

(OBVERSE)

[Red circular postmark in top left hand corner]

B[M?]
12 JU 12
1844

[Two black circular post marks too smudged to translate]

[unknown name]

[unknown address]

London [underline flourish]

[written under 'London' in a different pen]

200

[Letter begins on right hand side of page]

[unknown word] [unknown word]

11 June 1844

Sir

I think your suggestion quite satisfactory – all that I require is that the Deed should bear upon it a [note?] of the mistake with a reference to the sum paid on account of the bonds. This [unknown word] [unknown word] be a [unknown word] explanation should there ever be a question about it.

[Unknown word] [unknown word]

[Unknown name]

[Unknown name]

(REVERSE)

[In different writing than the Obverse document]

[Flourish at top of page]

[Double underlined]

Note –

By error in [unknown word] of [unknown word] [symbol for 'and'?] [unknown word] [unknown word] [unknown word], the above sum of £60 stated to be received from [Wm?][Peters?] on 2[0?] Nov 1843 [unknown word] [unknown word] received on account of the Principal [unknown word] [unknown word], whereby the said Principal was [reduced?] to £100 instead of £160 as above stated [long line drawn to right hand margin]

£52,[489.6.3?]

£60 [scribbles]

[underline]

£52,429.6.3

[double underline]

[unknown scribble. Initials?]

Note –

In consequence of the error on the other side £30 [has?] has been refunded by each of the [unknown word] [unknown word], [symbol for 'and'] paid to [unknown name] [Shipley?] [symbol for

‘and’] [unknown name] on acct [two dots under ‘t’] of the Principal [unknown word] of the [unknown word] [symbol for ‘and’] [unknown word] [unknown word] [describes?] [unknown word] the [unknown word] of final Balance paid to each of the [unknown word] [unknown word] has been reduced to the sum of £11.19.9 only, instead of the £41.19.9 as above stated [flourish]

[Red circular postmark from obverse side can be seen on page]

[Red circular wax mark is visible]