THE REBELLION RECORD.—The Platte County Sentinel of Thursday says:

On Saturday and Sunday nights the tide of emancipation made its usual outflow.—Quite a number were from this immediate neighborhood. Yesterday morning early, but in broad day light, a caravan of 47 negroes passed through our city, on their way to free starvation. A short distance north of town they had a break down, and were compelled to leave a large amount of their plunder in the road, consisting in part, of feather beds, bed clothing, flour, provisions, silver spoons, &c., &c.
