ing one and it is not too much to say that the tremendous gain being made in Missouri's tourist trade is due largely to the activities of the commission which Clayton heads. This group was established to aid in the development of industry, recreation and aviation in the state and has been doing a splendid job up to the present time.

It has attracted the attention of the country to the desirability of locating industries in Missouri; it is promoting Missouri as one of the outstanding playgrounds of the nation, and has been responsible for materially increasing the number of landing fields. In regard to aviation, it has formulated a program for 222 airports, with one for every county and for every community of 1,000 or more population.

NEGRO SCHOOL RENOVATED

The Bannaker school building will begin the fall semester in a much better condition than in many years. School Superintendent R. G. Jones said Tuesday that the building has been repainted inside and out, a new drinking fountain has been installed, and the structure has been completely rewired for lighting purposes. A new heating unit, he said, was installed last year.

Mrs. Lucille Douglass will continue to teach at the school.
