

In photo 3, we see the log being picked up by the loader and in position to load.

There is a man on each end of the log handling a line to position the log properly on the log car when it is loaded.

Hmmm.... Just beyond the loader, there is a group of men doing something, apparently to the track. We cannot see them clearly in this photo, but maybe we can see more in the next photos.

