The 1998-99 Kellett School Magazine celebrates the achievements of all our pupils and the wider school community. The following pages capture a year in which pupils have excelled in all aspects of the curriculum, academic studies, the arts and sport.

The 1998-99 year was one in which our pupils embarked upon at least two new ventures. In October Primary Six members of the School Band visited Kuala Lumpur, joining one hundred and twenty British International School pupils from South East Asia at The Alice Smith School, to attend the Federation of British International Schools in South East Asia Music Festival.

In November Primary Three and Four pupils, working with Mrs Krieger, Mrs White and directed by Miss Goulston presented, to much acclaim, a performance based on Mary Poppins as part of The 1998 Youth Arts Festival.

It has also been a year in which we have continued to celebrate many annual traditions: concerts, assemblies, family sports day, camps and extra-curricular activities. We have welcomed many visitors to our community. In October we were delighted to host Mr and Mrs Andrew Seaton, Deputy British Consul General.

Former pupils have also continued to excel, Rosie Barker has been appointed Deputy Head Girl at Island School, Charlotte Waldron gained an Academic Scholarship to Cheltenham Ladies College and Tom Gibson an Art Scholarship to Charterhouse. I know as the year progresses, we will hear of many further pupil achievements.

This year we welcomed Mrs Harvey as Deputy Principal and Mrs Vallor as School Business Manager, each bringing many years of senior educational management skills to Kellett. Sadly, in June we will be saying goodbye to Mrs Ennion, who has headed Key Stage One for five years. We will miss Di for both her professionalism and quite humour; she leaves with our warmest wishes for a very happy and successful future in her native New Zealand. I am delighted Mrs Anne Paterson has agreed to join the Senior Management Team as Acting Key Stage One Co-ordinator until September 2000.

Two long serving Board members retired in December, Mrs Brenda Sawyer and Mr Tim Lewis. I am sure you will join me in thanking Brenda and Tim who have devoted many hours to the school. I am delighted to welcome Mr John Cribbin as the new Chairman. John has extensive knowledge of both Kellett School and Hong Kong, which I know will prove an asset in an era of continuing regional development.

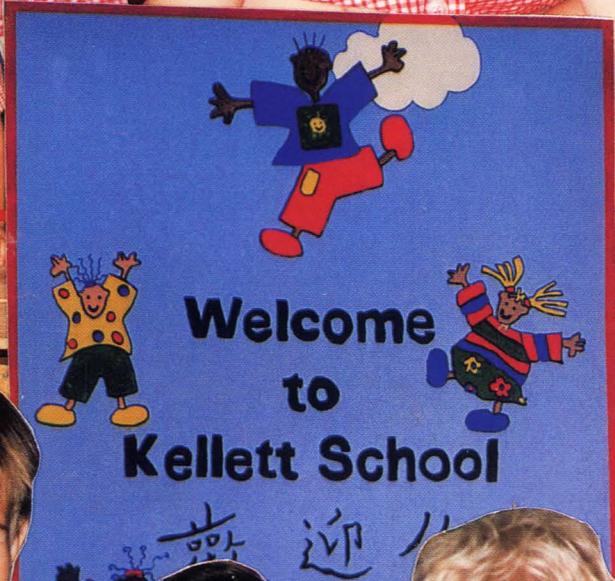

Kellett has continued to welcome pupils from across the globe, twenty-four nationalities studying together, reflecting the international city in which we live. Kellett prides itself on ensuring all its pupils move to future schools with increased confidence, a joy of learning, a healthy anticipation of the challenges ahead and the knowledge that they are a special and valued member of the School family. Kellett will continue to prepare pupils for the rapidly changing world in which we live.

Thank you to everyone who has contributed to the 1998-99 Kellett School Magazine, pupils, parents, staff and the magazine committee for producing such a magnificent celebration of the school year for us all to enjoy and remember.

I enjoyed performing in front of everyone. It felt great to be on stage.
Megan Yeatts

I had lots of fun being in "Supercalafragalistic"
James Lunn

Supercalafragilistic !

At first I was a little afraid and embarrassed about being "Mary Poppins" and having to dance with Bert.
Jordan Martin

I enjoyed the show very much.
Ann Lee

My favourite part was the "Step in Time Dance" and missing school !
Daniel Mullarkey

I enjoyed learning all the dances, especially the "Step In Time Dance" which was good fun.
Matthew Schlamm

I thought that "Supercalafragilistic" was one of the greatest plays ever ! Thank you to Mrs Kreiger, Miss Goulston and Mrs White.
Robert Hutton

I felt very scared !
Emma Sawyer

We had to learn lots of dances and songs which was hard work but good fun. I enjoyed the "Wind Dance" best of all.
Reina Funamaya

I felt very nervous at first, but when the show was over, I wanted to do it over and over again !
Kony Oh

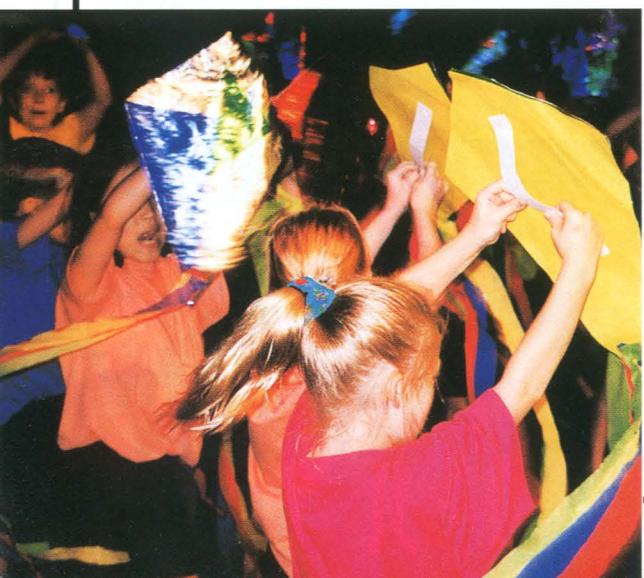

I really enjoyed the "Step in Time Dance" and I liked being a sweep. I was a little nervous at the beginning of the show but in the middle I was ok.
Michelle Brown

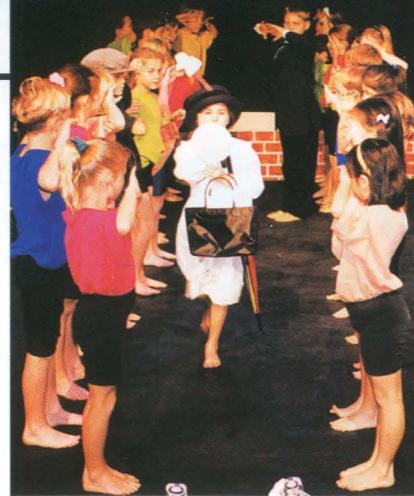

I felt scared, excited and nervous !
Jesslynn Schlamm

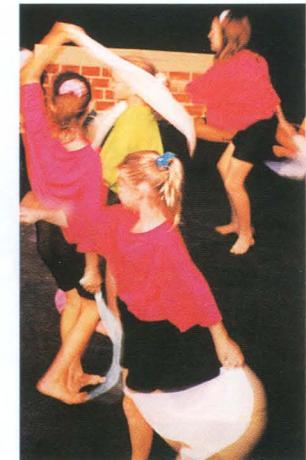

I liked the kites, especially the colours on them.
Hannah Haslam

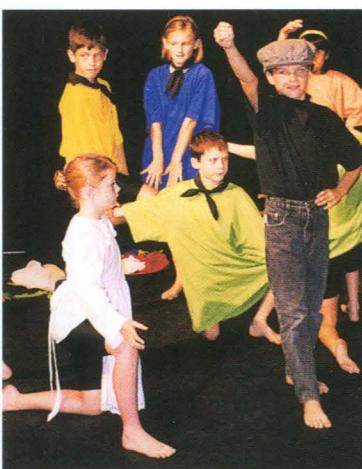

I really enjoyed being in "Supercalafragilistic" and liked watching Bert and his mates dancing.
Alex Gregor

I enjoyed playing the father and had to pretend to be cross !
George Riddell

I really enjoyed learning all the songs and dances. We had to practice lots of times. My favourite was "The Wind Dance".
Lauren Evans

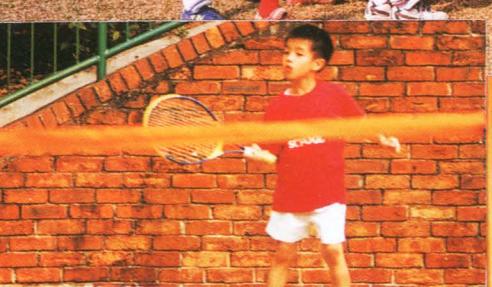

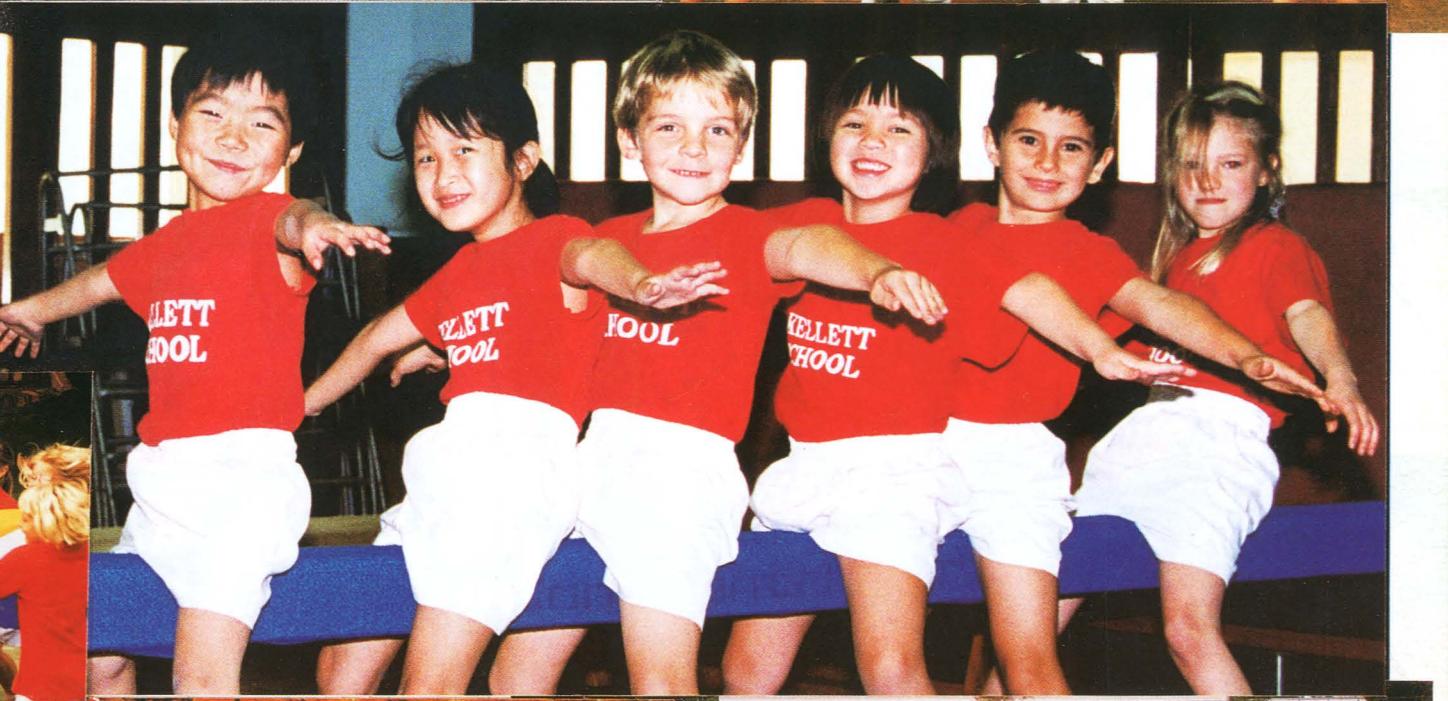

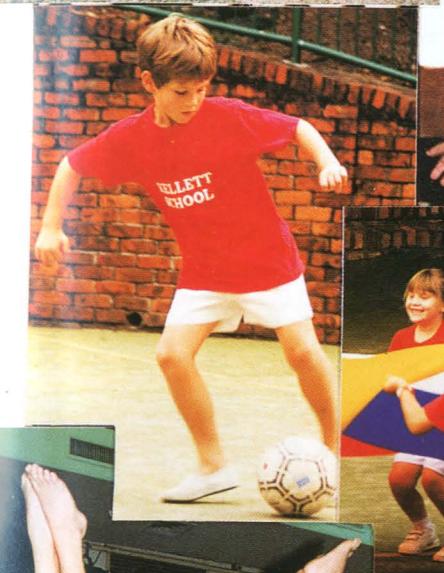

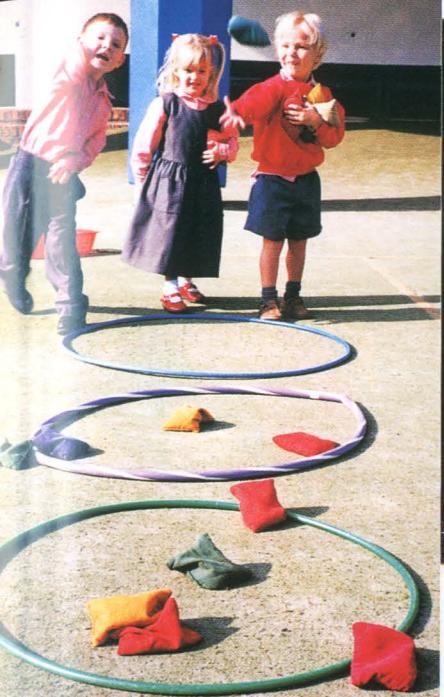

I loved doing the "Wind Dance" and the "Supercalafragalistic Dance".
Joanna Hall

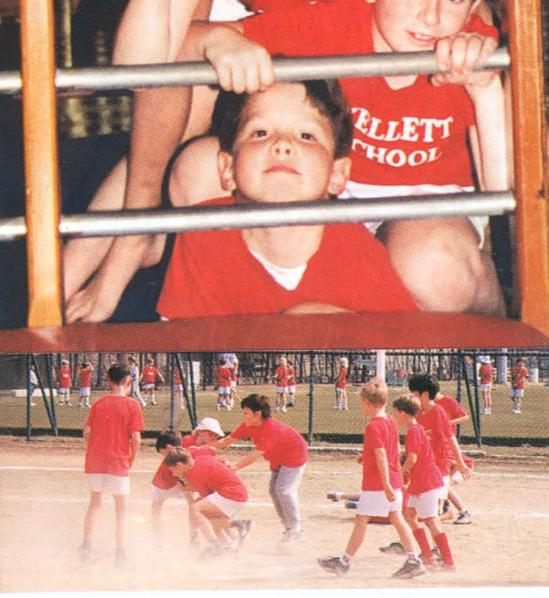

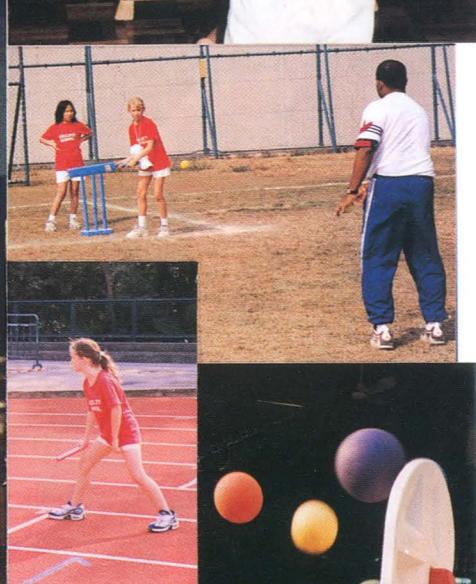

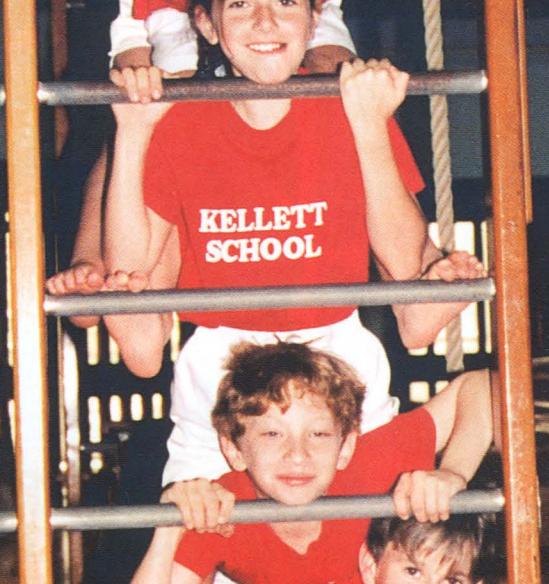

My favourite part was playing Mary Poppins and singing "Stay Awake".
Alexandra Roberts

At the end of the show everybody clapped and cheered.
Hugo Montagne

The best bit was the happy ending !

Thomas the Dog

Antoinette

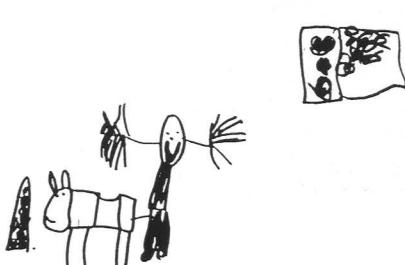

One day there was a dog called Thomas who wanted something to eat. So he went shopping on the bus.

3

James

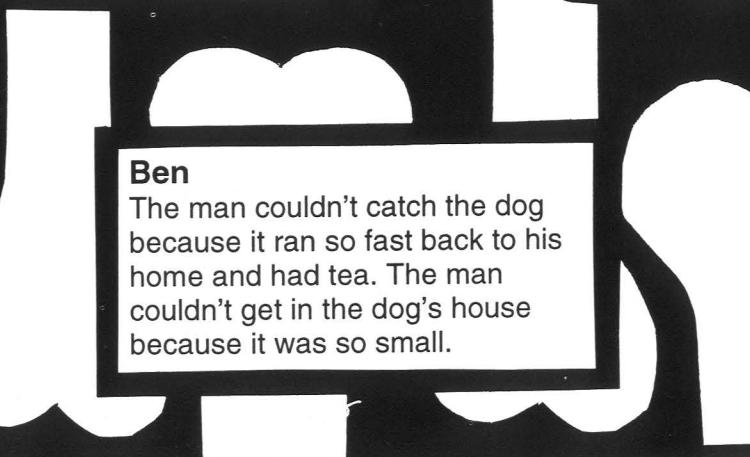

He went to the market and stole all the food that he saw. The man who was selling the food chased the dog and tried to catch him.

4

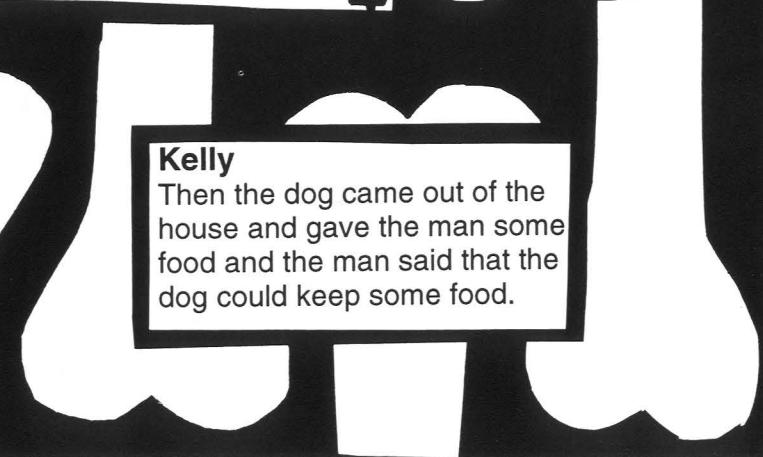

Ben

The man couldn't catch the dog because it ran so fast back to his home and had tea. The man couldn't get in the dog's house because it was so small.

Kelly

Then the dog came out of the house and gave the man some food and the man said that the dog could keep some food.

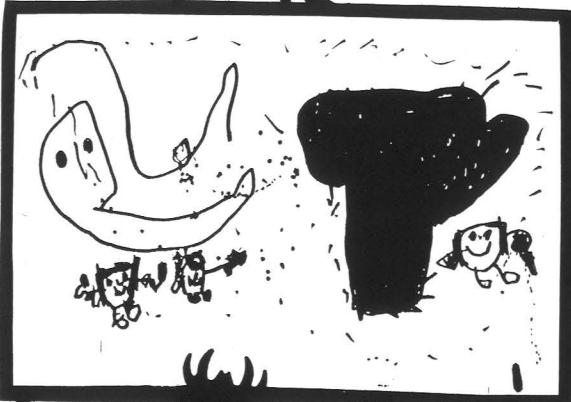

Summer and the Children and the Spiders

Melissa

One day some children went to their grandma's house and it was very hot. They had to have a popsicle and then a drink of water.

2

Edward

Then they went out in the garden and went round the other side of the house and they saw a big cubby house.

3

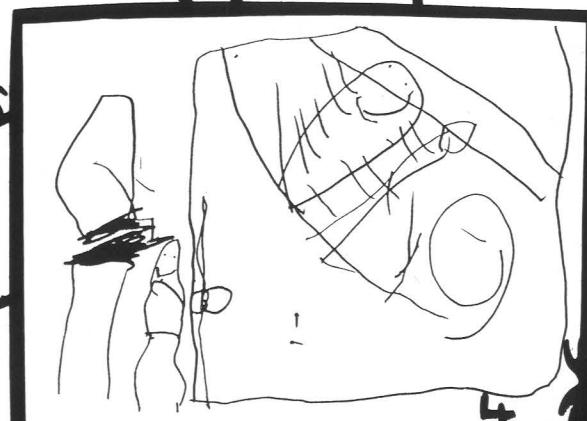

Spencer

They decided to leave the spiders on their webs so that the spiders would be safe. Then the children went home.

Abigail

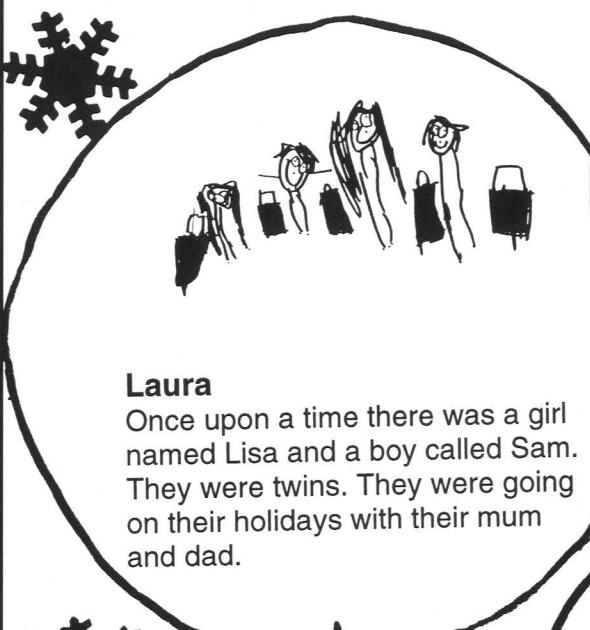

The children went inside to sweep it clean and while they were sweeping the cubby house they found lots of spiders.

4

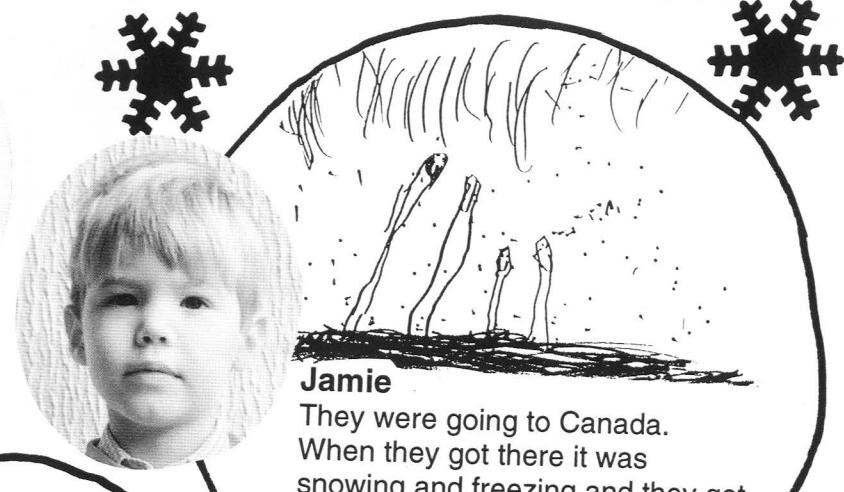

A Snowy Place

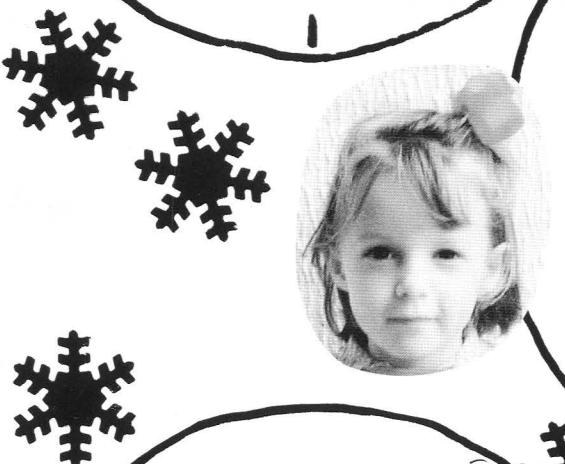

Laura

Once upon a time there was a girl named Lisa and a boy called Sam. They were twins. They were going on their holidays with their mum and dad.

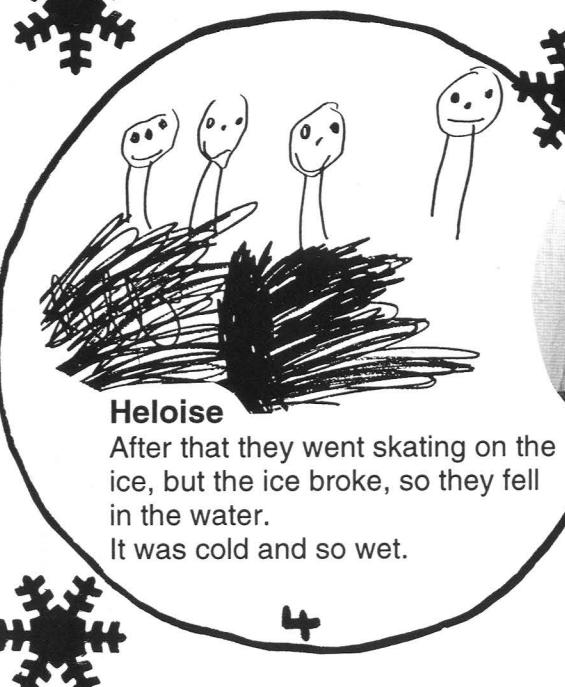

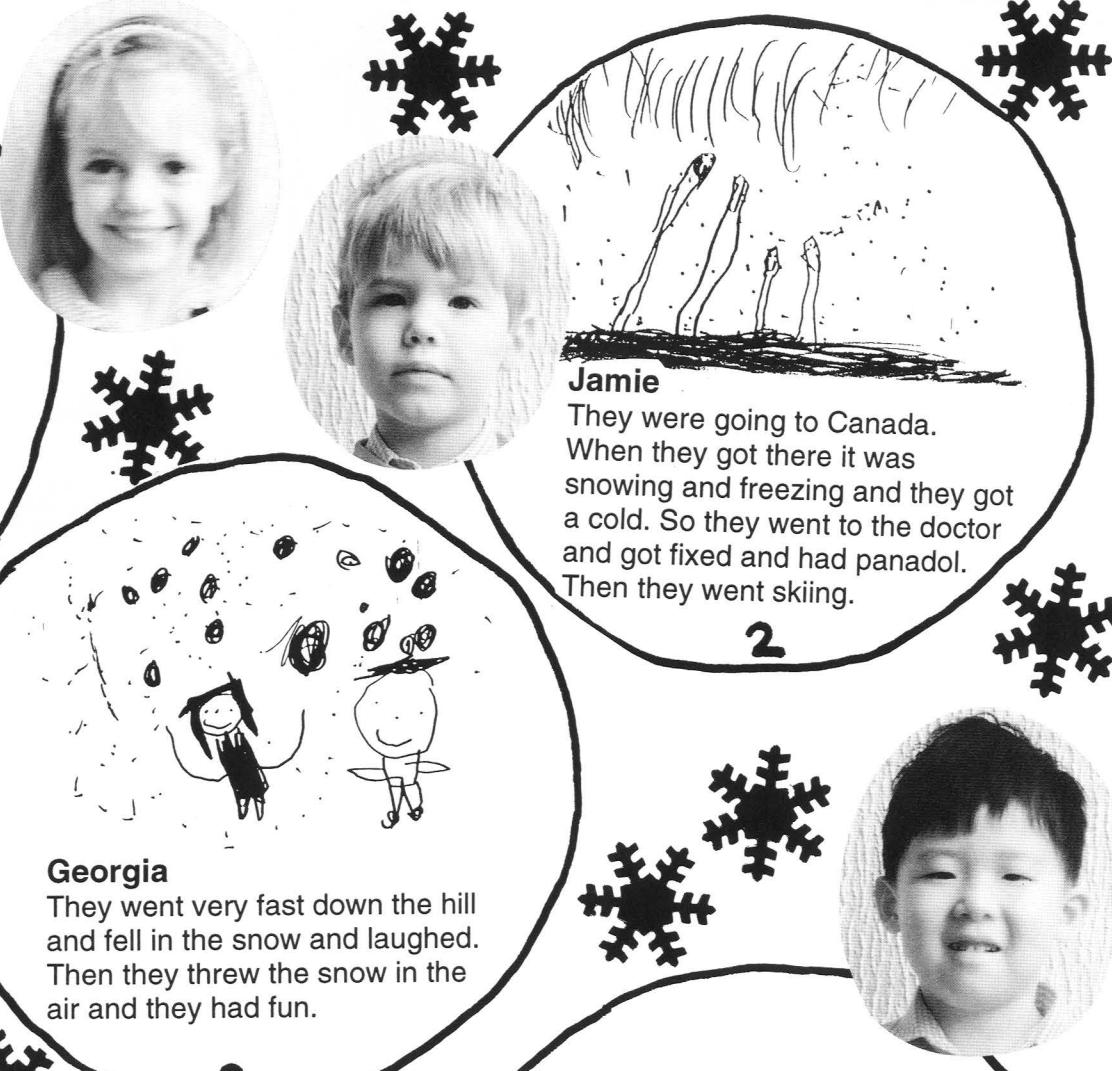

Jamie

They were going to Canada. When they got there it was snowing and freezing and they got a cold. So they went to the doctor and got fixed and had panadol. Then they went skiing.

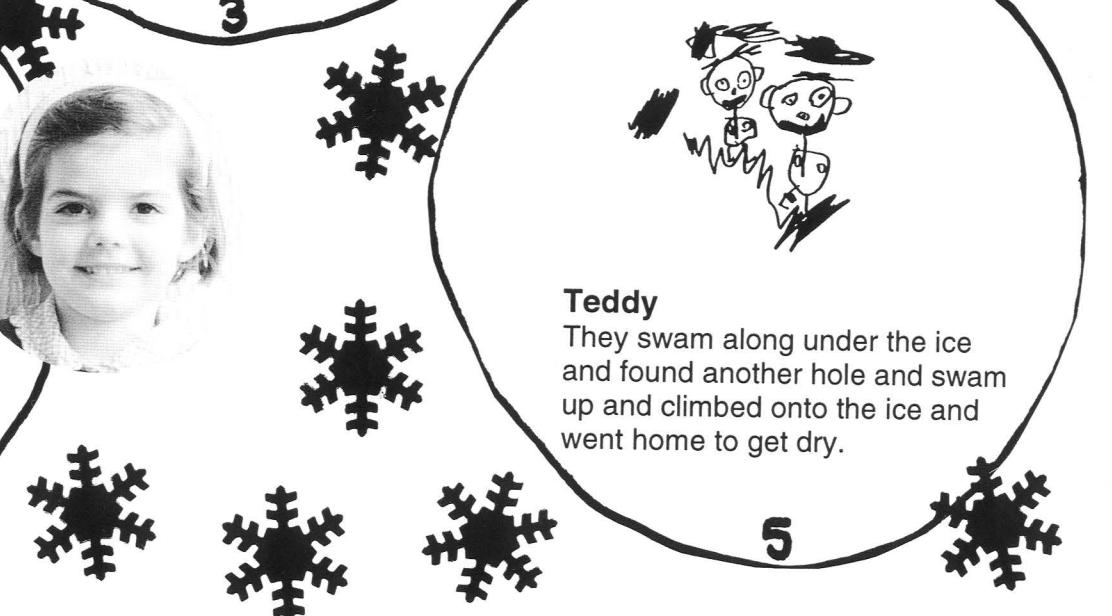

Georgia

They went very fast down the hill and fell in the snow and laughed. Then they threw the snow in the air and they had fun.

Heloise

After that they went skating on the ice, but the ice broke, so they fell in the water. It was cold and so wet.

Teddy

They swam along under the ice and found another hole and swam up and climbed onto the ice and went home to get dry.

The Spaceship that went to the Moon

The Easter Egg Hunt

Mauro

Once upon a time there was a little boy who said to his mummy: "Let's go on an Easter egg hunt", and the mummy said: "Yes."

1

Willem

Then they found another egg in some grass. It was a robot Easter egg. They put it in a sack.

Grey

The Easter egg hunt was in a forest. They climbed up a tree and found an egg on a leaf.

2

3

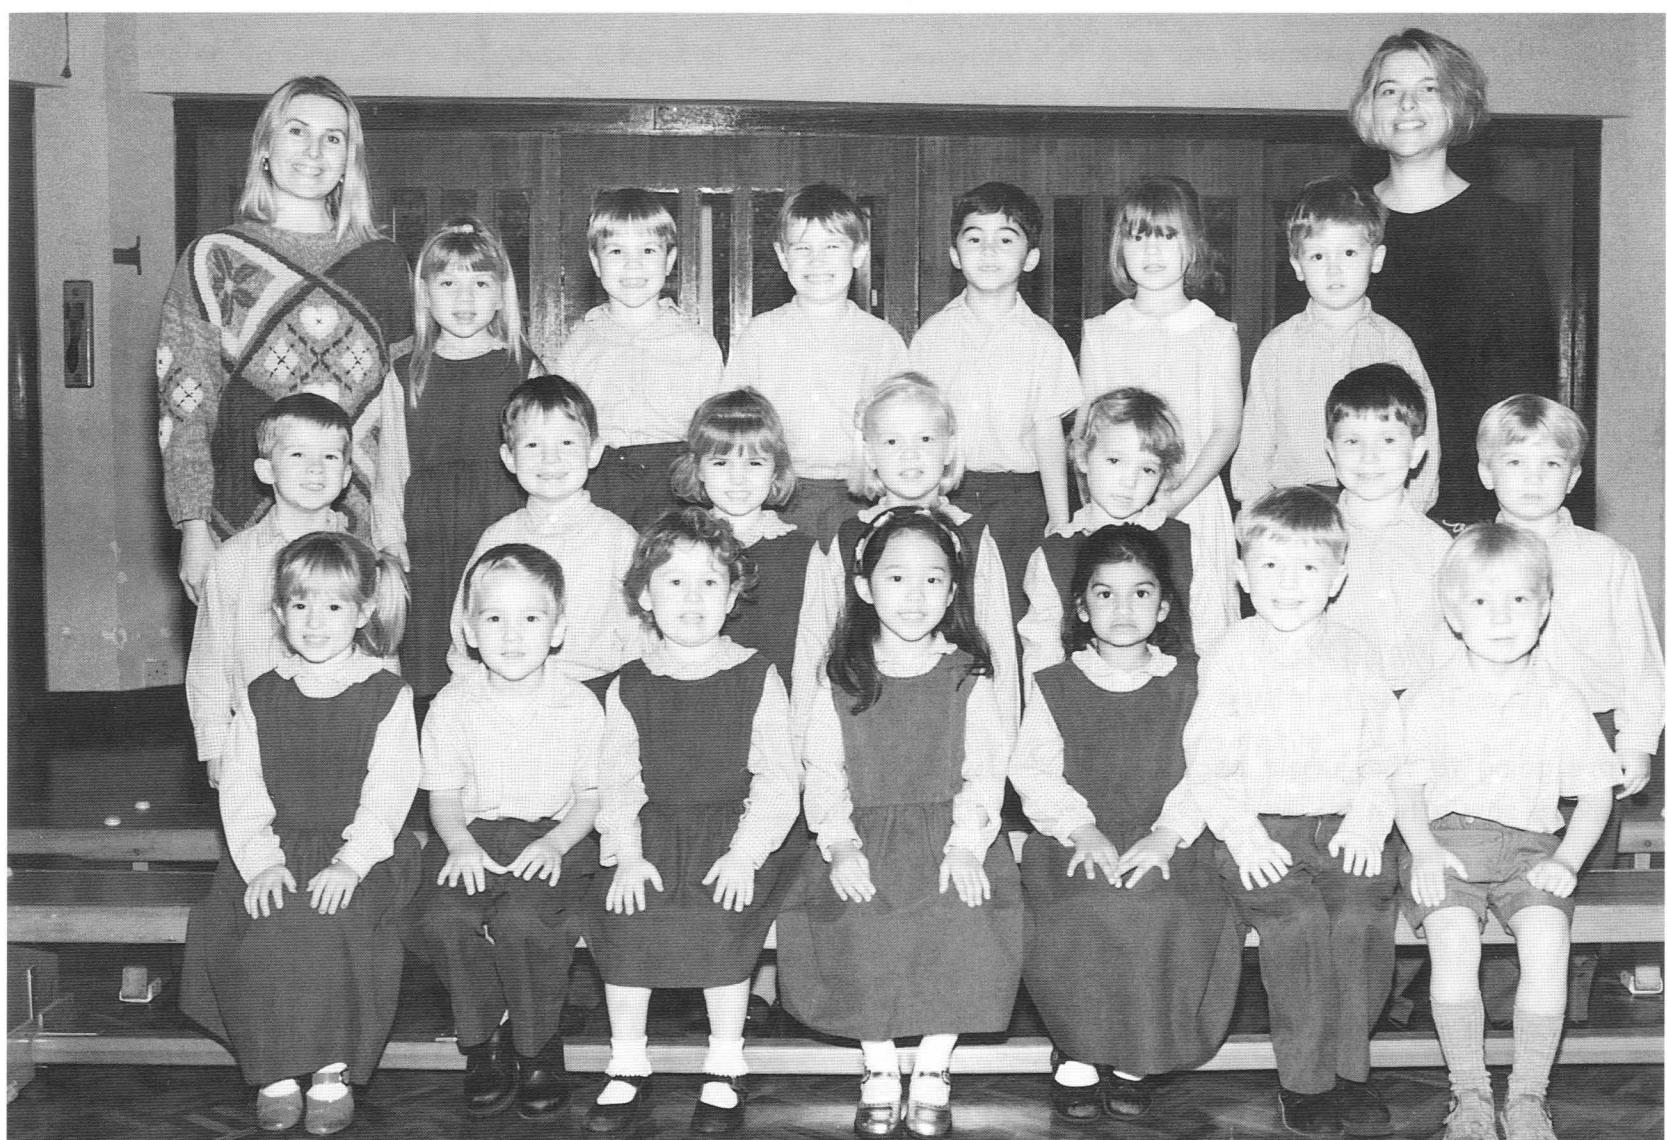

Harriet

They found two other Easter eggs and then they went to their house and ate them all.

WELCOME TO THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF GREAT UNCLE O.P.

Dear Parents, Friends and Children,

Class 3-10 have all worked as a team to make a story. We have worked in pairs to create characters and planets. Some pairs have designed companions. Others have planned stories with one person describing the planet and the other partner the story. We drew pictures to help us plan our stories using the idea of Great Uncle O.P. and times table planets. Now put the paper down and enjoy the super adventures of Great Uncle O.P. as he searches for his lost keys.

By Imogen Lawrence

Great Uncle O.P.

Great Uncle O.P. has eight spiky legs and four soft fingers connected to eight smelly arms. He also has a bald head and a squishy wing, that could fly him to the scary Universe. He has enormous feet that can help him jump to the hazy sky. Great Uncle O.P. has a fingernail that is one metre long and eight fantastic horns above an eye that can see inside the incredible sea. He can smell most things with his nose and has hot strong teeth on a yellow face. He does not like to wear soft clothes.

By Clara Kim

The Spaceship

The fast spaceship travels at seventy thousand kilometres per hour. It has six bathrooms and the number on the rocket is 463. The rocket is made out of metal and water and has forty thousand buttons. It is red and uses one hundred ladders. There are three televisions. The gas is measured in gallons and is made from peat, strawberries and soap. The rocket is fifty five thousand five hundred and fifty five feet long. The two drivers are called Mat and Math. He has four laboratories in the rocket.

By Jay Lambert

Great Uncle O.P. likes famous history books but he does not like to read fantastic story books. He lived inside a hairy giant's hair but did not like the squashy shampoo. Due to living inside the giant's hair Great Uncle O.P. was bored and lonely. He lost his special keys in the bath when the giant was washing his hair, and a big blob of the shampoo landed on his head. They went down the plug hole to the $2\times$, $3\times$, $4\times$, $5\times$, $6\times$ and $10\times$ planets so he had to go and find them. Now he is very smart and happy. His mood is always friendly as he searches for his keys.

By Noel Lee

The rocket uses 15 gallons of deadly gas. Some of this is made with compost, acids and a gigantic powerful explosion heated up. It has two escape craft on the wings. They go two times as fast. It also uses twenty gallons of boiling petrol. Great Uncle O.P. made the rocket and also eight robots. There are two in each laboratory. They control most things in the ship. The robots have ears that can pick up radio signals and contain computers. They are able to magnify up to four hundred times. The first planet they ever visited was called Weyo Wen. When they got there it was raining chickens so they set off at full speed. They then visited a planet called Cloudmaster by travelling through some stone avalanches. Here they visited a gold mine before carrying on their journey.

The Friends Of Great Uncle O.P..

Booboo

One of Great Uncle O.P.'s friends is called Booboo. She sleeps in a magical bucket. When you sleep on one of the chipped and broken brown and black leaves the bucket will go invisible. She likes to eat frog soup, mouldy bones, snack brain, toad leg, bug body and snailslime blue juice. Her best friends are Noonoo, Looloo and Moomoo. Every day she plays games like rolly polly, space dog and stuck in chocolate mud. One morning when Booboo woke she did not have any food left because she did not like to eat flowers, leaves, berries, red apples and delicious pears. She soon found a pizza tree. Booboo loves pizza so she ran and jumped in the tree and ate all of the scrumptious pizza. When she had finished the last piece of yummy pizza Uncle O.P. flew past on his spaceship. He called "Booboo, come hear" so Booboo jumped down and got onto the fantastic spaceship and that's how she met Great Uncle O.P.

By Emma Hendy

Noonoo the Space Dog

The space dog Noonoo is a magical dog. She has pink and blue wings. Noonoo fell out of her spaceship and got stranded on a chocolate planet. On that wonderful planet there lived a slimy, sludgy green monster. The monster had one big head, two sharp black eyes and a rounded wriggly nose. It also had ten swish toes and a very fat tummy. The vicious monster chased Noonoo so she hid. Great Uncle O.P. found Noonoo and she zoomed off with him in his spaceship. Noonoo is very good at speaking and O.P. likes her a lot.

By Natasha Houghton

Moomoo

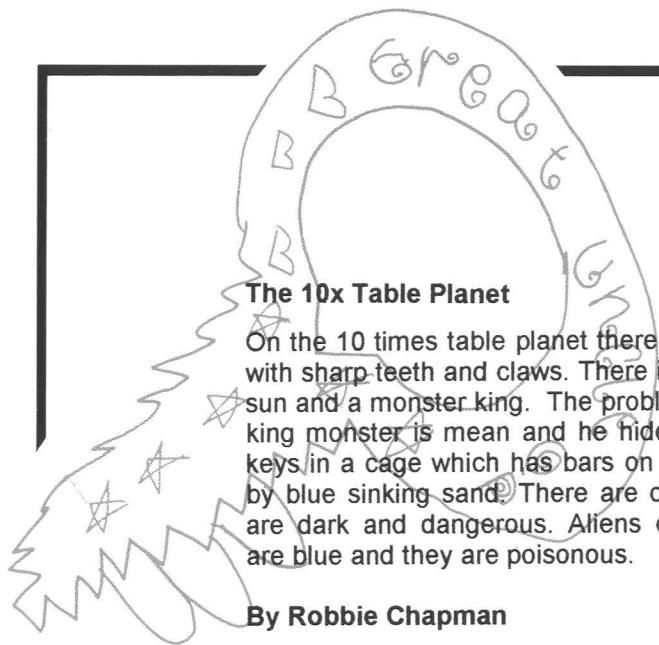

Moomoo lives on the planet Oooooo. She sleeps in a cardboard box and has a friend who lives on the moon. This friend is called Namdismaty. Moomoo has four eyes, three legs, six arms and she is big. She has pink and orange stripes with a touch of black and blue. The planet Oooooo has a creature with ten gashy toes, eight arms, a big tummy and a pig's nose. Moomoo likes alien soup and mouldy bones. She also likes shark eel. Moomoo once got lost and decided to make a home on the planet Oooooo. One day Great Uncle O.P. had an adventure on the planet Oooooo and found her. That is how they got together and she became Great Uncle O.P.'s companion. When Moomoo went in the spaceship they played a new game. It is called spaceleap. The spacedog leaps over Great Uncle O.P. and he then leaps over the spacedog, and it keeps going on. They live on the spaceship. It has beds and a bathroom.

By Zoë Clifford

Looloo

Looloo has a red coloured clown nose that is beautiful and shiny. Her tail is purple, puffy and curly. Looloo also has spiky ears and sharp teeth. She is one year old and wears a collar round her neck. Looloo likes to play at jumping and running around and is known to be kind, gentle and friendly, if she is asleep do not touch her because she is a nice animal. Most of the time she is good but at times she can be naughty....she will bite Great Uncle O.P. if she is cross.

The 10x Table Planet

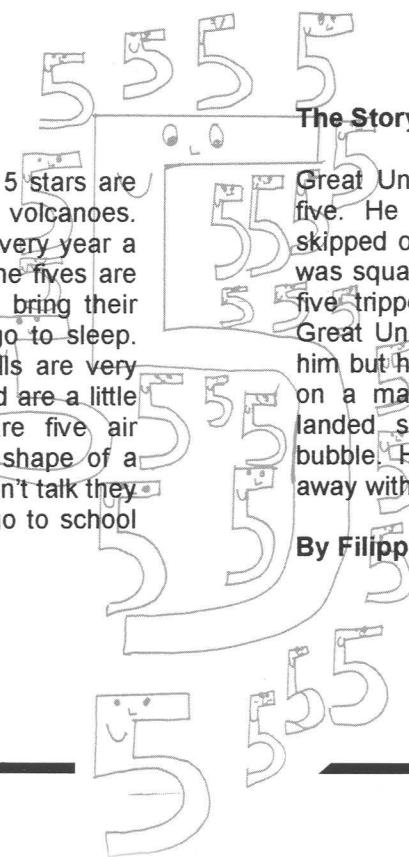

On the 10 times table planet there is a dinosaur with sharp teeth and claws. There is a cinnamon sun and a monster king. The problem is that the king monster is mean and he hides the golden keys in a cage which has bars on it surrounded by blue sinking sand. There are dungeons that are dark and dangerous. Aliens on the planet are blue and they are poisonous.

By Robbie Chapman

The Story

The problem on the 10X planet is that Uncle O.P.'s spaceship is stuck on the top of the spooky scary hill in dynamite that is going to explode in eleven hours! He has a new companion called EPO and has to rescue people stuck in a dark electric cage. The key is on the third floor of a building. Also on this floor there is the slimy six armed monster that lives in the football castle in front of the gold, shiny key. Finally O.P. finds which button to press and goes to the dangerous second floor. He answers all the questions that the mean dinosaurs give him and goes to the third floor, he feels very scared. There is a king dinosaur who asks him ten of the hardest questions. Uncle O.P. gets them all right so the king dinosaur blasts off to the moon and Uncle O.P. gets his spaceship and key back.

The 5x Table Planet

The sky is dark purple, the shining 5 stars are light green and the ground has little volcanoes. In the volcanoes are tiny bubbles. Every year a five comes out and plays games. The fives are exactly blue and red. Most of them bring their skipping ropes and skip until they go to sleep. The bed is a five shape and the hills are very spiky, they go up down, up down and are a little slippery. In the bedroom there are five air conditioners and their shape is the shape of a five like everything else. The fives don't talk they only say "ma ma ma". They don't go to school that's why they can't talk.

By Katrina Duck

The Story

Great Uncle O.P. landed on the magic planet five. He saw a red five skipping. The five skipped on top of scared Great Uncle O.P..who was squashed inside the five but still alive. The five tripped and fell into a bubble volcano. Great Uncle O.P. got out of the five by tickling him but he then got stuck in a bubble and went on a magical journey around the planet. He landed softly and found the key inside the bubble. He went into his spaceship and flew away with his key.

By Filippa Lundquist

The 2X Table Planet

On this blue planet there lives horrid creatures called Zooks. They have green humongous heads and a green body. They have big helmets, two grisly grey antennas with big red bobs on the top. They also have zap guns. On this planet there lives lots of bats and they are called Zeeks. They have enormous wings, small eyes and medium-sized bodies. They are very fast at flying. There also lives the slimehead creature that has five slimy arms and lives in a sunken pool. There are enormous rocks that are coloured a grey blackish green. There is also a cool zook café, a zeek hall and a fort. There are really powerful cannons and the cannonballs.... you should see them.

By Freddie Cornish

The 3X Table Planet

The three times table planet has silver sky, black ground, light blue sea and red grass. It also has green birds, golden volcanoes, orange sharks, sticky yellow snakes and brown gigantic bears. There are hairy fish, furious whales, lengthy eels, slimy jelly fish, smiling dolphins and red heartless cobras. A magic old man lives in a muddy hole in a green huge forest.

By Ricky Ogawa

The Story

Great Uncle O.P. lands on the ferocious 2x table planet next to the sunken pool. He pulls Noonoo out of the humongous spaceship and they race over to a scary zook. The zook asks Great Uncle O.P..a two times table question but Great Uncle O.P. gets it wrong so he and Noonoo get zapped. They find themselves stuck in a big fort. Great Uncle O.P. sees a friend called Muscles. O.P. and Muscles have a talk about how they can sneak into the fearsome hall and bring out Great Uncle O.P.'s key and free everyone who has been zapped. They make their excellent plan and go into the fearsome hall. Some zooks see them and chase them to the key. O.P. locks the enormous door and brawny muscles grabs the key. All the aliens who have been zapped are free and all the zooks turn nice. O.P. and Noonoo leave the two times planet safely

By Oliver Smith

The Story

Great Uncle O.P. landed on the three times table planet and met a strange alarming creature called Hunter. Hunter had a likeable wife called Mrs. Cook. Hunter liked to hunt whilst Mrs Cook liked to cook. Hunter had found the key and hid it in the mountain. Great Uncle O.P. knew this so he headed to the mountain saying "where is my key?" He saw a bear and some bones. Great Uncle O.P. threw the bone into the sea and the gigantic bear followed. When he went forward he met a sticky yellow snake. He was afraid to step on it but the snake moved away. Soon Great Uncle O.P. saw the key but the old bridge was broken. He was too scared to try to jump. Great Uncle O.P. began to cry as a magic old man walked along. The magic old man fixed it so Great Uncle O.P. was able to get his key back. He felt very happy.

The 4x Table Planet

This planet has purple ground, glittery yellow sky, ugly green villains with four sludgy heads, four slimy hands, eight compact legs, four ape-like arms and eight stompy feet. The four headed stinky villains travel rapidly by powerful jet spaceships. Castles on this wonderful planet are royal and clean but dungeons are dark, damp drippy places. Dopey ghosts on this planet are very clumsy and fly about. Keys on this planet are pitch black. Houses are clean but there are no clean garages in the nice houses to keep spaceships. There are lots of exciting activities on this glorious planet.

By Amit Parekh

The 6X Table Planet

The six times table planet has lots of dangerous creatures like the 2x 6 spitter, 6X flying monster, the mean killer flick alien and the ghastly spikehead. There is also the red and yellow metal lava man but one of the worst is the green leaf eater Root Rot. The planet also has a character named Plinky, he has long arms and in the middle is a pink huge nailless finger. Beware on the 6X table planet because up in the bright red sky is a bright red square creature and at the bottom of it are some cool blue spikes. Another creature is Crunch but worst of all is the green, fire breathing, spike head, crown headed, toothless, striped, meanest most dreadful King Dragon VI. He is the most horrid creature on the 6X planet and he is also the meanest king ever. At the bottom of the planet is a carpet shaped tunnel and if you go through that tunnel you will see a creepy haunted spaceship. In the spaceship is a humongous seat, if you sit on that huge seat the very loud alarm will go off and the horrid King Dragon VI will come. On the planet there is also the majestic stinky flying frog. He helps majestic people but not horrible people. The most colourful object on the planet is a maze.

By Billy Fraser

The Story

Great Uncle O.P.

Uncle O.P. arrived rapidly on a hovering effervescent skateboard. He landed with a tremendous bump. He got off his skateboard and found himself in front of a frightening black gate. He opened it slowly and found himself in front of a royal castle and walked along the slippery wooden floor. The key is in the dark and damp dungeon where a half broken chair asks Great Uncle O.P. eight questions. He gets them all right and flies away on his skateboard.

By Hugo Wheatman

The Story

Great Uncle O.P. lands by a ghastly stinky flying frog. The flying frog takes him to a coloured maze, the colours are red, blue, yellow, green and purple. A flying monster arrives and says "hop on my back". They fly over the coloured maze and on to meet King Dragon VI who has the key. O.P. is feeling very nervous. King Dragon says "I will give you a fair deal, I will play you at snakes and ladders". Great Uncle O.P. wins and gets the key. He is very happy, he walks to his spaceship and flies off.

Elizabeth married Henry VII,

Lots of jewels.

I love learning about Tudors.

Zero was the number of her husbands.

At Bosworth Field there was a battle,

Before Elizabeth was called Elizabeth of York.

Elizabeth became Queen because she was Henry VIII's daughter.

Tudors are very interesting.

Hunting was Henry's favourite hobby.

The Tudors

Elizabeth was the Queen of England,

Lively, lovely and kind.

Incredible inside her palace,

Zestful and full of life.

A very powerful Queen, Elizabeth was,

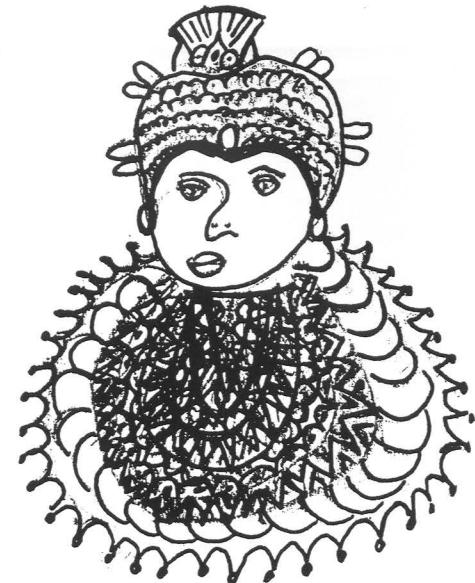

Because of her, England was great.

England was powerful when Elizabeth was Queen,

The daughter of a famous King.

Henry was Elizabeth's father.

Elizabeth was the daughter of Henry VIII,

Lovely was Elizabeth in all her ways,

In Elizabeth's reign explorers travelled,

Zealous for her country.

Anne Boleyn was her beautiful mother,

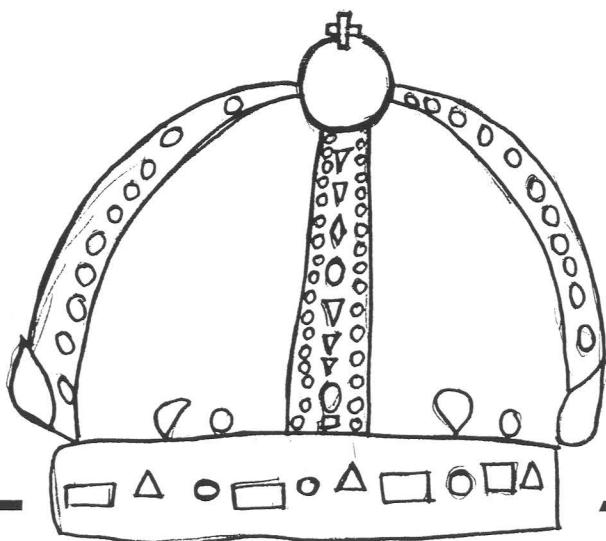

Beheaded was Elizabeth's mother!

England flourished with Elizabeth as Queen.

The Queen of England never married.

Her country she loved for forty-five years.

Shona Dobson

Henry the Eighth was the second Tudor king.
Elizabeth was his daughter and her mother was Anne Boleyn.
Nowhere in England was he disliked.
Rare in his ways,
Yet he was a fine sportsman.

William Fordyce

Henry VIII

Henry was the first Tudor king.
Elizabeth of York he married peace to bring,
Now he gathered taxes to make him sing.
Richer he got the more powerful was the king,
Yet his son spent all his worldly belongings.

Jamie Fulton-Kennedy

Henry VIII played in lots of sports.
Elizabeth was his daughter and,
Neither were unfriendly sorts.
Ruled with kindness and with thought,
You can read in books about what he taught.

Jamie Hayward

Elizabeth I

Elizabeth was the Queen of England,

Lively, kind and lovely.

Indeed she loved her country much,

Zealous in all her ways.

A very powerful Queen was Elizabeth,

Beautiful, strong and bold.

England flourished under Elizabeth's reign,

Terrific Queen of her people,

Happy they were until she died.

Catherine Parr

Elizabeth was a mighty Queen.

Long ago people were put in cages.

Intelligent was how she was seen.

Zero was her number of husbands.

Ann Boleyn, her mother, didn't live for ages.

Bosworth field was an amazing scene

Ermine was the fur she wore.

Tudors were indeed famous.

Henry used up his father's wages.

Shanzaeh Hameed

Elizabeth I was a Tudor Queen.

Learn about the Tudors with me.

I know what Tudors there have been.

Zillions of money in Tudor chests.

Anne Boleyn, she lost her head.

Bosworth battle was the start of their reign.

Elizabeth I with her lovely long hair,

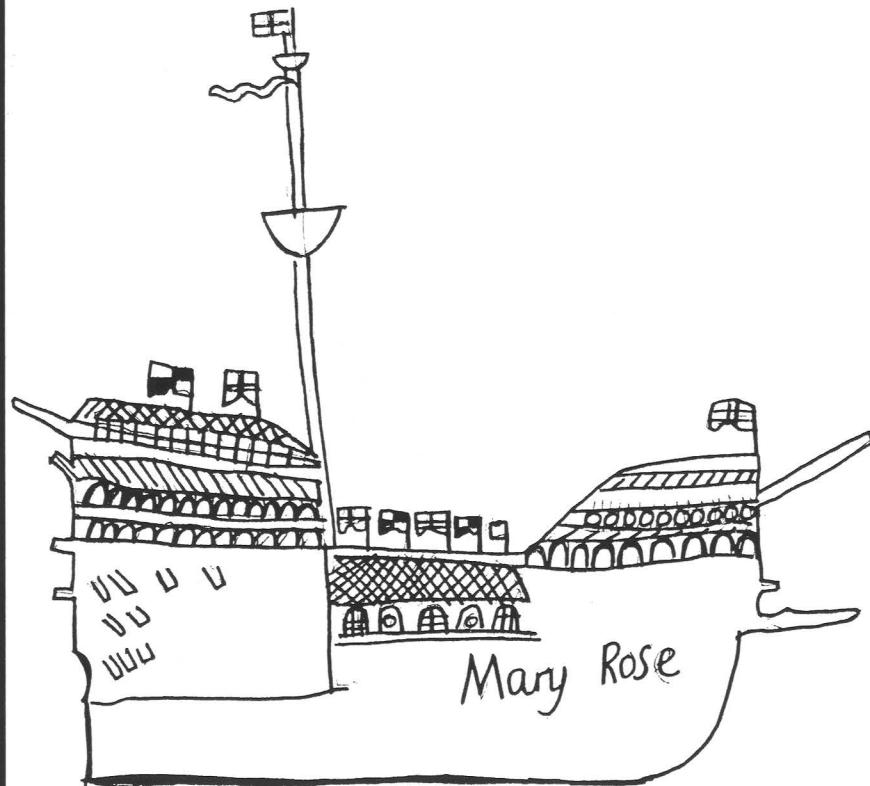

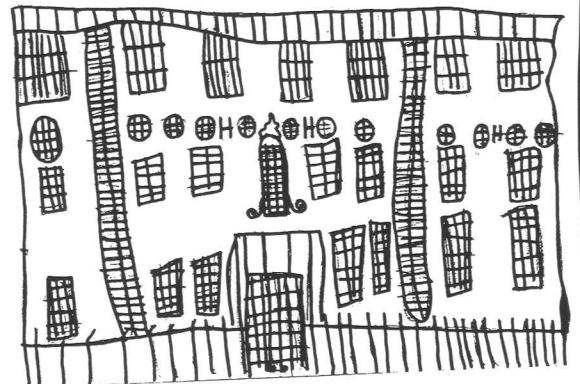

The Tudor Queen for many a long year.

Her father was Henry VIII.

Nina Mowinckel

Edward became king when his,
Dear father died.
When Edward did not cry,
And also hard he tried.
Ruling felt quite all right with the help of his friends,
Deciding what to do for the church was what he did in the end.

Timothy Broadbent

Edward was a famous King.
Detestable Henry executed his brides.
While he was King his health was grim.
Anne Boleyn was Edward's pride.
Royal Edward the youngest King,
Died when he was no more than a child.

Kathryn Henderson

Richard of York was the King of England.
Other people really wanted to rule.
So it was that Henry won the land.
Ending the thirty years war for the crown jewels.

Harrison Byres

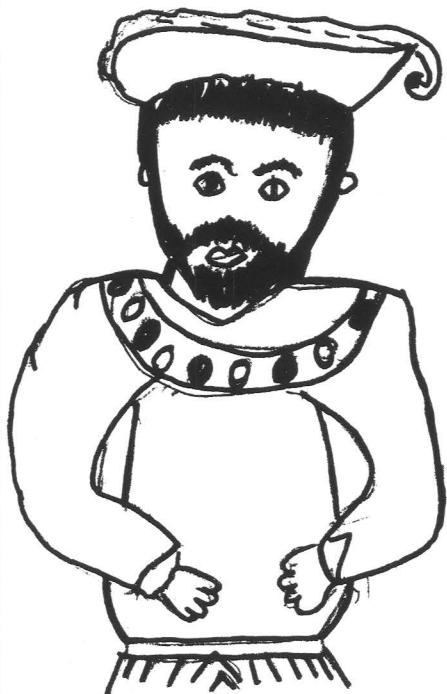

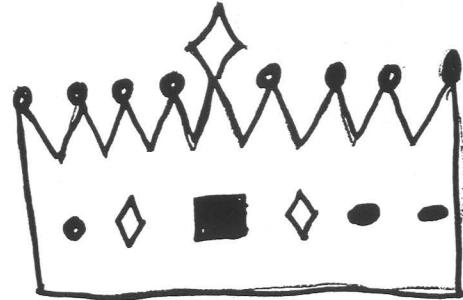

Edward

Edward died as a young man,
Dessicated he was not.
War was his father, but with Edward, peace.
Abolish little villages, his father must have thought.
Ridiculous clothes he wore.
Damage he couldn't do although it was possible.

Julian Byres

The Tudors lived in the 16th Century as King and Queen.
United Kingdom they ruled the greatest to be seen.
Divorcing had been illegal before Tudor times.
Only Henry changed all that because he thought that it was fine.
Ruled with courage and happiness too.

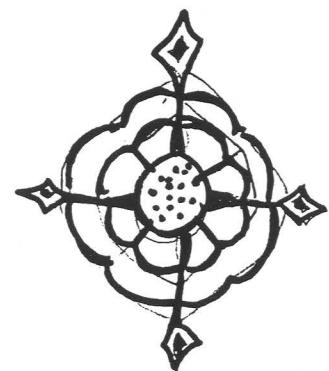

Rupert Davies

Tudors lived in England,
Until the Stuarts came.
Dresses were very fancy,
Order was their aim.
Rulers of the rich were sometimes very cruel,
Singing was very common as well as the odd duel.

Cem Dewilde

Tudor Kings and Queens

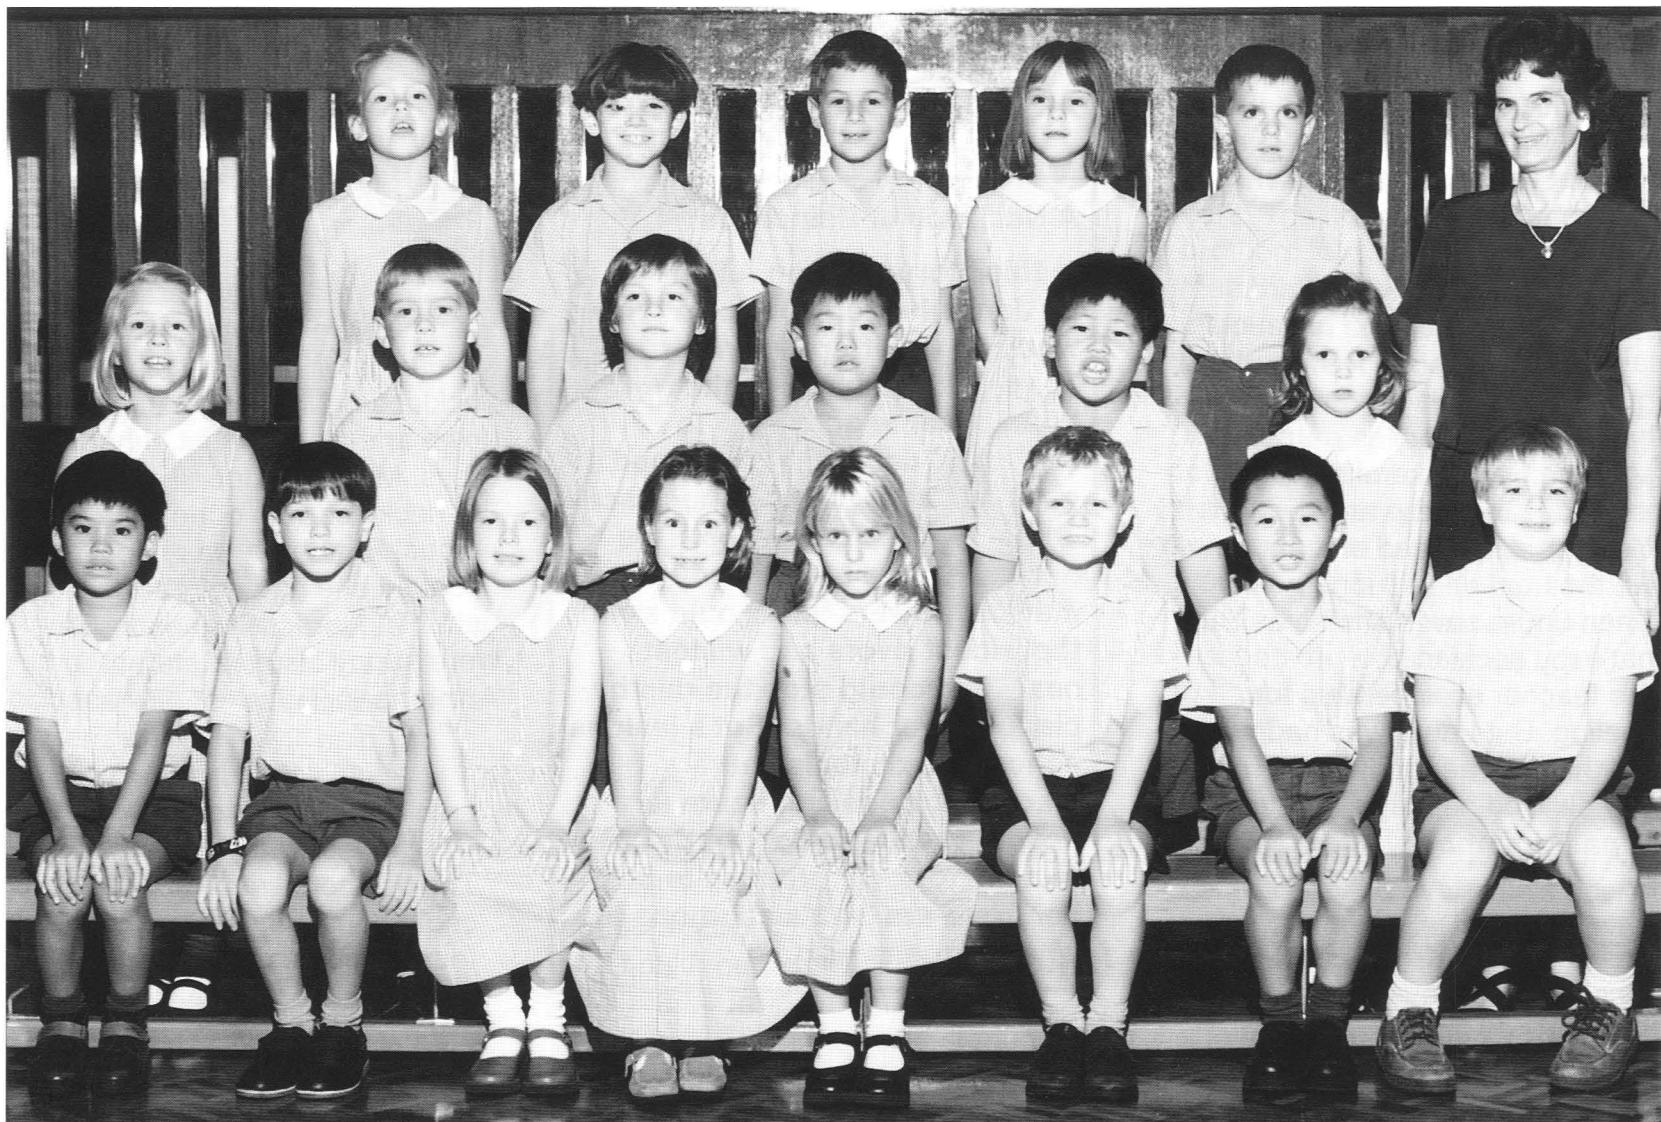

Mary was the cousin of Elizabeth,
And Henry was a cruel, cruel man.
Richard died on Bosworth field!
Years of Tudor rule began.

Rimsha Danish

The Tudors were Kings and Queens,
Usually they were kind.
Do you know that the most famous of all the Tudors,
Or the fattest was Henry VIII,
Ruled England until 1547, the greatest King of all!

The next day Meg and Laura went to school. Meg was wearing the necklace. On her way Laura went past the place where she had met the animals. Suddenly the fish turned up.

"Nothing," he said.

"Nothing either," said the bird.

"Nor in the houses," said the mouse.

In school Meg was wearing the necklace.

"Meg, can you take off your necklace?" said the teacher.

"Yes," said Meg and she put it in the box.

When Laura saw it she said: "But that's my necklace."

The teacher scolded Meg for stealing. But Laura was happy and thanked her godfather. Then they all lived happily ever after.

Anna Bagenholm

One day passed, two days passed, three days passed, four days passed and she still hadn't found the necklace. So she went by herself to the park looked in the pond but the necklace wasn't there. She looked in the zoo but she could not find it! So she went home sadly. But the next day Meg gave her back her necklace and that day was her birthday!

Joshua Lee

A Necklace of Raindrops

In this story by Joan Aiken
Mr Jones helped the North Wind when he was trapped in a tree.
To repay his kindness the North Wind became godfather to Mr Jones' daughter Laura, and gave her a very special necklace - a necklace of raindrops. This necklace gave Laura many magical powers- she could swim the widest rivers and wildest seas, and could stop the rain by clapping her hands. But a jealous schoolfriend steals Laura's magic necklace and Laura is heartbroken. The fish, bird and mouse however promise to help her. Here are 3-12's solutions to what happens next.

So the fish, bird and mouse set off to find the necklace. A few minutes later the bird spied the necklace in Meg's pocket. He flew down and picked it out of her dress. Meg soon found out that the necklace was gone. She was furious! But Laura was happy because she had her necklace back. The bird, fish and mouse were happy also for Laura.

Annemarie Tully

The fish could not find it, the bird could not find it but the mouse found it in Meg's house.

She took it away.

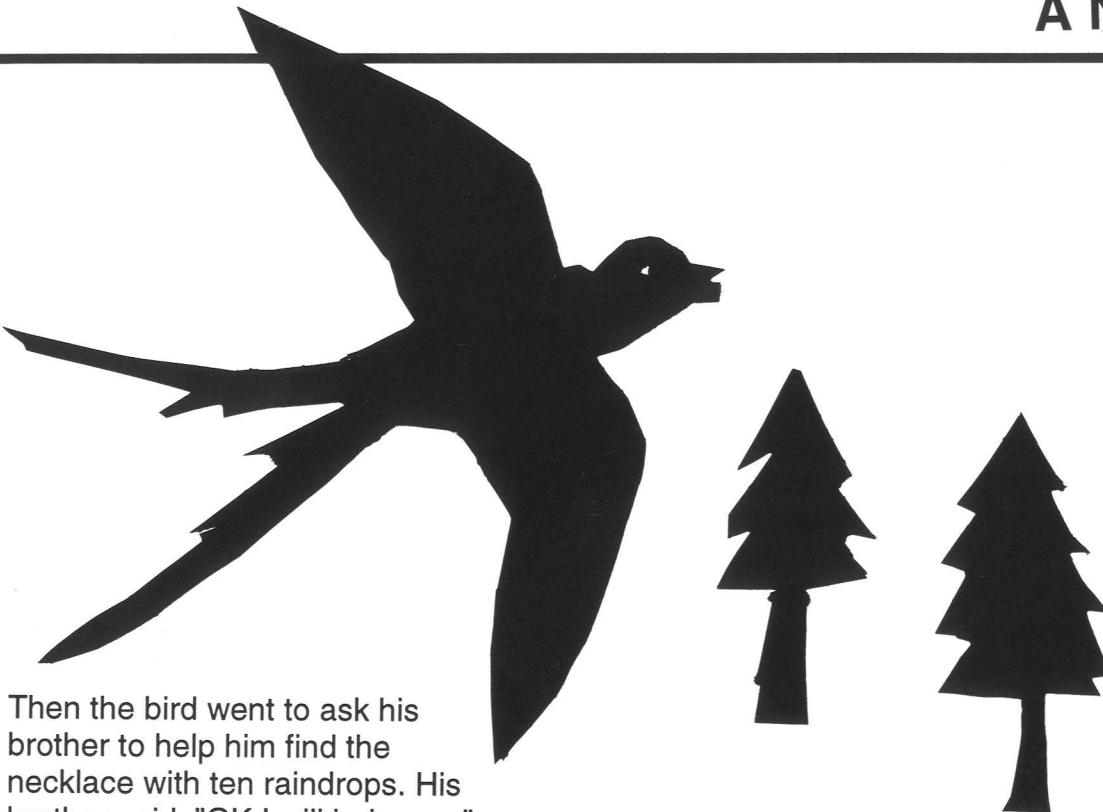

Then Meg was furious! She kicked and screamed at school. She had to go to the headteacher Mrs Blood. She was very angry with Meg and sent her home. When she arrived her mother was mad and sent her to her room and locked the door.

Meg decided to leave home. She packed four bags and climbed out of the window into the garden, and ran to the bus stop. The bus took her to Happy Valley and she went to live with her friend Charlotte.

They lived happily together and Meg never stole again.

Elysia Quinn

A Necklace of raindrops

Then the bird went to ask his brother to help him find the necklace with ten raindrops. His brother said: "OK I will help you." The Mouse went to ask his brother to help him and he said he would. Then the fish asked his brother to help him and he agreed. But they couldn't find the necklace with ten raindrops. One day passed, two days passed, three days passed and it was nearly Laura's birthday. But the fish, mouse and bird all saw Meg wearing Laura's necklace. The mouse was very angry so he ran to Meg and snatched her necklace off her. But Meg was angry too and started chasing the mouse. He ran to his hole and hid. The hole was close to Laura's house so he quickly ran to her house as fast as he could because he could hear the North Wind coming. He gave the necklace to Laura and she put it on just before her godfather came!

Alvin Ng

"I will help you by stealing," said a robber.
"Thank you," said Laura.
When Laura got home she went straight to her room and started to cry. When she went to school the next day she looked for the necklace but couldn't find it. When she saw Meg's hand in her pocket she said to Meg:
"What's inside your pocket?"
Meg said: "Nothing", and the bell rang for lunchtime.
When Meg was out in the playground she tripped and the necklace flew out of her pocket. Then the kind bird caught it. After school the bird gave the necklace to the godfather who passed it on to Laura.

William Pedersen

So the fish checked in the sea and there was nothing but fish, clams and lobster. The bird flew over the roads and the farms but there was nothing but people and cars. The mouse checked with his brothers in all the houses. One of them had noticed that Meg was a jealous girl so they suspected her. So they went to her house and saw her wearing the necklace. Then Laura called the mouse and told him she was worried because her godfather was coming soon with the tenth raindrop and he would be angry if she had lost the necklace. So the mouse's brother rescued the necklace and gave it to Laura just in time.

Alvin To

The godfather was quite angry. Laura checked everyone's pocket and on everyone's body, but when she checked Meg's pocket she found it. She was so happy that she ran home, put it on and skipped back to school.

Meg was very cross and the teacher was very cross with Meg. Mrs James made her go out in the corridor for one hour. Meg started to cry. It was Laura's birthday and she got the tenth raindrop on her necklace.

The next day she went to school but Mrs James did not say Meg's name in the register. Laura was wondering where Meg was. Mrs. James said that Meg had moved to Australia for ever and ever. She never came back to school.

Emily Hamilton

A Necklace of Raindrops

One day passed, two days passed, three days passed,one month passed. When will the fish and the bird and the mouse come back?

Laura ran to the park. The fish was there, the bird was there, the mouse was there. They were all there. The fish had necklaces all over him. So had the bird and the mouse. But none of them were right! One day passed and then one of the mouse's cousins brought in the right one! Finally Laura got her necklace back. But what about Meg? She was furious, she turned red with anger and never tried to steal again for the rest of her life.

Thomas Grey

So the fish and his brothers went to look for the necklace but they couldn't find it. So the birds looked high and low but they could not find it. So the mice looked and looked and found some, but none with raindrops on them.

The next day at school Meg was wearing the necklace. When the teacher saw this she screamed: "You naughty girl, go to the Principal this instant."

So she gave the necklace back and cried.

"Serves you right Meg, now say sorry." said the Principal.

Then they were friends.

Duncan Riddell

Laura prayed:

"Oh Lord, please help me find my necklace, in Jesus' name, amen."

The little mouse said:

"I will go and search every house and then come back and tell you."

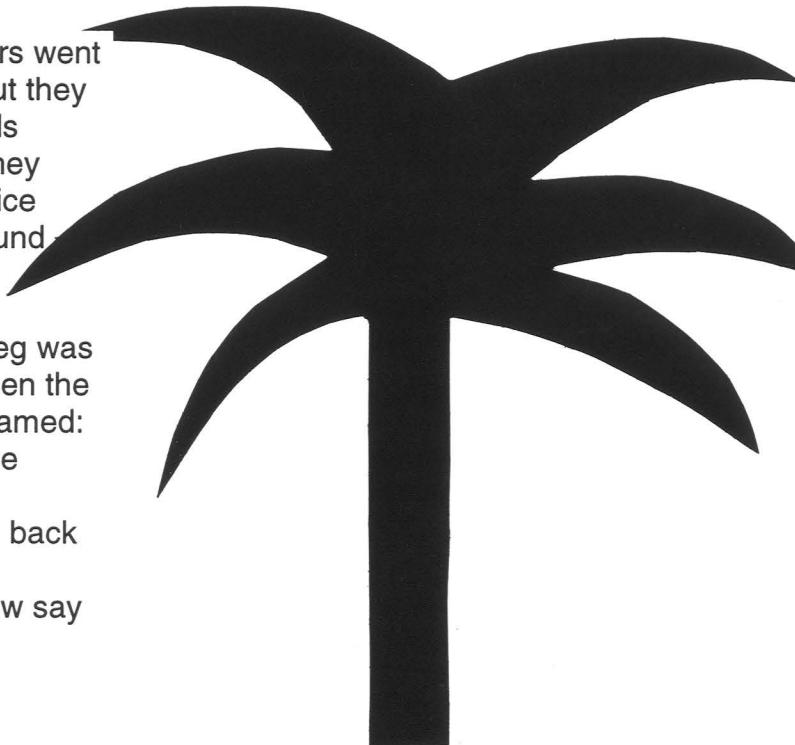

"Thank you little mouse," said Laura.

Little mouse scrambled off. Then she went and looked in Meg's next door neighbour's house.

One of her brothers also looked in Meg's house. He climbed through the window and found himself in Meg's room. Then all of a sudden Meg came in.

"What's that funny spot on the carpet?" said Meg. She bent down to look at the carpet and the mouse grabbed the necklace and took it off her neck and gave it back to Laura.

Danielle Houghton

The fish, bird and mouse looked in the rivers, woods and houses but couldn't find the necklace. But in one of the houses Meg was wearing the necklace with nine raindrops. Laura was very very sad. When Meg went home her father saw the necklace around her neck. Meg's Dad gave it to a peddler who was collecting presents for the King of Arabia. The bird saw this and flew to tell Laura. They set off in search of the King's palace.....

Charlotte Brown

So they set off to find the necklace. The mouse looked in every corner, and the bird looked everywhere and so did the fish. So on her next birthday she told her godfather what happened.

Her godfather said:

"On your birthday I will bring you two raindrops."

Laura went to school and told her teacher the story. Her teacher found the necklace, and they all lived happily ever after.

Daniella Ferrier

The next day Meg forgot to take off her necklace and wore it to school. But Laura saw the necklace. She thought she would do the same thing as Meg had done. So she said to the teacher: "Meg is wearing a necklace in school."

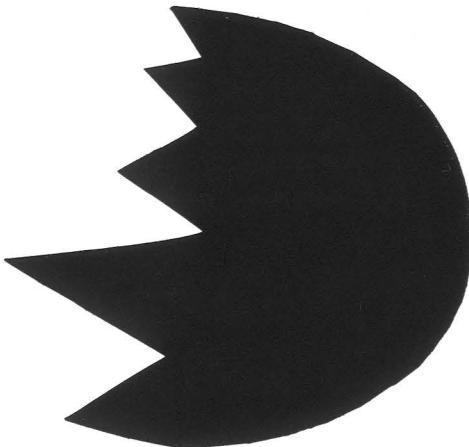

Meg smiled in a nasty way.

So the teacher said:

"I'll put it in my special box."

At playtime Laura stole the necklace and quickly put it in her pocket. When she got home her godfather was there, but he never found out!

Robyn Nicholl

The next day both Meg and Laura went to school. Meg secretly took off the necklace and hid it on the roof. Then she went down to the playground and said: "Where's your necklace?" to Laura.

"I don't know," said Laura sadly.

"Can you help me find it?"

"Of course," said Meg, "I will look all day if I have to."

But Meg was lying. She didn't look for the necklace, but she went upstairs and took it to the toilet. She was going to flush it down the loo. But another girl stopped her and rushed back to Laura with the necklace.

She was so pleased that she gave her a raindrop as a reward.

Laura Lang

Then Meg dropped the necklace and the mouse found it and gave it to Laura. It was soon her birthday, and she got another raindrop from her godfather the West Wind. All of her raindrops were gold and she loved playing with them in the rain. But Meg was locked in jail and the evil spirits were there waiting for her. 1 day passed, 2 days passed, 3 days passed, and more, and then she died.

A boy called Fred

A long time ago in England there lived a boy called Fred. He had very strict parents. One day they were more horrible than ever.

His Mum said:

"Get me some breakfast." So he did. He also put a lizard in the bowl. You can guess what happened. Yes, that's right, she screamed as loud as ten fire drills. The next day his dad wanted his clothes. So Fred put itching powder in his underwear. The next day he said:

"Daddy, why are you itching so much?"

"You, you you, no pocket money for you." The next day Fred put a piece of string across the door, then he put a cane in place. His Mum and dad tripped up and - bang - they died! So he got his real Mum and Dad back.

Timmy Stoten

The story of Duncan

Once upon a time there was a boy called Duncan. When he was asleep in his bed he heard a noise. It got louder and louder and louder and BANG! Duncan was sss ccc cared! He quickly got out of bed because really he was a brave boy, and went to hide behind the door. He saw two eyes staring at him. He saw a wet, wet nose and a mouth that said:

"Are you afraid of the dark?"

"No," said Duncan. He thought he would now get hurt but instead the monster just cried, "boohooo!"

Oliver Evans

Little Billy was a spoiled little boy but his Mum and Dad were just fine. He did stuff like putting worms in the cat's litter box, so when the cat came out his parents had to take all the worms off him. He also flushed a guinea pig down the loo. His Mum and Dad were sick of it so they thought of a plan.

"Shall we send him to boarding school?" said his dad. "No that is too mean," said his Mom. "Let's do rock, paper, scissors to see who wins." The dad won and Little Billy was sent to boarding school. The woman who ran the school was Mrs Moore. She was a very, very, very nice person. Little Billy put Mrs Moore's favourite necklace in the trash. So Little Billy was punished and sent home, and from that day he was very good.

Christian Bergbauer

Thousands of years ago there was a village in England. Everything was fine except at night, coming from the mountain there was this terrible noise. In the village there was a castle and in this castle lived a man who had one boy called Prince George. One day Prince George decided he would go with some friends to see where this noise was coming from. They went to the top of the mountain and they saw a dragon. Prince George said to him: "Why are you making such a noise at night?"

The dragon answered, "please stay" but Prince George ran all the way down the mountain screaming his head off!

Ari Rogers

The sly fox

There was a hen, a very clever hen. And nearby lived a fox and his mother. The sly fox wanted to eat the hen but the hen was too clever for him. One day the fox said to his mother:

"We will have the hen for dinner." So the sly fox went to catch the hen. He hid behind a big tree. The hen went out of the house and the sly fox went in the hen's house. When she returned he caught her, put her in his bag and went home. Then he is so tired he falls asleep. The hen comes out of the bag, fills it with stones and quietly goes home. When the fox woke up he carried the bag back home. The sly fox's mother made a fire and the fox opened the bag and the stones fell straight into the fire. The fox and his mother had nothing to eat and they died.

A story with a moral

Two men were out in the woods. Suddenly a bear came out of the woods. One man climbed up a tree. But the other man said, "What shall I do? If I run away the bear will see me. If he sees me he will eat me."

So he lay on the ground and did not move and the bear went away. Then the other man came down from the tree. But the man who was lying on the ground would not go home with him.

The moral:

A real friend will not leave you to face trouble on your own.

It's windy out and I can feel it pushing me,
As if I were forcing a wall to move.
It's windy out and I can feel a drop,
Around the corner I feel another,
I think it's going to rain.
It's windy out, I'm getting frozen,
It's windy out, my lips are icy.
It's windy out and I hold my coat tightly
So that I don't fly away.
It's windy out and I am as frosty as a snowman.

Nicholas Garthoff

What do you think it is?
I smell: Roasted turkey being carried out,
Hot gravy being poured upon potatoes,
Plum cakes being rushed out just in time,
Other cakes having the last touch of icing put on,
Dogs and cats chasing each other,
Leaving bits of fur on carpets and people,
Mince pies having sugar added,
Jell-O being put in the freezer to set.
I hear: Cracking noises, then laughter,
People bustling in and out,
Bumping into people and apologising
Babies crying for food or to have their nappies changed
Things falling, toys, pacifiers, china breaking,
People backing away,
Children falling down, crying and being picked up,
Or laughing and getting up.
I feel: Things whizzing past me from crackers,
Or being thrown by children,
An air of excitement which hangs heavily over everybody,
Children being silly and being scolded by absentminded parents.
I taste: Crumbs of chocolate cake,
Drops of turkey and chicken soup,
Pieces of roast turkey and fried chicken,
Gravy flying out of the pot,
Bits of mince being knocked off,
As dogs and cats scrabble at the waitress,
Jell-O being taken out by a waiter,
Who dodges and ducks from the animals,
Barely managing to hold on to the dish.

You can hear mum rattling around in the kitchen,
And the birds singing merrily,
And boat horns far away at sea.

In Autumn the leaves are dry,
So that they sound as if somebody is crunching crisps
When you walk on them.
In Winter the leaves from Autumn are on the ground,
Waiting for Spring.
The leaves are now soggy and wet,
Making a squelchy sound when you walk on them.
Now it's Spring, everything pops,
Fine, fresh air starts to breeze.
The leaves are bright green, shiny and new,
They feel soft and a little bit like plastic.
In Summer the leaves are everywhere,
And the branches of the trees are heavy with them.
Everything looks clean and fresh
And the shiny leaves sparkle in the sunlight.
Again it's Autumn, and the cycle starts again.

when the sun goes down I slime out of my hiding place leaving a slimy path on my way to the nearest plant. I eat lots of plants but not meat if you do find me please no salt, I will shrivel up and die. I know I am not very pretty like a butterfly, but please no CRUNCH!

I am no ones favourite pet. You mostly will not see me because I hide from the blisteringly hot sun. I hide the sun! I hide the sun!

I lie on the beach and I smell the salty sea
And the unpleasant smell of suntan lotion,
I feel the sand sprinkle me in the breeze
And I feel the sun burning me and making my skin hot.
But after we leave it will still be the same
And it always will be.

I stepped on some leaves and they made a crispy, crunchy sound,
Leaves crackling like potato crisps being crunched between teeth.
I like them all, do you?
I like the sound of the crispy leaves.
In peoples' gardens they sweep up all the leaves,
I like them all, do you?
I see the leaves are growing on the trees,
I see the flowers are blossoming and children making daisy chains.
I like them all, do you?
I see all the crispy leaves have gone away.
I'm upset, are you?

Feel the water blasting on your skin,
And the taste of the salty, seaweedy water.
See the colourful, glamorous fish,
Then you hop out of the water
And lie on the soft, warm sand.
When you jump up again
The sand is stuck to you like glue.
So back into the sea you get, wash off,
And when you get out of the water you can relax again.

Red is for fire burning, flaring up and down,
Under and around absolutely everything.

Yellow is for daffodils planted on the bright green hills.

Blue is for ice and hailstones falling from the sky.

Orange is for blazing, scalding sun beaming down on Earth.

Black is for terrified, petrified beyond belief.

Green is for slime, always bubbling, oozing, dripping.

Pink is for girls spread throughout the colourful World.

White is for snow, cold, frosty, icy.

Purple is for deep painful bruises.

Mango is for well, mango. One of the things that I hate.

Grey is for pollution in the now dirty rivers.

Brown is for chocolate, smooth as silk.

Rainbow, the best thing in the World.

Cameron Brookhouse

The squidgy new clay feels like mud,
It gets up you nose and in your ears,
So I can't hear or smell.

The powdery soft sand crunches under my feet,
And the water flows in-between my toes.

The feel of mum's velvet jacket,
Feels smoother than anything in the World.

The feel of bones, hard and smooth.

The feel of paint, watery and swishy.

Jack Chambers

The smooth touch of paper on my palm leads me to happiness.
When I feel the blade of a knife I'm filled with fear.
I love to read but most of all I like touching the smooth pages of the book.
I love happiness and touching the nice things in the World to me is happiness.

Paul Healy

Blue is the cool colour in the sky and sea.

Yellow is the bright colour in sand and the sun.

Green in leaves and moss.

Brown is coconut and fur and the undergrowth.

Red is the colour of mushrooms and fire and birds.

Black is the colour of the sky at night and hair.

Grey is the colour of muddy rivers and stones.

White is the colour of the clouds and bones.

Purple is the colour of frogs and toads.

Peach is the colour of peaches and faces.

Colours are all around.

Oh colours, oh colours, oh colours.

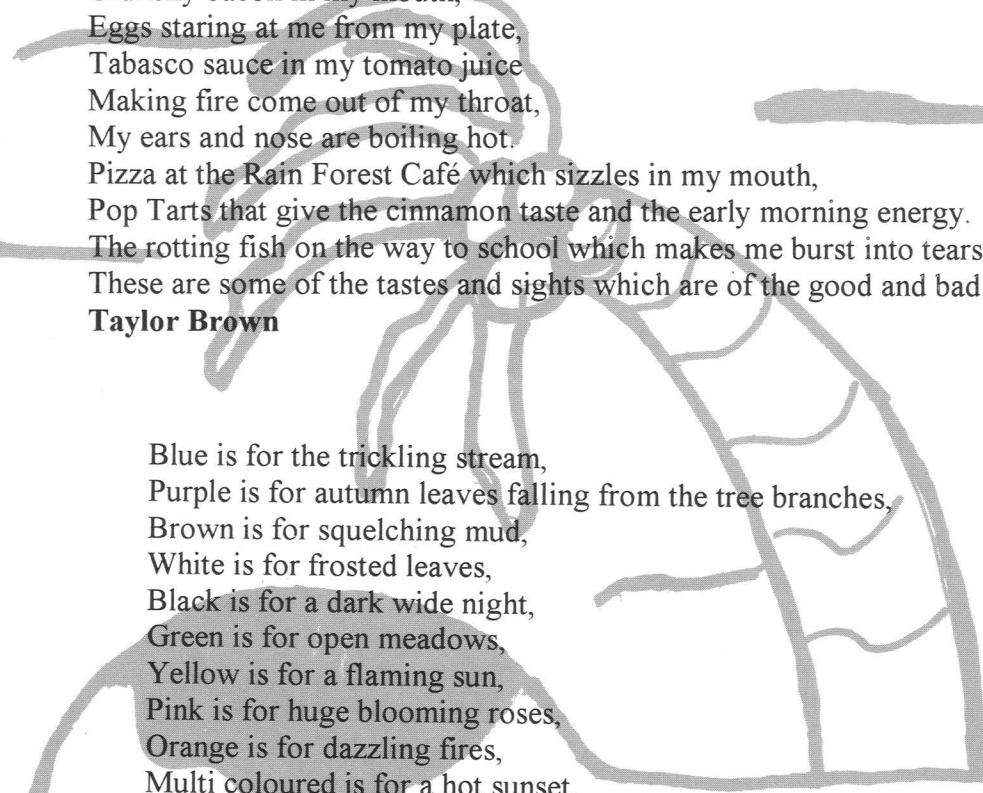

Jamie Dobson

Blue is for the gentle, crystal clear water,
For the crashing waves smashing against the rocks,
For the rain and thunder hitting the ground.

Red is for the fire burning down a building,
For a Chinese good luck symbol,
For the colour of blood dripping out of somebody's body.

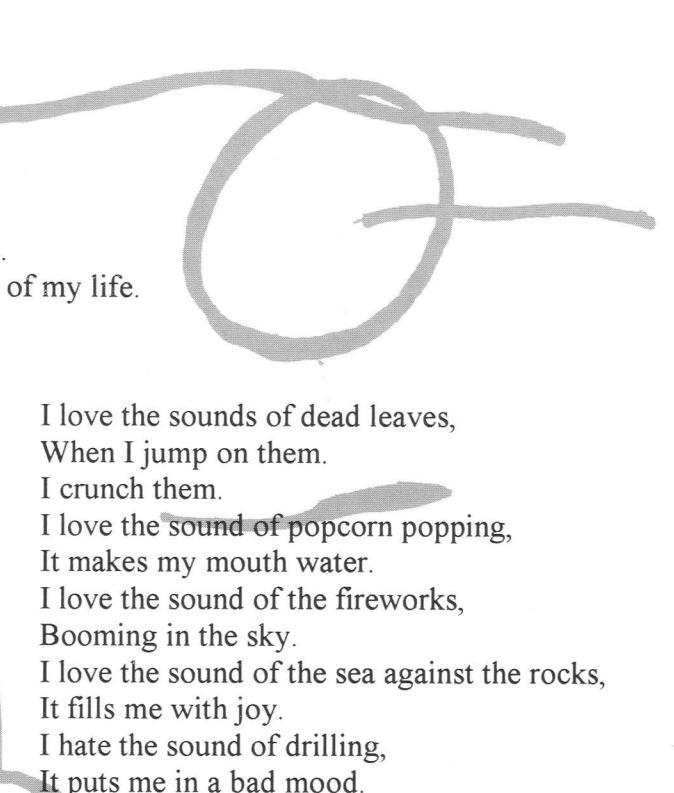

Yellow is for the sun making us sweat,
For the sand on the beach making our feet sore,
For the flame burning down the candle.

Jim Cameron

Crunchy bacon in my mouth,
Eggs staring at me from my plate,
Tabasco sauce in my tomato juice
Making fire come out of my throat,
My ears and nose are boiling hot.
Pizza at the Rain Forest Café which sizzles in my mouth,
Pop Tarts that give the cinnamon taste and the early morning energy.
The rotting fish on the way to school which makes me burst into tears.
These are some of the tastes and sights which are of the good and bad of my life.

Taylor Brown

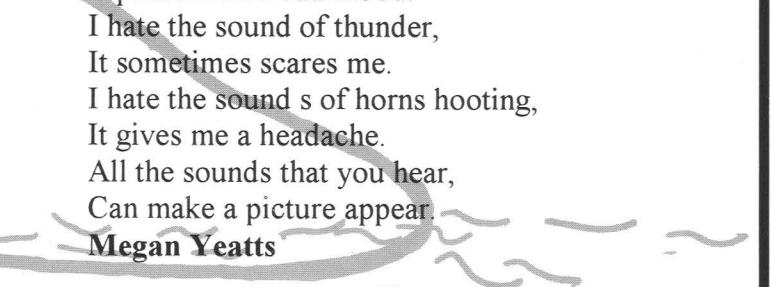

Blue is for the trickling stream,
Purple is for autumn leaves falling from the tree branches,
Brown is for squelching mud,
White is for frosted leaves,
Black is for a dark wide night,
Green is for open meadows,
Yellow is for a flaming sun,
Pink is for huge blooming roses,
Orange is for dazzling fires,
Multi coloured is for a hot sunset.
The World without colours would be nothing.

I love the sound of popcorn popping,
It makes my mouth water.
I love the sound of the fireworks,
Booming in the sky.
I love the sound of the sea against the rocks,
It fills me with joy.
I hate the sound of drilling,
It puts me in a bad mood.
I hate the sound of thunder,
It sometimes scares me.
I hate the sound of horns hooting,
It gives me a headache.
All the sounds that you hear,
Can make a picture appear.

Megan Yeatts

Red is for an apple crunchy and sweet,
For the firecrackers blazing and scaring,
For blood like liquid.
Yellow is for the sun bright and shining,
For the sand soft and smooth,
For the goldfish light as a feather.
Blue is for the sky bright and golden,
For the maths books in P4-14,
For the trays big or small,
White is for a feather light and soft,
For a dove flying left and right,
For paper hard and smooth.

Matthew Hood

Mud squeezing between your toes and tickling them.
Sand sliding out through your fingers as you lift your hands up,

The sound of bacon crackling in the pan,
The sound of sizzling sausages boiling hot,
A packet of crisps being crunched by my brother.
The sound of the fried fish making fierce bubbles that pop on the top,
The sound of chips, all crispy and crunchy,
The sound of potatoes being rolled in butter,
Mum calls for me, it's time for my supper.

Yellow, Yellow, Yellow,
Yellow is for the bright, burning sun at midday.
Green, Green, Green,
Green is for the hills a long way away in the distance.
Oh I love all those colours in my world.

Eloise Edwards

A beautiful dreamy sky blue,
An active restless sea green,
A bright lovely pink violet,
A charming springtime daffodil,
An orange sunset at the end of the day,
It's time for sleep and gentle play.

Glorious, delicious sweets,
Crammed in my mouth,
Melting on the tip of my tongue,
These are the things that I like.

This morning as Blast was getting up he realised that there were only 136 hours to go until the millennium. "This is not safe," Blast thought. "Of course not. It is way too dangerous," his head echoed.

Blast became more worried because of the 2000 chips. The days were passing faster and faster and before long everything in the world could go wrong. With just two days left the millennium was already too close.

It was the day of the millennium and no one had remembered the millennium bug. The main people who had forgotten about the deadly problem were the staff at NASA. Their supercomputers were not free from the millennium bug. Even though they were about to launch the Mars mission, these spaceships were powered by nuclear engines that would explode in space if they weren't fixed.

"This is too much for me," screamed Blast in his loudest voice. Meanwhile, the enemy helicopters were coming with many more bombs in store. The night of the New Year had arrived and now only 15 minutes remained.

MILLENNIUM Bug

The Biting Bug

It was the 31st of December 1999 and I had a brilliant day skiing apart from crashing into a metal table. Lizzie, Robert, Edward, Laura and I decided to go out and ski a bit more. We became bored about five hours later by which time it was 11:45 p.m. It was New Year's Eve we were allowed to go down on the gondola by ourselves.

We weren't worried about our parents because we knew they could ski down. I was more concerned about the millennium bug. As soon as we boarded it, the gondola took off. By the time we were halfway down it was 11:59p.m.

The gondola stopped and so did our hearts and then I noticed a huge bug crawling towards our gondola car. As we saw the door open we chucked our skis on to the snow below. Luckily, I still had a ski pole so I shoved it into the gap between the doors just before it closed. We managed to pry the doors open and plunge to the ground. Although we landed right next to the rocks, we found our skis and flew down the hill at top speed. We never forgot that New Year.

The Scuttle Bug Invasion

On the 31st of December 1999 at 11:23 we all were waiting for midnight to strike. Everyone was becoming bored and also quite thirsty. I decided to go and open the refrigerator door but when I opened it there was no Coca Cola and no Sprite. My friend Daniel and I went down to the local Wellcome supermarket.

When we got there it was just about to shut but the manager asked what was bothering us.

"Well, we need some drinks for the party at midnight tonight," I answered.

"O.K. You can go inside as long as you're quick!" he muttered.

"O.K.," we said thankfully.

Daniel ran to fetch two packs, each containing eight cans of Sprite. I went to get the Coca Cola. By the time we reached the cash register we had realised that we had not brought any money to buy the drinks. Quickly, I ran towards the opening of the store with Daniel waiting behind at the cash register. I bumped into Dan's mum who was with my brother, Trevor. They were on their way upstairs but they saved me climbing up two hundred stairs because the lift broke at midnight.

A Strange Happening

Madeleine had studied her homework until she came across a sentence that said that people were becoming afraid of the year two thousand. Certain computers wouldn't know that the year two thousand had arrived. This was because there were only two digits in the counters of some old computers and perhaps they would reset back to 00.

"Hmm!" she thought to herself. "Why don't they try to stop it? Surely they are trying to make computers with at least four digits in their counters. Tomorrow after school I am going to go down to the Computer Systems Company shop."

The next day she went to the Computer Company at four o'clock and asked the manager why he wasn't trying to make computers with four or more digits.

"We are. It's just that all the computers we make are having their third and fourth digits removed. It happens every day. We have installed video cameras in every room and yet each day they have also been stolen like the digits. Even the police can't find the criminals," he complained.

Why would they steal third and fourth digits? As things went through Madeleine's mind she thought of a solution. She hid a mini-camera in the room then went home and waited.

Millennium Bug

The day was 31st of December 1999 and the story began on an island in the Atlantic Ocean.

It had very tall buildings and many cars. There were very many people and they were scared of the millennium bug.

The time was 11:59 and the children were watching the TV and so the TV went off. The time was 12:00. There was one person who lived in a little bit of the city. There were not so many high buildings and not so many cars and he knew the power would go off at the start of the year 2000.

Millennium Impact

It was a quiet night in the city of Quebec. Everyone was preparing to celebrate the new millennium, but I was just sitting on the sofa bed in the 6 star Grand Hyatt Hotel watching TV. Suddenly a thought shot through me as I glanced at the digital clock on the small table beside my king size bed.

The clock told me that the date was the 31st of December 1999 and the time was 11:12p.m. I remembered that the millennium bug was soon going to strike the world. Reaching into my luggage I took out a rope, torch, CD$ 123 and my laptop computer. I put them all in my waterproof bag, slipped on my warmest sweatshirt, pulled on my shoes, buckled on my watch and set it for 11:59p.m.

I was now ready to take on the millennium bug.

The Transport Bomber

At 5 p.m. on December 31st 1999 the most wicked transport thieves in the world arrived in Hong Kong. They quickly robbed many of the taxis there until it was time for Andersson - Philip Andersson - the best secret agent in the world.

Andersson found out that a crystal bomb had been placed under Central Station. He knew exactly where the diamond bomb was located but he needed more time. The only way to reset the date without exploding it was to cut the red wire away from the crystal.

He took the next MTR train, jumped out between two subway stations, took out a small, laser powered drill and blasted a hole three metres underground. He found the crystal with only two minutes left and began to disconnect it. Suddenly, the bomber appeared and tried to push Philip into the hole that he had made. Both men fell into it but Andersson managed to struggle out. He grabbed the crystal and with only ten seconds left, disconnected the red wire from the others.

The timer stopped and just as his enemy tried to climb out there was a cave-in. He was killed instantly.

My mother worked in the airport but she was worried about something. One morning she didn't have any breakfast but just went straight to work. I knew that there was something going on. I switched on the television. A reporter said that today was the start of the year 2000. He looked so serious but I thought that there was nothing to worry about. I listened very carefully and he said that in this new year we might not have any power or food because of the millennium bug.

Later the newsreader said that an aeroplane had crashed about ten minutes before. My dad came home with the newspapers and gave them to me. On the front page was the aeroplane which had crashed. Everyone had been rescued.

The Skiing Bug

Jesse's family walked down the Blackcom Mountain to the ski rental shop and rented four pairs of skis. They lugged them back up the mountain and into the hotel. After they had put the skis away and walked back down the mountain once more it was growing dark.

They went off to a restaurant for dinner and later went midnight skiing. That night all the lifts were open and most people were celebrating the new year. Suddenly all the lifts stopped. There were shouts for help and just then Jesse remembered the millennium bug. She told her mum that she was going to bathroom but when she got there she became Super Jess! She rushed through the crowd and flew up into the air. Before anyone could blink she had everyone down safe and sound.

The next day at breakfast Gavin pointed to a photo in the newspaper and stared at Jesse.

"By any chance do you know who this person is who rescued the skiers?" he asked.

Jesse looked down at the paper.

"No I haven't a clue," she replied.

The Story of the Ugly Bug

Eric grew up to be a super engineer, fixing all the satellites and their dishes that were damaged. One time he went up a mountain in India to the biggest satellite dish in the country. That one held all the communications information in the country.

He moved slowly to the switch and pressed the OFF button even although it had a sign which said, "CAUTION: DO NOT SWITCH OFF"

Everyone had a shock and began to shout for help. Eric was shouting too as he had just noticed that there was an enormous bug which was bigger than two large beetles. It ran towards him and he scrambled away as fast as he could.

Eric ran faster and faster until he arrived back home and switched on his anti-bug laptop which luckily had batteries. The bug barged in as he put on his NORTON ANTI-VIRUS. The creature was sucked into the laptop which Eric then quickly closed and threw into the deep, blue sea. Eric was very happy until.....

Lift Accident

Helen was quite scared about the millennium bug and the clock was ticking away fast.

Just then a burglar crept quietly to the main door. It was wide open because the security lock had broken down and the caretaker was asleep. The burglar carried a torch which was swinging from side to side. He also had a big brown sack that hung over his shoulder.

Looking out for danger, the burglar tiptoed in but didn't notice that a ruby he had stolen from another house had fallen out of his sack. He took the stairs up to the first floor which belonged to Helen's family. The door opened easily because the family were asleep and had not noticed that the lock did not work. With the torch the thief guided himself to the parents' bedroom.

The burglar carefully looked in all the drawers until at last he had found $3000, six rubies, two rings, a necklace and a string of pearls. He put them all into his sack and tiptoed back down the dark corridor and though the front door which he closed quietly behind him.

By mistake the burglar went into the lift instead of going down the stairs. Just as the lift doors closed, the clock in the Williams' flat struck midnight. The burglar realised what it meant and opened his mouth to scream.

The New Building

The old car park beside our school has been knocked down. Everyday the builders work and from our classroom I can hear all the noise. Drilling, knocking, hammering, and smashing goes on all day long. It is very disturbing.

I think that once they have finished clearing the site they will build a hotel. If not it may be a multi-storey car park.

Antonia Fordyce P.5-15

Millennium Building

Think about it! There is a building that is going to be built in the next millennium and it's right next to our very own school. They might even let us into it with all the new computers, toys, restaurants and movie cinemas. To think that they might even sell cars there and that the underground could have an MTR or even a bus station.

But that's only my imagination. What's yours?

Hello! Coming to you from the new millennium building at Kellett School Plaza is Cameron Riley.

Did you ever wonder what that building site across the street is going to be when it is finished? P.5-15 pupils brainstormed what we thought it would be like. I thought it would be called the Wah Fu Multi-purpose Building and would have 35 floors of 4 metres per floor giving a total height of 140 metres. It would have robots, movie maps and would be triangular. It would also be futuristic and would have a large MTR stop and also places for taxis, Mini-buses, and maxi-cabs. The Hong Kong Government would design it with the help of computers. It would have an arcade, offices, a market and a mall. It will be made by KATO.

Transport in Hong Kong by 5:16

The Star Ferry

The Star Ferry has been sailing between Hong Kong and Kowloon since 1898. About 570 people can travel on each ferry, either sitting on wooden benches or standing. Every 7 or 8 minutes a ferry sets off. They can travel at 12 knots. It costs $1.70 to travel one way in the lower deck and $2.20 in the upper deck. Some people say that the Star Ferry is the best value for money sightseeing trip in the world!

Julien Richards

An Indian baker and caterer called Dorabjee came to Hong Kong in the 1860's. He looked over the harbour and saw that there was no public transport over to Kowloon. In the 1980's he built the first Star Ferry. It was a big success and still is today. Approximately 100,000 passengers ride on the Star Ferry each day to get to places like Tim Sha Tsui, Central, Hung Hom and North Point. The Star Ferry takes 3-5 minutes and it has a maximum speed of at 12 knots. The ferries have 2 decks and carry approximately 570 people. It now uses diesel fuel that pollutes the atmosphere. Lots of other ferries leave from the Star Ferries Pier; you can find lots of old rickshaws there too. The Star Ferry has always been very cheap but in 1965 the Star Ferry Company raised the price; there were lots of riots in the streets. Last year it celebrated its 100th birthday. Operating times are 6:30 am - 11:30 pm. Before the MTR was built the Star Ferry was the fastest way to get to Tim Sha Tsui from Central.

Siobhan McCrohan

When the ferries were first built they were fuelled by coal. This would mean some very hard work for the crew and a lot of sooty smoke over the harbour. Today the ferries are fuelled by diesel. Each Star Ferry can hold about 536 people and about 100,000 people travel on the Star Ferry each day. In 1965 the Star Ferry Chairman wanted to put up the fares. Lots of people signed a petition against this and So Sam-chung went on hunger strike.

Michael Henderson

The Star Ferry is one of the most famous ferry lines in the world. Star Ferries are green and white boats that sail across Victoria Harbour between Hong Island and Kowloon. There are 13 Ferries in use now, they all end with star:

Morning, Solar, Celestial, Northern, Lone, World, Meridian, Golden, Day, Night, Silver, Shining and Twinkling.

Data

Capacity : 570 people.

Comfort : upper deck, medium, lower deck low.

Frequency : 3-5 minutes. 7 minutes to get there.

Speed : 12 knots

Fuel : diesel

Polluter : yes

The Star Ferry goes from Central to Hung Hom, Central/ Tsim Sha Tsui and from Wan Chai. The Star Ferry is an inexpensive, pleasant way to travel between Hong Kong Island and Kowloon. There are a dozen green and white, double-bowed vessels which can carry 580 passengers

Carly Crozer

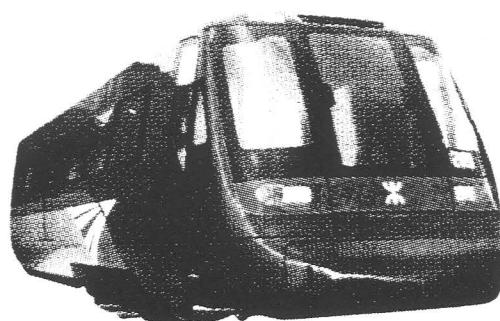

The Airport Express

The Airport Express has been running since 1998 and is owned by the MTR company. Trains operate from 6am to 1am daily. The travel time to the first stop (Tsing Yi Station) is about 12 minutes. The second stop (Kowloon Station) is about 19 minutes. You can use an octopus card or buy a ticket. The railway station is very close to the arrivals hall. There is a T.V on each seat. There is a lot of luggage space. The cost for an adult single ticket is $70 and for a child $39.

Camilla Nevin

The Airport Express is operated by the Mass Transit Railway. It runs from Hong Kong Island to Hong Kong International Airport and makes two stops. On Hong Kong Island in Central the Airport Express has a station, the station has sliding doors that open when a train comes in letting the passengers in. Making the train must have cost $100,000,000. The Airport Express opened some time last summer. The train carries many people and is very comfortable. The Airport Express travels at 150 kph. There are blue and grey coloured trains.

Morgan Ferrier

Boat and Ferries

Lots of Hong Kong boats have travelled many miles. Sampans are sometimes used to get around. Some quite old people have sampans. They used to use a long stick that had a flipper on. You put the stick in the water then put the sail up. Then wave the stick from side to side. Modern Sampans have a diesel engine. In Cheung Chau there are boats, a bit like a floating shop, that carry food or nets to bigger boats. Ferries are the most pleasant way to travel from Hong Kong Island. Ferries sail between Central, Wan Chai and Tsim Sha Tsui. Hong Kong has many islands so there are lots of boats travelling from island to island.

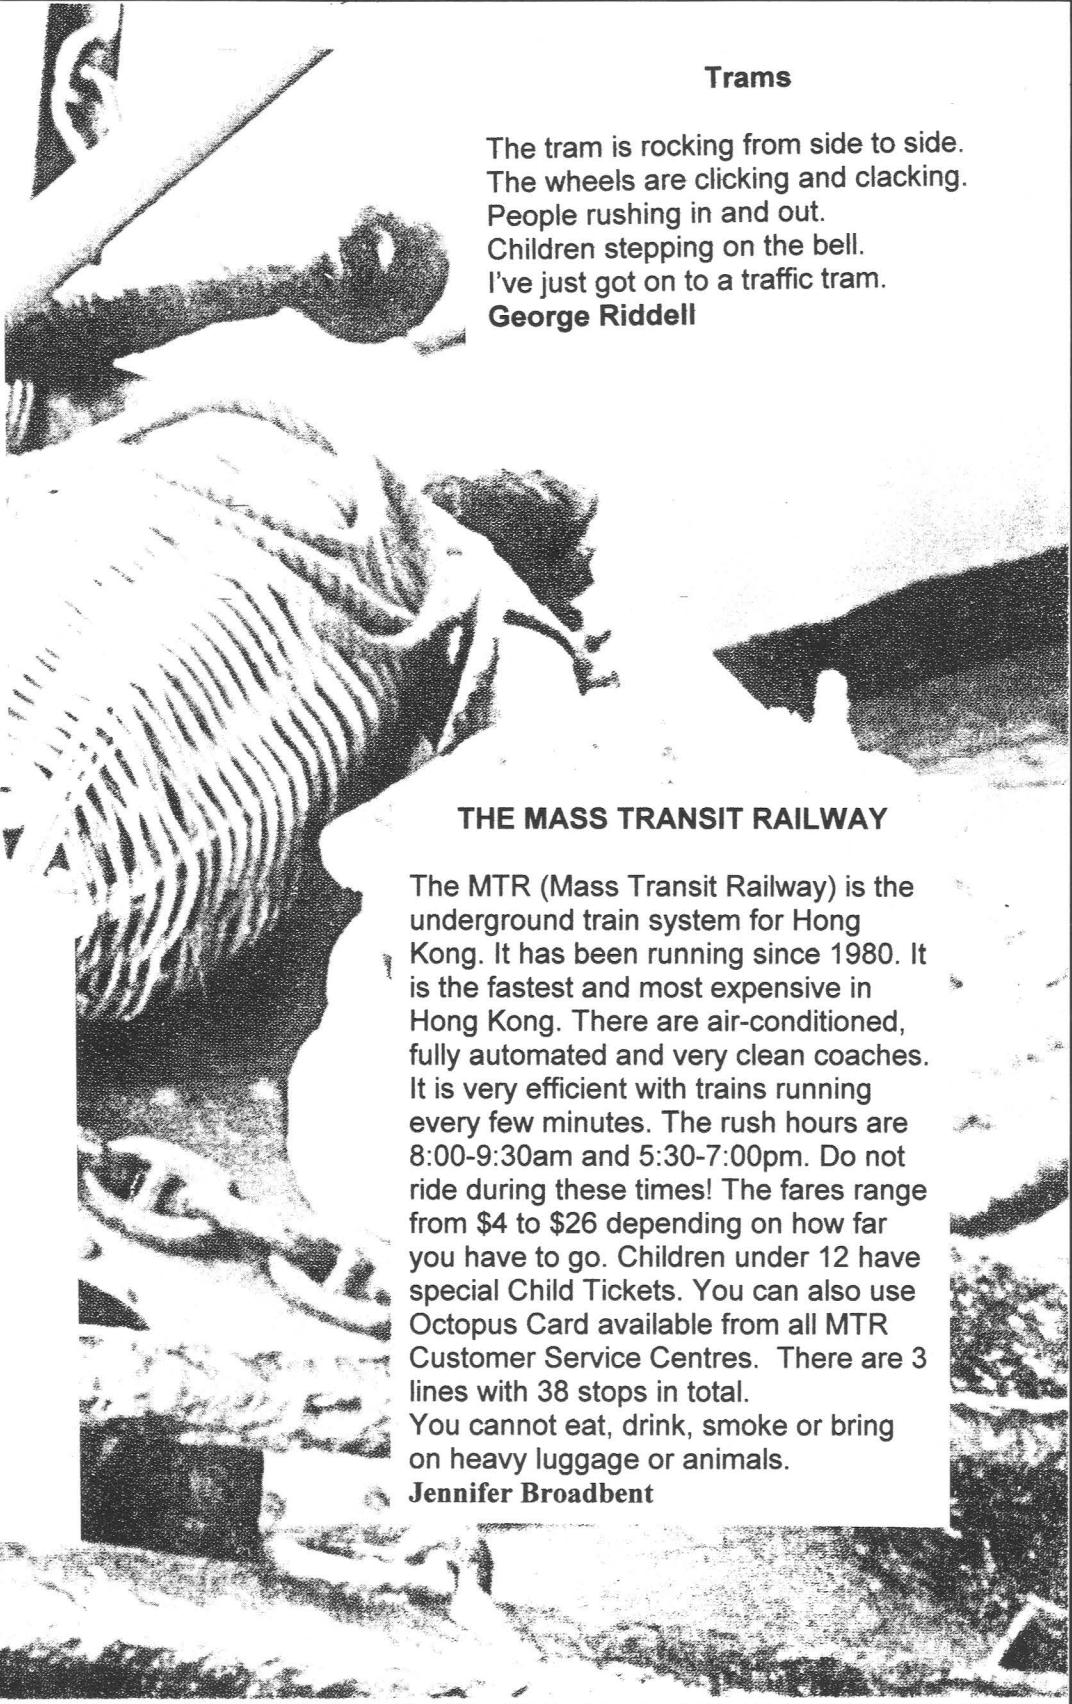

Reina Funayama

If you wanted to travel over the water you've got to choose the right kind of boat. You could choose: speed boats, rowing boats, The Star Ferry, junks, sailing boats, yachts, canoes, jetfoils, hovercrafts, Sampan or a Car ferry. There is a great choice.

The best way to get to Tsim Sha Tsui is the Star Ferry. It has been taking people across the harbour since 1868. It only takes 8 minutes. If you sit near the back of the ferry you'll be able to see the skyscrapers of Central.

Hong Kong has 235 islands. Ferries from Central take you to the three largest Islands: Lantau, Lamma and Cheung Chau.

THE MASS TRANSIT RAILWAY

The MTR (Mass Transit Railway) is the underground train system for Hong Kong. It has been running since 1980. It is the fastest and most expensive in Hong Kong. There are air-conditioned, fully automated and very clean coaches. It is very efficient with trains running every few minutes. The rush hours are 8:00-9:30am and 5:30-7:00pm. Do not ride during these times! The fares range from $4 to $26 depending on how far you have to go. Children under 12 have special Child Tickets. You can also use Octopus Card available from all MTR Customer Service Centres. There are 3 lines with 38 stops in total. You cannot eat, drink, smoke or bring on heavy luggage or animals.

Jennifer Broadbent

The best way to get to the top of the peak is by the Peak Tram Funicular Railway. The tram rises up the steep hill and you get a beautiful view. The Peak Tram has been used since 1888. There are often loads of tourists and to get to the front of the Peak Tram you have to get to the front on the right hand side. It takes eight minutes to get to The Peak from the lower station. The tram runs daily until midnight a free shuttle bus runs from the Star Ferry Terminal in Central. The tram's lower terminus is open from 10am to 9pm on Sundays and public holidays.

Francesca Duck

The Peak Tram runs from Central to Victoria Peak, climbing 1,305 feet. It has been running from 1888 and is the fastest way to the top of the Peak; it takes 8 minutes from top to bottom. The cost is $14 one way and $21 both ways, for adults and $4 one way and $6 both ways for children.

The lower station is opposite the American Consulate. An open top bus goes between the Star Ferry Pier and the Peak Tram station. There are four stops on Kennedy Road, May Road, McDonnell Road, and Barker Road. The top of the Peak is one of Hong Kong's best sites and attracts lots of tourists to see the wonderful view. The Peak Tram can hold 72 people. It is pulled up by a cable and does not carry fuel. The seats are quite comfortable but it can be quite crowded.

Anthony Haynes

The construction of the Peak Tram began in 1885 and finished in 1888 when it started to run. In May 1888 Governor Sir William Des Voeux officially opened the stations. Back then it was called the, "Quaint funicular railway." (Funicular means simultaneously ascending and descending cars hooked together by a huge cable.) It runs 7am-12pm. It is computer controlled, with an automatic system check for safety. This safety feature prevents a big collision.

1. 1888-1926 Trams are powered by coal-fired steam engines.
2. 1926-1948. An electrically powered haulage gear system is installed.
3. 1948-1952. 62 seat, lightweight, all metal trams.
4. 1959-1989. 72 seat all aluminium introduced.
5. 1989-1999. Upgraded to microprocessor controlled electric drive system

Matthew Davidson

The Peak Tram

The Peak Tram is the best way to get to the top of the Peak. Originally the trains were powered by steam engines but today it's powered by electricity, and is controlled by a computer. The Peak Tram first opened in 1888. It is a funicular railway, which means that the train is pulled up the steep hill by a steel rope. The distance from the bottom to the top is 373 metres. Before the tram, sedan chairs transported rich people to the top. A sort of sedan chair is still used during charity races to make money for the Matilda Hospital once a year. The Peak Tram runs from Central to the Peak, and makes a few stops on the way. On a clear night it's a beautiful ride. You can stand up and see how far you can lean forward without falling down. You can buy your ticket from the Peak Tram office at the bottom station.

Anna Poyhonen

1. The peak Tram was constructed in 1888.
2. It provides access to bridle paths and houses at the top of The Peak.
3. Thousands of people a day ride the tram for its wonderful views.
4. A complicated device of ropes and pulleys pulls the Peak Tram up the hill.
5. The Peak Tram travels 373 metres on its journey.
6. A one way ticket on the Peak Tram costs $ 18.
7. In 1888 the governor Sir William Des Voeux opened the station.
8. The Peak Tram is electronically controlled.

Taxis

In Hong Kong there are three different sorts of Taxis. They are red on Hong Kong Island, green in the New Territories and blue on Lantau. They have padded seats but the drivers tend to drive quickly and you sometimes get shaken about. Fares start at $15 and are increased every 200 metres. You stop a taxi by putting your arm out. You can only stop taxis that have the taxi for hire sign up. They will not stop by a yellow line. There are some places where there are taxi ranks.

Super Mouth Dianne Bates

One of the characters is grandpa. He is a bit foolish and he often does silly things. For example, once he super glued his teeth together. The boy is the main character and he is the narrator. He is trying to help his grandpa to get new teeth. Grandpa has a little grey hair, no teeth and blue eyes. His skin is crumpled. The boy has blond hair and blue eyes.

They went to get grandpa's new teeth but they had to wait for ages because the place didn't have many staff. The manager kicked them out because they were making trouble. The police came and took the manager away and then grandpa got his teeth.

I am recommending this book because it is funny and it is enjoyable.

Seconds Best David Hill

The title of my book is 'Seconds Best' which was written by David Hill. It is an adventure story. The main characters are Dana, Heeni, Jade, Sonja. Other characters are Mr. Pidgeon, Ms. Myles, Mr. and Mrs. Simons, Mr. Chan, Mr. Biesiek, Sally, Mrs. Davies, Dylan, Andre, Clint, Summil, Anil, Kapil, Mark and Mrs. Wolfe and Heeni's granny. It is set in New Zealand at Stortford School. Dana, Heeni, Sonja, Dylan, Andre, Clint, Summil, Anil and Kapil don't make the school cricket team coached by Mr Pidgeon so they decide to form another team but they are one player short. After a few practices Jade was walking by the practice field when Dylan hit a ball at her which she caught. The children were impressed and they asked her to join the team. After that the Stortford Seconds play the Stortford Supers, Mr Pidgeon's team. The Stortford Seconds are all out for 19 runs. Before the game the team was coached by Ms Myles, but after the game they got Mrs Wolfe who used to play for New Zealand to coach them. They have to try and win 5 games to get into the top 8.

I chose this book because it is very funny and exciting. It is good for people eight and up.

Harry Potter and the Philosophers Stone J.K Rowling

The title of my book is 'Harry Potter and the Philosophers Stone.' The genre of this book is adventure and the main characters are Harry Potter and Ron Weasley. Harry is a naughty, brave boy who has lots of adventures at Hogwarts school of witch craft and wizardry where he learns to be a wizard and does lots of magical tricks. Ron is naughty too and his brothers are really clever and he is trying to be like them. Harry and Ron meet each other at Hogwarts. They are in the same house called Gryffindor. Harry loves going to school there and has lots of adventures. Harry is famous at Hogwarts because when he was a baby he defeated the dark sorcerer, Voldemort. The story is set in modern day times and takes place in England.

The biggest problem in the book is Harry's uncle and aunt hate him. They hate him because his aunt's sister was Harry's mum and they didn't get along. Another problem is, because Harry's uncle and aunt didn't like him they made him sleep in the cupboard under the stairs. Therefore the argument was between Harry and his uncle and aunt. The outcome of the story is when Harry moves to the room on the second floor. This was because Harry's uncle and aunt were afraid of him, they were afraid of him because they thought he might use his magic on them.

I chose this book because lots of people recommended it to me and it was for my age group. I enjoyed this book because it was very exciting. The age group is 9-11 years old.

The Sixes Review their favourite BOOKS

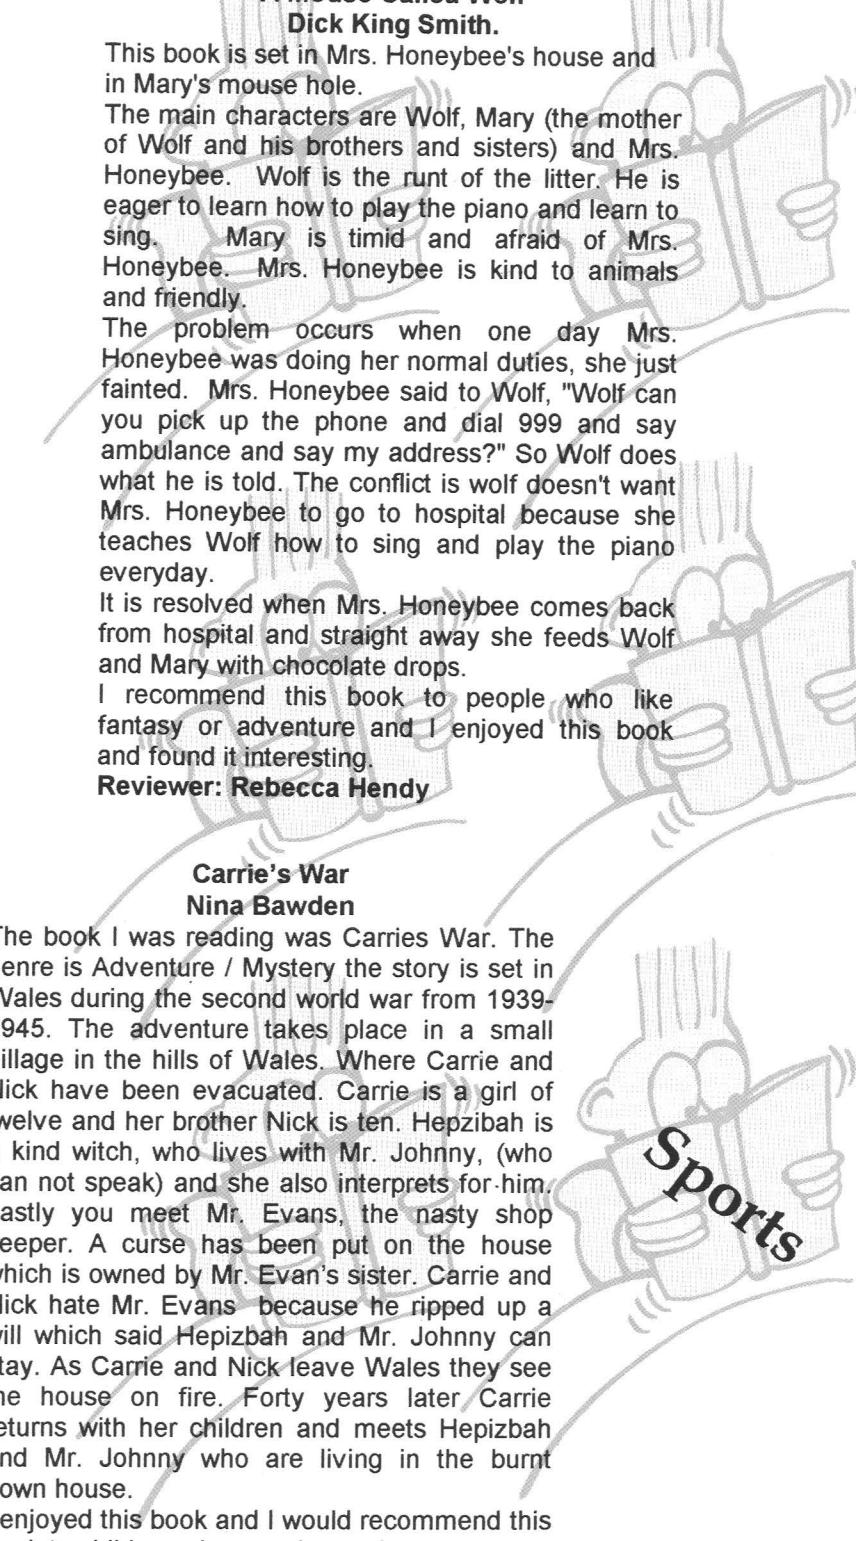

Meteorite Spoon Philip Ridley

This is an adventure book, its main characters are two children called Filly and Fergal Thunder who both like to wear long striped sweaters and big clompy boots.

The story takes place in the house where they live. All the other houses in the street have been demolished or are waiting to be demolished. Their parents argue from the moment they wake up to the time they go to bed. They made it into a hobby. They wrote all the arguments into a book called 'The Book of Arguments'. Every time their parents argued they would storm out of the house in a rage. Filly and Fergal would have to ask them about their honeymoon to calm them down. After one big argument they both storm out of the house at the same time, slamming the door really hard. So hard the whole house falls down. Whilst this is happening Filly and Fergal are in the cellar where they get trapped in. They escape through a tunnel and crawl through. When they emerge from the tunnel they find themselves in 'HONEYMOONIA,' where they meet young versions of their parents. They eventually get back home where they find their parents have made up and they go and live in a lovely new neighbourhood.

I chose this book because the cover looked bright and exciting, the print was not so small and was a quick read. I highly recommend this book to children 9-11 years of age. It is exciting and I could not put it down. The story line was super.

A Mouse Called Wolf Dick King Smith.

This book is set in Mrs. Honeybee's house and in Mary's mouse hole.

The main characters are Wolf, Mary (the mother of Wolf and his brothers and sisters) and Mrs. Honeybee. Wolf is the runt of the litter. He is eager to learn how to play the piano and learn to sing. Mary is timid and afraid of Mrs. Honeybee. Mrs. Honeybee is kind to animals and friendly.

The problem occurs when one day Mrs. Honeybee was doing her normal duties, she just fainted. Mrs. Honeybee said to Wolf, "Wolf can you pick up the phone and dial 999 and say ambulance and say my address?" So Wolf does what he is told. The conflict is wolf doesn't want Mrs. Honeybee to go to hospital because she teaches Wolf how to sing and play the piano everyday.

It is resolved when Mrs. Honeybee comes back from hospital and straight away she feeds Wolf and Mary with chocolate drops.

I recommend this book to people who like fantasy or adventure and I enjoyed this book and found it interesting.

Carrie's War Nina Bawden

The book I was reading was Carrie's War. The genre is Adventure / Mystery the story is set in Wales during the second world war from 1939-1945. The adventure takes place in a small village in the hills of Wales. Where Carrie and Nick have been evacuated. Carrie is a girl of twelve and her brother Nick is ten. Hepzibah is a kind witch, who lives with Mr. Johnny, (who can not speak) and she also interprets for him. Lastly you meet Mr. Evans, the nasty shop keeper. A curse has been put on the house which is owned by Mr. Evans's sister. Carrie and Nick hate Mr. Evans because he ripped up a will which said Hepzibah and Mr. Johnny can stay. As Carrie and Nick leave Wales they see the house on fire. Forty years later Carrie returns with her children and meets Hepzibah and Mr. Johnny who are living in the burnt down house.

I enjoyed this book and I would recommend this book to children who are nine and over.

'The Indian In The Cupboard'

Lynne Reid Banks

The title of the book I am reviewing is 'The Indian In The Cupboard' which is an adventure story.

This story starts when a boy named Omri has a birthday. Two of his presents are a small plastic toy Indian and a cupboard. Omri puts the toy Indian into the cupboard overnight and when Omri opens the door in the morning the Indian has turned real. In this way Omri finds out the Indians name which is Little Bear. Omri also finds out that when Little Bear really lived, before he was a plastic toy, he lived in his own world, in an Indian village.

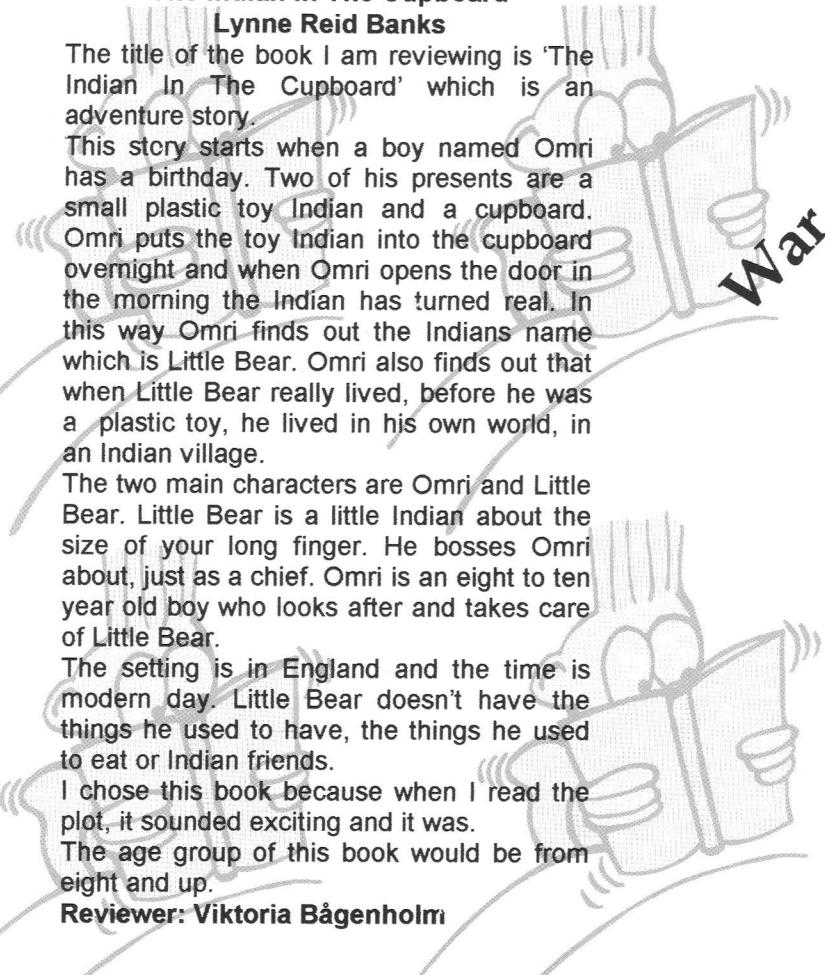

The two main characters are Omri and Little Bear. Little Bear is a little Indian about the size of your long finger. He bosses Omri about, just as a chief. Omri is an eight to ten year old boy who looks after and takes care of Little Bear.

The setting is in England and the time is modern day. Little Bear doesn't have the things he used to have, the things he used to eat or Indian friends.

I chose this book because when I read the plot, it sounded exciting and it was.

The age group of this book would be from eight and up.

This is a modern, humorous story. One of the characters is grandpa. He is a little foolish because he superglued his teeth together. Another character is the editor who is a little boy who helps his grandpa all the way through the story.

The problem in the story is that the grandpa needs new teeth, but the dentist does not let him have any because there is a long queue of other people who want new teeth too. Everyone in the queue gets hysterical and starts fighting. The chief gets the police and tries to arrest all the people in the queue.

I am recommending this book because it is a funny and amusing book. I enjoyed the end because I like happy endings.

Fantasy

Harry Potter

J.K Rowling

This book is set in a magical world where there are witches and wizards.

'Harry Potter' is about a boy who was left on the doorstep of the Dursley's (his uncle, aunt and cousin) when he was a baby. He and his parents were wizards, but Voldemort killed his parents so he doesn't know he's a wizard. His uncle and aunt won't tell him either, they said they were killed in a car crash.

Harry Potter was a quiet boy until he went to Hogwarts, which is the school he goes to in the magical world. Ronald Weasley is Harry's friend, not quite as adventurous as Harry but very good at chess, which comes in useful. Hermione Granger is another one of Harry's friends who is stubborn.

Professor Quirill is mean. Professor Mcgonogall is strict. Professor Dumbledore is kind. Professor Snape is caring. Peeves is evil. Hagrid is kind. Voldemort is very, very evil. All the Dursley's are mean to Harry.

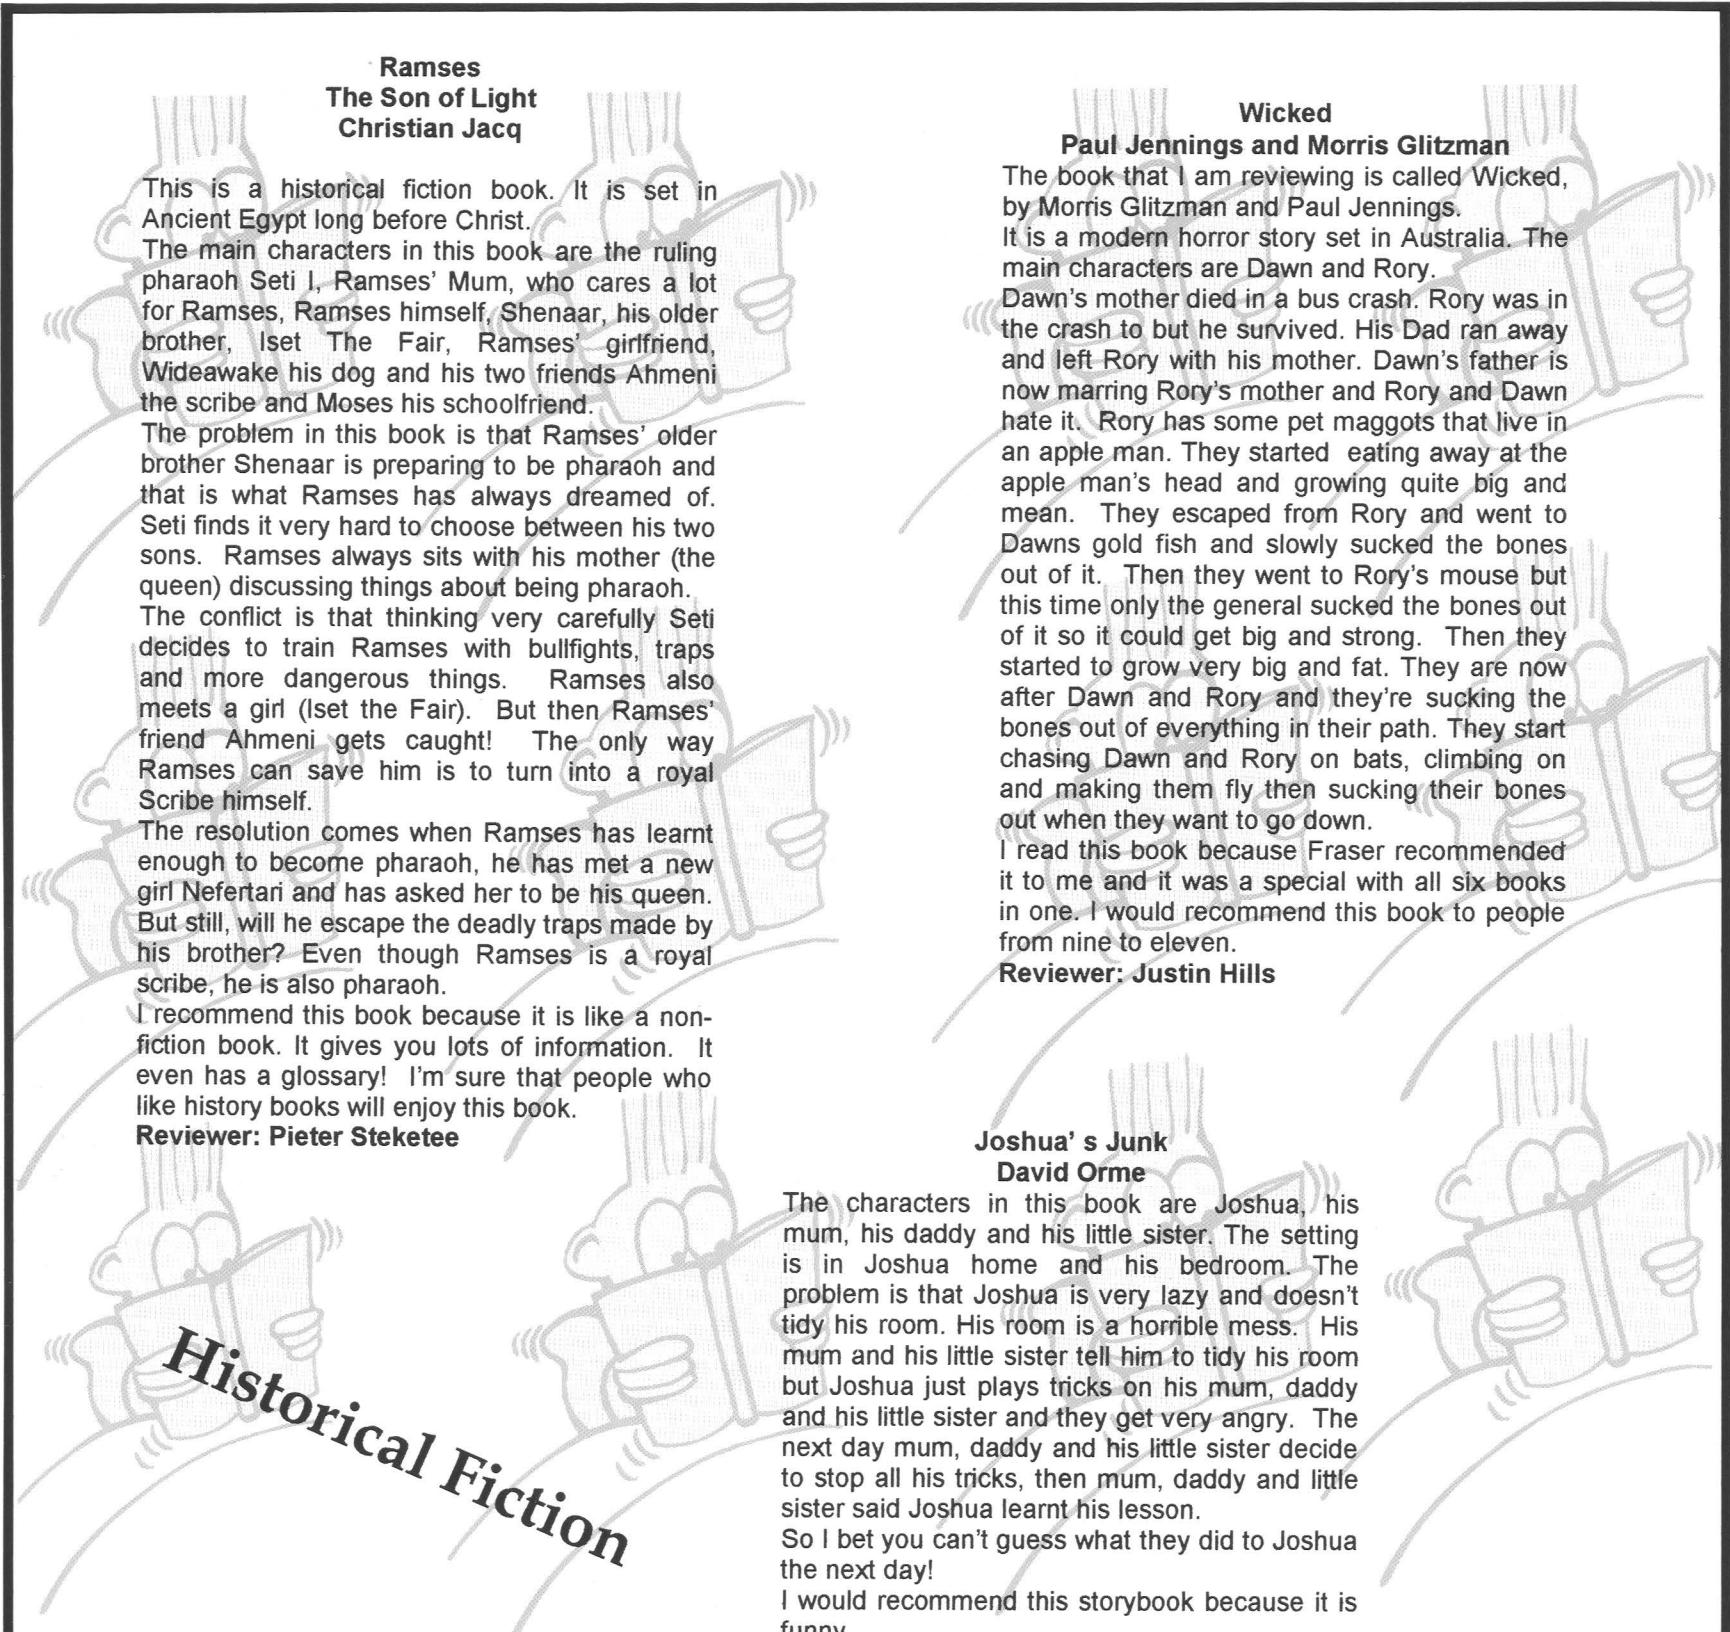

Hermione tries to stop Harry and Ronald running off in the night trying to find out where the philosopher's stone is, but instead she gets taken in and ends up going with them as well.

Harry and his friends have to complete 4 tasks to get to the philosopher's stone, which they need to stop Voldemort gaining power by getting it first. If they fail any of the tests they die.

Dumbledore sensed something was wrong and he immediately flew back to Hogwarts and saved Harry from being attacked by Quirill and Voldemort.

I liked it because it is different from most books and I think anyone who likes adventure and fantasy will like this book, because it is set in a magical world but also sends Harry on an adventure that puts his life at risk.

Ramses The Son of Light Christian Jacq

This is a historical fiction book. It is set in Ancient Egypt long before Christ. The main characters in this book are the ruling pharaoh Seti I, Ramses' Mum, who cares a lot for Ramses, Ramses himself, Shenaar, his older brother, Iset The Fair, Ramses' girlfriend, Wideawake his dog and his two friends Ahmeni the scribe and Moses his schoolfriend.

The problem in this book is that Ramses' older brother Shenaar is preparing to be pharaoh and that is what Ramses has always dreamed of. Seti finds it very hard to choose between his two sons. Ramses always sits with his mother (the queen) discussing things about being pharaoh. The conflict is that thinking very carefully Seti decides to train Ramses with bullfights, traps and more dangerous things. Ramses also meets a girl (Iset the Fair). But then Ramses' friend Ahmeni gets caught! The only way Ramses can save him is to turn into a royal Scribe himself.

The resolution comes when Ramses has learnt enough to become pharaoh, he has met a new girl Nefertari and has asked her to be his queen. But still, will he escape the deadly traps made by his brother? Even though Ramses is a royal scribe, he is also pharaoh.

I recommend this book because it is like a non-fiction book. It gives you lots of information. It even has a glossary! I'm sure that people who like history books will enjoy this book.

Wicked

Paul Jennings and Morris Glitzman

The book that I am reviewing is called Wicked, by Morris Glitzman and Paul Jennings. It is a modern horror story set in Australia. The main characters are Dawn and Rory. Dawn's mother died in a bus crash. Rory was in the crash to but he survived. His Dad ran away and left Rory with his mother. Dawn's father is now marring Rory's mother and Rory and Dawn hate it. Rory has some pet maggots that live in an apple man. They started eating away at the apple man's head and growing quite big and mean. They escaped from Rory and went to Dawns gold fish and slowly sucked the bones out of it. Then they went to Rory's mouse but this time only the general sucked the bones out of it so it could get big and strong. Then they started to grow very big and fat. They are now after Dawn and Rory and they're sucking the bones out of everything in their path. They start chasing Dawn and Rory on bats, climbing on and making them fly then sucking their bones out when they want to go down.

I read this book because Fraser recommended it to me and it was a special with all six books in one. I would recommend this book to people from nine to eleven.

The Beast from the East

R.L Stine

The title of my favourite book and the one I am recommending is 'The Beast from the East'. The genre of this book is adventure and it is set in the present day in some woods, one summer. The main characters are Ginger, Nat and Pat. Ginger, a girl, is the eldest and Nat and Pat are her twin brothers. When Ginger and her brothers meet beasts, they have to play a game called 'The Beast from the East'. There are about 50 beasts and they are big, furry and blue. The main beast's name is Fleg and Spork is his friend. Ginger was 'it' and if she was still 'it' when the sun had gone down she would be eaten by the beasts. The game is between Ginger and the beasts. In the end Ginger catches Spork and after a while is let go with her brothers.

I would recommend this to people aged 9+. R.L Stine has written all the Goosebumps books.

I chose this book because it was interesting and exciting.

The Silver Sword

Ian Serraillier

I am reviewing a book called 'The Silver Sword', which is about four children called Ruth, Edek, Jan and Bronia. Bronia is the youngest and loves to draw what she sees. Edek is very intelligent and helps the family survive. Ruth is the oldest and is a born teacher like her father. Jan isn't really part of the family but was found, when he was sick, and Ruth looked after him and he join the family. Ian Serraillier is the author and the genre is an adventure story. The Germans were invading Poland and the children were separated from their parents. Ruth, Edek, Bronia and Jan's town, called Warsaw was turned into rubble. Jan met the children's father who gave him the 'Silver Sword' which he found in their house. The story is in Europe. The children had an amazing journey to get to Switzerland together with 'The Silver Sword,' which they thought gave them luck. I enjoyed this book very much and it is for able eight-year-olds. I recommend this book because it is an exciting and interesting story.

Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone

J.K Rowling

The title of my book is Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone, it is written by J.K Rowling.

The genre of my book is adventure. It is based in London, England. The main characters are, Harry Potter, Ron Weasley and Hermione Granger. Harry is a naughty boy who has lots of adventures at Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, which his mother and father attended when they were younger. They were both killed by a bad wizard called Voldemort when Harry was younger. He also got their money. Ron meets Harry on the train and becomes best friends with Harry and goes on lots of his adventures. Hermione is a girl who never gets anything wrong. She is very smart at magic but always loses in chess. Harry never knew he was a wizard until he gets a letter from Hagrid, who is the gamekeeper at Hogwarts. Harry and Snape, a teacher, don't get along, he is always taking house points away from Gryffindor, which is the house that Harry is in. Harry, Ron and Hermione find out about the Philosopher's stone. Which is being guarded by a three-headed dog called Fluffy, which belongs to Hagrid. Harry thinks that Snape is trying to get the stone because the dog bites him, but he actually isn't.

The book is aimed at children of 9-11 years old. I chose this book because lots of my friends recommended it to me, and my sister also said it was good.

I would recommend it because I found it was a book I couldn't put down and I enjoyed it tremendously.

Bad Hare Day

R.L. Stine

The main characters in this book are Tim Swanson, and his small sister, Ginny, his best friend Foz, rabbit and Magician Amaz-O. Tim and Foz love magic tricks and someday Tim wants to be a real magician just like his best hero Amaz-O. Tim goes to an Amaz-O show and he decides to steal Amaz-O's bag of secret tricks. When he gets the secret tricks home and tries them out, by mistake he changes his sister into a rabbit. It was not his sister Ginny, it was in fact Amaz-O's rabbit. The rabbit could speak and it told Tim That, Amaz-O did very bad things. But what the rabbit said wasn't a true because the Rabbit was really a Pirate. The rabbit was hoping that Tim would turn him back to his normal self.

So he said, 'if you want your sister back find the Magic Stick. It is in Amaz-O's bag.'

He found it but it didn't work because it was not the Magic Stick. Finally he finds the magic stick and he gets his sister back and changes the rabbit back to a Pirate. When Amaz-O tries to find his rabbit it was too late and the Pirate changes Tim and Amaz-O into rabbits. But he couldn't change Tim's sister into a rabbit because she was hiding. She told Foz what happened and they went to tell the police, but they didn't believe them. To find out how it finishes you will have to read the book for yourself. I chose this book because I like Goosebumps and I like to read books by R.L. Stine. It was very interesting and I really enjoyed reading it.

Where the Red Fern Grows

Wilson Rawl

"Where the Red Fern Grows" is about a young boy, Jake. It is an adventure set in America. The characters are: Jake who is determined, brave, smart and patient; Little Ann, a dog who can break any racoon's trick and will dart into a fight faster than you can see and Old Dan who can take out bobcats and racoons but will not hunt without Jake or Little Ann.

Jake wanted two hounds so badly he'd do anything to get them. One day some lazy fishermen had left some trash behind and in the bundle of trash Jake found his answer to getting them. A brown and crinkled magazine lay hidden under a piece of a bucket. Jake took off the bucket piece and lay it behind him, and then he opened the magazine. In the bottom of the magazine was a picture of a man holding two hounds and just below it, it said, twelve racoon hounds, twenty five dollars each. Jake almost fainted.

The next day, he went to his grandpa's store and told him what he had found. For the next two years he saved up and finally he had his fifty dollars. He went to his grandpa's store and asked him to send the money to the owner. Jake spent the night in the woods. The next day, he picked up the dogs and the sheriff drove him home.

After a year Jake was so good at catching racoons that he was entered in a racoon catching tournament. His dad and grandpa went with him. When they arrived at the tournament they pitched their tent. They won the tournament and went home with a gold cup, silver cup and three hundred dollars that the hunters collected for the winner.

Mythology

Terrible Tudors

Nick Arnold

The way the book has been written is unusual as it is based on fact but told as a story, mixed with humour. This is done to keep the attention of the reader.

The genre of the book is historical fact, giving us a picture of Tudor lifestyles, behaviour and what they wore. There is information about King Henry VIII, Queen Elizabeth I, (who is said to have only taken a bath every three months and was credited with being one of the cleanest Tudors), and Henry VI. Also, we are told about Mary Queen of Scots and Lady Jane Grey who was executed in England.

I learned that the Tudors were often cruel, executing people for minor crimes such as pick pocketing. Even when playing sports, it was a cruel game with no rules or referee. Players would end up with broken limbs and other parts of the body as well as bloody noses!

The Tudors wore big, flamboyant clothes which were probably most uncomfortable. Men wore dresses for the ladies.

The author has also written about the clothes of the time, the men wore the big collars and short trousers drawn in at the knee which were stuffed with material to make them look even bigger. The ladies wore long wide dresses. The way in which the book is written makes it fun to learn about history and I would recommend it for people aged 9-12 years old. I like the book because it is funny and interesting.

The main characters are Jenny and Horrible Miss Ice. Jenny is a really kind and nice little girl but she was too tall for her age. She is as tall as a teacher so everyone thought she was the new teacher coming to the school and this is how the trouble began. Miss Ice is a really mean and strict principal.

The problem occurs when Jenny was supposed to be a student but she was mistaken for a teacher. Everyone in the school thought she was the new teacher.

The resolution was that Miss Ice fired Jenny and Jenny met the new teacher and Jenny went back home.

I recommend this book because it is an interesting and funny adventure.

Catherine Jinks

This book is Science Fiction and is set in the present.

PIM is a computer on a Stelcorp Starship that crashed in the desert on Earth during one of its intergalactic missions. Jansi is a human scavenging in the desert when he comes across PIM. On entering the starship, PIM kidnaps him because he needs to get repaired and then Jansi becomes annoyed.

Jansi is angry because he was abandoned at birth and he has never been properly looked after. He has become a nature lover by scavenging through the desert. He is also hopeful, because he is trying to find someone to look after him properly and he never gives up. PIM is smart since it has been programmed well. PIM is thoughtful because it's looking after Jansi skilfully, PIM is also optimistic because it is always looking on the bright side.

The problem in this story is caused by a Stelcorp rescue vessel that answered PIM's distress call. It comes to help them but really it wants to destroy them. Jansi pulls the switch and takes the rescuers hostage so they can't destroy PIM. Another Star ship is orbiting Earth and the crew are going to destroy PIM too. Then PIM gets a crippe code from one of the hostages.

The conflict occurs when PIM decides he wants to keep on flying and he and Jansi do everything they can to stop themselves from being destroyed.

I am recommending this book because I really enjoyed it as I like Science Fiction and other people who like Science Fiction would probably enjoy this book too.

The Summer the Spies Moved In

Ann M. Martin

This is an adventure story set in present day Washington D.C. The events occur over a period of a month.

The main characters are Meg, a girl who is curious and independent and Irina, a girl from Russia who is very shy, pretty and doesn't say much. Mrs. Bugayev is Irina's Russian housekeeper and she has no sense of humor and a cold heart.

One day during the summer a Russian family move in across the street from Meg. Irina is the same age as Meg. Right away Meg thinks Irina's dad is a spy because they act so secretly.

Meg pretends to be friends with Irina but then finds she's starting to like her as a real friend and Mrs. Bugayev starts acting very mysteriously. Mrs. Bugayev won't let Irina go outside to play or even talk to Meg.

Meg and Irina go up to Mrs. Bugayev's room and Irina sees a report Mrs. Bugayev has written. Mrs. Bugayev is a real spy working for the Russian Navy. Irina's dad comes home and he calls the police. Mrs. Bugayev is arrested and Irina and Meg become real friends.

I recommend this book to anyone who likes mysteries and friendships. It is a great adventure that keeps you interested so you can read it over and over again.

The book I am reviewing is called A.N.T.I.D.O.T.E. by Malarie Blackman.

I would recommend this book because I found it gets more and more exciting as you read it. You won't want to put it down!

It is an adventure story set in a town in the present day. The main characters in the story are: Elliot, a boy of about ten whose mum works for A.N.T.I.D.O.T.E. an environmental action group, Nosh, a little boy who lives next door, Halle his older sister and Elliot's Uncle Robert.

The main part of the story involves Elliot's mother breaking into a giant pharmaceutical company, because she believes it is experimenting on endangered animals. However, she gets caught by a security camera which clearly shows her breaking in. Nosh, Halle and Elliot try to prove her innocence by hacking into the computers of other people they think may be involved.

Nosh is very irritating to Elliot and won't stop asking questions. Elliot is brainy and he knows a lot about computers.

I thoroughly enjoyed the humour and the way the author writes the adventure but most of all the subject matter interested me. I too am very concerned about animal experimentation especially on endangered species.

If you enjoy a good adventure story and are concerned about animals you will enjoy this book. The book is aimed at 9-10 year olds.

The HogFather

Terry Pratchett

The HogFather is an extremely funny book with lot of imaginary things put in to it.

The land where the story takes place is situated on the back of a giant flying turtle (the Great A'tuin).

This is an exciting fantasy story, and almost anything can happen.

Susan is the main character of the book, she is a tall skinny woman, and is probably the only person in the whole of Ankh Morpok apart from the gods, that can scare monsters like the Bogeypeman, the Scissor man and an eight-armed cellar monster. There is one part in the story where Twyla says there is an eight-armed monster in the cellar scaring her. So she goes and hits it with a poker!

Death is Susan's Grandfather. He is the god of the Dead. He is the evil one of the story. He is six feet tall, speaks in a very low voice and is taking over the HogFather's (Santa's) job, because he says he is dead (but he really isn't.) Susan has to stop him. If she doesn't, the sun will never rise again, and it will stay jet black for the rest of the Great A'tuins life.

I recommend this book because there is a lot of magic and fantasy in it. I also recommend it to anybody who has some of Terry Pratchett's other books, which are all very good as well.

Watership Down Richard Adams

Watership Down is an adventure story about some rabbits who leave their warren. They have many adventures and difficulties but manage to get round all of them. They leave their warren because Fiver, a young rabbit senses danger. Fiver is from a litter of five which is how he got his name. He says he can sense danger but only a few rabbits believe him. The other main character in this book is Hazel (Fiver's older brother). He is very brave at times and everyone thinks he should be the new chief rabbit. "I got us in this mess so I'll get us out," he says.

They have many problems, such as finding a suitable place to build a new warren and staying alive. At one time they had to swim across a river which some could not do so Silver got a bright idea, which I shall not reveal!

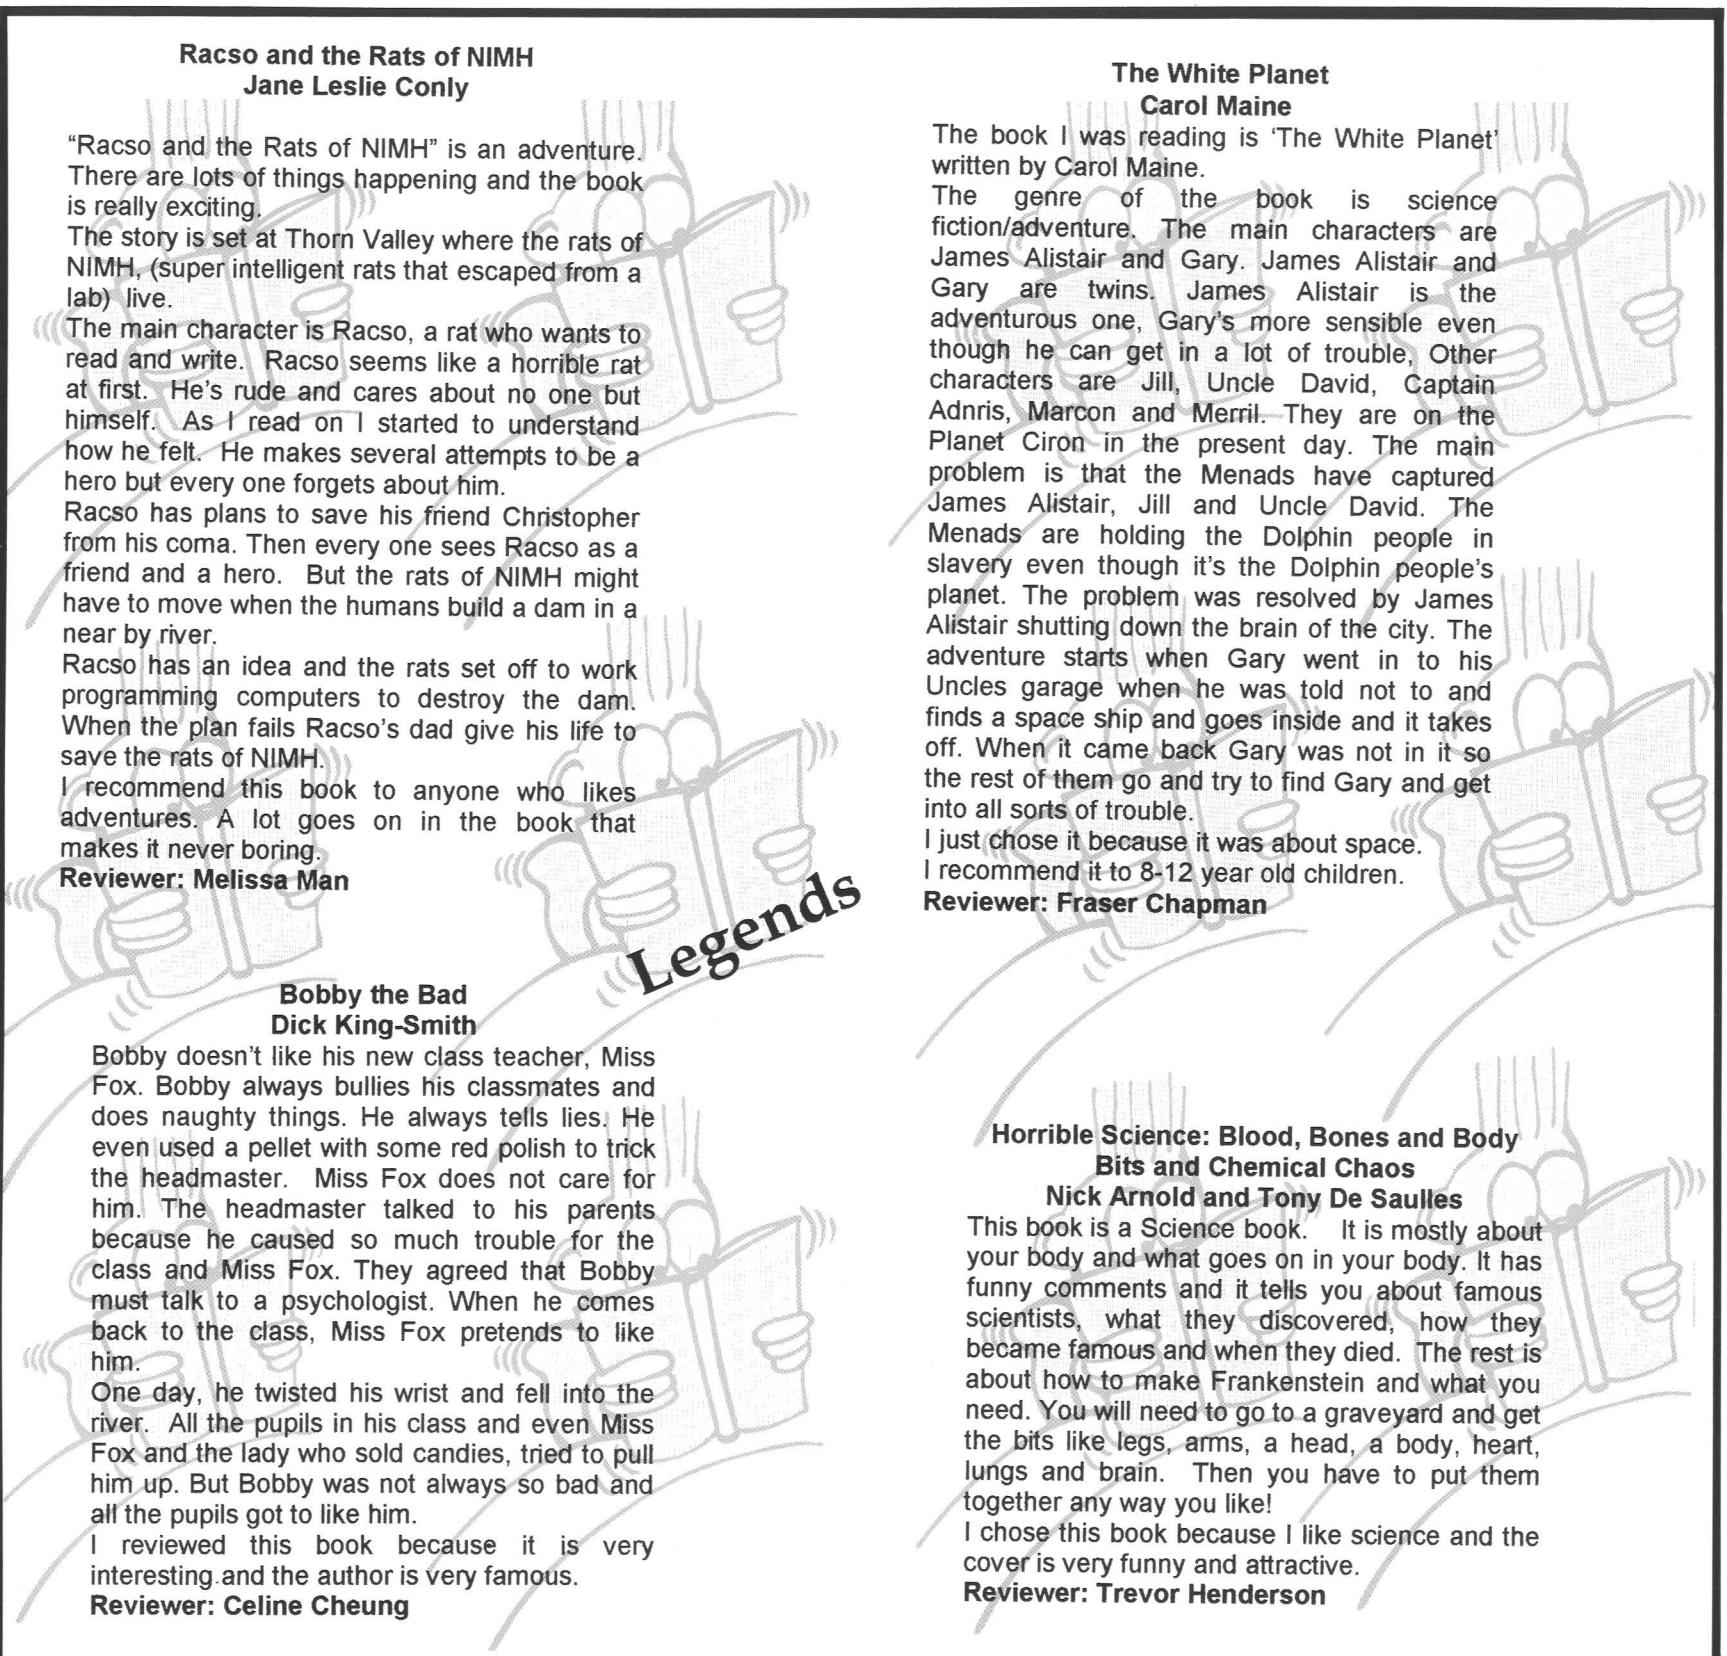

One of their biggest problems is they have no females with them. So a group of them set out to find a warren to get some does from.

After much sneaking around, lying and fighting Bigwig manages to get ten does out of that horrid warren.

I recommend this book because it is very catchy for at the end of each chapter something exciting is happening. I really enjoyed this book and may read it again.

The White Planet

Carol Maine

The book I was reading is 'The White Planet' written by Carol Maine.

The genre of the book is science fiction/adventure. The main characters are James Alistair and Gary. James Alistair and Gary are twins. James Alistair is the adventurous one, Gary's more sensible even though he can get in a lot of trouble. Other characters are Jill, Uncle David, Captain Adnris, Marcon and Merril. They are on the Planet Ciron in the present day. The main problem is that the Menads have captured James Alistair, Jill and Uncle David. The Menads are holding the Dolphin people in slavery even though it's the Dolphin people's planet. The problem was resolved by James Alistair shutting down the brain of the city. The adventure starts when Gary went in to his Uncle's garage when he was told not to and finds a space ship and goes inside and it takes off. When it came back Gary was not in it so the rest of them go and try to find Gary and get into all sorts of trouble.

I just chose it because it was about space.

I recommend it to 8-12 year old children.

Horrible Science: Blood, Bones and Body Bits and Chemical Chaos

Nick Arnold and Tony De Saulles

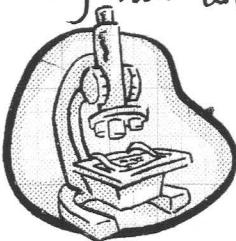

This book is a Science book. It is mostly about your body and what goes on in your body. It has funny comments and it tells you about famous scientists, what they discovered, how they became famous and when they died. The rest is about how to make Frankenstein and what you need. You will need to go to a graveyard and get the bits like legs, arms, a head, a body, heart, lungs and brain. Then you have to put them together any way you like!

I chose this book because I like science and the cover is very funny and attractive.

MENISCUS

A meniscus is the curved surface on a drop of water. I think it is caused because air pressure pushes down on water particles line up in long lines. They act as a brick wall, pushing with all their strength and try not to let the air pressure break the Meniscus!

Inter - School Sports

On the 13th March, Kellett played in the E.S.F. Mini Rugby Tournament. We came winners of our group beating Discovery Bay and Clearwater Bay. In the 2nd round we beat Peak School 6-0, but lost 2-1 against Kennedy.

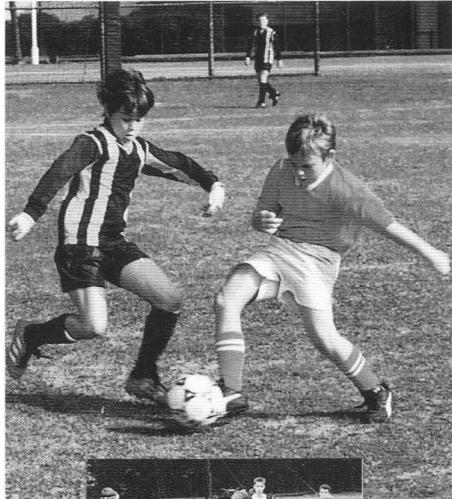

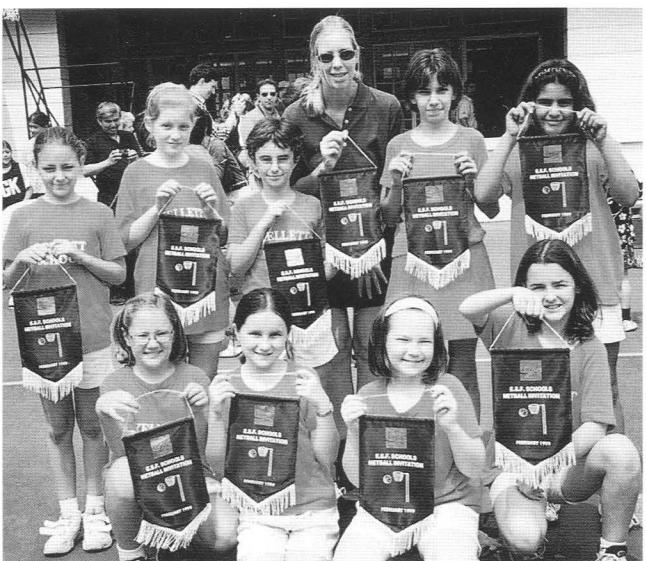

Clearwater Bay eventually went on to win the Tournament.

Thank you to Mrs White and Deano our coach.

It's been a busy year for our netball teams with lots of Inter-School matches for our P5 & P6 pupils, many of which we won ! The most exciting Tournament was the Mixed Netball Tournament held in January at Aberdeen. We reached the finals where we played Hong Lok Yuen. I was really nervous as I was Goal Shooter and every goal had to count ! At full-time the score was 7-7 so we had to play extra time. In the last few seconds Hong Lok Yuen scored the winning goal. A big Thank You to Mrs White for coaching the team and for organising the Tournament.

Helen Robertson

We have been training hard on Friday afternoons. In our first match against Peak we won 2 and drew 2.

Thank you to Mrs Stoten for coaching us.

Morgan Ferrier

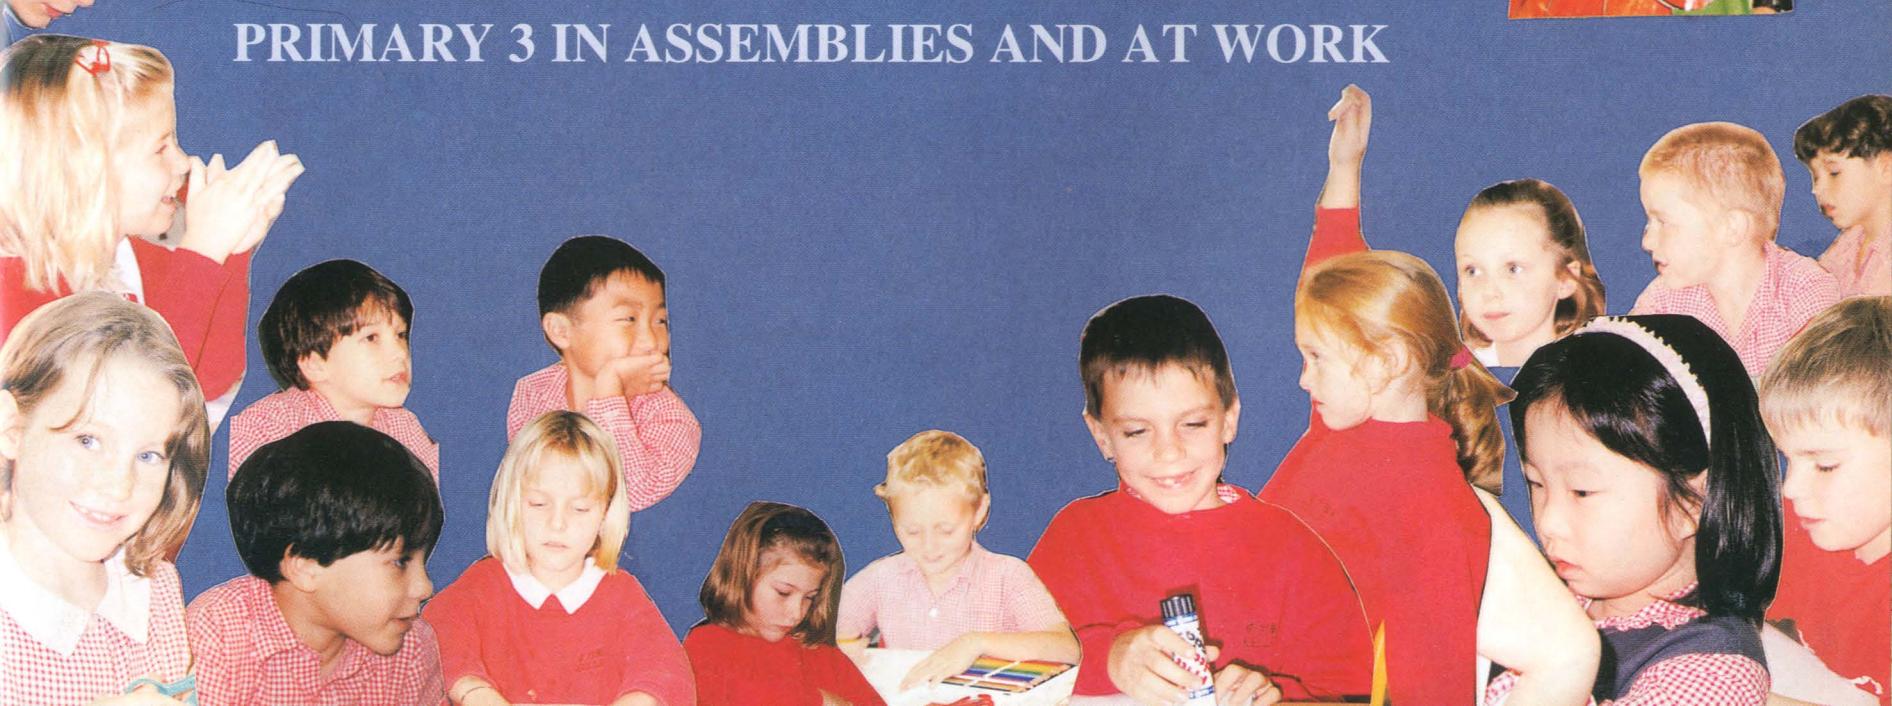

In January we played in the E.S.F. Invitation 6-A-Side Soccer Tournament at Hong Lok Yuen. We reached the Semi-Finals but unfortunately got knocked out by the American International School who were the eventual winners. Alex Cribben was awarded a prize as the most valuable player. Thank you to Mr. Nevin and Mr. Walker for coaching us this year.

Once again many thanks to our publication team for their time and dedication in assisting with the production of this year's magazine and to the pupils and staff for their creative contributions.

Special thanks to Ellen Lincer for her photographic expertise, to Liesbeth Skeketee and Jessica Brown for their help with typesetting and computer skills and to all those unnamed contributors of time and photographs.

Also thank you Theresa Li of Standardprint for your patience, guidance and assistance over the past years.
