

Roxie & Mac & Sue Gilliam

Finally, the group went on a short road trip out from Long Leaf. This photo shows Mac and Roxie together holding the young girl identified as Sue Gilliam. The location is not identified in the photo but the whole look of the road is that of a railroad grade, and a railroad grade very similar to this is what is now Redmond Road, off of Cady Street east of McNary. This would have been the old Red River and Gulf branch to the Louisiana Sawmill Co, at Bolton. In the 1930's this grade was reused by the Hillyer Edwards Fuller Co, to reach its hardwood lands on the north shore of Lake Cocodrie. Abandoned in 1939 it looks very fresh in this photo.
