

On The Way Up

That tower going up between Springfield Pike and the southwest corner of Summit Park in Glendale will be a 400,000-gallon water storage tower when it's completed. Part of a $2.2-million rehabilitation of Glendale's water supply system, the new $500,000 tower is to be finished in May.