

10 Unit Housing Project Planned For Boulder

A $150,000 housing project which will include seven single dwellings and three duplexes, will start here Monday, according to Jay Porter.

The houses will be erected on the recently developed property near the southwest entrance to the city, in the vicinity of Fifth street and Aztec place. Porter said. Leases for the lots have been approved by the bureau of reclamation.