Woodruff was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Thursday at high noon. Gussie Busey and Dee Didell were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Rodgers, pastor of the colored Methodist church of Weston. The bride is a daughter of Uncle George and Aunt Ann Busy of Woodruff, a very worthy colored couple, who are held in very high esteem by both white and colored, as a glimpse at the wedding guests would signify. To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Lavina Rodgers, the happy young couple marched out of the house, and under a beautiful maple tree, were pronounced man and wife in the customary manner. After congratulations Aunt Ann announced dinner, and such a dinner! As one of the guests remarked—"anything one could ask for was there." There were two tables, one for the whites and one for the colored, and as there were about 50 whites and 80 colored, the tables were filled many times, but there was a great abundance for all. Nancy Didell, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Charley Doyle was groomsman. A list of the wedding presents follow: Two glass bowls, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson of Atchison; one glass bowl, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Crutchfield; water set, Mr and Mrs. A. Clark; water set, Henry Dale; preserve stand, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Scott; teaspoons and glass, Miss Mary Summers; sugar spoon and glass dish, Mrs. Summers, glass dish, Mrs. John Losier; glass card dish, Mr. and Mrs. C. E.
