

Historical society Oct 6, 1988 calls special meeting

At the Sept. 14 meeting of the Saugatuck-Douglas Historical Society, Emily C. Faucett of 246 Mary St., Saugatuck, donated two beautiful art pieces to the society. One item is a watercolor and chalk lake scene, the other is a rare lithograph. Both items were given to her specifically to pass on to the society from the collection of Peter Lang, a former Saugatuck summer resident.

The society is honored to receive these items as part of its collection. Both items will be evaluated by an art institute to learn more about the artists and their work. A donor's plaque will be engraved and placed on each piece before displaying it in the Citizens Bank lobby in Saugatuck.

The society is calling an Oct. 12 special meeting. Revised by-laws will be adopted. These include procedures for receiving donations such as those by Ms. Faucett. The presenter at our special meeting is John Pahl, President of the Allegan County Historical Society and local historian.

The Oct. 12 meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in historic All Saints Episcopal Church, 252 Grand St., Saugatuck.
