The Red Dog Bed & Breakfast was built in 1879 for Jake Metzger who brought his barbering skills from Germany to the lumbermen of early Saugatuck. Metzger had the small building that housed his barbershop moved from Butler Street and attached it to his new home. For 99 years, three generations of his family lived and worked on Mason Street.

Over the years, the house was remodeled and transformed from private residence to boarding house and eventually into one of the first bed & breakfasts in Saugatuck.

In the 1960's, Jake Metzger's grandson converted the old barbershop into an ice cream shop, which it remains today.

Today, The Red Dog Bed & Breakfast carries on the Saugatuck tradition of hospitality. There are six comfortable air conditioned rooms to choose from, four with private bath.

The large living room with fireplace is just the spot to warm up after a winter afternoon of cross country skiing.

A lovely second floor porch runs the length of the house, providing an ideal place to relax on summer evenings.

In the morning, meet the other guests while enjoying a continental breakfast in the beautiful dining room.

The Red Dog is located in the heart of downtown Saugatuck, less than a block from the shops and restaurants on Butler Street; steps away from the boardwalk along Lake Kalamazoo.

Visitors to Saugatuck will find a resort town that's the perfect escape anytime of year. The rolling sand dunes and winding waterways that attracted the first summer guests over a century ago are still here for you to enjoy. Join the thousands who come each year to partake in all that a Saugatuck summer has to offer, the beaches, boating and watersports.

You can golf at three local courses, tour a winery or stroll along the boardwalk. Take the chain ferry across the Kalamazoo and climb to the top of Mt. Baldhead for a spectacular view of Lake Michigan.

After the crowds have gone home and the days grow shorter, you can discover the quiet side of Saugatuck. Sip cider from local orchards while you marvel at the changing autumn colors.

With the first snowfall, all the galleries and shops are decked out in their holiday finest, the perfect place to find that special Christmas gift. There are miles of cross country and snowmobile trails waiting for you to explore.

Springtime brings flowers and sunshine. Visit the famous Tulip Festival in nearby Holland or bicycle around town.

Whatever the season, your stay in Saugatuck will be a memorable one.

Be sure to stop next door and visit Round the Corner Ice Cream Shoppe featuring Sher-mans, Hudsonville and Haagen Dazs ice cream. Visitors to Saugatuck have enjoyed our fountain creations for over 20 years. We're more than just ice cream . . . we're a tradition.
