

ERIN WINNER OF POWER BOAT RACE

Thomas H. Bullock's Craft
Captures the Long Cruise to Mackinac.

GETS TIME ALLOWANCE.

Dusty Syde Is First at Destination; Yachts Sighted at Charlevoix.

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 31.—[Special.]—Erin, owned and sailed by Thomas H. Bullock of Chicago, won the Chicago Power Boat club race from Chicago to Mackinac, although it arrived here several hours after Dusty Syde.

The captain of Dusty Syde, Dr. Wadsworth Warren of Detroit, stopped at the headquarters of the Mackinac Island Yacht club and registered the arrival of his boat at 4:25½ this morning, having made the run from Chicago in a little more than thirty-eight hours.

At 8 o'clock Erin came into the harbor. Its time allowance of six hours gives it first prize over Dusty Syde.

The captains of both vessels report heavy weather for most of the distance, the waves continually washing clean over the decks and cockpit, drenching the men. Mr. Bullock's performance in bringing his boat safely through to win first prize is remarkable, as it was his first trip in charge of a motor boat, except in Erin's tryout in the river at Chicago. No further starters as yet have appeared.

Watching for the Sailors.

Of the yachts sailing in the Chicago Yacht club's Chicago to Mackinac Island race, nothing has been seen as yet. Watchers expect them tomorrow or Wednesday, as well as R. A. Alger Jr.'s Sitarah, reported to have been the only yacht to brave the weather at the start of the Port Huron-Mackinac Island race.

Yachts Sighted at Charlevoix.

Charlevoix, Mich., July 31.—The schooner yacht Mistral, far in advance of the other boats of the fleet which left Chicago Saturday on the Chicago Yacht club's cruise to Mackinac Island, passed Grand Point Sable at 6:30 o'clock this morning, having made the run from Chicago without mishap or delay of any kind. Mistral is owned by Dwight Lawrence. Its owner, assisted by William Hale Thompson, is handling it in the race to Mackinac.

The next of the fleet to pass Grand Point Sable was Hawthorne, schooner yacht, owned by John McConnell and handled by Fox and Flint. It carried a crew of nine men. Hawthorne passed at 1:38 this afternoon, skimming along in a fifteen knot north wind.

The schooner yacht Alice, owned by William D. Hale and O. T. McClurg, and sailed by E. P. Warner and McClurg, arrived off Pentwater at 1:45 p. m. in a fifteen knot breeze. All on board were well.

Laggards at South Haven.

South Haven, Mich., July 31.—[Special.]—The yachts Siren, Sadie, Lady Eileen, Tanis and Larita arrived here last night and during the day in their race to Mackinac. Heavy weather and head winds prevailed from the start and caused much trouble, Siren and Lady Eileen both losing their yawls. The northwest wind still prevails and the five are not likely to leave before morning. Larita was first to arrive.

Held at Port Huron.

Port Huron, Mich., July 31.—Of the three sailing yachts entered for the Port Huron-Mackinac race, under the auspices of the Country club of Detroit, Sultana and City of the Straits are still here waiting for the weather to moderate. It is expected they will start tomorrow. Sitarah, the yawl belonging to Russell A. Alger, Jr., which started yesterday in a heavy gale, made Harbor Beach breakwater today. It had made a rough passage in a northeast gale. Its crew were exhausted and the yawl was nearly half full of water from the sea that had washed over it. Mr. Alger expects to resume his journey northward tomorrow.
