

A big goodbye smile lights the face of William R. Herron upon his retirement from Federal service. The tower of Hoover Dam (where Herron had begun many a visit to his favorite) is visible in the background.