E.CO. FIVE TRAINS FOR TOUGH SCHEDULE

By Sergt. Jimmy Cannon
Editor

Small, swift and cunning, the basketball team of E company, 1229th Reception Center, is rounding into shape for a tough schedule which extends through the winter months.

The smart quick-passing Negro five dropped its first game of the season to the 1229th's regular team but looked classy as it went down to defeat in what can only be described as a practise scrimmage. A last minute rally by their opponents overmauled the E company courteers, the final score being 16 to 15.

The E company quintet is handicapped by size. Their starting line-up is composed of men of average height and basketball has become a game of tall men. But what they lack in size and bulk, they make up in speed and slick passing. Once they start to click as a unit, they should beat many a team.

As this was the first game of the season, their team-work was ragged but improved as the game went on. Aggressive and rugged, they broke up many plays and showed a defense which overcame the towering reach of their opponents.

Sergt. George White, manager of the club, who formerly played basketball for Linton High School and The Flashes of the Bronx Big 10 League, declared that Sergt. Alfred B. Burk was arranging a tough schedule for the outfit. Among their opponents will be Dover State College, [illegible]
