

I am including one more photo of the Crowell operations east of Meridian even though it is not one of the LSU photos. It is certainly of the same time period and illustrates a bit of how the logs were moved to the railroad and the persons involved. It is a different dozer, again, with a tracked logging arch behind it. Unusual for many of these photos in our files, this one has the entire crew identified.

They are:

J. W. Davis, Dozer Operator

L. G. Sellers, standing in front next to the dozer track

Aswell Cenders, wearing a military style dress cap

Webb Neal, in the back

D. W. Gill, Loader Operator

F. E. Branch, Loader Fireman
