☞The Kansas Herald of the 14th announces that a project has been formed to purchase the whole of Platte county, Missouri, and annex it to Kansas Territory, and that the Missouri Legislature, which meets in November next, is expected to give its consent.

The boundaries of Kansas are fixed by the Nebraska law, and cannot be changed without the action of Congress. That Congress would consent to annex Platte county to Kansas under existing circumstances is very improbable, even if it should be desired both by Kansas and Missouri. Platte county has an area of 410 square miles, and its population in 1850 was 16,845, of whom 2,798 were slaves.—Journal of Commerce.
