

Jim Sweeney, Head of Hoover Dam Guide Service Receives Coin

In the small museum at Hoover Dam (located in the Visitor's Center) there is a display case of early day coins and other mementoes donated by Boulder City citizens.

One day a tourist noticed that while there was a full set of Six Co. script there was not 1931 commemorative coin and when she returned home she sent on to Jim Sweeney and it too is displayed in the showcase. Ack's Attic in Boulder City has one also to show to interested friends. It is on loan from the Bill and Teddy collection.
