SELLING LIQUOR TO SLAVES.—Last January a slave belonging to a widow lady, in Platte county, bought a quart of whisky at a store, got drunk, fell from his horse and froze to death. The widow lady sued the firm, and at the March term of the Platte court obtained a verdict for $850, the value of her negro.

[This is a good law, and if it could be enforced against those who are in the habitual violation of it in this city, it would be productive of beneficial results.]—St. Louis Repub.
