

Lights, camera

Saugatuck was the setting last week for a series of commercials about the 1987 Chevrolets, filmed by Sandy Corp. for General Motors. A film crew was in town for several days, shooting scenes at Peterson Mill and Wickwood, among others, and this scene at Wilkins Hardware. The filming was coordinated through the office of Saugatuck City Manager Laverne Serne and the chamber of commerce. Traffic was re-routed as workers arranged reflectors and moved cameras on wheeled dollies. Sometime in coming months, people in living rooms across America may see Ron Wilkins hustle out of the hardware store and stuff a post hole digger into the back of a Chevrolet station wagon, as he is doing in this picture, while cameras roll on Butler street.
