Dear Mr. Oka :

Your very informative letter received. Thank you, Thank you. I hasten to answer as you asked. The size of drying boards can be dictated either by the dementions of the kozo paper or about 4 feet by 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ or 2 feet. This is a size that can be handled by one person for I assume they are not too heavy being made on a wooden frame. If they are covered on both sides, enough paper should be made for three (3) frames. I think that would be enough for me. You will of course bill me.

Thank you for your help and intrest. Another letter on paste follows.

Sincerely,
