How the Negroes Fought and Bled for Freedom's Cause.—Every Yankee General during the war, in his reports, used the stereotyped formula, "The colored troops fought bravely." But figures do not lie, if Yankee Generals do. Here is the record, as Secretary Stanton presents it in his report, in summing up the returns of his chief of the Bureau of Colored Troops:

Whole number mustered in during the war,	169,624
Mustered out,	86,523
Discharged for disability,	25,233
Died,	31,866
Deserted,	14,887
Killed in action,	1,514
Missing in action,	1,344
Transferred to Navy,	369
Now in service,	12,488

The whole number killed in action during the whole war out of this monster negro army of 169,624, was only 1,514, or less than nine-tenths of one per cent. The missing—those who got near enough to the front to be taken prisoners—number 200 less! while the deserters are more than ten times the number killed! And those who died without tasting powder and were discharged because physically unfit for duty, foot up 52,102—nearly one-third of the whole negro army.—[Exchange.
