Note: ALL TEACHERS, PLEASE READ THIS AND KEEP IT FOR FUTURE
REFERENCE. MANY OF YOUR QUESTIONS ARE ANSWERED.

PHILOSOPHY

The Thomas County Board of Education believes that it has the responsibility of developing a program of education in the public schools under its jurisdiction which will provide all youth opportunities for becoming happy and useful members of society.

The board recognized many individual differences among students: some have greater potential than others; all do not develop and learn at the same rate of speed; each may have different interests and needs. Because of these and other individual differences, the board recognizes its obligation to the slow learner as well as to the fast learner; to the emotionally disturbed as well as to the well adjusted; to the sick as well as to the healthy; and to the poor as well as to the wealthy.

Likewise, the board accents its obligations to provide curricula suitable for students planning to attend college, for those wishing to enter trades and industry, and for those who will become self-employed.

In addition to responsibilities for students of regular school age, the board recognizes and accents its obligation for certain educational needs of out-of-school youth and adults.

Running concurrently with these obligations is the board's basic belief that schools should promote wholesome attitudes and spiritual values, healthy bodies, and an appreciation for the democratic way of life developed through experiences in democratic living within the school.

TENURE

The Thomas County Board of Education approves the following plans for continuing contracts effective with the 1964 - 65 school term:

Members of the Instructional and Administrative Staff to be placed on continuing service contracts under the following regulations:

1. Those who held a regular professional certificate (four-year level or above) issued by the Georgia Department of Education.
2. Those who have completed three years of service in the Thomas County School System.
3. Those who have been appointed in the Thomas County School System for the fourth successive year.
4. Each person to whom a continuing contract has been issued shall be entitled to continue in his or her position or in a similar position in the Thomas County School System, at the salary schedule authorized by the Thomas County Board of Education, without necessity for annual nomination or reappointment until such time as the position is discontinued or the person resigns.
5. Any member of County Instructional, Administrative or Supervisory Staff, who is under continuing contract, may be dismissed or may be returned to annual contract status for another three years when recommended by the superintendent, with good and sufficient reasons, at least three months before the close of the school year.
6. Should the Thomas County Board of Education have to choose from among its personnel who are on continuing contracts, as to whom should be retained; among the criteria to be considered shall be efficiency, comparability, character, and capacity to meet the educational needs of the community.

QUESTIONS TEACHERS MOST FREQUENTLY ASK ABOUT DISCIPLINE

1. Should a pupil ever be evicted from class?

Temporary removal of a child from class may be justified. If his behavior prevents the group from carrying on their work, he should be excluded from the room. But, the teacher should follow this disciplinary action at the end of the school day with a pupil conference to find out the reason for this misbehavior.

2. Are there times when a teacher should stand up to a pupil to save his own dignity and self-respect?

If an incident arises in which a teacher is publicly and maliciously pushed to assert his authority, the challenge might better be accepted. This demonstration of authority should be the last resort. It sometimes causes the teacher to "lose face" even more.

3. Is it advisable for a teacher to refer a trouble-making child to the principal's office?

Only if the referral is used as a last resort and not as an easy way out. The teacher who sends so called disciplinary cases to the office too frequently stands in danger of relinquishing his own role as a teacher. There is always a cause for a pupil to be a problem case and it is the teacher's responsibility to find the cause and this can be accomplished only through a mutual understanding of the teacher and pupil.

4. What is the main factor leading to classroom behavior problems?

Dull teaching! "This brings sluggish classroom activity. Children want to be busy and if the teacher does not direct this activity, someone else will."

5. Are disciplinary problems created only by the children?

No, the teacher may lay the basis for pupil misbehavior. The teacher who is tactless, who is insecure and unsure of himself, who demands a showdown with every pupil, creates a flock of disciplinary problems.

6. What is the general rule for insuring good discipline in the classroom?

Prevent misbehavior from arising in the first place, as much as humanly possible. A great deal can be done to insure good discipline. Appear before each class thoroughly prepared for any task. Be alert to the building of ill-feeling that may cause real trouble. Keep the classroom a place for learning.

CONCLUSION: All teachers should handle their own disciplinary problems. If the help of the principal is needed, go to him for a conference. Explain the specific problem to the principal and ask for advice, (in this way the teacher is handling his own problems and is gaining the respect of all the pupils). This is the only way to keep face before your class.

I have asked and answered these questions before but I feel that due to their importance, they should be brought to your attention at this time.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES RECOMMENDED CONCERNING TEXTBOOKS

1. All textbooks should be numbered before classes begin.
2. Textbooks will be issued by subject teachers. Subject teachers will draw the number of books of each kind as indicated by the registration rosters for each subject.
3. As the classes meet subject teachers will issue texts to the students, keeping a record of the book title, number, and condition of the book (N-new; G-good; P-poor), and the student's home room teacher. The original record of texts issued should be preserved by the subject teacher for subsequent checking of texts. A copy of this record should be turned in to the office.
4. Subsequent issuing, turn in or change in the student's textbook record will be recorded by the subject teacher. It is to be emphasized that teachers handle books only through the office. Teachers are requested not to replace or remove books from the book room without the authorization of the Principle.
5. Students who have lost texts should check with the subject teacher who issued the book to determine appropriate action necessary. Generally, the policy will be; if a student loses a book, he or she will be required by the subject teacher to pay for the lost text and receive another text. The teacher will receipt the student in order that he may receive a refund if the original text is found and returned. It is the teacher's responsibility to see that every student has and uses his text while in class.
6. It is recommended that students be required to keep texts in homeroom when not in use. Teachers are urged to be especially strict on other students using the room and molesting or disturbing texts left therein.
7. Books found on school grounds, on the floor, in halls, and on busses will be turned in to the office. STUDENTS WILL BE REQUIRED TO PAY A FINE PLUS DAMAGE TO BOOK BEFORE IT WILL BE RETURNED TO THEM.
8. It should be emphasized that these texts are the property of the State of Georgia and are loaned to students for use.
9. ALL TEXT BOOKS issued to students must be covered. It is the duty of the subject teacher to see that this is done.

REPORTING OF MISCONDUCT AND THE METHOD FOR CONDUCT GRADING

A demerit system is used for marking off for misconduct, which functions in this manner:

A student who has received no demerits for the six weeks will make an "A".

Each demerit will subject the student's grade to the subtraction of one point, starting at 95; ie, a student who gets ten demerits: $95 - 10 = 85 = B$ in conduct.

The demerit slip REPORT OF MISCONDUCT must be filed in the office and placed in the hands of each Home Room Teacher. All teachers are urged to use good judgment in the awarding of demerits and to be sure that the student being reported knows exactly the nature of the offense as recorded on the demerit slip.

Twenty-five (25) demerits in one six weeks period will fail a student for that period with some drastic action as deemed necessary by the Principal or acting Principal.

REMINDERS THAT WILL ENABLE OUR SCHOOL TO FUNCTION WITH EFFICIENCY

3. Students who attend school less than fifteen (15) days during six (6) weeks period no grades or credit for that period unless work is made up to the satisfaction of their subject teacher.

4. If a student spills food on the floor, he or she should aid lunchroom personnel in cleaning it up at once.
5. On leaving the lunch room, you should be careful to keep your voices subdued and stay away from windows and doorways in the buildings. Except in bad weather, students should never enter buildings during lunch period until the bell rings for your next class.

EXCUSES

1. Absence excuses must be checked in the office as soon as the student arrives at school and turned in to home room teacher on the day student returns to school.
2. Excuses should bear full name of the student, also relationship of signee to student, if someone other than the parent signs the excuse.
3. Students who find it necessary to miss a day from school for any reason other than illness should bring a written request to the principal beforehand.

ROOM CARE AND HEAT CONTROL

Teachers are expected to supervise ventilation, lighting, and general order of the room. The teacher leaving the room at the close of the school day is expected to close and lock the windows and adjust the blinds. Some chalkboards need to be cleaned more often than others.

Teachers are asked to lock their doors before going to lunch and to return in time to have doors open to receive students in the next session. Teachers need not wait in lunch lines in the cafeteria. They may go directly to the food counter to be served in order to have more time to eat lunch and return to their rooms for classes.

All of us should encourage careful use of school owned property. School furniture must be protected. If a student is found defacing any school property, he is to be sent immediately to the principal for an estimate of damage.

Posters should be put on bulletin boards only. The use of thumb tacks, scotch tape and other adhesive tapes on the walls is prohibited. Permission to hand posters should be obtained in the office.

HEAT CONTROL

Your help is needed in the solution of a problem in keeping heating and ventilating systems at the highest possible level of efficiency. Every effort is being made to provide all areas with proper heat and ventilation. To do so, however, requires that heating and ventilating controls be in operating condition.

Custodians and maintenance men have reported that in some instances they are unable to maintain proper heat and ventilation because controls (thermostats and unit ventilation controls) have been re-set and in some cases damaged. In some cases thermostats have been broken or damaged when the difficulty was due to some other cause.

Custodians and maintenance men are charged with the duty of maintaining such controls in operative condition, but they cannot do so if controls are tampered with by others. Failure of control to operate properly in one area may also affect all parts of the building.

Adjustment of controls for heating and ventilating systems should be made only by those responsible for their operation. If some area is not now being maintained at proper heat and ventilating level, report of the condition should be made immediately, in order that adjustment or repair can be made properly. This will not only result in better heat control, but will also prevent damage to controls and will reduce maintenance costs.
