GOOD TEACHING IS RARE AND SKILLFUL

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In all the clamorous, confused and contradictory talk about "education," one simple fact seems to get a lost; namely, that children are much better at learning than teachers are at teaching.

Too often, we blame a child for being uncomprehending, when we have simply not presented something in a form and manner that the child can grasp. Almost the whole art of teaching consists in bending down, rather than pulling up.

Good teaching is as skillful and as rare as concertizing on the piano; yet we seem to feel that almost anybody can be turned into a teacher with pay that would insult an illiterate construction worker. (Except for a few of the larger cities and more affluent suburbs.)

Educational groups that invite me to "sympose" with them often ask me what I think of "teaching machines" and televised courses; expecting me, as a humanist, to object to these devices.

Quite the contrary. I think a good teaching machine is a great improvement over a bad teacher, and that the personal presence is of value only when the personality itself has some particular value. We could make do with a half, or even a third, of the teachers we presently recruit, if we used their time effectively and intelligently.

I recently read an amusing example of good teaching that would not occur to most people in the same position, who would argue, harangue or over-explain, which is what unimaginative teachers do.

An old service navigator was flying with a green and cocksure pilot for the first time. "Change direction one degree to port," advised the navigator. "Impossible," said the pilot. "No one can fly this old crate that accurately; give me a decent amount of correction."

The navigator sighed: "Turn starboard four degrees." "Much better," called out the pilot, very pleased with himself. "Fine," replied the navigator drily. "Now turn five degrees to port."

	A	90 - 94	Excellent
	B +	85 - 89	Very Good
	B	80 - 84	Good
	C	75 - 79	Average
	D	70 - 74	Poor
	F	Below 70	Failure
	I	Incomplete
	W	Withdrawn

1. Grading periods are six weeks long. Six weeks test will be schedules but are not required. Six weeks test periods will be one period long.
2. Semester tests will be administered at the end of 18 weeks and 36 weeks. These tests are required and will be two hours long.
3. Semester grades are determined by averaging the three six weeks grades with the semester test grade.
4. The final average or yearly average is determined by adding the two semester grades and dividing by 2.
5. The attendance register will be kept by the homeroom teacher. Its purpose is to record the attendance of students as individuals and as groups. State requirements are that it will be averaged and checked once at the end of each school month.
6. The class record book is provided for the teacher to keep a record of the academic achievement of individual students. Numerical grades are recorded in the class record book.
7. The grade exchange cards are prepared by the subject matter teacher and sent at the end of each six weeks period to the homeroom teacher for recording on the report card. Alphabetical grades are recorded on the grade exchange cards.
8. The report card is prepared by the homeroom teacher for each student in his or her homeroom. It represents the school's effort to notify the parents of the student's academic achievement. Alphabetical grades are recorded on the report card.
9. The permanent record is the continuing and cumulative record of the student's academic achievement. The homeroom teacher will keep the permanent records for each student in his or her homeroom. Only , alphabetical grades will be recorded on the permanent record.

CHS - FISCAL POLICIES - 1970-71

1. All school sponsored fund-raising activities must be approved in advance by the following persons in the following order. (1) faculty adviser, (2) principal, (3) superintendent.
2. All school sponsored fund-raising activities must be under the supervision of the principal.
3. All monies of all Central High School organizations (classes, clubs, activities, departments, etc.) must be deposited in the Central High School General Fund.
4. The treasurer of each organization, with the advice and consent of the president and the faculty adviser, has the responsibility for the collection of all monies for the organization.
5. The treasurer of each organization, with the advice and consent of the president and the faculty adviser, will deposit all monies with the school secretary who will deposit all monies in the Central High School General Fund. The school secretary will then give that organization credit for that deposit.
6. The treasurer of each organization, with the advice and consent of the president and the faculty adviser, has the responsibility for making all purchases for the organization. All purchases must be charged to the name of his organization in care of Central High School. No purchases are to be charged to Central High School.
7. The treasurer of each organization, with the advice and consent of the president and the faculty adviser, has the responsibility for paying all the debts of his organization. The treasurer will requisition the checks for this purpose from the school secretary. Check requisitions must be signed by the organization's president and faculty adviser. All check requisitions must be accompanied by the invoice being paid.
8. It is the responsibility of the president, the treasurer, and the faculty adviser to have all debts paid promptly. Spending should never exceed ability to pay.
9. It is the responsibility of the president, the treasurer, and the faculty adviser to have all debts paid by June 15 of each year. All the records of the Central High School General Fund will be audited between June 15 and July 15 each year.
10. The treasurer of each organization has the responsibility for adequate up-to-date financial records for his organization.
11. At the end of each month the school secretary will issue a financial statement to the faculty adviser of each organization which has funds in the Central High School General Fund. It is intended that the faculty adviser, the president, and the treasurer will reconcile the financial statement with the organizations financial records.

RECOMMENDED SCHEDULE FOR 1970-71

The schedule recommended for _____ for the school year 1970-71 is listed below. This schedule has been recommended upon the basis of the students' grade level, academic grades, ability and achievement scores on standardized tests and teacher and counselor recommendations. The final decision, however, of the subjects in which the student is enrolled is made by the parent or guardian and the student. We expect the student to be enrolled in and to remain in the course of study he or she is scheduled for during this registration period unless unforeseen circumstances arise. If a failure occurs or a passing mark is earned that we are unable to detect at the time of registration, it is the students' full responsibility to inform us at the beginning of next years school term in order that he or she may be scheduled properly. In the event that summer school credit is earned it is also the responsibility of the student to show evidence of this by a report card to the counselor. Please fill out the attached schedule listing every subject you wish the student to take if you do not approve the recommended schedule listed below. If you do approve the recommended schedule, sign the portion of this sheet to be detached and return it by the student to the Guidance Office in one to two days. If the student does not return to the Guidance Office the schedule showing the courses you wish him or her to take or the detached portion of this sheet showing your approval they will be scheduled and be expected to remain in the recommended schedule listed below.

PROGRAM OF STUDIES---CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL---1970-71

The subjects shown in capital letters on the next page are required courses. Students should schedule courses at the grade level offered or they may schedule some courses below their grade level. EXAMPLE: A 10th grade student will normally schedule World History, however he may, if there is need, schedule World Geography, which is offered in the 9th Grade. He cannot schedule American History, as it is a required 11th Grade course. Any exception to the latter procedure must be approved by the school counselor and/or the principal. Students in 10th, 11th and 12th grades with below a "B" average should not schedule more than 4 academic subjects. All 9th grade students must take 5 unit subjects. All students must schedule a minimum of 4 academic courses.
