

dear Jane,

Please forgive me for not writing sooner.

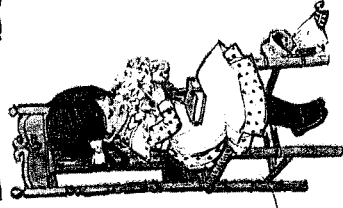

I think it is fantastic that you are writing a book about Bert, what a wonderful tribute to him.

Bert never ceased to amaze me. Just think, he lived a rather isolated life, but he had many dear friends in all walks of life.

Bert and I did have a close relationship the last years of his life. He was troubled about his health and needed some one.

I would like to see you if you are in town. I am much more value those literary and it would be an easier way for me to communicate in person.

I have many fond memories of Bert and if I can contribute anything to your research I will be glad to do so.

Bert was a sensitive and sensitive man. a mixture of strength and weakness and a dear friend
I hated to lose.

Hoping to meet with you soon.

Bonnie Grant
