Be thy name most kindly spoken.
Be thy heart the home of pleasure,
Be thy pathway strewn with roses
Be thy spirit's eyes unclouded,
Be thy peace unbroken, never
Be thy home in heaven forever

To Minnie..

May you live in joy forever,
May thy friends forsake thee— never,
From thy heart— arise no sigh,
And no tear bedew thine eye.
Heaven's choicest blessings shine
Ever on, both thee and thine.
Joy be many, cares be few,
Straight the path thou shalt pursue, and
May you have sweet rest in Heaven

May you walk the path of duty
Whether strewn with thorns or flowers
Till you reach the Land of beauty
Where no storm of sorrow lowers

St. Minnie.

There are many friends of summer!
Who are kind while flowers bloom,
But when winter chills their blossom,
They depart with the perfume.
On the broad highway of action
Friends of worth are far and few,
But till they have proved their friendship,
Cling to one who clings to you.

Kath. Morris.

Dear Mimi

Kiss him gently, but be sly,
Kiss him when there's no one by;
Steal your kiss, for then 'tis sweetest,
Stolen kisses are the sweetest.

Dear Friend Minnie.

Like a shimmer of pearls; like a faint perfume,
That floats from the lily's heart;
Like the calm that comes with the dory hour,
When the Eye-star lights the West;
Like the holy thoughts that quiet the heart,
When we dream of the life to be—
Age tender, and bright, and pure, and sweet,
The memories I cherish of thee.

Ever your Friend,

Hattie M. Kowland.

Dear Friend Minnie

A place for my name in your Album.
A place for my name in your heart.
A place for us both in heaven.
Wher friends I shall never part.

Just beyond those clouds, that are now floating

Across the ether blue:

You'll find the bright sun still is shining,

It yet shall shine on you.

And so it is with gloomy sorrow,

That comes so heavily on each heart;

But cast your hopes beyond the morrow,

You soon will see all gloom depart,

The Happy ones thou lov'dst so well;
Thy memory have forgot;
But I, brief friend, who scarce can tell,
Or if thou lov'dst or lov'dst me well-
Lo, I forget thee not!
