest face. Other delights center around sports stories, with time out for bridge and pinochle. Adept at arguing on both sides of almost any question, although very positive in his opinions, "Nick's" bursts of enthusiasm are frequent and spontaneous. A staunch member of Varsity "S", he vents his talents in this organization.

TONI MAXWELL

ELEMENTARY — East Stroudsburg, Pa

Toni hails from England where she received her fine educational background. During her first three years here, Toni's small daughter and her playmates were always seen by her side. A quiet woman, she has won a place in the hearts of her college friends with her ever-ready willingness to help and English humor. Toni has been a very active member of the Blue Pencil Club.

ALBERT J. MAZALESKY

HEALTH EDUCATION — Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

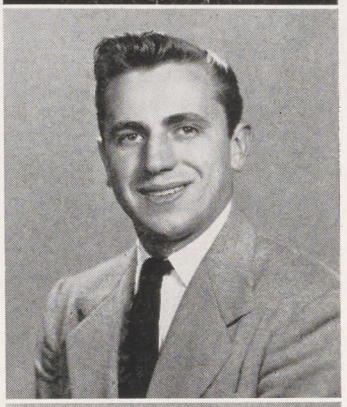

Business man "Al" carries that determined and purposeful mien into all his numerous activities. In the summer he is a capable checker on the summer recreational programs in the Poconos. The year around he possesses that busy air which identifies him as being of wide knowledge and varied interests. A rapid-fire salesman with an eager and convincing manner, he is the 1948 Stroud's Advertising manager.

GEORGE MERMON

SECONDARY — Nesquehoning, Pa.

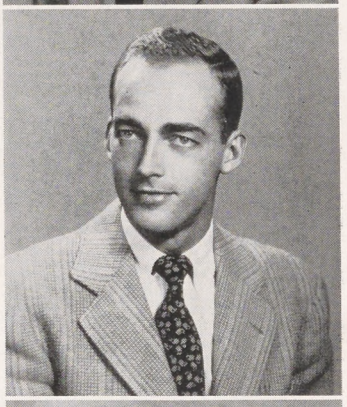

To some of his close friends, George is known as the "questioner." His desire to know everything, coupled with his sincere interest in others, will make him an asset to any school faculty. On campus, he was one of the "Beau Brummels." George was active in the Nature Club and the Student Christian Association.

JOHN E. MESSINGER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Palmerton, Pa.

Tall, wiry "Skip", a transfer from Lehigh University, proved to be one of the best-liked fellows on campus. A clean-cut combination of scholar and athlete, he has made an impressive record at ESSTC. A major in the health education field, "Skip" lent his talents to the track field, the basketball floor, and the tennis court.

ADELAIDE A. MILLER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Glen Lyon, Pa.

"Addie", longing for old ESSTC, returned this year to become certified in Health Education. All the year round, the ever-famous "I can transfer" could be heard resounding through Center. Small but mighty, she may seem meek, but when trouble beckons you'll find her "Johnny on the spot." Ah, yes, Addie's broad smile and merry comments have highlighted many moments of our campus associations.

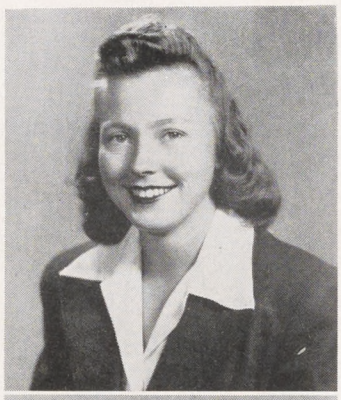

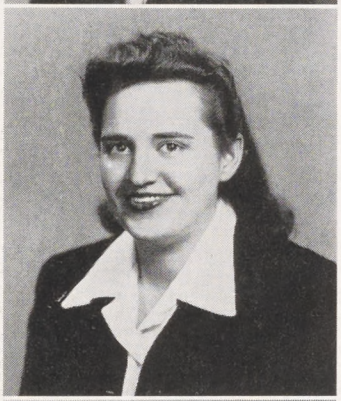

JANE E. MOLL

HEALTH EDUCATION — Hamburg, Pa.

One of our top-ranking mental machines, Jane showed versatility. She achieved membership in Kappa Delta Pi, served as a member of Woman's Executive Council, and president of the Women's Choral Club. As a member of the varsity basketball and hockey teams, this attractive "Miss" can't be overlooked and who would want to? A born wit, Jane has ample time for serious thought.

MARION R. MOORE

HEALTH EDUCATION — Roselle Park, N. J.

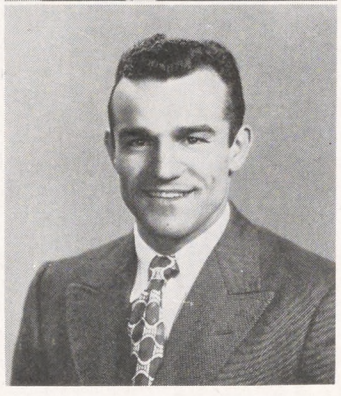

Here's a gal brimmin' over with originality, humor, and activity. She played in the band, sang in the chorus, and directed the Alpha Psi Omega and Mask and Zany workshop. Marion played varsity tennis and was student manager of the varsity hockey team. Various offices filled by this capable "Miss" were: class secretary in her Sophomore year, Women's Executive Council, and Assistant Editor of the Stroud.

J. MILTON MOYER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Reading, Pa.

Joe is the ever industrious, persevering student who found time to assume the role of sweater-salesman in Shawnee Lodge. Alertly interested in campus activities, he claims membership in the Health and Physical Education Club, SCA, and Nature Club. Joe has also displayed a great deal of interest in our program of intra-mural sports.

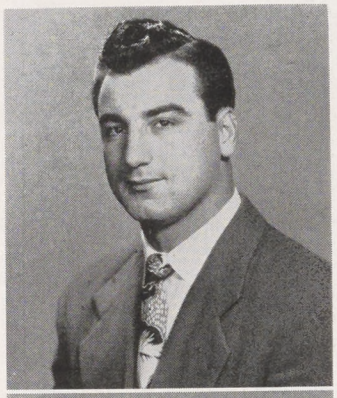

JOHN W. MOYER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Sinking Springs, Pa.

"Muscle-man Rock", a page from Charles Atlas' catalogue, he got the upholstery while preparing for his ring career. He's a flash on the cinder-track or in a crowd. Ambitious and a willing worker, the "Rock" was a very active member of Varsity "S" Club, Health Education Club, and FTA. He operates with little wasted effort and has a reason for everything he does.

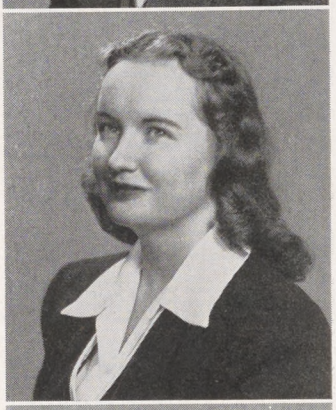

JOHN NATALE

HEALTH EDUCATION — Red Bank, N. J.

"Buck" is one of the amiable, jovial, and sincere members of our class. He is a rabid sports follower and excels in golf. Active in social functions he holds membership in the Health Education Club and FTA. "Buck" participated in basketball, football and track. His pleasant disposition and genuine personality have won him many sincere friends during his college career.

ELLEN A. O'HARE

SECONDARY — Shenandoah, Pa.

Here we have brains, looks, and personality combined into one. A model student, Ellen has had optional attendance as well as membership in Kappa Delta Pi. Her clear literary ability has manifested itself in her membership in the Blue Pencil Club, Stroud Courier Staff, and the Yearbook Staff. Ellen is also secretary of the Senior Class.

LYDIA S. PANKRATZ

SECONDARY — Milanville, Pa.

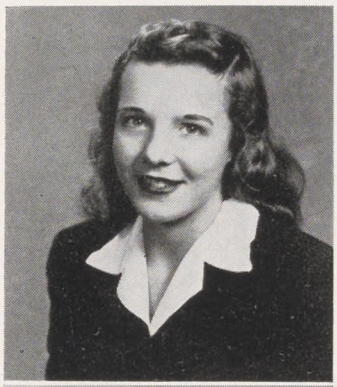

Since Lydia obtained her "Mrs." degree early last spring, her main interest of being a devoted wife has not hampered her campus activities. Contributing her faculties to the Choral Club for four years, the SCA, and the Stroud Staff, she has shown a fine spirit of cooperation. Scholastically, she has emphasized Geography and Social Studies. Calm and gentlemannered, she exhibits a perfect nonchalance.

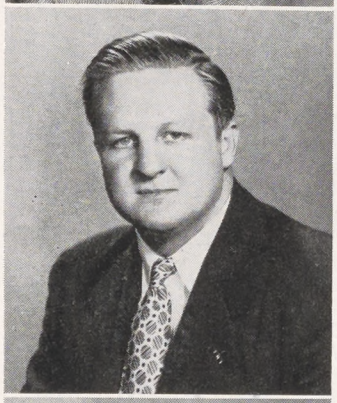

ANN A. PRINZO

ELEMENTARY — Old Forge, Pa.

Warmth and charm have made good friends for Ann in many college circles, yet a mysterious quality of remoteness makes her seem unattainable to them all. Moods whimsical or serious come in rapid succession. Enthusiastic about swing music, she also loves dancing. Ann devotes her extracurricular time to the Stroud Courier, Stroud Yearbook Staff, ACE and Women's Executive Council.

DOROTHY H. QUIER

ELEMENTARY — Hellertown, Pa.

Don't let her quiet manner deceive you, she's really a wit with a contagious laugh. Being very ambitious, Dottie accelerated to graduate in three years, which were packed with activity, for not only was she an active member of WAA, Social Council, and Stroud Staff, but also a loyal deserving and qualified president of ACE, and vice-president of SCA.

LOUIS J. RANDON

HEALTH EDUCATION — Wilkes Barre, Pa.

Universally well-liked, democratic, and affable, Lou has been a definite asset to our Senior Class. Being a diligent student-teacher who is deeply absorbed in his work does not prevent his friendliness from being always apparent. An all-around athlete, Lou could put on any game uniform and look good. Week-ends Lou "takes off" to his wife and nine-months old daughter.

ALFRED H. RANGER

HEALTH EDUCATION — So. Plainfield, N. J.

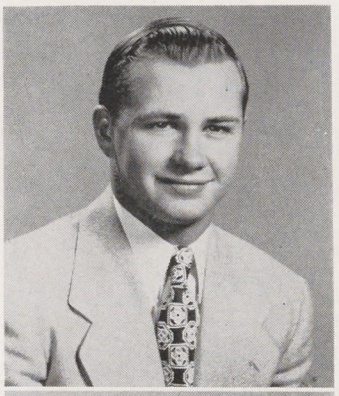

Al's placid smile and friendliness are a far cry from his ferocity as a varsity football toter. He is one of the most amiable and jovial fellows in our class and has always been a rugged competitor, both on the gridiron and on the wrestling mat. His aggressiveness and zest for life will provide an exciting future.

ANNETTA H. REBER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Hamburg, Pa.

"Senator", from Hamburg, represented our class in the Student Senate. She played varsity basketball and hockey. "Senator" could really cover territory on court and field. She was a member of the Health Education Club, and of WAA. Weekend jaunts to the "good old farm" took Annetta away off campus, but not too often for us to discover that she was one "regular gal".

ROBERT W. REESE

HEALTH EDUCATION — Scranton, Pa.

Bob is that pleasant person who approaches everyone with his characteristic smile. There is never a dull moment with him, and those who know him well certify that his chief aim is to make other people happy. An outstanding athlete, Bob excels in football and swimming, and participated in Varsity "S" and SCA.

CHARLOTTE M. REED

HEALTH EDUCATION — Frackville, Pa.

"Choc"—quiet on the surface—with fun and laughter underneath, is a willing worker who is ready to give help wherever needed. She has contributed to ESSTC by being the secretary and treasurer of the Health Education Club, a member of Kappa Delta Pi and an outstanding guard on the varsity basketball team. In her leisure time she plays the piano.

WILLIAM F. REEDY

SECONDARY — Pittston, Pa.

A quiet and conservative manner characterizes Reedy. His sympathetic and cooperative way together with participation in extra-curricular affairs has won for him many friends. Bill served as president of Mask and Zany, was a member of The Blue Pencil Club, Choral Club, and was treasurer of the Debating Club. Reading and the theatre are his main interests.

MICHAEL J. RENDISH

HEALTH EDUCATION — Lansford, Pa.

Not the noisy type, Mike saves his chatter until he has something worthwhile to say. In the fall, his time and effort are consumed by varsity football, his first love, participation in which earned him membership in the Varsity "S" Club. He is also a member of SCA, Health Education Club, and FTA.

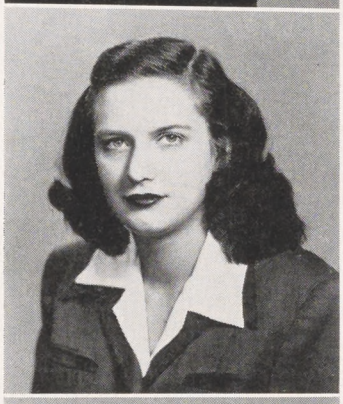

GLORIA B. RHOADS

SECONDARY — East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Gloria is small in stature, attractive and neat in appearance with a quiet personality which has made her popular with all who know her. Although enrolled in Secondary curriculum, she enjoys sports and excels at swimming. Gloria, married in August 1947 to Donald Rhoads, prefers the domestic life. She is an energetic rug-cutter and a lover of the classics.

MARTHA L. RICHLINE

ELEMENTARY — Stewartsville, Pa.

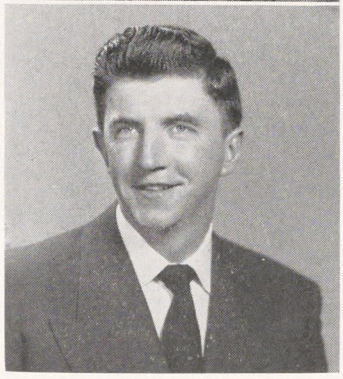

Constantly cheerful, "Ricky" shows an essential vitality with deep-rooted enthusiasm for all that interests her, which includes everything. Possessing an uncanny knack of seeing life's amusing side, she persistently seeks a good time. Ricky's extra-curricular activities include SCA and Euclidean Club. She also held offices as treasurer and secretary in ACE.

BERNARD N. ROCKOVICH

HEALTH EDUCATION — West Hazleton, Pa.

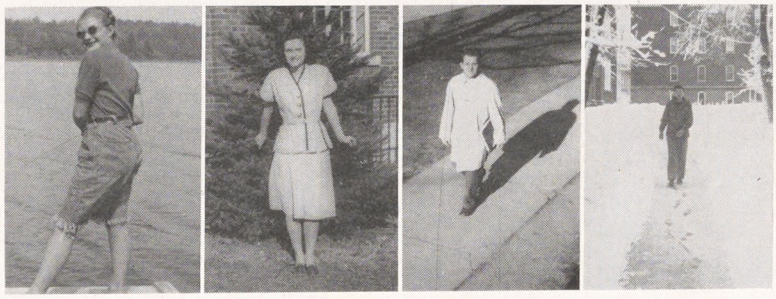

Undemonstrative, genuine, and democratic, "Rock" plays the game in dead earnest. A sterling football back, one might think him a strong, silent type. But that "Rock" humor comes out now and then in the subtlest of ways, and you change your ideas radically. An athlete's athlete and a man's man, "Rock" will go a long way in his chosen field.

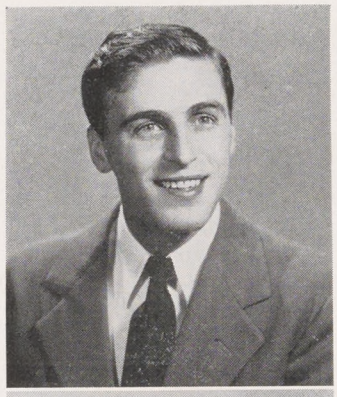

ROBERT J. ROGERS

SECONDARY — Easton, Pa.

Bob possesses an outstanding personality which cannot help spelling success for him in the coming years. He came to ESSTC during his Sophomore year after spending one year at Penn State. Bob is active in all events of educational and social importance. He is a loyal member of Alpha Phi Omega and the Health Education Club.

ANTHONY L. ROMANO

HEALTH EDUCATION — Weatherly, Pa.

Most of Tony's time at college has been spent in running things, among them his job as president of both the Freshman and Sophomore classes as president of the Health Education Club, and as a member of Kappa Delta Pi and "Who's Who". His keeness and capacity for hard work are apparent from the results he gets in his studies and outside activities.

OLGA ROMANOVITCH

SECONDARY — Olyphant, Pa.

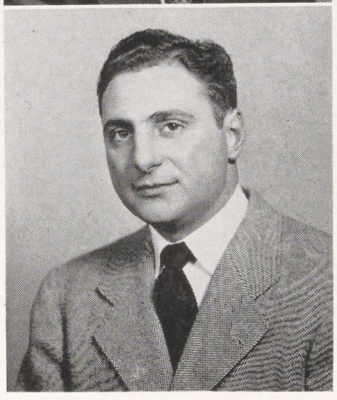

A true asset behind the library desk, Olga gives courteous service to all. She has been an industrious worker throughout her college career, and her ever-ready smile greets everyone she meets. Her predominant interests, (other than that frequent weekend visitor) mathematics and science, have been furthered by her membership in the Nature Club and Euclidean Club, where she held the office of treasurer.

DANIEL ROSKOS

HEALTH EDUCATION — Hazleton, Pa.

Picture if you can a sterling athlete who possesses a body comparable to that of a Greek God. No one can forget Dan's feats on the football field where he was listed with the leading scorers in the nation. Dan distinguished himself by his conscientiousness and boyish sincerity. Always on the go, he buzzes busily about campus, gets his work done, and then shoves off for home.

FRED M. ROSSI

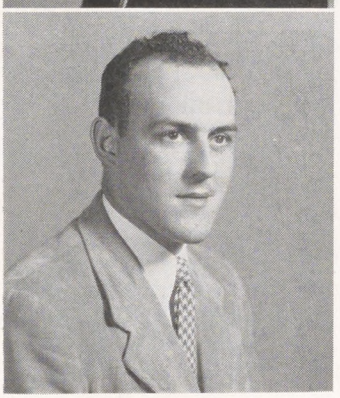

HEALTH EDUCATION — Pittston, Pa.

With a maximum of dispatch and a minimum of noise Fred goes his way doing just about everything an ESSTC student can do. Besides taking an active part in the Student Senate, he ranks with the best in baseball and football—all of this with a complete lack of self-importance. He blends sportsmanship and administrative talent into a real dynamic whole.

LLOYD O. SALLING, JR.

HEALTH EDUCATION — Mahwan, N. J.

This robust gent has a sharp sense of humor which frequently sends him into spells of quaking laughter. A vociferous swain with an eye for the fair and a flare for fun, "Red" might not impress you as primarily a shining light "study wise". He carries himself with a certain jovial dignity which degenerates on the basketball floor into a brand of real officiating.

FRANCES B. SCAPELLATI

HEALTH EDUCATION — Bangor, Pa.

The chief reason for the "bang" in Bangor—that's "Scap"! Her impish humor, well disguised by deceivingly innocent brown eyes makes itself known in a myriad of other fashions. Brutally frank but always sincere, Betty endears herself to all she meets. The gym team, Stroud Courier, Stroud Yearbook, SCA and WAA served at outlets for Betty's excess energy.

RAMONA E. SEVERANCE

ELEMENTARY — Waverly, Pa.

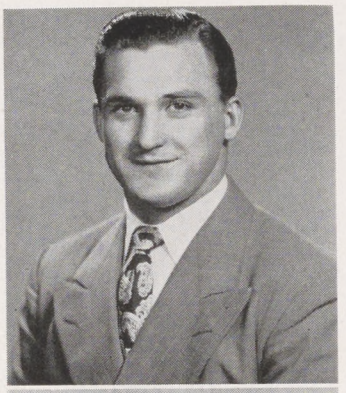

Unique name, reddish hair, blue eyes, perky nose, insatiable appetite for cheeseburgers and cashew-nut sundaes are clues to this affable personality. Making people feel at ease is one of Ramona's rare gifts. Dancing and good music, getting things done, being there when needed, sports, are among her "I likes". Ramona was active in Women's Executive Council, ACE, and WAA.

JAMES D. SHAFER

SECONDARY — Stroudsburg, Pa.

Fond of joking, yet calm and collected in any situation, Jim is one of those rare persons whom you can tell to do something and be sure it's going to be well done. Jim does his rather considerable bit for Alma Mater on the soccer and football fields. For real relaxation he goes in for disc jockeying.

ROBERT M. SHUMSKIS

HEALTH EDUCATION — St. Clair, Pa.

Bob is the possessor of a winning smile and an outstanding personality. His efficiency and willingness to shoulder responsibility will take him places. Bob played regular center on the undefeated "Warrior" eleven and was active in the Varsity "S" Club, Nature Club, and SCA. He recently joined the ranks of the married men on campus.

EMILY L. SMITH

ELEMENTARY — Pocono Lake, Pa.

Whenever you hear a gay melody, "Murph" is probably near, for a natural aptitude for music is one of her chief characteristics. She is rather quiet when among people but those who know her see also her fun-loving nature. She has been an active member of the Glee Club and World Outlook, and also served as secretary of the Spanish Club.

HEALTH EDUCATION — Miffintown, Pa.

Vim, vigor, and vitality—that's Fae. A transfer from Syracuse University, Fae plans to transfer from college to matrimony in June. Generous, kind, and cheerful, she can usually be found dashing to or from Tom's. She has been a member of Mask and Zany and the Health Education Club, and she has been treasurer of SCA.

JOSEPH J. SMITH

HEALTH EDUCATION — Mahonoy City, Pa.

Joe, one of our more merry-sided students, is a neat appearing guy who is always dependable. His versatility is evident in his role as president of the Publications Council. Joe at times is a happy-go-lucky, care-free fellow. The only fault he has to find with life at ESSTC is the necessity for getting up for his curriculum class.

LOIS L. SMITH

SECONDARY — East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Lois, the girl with the flashing smile and beaming personality is one of our busiest Seniors. She is an active member of World Outlook, Spanish Club, Women's Executive Council, and served as treasurer of the Art Club. We find in Lois a sincere friend who is always willing to shoulder responsibility. After securing her B.S., she will pursue her Mrs.

ELWOOD R. SOMMERS

HEALTH EDUCATION — East Stroudsburg, Pa.

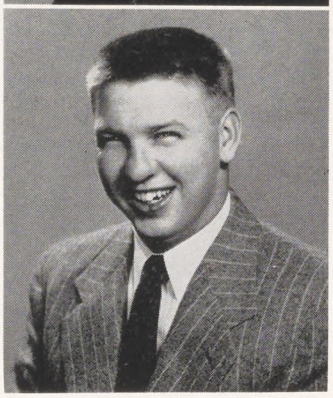

"Elly" is one of the friendliest men on campus, where he is known for his quiet humor and spirit of cooperation. His ability and leadership on the 1946 soccer team entitled him to "All-American" honors. He is a member of the Varsity "S" and Health Education Clubs, and also performed on the baseball and basketball teams.

FRANCINE G. STEINER

ELEMENTARY — New York, N. Y.

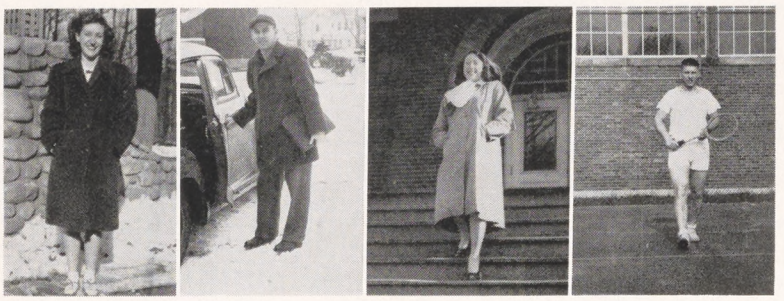

A congenial and affable person, "Fran" has added many links to her friendship chain since her transfer from NYU during the 1946-47 semester. Candid in her opinions, she makes up her mind and lets the world know it. "Fran" plans to continue her studies upon graduation. She served as treasurer for the ACE.

HOWARD F. STITZER

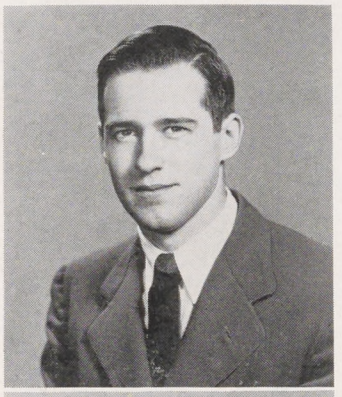

HEALTH EDUCATION — Kingston, Pa.

"Stitz" was a member of our football, basketball and tennis teams during his college days. He was as cheerful and amiable off the athletic field as he was versatile on it. His quick wit and winning smile have made him a class favorite. "Stitz" expects to leave the bachelor's life behind him soon after graduation.

ROBERT J. STRADLING

SECONDARY — East Stroudsburg, Pa.

A new addition to ESSTC after attending Yale, Georgia Tech, and Berea College in Kentucky, now a day student living in the "Burg", Bob has taken an immediate interest in campus life, and it didn't take him long to decide that he liked ESSTC. For its part, the college was quick to reciprocate and Bob has been a most welcome addition to the class of '48.

MARGARET A. STRUNK

SECONDARY — Minisink Hills, Pa.

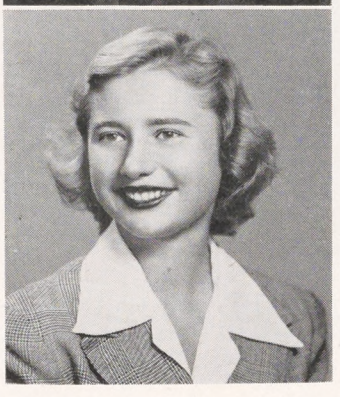

"Margy" is our fair senorita from the hills of Minisink. Sympathetic and companionable, she is admired by all who have found her to be a true and generous friend, ever ready to lend a helping hand. She has been an active member of World Outlook, Euclidean Club, and WRA. She was president of the Art Club and secretary of the Spanish Club.

REGINA M. STRZALKA

SECONDARY — Peckville, Pa.

The "Z" in Strzalka is silent, but the zest and zip in Regina are well pronounced. When tickling the ivories, her favorites are "Nola" and "Polonaise"; pleasing both the classical and popular music lovers. Her tricky mind has earned her membership in Kappa Delta Pi, where she has served as secretary. Regina is also a member of the Euclidean Club, and The Stroud Courier.

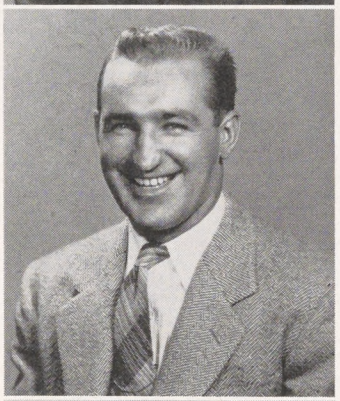

ELEANOR H. SULYK

HEALTH EDUCATION — Kingston, Pa.

Striking blonde attractiveness reinforced by character and a keen mind makes "Ele" an all-around girl. Her mental prowess obtained for her membership in Kappa Delta Pi and Who's Who. Constantly on the go, "Ele" has done a very fine job as Business manager for the Stroud. Her other activities include SCA, Health Education Club, and FTA.

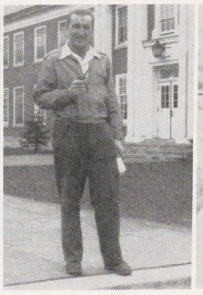

JOHN SWEDISH

HEALTH EDUCATION — Gilberton, Pa.

"Ready, willing and able" is the best way to describe John in a few words. A quiet manner and honest sincerity is the secret of John's ability to win and hold friends. His college career has been highlighted by his membership in Who's Who, Publication Council, and as Editor of the Stroud Courier. John was also an active participant in intramural sports.

THADDEUS A. SZELA

HEALTH EDUCATION — Dallas, Pa.

"Ted" transferred here after spending his first two years of college at Oregon. Though he has serious moments, Ted never worries, for everything will turn out all right. With cropped haircut and pipe in mouth, he looks to be chock full of wisdom and a man of affairs. Athletics dominate his program, for he is active in football, baseball and intramurals.

MICHAEL W. TICHY

HEALTH EDUCATION — Pittston, Pa.

Mike has impressed everyone as an energetic, enthusiastic student. His marked talents for originality and organization came to the fore when he was elected to editorship of The '48 Stroud. Always the conscientious worker, Mike gave the job his best. He was a member of football and baseball teams, Who's Who, Varsity "S", Health Education Club, and manages the gym team.

DORIS V. TITMAN

SECONDARY — Mt. Bethel, Pa.

Genuine character coupled with genuine blonde tresses characterize Doris. Her sunny smile reflects her equally sunny disposition. Doris accepts life as she finds it and gets the utmost from it. A beaming blush is displayed on the slightest provocation. She handles her two mischievous roomies with skill. The rest of the time Doris busies herself with SCA, Nature Club, and WRA.

BERTHA J. TOHKANEN

HEALTH EDUCATION — Spencer, N. Y.

Bertha is our capable secretary who has filled that office for the Nature Club, Social Council, and SCA. She was a member of the gym team, Varsity "S", and the junior varsity hockey team. 'Twas rumored that Bertha had an old trait—she preferred springs for diving before retiring. Bertha's cheerful disposition earned for her the affectionate regard of all.

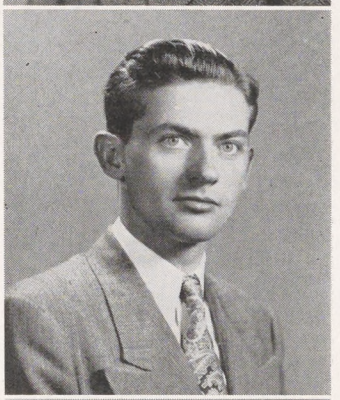

SAMUEL T. TRAPASSO

HEALTH EDUCATION — Moriah, N. Y.

One of the steadiest workers among the seniors, Sam takes his social life in small but concentrated doses. Extended book sessions are broken by recourse to pinochle. Loyalty in friendship, straight-forwardness, and fairness in all dealings have brought Sam universal admiration and respect. Membership in the Health Education Club, Varsity "S" and the wrestling team claim a great deal of his extra-curricular time.

STEPHEN TREAT

SECONDARY — Lakeville, Pa.

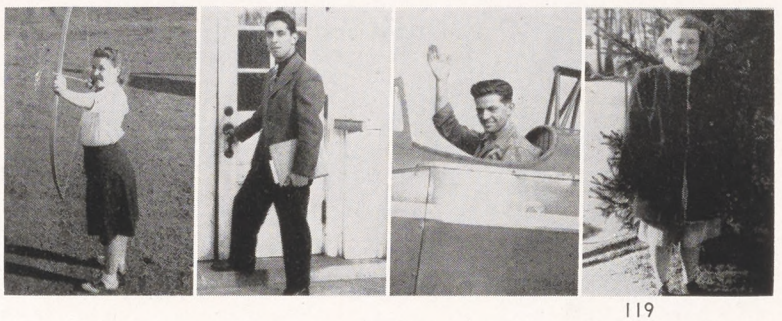

When we say Steve is "up in the air" we mean that literally, for his greatest joy if flying. He is not only a licensed flier but owns his own plane. A jovial mixer, he is also one of our most earnest workers. Steve was a faithful member of the Choral Club for four years.

VERA D. TRUESDALE

ELEMENTARY — Waverly, Pa.

A hard and conscientious worker, Vera seldom wastes a minute. A voluminous correspondent, she concentrates her affections on a certain "John". One can identify Vera by her theme song, "Penn State Will Shine Tonight". She is often discovered removing crumbs from her floor after an evening snack. Vera has been an industrious and efficient president of ACE.

THELMA J. VARCOE

ELEMENTARY — Honesdale, Pa.

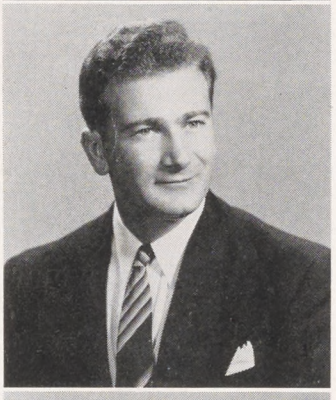

Irrepressible "Thel", though seemingly quiet, has a general joy of living and a delightful sense of humor (accompanied by an inimitable chuckle) which are highly valued by her friends. But reinforcing this light side, is a deep unforced steadiness which makes her a capable and efficient organizer. "Thel's" social consciousness comes to the fore in her work with SCA, and Women's Executive Council.

GLORIA E. VELEY

HEALTH EDUCATION — Bloomsburg, Pa.

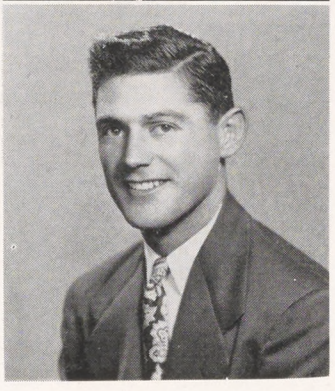

This winsome French gal is an "all-around" athlete. Gloria was a diver for the swimming team, played varsity basketball, is an excellent gymnast, and tennis player, and an adept golfer. She served as secretary for the Athletic Council, was a member of Varsity "S", WAA, Health Education Club, and on the photography staff of The Stroud.

JAMES R. VIRGILIO

HEALTH EDUCATION — Easton, Pa.

Jim is a fellow of sympathetic nature and many moods. Fun-loving, friendly, and generous, the "Fly" is constantly on the move. He is the type who makes others feel that they can really talk to and confide in him; he supplements this enviable talent with a gay sense of humor. Jim has proved himself an able athlete in baseball and football.

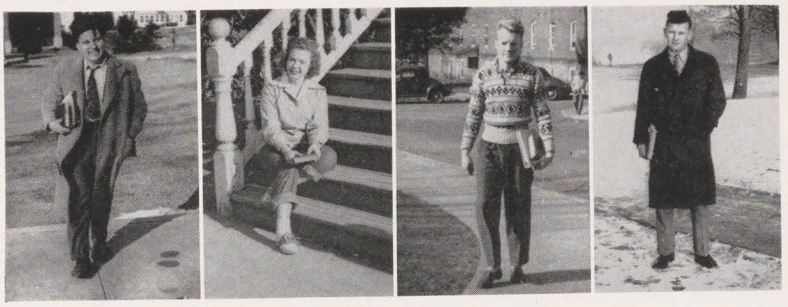

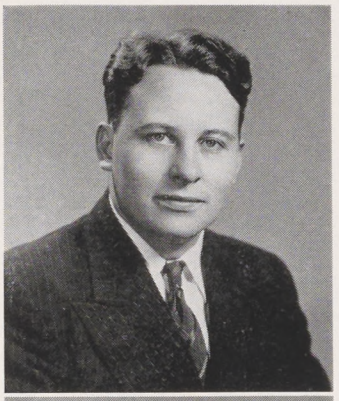

EDWARD J. VOGELSONG

HEALTH EDUCATION — Mechanicsburg, Pa.

"Ed" is the kind of fellow you look at and say, "I'm for him." A clean-cut combination of scholar and athlete, he has amassed an impressive string of honors at ESSTC. "Ed" played on the varsity tennis and basketball squads, and served as vice-president of the Senior Class, FTA, Varsity "S", and Men's Executive Council.

CLIFFORD J. WAAS

SECONDARY — New York, N. Y.

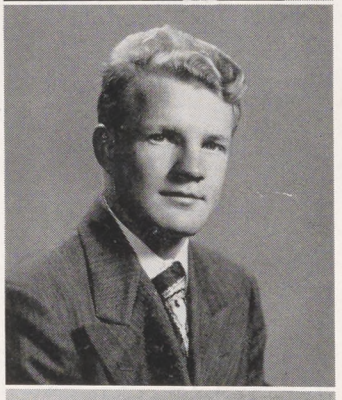

Cliff is industrious, friendly and sincere. His varied activities at ESSTC included the vice-presidency of the World Outlook Club, and membership in Mask and Zany, the Spanish Club, and the Choral Club. He recently joined the ranks of the Benedicts. For real relaxation Cliff passes the time of the day playing chess. With characteristic quiet genius, he disposes many baffling chess problems.

EDITH M. WASSER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Lahaska, Pa.

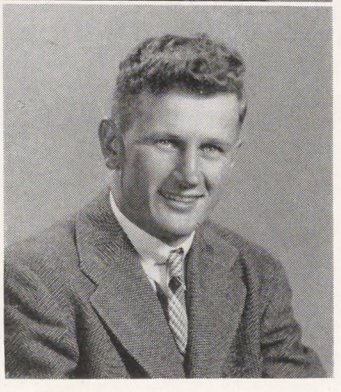

An infectious smile and a beckoning manner offer the most appropriate description of "Edie"! Artist, singer, and hockey player, she has been very active in extra-curricular activities. Lately, however, her talents have turned toward home on weekends. "Edie's" activities include the Choral Club, Mask and Zany, and the Health Education Club.

DAVID R. WEILER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Reading, Pa.

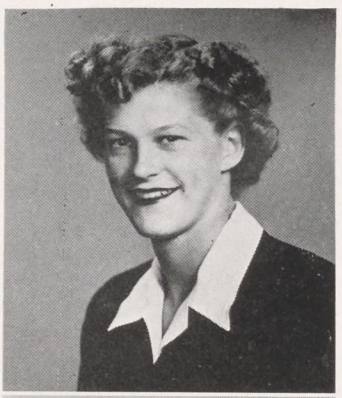

Dave is a happy-go-lucky blond whose chief passion is relating side-splitting sea yarns. He is an avid record collector who swoons over Benny Goodman specialties. This versatile Dutchman plays a mean ukelule and has been the featured musician and leading man on many a Sunday afternoon hiking excursion. Dave gives realistic "popeye" imitations at the slightest provocation.

HARRY E. WERKHEISER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Tannersville, Pa.

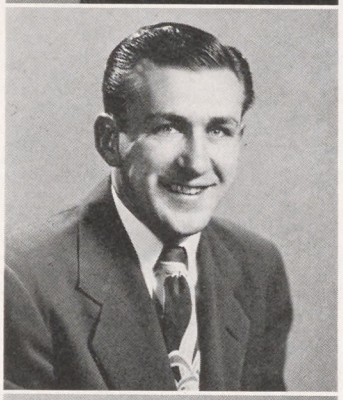

Harry, "health edder" extraordinary, is efficient, methodical, and deeply serious about most things. He has a marvelous knack for eliminating unnecessary detail and for scuttling poorly-thought-out motions. Wonderful company at any time, Harry is quiet and genuine; he seems always to be observing the world. He will always be remembered for his outstanding performances on the diamond.

MARIAN A. WERNER

HEALTH EDUCATION — Robesonia, Pa.

Moving around the basketball floor like a current of "athleticity", is Marian. This lass with the Robesonian accent has played a prominent part in various school activities. She was a member of varsity basketball team, president of WRA, and held membership in the Health Education Club. Peppy, congenial, and good-natured, she is assured success.

THOMAS WILLIAMS

HEALTH EDUCATION — Honesdale, Pa.

"Tucker", a good-looking lad with an easy line, is Honesdale's gift to ESSTC. There is no one who can resuscitate a dying bull session or dinner conservation as he can, bringing to any topic an amazing wealth of miscellaneous knowledge. As an athlete he plays a good brand of ball on the soccer field.

JOSEPH E. WILSON

HEALTH EDUCATION — Mahonoy City, Pa.

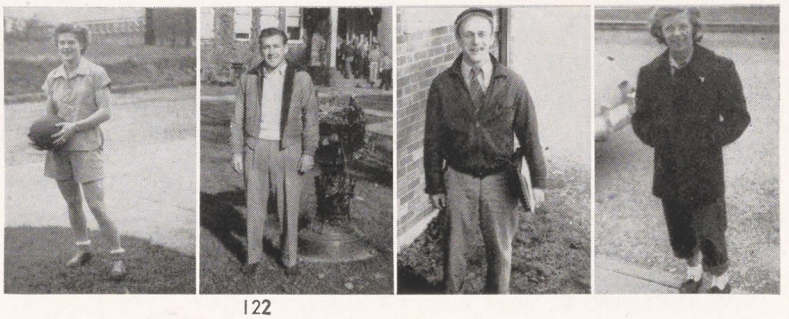

"Small but mighty"—Joe is just that. His enviable record in track and soccer is something to remember. In addition to being a polished gymnast, he's poetry in motion on the diving board. This active participation earned him membership in the Varsity "S" Club and made him co-captain of the soccer team. Other extra-curricular activities which interested Joe were Alpha Phi Omega and Clio Club.

EMELYN J. WOLF

HEALTH EDUCATION — York Haven, Pa.

Carefree and happy-go-lucky describes "Emy", our star acrobatic dancer. Not all her time was spent in dancing, for she was a member of the Euclidean Club, Nature Club, WRA, SCA, and the Health Education Club. "Emy" also served on the Stroud Courier staff. Don't let her quiet manner fool you; she's lots of fun and a dependable friend.

WARREN ZIMMERMAN, JR.

HEALTH EDUCATION — Lehighton, Pa.

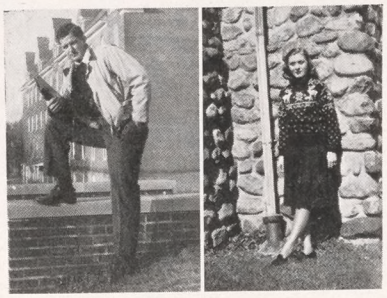

"Zimmy" is the biggest man in this year's senior class. His large collection of nick-names testifies to the affection he engenders. Some of his titles are Claude, Moses, and Warrie. He is one of our married seniors and plans to travel west upon graduation. "Zimmy" has been active in football, basketball, and track.

THERESA E. MOREKEN

SECONDARY — Portland, Pa.

"Terry", although a day student, has made herself well-known on campus. A composer at heart, Terry "tickles the ivories" with her original compositions. You name it and she'll play it! Not only has she made her mark musically, but scholastically too, having served as Vice-president of Kappa Delta Phi. She also was a member of the Art Club, Glee Club, and French Club.
