

Finally, after having pulled its train across the highway on the south side of the mill, #106 gets to push it up the unloading track.