Most people agree the New Hope Street Fairs were for many years the annual hi-lite of the town's activities. Usually it was concentrated in one location + all of N.H.'s citizen stars of music + stage turned out in one capacity or another. In later years it dwindled to a more carnival atmosphere. After several years lapse we are delighted to see a revival of the New Hope spirit. Jim Derrasi of "The Brass Bed Factory" on S Main St seems to be the driving force behind the new "New Hope Street Festival" from Fri Sept 15th thru Sun the 17th. It will take place all over town + every shop is asked to "do their thing" with sidewalk sales, etc. It is conceived as an "old fashioned block party" encompassing all of New Hope. There will be "things going on" all over town. John Baracos of the "Ritz" is arranging the entertainment which will include Dixieland Band Concerts at Frannie's Pub, John Baracos Dance Co. skits, an Illusionist Show! Clothing stores will have live models doing what comes naturally. "Morning Star" will have hair styling demonstrations + many more in-store + out door events! Of course the whole thing is sponsored by the New Hope merchants + the Chamber of Commerce (whose proxy is Bernard Nolan, owner of the Ritz). When we were in New Hope 10 days ago 100 businesses were already involved to the tune of $25 per plus enthusiasm + they expected 50 more by now! That's cooperation + local spirit!!!! See ya at the Festival! For newcomers to N.H., the town has sprouted several new spots which have turned out to be very "in" both for locals + visitors: Frannie Meyer's "Frannie's Pub" has a great bar crowd since it opened early in Aug. He's always had a local fan club! His Pub is the former "Baer's Bar" on S Main St!!! Herb + Richard Sander, the guys with the outstanding collection of fine 18th century American furniture out on Rt 202 bought the Four Seasons Inn on S Main St this year, + having been in the restaurant business 25 yrs. ago decided to open a good "fast food" spot in the Mall - the emphasis not on elegant gourmet stuff, but a speedy filling "munchie" - well the parquet floor + the wrought iron are elegant + it fills the bill when you're in a rush for a martini or a live head nite performance.
