A large crowd took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the new High School at the formal opening last evening. From 8 o'clock to 10 o'clock a constant stream of parents and interested citizens was pouring through the corridors, visiting the class rooms, admiring the many features and splendid equipment of the building.

The teachers from all the schools were on hand to show the visitors about and answer their questions. The grade and high school teachers, who are located in the new building, were in their classrooms to receive the parents of their pupils and other friends.

The whole building was tastefully decorated with bouquets of beautiful flowers, furnished for the occasion by the boys and girls of the school. The beautifully lighted gymnasium came in for many enthusiastic comments, especially on the part of those who are followers of basketball. The roomy auditorium received its full share of admiration also. The stage was lighted by colored footlights, which with the rich drapes and heavy curtains added a certain bizarre effect that was both novel and pleas-
